Mayor: 'Port Orange has grown tremendously'

By Diane M. Carey

Port Orange can't hide the progress it has made in the past several years, according to Mayor Don Burnette.

"Port Orange used to be a small little secret on the south end of the Daytona Beach area," the mayor said. "The secret's out, we have grown tremendously."

Mayor Burnette was delivering the annual State of the City address Feb. 13 at the Riverside Pavilion.

"The legacy for Port Orange is being a city for families and for people to come and enjoy a different and better quality of life and that is what we have to offer here in the City of Port Orange," he said.

Mayor Burnette noted he keeps a tiny statue of Mickey Mouse on his desk as a reminder of family and joy and all the things the famous mouse represents is what he likens Port Orange to also be.

Councilman Scott Stiltner, who represents District 4, described in a video how the former police station on Dunlawton Avenue was renovated to become the Dorothy Hukill City Center Annex. The 17,000-square-foot facility will serve various city needs.

Councilman Stiltner also stated the housing market is strong in Port Orange. New residential developments include Pinnacle, Woodhaven and the Benton House ALF. Mr. Stiltner acknowledged traffic concerns remain a problem "driven by their own success." He said some help will come in the form of new adaptive signaling devices.

Councilman Drew Bastian, District 3, highlighted the new Sanctuary at Westport as a state-of-the-art development within the city with apartments completed and single-family homes under construction. He also mentioned as significant the Victoria Gar-

Healthy heart equals a healthy life

By Diane M. Carey

Bill Crowe could be the poster boy for National Heart Month.

Mr. Crowe, 70, has survived five heart attacks and has had open heart surgery.

Genetically predisposed to heart problems, he credits constant monitoring by his cardiologist and medication interventions as essential to him still being on the planet.

He would definitely like the Florida Department of Health's slogan for Heart Month, "Healthy heart = healthy life."

The federally designated month reminds Americans to focus on their hearts and commit to a healthy lifestyle.

Mr. Crowe, a former Volusia County resident who lives in Jacksonville, suffers from genetic coronary artery disease with numerous relatives, including his father, having succumbed to heart attacks.

"All my blood chemistry tests are good and they were good when I had the (last) heart attack (in November 2017). They couldn't trace exactly how it happened," he said. "(But) people need to be sure they follow their blood chemistry and exercise as much as they can and have a good diet. I take nine cardio related drugs."

The picture doesn't have to be a depressing one. With medical technological advances people can and do survive multiple heart attacks.

Mr. Crowe admits he doesn't exercise or eat prop-

Looking back at city's black history

Young and old celebrated the 16th annual Freemanville Day Tuesday, Feb. 12, at the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church at 941 N. Orange Ave. in Port Orange.

The annual event honors the community's African American heritage.

After the Civil War, Dr. John Milton Hawks, an abolitionist and U.S. Army Surgeon, along with other Union Army officers formed the Florida Land and Lumber Co. and brought 500 freed slaves, known as freed men (different than Freemanville), to public lands along the Halifax River, north of Spruce Creek in 1866. additional 1,000 freed slaves arrived months later. Dr. Hawks moved the settlement which he named Port Orange in February 1867 from the Mosquito Inlet (Ponce Inlet) to where the remnants of the community are known today.

Out of about 1,500 African Americans who had come, only nine families remained by 1869, due to harsh farming conditions and poor supplies. The Florida Land and Lumber Co. disbanded as did the first integrated school in Volusia, which was created by Esther Hawks, also a physician like her husband.

What remained was the settlement's African-American roots. Freemanville is the last link to that earlier Port Orange. Freemanville was never incorporated, it was just the name people gave to the community due to the importance of the Freeman family living there during that time.

The day's activities included proclamations by both Port Orange Mayor Don Burnette and Volusia County Councilman Dr. Fred Lowry. The church's pastor, Trudy Crusco, said a prayer and a musical presentation was made by the Bethune-Cookman University Outreach Program led by Dr. Rose

Couple tout March of Dimes

By Diane M. Carey
dcarey@hometownnewsol.com

No one knows better than Scott and Ashley Cornelius of Ormond Beach how important it is to support the March of Dimes.

Their son, Scott Jr. (Scotty) was born 12 weeks early. They credit the March of Dimes with funding research and education about premature infants, especially with neonatal intensive care units.

Scotty spent the first nine weeks of his life at the Halifax Health Medical Center NICU.

The couple agreed to be ambassadors for the 2019 March of Dimes Walk April 27. A kickoff party will be at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the LPGA International Club House.

The couple had a fairy tale romance meeting on a cruise in 2003 with their families when they were teenagers. Even though Mr. Cornelius is an Ormond Beach native and resident and Ms. Cornelius lived in California at the time, they formed an instant bond on the cruise, kept in touch, and got married in 2010.

The couple have owned the Tomoka Outpost inside Tomoka State Park for the last three years. Life was exciting for them in 2016 with a new business and son about to be born. But then Scotty came into the world at only 28 weeks gestation, weighing 2 lbs., 4 oz.

"I had two prior miscarriages and a complicated pregnancy with him, so I was considered high risk," Ms. Cornelius said. "We had no idea he would be born early, though."

"My water broke when I was 27 weeks and 6 days pregnant. I was admitted to the hospital that morning. I was obviously being monitored closely while in the hospital," she said.

