Finance director will manage city in the interim

By Susan L. Wright
swright@hometownnewsol.com

Holly Hill City Commissioners named an interim city manager last week, unanimously voting to approve Finance Director Kurt Swartzlander to fill the post at the end of May.

Mr. Swartzlander was recommended by outgoing City Manager Jim McCroskey, who resigned earlier this month in the wake of controversy over an audit that revealed several undocumented purchases and recommended revamping the city's purchase card policy. Mr. McCroskey denied making any purchases that were not appropriate, but one commissioner contended there had been more than $8,000 of inappropriate purchases on the card.

Mr. McCroskey said he was resigning due to the counterproductive atmosphere created by the controversies and blamed the negativity on election year competitive maneuvering.

At the time of Mr. McCroskey's resignation, Holly Hill Mayor Roy Johnson said he felt the city was losing a very hard working

Don't love bears to death

By Erika Webb
ewebb@hometownnewsol.com

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission officials are not opposed to commencing a "season" on bears, but are trying to be sensitive to public opinion.

"Biologically we'd be able to sustain a bear hunt," said FWC Assistant Bear Program Coordinator Mike Orlando. "Socially we're not so sure. It's really a social issue at this point."

The bear biologist spoke April 23 to a room filled mostly with Glenwood residents at the DeLand Public Library.

For the past several years, he's been making rounds in Central Florida to educate citizens about his favorite species and the perils that accompany voluntarily and involuntarily attracting the animals with food.

Recent attacks — in December and April — on humans in Seminole County changed the typical flavor of his lecture.

"She didn't do anything wrong," Mr. Orlando said of the most recent victim. "Why that bear turned on her I have no idea."

He showed a slide depicting the densely wooded area bordering Wekiwa Springs Road in the vicinity of the subdivision where Terri Frana lives and was attacked April 12.

The picture makes clear the thin line that exists in many areas of Central Florida between wilderness and civilization — urban sprawl and historically remote areas.

"Bears in the last five years have pushed back," Mr. Orlando said. "They can't read signs."

He explained the fruitlessness of relocation.

"There are no remote places to put bears," he said, adding there are around 50,000 people near the Ocala Forest in places like Paisely, Salt Springs and other communities.

"Those people don't want your bears any more than you want your bears," he said.

With their extremely keen sense of smell — up to 10 or 15 miles — bears taken to

Dog owners get to keep their pets by their side more

By Susan L. Wright
swright@hometownnewsol.com

For years, dog lovers would return from trips to Europe envious that the French, Swiss, British — in fact almost all Europeans could take their dogs with them almost anywhere with no problem.

In most of the U.S., dogs were persona non grata almost anywhere but outside or in your own home.

But as dogs have become more a part of the American family, slowly attitudes have changed and now well-behaved dogs are welcomed in more places, allowing their owners to enjoy all kinds of outings that include their dogs. (Also allowing some dog owners to avoid feeling guilty about leaving the dog alone again after being at work all day.)

Some cities, such as Washington, D.C., Denver, Boulder, Los Angeles, New York and Boston, have dog friendly polices that include allowing dogs to hang out with their people on the outside patio or sidewalk area of a restaurant or café.

In May, the Legislature passed a law allowing dogs in outdoor areas of restaurants, leaving it up to the discretion of the individual restaurant owner whether to permit customers to bring their pets.

Other small actions are improving the atmosphere for dog outings.

Some area Wells Fargo branches send out treats in the drive through transaction tubes, along with the withdrawal envelopes or receipts, when they see a dog in the car.

Dog-oriented retailers, such as PetSmart and Pet Supermarket, have allowed dogs to accompany their owners on shopping trips into the store … perhaps on the same principal that Toys R Us is thrilled to see parents coming in with the kids, hoping for a lot of impulse buying with the "baby" in tow.

But until recently, few eateries encouraged dogs to accompany owners.

Now there are several restaurants in Daytona Beach and Ormond Beach where dogs are tolerated and welcomed.

The Halifax Humane Society regularly has Yappy Hour events at dog-friendly venues. Recently a crowd turned out for one of the events at Lagerheads on State Road A1A in Ormond-by-the-Sea. Canines from Great Danes to dachshunds, yellow labs and terrier mixes mingled with the humans, most staying under or by the tables with their owners. They also helped raise funds for less fortunate dogs (and other animals).

The occasion may have been special, but dogs on the premises aren't out of the ordinary at the casual beachside restaurant. In fact, the eatery offers a doggy menu as well as the human kind, with choices ranging from hamburger patties to corn pups.

Starbucks nationwide has a pet-friendly policy and locals know when they stop by for their daily peppermint, mocha soy skinny vente latte or vanilla extra whip frappaccino, they're welcome to come by at the end of a walk with Bella or Sarge and hang out at an

Blessings come in a backpack

By Susan L. Wright
swright@hometownnewsol.com

Every Thursday during the school year, 22 backpacks (or bags) are delivered to Osceola Elementary School.

Every Friday, 22 Osceola children, all of whom receive free or reduced priced lunches, arrive at the office to collect the bags.

Each bag is filled with the same seven food items.

To most Americans that may seem like a small, token, just a little bit extra. To some of the children who receive the bags, the seven items are the difference between a grim couple of days, with little to eat, living with hunger pangs, waiting for the breakfast and lunches provided at the school on Monday.

"Blessings in a Backpack" is a weekly event at Osceola, arranged by two high school girls, who volunteer their time for the 38 weeks of the school year to shop for the items, pack and deliver them. Grace Genereaux, a

Bears

Ocala can smell the St. Johns River and easily return to Volusia County from there, Mr. Orlando explained.

He said it costs FWC around $1,000 per animal to relocate bears, and typically where there is one, there are several more waiting in the wings to get at residents' garbage.

Recently he constructed a garbage can caddy for a Glenwood resident who doesn't have a garage. Mr. Orlando showed his library audience film of three different bears over the course of six nights sniffing around the secured wooden enclosure. None were able to dismantle it and each moved on fairly quickly in the face of defeat.

"Garbage is the biggest attractant," Mr. Orlando said. "Anything that attracts dogs, cats and raccoons, will attract bears."

That includes birdseed.

Whether retrofitting garbage cans or securing them in garages or locked sheds until trash day, residents are advised to do whatever it takes to keep easy pickings out of the bears' reach.

"There's plenty of food in the forest," Mr. Orlando said. "Bears are lazy. Bears do the same thing as humans who drive to McDonald's and order the No. 5. They take the path of least resistance."

The bear-resistant garbage cans have "proven lots of times in lots of places" to deter the enormous scavengers, he said.

Mr. Orlando maintained it's not in a black bear's nature to attack most animals or humans.

It's a matter of understanding the terms habituation and food conditioned.

A habituated bear has grown accustomed to being in close proximity to people — not necessarily bad, he said.

A bear that associates people with food is food conditioned and that's bad, he added.

The worst is a bear that is food conditioned and habituated — "has made a strong positive association with houses/people and is no longer afraid to approach under all but the most stressful conditions to the bear — very, very bad," Mr. Orlando explained.

Bears that are both food conditioned and habituated almost always are killed, not necessarily by FWC.

