STILL HOPE FOR THE FRANCES H.

ALTHOUGH OUT THIRTY-FIVE DAYS SEAMEN SAY THAT IT IS POSSIBLE FOR HER YET TO COME INTO PORT.

Hope has not been abandoned for the fishing schooner Frances H., commanded by Capt. Abner Sadtler, and fishermen believe that she will yet come into port, though possibly badly damaged. They say that Captain Sadtler is one of the best seamen sailing out of Pensacola in the fishing trade, while his crew is known to be composed of experienced men, some of whom are ex-captains.

It is stated that the schooner could have been caught in the storm and her masts lost, making it impossible to make any substantial headway towards port, especially as both the tides and winds have been from the east, which would cause her long delay in reaching port.

Captain Sadtler has many friends in the city who hope that he will come through all right.

Gordon, Leonard, Pastimes—Fulghum, Brooks, Hooton, Klein, Welles, Colts—Gonzalez, Broach, Martinez, Villar, Abbott, Americans—Van Metro, S. Fulghum, Lamar, Grogan, Hartman, Crescents—McHugh, C. Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless this inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Halls Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

"IN A SHOOTING MOOD," ASKED TO BE LOCKED UP

NEW ORLEANS STREET CAR CONDUCTOR WANTED POLICE TO TAKE HIM IN CHARGE BEFORE HE HAD OPPORTUNITY OF SHOOTING.

By Associated Press. New Orleans, Oct. 2.—George Tripp, an ex-street car conductor, who last week shot and slightly wounded a woman and her daughter, went late last night to the central police station, from which he had been recently released on bond, and requested that he be again locked up before he had an opportunity to shoot anyone else. According to the police, Tripp said he felt "in a shooting mood." The police promptly complied with Tripp's request.

NAVY YARD BOY STRUCK WITH BOTTLE

Lambert Doyle, a young man residing on the naval reservation, was escorted to the police station at 10:30 o'clock last night, blood streaming from a wound in the head. He said he had been struck with a bottle and made an affidavit against Hazel Kirk for the assault. The woman was later arrested with another white woman, who gave her name as Myrtle Lee. When Hazel Kirk reached the station she charged two of Doyle's friends with having struck her. The city physician was called and dressed Doyle's head. He maintained he was on the street when the bottle struck him.

LADIES FROM THIS CITY SEE BALDWIN SHOW

NEIGHBORING ALABAMA COUNTY FAIR WITNESSED BY MEMBERS OF WOMAN'S BOARD OF THE TRI-COUNTY FAIR—IMPRESSIONS GIVEN.

Two members of the Woman's Board of the Tri-County Fair visited the Baldwin County show. They went to see the fair as a whole, and the woman's department in particular, all the time making observation of quantity, quality and arrangement. Their decision was that the fair is a most creditable exhibit. This is only the second year it has been held, and Baldwin already has a building of good dimensions. Before the present exhibit, a plan was made for a suitable permanent building and one wing was erected. This year a second section was added, and a "log rolling" was held, in which considerable sections of a high fence were built enclosing an area adapted to a growing association. The general appearance on approaching is good as the building looks substantial, and "old glory" floats from the dome.

There was an interesting agricultural display of pumpkins, cane, peanuts, pecans, millet, corn, sweet potatoes, syrups and other good and wholesome things. In the woman's department there were between two hundred and three hundred jars of preserves, canned fruits and pickles. In the sewing line there were some of the most ingenious and effective quilts, sofa pillows, in harmonious colors, good embroideries, centerpieces and table cloth, and one fetching shadow waist.

Those above mentioned are some of the material and concrete exhibits, but what can be said about the spirit that pervades the enterprise? Perhaps an analogy would present it more forcibly. Maeterlinck, in his essay on ants, says that those insects in their community life illustrated a highly developed stage of socialism; that they live lives of pure patriotism, and are about two million years ahead of the general ideas of community life. Now, there are not more than perhaps a million years in advance of Baldwin county people, for that fair was an example of pure patriotism; no premiums were offered, and every man and woman who exhibited did so because he or she had an intelligent realization of the industrial and economic value of the fair, or the community life. They know how stimulating it is for a group of people to show results which their best efforts have achieved. This spirit of interest and good feeling pervades the entire place, and the future will demonstrate whether the counties of Escambia and Santa Rosa counties are awake to a realization of their opportunity.

Dr. Kennedy Home From a Pensacola to New York Trip in Auto, Makes Record

(Continued From First Page) to Atlanta, and the Herald's crew wired their great paper the fact of the meeting. When he crossed St. George's ferry, Manhattan, he found a Herald reporter watching for him. The car and occupants, who were the doctor and Alexander Openheimer, his mechanic, were photographed after reaching a point directly in front of the Herald office, such picture appearing in the last Wednesday edition of that paper.

DOCTOR WELL AND HAPPY. Dr. Kennedy was well and happy when he reached Pensacola yesterday. "The only reason why I did not come back in my car was on account of pressing office business, and I came by train." The trip was about the most delightful event of his life, he acknowledged. The car was shipped on a Mallory line steamship to Mobile, and when it arrives there about October 14 or 15, he is going to take a shorter trip, returning from Mobile to this city in the same. The trip of Dr. Kennedy is epochal, and attracted national attention. He was the first citizen of the United States to go to New York from the Mexico gulf in an automobile, thus personally establishing a Gulf-to-Gotham highway, and putting further interest in the already widespread interest of the good roads agitation.

In noting Dr. Kennedy's arrival, the New York Herald printed the following: THE HERALD'S STORY. Coming from Pensacola, Fla., over the New York Herald-Atlanta Journal route, between Atlanta, Georgia, and New York, Dr. Mallory Kennedy and his chauffeur, Alexander Openheimer, have just arrived in this city, after completing 1,545 miles in five days, seven hours and forty-five minutes actual riding time. Dr. Kennedy's car, which is of the toy tonneau type, not only carried himself and his chauffeur, but also his wife and daughter, from Salem, Va. "The start was made at Pensacola on September 12, Dr. Kennedy taking the ride route as far as Atlanta. During the trip no great difficulties were encountered, although the route taken was one which had been tabooed by all the automobilists in the state. "From Atlanta to New York the route was that mapped out by the Herald-Atlanta Journal good roads scout car. The best roads, according to Dr. Kennedy, were in Virginia and New Jersey, and the next best in North Carolina and Pennsylvania. "We have had no trouble with the car, and there is still Pensacola air in two of the tires. I attribute this to the condition on the roads, as well as to the excellence of my car," said the doctor. "Although we met some pretty bad pieces of road there was always one of two excuses offered by the natives. The roads were bad, because they hadn't started to fix them, or they were impassable because they were being repaired." "In speaking of the good roads movement and the part played by the New York Herald and the Atlanta Journal, Dr. Kennedy said: "The movement is spreading like wildfire throughout the south. Everywhere people are becoming interested." "Salisbury, N. C.," says Dr. Kennedy, "has become so eager for improvement in the roads that the county road commission asked for a road expert from Washington, who has gone down to teach them how to improve the roads." "All along our route the cry is for a national roadway which will connect the north and the south," he said, "and the people mean business." "The trip was not continuous running, Dr. Kennedy and the party stopping at the different cities for several days at a time. Exact count, however, was kept for the distance, and the time and the figures show actual running time."
