JACK DAVIS FOUND DEAD

WAS LAST SEEN NEAR HIS HOME RIDING—SEARCH REVEALED HIS BODY NEAR A LOG—NO VIOLENCE IS SUSPECTED.

Special to The Journal.

Felco, Ala., Oct. 17.—Jack Davis, who had been living in this settlement for nearly 60 years, was found dead yesterday evening, just before sun down, in an oak thicket back of Cade Smith's field.

He was seen riding around the field about 12 o'clock on a mule, and later Mr. Smith saw the mule feeding near the fence with the saddle on, but did not go at that time to investigate. He did go just before sun down, however, to see what had gone with the mule, and in his search came upon Mr. Davis dead, where he apparently had sat down on a small log and died, as though he had slid off the log backward. He still held his riding switch in his hand. His feet were on one side of the log and the body on the other.

There were no marks about the body to indicate violence, except the under lip was bruised slightly, the tip of his tongue as though bitten by his own teeth, and a little bloody serum running from one eye.

The supposition is that his mule fell with him or threw him off and he had strength enough to get to the small log before he died.

CONCLUDES HIS TOUR OF SOUTH

Delivered a Number of Addresses in Virginia and North Carolina.

By Associated Press.

Richmond, Oct. 17.—Judge Taft today finished his campaign in the south. As he did in Kentucky and Tennessee on Thursday and Friday, so today Judge Taft urged the application of business principles in politics through North Carolina and Virginia.

As yesterday and day before, there was no variance in the cordiality of the South in receiving its first visit from a Republican presidential candidate. An hour and a half was spent in Greensboro and two meetings held. Here Taft made again the points he yesterday brought out at Chattanooga: "If the South wants political influence she has got to exercise intelligence in the discharge of her political duty." He followed this declaration by indicating the kind of intelligence he meant: "Ask yourselves where would be your cotton manufactures, your tobacco industry, and your furniture factories if the republican policy of protection were departed from."

LADY SAVED BY FAITHFUL DOG

ANIMAL SEIZED NEGRO WHO ATTACKED MRS. JNO. WADE AND PREVENTED HIM FROM CARRYING OUT HIS DESIGNS.

By Associated Press.

Holdenville, Okla., Oct. 17.—Mrs. John Wade, wife of a farmer living near here, was saved from an unidentified negro late yesterday by a dog which interferred when she was attacked while she was returning with her five year old child from the cotton field where she had left her husband. The negro seized the woman and struck her. She grappled with him and in the ensuing struggle a large dog, a pet of the household, attacked the negro, biting his severely and enabling the woman to escape. The negro is being sought by a posse which threatens to lynch him.

CAPT. HAINS AND BROTHER ARE INDICTED

Queens County Grand Jury Holds Both Responsible For the Death of William E. Annis.

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 17.—Indictments charging Captain Peter Cooper Hains, Jr., and T. Jenkins Hains with murder in the first degree were handed up by the Queens county grand jury at Flushing Long Island today. The indictments are based upon the killing of William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht club in August last.

Although T. Jenkins Hains had been held as an accessory to the murder, the indictments charge him as well as his brother with being a principal. Witnesses have testified that T. Jenkins Hains, by the display of a revolver, prevented the spectators from interferring while Captain P. C. Hains, Jr., fired several bullets into the body of his victim. It has not been charged that T. Jenkins Hains fired any of the shots which killed Annis.

The district attorney notified the court that the Hains brothers to plead next Tuesday and would ask that their trial be set for November 3.

HUNDREDS TURNED AWAY AT OMAHA

most an hour before the time at which W. J. Bryan was advertised to speak, and for hours afterwards hundreds came and went, unable to gain admission to the hall. Mr. Bryan took up the planks of the Democratic platform which demand the guarantee of bank deposits. He said that of the many policies proposed in the Democratic platform, this is the simplest and most easily understood.

Mr. Bryan told of the old German farmer who, he declared, had made an argument the best he had heard. He said: "'When I go to a banker for a loan, he tells me to get my farmer friends to go my security. When he asks for my deposits, let him get his banker friends to go his security.'"

ARRANGING FOR ROOSEVELT'S VISIT

By Associated Press.

Cairo, Egypt, Oct. 17.—Preliminary arrangements are already being made here for the visit of President Roosevelt to Khartoum in 1909 and he is being talked of today as "The Great Celebrity" who is coming to Egypt in that year. It appears from the arrangements that are being completed that the president will enter Africa by way of Mombassa and travel toward the Great Lakes by the British railroad. He will then take a caravan cross the wilderness to Khartoum from which point he will make his way down the Nile. He may choose, however, to enter by some other way and make his visit via Mombassa. The Roosevelt expedition is spoken of here as scientific and not wholly for hunting purposes.
