TOM STOVALL'S BEAR TRAP

A quarter of a century ago there lived in Ocala in the home of his father-in-law, Tom Stovall, known as Little Tom in comparison with the larger brother, Wallace Stovall now the editor and proprietor of the Tampa Tribune. For a number of years the two brothers traveled together, uniting their labors and their fortunes in the newspaper business. The boys set type on Col. Tom Harris' Ocala Free Press, later embarking in journalism for themselves when they started the Lake Weir Independent, in the palmy days of the orange industry on its shining shores and when everybody there and a great many in Ocala, thought if they could start charging on that beautiful lake every man's fortune in the enterprise would become a midas. But the scheme proved a dismal failure and the Stovall boys lit out for greener fields and pastures new, Wallace going to Sumterville, where he became proprietor of the Sumterville Times, while Tom retraced his steps to old Kentucky, where he became the proprietor of the Elizabethtown News. Tom prospered, sold out and went to Wayfield and started a department store and did better. We are reminded of all this because of a slip of paper from the Mayfield Press, which relates at length how a gang of thieves were working in the culinary department of many homes in the place and among them Mr. Tom Stovall's home, where flour, jams and canned goods just melted away. Tom got an idea into his head, so cunningly deposited a bear trap in a partially depleted barrel of flour and it bore fruit in the immediate capture of one dusky dispenser and shortly afterwards of two others, all of whom were convicted and are now doing time in a penal institution of the state.

"Buckshot," who pulls the cord over the short to Homosassa, tells the following alligator adventure. He said a year ago Mr. Udell, the ex-chiefe king of Utica, N. Y., who has fallen in love with the picturesque and romantic beauties of that water, took his home in that paradise and spends his spare time in hunting and fishing. A year ago he was fishing in the waters of the Chasahowitzka and dropped his waterbury in the water. The other day a party of hunters were roaming the wilds of that section and came across a good sized gator. He became the target of their deadly shots and when stretched out in his everlasting sleep, they examined him and noticing a huge lump in his throat it was lanced and out dropped a waterbury watch and on picking it up found the watch ticking away the minutes for dear life and it surprised the hunters and speculation grew rife as to the why of the wherefore of said remarkable incident. The theory is now that it is Mr. Udell's watch and the gator seeing the shiny timepiece in the water, pounced on it as a titbit, swallowed it, but instead of touching his pallet with a sense of a dainty morsel the watch lodged in his gullet and the action of the muscles of his throat so acted on the winding stem of the watch that it kept the time going and that is why it was found running on time.

Mr. L. B. Ayer passed through Ocala yesterday on his way to Emerald Island, Lake county where he has purchased the fruit on a number of orange groves and is picking and packing same. Mr. Ayer having been raised in a Lake Weir grove is a good judge of fruit and has a keen eye for estimating the number of same on a tree and the Star is pleased to know Mr. Ayer is having a successful season. Mr. L. B. Ayer is a son of our popular and efficient tax assessor.

Mr. Cramer of the New South Farm & Home company, who arrived here several weeks ago from Chicago, has gone out to where the new town of Burbank is to arise amid the pines of the flatwoods in the Fort McCoy section and is laying out town lots and tracts of land. He expects to be at it all the winter.

The notice published about Mr. L. L. Aiken being an inmate of the hospital was a mistake, as he is still at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Briggance and doing quite well, though still suffering from the paralytic stroke received several weeks ago.

The Ocala delegates to the state convention of the W. C. T. U. that meets in Plant City tonight for a three days session left this afternoon, consisting of Mrs. H. C. Packham, president of the Ocala union and Mrs. G. W. Martin chairman and organizer of the loyal legion. Mrs. T. E. Bridges is also a delegate, but was not fully prepared to go. Mrs. C. L. Bittinger, state chairman of narcotics and also appointed a fraternal delegate by the state federation of women's clubs, owing to unforeseen circumstances is detained at home.

Col. R. F. Rogers of Lynne filled his appointment at the Fort King Baptist church Sunday to a full house. The year is up and Col. Rogers desires to vacate the pulpit as it is so far to come, but the people want him to continue. He is an excellent preacher.

Mr. Charles H. White of Plant City has been in town visiting his son, Joe White, with Martin & Carr. Mr. White 25 years ago was a prosperous merchant at Whitesville, now Sumnerfield and later a resident of Ocala. His friends are always glad to see him.

The German last night at Yonge's Hall was well attended and greatly enjoyed. Messrs. John H. Taylor and Stephen Jewett led the dance and had as partners Mrs. Taylor and Miss Clara Gray of St. Petersburg. The gown worn by Miss Gray was the product of the looms of the land of the sphinx, purchased there nearly a year ago by her father, Rev. C. M. Gray, when he made his trip to the holy land. It was lace net over chiffon and it looked decidedly charming, being a very winsome and pretty young lady, a decided brunette. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tucker furnished the music. The hall was suitably decorated. Several new figures were introduced and in all it was a most enjoyable occasion for those present.

Mr. Hibbert Weathers is the new bookkeeper for the Teapot Grocery. Mr. Smith the former bookkeeper, has transferred his services to the wholesale grocery house of Jake Brown.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the Baptist church Sunday the Rev. H. E. Gabby preached for his theme, "Witnesses for Christ," and founded his remarks on Acts 1-8: "Ye shall be witnesses unto Me." He spoke of the necessary qualifications of a witness, that he should be truthful and to be believed; that in giving evidence hearsay or mere opinions were not admissible, but that evidence must be pure facts under the knowledge of the witness. He spoke of the results of evidence for Christ, and quoted Agrippa, who after listening to the evidence for Christ as given by Paul exclaimed, "almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." Mr. Gabby's discourse contained many beautiful and apt illustrations—the Pharisees trying to incriminate Christ for healing the blind man, by trying to get the man to say it was the word of Satan, but the man stood by the one great fact that whereas once he was blind now he could see. That was the only evidence he could truthfully give; of the identity of Christ he knew nothing. Mr. Gabby said the word witness and the word martyr in the Greek language were almost identical, and spoke of the evidence for Christ as given by hundreds of the early Christians who suffered martyrdom at the stake. He said that the highest attainments of science today were all evidence for Christianity, and that when a man said that science contradicted the teachings of Christ, he simply knew nothing about science. Two young men were to be room-mates at college, the one an infidel, the other a pronounced Christian. The infidel notified his room-mate that there was to be no prayers or Bible reading in that room, but the other called his attention to the fact that he owned one-half of the room and could do as he pleased with it at the same time according to the same right to the other. So day after day and night after night, at appropriate times, the Christian on his side of the room read and prayed. For a long time the man on the other side of the room jeered and scoffed, but finally unable to withstand the evidence of the Christian witness, he became converted and today is known all over the world as one of the greatest missionaries since the day of Paul.

The sermon was listened to and enjoyed by a large and attentive congregation. Just before the sermon a notice was read stating that Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, the great Georgia apostle of prohibition, and whose eloquent voice has been heard in every important city of the United States, would be in that church on Tuesday evening, December 7th, to deliver an address on her favorite topic. As the public is invited the congregation is urged to be on hand early if they expect to get seats.
