CAUSED BY A CIGARETTE

While Lighting One, Chauffeur Lost
Control of Auto, and a Wedding
Party was Dashed to Death

Cuthbert, Ga., Nov. 23.—Three persons are dead and two probably fatally injured as a result of an automobile accident here last night.

The dead: Curtis Williams, of Fort Gaines, Ga.; James Shepard, of Edison, Ga.; Horace Shepard, of Edison, Ga.

The injured: Miss Helen Mattox, aged 20, of Coleman, Ga.; Miss Mary Mattox, aged 16, of Coleman, Ga.

The accident occurred two miles west of this place as the party was returning from Cuthbert to Coleman. With the purpose of being married, James Shepard and Miss Helen Mattox, accompanied by Horace Shepard, a brother of the prospective groom, and Miss Mary Mattox, a sister of the bride-to-be, secured an automobile from Herst's garage at Fort Gaines and were driven to Cuthbert by Curtis Williams.

Upon reaching this point all the ministers of the place refused to marry the couple on account of their youth, neither of them having yet passed their twentieth birthday.

After being unable to secure the services of a minister the party hastily left town. Speeding along at a rate of thirty miles an hour, and while attempting to light a cigarette, Chauffeur Williams lost control of his machine crossing a thirty foot bridge over the Central Railway and the party was dashed to the railroad track below, the machine falling upon Shepard and Williams.

Williams neck was broken and death resulted instantly. The two Shepards were frightfully injured and death resulted in a few moments. Miss Helen Mattox was severely bruised and her face and arms were badly lacerated. She also received internal injuries. Miss Mary Mattox was terribly injured. The ladies were removed to a neighboring farm house. The bodies of the three men were brought here on a hand car. Williams was 23 years of age and married.

BORING INTO THE BLACKNESS

Of the Death-Laden Galleries of the
St. Paul Mine, Rescuers Have Faint Hope of Finding Living Men

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 23.—Two exploring parties in the St. Paul mine yesterday found indications that a large number of men are barely alive in the last workings.

Searchers yesterday were able to go far into the galleries. Two hundred men are still unaccounted for. If the men are still alive, imprisoned in the depths, they are probably too weak to aid in their escape. Ten days have passed since the disaster occurred. The rescue party is working frantically to remove timbers, dead animals and earthfalls which block the way to the east workings.

Four more bodies, lying in black damp were hoisted yesterday. Gas made it impossible to reach a score of others, although they were in plain view.

Yesterday was a day of alternative thanksgiving and grief—joy over the living and grief for the dead. The twenty men who are alive of those brought out Saturday from the darkness of the mine were the heroes of the day. The funerals of the dead were held and many a grave's new mound was reared as a silent witness of the horrors of underground suffering.

Down in the depths of the mine, with the blackness of a terrible death staring them in the face, more than one man wrote a letter to his loved ones, in the hope that the message might some time reach them. These messages caused many tears to flow from eyes that had wept much and often since the horrible disaster of Saturday, November 14th.

Rescuers found live rats in the newly explored portions of the mine. This increased the hope that the rats came from remote sections of the cavern, where comparatively pure air remained and that if the rats could live there men also could. Mine officials declared if any more men are brought out alive the work would have to be done within twenty-four hours, as the men must necessarily be almost starved. The rats, he said, would be able to live longer, because of their ability to find crumbs and scraps of food scattered about from the men's lunches.

SALINAS BADLY SCARED

California Town Rocked in an Earthquake Cradle for a Quarter of a Minute

Salinas, Calif., Nov. 23.—The heaviest shock of earthquake recorded here since the severe event of April 18, 1906, visited this city and section yesterday. There was no loss of life or serious property damage, which is surprising, as all buildings rocked for fully fifteen seconds, scaring their occupants into the streets in a state of terror. The wildest confusion prevailed and a renewal of the trembling is feared.

Salinas is the county seat of Monterey county, twenty miles inland, located at the head of a low valley extending from the Pacific ocean, and is considered an unlikely spot for especially severe vibrations of the earth's surface. The shock is held to be a narrow escape from reaching the destructive line. No news of damage from surrounding towns is received, and it follows that the region disturbed must be unusually small when the violence of the quake is considered.

She Can Eat Pie Now.

A lady recently visited a friend in Keene, N. H., whose husband was very delicate, and yet she noticed that he could eat all the pie he wanted. She began to wonder how it was that he could do it, when she had to give up this delicacy because of disagreeable after effects. She writes as follows: "I found it was because the pies were made with Cottolene; and as I am a great lover of pie, I began using Cottolene, and have never had a bit of heart-burn or indigestion since that time. I now enjoy my pie, as it does not give me any trouble. Cottolene makes crisp, flaky, 'digestible' pie-crust, that tastes good, and does good—lard does you harm."

WHERE SHALL THE INDIAN GO?

The White Man saw our land was good, to the north, the east and the west. He left no place for the Seminole where sole of his foot might rest; But he pointed to the south to the vast lagoons, and the marshes dark and wide.

Where the saw grass stings and the swamps are dim and the deer and otter hide.

Far south, to the land of the Everglades, and he said: "Red Brother, see."

