FOOTBALL AT BEACH TODAY

P. C. S. AND P. H. S. TO PLAY MOBILE AND BREWTON ELEVENS THERE THIS AFTERNOON.

Place—Palmetto Beach.

Time—Two o'clock this afternoon. Pensacola will get her first taste of football this afternoon at Palmetto Beach, when each of the two high school teams of this city meet an opposing team. The team from the Classical School plays its second game of the season with the University Military School of Mobile, and the team from the High School plays its first game with the Brewton Collegiate Institute. Both games should be very interesting as the teams are quite evenly matched. The Mobile bunch of players have it a little on the Classical as to weight, but if there is any difference between the weights of the other two teams it is very small. The Brewton bunch of players might tip the scales at an average of a pound to the man over the High School team.

There will be no waiting between halves, the first half of the second game will start immediately upon the completion of the first half of the first game. The second half of the first game will be started at the completion of this half and then the other two teams will go in for their last turn.

Very little can be said about the outcome of the game between the High School and Brewton, as the strength of the former has not been tried this year. Their practice has been going on regularly, however, and it has been hard and fast at all times. Brewton, it will be remembered, defeated the Classical School team last Saturday on their home grounds by the score of ten to five.

Very little more can be said about the other score, as it will be the first game that the Mobile bunch has played. The students of the Classical School have improved much since their defeat at the hands of Brewton and seem to put more life into their work. At any rate, and no matter what the outcome, Pensacola will have two good teams on the field today to uphold her honor. The feeling between the two city schools is very amicable indeed, and neither team will lack for supporters from the other school when the test comes.

AWAY GOES THE BACKACHE

OUT-OF-ORDER KIDNEYS ACT FINE AND BLADDER MISERY GOES AFTER A FEW DOSES.

A real surprise awaits every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble who takes several doses of Pape's Diuretic. Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, nervousness, rheumatism pains, heart palpitations, dizziness, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, lack of energy and all symptoms of out-of-order kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, offensive and discolored water and other bladder misery ends.

The moment you suspect kidney or urinary disorder, or feel any rheumatism, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

It is needless to feel miserable and worried, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order kidneys and urinary system, distributing its cleansing, healing and strengthening influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

It is not only the most entertaining scene in years, but it is likewise the best comedy that Mr. Beresford has ever been identified with. His tour in the past in "The Wrong Man," "The Woman Hater," and other popular comedies have long since stamped Mr. Beresford not only as a clever actor but a born natural comedian with a great future in front of him.

In the present comedy success, "Who's Your Friend?" Mr. Beresford will afford our amusement seekers a rare comedy treat.

About "Fluffy Ruffles."

Of "Fluffy Ruffles," to appear here at an early date, the Grand Rapids Star Says:

Florence Gear, the vivacious blonde singing comedienne last season put a dimmer on the fame of Marie Cahill in "Marrying Mary." This season she has just about eclipsed the lustre of Hattie Williams, who first made popular the role and play of "Fluffy Ruffles."

If there had been any doubt as to the personal popularity of Miss Gear in Grand Rapids, that doubt was completely dispated yesterday when she was greeted by two crowded houses at the Majestic and several score of people were turned away at the evening performances. The cordiality of the applause was further attestation of the personal esteem for the clever little actress and her company, which latter comprises several people who were with her last season.

"Fluffy Ruffles," the comedy, is the joint production of the pens and wits of a trio of New York and Boston newspaper writers and a composer, the book being from John McCall, who wrote many of the earlier Rogers' Brothers farces, Wallace Irwin and George Totten Smith having a hand in the manufacture of the witticisms. There are plenty of the latter, so many in fact that they cover the footlights so rapidly at times that the audience is kept busy in following them.

Fluffy Ruffles, the girl, is one of these cleverly witty young women of so much personal charm that every man she meets falls in love with her, which causes her to lose position after position because men spend so much time at her side. For this reason she loses the position of society editor on one of the New York dailies. She is told, however, that she will be restored with increased pay if she gets an exclusive story on the elopement of one Herbert Henshaw, a prominent lawyer, and an opera singer, Isabel Barlow. This assignment takes her to London and to Paris after she has discovered that Augustus Traddles, New York correspondent for a London paper, and Noggie Noggles are after the same story. Both fall in love with Fluffy, of course, and she promises to marry each if he will help her to land the story for her paper.