Scotty's heart rate was erratic, creating an immediate need for delivery, Sept. 13, 2016.

Ms. Cornelius said she was only able to hold his hand when she saw him for the first time in NICU.

"We could not touch anywhere else on his body, we could not caress him as all of that would have been too much stimulation for his little body," she said. "We did not get to hold him until he was a week old."

It wasn't easy at the hospital, Ms. Cornelius said. "There were many ups and downs while he was there, some very scary days and some very happy days. It was the scariest time in our lives. I was definitely in the right place at the right time. If I hadn't been at the hospital, we would have probably lost him."

Mr. Cornelius credited the work of the NICU staff.

Scotty came home right before Thanksgiving 2016. He was about 2½ months and doing wonderfully.

"We like to call him our little pinball as he does not slow down," Ms. Cornelius said. "He is full of life. He loves being outdoors. He loves everything to do with water. His favorite things to do are play at the park, go out on the boat, play with his soccer balls and footballs, and spend time with his mommy and daddy. He loves his dogs Marley and Nalah. He almost always has a smile on his face. He lights up any room he walks into. He is a true miracle."

The Corneliuses believe in March of Dimes' mission.

"We want to help them raise money and awareness to help more moms and babies," she said. "We want to let families that have been through this, that are going through this, or that may go through this one day know that they are not alone. March of Dimes indirectly helped save our son's life and for that we will be forever grateful so we are doing what we can to give back."

Supporting March of Dimes is like supporting your friends and family because someone is bound to face a similar situation, Mr. Cornelius said. "We are the family that is the face of the brand for this area for this year. They raise a lot of money and a lot of that money goes towards helping babies and moms."

He added, "It's been a wild ride. We are very lucky to be in the position we are at today with everything that's happened."

"We are looking forward to a big 2019 and looking forward to providing great services and functions for our residents" Councilman Bastian said.

District 2 Councilman Chase Tramont expressed excitement for Port Orange being part of the River-to-Sea-Loop bike trails. He also was happy to announce Giuseppe's Pizzeria's upcoming grand opening. The restaurant is relocating next to its current location and is a local favorite. Upgrades to City Center include new bleachers and the addition of 160 new trees and shrubs, and colored fountain lights.

District 1 includes Riverwalk Park which opened last year with Phase Two expansion to continue in 2019. Jimmy Hula's restaurant is coming in the down under area.

Mayor Burnette gave accolades to the late Councilman Bob Ford for his service to the city and District 1.

Future projects include widening sections of several roads, such as Williamson Boulevard, Pioneer Trail, Taylor Road and Spruce Creek Road from Dunlawton Avenue to Oak Street. A Yorktowne Boulevard extension also is planned. Turn lanes are slated to be improved in several areas as well as improved traffic signals.

The city has 97 percent of its water customers on sewer service with conversions continuing from septic systems, with a goal of 100 percent by 2026. In a project started in 2012, replacing almost 36,000 water meters is almost complete.

Port Orange citizens are encouraged to participate in a survey, which can be found at port-orange.org under city news until March 15.

Living with light poles by the sea

Last year was not without its problems, but luckily in Volusia County we had a respite from the storms.

Since Hurricane Charley in 2004, we have barely had time to breathe. In my case, I had only just finished the repairs to my home caused by Hurricane Matthew in 2016 when along came Irma. We held our breath as the winds battered our new structure, but thankfully not much damage.

Of course, we were once more without power for eight days. That seems to be the required suffering we must endure in Ormond-by-the-Sea. Each storm that hits leaves us in the dark and without A/C for eight days.

After the storms, when I speak to my neighbors who live just a short ways away, I find we have two entirely different hurricane experiences. You see, there are a couple of small enclaves here on the north barrier island that are fortunate enough to have their utility lines buried. To them, a hurricane is only a minor inconvenience since they never lose power. Let's face it, to the rest of us the hurricane is not over until our electricity comes back on. Those of you living in areas with trees also know what I mean.

Each day as I drive A1A, I twinge at the sight of all the telephone poles that are leaning precariously westward. Miles of poles are being pulled down under the weight of heavy cables and wires. Some of the wooden poles are being propped up by other poles. I know it will only take a modest gust to bring down some of them and put us in the dark again.

I know all of us across the county are crying out for our utilities to be buried, but A1A is the most picturesque highway in the state and a constant draw for tourists. What's more, we are on the front lines of any storm. All those old wooden poles pointing in every direction are a dangerous and especially repugnant scene.

Come on Florida Power & Light, we deserve better. FPL operates as a near monopoly in 35 counties and the amount of profit generated has to be beyond the scope of most of us. It is way past time to put the power lines underground.

OK, I know they will say the cost is prohibitive, but what does it cost to maintain all those poles that need to be replaced almost each year? What about the costs to our forests? What price does nature pay for the constant replacement of thousands of power poles?

FPL has a long list of reasons why they have not buried the lines. They say when an underground line fails, it is expensive to repair. Maybe so, but how often will that happen? Modern materials are strong and waterproof and could last for decades.

If you want to see what a mess looks like, take a drive north of Granada Boulevard four miles to the area around the Publix shopping center. Wires hanging, poles askew, a disaster waiting to happen.