We will keep the land that is good to us, and the swamps we give to thee."

Then we pitched our tents in the Everglades, and fished in the wide lagoons, and we kept our sacred feasts and fasts, and we danced in the green corn moon.

We trapped the otter and shot the deer, and we heard the corn in the sun.

The Seminole's heart was glad in his breast that his journeying was done.

But the White Man looked once more to the south, where the swamps, and marshes lie.

And forgot the words his father spoke in the days that are long gone by.

Forgot the word that the fathers spoke, and he said: "The land is fair, and it is not meet that the Seminole should have it for his lair! We will dig us ditches, deep and wide, that the lakes run down to the sea."

Till the marsh is dry, and the cane shall grow where the fish and otter be;

And the Everglades shall bring us gold—we will plant all the swamp lands low."

In the swamps the Seminole dwells, and where shall the Seminole go?

White Brothers! few are the braves of our tribe, and the squaws and children weak.

Our eyes, they are dim, and we cannot see the lands you bid us seek. To build in the swamp and bide in the swamp, that holds the bones of our dead.

To trap the otter, and catch the fish, and to plant the corn for bread. This only asks our tribe of you—White Man of the north and west—A little place for the Seminole where the sole of his foot may rest!

SHAKING IN HIS SHOES

Zelaya Now Realizes that Shooting
American Citizens is a Very Hazardous Occupation

Washington, Nov. 22.—Strained almost to the breaking point, it remains for the next few days to show whether relations between the United States and Nicaragua will be snapped off short.

This government has now accepted as facts beyond contradiction Nicaragua's explanation regarding the execution of the two Americans, Cannon and Grace. Sufficient credence is given to certain statements made to the state department to prompt inquiries into reasons back of Zelaya's action. Secretary of State Knox asserts that demand for reparation from Nicaragua will be made should inquiries develop that the allegation made that death was unjustly dealt these Americans is well grounded.

Secretary Knox will make the next important and possibly decisive move in the game of diplomacy. It is not expected Zelaya will be permitted to settle at so much per head for these or any other Americans he may see fit to kill. Something more than compensation will be involved in the next drastic step of the state department. The department is awaiting additional information and details of the killing of Cannon and Grace. Until received developments are not expected.

The state department's action in recognizing the blockade of the port of San Juan del Norte, is a recognition of the insurgents, but this is probably to be followed by what is more important, a recognition of belligerency, which is of the highest consequence to the insurgent forces. Once their belligerency is recognized, Zelaya would be held to strict accountability for prisoners he might take. The United States would see that they were treated as prisoners of war, according to civilized standards. Belligerency also would improve the status of the revolutionary government before the world and likewise increase its responsibilities.

Vicksburg at Corinto

The first American warship to arrive in Nicaraguan waters is the gunboat Vicksburg, which has reached Corinto, according to navy department advices. The Vicksburg is equipped with six four-inch guns and eight guns of smaller caliber, and is in fine condition to give an account of herself should the emergency arise.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON CIRCUS
The Part the Clown Plays in a Big Circus a Feature in Its Success.

The clowning part of a circus program is not understood by the outsider. There are times during the show when there is not a clown in sight, and then in the next instant the hippodrome track will almost swarm with them. They seem to spring from the ground, and they will disappear as quickly. The presence of the clown is appropriate and is desired with most circus acts, and again there are some features which would be ruined if they were allowed to be clowned.

Clowning is a fine art. The best clowns are born, not made. When intermingling with citizens on the streets they would not be suspected of being wearers of the loose robe of a fool, but when they appear in the circus rings with their makeups on they laugh and the crowd laughs with them. They help to unload, temporarily, at least, the cares from the minds of thousands of people. These men who appear so dignified and quiet upon the streets and out of the circus ring would never be picked out as being clowns on the road, but they are.

The work of the clowns with the Howe's London Show is not the same day after day, as they take delight in springing new jokes and new tricks upon their co-workers, which entertains the members of the troupe as well as the audience. Howe's Show will be here Tuesday, November 30th.

When you have a cold the first thing to do is to have the bowels move. Do not take anything that may constipate—and most old fashioned cough cures do constipate. Try Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It drives the cold from the system by the free yet gentle action of the bowels; it stops the cough, it is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.

TERROR RULES TENERIFFE

A Long Dormant Volcano is in Eruption and the People are Fleeing for their Lives

Madrid, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from the island of Teneriffe says lava and thick smoke are issuing from a crater supposed to be extinct. Kennedy's Special steamships have been dispatched from Spain to collect the refugees, whose only means of escape is by water. They will be taken to Santa Cruz, the capital of Teneriffe. Dispatches from the Canary Islands say that after having been dormant for several centuries, the famous Teneriffe volcano Pico de Tiede is again in violent eruption.

Three craters are belching forth smoke and lava. There are frequent loud detonations. The people living in the numerous small villages along the slope of the volcano are fleeing.

IT'S A CRIME

To neglect your health. The worst neglect that you can be guilty of is to allow constipation, biliousness or any liver or bowel trouble to continue. It is poisoning your entire system and may lead to a serious chronic disease. Take Ballard's Horebine and get absolutely well. The sure cure for any and all troubles of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold by all druggists.
