PENSACOLA, FLORIDA, WEDNESDAY MORNING SEPTEMBER 1, 1909.

IT'S PENSACOLA YOU'RE THINKING ABOUT; NOT YOURSELF.

Curtiss is certainly "IT."

An earthquake in Panama! O, you ditch!

DESTROY YOUR SELFISHNESS AND YOU BECOME A CITY BUILDER.

Tom Watson is bound to "cut up" one way or another as shown by his free knife given away to Jeffersonian subscribers.

The Bartow Courier-Informant complains that the town clock has struck out—but, isn't this baseball fever catching?

With crops worth eight billion dollars why should Americans fear what even the G. O. P. and the steel trust can do unto them?

Come, don't let some other city get ahead of Pensacola for that aeroplane meet next winter. In the language of Thomas a Kempis, Wake up and get a move on.

Farming in the South has resolved itself into the simple question: Will you farm staple crops to help the banks or food crops to satisfy you stomach?

It is enough to stop one's heart action to read the fierce circulation fight now on between the Metropolis and Times-Union of Jacksonville. 'Od's blood! it's fearsome.

The St. Augustine Meteor observes that "the backbone of summer is broken," a declaration we have often heard before and yet old Summer has shown himself the best wrestler and has resisted all efforts to get him "shoulders down." He'll get his Fall all the same before long.

Congressman Clark has an invitation of the Business Men's League of St. Louis and the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway Asociation to sail down the Mississippi with President Taft, and The Journal sincerely hopes he will find his company congenial. Should Joe Cannon go along there might be a chance to talk over further committee appointments.

The New Smyrna Breeze says that "Claude L'Engle's candidacy is looked upon as a joke in that part of the state." It is a joke; Claude's a joke; but even "a joke can sometimes be carried too far."—Palatka News.

Not likely, if an ox cart is to be substituted for the automobile as announced by several of the state papers.

There are men in Bradentown who are poor financially, but rich in patriotism for the town. Such a man is worth a half dozen of the large property owning class who refuse to help public enterprise, unless they can see a dollar in it for themselves.—Bradentown Journal.

And this is where Brother Joseph Humphries says a mighty wise thing. No purely selfish man can be anything but a hindrance to his city's progress, because he will sacrifice its best interests every time in order to put more dollars in his own treasury.

One notes with great joy the recent tremendous display of activity in the model school garden jungle on Palafox street aimed toward the elimination of the weed forest which towers above the pretty gardens planted by Pensacola school children under the supervision of some of our most progressive educators—at least we take it on faith that the gardens are still there, for they can no longer be seen, with the exception of the cotton patch. The activity to which we refer consists in two men with hoes to attack and cut down the mammoth growth, and it is safe to predict the completion of the work by next Christmas provided the usual fall and winter frosts make their appearance on angular schedule.

"Brave, Free, Faithful:" The Very Men We Need.

Tommyrot poured into one's ear too continuously becomes noissome and is apt to injure the tympanum. The proposition for a state board of trade which The Journal made was a simple, honest thing without any strings attached—a true endeavor to aid Florida, because Florida requires organized effort to gain the place it deserves in the Union.

Toward the attainment of such an organization the press should work shoulder to shoulder, if for no higher purpose than that the newspapers will be the beneficiary, as well as others, of work which will improve every interest throughout the length and breadth of the peninsula.

This paper and that has wise remarks to make upon the defunct creation of three years ago. One will advise prudence about the method to be adopted in resuscitating a board of trade, presumably fearing that the same old "dead ones" will get control. Another will advise time, care, judgment (we are rather inclined to believe that the Times-Union may be placed in that category) when the only thing really necessary is—to get to work, like men, and form the board of trade.

The Miami Metropolis somewhat begs the question when it refuses to be "crushed," like Brother Edgar, of the Jacksonville paper, after we showed up the former's falsity in criticizing The Journal as a "napper," yet the following shows an understanding of the question:

The Pensacola Journal makes the point that the state needs a live board of trade and not a dead one. The Orlando Reporter-Star makes the point that if the effort at organizing a state board of trade died for lack of life that such body never existed.

There you have it. We are dead sure that the state board of trade is dead. Now it is time to begin the movement to organize the kind of body that will meet the approval of the state press. There was something the matter with the other movement at the beginning. It may have been an effort to get turpentine laborers cheaper under the guise of assisting immigration, or something of the kind, or to hammer down the price of convict hire.

At any rate, the newspapers, which are expected always to help everything, didn't warm up to it much, though the big stick extorted a paragraph or two of patriotic tommyrot.

