SUNRISE ON THE SEA.
 Across the waters, as smooth as a floor,
 There's a golden path from the ship to the shore;
 The sun that shines on the silent sea
 Throws a line of light o'er the main to me,
 And a health to the hosts of humanity.
 And this glittering gleam, this radiant ray,
 Is a sight worth seeing when out at sea.

What now doth the sun in its beauty behold,
 That sees the deep with a gleam of gold?
 It sees a snowy, silvery speck,
 Where the seagull sails; a school of whales,
 That are blowing and beating the tide with their tails;
 A ship, of fine structure and strength,
 With her steel sides and rigging of hemp and fir;
 And it dwells on the children that romp on the deck;
 On ardent lovers—the lass as fair as her lid heroic.
 O happy pair!
 On gray-haired veterans scarred with time,
 And their consorts, constant thro' many a year;
 On these the sun smiles, for they all are here.

And sweet are the memories which come to me
 On this mild and motionless sunlit sea.
 O'erstreaked with the sunbeam's lustrous light,
 Reviving visions as beautiful and bright
 As the floral wreaths that Genii twine,
 Bedecked with gems from her coral mines,
 And my spirits glow like the sun-light's gleam,
 For I know the Pilot—the far from land
 Our pilot's Pilot—the wave and governs the hand,
 That guides the ship that is bearing me,
 Mid its precious freight of humanity,
 And this is the lesson that comes to me
 Of the mammoth, mighty, majestic sea,
 That, whether the weather foul or fair,
 The sun that is shining a smiling there,
 Will smile and shine angelic still
 In grandeur and glory, the good and ill,
 To lighten the crosses, lessen the care
 Of diligent workers who did His will,
 May the truth of His teachings, O sun and O sea,
 Be a watchword and a kind and meek Reed Conant.

ALL STOMACH MISERY ENDS

INDIGESTION, GAS, HEARTBURN OR DYSPEPSIA IS COMPLETELY OVERCOME FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING A LITTLE DIAPEPSIN.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin. If your Stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak Stomachs should take a little Diapepsin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, or feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, Gas on Stomach or Belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomach, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and Intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

SAPHO AT OPERA HOUSE.
 The opera house was packed last night, the attraction being Olga Netherole in Clyde Fitch's dramatization of Daudet's famous novel, "Sapho." FEW WORDS WELL SAID

It Is Not So Much What She Said As the Convincing Way She Said It.

Henrietta, Tex.—Mrs. Rosa Shackelford is a lady of few words, but those she uses are right to the point and tell the whole story of what she wants to say.

Mrs. Shackelford writes: "I have used Wine of Cardui and find it to be a good medicine; so I have recommended it to my neighbors."

What you may be looking for today, at this moment, may be just what Mrs. Shackelford found—a good medicine.

This tells the whole story. If Cardui was good for Mrs. Shackelford, it certainly ought to be good for you.

And it will. This we know, because, for over half a century of time, commencing before most of the readers of this paper were born, Cardui has been helping sick women back to health and strength.

Cardui's strengthening effects quickly show themselves, in many different ways.

It acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles or nerves and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nerves and relieve the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Not a strong, drug-saturated, mineral mixture, but a mildly medicinal, tonic extract of herbal ingredients, Cardui is the ideal remedy for young and old.

Try it.

Every fair visitor should make it a point to see Lakeview. It is worth seeing. Bullock & Caldwell, American Building, will take you out. See them.

DECLINED TO SET ASIDE THE FIRST ORDER

FEDERAL JUDGE SHEPPARD UP HOLDS RULING OF SPECIAL EXAMINER WILSON IN RAILROAD RATE CASE HEARING—TO BE RESUMED TUESDAY.

Hon. W. B. Sheppard, United States judge for this district, yesterday declined to set aside or interfere in any way whatever with the order made by Hon. Emmett Wilson, special commissioner in the L. & N. railroad rate case. On the contrary, the order was upheld, and the hearing will be resumed next Tuesday, the special examiner having decided to continue it in Louisville, Ky.

In the argument for postponement, counsel-in-chief for the L. & N. participated. Hon. J. M. Brondeis of Louisville was heard at length, the proposition being advanced by him that a week's time was insufficient to prepare for the cross-examination. Special Examiner Wilson stated that a week's time would be ample to prepare for the cross-examination, and he ordered an adjournment for such a period.

The corporation attorneys were not satisfied and they appealed directly to Judge Sheppard, who heard the matter Monday evening. Decision was announced yesterday forenoon.

Hon. L. C. Massey, of the Florida railroad commission's counsel, was present and conducted the commission's side. He left for Tallahassee yesterday afternoon, but he will be here Sunday on his return to Louisville.

Mr. Wilson was at the hearing yesterday. He will remain here until Sunday and then will go to Louisville to continue the hearing.

Mr. Brondeis, chief counsel and secretary, left yesterday at noon for Louisville.

BABY'S ITCHING WAS INTOLERABLE

Girl of Six Months had Fearful Attack of Eczema—Spread All Over Her Face and Eyes Began to Swell—Scratched Till Blood Came—Relieved in a Night and

CURED BY CUTICURA AFTER LONG SUFFERING

"When my little girl was six months old I noticed small red spots on her right cheek. I did not pay any attention to them but finally the spots grew so large that I sent for the doctor who said it was ring of red and you can describe an ointment which I used for two weeks, but instead of helping the eruption, the ointment seemed to make it worse. Then I went to a second doctor and after examining the baby said it was eczema. He also gave me an ointment which did not help either. The disease in the meantime spread all over the face and the eyes began to swell. I became very anxious. The itching grew intolerable. I had to tie the baby's hands to the cradle to prevent her scratching. The cheeks were covered with blood and it was a terrible sight to see. I consulted doctors from September to December, but they were unable to cure the baby. I paid out from twenty to thirty dollars without relief.

"One of my friends told me of the Cuticura Remedies and I sent at once for a set which I began to use that evening. The next morning the baby's face was all white instead of red. I used the Cuticura Remedies until the eczema entirely disappeared. The child is now three years old and quite well. I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and I never use any other soap. I always recommend them whenever there is a chance for doing so. I will send you one of her pictures which she had taken just after she was healed. Mrs. P. E. Gumbin, Sheldon, Ia., July 13, 1908."