Agency employees have found bears in the Ocala Forest dead because they were "clogged up with plastic," he said.

Other mortality sources have included bear-vehicle collisions and aggravated humans.

Simply put, proximity equals probability.

Mr. Orlando cited the FWC bumper sticker with its sobering message: A fed bear is a dead bear.

Glenwood resident Jim Beck spoke to Volusia County Council members April 17 about what he's considering feeding bears: Louisiana Hot Sauce.

"Quite frankly, I don't know the solution to what you're going to do," Mr. Beck said. "My mission is to keep someone from getting killed, especially the children."

He told council members he does not intend to keep his garbage in the garage because the bears will bang on it, trying to get in. He said one neighbor told him a bear was staring into the kitchen window and another told him she tried to exit her garage, saw a bear and ran back in.

"These are things that are not getting out to the public," Mr. Beck said.

Crossing through the yard is OK for bears, Mr. Orlando said. Stopping for something borders on nuisance behavior.

Whether it's garbage, birdseed or even water in a birdbath, he suggests removing the attractant in order to deentice bears.

Because the Longwood-area attacks are still being investigated by the agency, Mr. Orlando said he couldn't say too much but he said after the most recent incident law enforcement officers were standing in a circle and one of the bears came out of the woods getting within 10 feet of an officer. The officer shot the bear to prevent injury to himself, Mr. Orlando said.

"That's not normal bear behavior," he said. "It was really a somewhat scary situation."

Mr. Beck and his neighbors do not want a repeat in their neck of the woods.

"I would really hope that ya'll would get together and either get a committee or get somebody and figure out a solution. Louisiana hot sauce?" he said. "Get rid of them. I tell ya, they talk about ammonia, that doesn't work."

Mr. Orlando said ammonia sprayed around garbage cans works better than bleach, which, he said, really doesn't faze bears at all. He implored people not to chance mixing the two.

If one person sprays bleach and another applies ammonia around garbage cans in close proximity to each other, the combination will produce a toxic result, he explained.

Electric fences around livestock or any food source, such as fruit trees or gardens, are very effective at keeping bears away. Banging pots and pans, sounding air horns and even setting off firecrackers should turn them back as well, he said.

Even some lawn watering devices work.

"Scarecrow water sprinklers … let me tell you, if you want neighbors off your lawn … are brilliant," he said, adding New Smyrna Beach residents are using them to keep sea gulls out of their yards.

Roxanne McTeague, a Pierson resident, said she's planting olive trees in the wake of citrus greening threatening her orange trees. She wondered if bears like to eat olives.

While he knows they aren't crazy about any type of citrus, Mr. Orlando asked Ms. McTeague to keep him posted on olives' appeal to bears.

If all else fails, residents are being advised to contact FWC and the agency will deploy area law enforcement officers trained in "hazing" techniques — shooting bears with non-lethal devices emitting paintballs and bean bag rounds, Mr. Orlando said.

The number to call is (352) 732-1225.

Most importantly, Mr. Orlando said, "Keep them wild, don't love them to death."

A great divide in people and in the news

LAND LINES

DAN SMITH

If you recall, I timed my tirade on the Internal Revenue Service to run right before April 15. My plan was to hit you when you were most vulnerable.

Whenever I write a controversial column like that one, I expect to receive lots of e-mails and the IRS piece did not disappoint. One thing that was sort of a surprise was that many of the letters referred to Fox News.

The majority of correspondence thanked me for shedding light on the atrocities perpetrated by government employees and others took me to task for coming off like a Republican. Some I spoke with admitted they had never heard of Faris Fink or Lois Lerner, the two IRS supervisors I mentioned.

A fellow from Debary was typical of the dissenters saying I obviously watched too much Fox News. The truth is I do watch Fox News. While my Land Lines column mostly deals with things local, I feel it is my job to stay up with what is gong on in the rest of the country. In order to do that I monitor three of the 24-hour cable news networks. Aside from Fox, I also watch CNN and MSNBC. I depend on those channels to give me a good cross section of national news.

Whenever I spot breaking news on one of those stations, I like to switch to the other two to see how they are handling the same story. I also take notes. Last May I turned on Fox News to watch the congressional hearings into the purported wrongdoing by the IRS regarding the withholding of non-profit status for certain political groups. First IRS supervisor Ms. Lois Lerner was asked to make an opening statement. She gave a short speech insisting on her innocence of all matters before the panel. Next the congressmen began to ask her questions and she invoked the Fifth Amendment. Unheard of for a federal employee to do that but especially after making such a statement. She was refusing to testify after managing to do so on her own behalf. You could hear a pin drop in that room. I have to tell you it was riveting television. Fox News was running this live and uninterrupted.

Next I switched to MSNBC to see how they were dealing with it. That channel was doing a piece on the Paris Disney World. I stayed there for a while unbelieving they could be ignoring such an important news event that was happening right then. Nothing. Next I switched to CNN to find them in a panel discussion of actor Michael Douglas' recent revelation that he had contracted throat cancer by performing oral sex. If I'm lying, I'm dying.

I could not believe it! That lack of coverage made me think about how our country is so divided politically and so is our news. On that day in May, CNN and MSNBC were obviously struggling with a slow news day, but would not broadcast a congressional hearing because it did not fit their political agenda. Now don't get me wrong, I am well aware of the conservative agenda put forth by Fox News. After all, that channel has blamed Obamacare for everything from global warming to the crisis in the Ukraine. Still, I don't care what filter you put on it, bad acts by the IRS is news.

With all of the 24-hour news stations on the tube, we are now the best-informed population in the history of the world, but there is little doubt we are all being fed that news with a decided slant.

As it turns out Fox News has a higher rating than the other two combined. I am not sure why that is, but it may be that conservatives watch more news, or maybe because they are the only conservative game in town. At any rate, I hope you all are open minded enough to understand your favorite news channel (Fox, CNN, MSNBC) is less than honest in how they report the news. If a new station came along with unbiased reporting, it would probably shoot right to the top. We should all get the same news.

outside table.

Dairy Queens were pet-friendly before the state gave legal permission for pets to be on the premises — the ice cream chain offered a doggy sundae with Milk Bone garnish for owners to pick up for their pets. They had to take the treat out to the dog, off the premises, but was the perfect treat for a sweltering Florida summer day and it made pet owners and their pets happy and created a dollop of good will even then.

The state may have given its OK for the pet friendly policies, but it left the final decision up to individual municipalities.

The Daytona Beach City Commission gave its blessing to the pet friendly policy after local business owner Tom Myers petitioned for the change.

Mr. Myers is the owner of Rhokkoh's, a downtown yogurt shop named after the family dog. Mr. Myers said he regularly brings the Rhodesian Ridgeback to work and he's very popular with the customers. Rhokkoh has been in training as a therapy dog, which means he's one of the few dogs allowed by law to be inside a restaurant.

Mr. Myers, who also campaigned for the city to establish a dog park on Manatee Island, just off Riverside Park, said since he got permission for dogs to come with their owners to sit at the sidewalk tables, things have gone "really well."

When he went to make his request to the city, he said, "I stressed to the city management that there are a lot of dog people here and there will be a lot of dog people coming to town who will appreciate the ability to enjoy going to a café or restaurant with their dogs."