If we are to have a state board of trade let it be manned by men who are brave and free and faithful, and there is a broad and fertile field for it to work.

The Metropolis sounds the proper chord. The men who should now be members of a state board of trade should be "brave, free and faithful"—they are the only kind of men who will do anything for Florida; for they will work for her and not for themselves.

Baseball Gone Mad In South Florida.

Pensacola has had its own share of the baseball craze and is loath to give place to any other city in the earnestness of its fans and rooters. It admires the loyalty of enthusiasts to the city's team and applauds with them its worthy achievements. They are certainly interested enough and energetic enough in the display of their enthusiasm, but they cannot hold a candle to the baseballists of Orange county.

There is deep jealousy between the two cities of that county, Orlando and Sanford, as to the honesty of the umpires more or less connected with their respective teams and in a recent series of games for a "repewtered" silver cup animosity ran so high that one of the umpires was laid low.

These final games were scheduled to be played in Orlando, and the following telegrams passed between the two cities will give one an idea of "baseball gone mad" as it has in that part of the state:

Sanford, Fla., Aug. 26, '09.

H. A. Grant, Sec'ty-treas'r. Orlando B. B. Club, Orlando, Fla.: Your letter do you mean you will not play if King umpires? Answer.

H. R. STEVENS.

Orlando, Fla., Aug. 26, '09.

H. R. Stevens, Manager B. B. Club, Sanford, Fla.: My letter plain. Dr. King will not officiate on our grounds.

H. A. GRANT, Secy.

Sanford, Fla., Aug. 26, '09.

H. A. Grant, Mgr. B. B. Club, Orlando, Fla.: Sorry you refuse to play play us, as we expected to be there today and tomorrow.

H. R. STEVENS, Mgr.

Orlando, Fla., Aug. 26, '09.

H. R. Stevens, Mgr. B. B. Club, Sanford, Fla.: We do not refuse to play. Will call game at four

H. A. GRANT, Secy.

Sanford, Fla., Aug. 26, '09.

H. A. Grant, Secy-treasurer. B. B. Club, Orlando, Fla.: We stand ready to play you with King as one of the umpires. Answer.

H. R. STEVENS, Mgr.

Orlando, Fla., Aug. 26, '09.

H. R. Stevens, Mgr. B. B. Club, Sanford, Fla.: Dr. King cannot umpire on our grounds.

H. A. GRANT, Secy.

Now is it not about time to call a third Hague conference and attempt to have an international board of arbitrators appointed to settle these dangerous internal dissensions in America?

EVERY DRAM OF DISPLAYED ALTRUISM IS WORTH ONE POUND OF AVARICE.

The Florida East Coast Railroad has begun an active campaign for immigration to Florida. Mr. Louis Larsen will be sent to the northwest where it is hoped he will interest many persons in Florida lands. Other Florida railroads should follow the lead of the East Coast.—Apalachicola Times.

And is the L. & N. carrying on a similar campaign or has it determined that its great terminal point on the Gulf of Mexico shall continue in obscurity—a way station between the great thriving cities of Flomaton and River Junction? We pause for a reply.

It would be a good plan for some of the state papers which publish with apparent delight those charges that Florida land owners are attempting to defraud intending settlers by advertising worthless soil as good farming land, to be more specific and give the names of those engaged in the nefarious practice and instances of their rascality in order that they may be prosecuted as they deserve. Failing in this the crusade will accomplish no purpose save to discredit the state whose honor and whose advancement in prosperity ought to be the prevailing influence in the minds of all honestly interested in Florida.

ARE YOU, AS AN INDIVIDUAL, OF MORE WORTH THAN YOUR CITY?

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural loosening of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures.

NOTICE is hereby given to property owners and residents having garbage to be removed by the city, that unless the garbage is removed promptly daily, to notify the street superintendent at telephone No. 1072, giving him the location of the premises and a wagon will be sent immediately to remove the garbage.

ALABAMA R. R. COMMISSION MAKES MORE NEW RULINGS

By Associated Press.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 31.—According to railroad commission orders issued today to the Southern Railway, lines may be forced to show on every express bill rate, weight, total charge and class of freight. At the same time the Western of Alabama is called upon to show why it should not have passenger service to Lanette, Ala., instead of taking passengers to West Point, Ga. It is charged that this is done to give the road the right to charge the interstate rate of 3 cents a mile, whereas if stopped at Lanette, the Alabama rate of two and a half would apply. A demand is also made upon the Louisville and Nashville to sell joint tickets over the Southern via Calera to Anniston and Oxford, even though these places are on the lines of the Louisville and Nashville. The two questions involved in the cases of the Western and the Louisville and Nashville are new ones for the state.

