TERSELY TOLD.

A bill poster entered a certain cafe here yesterday afternoon where Pensacolians congregate in the afternoon for coffee, and hung two bills of coming attractions one on each window of the restaurant.

On the north side, and the first bill sheet to be hung, appeared the announcement of McIntyre & Heath in the "Ham Tree". On the west window and the second sheet to be hung appeared a notice of the fair Sisseretta Jones, otherwise known as Black Patti, the creme de la creme of negro talent on the stage in America today.

Both are "negro" shows. That is, McIntyre & Heath, mimic the negro, and Sisseretta Jones and her band of black comedians mimic the whites. Even do the latter carry their mimicry to the point of using rouge and white talcum powder in their make-up.

The two shows follow each other at the local opera house by one night, Sisseretta Jones and her "Amalgamated Afro-American amusement army", playing on the 27th, and McIntyre and Heath, the original black face minstrels on the 28th.

FIREWORKS AND COSTUMES

THE KING DODO PARADERS ARE NOW READY FOR MARCH 2, AS YESTERDAY THE LAST SHIPMENTS ARRIVED—YOUNG MEN REQUESTED TO MEET TOMORROW.

The King Dodo paraders are now ready for their grand comic parade of Monday night, March 2, when King Dodo and his subjects will make merry on the streets of Pensacola, marching over a route to be chosen by the comic paraders within the next few days.

Yesterday the last shipments of fireworks and costumes reached the city. The consignment of fireworks is larger than heretofore, owing to the fact that more will participate in the parade, and it is intended to have the route brilliantly illuminated with colored fireworks.

Tomorrow afternoon every young man in the city who desires to participate in the parade is requested to report at Armory hall, and there give to a committee their names and addresses.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)

"'Don't trifle with a cold,' is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by all druggists.

FALCO.

Special to The Journal.

Falco, Ala., eb. 21.—Mr. P. A. Dawson, of Freeport, has accepted a position as sawyer at the Falco Mill.

Mr. S. M. Hytour, lumber inspector for Keyser and Muldon Co. has been here several days, shipping lumber from the Falco mill and will ship somewhere near one million feet before he leaves.

Mr. J. R. McLean, general manager of the Florida and Alabama Land Co., is in town this week inspecting the recent improvements to the mill, planers, etc., preparatory to starting up Monday.

Mrs. D. Wilkinson, of Pensacola, is spending a few weeks with friends.

Mrs. Lillie Miller has been on the sick list this week but is very much improved at this time.

Messrs. S. E. Horsey and A. H. Miller went to Slocum, Ala., Tuesday to represent Falco lodge, K. of P., at the 12th district convention of Knights of Pythias and reports having a nice time. They were treated royally by the good people of that town.

The Falso Mill, which has been closed down since the first of January for repairs, is ready to begin running again, and will start Monday, much to the relief of people who were dependent on it for employment.

Quite a number of people from this place are making preparations to go to Pensacola Monday and be there during Mardi Gras.

Those who have never heard the ringing of he flax bells have missed a truly wonderful sensation. The round seed pods, smaller than peas, which contain the seed, give a faint metallic sound which as one drives or walks through a field, setting thousands in motion, seems like myriads of infinitesmal bells tinkling so faintly as to be all but inaudible. Nor is the mere sight of a flax field in the mellow August soon to be forgotten. Imagine a hundred-acre field, filled with flowers of a blue more delicate than violet.

TO MOVE INTO NEW BUILDING

CITY POLICE HEADQUARTERS WILL PROBABLY BE MOVED TODAY FROM THE OLD JAIL TO THE NEW BUILDING, WHICH IS NOW READY EXCEPTING THE CELLS.

The police department will probably move into its new quarters today, inasmuch as the building has been completed and is ready for occupancy, excepting that the cells have not arrived. This however, will not prevent the change in headquarters, for the present building occupied has no cells, but merely rooms.

Yesterday preparations were made to move, and City Electrician LeBaron installed temporary lights for use until the electric light fixtures, which have been ordered, can reach here. The big steel cells have all been placed in position, and the furniture for the various offices has been moved, so all that is necessary now is to move the prisoner, record books and court room benches.