Now drive south on A1A to Daytona Beach Shores where the lines are buried. There you will only see fashionable concrete or steel poles that have a single light at the top. No wires connecting them or cables zig-zagging over the road.

Last summer, Lana and I were in south Florida and admiring the beauty of the town of Jupiter. We soon came to realize it looked so nice because there were no telephone poles. I don't care how you landscape or pave, you can't create an attractive space with those poles and wires overhead.

FPL will tell you they have already buried lines in the area. Not fast enough. Spend the money and let's make this right. In the meantime, we wait and watch the weather with apprehension. How bad will it be in 2019? Will we have to carry gasoline to a generator to try and salvage our food?

Lines strung from wooden poles was how electricity was distributed more than 100 years ago. It's time to move into the 21st century!

Grace. Solos were performed by junior Sarah Crum ("Guide My Feet") and junior Makilah Slaughter ("Fi-yer"). Children from Mt. Moriah Baptist Church also performed a song and a historical presentation was made by Dr. Leonard Lempel. A poem was written by South Daytona historian Kay Stanton, and refreshments were served. Port Orange resident Pastor Sheila Turner also spoke.

"If we forget our history, then shame on us," Mayor Burnette said. "It's always good to look back at where we've been. Our history is who we are, good, bad or indifferent. We learn from it, we grow from it, as individuals and as a society. This community of Port Orange is what it is today because of where we were and who we were."

Dr. Lempel, who has taught at B-CU and Daytona State College, is known for his expertise in local African American history and race relations. He stressed the importance of the church in African American history, and that religion was a source of comfort. "Freemanville existed because blacks were fearful of living near whites in many cases and restricted in what jobs they could get," he said. "Blacks were constantly being told they were inferior. "Opportunities for employment were extremely limited and you had the ever-present fear of violence," Dr. Lempel said. "This is the reality of what life was like for African Americans in the early 20th century . . . reasons why you had these black communities that insulated themselves from the white community and made a world and culture and society for themselves.

"The successes of the Freedmen homesteads demonstrate the ability of the human spirit to overcome enormous hardships, he said. "The Freemanville celebration needs to continue so we may be reminded of its important legacy even as the community itself fades."

erly and agrees if he did, he may not need all the drugs he takes. He is an advocate of cardiac rehabilitation programs. As an attorney, he also said stress is a factor. "Stress produces a chemical in your blood that irritates the lining of the arteries and that attracts cholesterol," he said.

Dr. Surya Rao has been a cardiologist almost 20 years. He is part of the cardiology team at AdventHealth New Smyrna Beach and practices as part of Daytona Heart Group with offices in Edgewater and Port Orange.

Dr. Rao stated, in recent years, he has seen an increase in the number of heart attacks and angina, which he calls "a heart attack waiting to happen." Part of it he attributes to people living longer so blockages and angina tend to develop more.

He feels heart health education has improved and said "if we catch it early on, there is so much we can do, even at the beginning of a heart attack. Education goes a long way to patients noticing the symptoms and coming in sooner."

Dr. Rao mentioned that genetic history of heart problems can make your vessels more prone to having cholesterol or other problems, but that is all the more reason to seek treatment even at a young age.

"By identifying these patients when they are younger and treating these things more aggressively, we can alter the effects of the genes on the body," the doctor said. "Younger patients can definitely have symptoms."

Dr. Rao credits improved technology and readily available equipment like defibrillators to saving lives even during a severe heart attack that would not have been the case 10 years ago. "Every minute that goes by, you lose 10 percent chance of successfully bringing a patient back," he said.

The Impella pump is one such new device that is making a big difference for heart attack patients. The pump pulls blood from the left ventricle through an inlet area near the tip and expels blood from the catheter into the ascending aorta.

Heart-healthy lifestyle

February is American Heart Month, a federally designated month that is a great way to remind Americans to focus on their hearts and commit to a healthy lifestyle.

By making lifestyle changes and eliminating risk factors, Floridians can help fight one of the deadliest diseases in the state and the nation among both men and women—heart disease.

National trends show heart disease death rates are declining more slowly than they have in the past, especially among adults ages 35 to 64. In many communities across the U.S., death rates are increasing among adults in this age group. Risk factors for heart disease include high blood pressure, tobacco use and high cholesterol. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that roughly half of all Americans have at least one of these three risk factors.

DOH-Volusia reminds Floridians of the five steps they can take to improve their heart health:

- Quit smoking: Cigarette smoking or using tobacco greatly increases your risk for heart disease.
- Increase your physical activity: Physical activity can help you maintain a healthy weight and lower your blood pressure, cholesterol and sugar levels.
- Control your blood pressure: High blood pressure usually has no symptoms, so you need to make sure to have it checked on a regular basis.
- Know your cholesterol: Your health care provider should test your blood levels of cholesterol at least once every five years.
- Eat heart healthy foods: Choosing healthful meal and snack options can help you avoid heart disease and its complications. Be sure to eat plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables and fewer processed foods.

For more information, visit flhealth.gov/Heart.

"The pump does the work for you" said Dr. Rao, who noted the equipment is expensive.

He described one recent case with a female patient where the Impella was pumping blood out of the heart even though the heart stopped beating, and the cardiology team brought her back with no ill effects. "In cardiology you get really excited about this kind of stuff," he said.