"Dog people are good people," he said.

All businesses that do allow dogs have to abide by the federal health regulations, which means any dish used for a dog's water or food has to be completely separate from any human dishes or utensils Servers aren't allowed to pet or give treats to dogs.

Lulu's in Ormond Beach also had to lobby the City Commission there to get the rules changed to allow dogs on their enclosed patio.

Now, manager Brett MacIver said the policy has resulted in a very positive response from area dog owners. "It's going great actually," he said. The popular restaurant allows dogs on its outdoor patio and provides a dog menu complete with a deluxe item, filet mignon, at a cost of $18. It sponsors special events for dogs and owners, including a dog costume party at Halloween and a monthly "yappy hour."

Mr. MacIver said they've never had any problem with any of the dogs at the restaurant and so far all the owners have been responsible and made sure their pups behaved appropriately (or removed them if they don't.) He said on average they have "anywhere from 30 to 50 dogs" show up during the week, including evenings and weekends.

Dogs can also enjoy the beautiful waterfront setting of the Blue Grotto in the Halifax Marina in Daytona Beach, on the patio and dock area.

Manager Junior Williams said the restaurant is quite large so there's plenty of room for dogs and their owners with space for people who don't want to be around dogs to enjoy the restaurant without being bothered.

"We have at least 10 dogs in a day and we've never had any problem," he said, adding they even have one regular customer who brings along her cat — on a leash.

"It makes it nice, the owners can relax and enjoy a meal with the dog along," he said.

A few shops also make sure dog owners get that warm and fuzzy feeling when they're out and about with their dogs.

In Ormond Beach, Cupcakes-by-the-Sea features a special "cupcake" just for dogs and at Angell & Phelps, the downtown Daytona Beach chocolate shop and factory, featured bone shaped treats for dogs recently.

Most shops or stores aimed at pets allow dogs to shop with their owners – but few other large stores aren't quite so tolerant. One exception is Lowes, where well-behaved dogs may accompany their owners on those weekly errands to pick up something for the house or garden, which makes it easy to swing by after a trip to the dog park or a stop for a snack at one of the dog friendly cafes.

and productive manager. The mayor also said that he hoped the city would "hire from within" when choosing Mr. McCroskey's successor.

The commission did not address any plans to advertise for or set up a search committee to choose a permanent successor to the job.

Mr. McCroskey said, "Kurt Swartzlander will do a fantastic job as interim city manager. I've had an excellent working relationship with him during the time I've been here." Mr. McCroskey said he was eager to have someone in place already to talk with during the next few weeks to help make the transition as seamless as possible.

He added he appreciated the support of the Holly Hill city staff.

While he said he didn't know what course the City Commission would take in selecting a replacement, he said, "Whoever gets to be the next city manger will be very lucky. It's a fantastic city staff."

Mr. McCroskey said he was considering an offer from a private source and looking at two possible job openings in other cities as his next career move.

This temporary job is Mr. Swartzlander's second round stepping into the city manager's post temporarily. He also was tapped to fill in when the previous city manager, Oel Wingo, was forced to leave after being accused of ethics violations. Whoever takes over the post will become the third city manager in the small city in four years.

Asked about his feelings about taking on a second round as the interim manager, Mr. Swartzlander said the first stint had been "a good learning experience."

"I enjoyed serving before and I'll enjoy doing it again," he said.

Asked if he would consider applying for the job on a permanent basis, Mr. Swartzlander replied, "Right now I'm just taking it one step at a time." However, he added, he would consider it if asked but "I'd have to sit down and talk about it with my wife."

Mr. Swartzlander, who graduated from Stetson University with a master's in business administration in 1995, said it would be a definite career change for him.

In the meantime, he added he planned to focus on keeping things stable for the citizens and the city workers.

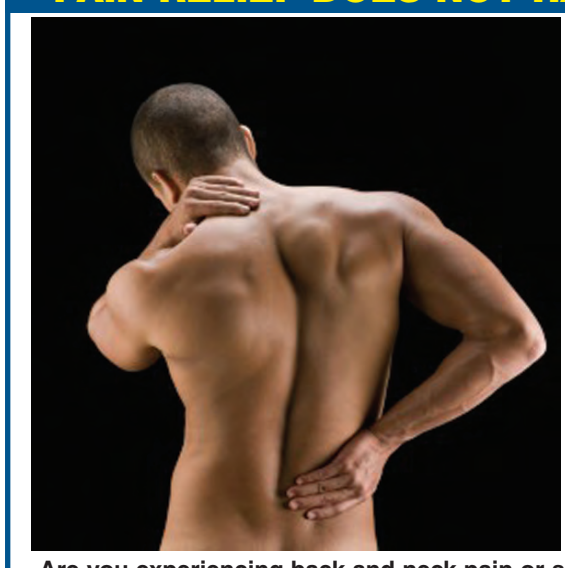
SPINAL DECOMPRESSION MADE AFFORDABLE
PAIN RELIEF DOES NOT HAVE TO BE EXPENSIVE



Are you experiencing back and neck pain or sciatica caused by bulging, herniated or squashed discs? Our breakthrough technology may be the answer to your prayers.

You've heard and read about the dramatic results patients report after spinal decompression. Perhaps you've been in for an initial consultation and if so, you may have walked out with a sense of "sticker shock". We know times are tough and we'd like to "ease the pain" of spinal decompression. Call now for a free qualification assessment.

How Does our Disc Machine Work?
The technology is simple. Our machine gently pulls the area we are treating, causing a pressure drop within the disc. By decreasing the pressure, affected discs have the opportunity to regain some of their natural inner fluids. Repeating this process through a series of treatments allows damaged discs to regenerate, commonly restoring normal function and elasticity. Treatments are typically painless and patients may actually fall asleep during a treatment. The results can be amazing.

Are you suffering with a Disc Problem?
A disc problem in the back or neck can manifest itself in a number of ways.
A bulging, degenerated or herniated disc may create symptoms such as:
- Back or neck pain.
- Numbness in fingers or toes.
- Pain or numbness in the arms or legs.
- A prickling sensation in the arms or legs.

If you are experiencing any of these symptoms, you may be a candidate for our non-surgical, computerized decompression treatment.

"I just wanted to say 'THANK YOU' to you and your excellent staff. I am in my 4th week of the spinal decompression treatments and I am now pain free in my lower back; something that medications were unable to do. Like most people, I didn't know what to expect from the treatments. They are very relaxing; Lie down; relax; And it gets fixed."

From patient Richard Marsh 3-17-2014

Call today for a free assessment. If we feel decompression is right for you, we'll recommend a treatment plan and get you started right away. Our doctors are dedicated to providing quality care to everyone. Now we can offer Spinal Decompression at truly affordable rates!

In response to: 'Big boats also block drivers' sight'

Thank you Hometown News for trying, but since it is obvious the code enforcement of Edgewater doesn't intend to act, OK, let the boat and RV owners who are parking them dangerously in their driveways have their way, but why not suggest the city of Edgewater make them get a permit per foot like a marina and storage places do? Then maybe all of us will benefit from the lack of consideration.

