LIFE LOST ON THE LAKES

Fire Aided the Fierce Winter Storm in Destruction to Ships and Their Crews

Cleveland, O., Dec. 11.—Seven lives and three ships are known to have been lost, a car ferry with a big crew on board is missing and twelve others are believed to have been lost as the result of the damage wrought by the fierce winter storm which is sweeping out of the northwest. News of fresh damage is constantly being received.

Lake men have practically given up all hope for the lives of Captain Bell and the twelve men of the steamer Marion which was destroyed by fire off Peedee Point Thursday. They left the vessel in the life boat when the eddying storm was at its height. The exposure in the icy spray and the whirling snow in the high seas that are running would alone probably result in their death even if their craft keeps afloat beneath them.

A big car ferry employing a large crew is reported missing. It is now forty-eight hours overdue and it is believed that it was wrecked in the great storm which is still prevailing. Three vessels are known to have gone down before its fury and at least seven lives have been lost.

A THRILLING RESCUE

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheno, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For lung trouble, bronchitis, coughs and colds, asthma, croup and whooping cough its supreme. 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

TRAINED NURSE'S TESTIMONY

Against Mrs. Wardlaw, Suspected of the Murder of her Niece, Mrs. O'cey Snead

New York, Dec. 11.—Just how far the police authorities of New Jersey have gone in patching together the pieces that go to make up the case against Miss Virginia Wardlaw, who was locked up in the Essex county jail in the charge of having murdered her niece, Mrs. O'cey W. M. Snead, in East Orange, for the sake of her insurance, they are not ready to say, but they say they have no doubt that she will be indicted and tried.

Just how badly young Mrs. Snead was treated was suggested last night by Miss Elizabeth Mogg, a trained nurse who attended Mrs. Snead last August, sixteen days after her baby was born.

"I went to the Brooklyn house where the family was living then," said she, "at 10 o'clock of the morning of August 18. Mrs. Snead was weak and thin. I saw that she needed some special food though and ordered some milk and seltzer. I told Miss Virginia Wardlaw about it.

"I'll get it," she said, "when I'm good and ready." After a while I think it was about three-quarters of an hour—I saw Miss Wardlaw getting ready to go out. She told me that I might come too, and get the milk and seltzer. When we got out in the street she asked me if I didn't think that the district was lonesome. I told her that I'd lived in it a good while and that I didn't think so.

"Oh," she said, "so you've lived here a good while. I think you had better go back to the house. Somebody might recognize you."

"When Miss Wardlaw came back she didn't have the milk and seltzer. Mrs. Snead didn't have it that day, and so far as I know she didn't have it at all. I left at midnight. They told me that they didn't want me any longer.

"They tagged me around all day. They seemed to be afraid that I would find something out. They didn't let me stay alone with Mrs. Snead. Somebody was there all the time. Once in a while Mrs. Snead looked at me as though she wanted to say something and didn't dare. She would just squeeze my hand now and then. That was all."

COOK ENTIRELY COMPETENT

To Take Observations, Says Dillon Wallace, who Alleges a Conspiracy Against the Explorer

New York, Dec. 11.—Dillon Wallace, the Labrador explorer and organizer of the "Cook relief expedition," a year ago, declares that the Loose-Dunkle affidavits are a part of an organized plot to discredit Dr. Cook.

He says that Dunkle came to him wanting an introduction to Dr. Cook and that he also wanted to raise funds for a relief expedition a year ago on condition that he would get half of the amount collected. He was turned down.

Wallace also confirms the statement of Cook's qualification as a navigator and astronomer with the ability to make records and observations.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY

J. N. Paterson, night policeman of Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen anti-cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. CONFLICT HAS COMMENCED

Senator Cummins of Iowa Starts the Congressional Attack on the Railroads

Washington, Dec. 11.—Promising to surpass the legislative conflict over railroad rates four years ago, the first gun was fired in Congress yesterday. Senator Cummins of Iowa introduced a bill proposing radical changes in the interstate commerce commission law.

It had been the hope of the forces in the saddle here to keep down any tendency to agitate anti-railroad measures at this session. The precipitation of a not-wanted discussion rather set the matter before Congress in a startling light and some interesting developments may now be expected. The standpatters are plainly worried over this move on the part of this insurgent.

McKAY GIVEN A SHOW

People of Kansas are Good to the Boy Bandit from Florida

Jacksonville, Dec. 11.—Mayor W. S. Jordan is in receipt of a letter from Mayor S. D. Bishop of Lawrence, Kan., relative to the trial and disposition of the case against Willie McKay, the Jacksonville boy who was implicated in a bank robbery in Kansas during the early part of November. Mayor Bishop states that the boy was tried in the juvenile court of Lawrence, and was sentenced to a term in the Industrial School, but was immediately pardoned. A position was secured for the boy and his conduct will be watched by the authorities. Should he show that he is inclined to improve in his ways he will be sent home.

This will be good news to Mr. and Mrs. McKay, the parents of the boy, who live on Twenty-first street, at what is known as Ewington Branch. The lad's mother was sorely grieved by the unfortunate escapades of her son, and used every effort to lighten his sentence. Mayor Jordan assisted the Kansas authorities by having the police of this city investigate the boy's record, which was not as bad as was at first reported.