Dr. Rao tells his patients, "Any time you have any symptoms between your nose and your belly button, right or left, front or back can theoretically be heart related. One of the things that can kill you is your heart. Something else can hurt symptoms. So, if you can come in right away, it is better."

He also does not recommend driving yourself to the hospital.

Dr. Rao added that heart attack symptoms, especially in women may not be dramatic or obvious. You may just be more tired than usual. In some cases, you may not even know you had a heart attack. He also stressed that exercise should be done 20-30 minutes daily which has many benefits including a built-in way to assess how your heart is doing (i.e. are you suddenly getting tired exercising, etc.). He further stated our lives are filled with stress and stress does contribute to heart problems.

For Hometown News newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

From a telecommunicator who saved a life by talking the patient's wife through CPR to a deputy who saved the life of a fellow deputy under fire, to a team of deputies and Edgewater police officers who refused to give up rescuing a crash victim trapped in his burning vehicle, the Volusia County Sheriff's Office honored some of the most outstanding work of the past year.

The third annual awards event under Sheriff Mike Chitwood was at the Sanborn Activity Center in DeLand. The event recognized both sworn and non-sworn members of the VCSO, as well as citizens who have supported the agency and its causes with their time and financial gifts.

Civilian Employee Of The Year: Nina Revels for her diligence and dedication to accuracy in the agency's Uniform Crime Reporting practices, for which she's become recognized as an expert.

Volunteer Of The Year: Roselyn Stewart, who has put in valuable hours working closely with victims of crime, and particularly with older citizens who have been affected by fraud and theft.

Wanted

This is Damion Prince, wanted for committing an armed carjacking of this Ford Escort in Deltona in December.

The victim pulled into her driveway after arriving home from work. She was driving her mom's car. As she was sitting in the vehicle, two males approached her, asking if she would help them jump-start their vehicle. When she said no, both suspects pulled out handguns and pointed them at the victim and demanded she give them her vehicle, which she did.

The Volusia County Sheriff's Office is seeking the public's help in finding Prince. If you have information about his whereabouts, let the Sheriff's Office know and you could be eligible for a cash reward.

Call Crime Stoppers at 888-277-TIPS or use the app. This is regarding Case #18-28212.

1. To qualify for this offer, you must have a new or existing Platinum Savings account and enroll the account in this offer between 01/21/2019 and 03/22/2019. This offer is subject to change at any time, without notice. This offer is available only to Platinum Savings customers in the following states: CT, DC, DE, FL, GA, MD, NJ, NY, SC and VA. In order to earn the Special Interest Rate of 2.08% (Special Rate), you must deposit $25,000 in new money (from sources outside of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., or its affiliates) to the enrolled savings account and maintain a minimum daily account balance of $25,000 throughout the term of this offer. The corresponding Annual Percentage Yield (APY) for this offer is 2.10%. The Special Rate will be applied to the enrolled savings account for a period of 12 months, starting on the date the account is enrolled in the offer. However, for any day during that 12 month period that the daily account balance is less than the $25,000 minimum, the Special Rate will not apply and the interest rate will revert to the standard interest rate applicable to your Platinum Savings account. As of 12/10/2018, the standard interest rate and APY for a Platinum Savings account in CT, DC, DE, FL, GA, MD, NJ, NY, SC and VA with an account balance of $0.01 to $99,999.99 is 0.03% (0.03% APY) and with an account balance of $100,000 and above is 0.05% (0.05% APY). Each tier shown reflects the current minimum daily collected balance required to obtain the applicable APY. Interest is compounded daily and paid monthly. The amount of interest earned is based on the daily collected balances in the account. Upon the expiration of the 12 month promotional period, standard interest rates apply. Minimum to open a Platinum Savings account is $25. A monthly service fee of $12 applies in any month the account falls below a $3,500 minimum daily balance. Fees may reduce earnings. Interest rates are variable and subject to change without notice. Wells Fargo may limit the amount you deposit to a Platinum Savings account to an aggregate of $1 million. Offer not available to Private Banking, Wealth, Business Banking or Wholesale customers. 2. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) is effective for accounts opened between 01/21/2019 and 03/22/2019. The 11-month New Dollar CD special requires a minimum of $25,000 brought to Wells Fargo from sources outside of Wells Fargo Bank N.A., or its affiliates to earn the advertised APY. Public Funds and Wholesale accounts are not eligible for this offer. APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. Interest is compounded daily. Payment of interest on CDs is based on term: For terms less than 12 months (365 days), interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. For terms of 12 months or more, interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. A fee for early withdrawal will be imposed and could reduce earnings on this account. Special Rates are applicable to the initial term of the CD only. At maturity, the Special Rate CD will automatically renew for a term of 6 months, at the interest rate and APY in effect for CDs on renewal date not subject to a Special Rate, unless the Bank has notified you otherwise. Due to the new money requirement, accounts may only be opened at your local branch. Wells Fargo reserves the right to modify or discontinue the offer at any time without notice. Offer cannot be combined with any other consumer deposit offer. Minimum new money deposit requirement of at least $25,000 is for this offer only and cannot be transferred to another account to qualify for any other consumer deposit offer. If you wish to take advantage of another consumer deposit offer requiring a minimum new money deposit, you will be required to do so with another new money deposit as stated in the offer requirements and qualifications. Offer cannot be reproduced, purchased, sold, transferred, or traded. 3. The Portfolio by Wells Fargo program has a $30 monthly service fee, which can be avoided when you have one of the following qualifying balances: $25,000 or more in qualifying linked bank deposit accounts (checking, savings, CDs, FDIC-insured IRAs) or $50,000 or more in any combination of qualifying linked banking, brokerage (available through Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC) and credit balances (including 10% of mortgage balances, certain mortgages not eligible). If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the bonus interest rate on all eligible savings accounts, and discounts or fee waivers on other products and services, will discontinue and revert to the Bank's then-current applicable rate or fee. For bonus interest rates on time accounts, this change will occur upon renewal. If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the remaining unlinked Wells Fargo Portfolio Checking or Wells Fargo Prime Checking account will be converted to another checking product or closed.

