

The Healing Power of Pine.

If you have ever taken a walk through a forest of pine trees you will remember how, almost unconsciously, the head was thrown back and lungs expanded as you inhaled with long, deep breaths the pine-laden air. How invigorating it was—how healing!

AMUSEMENTS.

"Sapho" Tuesday Night.

While all the smart towns are steeped in fashion these days, and shopping streets are alive with alert women, on the quiet side for new ideas, new tricks in cut and finish, new designs which they can incorporate into modish gowns, suddenly up goes the curtain and ah—ah—the arrival of imported gowns. "Inside information," and the opportunity to view the exquisite frocks themselves. With all the multiplicity of thought they convey.

For here comes Miss Olga Nethersole in "Sapho" Tuesday, November 9. The one great artist who emphasizes every latest detail of her wardrobe to fit the occasion.

Besides a good look at the various gowns which Miss Nethersole wears there is the opportunity for the well-dressed woman to study the small touches. For instance, the draping of the veil, the jewels to match the gown and the most important of all, lines. The value of lines should be as carefully studied as color, ornamentation and texture of material. During the first act of Sapho when Miss Nethersole appears at the masquerade ball as Fanny Le Grand in a marvelous Greek costume one can see the beautiful result of combining color and lines. The Grecian robe of white crepon trimmed with tinsel bands is topped with a wonderfully draped mantle of warm cerise satin. Which only stops to show the white crepe entwining the ankles and displaying the perfect Grecian sandals. On her head the laurel wreath completes the picture.

In Sapho's second act is seen Miss Nethersole's blood rose chiffon dress with all the tricks of the dressmaker's art manifested. There are embroidered panels and borders of gold flet lace emphasizing the striking note of the new season's fashions. And that something about the soft folds of a pretty drapery that gives the wearer a grace and dignity which are the pride of every woman who cares for her appearance, and where is the woman who does not?

Your Money's Worth or Your Money Back.

Watch for Big Street Parade Monday.

With this delicious gown is worn a coat of lavender raw silk with a reddish tint, embroidered in Grecian design with rose colored rope and gold thread. And here is the effect of the Dolman sleeve with the redingot skirt. The question of a perfect reception wrap is solved. A wonderful hat and feather boa of the same remarkable cerise color are melted into a lovely delicious harmony.

As the curtain goes up on Sapho's third act a note of carelessness is sounded. And the value of everything in its one right place as described before, strikes back. Although the black skirt and fancy dressing sacque are of beautiful materials the careless way they are worn by Miss Nethersole to portray the character of Sapho tells why so many wives lose the admiration of their husbands. Ladies who desire to effect black will do well to see the simple elegance of a chiffon waist and dainty lace collar worn with satin skirt and all completed by the style of the fur hat with green wing draped with a gorgeous black veil falling below the waist line.

The Orpheum Theatre.

The big noise will strike Pensacola on next Monday and it will land at the Orpheum theatre, to continue for the whole week. By special arrangements with the booking agents, Manager Vuovich will present next week one of the very highest salaried vaudeville acts that has ever played at the Orpheum. It is none other than the Great Lawrence & Company, assisted by Miss Marie Moore, in a big spectacular historical military musical novelty act, introducing the life of an American soldier in times of peace as well as war. The act shows the life before the war, during the war, and after the war, and when the smoke has cleared away and the battlefield is scattered with the bodies of the "Boys in Blue." The Red Cross nurse has performed her duty only too well. All is over. The driver takes his stand, the flags are raised to half-mast and as "taps" are sounded the boys are laid away. Mr. Lawrence is champion trumpeter of the world, it is claimed, and was chief trumpeter with ex-President Roosevelt's Rough Riders during the late Spanish-American war. It is the only act of its kind that is playing upon the vaudeville stage today and is a novelty in every sense of the word.

Miss Georgia Nelson will also be on the bill next week in a singing and talking act, and she comes here after making one of the biggest hits that was ever known at the Winter Garden in New Orleans.

Shelby and Jones will also be seen in a singing and dancing act, and may be said of these clever artists that their act is in a class by itself, and they are bound to please and give the very best of satisfaction.

To-Day is Candy Day at the Crystal Pharmacy.

JENNETTE AND DAVIS ARE TO BE LIBERATED

MEN FINED ON PLEA OF GUILTY IN CRIMINAL COURT GET FAVOR WITH PARDONING BOARD WHICH HELD SESSION FRIDAY.

Telegrams received in Pensacola early yesterday afternoon from Tallahassee announced that the Florida pardoning board had acted favorably upon the applications for pardon of Harry H. Jennette and Harry Davis, both of whom were serving out a sentence in the county jail for their connection with a gambling house. On a plea of guilty, each were fined $750 and costs or an alternative punishment of eighteen months. Both of them spent perhaps their last night in the county jail Friday, for it is expected the pardon board's official action will be received some time today. Upon receipt of such official document, the men will be immediately released by the sheriff.

When the above information reached the city it spread rapidly and friends of the two men concerned were delighted to hear of it. A number called at the jail in the evening and congratulated them, whom they met in the sheriff's office.

