NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

The fair and the circus have slipped into history. The next station for this train is Thanksgiving Turkey.

We are glad to learn that the German emperor has a boss. He does so want to sail up in that Zeppelin ship—and his wife won't let him!

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

Senator Aldrich is 70 years old. Now, if senators had to quit the game at three score and 10, the way judges have to do in a majority of the states

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

When the Manufacturers' Association says, "Quit this tariff whining and just let well enough alone," its members simply mean "Let well enough for us alone." It doesn't take a hard head for human nature to see that.

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

"Pittsburg" says a current magazine, "is like a great big pie. There's an upper crust and there's a lower crust—filled with too many Thaxts and Hartjes and William Ellis Coreys, for one thing!"

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

Or digestion, which, we honestly believe, is the gentleman's real vital need at the moment.

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

There's grim humor, we warrant, in the composition of that Texas father and mother who named their twins Peary and Cook. Ye gods, but how little Cook and little Peary will scrap and "paste" one another when they get old enough to know they have such things as tongues and dukes!

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

A Connecticut man taught his dog to steal clothes and ultimately the canine's master waxed rich off the product of his neighbors' clotheslines. Nutmeg meanness, it seems, did not all disappear with the sale of the last of the wooden nutmegs, from which tradition says Connecticut men in pre-revolutionary days coined very comfortable compensation.

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

In an Ohio court an Ohio woman testifies that she gave an Ohio man $750, good and lawful money of the United States, on his promise to marry her, and that from the moment of the transaction to the present she has seen neither the man nor the money. It might be well for Mr. Taft to spend a little bit more time preaching common decency to the people of his own state and less time eating, drinking and talking all over the country. Why not?

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

In the city election at Key West there were seven candidates for the job of city sexton. Well, the town down there on the Florida reefs is trying her hardest to be a live one, and no wonder that at least seven good men and true were ambitious to tackle the job of burying the dead ones! Key West voted city improvement bonds by a very substantial majority, as the news reaches us, and unprogressive citizens are not wanted within her borders.

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

The Gainesville Sun takes a sensible view of the matter when it says: "Charge! that much of the good roads agitation nowadays is due to the automobile manufacturers, who are actuated by no higher motives than the selfish desire to sell automobiles. If the automobile makers are spending any considerable effort or money in good roads publicity it is a fine thing, no matter whether their motive be interest or philanthropy."

NOW FOR A DEMONSTRATION FARM.

Generally speaking, it is the result, not the motive, with which we have to be concerned when such essential public improvements as good roads are in the balance.

Wilson's Words Will Help South.

Uncle Jimmy Wilson, the nestor of the McKinley and Roosevelt and Taft cabinets, is not yet in mental condition to be Oserized, albeit he has passed beyond the Psalmist's allotment of three score years and ten.

The venerable head of the agricultural portfolio, back in Washington from the National Congress of Farmers in Raleigh, N. C., whose sessions he attended and before whose delegates he spoke, has this to say of the American farmer in general and, what is more absorbing to people in this neck of woods, of the Southern farmer in particular:

"The place for the farmer now is the South, for the soil in the South is friendly to nearly every product of the country."

This is a tribute richly deserved by the South, a part of the country which of late has demonstrated its agricultural supremacy more emphatically than at any time in the history of the nation.

Secretary Wilson does not speak of the South's fertility and productivity any more highly than the figures readily at his and every other citizen's command entitle him to speak. Praise Southern immigration; it ought, within the ensuing year, to be good for at least 100,000 new homeseekers in the rich-soiled and fertile states below the Potomac and the Ohio. And of this homeseeking influx Florida, most widely recognized among all the Southern states as the Northern and Western man's climatic if not commercial or agricultural ideal, is bound to reap her just and appropriate proportion.

"Go West, young man," said Horace Greeley, writing for his eminently hard-headed and practical New York Tribune a full half century ago, and he was right—for those days. "Go South, young man," says Secretary Wilson in 1909. "The farmer's door of opportunity is in the South," and he is right—for these days.

The Southern farmer is on the brink of a prosperity that seems bound to put him on a par with the affluent Northwestern wheat and cattle rancher, the man whose automobiles and pianos and modern libraries and sons and daughters at college are still furnishing inspiration for some writers for popular magazines.

Uncle Joe and the big black cigar vow that the Republican insurgents must go. The insurgents declare that the progress of the country, as well as the prestige and support of their party, demand that Uncle Joe and the big black cigar must go. There is prospect of a very pretty wrangle when our federal lawmakers get together next month in the City of Magnificent Distances. But why confine the war of extermination to Uncle Joe? It would not be the worst thing in the world to have Aldrich and Payne and Dalsell and Lodge included on the list of men that have outlived their public usefulness.