Rants & Raves

Got something to say?

Call the Hometown Rants & Raves line at

or e-mail newsdy@hometownnewsol.com.

Please limit your submissions to 250 words, so that we can include more entries.

In response to: 'Stop the insanity, I want to get off'

Finally, someone has spoken out loud what most residents have been talking about for a number of years and that is the lack of roads for all the people that are now moving to Florida, particularly the Daytona area because of all the building of houses and condos.

Thank you very much for voicing the frustration of those of us who have been here for many years. (I myself am a native).

You are welcome to quote me, "No more new home builds until you make more roads!"

Bike path needed

We need a bike path on Mission Road from Josephine south to Park Avenue, before someone is killed riding a bike.

No overnight parking

I RV all over the country. Many times I have stayed in a Walmart parking lot.

This last Saturday I was awakened in the middle night and told the Walmart in New Smyrna Beach did not allow overnight parking. I was told I had 30 minutes to get out or I will be trespassing. The security man was rude and I think I will be boycotting Walmart.

I don't camp there, but I have stopped there, but I won't any more.

Way to go, pool guy!

I want to give a shout out to Michael McMasters from Back Yard Pool and Spa.

He restored our pool in 2017 and we loved dealing with him and Cheryl.

Recently a tile cracked and he replaced it, even though the warranty expired last year. A pleasure to deal with very professional people.

In response to: 'It looks like they blew out a flip flop'

Bad decision by Volusia County, they should be incentivizing builders to come in.

Minto is already paying for Timber Creek Road, which, if Minto had expanded, would have connected LPGA and State 40, providing secondary access alleviating traffic.

The county will also lose out on millions in property taxes that would have come in from over 3,400 homes. The county and city both also lose out on business sales, jobs and sales taxes that would have been generated by 6,000-plus more residents shopping in their local area. More jobs would have been created as well.

All because the county got greedy and could only look at the short term, not the future. Shame on them for this huge loss.

In response to: 'Too much too soon'

I enjoy "Rants and Raves" but couldn't resist commenting on "Too Much, Too Soon" on Feb 8 (gasoline price jumping 16 cents).

I am 64 years old and remember back in the '60s and early '70s when gasoline pricing was in the 28 cents to 35 cents range. That was only a 7 cent swing. But that 7 cents amounted to a percentage of 20 to 25 percent.

Sixteen cents as commented in the Feb 8 commentary is only about 6 to 8 percent in today's dollars. One word: "inflation."

Inconsiderate drivers should stay home

To the person who responded about leaving car lengths between cars.

I must say you are one of those highly inconsiderate drivers who drive others nuts. I do laugh when I am stuck behind someone like you at a two-lane turn light. I get frustrated because of the amount of cars that cannot get into the turn lanes, which in turn keeps the cars going straight having to sit through a light they wouldn't need to.

I laugh when I see another driver take advantage and pull their car in front of you in that huge open gap so other cars can pull up. I find it sad there are so many drivers in Florida that choose to be rude.

They drive slow, so you pass and then they speed up to pass you and cut in front of you and drive slow again.

You leave your turn signal on so people think your going to turn but you don't. You just continue to cruise along with your blinker on. Or you're on the other side, you decide to turn at the last minute with no warning to other drivers.

Then there are the people who choose to talk on their cell phone while driving, or worse, texting while driving. What did you do before cell phones?

I believe it is time to start being a considerate driver and if you are so terrified of being hit by another car, I suggest you either use Uber or a taxi or a bus and let the drivers who are not so rude drive decently. There would be so much less road rage if the inconsiderate drivers stayed home

How do you walk a dog

I recently moved to New Smyrna. Its a very nice place. I want to adopt a dog and take care of it. Give doggie a nice home. I'm planning to provide good food and comfortable place to stay and veterinary care.

Not having a dog before, I am asking for advice on how to walk the dog. What is proper? Is there walking etiquette? How is the walk most enjoyable? Thanks out there.

Early concerts better

After church on Sundays, my wife and I like to go to a concert or musical.

Last week, we were going to the Ormond Beach Performing Arts Center to hear songs of Barbra Streisand and Frank Sinatra. When I went up to the building, I saw there was a notice the show had been canceled.

I didn't want to go to another show that was at 4 p.m. That is way too late to go to a concert. The best time is 2 or 2:30 p.m. People do not want to go to a musical at 4 p.m. By the time it is done, it is 6 p.m. That is way too late. Please people who are putting on performances, please have them at 2 or 2:30 p.m.