The first knowledge of the board's act came from Judge C. B. Parkhill, who wired Justice Nicholson of the fact. Later confirmatory messages were received and after such were in hand, relatives of Messrs. Jennette and Davis were notified. It might be remarked that much rejoicing occurred in two households in Pensacola yesterday.

Sentence of the two men named was the result of a raid made upon a gambling house conducted in a three-story building on Deluna street. When the raid occurred, evidence implicating young men in all walks of life was collected, but information was filed against but five. Two of these are now fugitives from justice. Davis and Jennette pleaded guilty to the information filed against them, following the trial and conviction of William Camp, who was sentenced to eighteen months in jail, but who has now a numerous signed petition with the pardon board for a change in his sentence from a jail term to that of a reasonable fine. Such petition did not reach the board in time for action thereon at the November meeting, although many in the city awaited anxiously for Tallahassee news relating to the Camp case disposition yesterday afternoon.

Jennette and Davis have served about six and one-half months of their respective imposed sentence.

Boat Club Holds Final Meeting Before Regatta

tion speed, as above, will be disqualified, and will not be entitled to prize awarded for that class, but may enter immediately the next higher class, upon application to the judges.

Full direction and control of the races rests with the committee of judges, and all questions and disputes shall be decided by them. All protests must be made personally to the judges immediately after the race is completed.

All boats participating in the regatta as well as all other boats of the club and visiting boats are requested to rendezvous at stake-boat at 4:30 p. m., and participate in a review once around the course, all boats to follow one another at a reasonable and safe distance, and at a speed equal to the slowest boat.

The officers and members of the club are earnestly urged to extend a cordial welcome to any visiting vessel and to lend any assistance in their power in properly caring for such boats as may participate in the regatta.

Class A boats will run the course four times around. Class B, three times around. Class C and D, twice around. Class E, once around the specified course.

Save your Rexall Wrappers. They will be worth money at The Crystal Pharmacy.

DRANK POISON BUT AN EMETIC SAVED HIS LIFE

YOUNG MAN WALKED INTO DRUG STORE AND SWALLOWED CONCOCTION, BUT PROMPT ACTION OF DRUGGIST RELIEVED HIM OF ALL DANGER.

Walking into a drug store on South Palafox street at 10:10 o'clock last night, Francis Ward, a young man residing on East Zarragossa street, grabbed a bottle of what was reported to be carbolic acid and drank a small portion of the poisonous mixture. The druggist on duty promptly administered an emetic which successfully produced a violent vomiting fit. To make sure that he was wholly out of danger, the city physician was called and he said Ward was all right. He further said he could find no trace of the poison.

Captain Frank Wilde was notified of Ward's action. The police captain was at the station, about a block distant, and he hurried over, finding Ward lying in the rear of the place where he had drunk the poison. The young man was groaning, and complaining of pains in the stomach. Every outward symptom convinced Captain Wilde that Ward was suffering from a poisonous drink and he telephoned for the city physician. Once the latter had examined Ward and pronounced him out of all danger, the reckless young man left for his home. Whether the act was a suicidal one or not, the police would not admit.

M. M. I. GAME IS CALLED OFF

THE ATHLETICS AND P. C. S., HOWEVER, WILL MEET ON THE GRIDIRON AT PALMETTO BEACH THIS AFTERNOON.

The game between the Athletics and M. M. I. has been called off, but that does not necessarily mean that Pensacola is going to lose the chance of seeing a football game today. Instead of playing Mobile this afternoon, the Athletics will meet the Pensacola Classical School team. The game will be, if not a better one than the first scheduled, just as good and what is more to the point will be a good exhibition of clean football. The team from the Classical School will be practically the same that has been representing this institution during the present season. The only changes will be that Capt. Vinson will be in at quarter-back and the two instructors who have been coaching the team will be in the back field.

The Athletics have been practicing every night for the past two weeks and are in good trim. They are a little better than the point will be from the Classical School, but were not as heavy as the Selma team which defeated them on the 22nd of last month by the close score of 11 to 6. The game should attract a large crowd of football lovers as it will be the only chance they will have to see the Athletics in action, aside from the fact that the contest will be a fine exhibition, as far as amateur ball is concerned, of the king of all American sports.

The Athletics will have the following bunch of strong players on the gridiron this afternoon: Gould, Wallace, Reager, Barrow, M. Gilmore, R. Gilmore, E. Watson, R. Boyett, Harris, W. Broughton, J. Olsen, E. Satter, Warner, DiLauro and Wilkinson.

The line-up of the Classics will probably be as follows: Stillman c. Vinson H. lg.; Harvey (manager), R. McLain, lg.; Goulding, rg.; Roberts, rt.; Brent, re.; Vinson E. qb.; Woodrow, lt.; Phillips, fb.; Boyett, rt.

The Classical School season tickets are good at the gate. Admission, 50 cents.

