

CHARGED WITH LEAVING WIFE FOR ANOTHER

COUPLE FROM COTTONDALE CAUGHT IN CITY AND DEPUTY COMES TO TAKE THEM BACK TO ANSWER FOR ALLEGED WRONGS AT THEIR HOME TOWN.

Deputy Sheriff Gray, from Cottondale, Fla., reached Pensacola on the 3:45 o'clock train last night and presented warrants for R. L. Howells, charging him with desertion of his wife, and Sarah Padgett, charged with some slight offense. Both man and woman have been held in the city for a short time, having been picked up at the request of Washington county officials. When the woman reaches Cottondale a formal charge will be made against her. Howells will be taken back to Cottondale this morning. The woman will also go as a prisoner. She is from a family held in high esteem throughout her home county and her act in this case was surprising. Howells also stood well in the community. He was at one time, and until a recent date, agent at Cottondale for the new railroad which has been extended from Dothan, Ala., to St. Andrews, Fla.

Roar of Guns and Cheers of Thousands Greet Taft At N. O.

The president was escorted to the landing. President Taft and his party were quickly placed in carriages and the big parade up Canal street began. The principal business streets of the city were traversed and when the St. Charles hotel, the home of the presidential party for two days, was reached, the president left the carriage and reviewed the procession from the balcony. The throngs in front of the hotel were limited only by space and the liberality of the police. The arrangements to protect the president seemed flawless. There was a uniformed patrolman every six feet on the line of march, and as last as the presidential party passed one point, details of police were hurried ahead to serve at some other. Everywhere there were detectives and men at service men.

time, the waterways convention had been called to order.

LUNCHES WITH ARCHBISHOP.
The president accepted an invitation to luncheon with Archbishop Blenk at noon and dined teete-ateete with the distinguished prelate. After luncheon, he began a strenuous afternoon. First he drove to the big Jesuit college and spoke a few words to the students. Then he hurried to the Athenaeum, where he addressed the convention. After listening to Mr. Pinchot's speech for a moment, he drove in an automobile to the principal points of interest in the city, stopping to see a few plays of the Tulane-Mississippi A. & M. football game and to dedicate Taft field.

Then he was hurried to Pelican park to look in on the Louisiana State-Sewanee game. By this time it was time to dress for the formal dinner at the Pickwick club and a very tired but very happy president was whirled back to his hotel.

AT CONVENTION HALL.
When Taft arrived at the convention of the Lakes to Gulf Deep Waterway Association today he was greeted with thunderous applause. President Kavanaugh presented him with a gold badge, and Governor Sanders, of Louisiana, introduced him. The applause broke out again, accompanied by Yale yell. When it ceased Taft began his address.

President Taft declared no progress had been made in river navigation in the last forty years. The waterways of the country, he said, must eventually carry the bulk of the heavy merchandise.

The president's declaration that he favored issuing bonds for carrying out the Ohio river improvements, as one of the approved projects of an inland waterways, brought forth applause.

Taft said he favored issuing bonds for all other improvements, including the Mississippi, as soon as shown it will be necessary and justifiable.

Concluding he said: "It is up to you, gentlemen, to decide what you want what it will cost, how long it will take and what the result will be. Once that is done, you can command, not ask."

With the governors of twenty-one states voicing assurances of their hearty sympathy with the movement, the first day's convention closed. It was after midnight when the last governor had been heard and delegates left the hall.

MURPHY CLAIMS A BIG MAJORITY

TAMMANY LEADER SAYS JUDGE GAYNOR WILL GET AS MANY VOTES AS BANNARD AND HEARST COMBINED.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 30.—The triangular campaign for mayor of Greater New York saw the beginning of its end to-night in a burst of oratory and red fire and bosses and managers are claiming everything in sight on the election of Tuesday.

SEA WALL AT FT. PICKENS IS FINISHED

BIG GOVERNMENT CONTRACT HAS BEEN COMPLETED, AND GARRISON NOW HAS AMPLE PROTECTION FROM FURY OF THE MEXIC GULF.

Through the completion this week of the great sea wall encircling Fort Pickens, that garrison has been made more formidable against fury of the gulf in time of storm, and one of the largest of government contracts has been finished. Brewer & Jones, general contractors, have just announced completion of the great enterprise.

To give an idea of the size and general character of the wall, it may be stated that there were used in its construction 26,000 cubic yards of concrete, 750,000 feet crosstied piling, 1,500,000 feet non-crosstied piling and 245 linear feet of 6-inch terra cotta piping for drains.

CAPTURED A CURIOUS FISH

JAMES ERVIN DREW FROM BAY SOMETHING NEW BUT VERY UGLY WHILE CASTING FOR MULLET YESTERDAY.

James Ervin was pitching a cast net for mullet in the bay yesterday when he hauled from the water a fish about which there was wide and consequently diverse speculation until a gentleman came along noted it carefully and solemnly pronounced it to be a sea-robin, a fish usually taken from the waters of New Jersey and thereabout, and much prized for its food value. Mr. Ervin quit mullet fishing for the time being, for the purpose of correctly learning what this new product of Pensacola bay could be. On the street last night he had the fish in a bucket of water, and many said the sea-robin name was right.