A mystery in an industry doing well

The lodging industry ended 2018 on a high note in Volusia County with bed tax collections up 4.91 percent in December from December 2017.

The whole year was on the upswing for hospitality in the county with collections at about $11.53 million, up 6.78 percent from $10.80 million in 2017. As good as that sounds, you haven't seen nothing yet (yes, shamelessly paraphrasing Bachman-Turner Overdrive).

With good weather last weekend, the amount of folks in town for the trucks, Xfinity and the Daytona 500 was probably huge, and provided a big boost to start another strong year in tourism.

Also, that $11.53 million provides a lot of money for maintaining and paying for the Ocean Center, and promoting tourism and conventions.

On top of that, the parade of fancy new hotels continues in April with the opening of The Daytona, the Marriott Autograph Collection hotel at OneDaytona.

VOLUSIA BUSINESS
CECIL G. BRUMLEY

Shores Resort & Spa in Daytona Beach Shores, which was a Four-Diamond hotel in 2018, disappeared from the list for 2019. Heck, it even disappeared from AAA's trip planning guide. It's like AAA ghosted it.

If you haven't been in the Shores Resort & Space, it's the bomb. I tell anyone coming to the area that if they want a luxury hotel at a relatively inexpensive cost, it's the one. It shouldn't be, but it's caught up in the ridiculously underpriced Daytona Beach area hotel rates.

I checked with the folks at AAA and the Shores Resort, but hadn't heard anything back as of last Monday. I would hope it's just an oversight, because the hotel deserves recognition as one of the best in the area.

So, anyway, with more new hotels coming and some hopefully getting renovated and reopened, such as the La Playa in Daytona Beach, we should see the hospitality industry have another big year in 2019.

Wow, there's building permits and then there is this one with this simple description: 11-story office headquarters - Brown & Brown. Of course, it has been well-documented the impact will be anything but simple for downtown Daytona Beach.

While airport officials are warning not to expect the same results in 2019 after JetBlue pulled out, passenger traffic at Daytona Beach International Airport increased 7.4 percent in December from December 2017. During the month 60,194 passengers flew in or out of the county-operated airport, compared to 56,038 passengers last December.

Reuters reported Payless Shoe Source will file for bankruptcy liquidation and close its 2,300 stores, including five in Volusia County. A buyer could step up once the bankruptcy is filed, but nothing yet. That means another empty space at

Another ERAU first: Penguin C Aircraft added

For Hometown News
newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University recently became the only university to acquire the Penguin C, one of the most sophisticated long-range professional unmanned aircraft systems on the market, specifically for flight training.

The arrival of three Penguin C aircraft earlier this year instantly transformed ERAU, already the world's largest unmanned aircraft systems educator, serving some 1,500 students university-wide, into an unmatched powerhouse provider of both UAS flight- and simulation-based training.

ERAU's acquisition of the Penguin C's also opened the door for missions controlled from multiple ground-based stations, called "remote-split operations," as well as flight beyond the operator's visual line of sight. The aircraft have applications for fighting wildfires, border patrol, search and rescue, oil pipeline and utility inspections, environmental assessments and military surveillance.

All those applications suggest an array of career paths for ERAU graduates trained to fly Penguin C's. The burgeoning commercial drone industry is projected to generate more than $82 billion for the U.S. economy and, by 2025, it could support as many as 100,000 new jobs, according to a 2016 White House estimate.

With a 10.8-foot wingspan, the new fixed-wing Penguin C aircraft are capable of flying up to 20 hours over a 60-mile range while carrying electrical, optical and infrared camera sensors. They promise a leg up for professional UAS pilots-in-training at ERAU, said Professor Mike Wiggins, chair of Aeronautical Science.

"Students currently learn to fly small fixed-wing survey platforms, and beginning in 2020, the military-grade Penguin C aircraft," Mr. Wiggins said. "The goal is to ensure our graduates have the skills they need to run a successful business or operation using all types of UAS in a safe, responsible manner."

Two recent graduates with unique industry experience are playing a key role in the game-changing transformation of ERAU's UAS program.

ny Textron Systems, were recruited by ERAU to help run the university's Penguin C fleet, based on their knowledge of a similar platform called the Aerosonde.

They are working with Alexander Mirot, associate professor of Aeronautical Science, whose Air Force experience provided him with deep knowledge of unmanned aircraft such as the MQ-9 Reaper. The Penguin C's are being tested over controlled airspace near Bunnell, about 25 miles north of the Daytona Beach.

The Penguin C's, purchased from the UAV factory, will become accessible to students in spring 2020.

RETIREMENT WEEKLY

THE UNCOMFORTABLE TRUTH: Retirement CRISIS in America

THE UNCOMFORTABLE TRUTH: Retirement CRISIS in America

Free lunch seminar reveals strategies to help protect up to 100% of your assets with out putting yourself at risk for spend down.

Seven in 10 retirees need some form of assisted living, a shocking amount. Even more extreme than that is this: A retired married couple's chances of one spouse needing some form of assisted living or nursing home care is 91%!

Did you know that 70 percent of retirees will be faced with the challenge of needing some form of assisting living during their retirement. That's right, 7 out of 10 individuals reading this article including yourself and your loved ones. That number is horrifying to me and I had to find a way to help people prepare for this.