AN OLD IDEA.

Shown to Be Absolutely False by Modern Science.

People used to thing that baldness was one of those things which are handed down from generation to generation, from father to son—just like a family heirloom.

Science has shown the falseness of this belief by proving that baldness itself is not a constitutional disease, but the result of a germ invasion of which only Herpicide can effectually rid the scalp.

Washington only cleans the scalp of Dandruff, it doesn't kill the germs.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Newbro's Herpicide will do this in every case. It is also a delightful dressing.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

One dollar bottles guaranteed.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE ESCAMBIA BADLY NEEDED

North Chumuckla, Aug. 3.

Editor Pensacola Journal:

Much has been said and written in the past few years about good roads and the construction of a steel bridge over the Escambia river, at some central and convenient point, easily accessible to the residents of both Santa Rosa and Escambia counties, but nothing has been accomplished for this section of our county as yet.

This bridge is a necessity, not only to the citizens in the immediate and adjoining sections of Santa Rosa and Escambia counties, but of genuine utility to this entire section, and in addition to all this, the building of the bridge would commend the progressive spirit of our people which will invite intelligent citizenship.

It is about forty miles by land from the steel bridge over the river at Pollard, Ala., to the base line, and about 120 miles by water. In this great distance there is not a bridge and only three ferries that you can cross the river on, and again you have to be there at certain hours, otherwise you cannot cross. You have but to think for a moment to realize the great importance of a bridge across the river, and when the importance of a thing is so apparent it is the duty of the county officials who have and control our county affairs to meet with the board of county commissioners of Escambia county and discuss and to carefully consider the constructions of this bridge. The commissioners of Escambia county are ready and have been waiting for the past few years for the proposition, and if the commissioners of Santa oRsa county will meet with them and discuss the matter, much good will come of it, and their efforts along this line wil soon bear fruit.

We all know that any public improvements help everybody. There is no section of Santa Rosa county that has been so neglected by the county commissioners in the matter of good roads and bridges as the southwestern portion of commissioner's district No. 3.

There is nothing that can be of more direct benefit to the producers of this entire section than a steel bridge across the Escambia river, which could be built within a limit of cost that could be borne without a very great burden on either Santa Rosa or Escambia counties.

We have five commissioners in our county, two of whom are in favor of the bridge and three oppose it. That is just the way the matter stands.

All persons familiar with this section of country know that this bridge is a necessity and would be a substantial improvement of great importance, eminently practical and would build up the country and enhance the value of property.

We realize the fact that the success, the upbuilding and the development of our county depend in a large measure on the way in which our county commissioners perform their duty.

With their duty well performed and with the help of all good citizens who are interested and who have the welfare, the upbuilding and development of our county and the best interest of the people at heart, will accomplish much good which will be of direct and lasting good to us and to posterity.

Would like to have the views and opinions of others on the bridge proposition.

FATALLY WOUNDED IN RESCUING LITTLE DAUGHTER

By Associated Press.

Nyack, Montana, Aug. 31.—James Doolittle, a homesteader near here, was probably fatally wounded in rescuing his four year old daughter from a grizzly bear which had picked her up and taken her some 200 yards away. Doolittle, hearing the child's screams, gave chase on horseback. The horse threw Doolittle, breaking his leg, when the grizzly turned and clawed him in a frightful manner, almost disemboweling him and chewing both legs and arms to a pulp. Aside from a few scratches the baby was uninjured.

BALL PLAYER GIVEN A PUBLIC HORSE WHIPPING.

By Associated Press.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 31.—Claiming that Connie Lewis, third baseman on the Columbia baseball team in the South Atlantic league, had insulted relatives, Louis Brooks, former member of the legislature and an attorney, and his brother-in-law, Paul Heyman, today gave the ball player a horsewhipping on one of the principal streets here. The women asserted that Lewis followed them on the street yesterday and accosted Mrs. Heyman. This afternoon at a special session of the recorder's court Lewis was fined $50.

INSOMNIA PRODUCING ROOSTER MUST GO

By Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The recent municipal edict which may spell the banishment of insomnia-producing roosters within Washington's city limits has aroused the inventive genius of a man who has devised a rooster muzzle. His idea is to kill the crow, but save the rooster. This advocate of a noiseless chanticleer believes that if the authorities will sanction the use of the device, which consists of a simple collar of leather with a small cotton pad, fastened around the rooster's neck, sufficiently tight to throttle the vocal organs, both the community rooster can live in peace and quiet.

The corporation counsel has been asked to determine the unique point whether to muzzle roosters is legal.