THE IMPERIALS DEFEATED HUBS

Three straight games were taken by the Imperials from the Hubs last night, Eddie Anderson, of the Imperials, scoring 181, the highest made during the evening. The Gordon brothers defeated Johnson Hooton and William Clark in a three-game series for total pins. Earl Gordon made the highest general average, 159. Mr. Clark made 202, the highest score.

DEEPER WATER ABOUT DOCKS NOW SECURED

BIG DIPPER DREDGE NOW WORKING OFF RAILROAD DOCKS AND MAY COMPLETE THAT PORTION OF JOB EARLY IN COMING WEEK.

Dredging to a depth sufficient to safely float the largest vessels at any water stage about the railroad warehouse dock property has been completed, it was announced yesterday, and the powerful apparatus has been working for the past several days on approaches to the two wharves around which the increased depth has been secured. There has at times been trouble experienced at one spot near the terminus of one of the wharves in the handling of the very deep steamers, and this is just what the dredge is remedying at present. The dipper is now working at a depth of about twenty-five feet, and a depth to safely permit the navigation of the largest ocean tramps will be reached for permanent maintenance before the dredge leaves the present location. All of which will greatly enhance the salubrity of the port as a foreign exporting point.

Shallow water on one side of Central wharf, where all naval stores cargoes brought here are unloaded, has given some trouble in the past, and the dredge will get busy here before leaving Pensacola in order that larger vessels than are now engaged in the trade may ply here. This line of trade is always lively and better facilities are urgent. It is stated, however, that a better depth will be started around Muscogee wharf after the warehouse dock work has been finished. The deepest draft vessels visiting the port go to this wharf for bunker coal, for they usually call for fuel with cargo.

Day and night work is being done by the dredge to expedite the contract, and from one to three different shifts are employed constantly.

TAFT A GUEST OF CHARLESTON

ARRIVES THERE AT DUSK AFTER A STRENUOUS DAY AT SAVANNAH, WHERE HE NARROWLY MISSED INJURY BY PREMATURE EXPLOSION.

By Associated Press. Charleston, S. C., Nov. 5.—Arriving here at dusk this evening, President Taft at the head of a procession of automobiles and escorted by an imposing array of military, passed through the business streets to the home of Mayor Rhett, where he is spending the night, amid the cheers of hundreds who lined the way. Tonight the president was banqueted as the guest of the city. He leaves tomorrow morning for Columbia.

Governor Ansel, and Senators Tillman and Smith were among the guests at the banquet. It was the first presidential reception that Tillman had participated in for many years. Until Taft was inaugurated he was not even a caller at the White House for a long time.

Taft had a busy day in Savannah, where he left this afternoon. During the sail down the river to Fort Stevens he witnessed an accident in which one man, a negro, lost an arm, and another an eye. The men were firing a salute to the president with a small cannon. A premature explosion occurred as the negro was ramming the charge of powder. The ram-rod shot across the bow of the cutter near where the president was standing.

After the river trip the president participated in a parade. Then he went for a fast spin over the automobile course at a speed of forty miles an hour and at one time forty-eight miles.

GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATING SUGAR WEIGHING FRAUDS

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 5.—Investigation by the federal government into the sugar underweighing frauds was continued today. With evidence before them pointing to the conclusion that frauds at the sugar docks were kept up long after the now famous series exposed by the raid on the Williamsburg docks in 1907, the government investigators, it was reported today were on the trail of the men "higher up."

Yesterday's indictment and arraignment of Joseph Donelson, a government weigher, for frauds alleged to have been committed at a date subsequent to the first exposures, was said to be only a step in the process by which further revelations, possibly of a startling nature, were to be made.

letter a few days ago in which he stated that he was very well, as were all the members of the party. Editors of the magazine now printing Mr. Roosevelt's African hunting stories said today that they had heard nothing recently from Mr. Roosevelt. NOTHING HEARD FROM ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA London, Nov. 5.—The East African department of the colonial office has heard nothing regarding the rumor saying Theodore Roosevelt had been killed while hunting in Africa. The officials state that if true it would have been reported to them at once. RUMOR IS CLASSIFIED AS AN ABSURD STORY New York, Nov. 5.—Another one of those absurd rumors that bob up every time a prominent man gets out of communication with the world, is the way friends of Theodore Roosevelt here characterize the rumor that he was killed in Africa. Douglas Robinson, his brother-in-law, puts no credence in the rumor.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE BOGY MAN," LITTLE GIRL ADVISES JEFFRIES

As soon as James J. Jeffries reached New York from his trip to Europe he resumed preliminary training for his meeting with Johnson. Never a lax man, Jeffries could not stand even a few days of pent up idleness while he waited for Johnson to reach New York and sign up for the fight, so off he went to Cooper's gymnasium and began working like a horse. While the big boiler-maker was punching a bag and fairly shaking the building with resounding whacks some friends dropped in, and one of them brought along his little girl. Some one had told the prattler that Jeffries was getting ready to fight a giant black man, and while the big fellow was talking to the little miss she suddenly pointed her finger at him and exclaimed, "The bogy man will get you if you don't watch out!" The advice seemed to strike Jeffries forcibly, and he surveyed the child gravely for an instant before he burst out laughing.