"Among the poor tenement house people in New York," says the woman hygienic expert sent out to hunt the causes and prevention of hook-worms, "I found more of this dreaded plague proportionately than in the factory districts of Alabama, where, they told me, I should run up against hook-worms in dumbfounding quantities." True enough, we can at this distance easily believe, if there is a disease that flesh is heir to which has not found singularly appropriate soil in the crowded, filthy East Side tenement district, we have yet to hear mention of it. It may yet appear to Mr. Rockefeller that charity begins at home and that, while decidedly the preponderance of intelligent southern people appreciate his magnificent gift of a million toward the eradication of hook-worms in their part of the country, the South will not have the smallest particle of objection if the oil king shall decide to employ a little more of his surplus coin—he admits at last that he can't spend his income—on a hook-worm fight in the city where he has such tremendous corporate interests. And then there is Ohio—the dispatches tell us that Miss Davis found more or less of this hook-worm business in Ohio, the state whose oil wells and natural gas veins first started Mr. Rockefeller's now enormous wealth a-rolling. It is inconceivable that he should decline to draw a generous check for the reduction of the disease among the Buckeyes. Ohio has stood handsomely by him.

There is no really reasonable reason why the Wrights—Wilbur and Orville—shouldn't see their way clear to try out their new aeroplanes in Florida this winter. They do not hesitate to say they never will do any more experimenting at Nag's Neck, the most Godforsaken spot on the coast of North Carolina.

And Sanford, too, she's waking up to the advantages of a location in Florida. She is shortly to start a commercial club to advertise the city's commercial and residential attractions. Sanford is on the right track. A commercial club with the right men in it and a judicious application of printers ink, with the salient facts about the city persuasively presented, will work wonders for the increase of Sanford's business and Sanford's population.

The president says he will not take his trip to Panama this winter. He is tired, well nigh exhausted, we take it, by that 13,000-mile jaunt through the West and South; and it is going to take a whole lot of strenuousness on the golf links during the balance of November to put the portly tenant of the White House in proper physical trim for that extra heavy session of Congress which he anticipates in December. We see where Florida fails to get a glimpse of Mr. Taft this year, despite the well-remembered fact that this state gave up a place on the Taft itinerary with the understanding that Mr. Taft should drop off and see us on his way down to the big ditch between sessions.

Why can't Columbus get the next convention of the Mississippi-Atlantic Waterway Association? The convention for this year will be held at Jacksonville in a few days, and if Columbus will undertake to get the next meeting it will be able to do so. The gathering of such men as attend these conventions and the expression of their opinions gives a clear insight into the waterways movement, and the city in which one is held always profits by it. Such meetings arouse interest among the people and put the subject of the association or life purposes of the association—Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer-Sun.

For the very simple and sufficient reason, brother, that Pensacola, which for good causes stood aside last year and permitted the convention to go elsewhere when there was an exceedingly strong sentiment in favor of gathering the delegates here for the waterway discussion of 1908, considers herself the logical candidate for the convention this year and proposes to land it. In 1910, perhaps—but that's a long way in the future!

Of the 2,000 cases examined with reference to previous occupations, 323 belonged to the servent class, 499 lived with parents or friends, 255 were dressmakers, tailors and seamstresses, and the remaining were engaged in miscellaneous occupations. Five hundred and twenty-three earned only $1 per week, 336 $2 a week, 230 $3, 127 $4, 68 $5, 27 $6, 7 $7, 5 $8, 2 $9 a week, and in 563 cases the question of earnings was not ascertained. The above document soon after it was printed suddenly became exhausted. This report was eagerly sought by the people, and the regularity with which documents demanded by the people suddenly became "out of print" is suspicious, to say the least. The above appalling figures show with frightful vividness how the present economic system is breaking up and polluting the homes of the toiling masses.

MAKES KIDNEY DISORDERS GO

A FEW DOSES END BACKACHE AND BLADDER MISERY AND MAKE THE KIDNEYS ACT FINE.

The most effective and harmless way to cure backache and regulate out-of-order kidneys, or end bladder trouble, is to take several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

You will distinctly feel that your kidneys and urinary organs are being cleaned, healed and vitalized, and all the miserable symptoms, such as backache, headache, nervousness, rheumatism, and starting pains, inflamed or swollen eyelids, irritability, sleeplessness, or suppressed, painful or frequent urination (especially at night) and other distress, leaving after taking the first few doses.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder, or rheumatism, begin taking this harmless preparation, as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible company, and, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Don't be miserable or worried another moment with a lame back or clogged, inactive kidneys or bladder misery. All this goes after you start taking Pape's Diuretic, and in a few days you feel and know that your kidneys, liver and urinary system are healthy, clean and normal, and all danger passed. Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world. ***

death. It has been shown that a large number of them are very young, and it can be scarcely necessary to repeat that any young woman in a state of poverty will be surrounded with temptations she can with difficulty resist. Much as this state of society may be deplored, its existence can not be denied.

The section dealing with the hidden springs of the evil is of extreme importance. The causes assigned by the women themselves are as follows:

Destitution, 525; inclination, 512; seduced and abandoned, 258; drink and a desire to drink, 181; ill treatment of parents, relations or husbands, 164; an easy life, 124; bad company, 84; persuaded by prostitutes, 71; too idle to work, 29; violated, 27; seduced on immigrant ships or in immigrant boarding houses, 24.