Fluffy meets the wife of Henshaw, however, and becomes so filled with sympathy for the wronged wife that she resolves to restore Henshaw to her in stead of abetting the elopement as she had at first planned. This she accomplishes and in so doing loses her own heart to the slangy Noggles.

Of the company the best characters are Traddles, by Harry B. Roche; Noggles, by John J. McGowan; Herbert Henshaw, by Victor Leroy; David Hill, by John McSweeney; Madame Shonts, by Isabel Vernon; Isabel Barlow, by Helen Morrison, and Mrs. Henshaw, by Geraldine Wright. The chorus is of much the same splendid type that was displayed by Miss Gear last season and many of the gowns are splendid sartorial specimens.

The musical numbers include several that are defined to be very popular, including the following: "Fluffy Ruffles," Miss Gear; "Look at You," Victor Leroy and show girls; "By the Setting of the Sun," Miss Gear; "I wonder Why," John J. McGowan; "Barn Dance," composed and sung by McGowan; "You've Got to Fool the Public if You Want to Get the Dough," Miss Gear, Roche and McGowan; "I'd Love to Love a Hero," Miss Gear; "Echo of My Heart," Miss Gear; "Dining Out," Roche and show girls; "Love's Bouquet," Leroy and chorus; "In Society," Miss Gear.

ABOUT $100 MORE NEEDED FOR THE FUND

F. F. BINGHAM, OF COMMITTEE, REPORTS SUBSCRIPTIONS NOW IN HAND NEARLY SUFFICIENT TO PROVIDE FOR PRACTICAL EDUCATION OF FARMER BOYS.

F. F. Bingham, who personally circulated a list for subscriptions to make up a fund for the education in agricultural lines of ten farmer boys, reported last evening that the fund in hand lacks about $100 of making up the necessary amount as stated at the meeting of the business men of the city Thursday night. There will be no trouble in getting all the money needed, for some good promises have been made to Mr. Bingham. Such being the case, the full subscription list may be turned over to Mr. Waterman during the afternoon. Mr. Waterman was named as custodian of the fund and also the one to name the candidates.

Each student will be taken care of by the fund raised. His railroad fare, both to and from Gainesville, his board and lodging while at the school, and necessary text books will be provided. It could not be expected that spending money would be given him, nor could reasonable people expect that anything outside of that to be provided would be allowed a student. The course goes through a period of three months or twelve weeks.

Mr. Bingham said that, to his idea of thinking, applicants should even now be sending in their applications. Boys under the age of sixteen will not be admitted to the agricultural course, but above that the age is unlimited.

With the exception of Baptist ministers, every preacher in the county was communicated with by Mr. Waterman yesterday, the idea being to get close to the farmers and have the project fully explained by the ministers to the farmers. The reason the Baptist ministers were not reached was because of the fact that most of them are attending a gathering of Baptists at Oak Grove. As the ministers personally could not be reached, Mr. Waterman did the next best thing, and J. Ed. Williams, of this city, who is a delegate to the Oak Grove convention, and who was going up there yesterday, carried along with him some hastily prepared literature on the new movement. Should he reach there before the ministers separated for services in their respective churches on Sunday, all will have become personally enlightened on the purposes of the movement and such will in turn be disseminated in proper manner.

A letter was addressed to Prof. E. E. Murrey by Mr. Waterman yesterday. Following an explanation of the movement, Mr. Waterman requested data on lines which would enable intelligent selection from among applicants, and information for applicants as to the course of study, number of hours per day of class work, etc., and for such aid as would enable the secretary to discharge his duty intelligently and to good effect.

Preparations have already begun at the Concordia club for the annual Thanksgiving hunt of that social organization, which promises this year to be even more successful than those preceding it.

The members are taking an active interest in the hunt of this year, and with few exceptions practically all of the members will be in the contest, many having already signified their intentions and sent in their names. In a short time captives will be selected, who will pick their teams for the hunt, which will probably be governed by the same rules as heretofore.

CHINA TREES ATTRACT THE WHITE FLIES

PROF. ROLFS BELIEVES CHINA BERRY TREES, CAPE JASMINE AND CREPE MYRTLE MAKE LIVING FOR PESTS, GIVING REASON FOR SUCH OPINION.