Recycle that paper

Why are newspapers in the garbage at the New Smyrna Beach Library? Don't they have a recycling bin or two?

Agrees with Dan

Having spent time on Madison Avenue, I could not agree more with Dan Smith. The morality of the business was and still is suspect.

We in the design end had a mantra, never read the copy. It was the only way the art department could get the job done.

I am an avid reader of Hometown News and hope this local newspaper has a long run. The irony is that your success is due in part to your advertisers.

Stay in the middle

To those drivers who feel the need to drive in the right hand lane to go straight on Nova Road northbound, please pull over far enough to the left so someone who needs to turn right may do so. Or better yet, drive in one of the other two lanes available to go straight.

Become a real Floridian

I want to know why people can move to Florida and work here for five or 10 years and not get a Florida tag and drivers' license.

I have a neighbor who brags about it. Is there any way to report them? I would be glad to do it.

In response to: 'Learning Constitution'

To the 79-year-old who felt enlightened after attending a Constitution workshop sponsored by a Constitution lawyer and the 912 Volusia Patriots, i.e. tea party. No one at that meeting brought up the little known fact that Thomas Jefferson believed he Constitution should be rewritten periodically in order to protect future generations.

Mr. Jefferson was wise and understood that time and people can change radically. Would the writers of the First Amendment support freedom of speech being sold to the highest corporate bidder? Could they envision the Second Amendment would degenerate into gun power run amuck with military assault rifles and high capacity clips so easily accessible with little or no regulation regarding public safety?

Unlike the letter writer, my concern is not communists taking over our country but the malcontents, radicals and corporate opportunists who would exploit the Constitution for their extreme agenda. This is neither liberty nor patriotism.

There is hope for the future

One early evening as I was walking my dog, I came upon three teenage girls each carrying large hedge clippers. When I made a comment that it looked like they had been working, they told me they had been cutting weeds and trimming hedges on a bank-owned property down the street that had gone into foreclosure.

Nobody was forcing these girls to do it, nobody was paying them, yet they had the foresight to make the neighborhood more presentable. If these girls represent our future, then I can relax. We are in good hands. Thank you, girls, for your hard work. Shame on the bank for letting these houses go into disrepair and become eyesores for the neighborhood.

Letters

Not ready to "bro down" with Dan

Open letter to Dan Smith. I've been a fan of yours since discovering the Hometown News some years back. I've used your tactics and hints to help me catch fish. But you really scored on the April 25 column on fishing shows.

Like you, I enjoyed the shows hosted by Hank Parker, et al. They got me through many a cold Saturday mornings before I moved to this wonderful state.

Lately it seems a "fishing buddy" relationship has blossomed into a "bromance." I know I can count on never reading about Capt. Leo and yourself sharing a mango-kiwi smoothie while clad in camo Speedos.

Response to: 'Help for Cancer Victims'

It is with sadness that I will tell you ... there is little to "NO" help for cancer patients in this area.

As a cancer patient several years ago, my family and I were faced with the same problems.

I was a single woman who had worked all my life, supported my children, had excellent credit and never ask for help from any government agency.

When all my surgical and chemo options, along with the knowledge of not being able to work for a year, were explained, I was devastated. Couldn't work for a year, how was I to pay my bills, buy groceries and exist for a year?

Not wanting to be a burden to my family, I put my pride aside and entered my first government office to ask for help. What a shock when a cold, cold woman looked me in the eye and said "Florida is not a welfare state." Fighting back tears, I explained to her, I did not know I was asking for welfare, I thought I was asking for help!

From that day forward, I endured tax paid employees who were unpleasant and rude with any and all questions and with each request. Turned down for disability, it took me 17 months to finally start receiving a "small monthly check" that was then titled disability ... even though an oncologist doctor's disability form listed the reason and was signed. Also, I had to hire an attorney to finalize that request.

A small monthly check due to the fact only the last five years of employment was counted yet, I had worked many more years than that and the years I earned my highest income were not included. I could not find a break anywhere I turned. Just don't give up — if you cannot find help within the government offices, there are a lot of good people in this area who will help in any way they can. Just don't give up.

The only help I can suggest for cancer patients will come from your family, your friends and your church. Halifax Hospital doctors and staff treated me with great respect and went out of their way to find me other areas of help. They will help you.

The American Cancer Society was wonderful in several ways, including free Ensure to help restore my body from the caustic chemo drugs.

They will help you.

Halifax Urban Ministries staff was so compassionate! They still have several areas of help, including clothing, food, hot lunches and counseling. They were/are the kindest, most thoughtful people one will have the opportunity to meet. They will help you!

When one is fighting for their life, one should never be treated in such a horrific manner from any official office or any other human, I was taught respect, compassion and when help is needed, help. After all, this is still America, a beautiful and wonderful land in which to live.

Shirley Oenbrink

Population gain equals economic growth

VOLUSIA BUSINESS
CECIL G. BRUMLEY

A sure sign of a good economy is population growth, so Volusia County surpassing 500,000 for the first time is welcome news.

To be exact, the U.S. Census Bureau estimated Volusia's population changed from 496,903 as of July 2012 to 500,800 as of July 2013. Not a huge leap, but the precursor of what probably will be an even bigger jump from 2013 to 2014.

I can back that statement up easily just by looking at the number of permits issued for new houses in March, which was at 156, up from 75 in March 2013. Through the first quarter of 2014, permits have been issued for 475 houses in the county compared to 246 in the first quarter of 2013.

Sales of existing houses also have been strong with 1,860 sold in the first quarter of 2014 compared to 1,732 in the first quarter of 2013, according to reports from Realtors.

The DeLand area continues to lead the growth with 48 permits issued for new houses in March, far more than any one other area. The next highest was New Smyrna Beach with 18 and then Daytona Beach with 12. The population estimates aren't available for municipalities yet, but you can bet DeLand had the fastest rate of growth in Volusia.

Wine and spirits shoppers are a getting a big new choice to help in stocking their cellar or bar. Total Wine & More has opened at International Speedway Square in Daytona Beach. The store at 2500 W. International Speedway Blvd. opened May 1 after extensive renovations to the former Staples space.

The plans for new buildings are piling up across the county. Some of the latest ones include the tear down and rebuild of the McDonald's at Dunlawton Avenue and Nova Road, an expansion that would double the size of the Autozone on Nova Road and a new Wawa at Dunlawton and Yorktowne Boulevard, all in Port Orange. A two-building office complex is planned for Colony Park Road between Home Depot and Mullinax Ford in New Smyrna Beach.

As for new commercial construction, the new ones were fairly small. The dining areas of the two Wendy's in Ormond Beach and one in South Daytona are getting remodeled. Work began for a dental office at Ormond Towne Square at Williamson and Granada boulevards in Ormond Beach. In South Daytona, work has started for an amusement center called That One Fun Place in the Sunshine Park Mall.

For anyone wondering what is going on with the land next to the former Food Lion Plaza at Madeline Avenue and Clyde Morris Boulevard in Port Orange, the owner is simply doing some site work to make it easier to sell.