Dr. Sanger, in discussing the subject of inclination, advances considerable evidence to show that if a possible cause of the fall, it was but the result of other and controlling influences.

Of the 2,000 cases examined with reference to previous occupations, 323 belonged to the servent class, 499 lived with parents or friends, 255 were dressmakers, tailors and seamstresses, and the remaining were engaged in miscellaneous occupations.

LOWRY WANTS TO BE TALLAHASSEE'S MAYOR. Special to the Journal.

Tallahassee, Nov. 15.—Hon. Frank S. Wintrop having declined to accept a nomination for a second term as mayor of Tallahassee, Mr. D. M. Lowry has appeared as a candidate for that office. It is thought Mr. Lowry, who is a young Guardean, of integrity and ability and counts his friends by scores, will have no opposition.

SILVER TEA FOR CHOIR BENEFIT IS A SUCCESS. Special to the Journal.

Tallahassee, Nov. 15.—The silver tea Friday afternoon by St. Agnes guild for the benefit of St. John's choir was a delightful social success.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bethel was put at the disposal of the guild. The handsome parlors were filled with a large assemblage of ladies and gentlemen, who enjoyed together the delicious refreshments served and the exquisitely rendered musical program arranged, and contributed generously to the cause for which the tea was given. The program was as follows:

Piano Solo, Miss Alice Gwynn. Reading, Evelyn Whitfield. Violin Solo, Miss Lucile Saxo. Reading, Elizabeth Parkhill. Vocal Solo, Mrs. Park Trammell. Reading, Mary Frank Knott.

Piano Trio, Misses Elizabeth Tatam, Jessie Edmonds and Bessie Damon. Vocal Solo, Mr. William Van Brunt. Trio, cornet, flute and piano, Messrs. Albert and R. A. Shine and Miss Damon.

Reading, Gertrude Levy. Piano Solo, Mr. Peck Greene. Vocal Solo, Mrs. Peck Greene. Dr. Kings, A. H. Williams, T. S. Trantham and John Costa.

Vocal Solo, with violin obligato by Miss Saxo, Mrs. Fred T. Myers. Reading, Master Hugh Archer Palm. JEFFERSON'S FIRST FAIR A SUCCESS. Special to the Journal.

Wautersburg, Nov. 15.—Jefferson county's first fair was held in Monticello on Nov. 11 and 12. The exhibits were from all over the county.

Consists of stock, fruits, nuts, vegetables, flowers and agricultural implements and products. The last day, the baby show, attracted much attention and some beautiful children were on exhibition. The best schools of the county were each represented. A good many prizes in cash were awarded. Those who spent time and money to get this movement on foot were Abe Simon & Bro., H. A. Barrows, Drs. Williams, McEckern and Glover, Hon. T. M. Rulston and W. W. and T. Carroll. A large crowd gathered both days and every one sung the praises of the first effort and went home determined to make each succeeding year more of a success.

Personal Mention. Rev. J. G. Freeman, of Kentucky, is in our midst, looking for a location.

Cane grinding, digging sweet potatoes, hunting and fishing is the order of the day. Dr. Carter is repairing his lovely old Piano on Cat Hill.

J. P. Strickland is the cotton buyer for all the long staple brought here this year. W. L. Wooten is beggar-wheed buyer, as usual.

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Woodward are spending this week in Tallahassee. D. L. Munroe is furnishing the Leontion market weekly with several beaves, pork, butter and vegetables. He is one of our model farmers.

DANDRUFF DON'T WASH OUT. The Germ That Causes it Has to Be Destroyed, to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking that by scrubbing of the scurf she will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week, at the age of 40 years, she has spent 260 days of 12 hours each, or two-thirds of a year of her life, in that vain hope; vain because you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is Newbro's "Hericide"—also a delightful hair dressing, and thorough anti-septic against all contagion from use of other's hair brushes. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Hericide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WHAT SHALL BE DONE ABOUT THE SOCIAL EVIL?

Editor Pensacola Journal. An investigation of prostitution was made in the city of New York. Below you will find an extract taken from senate document No. 644, 60th congress, second session. This document shows the outcome of an investigation made by a committee appointed by President Roosevelt to ascertain the causes which led young girls to become inmates of houses of ill-fame.

Of the 2,000 persons investigated, 499 were married, 71 of whom still lived with their husbands, 193 left their husbands on account of ill-usage; 63 were deserted by their husbands; 46 were deserted by husbands to live with other women; others left their homes on account of the outcome of a specific cause was assigned. There were also 294 widows in the general list."

The author believes the principal conclusion to be drawn from the table which he presents is that the majority of this class of widows are driven to a course of vice from the destitution ensuing on the husband's

DEEP-SEATED COUGH CURED IN 5 HOURS. New Home-Made Syrup. (Cut this out.) From Boston Press.

Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphia have always been used in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula and mix it at home always. Keep it on hand: One-half ounce, fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence of cod liver oil, three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half-hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and toned up. Give children less according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small.
