ECZEMA VICTIM GAVE UP HOPE

After Suffering a Year with Raw, Watery Humor on Hands and Face—Prescriptions Did Not Do a Bit of Good—Scratched Till Blood Came and Had to Quit Work.

COMPLETELY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I suffered with eczema for one year and had two of the best doctors in town, but their medicines did not help me. First of all there were small white pimples on my left hand and I had to scratch until the blood came. Then they would puff up and water would run out. When I used Cuticura water would run there would be more pimples until my whole left hand was a mass of sores. Then my other hand became affected and they were like a piece of raw meat. Then it came on my face, neck and under my right arm so that I was unable to raise my arm for two weeks. It became so bad that I was obliged to give up work. About four months ago I started to doctor and the doctor told me it was eczema. So he told me to get ointment and soap. I used them for a month and they didn't do me one bit of good so I tried another doctor. He gave me three different kinds of medicines, but I was very much put out when these remedies did not help me. I was unable to sleep at night and I gave up all hope until I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and I am glad to say I am cured. ALL FREE FISH HAS BEEN STOPPED

For some time it has been a custom when fishing smacks reached the docks for acquaintances or crews of vessels to gather and provide themselves with a red snapper or two for personal use. This habit grew alarmingly, it was stated, until a stop was put to it the other day by the posting of a notice at Saunders & Company's fish house giving notice that the company had interests in all fish unloaded at Palafox wharf and that no employee had any legal right to give them away.

THE SWEEPING MACHINES EXPECTED

City officials are daily looking for the two street sweepers which were purchased two weeks ago from an agent who came to the city to show his goods. The agent promised the machines would be here inside of ten days, and as the time is about up, the machines may arrive at any date now, although no bill of lading has been received as yet.

TORPEDO BOATS ARRIVE AFTER A ROUGH TRIP

WILKES, THORNTON AND TINGEY ESCORT FOR PRESIDENT'S FLOTILLA DOWN MISSISSIPPI AT NAVY YARD FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

After an exceedingly rough passage from New Orleans, the torpedoboats Wilkes, Thornton and Tingey arrived at the Pensacola navy yard yesterday for a stay until next Wednesday and possibly until Friday. Last night it became known that four days would be required to make necessary repairs to the Wilkes. It may require longer, hence the probability of the boats remaining in port for a week.

With the MacDonough, the Tingey, Thornton and Wilkes were sent up the Mississippi river to be the escort for a flotilla which bore President Taft and hundreds of statesmen southward to New Orleans. The flotilla proceeded up the great river as far as St. Louis, and all the way down kept at the head of the great line of excursion and government boats.

There are the first and second division of the Atlantic Torpedo Flotilla, the second being in command of Lieutenant Willis G. Mitchell, who is aboard the MacDonough. The Wilkes is in command of Ensign George C. Pogram; the Thornton, Lieut. Charles B. Blakely, who has been transferred to the Charleston navy yard for duty; the Tingey by Ensign Warren C. Nixon.

CURBING WORK IS REGULATED

BUILDING INSPECTOR REGARDED AS DANGEROUS MANNER OF EXCAVATIONS AND ORDERED THAT CARE BE EXERCISED IN WORK.

Building Inspector Jas. M. Johnson yesterday threatened with arrest contractors who were making excavations on the sides of Intendencia street, which to place granite slabs which will serve the purpose of a curbing. The excavations were being made in a manner, according to the building inspector, that menaced the pedestrian, for overhead sheds were likely to fall down from the work in progress. One of the workmen pointed out, the contractors readily complied with the ideas of the building inspector and the work proceeded.

The inspector had not received from the contractors the required five-day notice, but such notice had been given to other city officials. It was stated. At any rate the inspector made inquiry and found that there had been no notification sent his office that the contemplated work was to start. Anything affecting the safety, removal, repair or construction of buildings should pass the inspector, and his inquiry followed his discovery that the work had started. Columns supporting sheds of buildings near which the cut is made from the sidewalk are resting on the outer edge of the walk. The inspector desired that more careful attention be given these supports and gave official orders accordingly.

SAPHO'S WRIST NABBED BY A PUP

Swearing all sorts of punishment to a dog if he caught the animal, Dan Sapho, colored, reported to the police station at 9 o'clock last night that, while passing the corner of Taragona and Garden streets, he was attacked by a big dog, his wrist having been badly torn by the animal's teeth. In the absence of the city physician, Desk Sergeant Yniesta applied remedies in stock at the station to the wound and bound it up, giving Sapho much relief, but the negro would evidently been more satisfied had he gotten hold of the dog. He was told to find the name of the dog's owner and make report to the station.