White flies or gnats are attracted in any community by umbrella china berry trees, cape jasmine, crepe myrtle and one kind of citrus fruit tree, according to Prof. Rolfs, the agricultural expert who has been in the city several days. Dispose of such trees about the premises when white flies show up and the pests will soon leave.

George W. Johnstone, who resides in New City, and who is one of many in this city to cultivate the Satsuma orange trees, has been much troubled by myriads of white flies which have injured the Satsuma trees to an alarming extent. He asked Prof. Rolfs what attracted them. The professor explained that, in the main, the umbrella china tree was the principal and greatest sought food for them. The flies had their known origin in India or Eastern Asia, and from that part of the globe were first brought to America in the china trees. The flies fed on such trees in the eastern countries and in a natural movement, followed the importations to this country. Their spread was numerous.

Prof. Rolfs regarded as important the information given by Mr. Johnstone that the white fly had made its appearance in Pensacola, for he was of the opinion that its existence in Florida was confined to southern and central Florida, where, in addition to the china and myrtle trees which abound in large quantity, the citrus fruit trees were also in abundance. The information thus obtained will be probed into scientifically and may shortly be made the subject of a bulletin from the experiment station.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed."

L. & N. MAY GET BIG CONTRACT

FIGURING ON BUYING AN ELECTRIC MACHINE TO SACK CO-TON OIL CAKE TO HANDLE AN IMMENSE SHIPMENT.

Officials of the Louisville & Nashville are figuring on a big contract for handling cotton oil cake through here to foreign ports, and if the plans of the officials are carried through it is more than likely they will contract for exporting about 120 tons will be made with a big exporting firm.

It is understood that Supt. E. O. Saltmarsh, General Agent J. M. Roberts and Wharfmaster and Stevedore A. S. Cox have gone to New Orleans, where they will inspect an electric machine which sacks the oil cake for shipment. If this machine demonstrates that it can be successfully operated one will likely be installed here, and if so the cake can be handled much cheaper than at any other port on the gulf.

Shipments which heretofore have been made through here have been sacked by hand, entailing both delay and extra cost.

MYSTERY AT LAST CLEARED

WHO STRUCK BILLY PATTERSON NO LONGER IN DOUBT ACCORDING TO MISSOURI MAN.

A special from Hissinsville Mo., says: "Who struck 'Billy' Patterson?" is a question that has gone into history. It is asked frequently by persons who have no idea who "Billy" Patterson was, for it has become a stock expression signifying a mystery.

But now comes T. M. Lake, formerly of Fauquier county, Va., and now a retired merchant of this city, who says he knows all about the striking of Patterson. Mr. Lake was a young friend of the man who struck the blow. "Billy" Patterson, according to Mr. Lake, was the bully of Richmond, Va., almost 75 years ago. He was a big man who loved fighting almost as well as he loved whiskey, and preferred the two together.

The day Patterson was struck the blow which thrust his name into immortality he had obtained liquor, but was finding it difficult to get a fight.

STRATTON ICE WORKS

He had taken up a position in the center of a much-traveled sidewalk and was making all passers take to the street. He was particularly insulting to a crowd of medical students who passed on their way to a nearby students' hotel.

Among those students was Albin Payne, a young man from Fauquier county, a relative of Admiral Raphael Semmes, and a man of fighting blood. When the group of students submitted to the indignities offered by Patterson, his fighting blood was aroused. "Let me at the bovine," he said, as he walked up to Patterson. Perhaps Patterson was too much surprised to defend himself, for only one blow was struck, and "Billy" Patterson went down with a thud. It was believed at first that Patterson was killed, and the students fled to their hotel, where a hasty conference was held, and they vowed not to tell who struck the blow.

Hardly had Payne been taken out a side way to another students' lodging house when the police arrived, demanding the man "who struck 'Billy' Patterson." All the students were questioned, but each denied that he had struck Patterson. Though it soon became apparent that Patterson was not dangerously injured, the students kept their vow, Payne preferring to avoid notoriety. Payne afterward became widely known as a physician in Virginia and attained some note as a magazine writer under the nom de plume of "Nicholas Spicer."
