BOBE-RIERA WEDDING YESTERDAY MORNING.
 A pretty morning wedding took place at St. Michael's church yesterday, when Miss Celeste Bobe and Mr. Malcolm Riera were united in marriage after the early mass. The church had been handsomely decorated in cut flowers and ferns and presented an extremely fit and appropriate appearance for the happy event. As the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march were sounded through the picturesque old church, the bridal party entered, being led by Miss Ethel Bobe and Mr. Anthony Riera, who served as maid of honor and best man, respectively. Miss Ethel was charming and sweet in a gown of old rose silk, and she wore a handsome black picture hat. Upon the arrival of the bridal couple, many admiring eyes followed the bride, who wore an attractive Copenhagen blue three-piece suit, with hat, shoes and gloves to match. Immediately after the beautifully impressive wedding ceremony of the Catholic church had been said, the guests repaired to the Riera home on DeVilliers street, where a delightful wedding breakfast was served. Mrs. Riera, who is an unusually fine young woman, numbers her friends by the score in the city, as she is widely admired by everyone. Mr. Riera is also extremely popular, and their friends are rejoicing over the fact that they intend making their permanent home here.

THE LOVE WHICH SPEAKS.
 It is not enough that dear ones love us. There are times when we hunger for them to say so. Love which is real love needs to make a beaten track between the heart and lips. And over that path true love will oft-times journey. Yea, we do need to have a care lest diffidence of soul, drum-round of toll, or aught else within, or without, make dumb the lips of love. For some day a quiet call will come from beyond the skies. In one swift instant a voice will hush, a heart still, and a face vanish from the every-day seeing of our careless eyes.

MR. J. C. LONG RETURNS HOME.
 Mrs. J. C. Long has returned home, after an absence of six weeks. She has been the guest of friends and relatives in St. Louis and other points in Missouri.

Painful Dyspepsia
 A Form of Indigestion Caused by Gastric Irritation from Undigested Food in the Stomach.

No kind of dyspepsia is better marked than that known as "painful indigestion," and it is also a very common affection. Pain, generally of a dull character, is felt after meals, and along with the pain, soreness at the pit of the stomach often exists, and in some cases the soreness is permanent. The tenderness is commonly restricted to a spot in the middle line of the body, immediately below the breast-bone.

It often extends upward under the bone, which consequently feels sore on pressure, or the tenderness is felt toward either side. This tenderness is commonly associated with an unpleasant feeling of burning sensation—as it is termed by some persons. There is also a "gnawing" and "dragging," as well as various other anomalous sensations complained of after taking food, and generally within an hour after eating.

As might be supposed the intensity of the symptom is proportionate to the quantity and quality of the meal. When the stomach is empty, a sensation of craving or emptiness gives most trouble. This often causes a false appetite, which, by inducing the person to eat heartily aggravates the sufferings. Thirst generally causes much annoyance; heartburn, water-brash, acidity, nausea, and headaches are not infrequent attendants. The tongue is usually coated and from a mere inspection of this organ the condition of the stomach can often be correctly told.

It is a common error with persons who suffer from stomach pain caused by indigestion and gastric irritation, to use such drugs as chlorodyne, Hoffman's Anodyne, and other "pain killers" for its relief. Such treatment is a great mistake. While these drugs afford temporary relief to the dyspeptic pain, they have no effect whatever in removing the cause.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS remove the cause. By completely digesting all the food in the stomach, there is no further possibility of the occurrence of this disagreeable form of dyspepsia with its painful manifestations, and other distressing symptoms. All of the irritation of the stomach-lining and stomach-nerves as the result of the undigested food lying in that organ and undergoing fermentation and decomposition, is quickly done away with.

But not only is the form of dyspepsia which is accompanied by pain cured through the use of these digestive tablets, but also every other form of indigestion, as there are many kinds in which stomach pain does not occur, but where there are many symptoms equally disagreeable, discouraging, disconcerting and disheartening.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain, in a highly concentrated form, powerful anti-dyspeptic ingredients, which digest rapidly and thoroughly food of every kind, including proteins, nitrates, carbohydrates, etc. A single grain will disintegrate and digest 3,000 grains of food.

Purchase a box from your druggist at once (price 50 cents), and get rid of the pain, discomfort and other disagreeable symptoms of dyspepsia. Also send us your name and address for free sample package. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

room, and the reading room. In the latter are to be found all the late magazines, with comfortable chairs and other comfortable appointments. There are broad verandas, and the situation is unusually pleasant throughout.

The "Mission Park," which is located in the rear of the building, shows the result of considerable hard work very creditable flower gardens are laid out, and various forms of amusements are already provided for. There is the Gypsy tent, where fortunes are told, the candy tent, the Japanese tea room, rustic benches in secluded nooks for the lovers, shooting galleries and the mysterious "North Pole," where ice cream and other freezing things abound. These are more or less festival attractions, of course, which with the pretty lights from the Japanese lanterns and the fine programs going on indoors, make the scene an unusually interesting and effective one.

 Stirred by a stiff south breeze, the bay was a mass of long swells yesterday afternoon, the rough surface getting more disagreeable for small boats as night advanced and after dark navigation by small boats was almost out of the question. The blow was nothing of a dangerous nature, but it interfered much with timber rafts alongside of vessels in the stream.