ESTATE TO HER MASTER'S SONS

Old Nurse Leaves Admiral Gherardi's Children Her Property.

Bridget Stanton, who died December 20, last, after spending the greater part of her seventy years in the employ of the family of the late Rear Admiral Bancroft Gherardi, left her entire estate, valued at $8,000 with the exception of two small bequests to relatives, to be divided between the two sons of Admiral Gherardi, both oif whom she nursed when they were children. The old nurse's will, which was filed for probate in New York on Feb. 7, recites the love she had for the young men whom she had seen grow to man's estate, and the pride she took in their success. The elder, Lieut. Waller Gherardi, U. S. N., is now aboard one of Admiral Evans's battleships. The younger, Bancroft Gherardi, is living in New York.

WANTED HUBBY HOME A'NIGHTS

Bride of Few Months Makes Scene of Robbery to Win His Sympathy.

A woman's scheme of gagging and binding herself hands and feet to the legs of a sewing machine and table after scattering the contents of bureau drawers over the floor all for the purpose of winning the sympathy of her husband who went to church meetings instead of staying home of nights, was brought to the attention of the Chicago police a few nights ago.

Mrs. Christian Rossing, a bride of a few months, was the woman. She is the wife of Albert Rossing, a butterine maker. Mr. Rossing left home last evening to attend a church meeting, and when he returned, two hours later, he found his wife in the predicament described above. After she had been revived by a physician, she said two burglars had invaded the house and bound her.

Rossing notified the police, and three dectectives were sent to investigate. To them the woman repeated the story she had told her husband, adding a too graphic description of the two men. It was this minute description that led to suspicion. After a little questioning, she said, sobbing: "I was not robbed at all. I just pretended it to win the sympathy of my husband and get him to stay home with me at night."

A PRODUCER OF PRESIDENTS

Princeton Has Given Three of Them in 5 Years to Other Colleges.

Within the last five years, Princeton University has been the training school for three college presidents. Two of them have received their appointments this year and will sever connections with the Princeton University faculty in June; these are Henry A. Garfield, professor of politics, a son of the martyred president, who has been chosen as the head of Williams College, and Edgar O. Lovett, professor of astronomy, elected president of Rice Institute of Texas, an educational foundation about to be developed in Houston, Texas. Four years ago Prof. John H. Finley of Princeton, became president of the College of the City of New York.

Professor Lovett received his Ph. D. at Leipsic and succeeded the late Prof. Charles A. Young as head of the astronomical department. Rice Institute is as yet unknown to the country. The charter which has been granted by the state of Texas is very liberal, and the institution may yet become one of the strongest in the South.

Professor Garfield, who will lead Williams College, as professor of politics at Princeton, has become one of the most distinguished members of the faculty. It will be hard for Princeton to fill these vacancies. Announcement will be made in June of their successors.

In connection with the presidents which Princeton has given to the college world might be mentioned the offer of the Massachusetts Institue of Technology to Prof. Andrew Fleming West, Dean of the Graduate School, to assume the presidential office of Boston's technical institute. Undergraduate sentiment, as well as alumni influence, however, was brought to bear and the man largely responsible for the success of the present preceptorial system was not lost to Princeton.

PREPARING YOUNG MEN FOR ORIENT

Root Would Lower 10-Year Enlistment to 5 Years for Consular Service.

Secretary Root has urged congress to reduce to five years the term of service of the young men engaged as student-interpreters in China andj Japan. Some years ago congress was impelled to create this corps in order to secure bright young men with a knowledge of Chinese and Japanese, who would be available for diplomatic or consular service in the Orient. Therefore, it undertook to pay them a salary of $1,000 per annum, allowing them for two years to devote their entire time to the acquisition of the oriental languages.

Now, however, the students are put to work at once in the embassies or legations, and are not objects of charity.

Secretary Root, in his communication to congress on this subject, says: "This solemn obligation to remain in the government service for 10 years, possibly at a salary of only $1,000 per annum, is a very onerous and serious one for a young man to assume. There is no doubt that it discourages and turns away many of the most promising men who would otherwise enter the service as student-interpreters, and in consequence makes it very difficult for the department to fill these positions with young of the best material for future efficient officers."
