

Gray Insists on Investigation

A Few Things Which Happened in Mobile, Full Particulars Given So That You Can Investigate by Mail, Phone, Wire or Call. That's Business, Ain't It?

Away with promises, we want facts. Its easy to publish what Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm will do, but to prove it is a different proposition, so say the people of Pensacola to Gray, who will be at Hannah Brothers drug store, 17 South Palafox St., next Thursday. In reply Gray requests a publication of the following, and urges the severest investigation of the same of which he claims happened in Mobile, only a few weeks ago.

Mrs. E. A. Hughes, who resides at Item and Springfield avenue, Mobile, Ala., who had undergone three operations in the past two years, and had given up all hope of ever seeing a well day again, for over 7 years she suffered with stomach trouble of various kinds. She was constipated, subject to bloating, belching and dizziness. Her appetite was changeable, sometimes she was ravenously hungry and at other times the very sight of food would nauseate her. She was restless in her sleep and generally had horrible dreams. Her memory was weak. She was very nervous and in general serious condition. All treatments had failed to relieve her, she kept growing worse, her husband called on Gray, the Quaker Health Teacher, purchased a bottle of the Quaker Herb Extract, took it home and his wife had taken it according to directions only four days when to the surprise of all she expelled a monster life sapping tape worm head and complete over 50 feet in length, this was the cause of all her stomach trouble, this was the cause of all her suffering for the past years, and today she is well and happy.

Another very important case: Mr. W. J. Wheeler of No. 305 N. Jackson street, who is an employee of the Southern R. R., Mobile Division, who has for years suffered with stomach trouble, indigestion, constipation, kidney and liver, was losing much time. He had read and heard of the many people who were being cured by the use of the wonderful Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm. He decided to try them, procured one bottle and after using the Extract only a few days, came back and stated to Gray he had taken almost everything on the market, and had tried various treatments, but I never had anything to do for me what Quaker Herb Extract did. Why, the third dose I took I felt better. My bowels commenced to act and I passed as much as a cupful of small white worms and the very next action half as many more, and from that time I feel that I am a well man and I sincerely thank the Quaker remedies for it. Now Gray wishes any person who has a tape worm or if you know of any one who has kindly tell them Gray would like to talk to them. He will give them a bottle of Quaker Herb Extract free, just to prove it will expell tape worms without having to diet or starve in a few short hours. Call Thursday and have a talk with Gray, at Hannah Brothers Drug Store, No. 17 Palafox street. Gray proves what he says from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

W. A. BLOUNT IS OPTIMISTIC

TELLS THE TAMPA TRIBUNE THAT HE IS MUCH ENCOURAGED—GIVEN WARM RECEPTION IN TAMPA.

The Tampa Tribune of Monday contained the following:

"I am more than surprised and feel highly gratified at the manner in which my candidacy for the United States senate is being met by the people of Florida," said Hon. W. A. Blount, of Pensacola, who was a caller at the Tribune office yesterday, and who is at present the guest of Col. Peter O. Knight in this city. It needs but a few minutes of conversation with him to be convinced that he is really optimistic for the realization of his hopes. Mr. Blount enjoys a rather unique distinction in the race. It also borders on the paradoxical. He is an attorney at law and has seldom been an aspirant for political honors.

In this day and age when lawyers who want office and who always have wanted office are as common as notaries public around a county court house, the position of Mr. Blount who has refused, heretofore, to enter his personality into office-holding is certainly out of the ordinary. He has confined himself earnestly and steadfastly to the pursuit of his profession.

Up to the present there are several entries in the race for the Upper House at Washington and the books have not been closed yet. The present United States senators from the state of Florida are Hon. J. P. Tallaferra, whose term will have shortly expired, but who very much desires to retain his seat now that he has warmed it up, and Hon. Duncan U. Fletcher. The most striking feature of this situation is that both of these gentlemen come from Jacksonville and other candidates are taking advantage of this to assault that citadel as being a closed corporation on the office of United States senator.