Consolidated-Tomoka Land Co. is enjoying the upswing in the real estate business. The Daytona Beach-based company reported revenue of $7.1 million in the first quarter, up 46 percent from $4.9 million in the first quarter of 2013. Net income was at $1.5 million, up from $337,000.

Brown & Brown just keeps rolling along growth wise, but hit a bump on its bottom line. The company reported revenue of $363.6 million for the first quarter of 2014, up 8.5 percent from $335 million last year. Net income was $52.4 million, down from $60.1 million last year. Also, the Daytona Beach company reported it is buying Pacific Resources Benefits Advisors of Chicago. The deal is expected to close this month. The 30-year-old Pacific Resources Benefits Advisors has become a leading independent employee benefits advisory firm and had revenue of $22.7 million in 2013.

Urogynecologist opens Center for Female Pelvic Medicine

Christopher Stanley, MD, a board-certified urogynecologist, has been named medical director of the Halifax Health–Center for Female Pelvic Medicine.

A surgical sub-specialty of urology and gynecology, urogynecology is officially known as the subspecialty of Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery. The unique subspecialty received approval for board certification from the American Board of Medical Specialties in 2012. In June 2013, practitioners began sitting for a mandatory board certification exam. Dr. Stanley, who took the exam at that time, became one of the first board-certified urogynecologists in Florida.

Dr. Stanley is a graduate of the University of South Florida College of Medicine in Tampa. He completed his residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville, Tenn. He also is certified by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and is a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Nothing ordinary about Waves Salon in Ormond

swright@hometownnewsol.com

The new owner of the Waves Salon in the Renaissance Plaza on Nova Road in Ormond Beach promises clients will not just get an ordinary hair style, manicure or other beauty treatment.

They'll be getting an extra bit of New York attitude.

No longer will area residents long for the sophistication of a New York City stylist, Donna Vieitez can provide it in her chic, newly redecorated and refurbished shop, tucked away in the center at the entrance to Silver Fox Hollow.

Opening the salon and day spa was the long delayed fulfillment of a childhood dream, Ms. Vieitez said. As a teenager she'd dreamed of becoming a hair stylist and when she was 17, she enrolled in school to become a beautician.

But, she shrugs, she took a couple of detours, working in a bar, owning and operating a couple of tanning salons. She moved to Florida, got married, had children, and decided it was time to follow that original dream.

First she went back to cosmetology school at Daytona College, just up the road from the Waves Salon, to update and improve her skills.

Then she looked for a location and discovered the previous owner was selling the salon, which was already equipped for most of the services she'd be offering.

She hired a staff and got to work revamping the salon, giving it that New York edge.

Donna Vieitez, owner of Waves Hair and Day Spa in Ormond Beach, works on a manicure for a walk-in client at the salon recently.

"We did it ourselves, on our hands and knees, 15 hours a day for two weeks," she said.

The result is a little bit city sophisticated, very individual and charming, with warm, deep rosy tones on the walls, jazzy looking tiling as backsplash areas and appealing accessories.

The result may look as if it is the product of some cutting edge interior designer, but it was all the product of her own vision and hard work. Looking around at the attractive waiting area, she said, "I love it."

She may have been focused on going back to styling hair, but she decided to make it a full-service salon, offering the range of beauty treatments from manicures and pedicures to massages and skin care. The masseuse isn't on staff and comes in for each customer, so an appointment is required. Walk-in customers are welcome for all the other services.

She was determined to offer the best possible prices for every service they provide. After researching the area market, she came up with a price list she's confident will give her customers the best deal they can find anywhere around.

The salon is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday-Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, but she said they will stay open later for customers who make an appointment in advance.

They opened March 15 and, while she said it's taking time to build up a clientele, she knows that once her customers discover this gem off the beaten path, Waves will thrive.

Waves, Donna Vieitez, Hair Care Specialist is at 453 S. Nova Road, Ormond Beach. Call (386) 676-9206 or (386) 284-3444.

Backpack

freshman in Spruce Creek High School's International Baccalaureate program, and Madison McIntyre, a sophomore at Seabreeze High School, are carrying on the program after Megan Godfrey, who launched it three years ago, graduated and left for college.

Ms. Godfrey started the program after reading about the national Blessings in a Backpack program in Seventeen Magazine.

She said she'd been on a couple of church missions to other countries, but decided she wanted to do something locally to help others. The article gave her the idea she could start a program here. She contacted Volusia County Schools administration, looking for a school that would be convenient but where there were children who needed the help and she was directed to Osceola.

She turned to friends, family and other contacts to donate the money and was ready to go.

According to the Blessings in a Backpack website, it started in 2005 with a pilot program in just two schools. Since then it has grown so backpacks are provided weekly to more than 63,000 children at 583 schools in 45 states.

The volunteers follow the same rules at every site. Backpacks are provided and filled with a set number of items from a list of foods approved by nutritionists. The food is paid for by funds raised in each community by volunteers — just $80 per child is allotted for the year — not per month or per semester, but the entire year.

Megan says she used to go shopping with some of her girlfriends or her mother for the items every week and pack the backpacks with help from them, then either her mother or she would drive them and drop them off on Thursdays. The volunteers simply deliver the backpacks to the school. They aren't there when the packs are distributed and generally never actually get to meet the children who benefit from their effort.

But Megan said even though she didn't get to see the kids who received the packs, she was very aware of how much they meant and how simple the need is. "It kind of kept me grounded. I used to get like, I have to have this, or I really wanted that other thing, something frivolous that just seems so important. I would complain about not being able to get some silly thing I wanted. But filling those packs every week, it just kind of kept things in perspective."

At the end of last year, when she knew she'd be going to the University of North Florida, she decided to pass the responsibility on to friends. She said she contacted two girls she knew she could count on to keep the program going..

Grace, the Spruce Creek freshman, said, "I wanted to be part of it. I thought it would be fun and a nice thing to do and it is, because it's helping someone."

Madison, the Seabreeze sophomore, said she was friends with Megan and when she realized the program might end and the children who are getting the weekend food bags would go without.

"I just said, 'that can't happen,'" she said and it didn't. The two girls take turns handling the responsibility. Each one takes a month, then switches over for the following month.

Madison admitted "At first, it was really overwhelming, but after a while it got to be routine and now it's really simple."

She estimates it takes about an hour each week.

Since they go to different schools, they only really see each to turn over the Walmart card they use to pay for the monthly groceries.

For the $80 per school year, the children who might otherwise go hungry over the weekend, get a bag of approved nutritious foods that will keep them healthy and energetic over the weekend and ready to succeed in school the next week.

Next year, the two will be able to add more children to their list and fill more backpacks thanks to a Darden Restaurant Community Grant, provided by a local Darden-owned Red Lobster in Daytona Beach Shores. The $1,000 grant will pay for a dozen more Blessing packs for the 2014-15 school year, Grace said.

Both girls plan on continuing to carry on the program at Osceola and they're both hoping others will get involved to help with the expanded program.

Madison said she'd like to expand the program so she can start a club at her school to bring in other volunteers to raise money to cover the cost for even more young Blessings pack recipients — and get more volunteers to help pack and deliver the bags every week. She envisions having a nice group of friends who would meet at her house once a month to assemble the food in the bags — making it a less overwhelming chore than doing it alone.