A SMALL CROWD SAW FINE GAME

PENSACOLA CLASSICAL SCHOOL AND BREWTON COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE PLAY TIE GAME AT PALMETTO BEACH.

Once again the people of Pensacola had a chance yesterday to see a good game of football, but they did not accept it. There were less than thirty people on the stand when the referee blew his whistle to start the struggle for the honors of the foot ball field between the Pensacola Classical School and Brewton Collegiate Institute.

Before the contest began everything looked favorable for a victory for Brewton. At all points the feather of fortune pointed toward them. Four weeks ago today they defeated the Classics by the score of 10 to 5, in the meantime their team has been shifted around and materially strengthened. On the other hand, the team from the Classical School was thought to have weakened. Three men had been lost from the regular line-up and their places had to be filled by substitutes. Even at the beginning of the first half things looked bad. Brewton, after receiving the kickoff, on the very first play tore off fifteen yards by a forward pass. After this, however, Pensacola's prospects brightened up considerably. Brewton was held for downs and it was then that Pensacola showed that she, too, held some of the trumps. In three downs they made twenty-two yards through the visitors' line, but was a few minutes afterwards held for downs and the ball exchanged hands again. Time after time each team would make its distance only to be held on the next three tries for failing to do so. The half ended with the ball in the middle of the field in Pensacola's possession, first down and ten to go.

The second part of the battle was almost a repetition of the first, except that kicking was resorted to on the third down with distance to go instead of line plunges or end runs. In the latter part of this half Brewton came very near scoring. They were on the fifteen yard line and first down. The team failed, however, in making the required ten yards. Pensacola kicked out of danger. With this kick, the Brewtonites' hope of victory ended.

All in all, it was the best game played here this season. For the Classics, O'Bannon, Rabb and Lowell played the best ball. Capt. Vinson, Boyett, Brent and Roberts for the Classics showed up well. The line-up:

Linesmen: Brewton, McCaw; Pensacola, Lamar, Empire, Mr. White; referee, Mr. Blount; head linesman, Mr. Woodrow. Final score: P. C. S. 0, B. C. I. 0. Time of halves, 20:20.

LAMB IN JAIL CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

WELL KNOWN SEWING MACHINE SALESMAN WAS ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE PREFERRED BY HIS FIRM OF EMPLOYERS.

L. C. Lamb, a well known sewing machine salesman, was arrested late yesterday afternoon on a charge of embezzlement, a warrant having been taken out before County Judge Bellinger. Lamb was found by Deputy Sheriff Johnson at his boarding house and taken to the county jail without protest. Last night he remained in that place, having been unable to furnish a bond for his appearance for preliminary trial.

The specific charge against him is that he embezzled two sewing machines, or that he disposed of them illegally. It was stated that he had asked for a settlement with his employers, intimating that he was to leave the city. N. Berlin, a furniture dealer on East Intendencia street, was his employer and it was he who made the affidavit. When Lamb requested a settlement, it was alleged, the two machines said to have been embezzled were asked about. When no satisfaction came from him, the affidavit was decided upon, and his arrest soon followed.

L. C. Lamb is a man of pleasing appearance and had worked here for some time. It was said his home is at Montgomery.

BAD WHISKEY OR DRUGS, WHICH?

PECULIAR ACTIONS OF BARBER CAUSED APPREHENSION FOR HIM LAST NIGHT AFTER REACHING BOARDING HOUSE AND MAKING CONFESSION.

Peculiar actions early last night on the part of a barber named Cole after he reached his room on East Intendencia street caused a report of his condition to be sent to the police station. Officer Roach went to the house and made an investigation and in his rather incoherent talk, Cole was reported to have stated that he "wouldn't tell what he had taken and you can't find out, for I won't tell you." He had the consciousness to beg pardon of the proprietor of the house for his condition when he went into the place at 8 o'clock. Shortly afterward he lapsed into an unconscious state and complained of sharp pains in his stomach. His breath would appear to leave him, but he would gasp and begin breathing irregularly at intervals. Such action, coupled with statements made to the officer, caused the impression to spread that he had taken poison. A doctor was sent for, and by midnight Cole was himself again. Investigation in his case, the boarding house proprietor and the police found out that he had been out with a party of young men earlier in the evening and at some place had evidently drunk bad whiskey. Cole later acknowledged that he believed someone had tried to drug him. Ordinarily, he is not a drinking man and he told his host later in the night that if he had known his companions intended to indulge, he would not have accompanied them. For a long time he reclined on a lounge in the front room and appeared to suffer severe pain.

Soon after it became known generally that he was suffering, the report circulated broadly and rapidly that there had been another suicidal attempt.
