

SUDDEN DISAPPEARANCE OF DR. FREDERICK A. COOK

Whereabouts of the Explorer Are Unknown to But Two Persons.

THESE ARE HIS WIFE AND CHAS. WADE, AN INSURANCE MAN—NOT EVEN BRADLEY, WHO FINANCED COOK'S POLAR EXPEDITION, KNOWS WHERE HE IS—CLAIMED THAT HE IS ON THE VERGE OF NERVOUS BREAKDOWN AND IS SEARCHING FOR REST.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27.—Dr. Fred. A. Cook dropped completely out of sight today. Not even John R. Bradley, who financed Cook's polar expedition, knows where he is tonight. Confiding his secret in one man and, perhaps, his wife, he mysteriously disappeared. Charles Wade, an insurance man of this city, only knows his whereabouts. He refused to talk. It is feared Cook's health is bad, but this some of his friends deny.

Others say he is on the verge of a nervous breakdown. It was first reported he had gone to Copenhagen on the Caronia, and later that he went to Havana on the steamship Havana. Wireless messages from both vessels say he is not on either. He is known to have been advised to take a long rest, and it is possible he has gone to a secluded place for this reason. Wade, admitting he knows where Cook is, refuses to disclose the reason for his sudden disappearance other than to say: "In due time he will give an account of himself, and until then I hope he gets the rest he deserves."

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT RENDERED REGARDING OWNERSHIP OF BED OF LAKE JACKSON AND LAKE MICCOUSUKIE.

Special to the Journal. Tallahassee, Nov. 27.—The decision of the supreme court, rendered last week upon the question of the ownership of the lake bed of Lake Jackson and Lake Miccosukie, is one of importance in Florida. The litigation arose out of a contention on the part of the trustees of the I. I. Fund of the state of Florida that said lands belonged to the fund as swamp and overflowed lands, while the property owners on the lakes claimed they were not navigable and that they owned to the middle of the lake. The trustees, about the time the litigation arose, were considering the matter of selling some of the lands, it being their opinion that they had a right to do so. This contemplated sale caused certain property owners to go into the circuit court and ask for an injunction against the sale and for other relief. The circuit court granted the injunction and decreed that the property owner owned to the middle of the lake, upon the idea that the lakes were not navigable, the attorney for the owners and also the attorney at that time for the I. I. Trustees having agreed that Lake Jackson was non-navigable.

APPEALED HIGHER. In 1908 the trustees appealed to the supreme court, and here the decision of the court was that the facts as set out showed that the two lakes were navigable, although in the Lake Jackson case the attorney for the trustees as well as the attorney against them

Sanborn, of the United States circuit court of the eastern district of Missouri, dissolving the Standard Oil company of New Jersey for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, will be upheld by the United States supreme court, for the decision is along the lines of that rendered in the case of the Northern Securities company. Here are the names of the seven multi-millionaires mentioned in the decision: John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, Henry H. Rodgers (deceased), John D. Archbold, Oliver H. PETITION FOR LABOR LEADERS IS FILED IN U. S. SUPREME COURT

Want Highest Tribunal of Nation to Pass on Appeal for Contempt.

GOMPERS, MITCHELL AND MORRISON FILE THEIR APPLICATION FOR WRIT OF CERTIORARI AND IN IT STATE THAT THE QUESTIONS INVOLVED ARE OF GREAT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE, AFFECTING THE CONDUCT OF MANY MILLIONS OF PEOPLE.

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 27.—On behalf of Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the labor leaders, a petition was filed in the supreme court of the United States today for certiorari requiring the court of appeals of the District of Columbia to certify to the nation's highest tribunal for its revision and determination of the appeal taken by them in the famous Bucks Stove and Range case. In the petition, it is stated that "the questions involved in this case are of great public importance, affecting the views and conduct of many millions of people, including two million who are by representation made defendants in the principal action."

"The constitutional right of these people" of saying by word of mouth or printed publication to each other or to others that they do not propose to deal with the plaintiff or purchase its products is advanced and the argument is made that several courts have sustained this contention. Though the District court of appeals denied that they acted within their constitutional rights through affirmation of the conviction of the three leaders for contempt corrally to the original suit, it is urged that a difference of opinion on that point exists in the court of appeals, one member of which dissented from the judgment of the majority of the tribunal.

WHAT BLOUNT AND L'ENGLE HAD TO SAY WHEN THEY MET

SPICY CONVERSATION IN THE CORRIDOR OF THE LEON HOTEL BETWEEN THE TWO SENATORIAL CANDIDATES RECENTLY

Special to the Journal. Tallahassee, Nov. 27.—Said Claude L'Engle to W. A. Blount: "I do not propose to descend into personalities nor to vituperation in my campaign. A man's public record is public property, and when he appears before the public as a candidate for office, if there are spots upon that record it is his opponent's duty not to conceal but rather to expose them to public view. For instance, I shall use against you your connection with the L. & N. railroad."

Mr. Blount's composure was undisturbed. "Precisely," he returned pleasantly, "I had anticipated that that would be the line upon which you would endeavor to mislead the public!" "Nor shall I," continued Mr. Blount, "descend into vituperation. I have never been a quarrelor. My plan of action has always been to wait quietly until I am pushed to the wall and then I hit—and hit hard."

By Associated Press. Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 27.—That a third person was shot in the battle between the Christian and Daniels families near Devon, Mingo county, Thursday, became known when a physician was summoned to attend Jim Daniels at the home of his brother. His wound may result fatally. In the event of his death, three members of the Daniels family will have been wiped out as the result of this latest feud battle. Mrs. Chas. Daniels and her 16-year-old daughter are the other two shot to death. Kentucky officers have refrained from approaching the Daniels home since the fight of two days ago, knowing that it means more bloodshed.

The Daniels married into the Christian family, sons and daughters of Confederate veterans. They are the descendants of the pioneer settlers of Mingo county. Upon the other side is aligned close kin of the Hatfields, likewise fearless people.

MUCH WORK DONE DURING THE PAST WEEK, AND NONE IDLE EXCEPTING THOSE WHO DID NOT DESIRE EMPLOYMENT—LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE PAID OUT FOR WHARF WORK ALONE UPWARDS OF $10,000—PROSPECTS ARE BUSY TIMES WILL CONTINUE FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

The past week has been an exceptionally good one with all the pay rolls probably larger than any in the history of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. All stores did a big business and prosperity was everywhere in evidence. It is estimated that $10,000 was paid out by the exporting department of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and the crowd was so large around the pay office and the piles of money were so prominently displayed that it was thought advisable to have one or two officers in the neighborhood. Accordingly several uniformed and plain clothes men mingled with the crowd during the pay hour. Nothing of a disorderly character occurred, and the last dollar was paid out without the least disturbance.

MUCH DOCK WORK. In exporting circles, it was stated that the pay roll of the company last evening was about as large as has ever been disbursed on the docks. Night and day work has been carried (Continued on Page Six.)
