Wishing Too Much.
When Wilberforce was a candidate for Hull his sister offered a new gown to the wives of all the freemen who voted for her brother.
"Miss Wilberforce for ever!" shouted the enthusiastic crowd when she made the announcement.
"Oh, no, gentlemen," she replied, smiling. "It is very good of you, but I really do not wish to be 'Miss Wilberforce' for ever!"—M. A. P.

Elaborate Revenge.
"Paw, wasn't that a horrible dinner?"
"It was, Tommy."
"But you handed the waiter a dime when we went away. What did you do that for?"
"I wanted to convey the idea to him, Tommy, as delicately as possible, that if he'd brought us a good feed it would have been a half dollar."—Chicago Tribune.

Davis' Painkiller should be taken without delay when sore chest and tickling throat warn you of an approaching cold.

Matrimonial deceptions are only funny in musical comedies, and no one has yet told why it should be so.

Piffle is what doesn't interest the egotist when the talk is getting animated.

Wasted a Fortune on Skin Trouble.
"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see, but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope.

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times, but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies, and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1621 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

"Mrs. Bertha Sachs is my sister-in-law and I know well how she suffered and was cured by the Cuticura Remedies after many other treatments failed. Morris Sachs, 321 E. 89th St., New York, N. Y., Secretary of Deutsch-Ostrower Unt.-Verein, Kempner Hebrew Benevolent Society, etc."

THE BAD MAN EXPLAINS.
"Takes four men to handle me when I git started."
"I saw one man handle ye yesterday over on the next ranch."
"Well, they happened to be short-handed over there."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Fasten ropes to the stakes, the stakes or posts, should be near the corners of the house, leaving room for a gate at one of the stakes. Pass the ropes around the house in such a way that the fence will be upright, and stay in place, then fasten ropes securely. About 150 ft. of netting will be sufficient for the little time needed to confine the chicks. When through with the fence, roll up, and store away for future use.

Do not forget that too many sloppy messes will get your fowls out of order, and to get eggs, hens must be kept in order.

Why not work up a good retail trade? Even in small towns much complaint is made of the stale eggs purchased from stores, and the soups procured from butcher shops. It may be small at first, but if you furnish the right stuff, there will soon be more demand than you will be able to supply.

Charcoal is one of the best of blood purifiers, and should always be kept where poultry can have access to it.

Never buy screenings; good grain is much cheaper in the long run.

Destructive to Eloquence.

Binks—I see that Gabriel d'Annunzio says that navigating the air is the divinest and most inexpressibly pleasing sensation conceivable.

Jinks—I used to talk the same way about yachting before I was seasick.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