When I say surprised and gratified," he continued, "I can well say that I mean it. I went over to Jacksonville and naturally expected that I would get a cold reception from the home city of the present incumbents. Much to my astonishment and pleasure, I found there a very strong sentiment against the idea of Jacksonville 'hogging it all.' The better element and the sound men of that city stated to me that the plums should be passed around and that Florida would be better represented by having representatives in the United States SENATE FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS OF THE STATE THAN TO HAVE THEM ISSUE FROM ONE SINGLE CENTER OF THE STATE.

"I am elated at the manner in which my old friends all over the state have written to me of their own accord and without any solicitation from me, and promising me their aid and support in my campaign. These voluntary assurances give me the greatest encouragement and I sincerely believe that I will be successful in the campaign."

An Able Man. Without espousing the cause of any particular candidate for the senate, The Tribune can truthfully say that Mr. Blount would certainly grace the United States senate if he is elected. He is an able man with a distinguished record for integrity in his profession, in which he ranks highly. He has a genial personality and is a most pleasing man to meet. He has entered the campaign full of determination to win out and he says that he has not met with a discouraging sign as yet.

An enjoyable evening was spent by the membership of the Pensacola Yacht and Motor Boat Club at the new meeting place on Bayley wharf. Light refreshments were served, this having been provided as a surprise to the greater number who attended.

New Commodore. The resignation of George T. Morgan as commodore, which had been received at a former meeting, was accepted. James C. Watson, who was vice-commodore, was elected to fill the vacancy. B. H. Thomas was made vice-commodore and Peter Lindenstruth rear commodore.

PEARY CHARGES AGAINST COOK MADE PUBLIC

us to the Eskimo boys. Still later, Commander Peary asked questions in minor points that occurred to him.

During the taking of his testimony, it developed that Dr. Cook and the Eskimo boys, as he told Mr. Whitney and Billy Pritchard, the cabin boy, that they must not tell Commander Peary of anything about their journey, and the boys stated Dr. Cook had threatened them if they should tell anything.

The narrative of these Eskimos is as follows: They with Dr. Cook, Francke and nine other Eskimos, left Anoratok, slept in Commander Peary's old house in Sledge Harbor, then went through Rice Strait to Buchanan Bay. After a few marches Francke and three Eskimos returned to Anoratok.

Dr. Cook, with the others, then proceeded up Flieger Bay through Sverdrup's channel, and crossed Ellesmere Land through the valley pass at the head of Flieger Bay, into the bay of Peary in 1895, and utilized by Sverdrup in 1899, to the head of Sverdrup's "Bay" on the west side of Messemere Land.

Their route then lay out through this fiord, thence north through Sverdrup's "Houerka Sound" and Nansen Strait. On their way they killed musk-oxen and bear, and made caches, arriving eventually at a point on the west side of the North Strait (about the latitude of Land of Sverdrup), south of Cape Thomas Hubbard.

The cache was formed here and the four Eskimos did not go beyond this point. Two others, Koolookingwah and Inuq, went on one more cache, and Cook and the two boys, helped to build the snow igloo, then returned without sledges.

(These two Eskimos brought back a letter from Dr. Cook to Francke, dated the 17th of March. The two men who joined the other four men who had been left behind, and the six returned to Anoratok arriving May 7th. The information was obtained not from the two Eskimo boys, but from the six men who returned and from Francke, who was known to us in the summer of 1908, when the Roosevelt first arrived at Etah. The information is likewise corroborated by the narrative of the two boys.)

Two Eskimos turned back, Dr. Cook and the boys went on to the north, in a northerly or northwesterly direction with two sledges and twenty old dogs, one more march, they encountered a heavy snow and a lead of open water. They did not enter this rough ice, nor cross the lead, but went westward on the ice, making a short distance and returned to Heiberg Land at a point west of where they had left the cache and where the four men had turned back.

Here they remained four or five sleeps, and during the time took a short trip back to the cache and got his gun which he had left there, and a few items of supplies.

When asked why only a few supplies were taken from the cache, the boys replied that only a small amount of provisions had been used in the few days they were at the cache, and that the sledges still had all they could carry, so that they could not take more.

After being informed of the boys' narrative thus far, Commander Peary suggested a series of questions to be put to the boys in regard to this trip from the land out and back to it.