Kathleen Sullinger, the counselor in charge of supervising the program at the school, said everyone there was thrilled when they were chosen as the site for the program.

The program recipients are chosen by the teachers in the classroom, Ms. Sullinger said, explaining they know the children best. The 22 recipients only represent a small percentage of the children at Osceola on the free or reduced price programs, teachers have to use their judgment as to which children would benefit most from the program.

Ms. Sullinger said the selected children seem to appreciate the extra attention, the idea of getting something special. They're told they qualify for the treats, but not the basis for the qualification so they don't feel there's any negative connotation to receiving them.

She's sure they'll have no problem finding more children who'll be very happy to receive the additional food packs the Darden grant make possible.

Attorney to present 'Scams, shams and flimflams'

To help seniors stay one step ahead of the con artists, Daytona Beach elder law attorney Michael Pyle will present "Scams, shams and flimflams" at 3 p.m. Wednesday, May 7, at the Daytona Beach Regional Library at City Island, 105 E. Magnolia Ave.

Mr. Pyle will explain how seniors can protect themselves from credit damage and theft of money and identity. He'll share tips for handling telephone and door-to-door sales scams. He will also discuss seniors' challenges in protecting themselves as they become more vulnerable with advanced age.

Reservations are not required for this free program, which is sponsored by the Friends of the Daytona Beach Library. For more information, call (386)257-6036, Ext. 16264.

Y gets grant to help make children healthier

The Volusia Flagler Family YMCA received a $3,000 grant from Precor to support efforts to help children in Volusia County live healthier lives through implementation of Healthy Eating and Physical Activity standards in the Y's early childhood and afterschool programs.

Adopting the standards is part of the Y's commitment to first lady Michelle Obama and the Partnership for a Healthier America to end the threat of childhood obesity.

The YMCA is one of 50 Ys to receive a grant as part of an on-going national partnership between Precor and YMCA of the USA. Locally, the funding will to supplies, equipment and training for an early childhood or afterschool site.

Retired chancellor to speak at commencement

For Hometown News
newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University will host a commencement ceremony for 739 students of its Daytona Beach Campus at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, May 6, at the Ocean Center in Daytona Beach.

The graduating class includes 66 students receiving military commissions: 27 from Air Force ROTC, 23 from Army ROTC and 16 from Naval ROTC.

Dr. Thomas J. Connolly, a retired chancellor of Embry-Riddle's Daytona Beach Campus who also was the first-time holder of the President's Endowed Chair in Aviation, will be the guest speaker at the commencement ceremony.

Dr. Connolly joined ERAU as an assistant professor in 1973. He retired as chancellor of the Daytona Beach Campus in 2007.

Highly involved in his field, Dr. Connolly was a member of the FAA-funded project team that developed pilot training and certification standards for the new superlight jets and technically advanced aircraft.

In recognition of Dr. Connolly's 40 years of outstanding leadership and service to ERAU, the new Quadrangle at the Daytona Beach Campus will be dedicated to him during the commencement ceremony.

Later in the day, at 2 p.m., a monument to Dr. Connolly will be unveiled at the Quad, at the corner of the Library and Legacy Walk. Everyone is invited to attend.

A live streaming broadcast of the commencement ceremony will be available for viewing at http://client.stretchinternet.com/client/erauadmin.portal. For more information on Daytona Beach Campus commencement, go to erau-graduation.com.

The following commencement-related activities will be held on Embry-Riddle's Daytona Beach Campus at 600 S. Clyde Morris Blvd. unless noted otherwise.

•Catholic Mass, 7 p.m. Sunday, May 4, Center for Faith and Spirituality, Embry-Riddle.

•Master's Hooding Ceremony, 10 a.m. Monday, May 5, ICI Center, Embry-Riddle.

Volunteers needed for surveys

Environmental groups are looking for volunteers to search for rare shrubs and threatened Florida scrub jays.

The Pawpaw Chapter of the Florida Native Plant Society is calling for volunteers to participate in the third annual roundup to look for Rugel's pawpaw, a small, rare shrub found only in Volusia County. It can be identified reliably only when it blooms in May.

Volunteers will meet from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, May 10, at Tiger Bay State Forest, 4316 W. International Speedway Blvd., Daytona Beach.

To sign up, email guidry.sonya@gmail.com.

Volusia's Environmental Management Division will conduct Jay Watch volunteer training from 8 a.m. to noon, Saturday, May 10, at Lyonia Preserve, 2150 Eustace Ave., Deltona. Volunteers will learn about the Florida scrub jay and be trained to record information about them from June 15 through July 15 on several public lands in Volusia, Lake and Flagler counties.

For more information email bcary@volusia.org or jsulek@audubon.org.

Halifax Genealogical Society to meet

The Halifax Genealogical Society will meet at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, May 8, in the Ormond Beach Library Auditorium, 30 South Beach St.

The speaker will be Jack Butler and the program will be "Before There Were States -—Finding and Using Territorial Records" Special Interest Groups will meet after the main program.

Out & about

Friday, May 2

•Shoestring Theatre: The romantic comedy "Almost Maine" will be performed May 2-18 at 380 S. Goodwin St., Lake Helen. Show times are 8 p.m. Matinees are at 2:30 p.m.

On a cold, clear, moonless Friday night in the middle of winter, all is not quite what it seems in the remote, mythical town of Almost, Maine. Residents find themselves falling in and out of love in unexpected and often hilarious ways. Knees are bruised. Hearts are broken. Love is lost and found and confounded.

For more information, call (386) 228-3777.

•First Fridays Night Market: This event will be start at 5 p.m. Friday at Hawks Park in Edgewater. There will be vendors and food trucks. Magician Nick Paul will perform at 7 p.m. and the film "The Nut Job" will be shown at 8 p.m.

•Vegas-style Show: Ron Allsop and Bil Sbrogna bring their floor show to Venetian Bay Golf Club at 6:30 p.m. Mr. Allsop and Mr. Sbrogna turn back the hands of time and take you on a trip down memory lane with the music of Sinatra, Martin, Darin, Frankie Valley and the Four Seasons and Elvis. This is not a celebrity impersonator show, but a show in Las Vegas style.

Venetian Bay Golf Club is open to the public both for golfing and dining. Dinner Reservations are recommended. For more information or reservations, call (386) 424 5775 Ext. 303.

•Talent Night: Very Special Arts presents "Luminaries," its 24th annual talent night from 7-9 p.m. at the Ormond Beach Performing Arts Center, 399 N. U.S. 1, Ormond Beach. Master of Ceremonies Danny Crile will host the showcase of performing talent by Volusia County students with challenges.

The event is free. For more information or reservations, call (386) 441-0547 or visit vsavolusia@aol.com.

•Music Production Rocks: This performance is the culmination of a Daytona State College semester-long course in the contemporary performance aspects of modern rock, pop, blues and country music. It will be 7:30 p.m. at News-Journal Center, Davidson Theater, 221 N. Beach St., Daytona Beach.

The groups will perform a variety of selections that are representative of successful

The Beatles tribute band, "1964: The Tribute," will perform at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 2, at Peabody Auditorium in Daytona Beach.

Since the early '80s, "1964: The Tribute" has been performing all over the globe.