The fish had mailed jaws and long fins "feelers" from a point near its eyes. It had at first glance the appearance of what is known as a "flying fish," but had even a more repulsive appearance if such was possible. Shown in a saloon last night, one customer of the place looked long and unsteadily at the object moving about in the water. Then he walked out, muttering that he'd "better get home quick now and didn't know I had so much in me. Was it a fish or only a frog with moss on it? But better go home anyhow. Had 'nough." And he kept going.

BEAUTIFUL RUG IS "COPYRIGHTED"

For several days the attention of Palafox street visitors who inclined to the artistic has been attracted by a very handsome rug on display in one of Marston & Quina's show windows. Few people probably knew, however, that this is what is known as a "copyrighted" rug and is one of the very few, and possibly the first of its kind, ever seen in Pensacola.

THE TRUE CAUSE OF FIVE YEARS' TORTURE

Was a Monster 36-foot Tape Worm Expelled by the Reverend C. B. Netherland, Who Resides at Beulah—Cantonment, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 60, is His Postoffice Address.

For five long years the Reverend Netherland has suffered untold misery. He has been constantly trying different treatments, but all with the same results, no benefit whatever was received, and he gradually was growing weaker day by day. As he stated to Gray, the Quaker Health Teacher, "I have about given up all hope of ever seeing a well day again. I have such a misery in my stomach, bloating, belching, flustering of my heart, shortness of breath, dizziness, sometimes sharp pains back of my head, my mouth is full of slime in the morning, my tongue coated, I have a ravenous appetite at times, and again the sight of the food makes me nauseated."

Gray explained to him the merits of the Quaker Herb remedies, which are intended for the stomach, kidneys, liver, a system purifier and worm destroyer, for catarrh, indigestion, constipation, they strengthen and build up nervous, weak, run-down man or woman.

The reverend decided to try once again for a cure. Got a bottle of the Quaker Herb Extract on Thursday, took it according to directions, and on the following Monday, 11:15 a. m., he expelled a horrid, squirming, tape-worm 36 feet in length, alive, head and all complete. It can be seen at Hannah Bros. drug store, 17 South Palafox St., free to all, and Gray will answer all questions pertaining to parasites, and what Quaker Herb remedies are intended to cure. Now they are not cure-alls, by any means, and Gray does not tell any person they are. Call today, have a talk with Gray; it costs you not one penny. If you cannot call, order by mail. The remedies will be sent you by express, all charges paid on orders of $3.00 or over.

BOTH HANDS SHAVED OFF BY CAR WHEELS

NEGRO MAIMED FOR LIFE BY SWITCH ENGINE NORTH OF CITY—CLAIMED HE HEARD NO NOISE OF APPROACHING LOCOMOTIVE, AS ONE HAD JUST PASSED HIM.

Mark Young, a negro, about 26 years of age, suffered the loss of both hands last night at a point opposite the whiting factory, just north of the city. Train wheels cut both hands off smoothly, one at the wrist and the other higher up, nearer the elbow. He suffered much pain before being picked up, brought to the city and taken to the hospital. After having been maimed as stated, he remained on the spot for some time and later an engine from the city was sent for him, bringing Young to the yardmaster's office on a flat car. The patrol wagon conveyed him to the hospital.

Young, who was walking northward on the track when he became aware of the fact that an engine was approaching from behind, and he stepped off the track. As the engine passed him, he said, he again began walking on the track, and the engine came along swiftly, taking him by surprise. Before he could get out of the way, he was felled and his hands were cut off.

The police records show Young to be a runaway prisoner, having left the city jail some days ago without permission.

ATHENS FAIR A BIG SUCCESS

BENEFITS THAT WERE DERIVED BY ALABAMA CITY REVEAL HOW ESCAMBIA COUNTY WILL BE HELPED.

The fair at Athens, Ala., was a big success, and to show the benefits that can be derived by Escambia county by similar fairs the following is printed from the Alabama Courier of Athens:

The first annual fair of Limestone county is now history.

This history is written in bold letters and starts and ends with the seven letters that spell "Success."

The word "success" is written in every department and satisfaction was written in every face of several thousand who attended the three days of first meeting of this enterprise which is to bring greater things to the county than fun and pleasure, an enterprise that promises to bring returns in a more substantial form than that of affording pleasure to the people who like this sort of amusement.

The fair came to a close Thursday night, after three days of perfect weather and large crowds, fine exhibits in the stock ring, in the agricultural department, in the household and culinary department, in the poultry exhibit, in the live stock pens, in racing, in fact in every department that went to the making of a successful county fair.

The warmest friends of the enterprise were more than delighted, even surprised, at the interest manifested in the first effort of the enterprise, which owing to the lateness of the organization and the difficulties which beset the officials, made the show unusually late.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 30.—The opening stock market today showed a good deal of irregularity, sharp gains in specialties being mingled with small declines in the aggregate. The market opened at an advance of 1-4 and ran off to below last night and Union Pacific, Union Pacific and Anaconda Copper, which were the leaders of yesterday's advance, were favored a point under last night and all other representative stocks were also depressed.

COTTON REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 30.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 15/16, with May contracts selling at 15-16 on the call as a result of continued bullish sentiment, which had the encouragement of a big advance in Liverpool, the bullish view of the supply figures and details that Canada and Mexico were expected to meet a short time schedule. Business was a little less active later and fluctuations irregular, with slight reactions, due to heavy realizing.