These questions and answers are as follows: Did they cross many open leads or much open water during this time? Ans. None.

Did they make any caches out on the ice? Ans. No.

Did they kill any bear or seal while out on the ice north of Cape Thomas Hubbard? Ans. No.

Did they kill or lose any of their dogs while out on the ice? Ans. No.

Why did you make sledges, did they start? Ans. Two.

How many sledges did they have? Ans. Did not remember exactly, but something over twenty.

How many sledges did they have when they got back to land? Ans. Two.

Did they have any provisions left on their sledges when they came back to land? Ans. Yes. The sledges still had about all they could carry, so they were able to take but a few things from the cache.

From here they then went southwest along the northwest coast of Heiberg Land to a point indicated on the map (Sverdrup's Cape Northwest).

The ice was level and covered with snow, offering good going, to a low island lying to the west of the shore of Heiberg Land at Cape Northwest. On this island they camped for one sleep.

INDIGESTION, GAS, HEARTBURN OR DYSPEPSIA IS COMPLETELY OVERCOME FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING A LITTLE DIAPEPSIN.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak Stomachs should take a little Diapepsin occasionally, and there will be no more Indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, Sour risings, Gas on Stomach or Belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomach, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Peape's Diapepsin now and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel life is worth living.

cepted by the first boy, who started to change the position of the island, but was stopped, as Commander Peary had given instructions that no changes or erasures were to be made in the route as drawn by the Eskimos on the chart. From this island they could see two lands beyond (Sverdrup's Ellef Ringnes and another unnamed island) from the island they journeyed toward the left-hand one of these two lands (Anoratok) and the other toward the right-hand one which they did not visit.

Arriving at the shore of Anorak Ringnes Land, the Eskimo killed a deer as indicated on the chart.

The above outlined portion of the statement made by the Eskimo boys covers the period of time in which Dr. Cook claims to have gone to the Pole on the 17th of March, the time during which he could possibly have made any attempts to go to the Pole.

The answer of the Eskimo boys to Commander Peary's series of independent questions, showing that they killed no game, made no caches, lost no dogs, and returned to the land with loaded sledges, and that they did not go beyond the trip North of Cape Thomas Hubbard a physical and mathematical impossibility, thus disprove the substance of the story of three men and over twenty dogs during a journey of ten hundred and fifty miles, and more than two sledges loads of supplies.

It is suggested that perhaps Dr. Cook got mixed up and that he reached the pole, or thought he did, between the pole and the shore of Heiberg Land, and his arrival at Ringnes Land, where they were waiting for him, was on the date of Dr. Cook's letter of March 17th, at or near Cape Thomas Hubbard, the Eskimo question, however, does not concern the date of the trip, but the date of Dr. Cook's letter of March 17th, at or near Cape Thomas Hubbard, to the north of Cape Thomas Hubbard, to the west of Heiberg Land, in twenty-seven days.

After killing the deer they then traveled south to the shore of Ringnes Land to the point indicated on the chart, where they killed another deer.

They then went east across the north part of Crown Prince Gustav Sea to the south end of Heiberg Land, then down the coast to the point where the Eskimos secured some bears, but not until after they had killed some of the Eskimo boys.

They then went east across the north part of Crown Prince Gustav Sea to the south end of Heiberg Land, then down the coast to the point where the Eskimos secured some bears, but not until after they had killed some of the Eskimo boys.

Here for the first time during the entire journey, except as already noted off Cape Thomas H. Hubbard, they encountered a bear, which they shot and ate.

They then went east across the north part of Crown Prince Gustav Sea to the south end of Heiberg Land, then down the coast to the point where the Eskimos secured some bears, but not until after they had killed some of the Eskimo boys.

SNOW AND ICE IN MINNESOTA

By Associated Press. Duluth, Minn., Oct. 12.—Yesterday's blizzard continued today at the head of the lakes. A cutting wind, driving in from Lake Superior, with constant furies of snow, ice clad pavements and a predominance of heavy fur garments worn by Duluth citizens, contributed to the December appearance of the present storm, which struck this locality twenty-four hours ago.