My name is Matthew Maniscalco, Vice President and Partner of Page Insurance Agency. I developed our financial department after seeing my dad pass away unexpectedly and seeing my mother struggle, working two jobs to put me through college all because they didn't have a plan. Hard working, loving parents who had a false sense of security about their retirement plan. Whether it be because they were misinformed or unaware...it was because they didn't plan for the unexpected. Because my family said, it'll never happen to us. This was followed by spending 10 years in the corporate world with my hands tied behind my back, I wanted the freedom to truly do what is best for my clients, I wanted the freedom to educate my clients in areas where it was most important. I simply wanted to do what was best for my community! Well, I have that opportunity right now and the time has never been better. I am here to tell you that NO ONE and I mean no one should tell you what your retirement should look like, you should CHOOSE your retirement, you deserve OPTIONS! We work with local attorneys, accountants and other professionals to truly help our clients devise a plan safeguarding their assets and their legacy. All while helping them qualify for state and government benefits that have been rightfully earned which in turn can not only make for a happier retirement but also could cover the rising cost of long term care.

It is truly all about staying relevant to where you are in life, it's about preparing and making sure you have the tools in place to face any obstacle ahead, but most importantly it's about working with the right professionals who will keep you educated on this always changing industry.

We not only help our clients protect their assets with these strategies but we help you create an income you will never outlive, all while protecting their principle from market downturns.

Listen, these benefits are just sitting there! And frankly, you have paid into them your entire lives, someone needs to inform our public about what is available to them!

We see people everyday who have to come out of pocket for long term care, and it is simply because they didn't have a plan in place and if they did it's because that plan wasn't being executed properly.

You deserve options and with the right tools in place you will be provided those options in retirement. Don't be forced to spend all of your hard earned money on long term care, national averages can range over eight thousand dollars a month for some of these facilities. We must be prepared. We must be educated. I meet people everyday who truly believe they have planned well, that they are all set. Well, 9 times out of 10 there is more to know... there is more to do. My most previous client was told they needed to get a revocable trust so that their estate would avoid probate. Well, I'm no attorney, but I can tell you the attorneys we work with, right here in Volusia County, feel as though a revocable trust is not necessarily the best route to avoid probate.

In the opinion of the attorneys we work with, in Florida, a revocable trust is not necessary to avoid probate. What does that mean? If either spouse passes away and both names are on the deed, the house automatically avoids probate. If the IRA or 401k has the spouse as the beneficiary, that avoids probate. If spouse dies and the checking and savings accounts have the spouses name on it, then those avoid probate. The vehicles avoid probate in Florida by simply taking the death certificate to the DMV and it is transferred easily, avoiding probate.

So, in the end what did the revocable trust do? Nothing.

It actually gets worse. When faced with entering an assisted living or nursing home facility, the facility will ask if you have a trust. According to the attorneys we work with, you will have to say yes. You must answer this way because you are likely the grantor and/or trustee of your revocable trust. Because this is true, the facility will simply tell you to open up that trust and begin paying for your care using that money.

There is a better way, my team of professionals utilize these benefits and strategies to protect up to 100% of your assets. Our strategies allow you to answer NO when asked if you own a trust, how you ask? Well, you have to utilize the tools and strategies that are out there and work with a team like ours who is educated on this process. It is as simple as that. These strategies allow you to build a fully protected legacy and nearly all your own money can stay in your control, spending down is NOT the answer. Our team walks you through the benefits you may be eligible for and guides you through the process of qualifying. All while our team of professionals validate the plan to assure your assets are not at risk for spend down. Can you say stress free retirement?

We help you get what you deserve so that you can protect and pass on what you have worked so hard for.

SIMPLE TRUTH:
In my humble opinion, its not only sad but horrifying that some individuals go their entire lives not knowing these benefits are out there to assist them, to protect them. These are safe, simple strategies but you don't hear about them on tv or on the radio, these simple steps protect out clients assets, help them qualify for benefits they didn't even know existed and furthermore protect them from the long term care financial crisis. Now, they may have just asked the wrong questions along the way, they may have relied on the wrong specialist, whatever the reason. This is my chance to educate our community on what's out there for them! I like to compare it to building a house, if you want a roof on your house your not gonna call your plumber.. you want a roofer! The same is true when it comes to financial strategies. You may have had the same financial advisor for 30 years and are afraid to change. But are they giving you the tools you need to succeed? You must think about this. They may have been the right choice during your accumulation stage of your life but now that you are retired a completely different type of strategy needs to be utilized. And in our experience, there isn't a single other group of professionals that know how to get the results we have for our clients.

Our seminar brings awareness to the options you have earned, to the obstacles you must plan for and overall it will simply help you avoid being taken advantage of by a system that can sometimes feel like its rigged against you. We provide you with options and complete control of protecting yourself, your family and your legacy.

Free lunch
Many professionals in this field offer you a "free report" or some other type of giveaway. I'm not going to do that. Instead, I'm simply going to invite you to the all-new free lunch seminar that we are presenting in cooperation with a local independent attorney.

It's free. There is no selling of any kind. No specific products or solutions will be mentioned. I do not allow it. We will simply be providing a very current, live-presentation on the current state of retirement and estate planning.