The show band takes their audiences on a musical journey to an era in rock history. The group had been hailed by critics and fans as the most authentic and endearing Beatles tribute in the world. Choosing songs from the pre-Sgt. Pepper era, 1964 recreates an early '60s live Beatles concert with period instruments, vintage costumes, hairstyles, onstage mannerisms, speaking voices, and unmistakable harmonies of the lads from Liverpool.

The musicians expertly recreate the music, personalities, humor and physical attributes of John, Paul, George and Ringo.

The show will celebrate "50 years of The Beatles."

For tickets and information, visit TributeTickets.com or stop by the Peabody Auditorium Box Office, 600 Auditorium Blvd., Daytona Beach. Tickets start at $29 plus service fees and are also available by calling (386) 671-3471.

Artist Dan (Burleigh) Phillips of DeLand straightens one of his watercolor paintings during last years 41st annual Art in the Park in Rockefeller Gardens in Ormond Beach. The Ormond Memorial Art Museum and the Department of Leisure Services of Ormond Beach will presents the 42nd annual Art in the Park on May 3rd and 4th with fine arts and crafts by local artisans on display in the beautiful Rockefeller Gardens.

Art will be in the park May 3-4

For Hometown News
newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

The 42nd annual Art in the Park will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 3, and Sunday, May 4, at Rockefeller Gardens in Ormond Beach.

Art and crafts entries will be judged. In the fine arts category, a single award of $1,500 will be made for "Best in Show," which will be displayed at the Ormond Memorial Art Museum. Eight others, four fine artists and four crafters will receive a total of eight awards: First Place $400, Second Place $300, Merit Award $200 and Honorable Mention $100.

A recent addition to this year's event is Suzanne Altamare, who is a Grand Master Sand Sculptor and celebrity sculptor for the Travel Channel's Sand Blasters. She will sculpt a rendering of The Casements, beginning work from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and completing the project from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.

For the young artists, the event will feature a Kids' Craft Zone (free), which will be inside The Casements. Kids are invited to come and make a special gift for their mother for Mother's Day.

The Docs of Jazz, Bobby Meeks and Island Hillbillies will perform on Saturday. Dan Allen, 2 Guys with Horns, Dan Allen and Tie Dye Road will perform on Sunday.

Week of 5-2-2014

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20

Aries, your thoughts are distant right now, almost as if you're living in a fantasy world. This is creatively beneficial but not so helpful for practical tasks.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

Taurus, if you're not careful, you could find yourself debating family and friends this week. Instead, try to sit back and listen rather than fostering debate.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21

Gemini, a realization about what is really important to you instills a renewed sense of confidence this week. You will be focused on important things.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22

Cancer, if your finances seem like they are in a state of upheaval, it could be because you have not looked at everything in black and white just yet. Make some changes.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23

You come on too strong sometimes, Leo. Those who know you best can handle this approach, but you can scare off potential new friends if you do not ease up.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Be patient and do not demand too much of yourself during the next few days, Virgo. You need to keep your workload light; otherwise, you may get easily overwhelmed.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

This is a time to discover the value of others, Libra. A willingness to try new things and delegate some responsibilities will free up your calendar.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Certain personalities don't always click, Scorpio. Don't feel the need to overcompensate for a strained relationship. Spend more time with those with whom you connect.

Bizarre bunch bounds onto Peabody stage

The Addams Family' will be in Daytona Beach on Saturday, May 3 at the Peabody Auditorium as part of the Broadway in Daytona Beach series. From left are Amanda Bruton as grandma, Jennifer Fogarty as Wednesday, Dan Olson as Lurch, Jesse Sharp as Gomez, KeLeen Snowgren as Morticia, Shaun Rice as Uncle Fester and Jeremy Todd Shinder as Pugsley in the 2013-2014 National Touring Company of 'The Addams Family.'

"The Addams Family," based on the bizarre and beloved family of characters created by legendary cartoonist Charles Addams, will be coming to Peabody Auditorium on Saturday, May 3, as part of the Broadway in Daytona Beach series.

"The Addams Family," which began performances in March 2010 at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre and ran through December 2011, immediately became one of Broadway's biggest hits.

It features an original story and it's every father's nightmare. Wednesday Addams, the ultimate princess of darkness, has grown up and fallen in love with a sweet, smart young man from a respectable family. A man her parents have never met. And if that weren't upsetting enough, she confides in her father and begs him not to tell her mother. Now, Gomez Addams must do something he's never done before — keep a secret from his beloved wife, Morticia.

Everything will change for the whole family on the fateful night they host a dinner for Wednesday's "normal" boyfriend and his parents.

In a prolific career spanning six decades, Charles Addams created several thousand cartoons, sketches and drawings, many of which were published in The New Yorker. But it was his creation of the characters that came to be known as The Addams Family that brought him his greatest acclaim. With a unique style that combined the twisted, macabre and just plain weird with charm, wit and enchantment, Addams' drawings have entertained millions worldwide and served as the inspiration for multiple television series and motion pictures.

Tickets for The Addams Family can be purchased online at ticketmaster.com, charge-by-phone (800) 745-3000 or at the Peabody Auditorium Box Office.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Flexible thinking is key, Sagittarius, especially as you face a few new challenges this week. There are some opportunities to reconnect with family later in the week.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

A rush of activity fills your calendar and keeps your phone ringing off the hook, Capricorn. Your challenge will be separating the pressing events from others.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Aquarius, paperwork has built up and requires more time than you had originally planned. There is no way to avoid this task, but a helper can make it move more quickly.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20

Moderation is your mantra for the week, Pisces. Do not let the pendulum swing too far in either direction.

Sen. Hukill's bill to promote poetry passes

State Sen. Dorothy L. Hukill, R-Port Orange, has gotten approval for Senate Bill 290/House Bill 513 with unanimous support in the Senate today.

The legislation officially creates the position and process for the nomination, selection and duties of the Florida State Poet Laureate.

Sen. Hukill read a poem that was created especially for the vote by Daytona Beach poet Dr. David Axelrod. The House bill sponsor, State Rep. Dan Raulerson, joined Sen. Hukill on the Senate floor in support of its passage.

Florida's Poet Laureate will be a volunteer who will promote reading, writing and the appreciation of poetry throughout the state and encourage students to express themselves through poetry and reading out loud.

The bill now heads to the governor for his approval.

Dealing with anger addressed at Lifetree Café

How to control anger will be discussed at Lifetree Café at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, May 4, and 6:15 p.m. Wednesday, May 7, at 142 Fairview Avenue, Daytona Beach.

The program, titled "Out of Anger: The Battle Between Self-Control and Out of Control," features the filmed story of Jerry Hartman, whose ongoing anger issues led him in and out of prison until he was at last accused of assault with a deadly weapon.

Participants will discover what practical tools helped Hartman discover how to control his anger and transform his life.

Admission to the 60-minute event is free. Snacks and beverages are available.

Lifetree Café is a place where people gather for conversation on life and faith in a casual coffeehouse-type setting.

Sports Briefs

Shore Bet leads Inlet race to the throne

The first of three King of the Inlet fishing tournaments saw the team of Shore Bet grab a 25-pound lead in the series.

