GAINESVILLE AFTER THE A. C. L.

The discontinuance of the morning train from Ocala via Gainesville to Jacksonville and the train between Wilcox and Micahay via Gainesville, so agitated the merchants and business interests of the University City that public meetings were held and Mr. W. B. Taylor, manager of the Baldwin Hardware Co., was sent to Tallahassee to lay the matter before the railroad commissioners, representing the two trains as the most valuable that ever served that city. The railroad commissioners promised to have said trains restored. Ocala would not object; especially would we like to see the morning Jacksonville train restored.

Mr. Williams, the superintendent of construction at the government building, has been greatly delayed by the slow arrival of the iron stairway, which, however, is now in position, but worse luck attended the ornamental railing that was to adorn the steps. The first installment reached Ocala, badly damaged in transit. The order was duplicated and upon arrival the iron had to go to the foundry for furnishings. The bearing which was used to raise the heavy iron gave way and now that railing is a wreck. And because of all this the man who has the contract to fit in the marble steps is sitting around sucking his thumbs because his work can't proceed until the railing is up and with him are several men chewing the rag of disappointment and delay at $5 per day. This is tough on the contractors who have these idle men on their hands.

Editor Keller of the Orlando Star has a poor opinion of football as he saw the game played in his home town Monday between the Gainesville university team and the Rollins College boys. He says:

"Those who witnessed the game yesterday at the driving park, who heard the young men who are sent to these great institutions of learning by loving parents to acquire an education, stand on the side lines and yell, 'kill 'em,' 'knock 'em down,' 'murder 'em,' 'run over 'em,' and other advice of a similar nature given the players by these fellow students, who looked into the passion drawn faces of those self-same boys and saw not only bitter hatred but murder written there, will agree that football, as it is played today, is far worse than a bull or dog fight and engenders in the hearts of our boys—the hope of future generations—a spirit of murder and assassination. What are our colleges for? To teach our young men to hate one another? To build up bone and muscle, dwarfing every particle of gray matter possessed by the young man when he enters? To gather a crowd of hoodlums together to run all over the country, smoking cigarettes, using vile language and making themselves obnoxious in the eyes of every lover of decency?"

In the city election at Key West there were seven candidates for the job of city sexton. Well, the town down there on the Florida reefs is trying her hardest to be a live one, and no wonder that at least seven good men and true were ambitious to take the job of burying the dead ones. Key West voted city improvement bonds by a very substantial majority, a sthe news reaches us, and unprogressive citizens are not wanted within her borders. Mayor Fogarty was re-elected mayor and thus his people vindicated him of the charge of calling for outside assistance for its stricken people who insome irresponsible person said it wasn't needed,

One of the impressive speakers at the Jacksonville waterway convention Tuesday afternoon was Mr. T. J. L. Brown of Tampa, who gave the Florida delegation in Congress a big send off for their united efforts in furthering the material interests of the state in their efforts to secure appropriations for deepening its harbors. Senator Fletcher and Congressman Sparkman were especially commended for their business sagacity and good sense and faithful service in the interests of the people.

The enthusiastic autoists of St. Petersburg and Tarpon Springs made a pathfinding trip to Brooksville. There were dozen machines in the party, half of which fell out at Tarpon Springs. The roads were found in poor condition between St. Petersburg and Tarpon Springs, except between Clearwater and Dunedin and from Tarpon Springs to Brooksville. The party was enthusiastically received by the people of Brooksville.

Mr. Ed Forbes of Anthony was in town today and reported continued dry weather and inability of farmers and truckers to plough their lands. He said he did not think that any of the Anthony boys would be contestants for Dr. Boozer's corn prizes, as he had hoped for.

Supt. J. H. Brinson returned last evening from an inspection of the schools at Belleview and Summerfield and also the colored school at Mount Peller. He found them in good condition. He spoke especially well of the Belleview school.

"Tag day," November 25th—benefit Temple Theater.

Master Earl Phillips a Blitchton youth, wrote Dr. Boozer this morning that he failed to see his name in the list of boy contestants for the corn prize, but all the same he would be on deck the morning of the 23rd with a barrel of corn for exhibit.

The Ocala school trustees, Messrs. W. T. Gary, J. E. Chace and G. W. Martin visited Howard Academy this morning and found the school under Prof. McCall and his assistants doing well. The official visit was very gratifying and satisfactory.

Mr. B. R. Stripling, district representative of the Florida Life Insurance company, after several days spent in Ocala, left for Gainesville this afternoon.

We see by the Times-Union that Mr. E. L. Wartmann of Citra was in Jacksonville Monday and no doubt lent a hand in making the waterway convention interesting.

It drives the cold from the system by the free yet gentle action of the bowels; it stops the cough, it is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.
