"The Tiger's Den."
The third week of the Rentfrow Summer Stock Company closed last night with a spirited performance of "The Boy Detective," that was received with enthusiasm. The moving pictures and other specialties were also received with favor.

The company is growing in popularity, and giving a well varied list of plays, all of which have been good and some worthy of comparison with the best. Plenty of good moral amusement is an attraction to any city and at the nominal price charged the theatre should be filled at every performance and no doubt will be; in fact the audiences have been large at any time when the weather has been at all favorable. The electric fans have been turned on, ice water is distributed free and freely, and the management will be only too pleased to receive any suggestions for the entertainment, or comfort of their patrons, and nearly every day of the week some special inducement will be offered.

"The Tiger's Den" is the attraction for the first two night of the week. It is a play on popular lines. Unconventional, the plot is strong and the comedy really laughable. Hairbreadth escapes, the great "Counterfeiter's scene," a detective with as many disguises as Vidocq or Sherlock Holmes, are a few of the features.

A good line of specialties will be offered as well as the usual high grade motion pictures, and illustrated songs. The feature motion picture for Monday and Tuesday evenings will be "The Great Train Robbery." Ladies will be admitted free Monday evening and every night during the week if seats are purchased at Coe's Book Store before six p. m. Seats may be secured by mail or phone.

REGISTRATION WILL CLOSE
TUESDAY

Only Two Days Left in Which Young Men Can Qualify to Vote.

The city registration books are to close Tuesday afternoon, and unless those who have become of age since the county registration books closed, and those who have become citizens since that time register they will not be qualified to vote in the general election next month.

This year the city has opened its own registration books, and Captain L. J. Anderson is in charge. Those who voted in the primary or who were qualified to vote are not compelled to register again, as their names will be taken from the registration books of the county, but the reason in opening the city books was to give those becoming of age and others moving here during 1906 and 1907 an opportunity to qualify and vote in the election of June 4.

During the past two or three days the number to register showed a considerable increase, and it is expected that to-morrow and Tuesday the registration officer will be kept busy.

T. A. JENNINGS'S LETTER OF REGRET
Which Was Read Friday At The Ferry Pass Picnic And Speaking.
The following is the letter of Hon. T. A. Jennings, which was read Friday at the Ferry Pass picnic and speaking, expressing his regret at being unable to be present on the occasion:
"Mr. Geo. W. Harper, chairman committee on Arrangements.
"My Dear Sir:—I find that I will be unable to attend the annual picnic given under the auspices of the Knights of Labor and farmers on May 10th and I therefore decline with regrets the invitation to make an address on that occasion.
"I assure you that it would afford me great pleasure to meet again the good people of the Ferry Pass neighborhood, participate in their festivities and enjoy their hospitalities. Social gatherings of this kind do much good toward engendering better feelings. In this fast age unfortunately many of us take but little time to talk to one another except on business matters. It often happens that we get the wrong impression of our fellow man when we see him hurrying on in his determined effort to increase the weight of his pocketbook. We discover later when, by chance perhaps, we come to know him better, that he is really a pretty good fellow. We find that when we can place our feet together under the table and break bread with the other man that he is very much like ourself and we learn to like him.
"It has been my pleasure to serve as a member of a committee to mark out a public road to this point. I hope that it will soon be built. I trust also that another public road, an air line to Pensacola will soon be constructed. I hear, and with a great deal of pleasure too, that the new railroad will go near Ferry Pass and I indulge in the fond hope that it will not be long before we hear the conductor at the new union depot in Pensacola call out 'All aboard for Ferry Pass, Andalusia and Atlanta.' I earnestly trust that Escambia county and Santa Rosa county, soon after the two public roads to Ferry Pass are completed, will join in the building of a first class steel bridge across the river at or near Ferry Pass, thereby enabling the citizens of the two counties to visit each other and interchange traffic without the great hindrances now in their way. If Santa Rosa county will not join in this undertaking, it is greatly to be regretted. In fact almost a public necessity, then Escambia county should rise in her might and remove at once the provable—in fact undisputed—charge that she is cut off from all of her sister counties in Florida by impassable streams, no kind of foot bridge and not even a free ferry being operated anywhere on the Escambia river in this state. This is not as it should be and I have faith in our progressive and honorable county commissioners and hope that they will not let this condition exist much longer.
"This being a picnic and barbecue given by the Knights of Labor and Farmers I will refer briefly to each:
"To the laborers I will say that I believe in good wages for good work. This should be an American principle. Good wages is just as important to the man who keeps a store, runs a farm or conducts any other legitimate business as it is to the laboring man who works for wages. The prosperity of the country depends upon the purchasing power of the masses. When people receive large wages and salary they spend that much more at the store, these storekeepers buy more goods from the manufacturers, the manufacturers in turn consume and demand more material and which must be furnished from the mines, forests and farms. Thus the whole country becomes more prosperous and the general standard of living becomes higher. Our desire should be to raise wages to that high standard which will enable the laborer of yesterday to work for himself as his own master to-day and employ others to labor for him tomorrow. There should be no permanent class of hired white laborers among us in this great American government with all its liberties and freedom. All of us are equals, each to the other, and each dependent upon the other. Therefore let us advance together. Let improvements in condition extend to all classes at the same time. The effort of some to shift their share of the burden of labor on the shoulders of others without the proper remuneration is one of the great curses of our country.
"As for the farmer, it is a fact that he is the one upon which all the rest of the factors of government and civilization find their foundation. Unquestionably he carries more than his share of the burdens because of his peculiar position which he occupies in society, in government, and in commerce. Since the foundation of our government, more than a century and a quarter ago, he has patiently borne his burdens and never demanded any special privileges. His opinions have scarcely ever been solicited, his interests most seldom questioned and his counsel probably never asked when the policy of the government is being determined. The farmers seem to be unmindful of the great power they possess when used with a foresight for their own and their country's good. Self protection for the farmer, like any other vocation, would not result in injury to the country, but on the contrary it would be for the general good. When the farmers grow to the point of fully appreciating their great strength and make the proper use of their power they can remove the barriers that