The featured fish for the April 25-27 tournament was wahoo, paying double the money, and Shore Bet pulled in 46.7 pounds.

Dolphin will be featured in the May 16-18 tournament at Ponce Inlet.

This was the largest turnout the series has had with 62 boats and more than 250 anglers.

Winners in Wahoo were: Shore Bet, first, 46.7 lbs.; Marine Specialties, second, 36.2 lbs.; Trimmed Out, third, 34.6 lbs.

Winners in Dolphin were: Reel Country, first, 27.2 lbs.; Reel Diggin, second, 26.5 lbs.; Gone to Pot, third, 25.1 lbs.

Winners in Kingfish were: Team Atlantic Marine, first, 36.9 lbs.; Virgin Hooker, second, 34.6 lbs.; Reel Diggin, third, 27.0 lbs.

The top three teams in the series are now: Shore Bet, first, 771 points; Second Chance, 746 points; and Reel Diggin, 535 points.

Gift ideas for mom golfers

GOLF
JAMES STAMMER

Time is running short. Mothers' Day is just around the corner. Most golfers are difficult to buy presents for. Toss in that it's the special female in your life and things can get quite confusing. If you need any last-minute ideas, here are a few to help you along.

Tin Cup (tin-cup.com) allows golfers to create personalized ball marks by tracing a design cut into a tin cup with a fine-point Sharpie marker. There are more than 135 designs, including flowers, butterflies, a turtle, initials, college logos and more. They will even make a custom one for you.

Women love shoes, or so I am told. The latest technology comes from New Balance (newbalance.com). With a portion of the proceeds going to the Susan G. Komen Foundation, the Komen Minimus LX shoe supports more than just your golf swing Engineered on New Balance's Minimus platform, this shoe put you closer to the ground for a more natural fit and feel. It has a water-resistant leather upper and a lightweight REVlite midsole that cushions your feet.

How about some jewelry? Better yet, how about a bracelet that may help her feel better, more energized, and play better? Fusion Power Bandz (fusionpowerbandz.com) offers a line of negative ion charged bracelets that will do just that.

Negative ions are nourishing molecules that work as anti-oxidants inside our bodies. Independent, placebo controlled, double blind clinical tests have proved the effectiveness of negative ion technology on the human body. Tests showed up to a 66 percent increase in performance and as much as a 29 percent decrease in pain in those tested and using the actual negative ion charged bracelets.

Another bracelet that may just save your life comes from ENDEVR (endevr.com). The MYID line of bracelets features the "Star of Life" logo that first responders are trained to look for on bracelets and pendants. Inside the bracelet is a QR code, phone number, ID, and Pin that allow paramedics to quickly access your medical history and information 24/7. They will immediately know your blood type, allergies, etc., along with your insurance information and emergency contacts. These may be found locally at Target and Walgreens.

With the temperatures climbing, the mom in your life may want something to keep her cool while playing. There are several products available to do just that.

From Misty Mate (mistymate.com) comes a line of misters designed to keep you cool no matter how hot it gets.

Misty Mate makes small misters that fit in your hand and that you can carry with you whenever you need cooling. Using a pump system to provide pressure you then simply squeeze the trigger to release a fine cooling spray. This spray may cool the air as much as 30 degrees.

There is even a larger version that you could put into the basket behind the seat of your cart. This would allow you to cool you and your partner in the cart while playing. There are even a couple of fans that can be attached to increase the cooling effect.

Moms always need to protect their eyes and look great in the process. The latest line of sunglasses from Maui Jim is called PureAir (mauijim.com). This new frame technology combined with the company's ultra-light MauiPure lens makes for sunglasses that feel like "pure air."

Another idea is to give mom a round of golf at her favorite course. Better yet, treat her to a round at a course she has never played. Golfers love to play new courses. You may even want to join her for a truly memorable day.

James Stammer has been an avid golfer and golf enthusiast for 40 years. He hosts the Thursday Night Golf Show on WSTU 1450-AM. Contact him at stammergolf@yahoo.com.

Fishing in Volusia County will get better — it has to!

FISHING WITH DAN

DAN SMITH

As I am writing this, the inshore fishing is about as poor as it gets.

My last four trips have produced next to nothing. Oh, I have caught a few stray bluefish and the odd jack, but a big zero to take home. On one trip I fished four hours without a bite of any kind. That is a rare thing, but every once in a while I know it happens to us all.

Knowing that does not make me feel better. Something like that sends me to thinking about what is going on. I know the exceptionally cool spring weather has kept the summer flounder run from its usual early beginning. It always takes warm water for the flounder to move in, but so far neither has happened.

No finger mullet in the Northern Halifax is another reason. When the bait arrives I know that all the predator fish will follow. I have heard from those who gig at night they are getting a few but so far the hook and line take is almost non-existent.

The spotted sea trout are gone, too. After a good summer in 2013 and a steady bite all winter, the trout developed lock jaw around the first of March and right now are extremely difficult to find.

The red drum have left the basin and headed up the creeks. Your best bet for reds is either the Tomoka River or Strickland Creek. As I told you, I stalked a school of big reds all winter but had trouble getting them to bite. They are still there behind the spoil islands north of Granada Boulevard, but not yet willing to hit a lure or take a natural bait. I haven't fished Mosquito Lagoon lately but the word from there is that if you work hard, you might catch the occasional big trout or red but no numbers coming from there either.

Sad news coming from Holly Hill. We lost a good fisherman a few weeks ago when Danny Parks died. His boat was found on the rocks along the western bank of the Indian River down in Edgewater. His body was recovered not far away. The coroner said Danny suffered a massive heart attack. All that is left to say is he left doing what he loved. He is missed by his friends at American legion Post 120 in Holly Hill. R.I.P. Capt. Danny Parks dead at 57.

There is word that Jim Verrette has died. Redfish Jim of High Bridge was a fixture there. Over the years he taught countless people how to free line mullet for red drum. His loss is a big one.

My own fishing buddy Al Houser passed away recently. Al also was a dedicated angler who had migrated from Alabama. We had a lot of fun together and when I put him on his first red fish, he was hooked on inshore fishing. A genuine good guy, he will be forever missed by his family and me. Man, that's enough bad news.

I did have a lot of fun up at Tomoka State Park doing a fishing seminar on April 12. A crowd showed up with a lot of enthusiasm. On May 10, I will do a class for the kids at Bulow State Park just inside Flagler County. Children 6-12 are invited up that Saturday morning to hear me give tips on knots, cast net, tackle and baits. It's always great to get a bunch of kids together and the questions they ask are sometimes out of left field.

A while back a kid asked me how many spots a redfish must have until it becomes a trout. Hmmmmm? A little girl wanted to know if small catfish are called kitten fish? Could be. Their odd questions always get the old man thinking.

If you want to have some fun, come on out and watch me try to try to fend off those types of questions from the kids.

Hopefully by the time you read this the fishing in the Halifax has picked up. It can't get any worse.

Dan Smith has fished the waters of Volusia County for more than 40 years. Email questions and comments to fishwdan@att.net. His book, "I Swear the Snook Drowned," is available for $10.95 at (386) 441-7793.