By the end, if you've heard information that sounds good to you and you want to know more about exactly what it would mean for you and your family, you'll have the chance to sign up for a one-on-one meeting at our offices. Keep in mind that even at that meeting, we will not ask for any personal information. No account numbers, no social security numbers, nothing like that. We will simply ask general questions to determine which solution is the best fit for your situation. You are under no obligation at all. We simply feel strongly that this information that MUST be shared. In the end, we have saved millions for our clients. Now, you're invited to one of our seminars to discover what this means for you and your family.

Readers are invited to the free lunch seminar at the LPGA International presented by Page Insurance and an independent attorney.

A peak behind the curtain: FREE educational lunch seminar reveals "secrets" you must know in retirement

Local agency explains how to leave a legacy and protect your assets for generations to come by using proven strategies all while helping you qualify for federal and state benefits you didn't even know existed. Do not be a victim to the costs of long term care, readers are invited to get this FREE information during their new LIVE presentation on February 26th and 27th.

What follows is a list of very simple strategies our team uses to help our clients avoid spend down and ultimately protect their family as well as their assets. When you attend our free lunch seminar you will learn more detail around these strategies.

- Eliminate market losses: At 70 or older, there is no reason to be in a position where even one of your investments could lose money. If you transition to an insurance retirement product that protects your principal from market losses, it could be a stress-free way to feel secure and provide income. You'll get a portion of the upside gains without ever feeling the pain of a market loss. If the stock market takes a tumble, you'll never lose anything.

- Did you know that the government can tax up to 85% of your Social Security benefit check? We know how to restrict that so that you get much more of the check that is due to you.

- Generate income for life: There are many solutions that could generate payments to you for as long as you live. When combined with other forms of income during retirement such as Social Security or pensions, it is certainly possible to maintain the standard of living you want for life. You may never have to worry about money again.

- Learn from the local attorney the secret to protecting up to 100% of your assets from the 5-year look back and estate recovery: Here we discover that most people are NOT protected. They have taken advice from someone and have purchased a Revocable trust thinking it will make certain their estate avoids probate. Ask the local attorney if a revocable trust is even needed to avoid probate. In fact, according to the attorneys we work with, having this kind of trust may give you a false sense of protection. When it comes time to enter a facility for long-term care, it normally provides no protection for your assets. You will have to spend what you have before you will qualify for any benefits from the state or federal government. The key is, we know how to keep you in control of your assets.

- US Military Veterans can get tax-free money for life: As part of your income plan, if you served in a qualifying war and meet the criteria, you could receive up to $2,169 per month tax-free for life. This little known benefit is funded by the federal government with $5Billion each year and only about 5% of those eligible even apply for it.

Our professionals will help you walk through the process of applying to qualifying.

- Qualify for all state and federal combination benefits that can pay for assisted living or nursing home costs:

Did you know that 7 in 10 people will need some form of long-term care in their lifetime? While you may think that it won't happen to you, are you willing to take that chance?

According to Genworth Financial, the national average for a private room in a nursing home is $8,121.00 per month. This would total $97,452.00 per year.

According to multiple sources, the average stay in a nursing home can be about two and a half years. That means it might cost about $243,630.00.

If you properly protect your assets with the right type of plan, you may qualify for special assistance in paying for the cost of this long-term care. This means that your money can stay with your spouse and children instead of handing it over to the health care facility.

NASCAR veteran wins Daytona 500 second time

For Hometown News newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

Denny Hamlin won the 61st annual Daytona 500 Sunday, Feb. 17, at Daytona International Speedway, his second triumph in "The Great American Race."

In the process, he delivered a special ending to a special day for Joe Gibbs Racing. The organization honored Joe Gibbs' late son J.D. Gibbs on Lap 11, as crew members stood on pit wall as a tribute. J.D. Gibbs, who passed away last month due to a neurological disease, wore No. 11 as a high school football player and later, as a race car driver himself. Mr. Hamlin's car number: 11.

"This one's for J.D.," said

Mr. Hamlin, also the Daytona 500 champion in 2016, who was brought into the Gibbs organization by J.D. Gibbs.

Mr. Hamlin led a top-three sweep for Gibbs' Toyotas. He edged out Kyle Busch by 0.138 seconds. Erik Jones finished third, 0.294 back. Joey Logano, the 2015 Daytona 500 champion and the reigning Monster Energy Series champion, finished fourth.

This victory required "NASCAR Overtime" due to late-race incidents and two red flag periods that extended the race to 207 laps, seven laps past the scheduled distance.

The grandstands, which hold about 101,000 people, were sold out for the fourth year in a row for the 500.

Michael Annett led the last

45 laps Saturday, Feb. 16, to win the NASCAR Racing Experience 300 in the season-opening race for the NASCAR Xfinity Series.

Mr. Annett held off his JR Motorsports teammate Justin Allgaier at the line for his first Xfinity Series victory in 230 starts over an eight-year span. Brandon Jones finished third.

Austin Hill won the NextEra Energy 250 Friday, Feb. 15, as the season-opening race for the NASCAR Gander Outdoors Truck Series also was extended to "NASCAR Overtime."

For Mr. Hill, 24, it was his first career victory in the series. He edged runner-up Grant Enfinger by 0.278 seconds. Ross Chastain finished third.

What? Someone call a translator

Everyone knows fishing, like a lot of other hobbies, is possessed of its own language.

Southern fishing, however, takes on an entirely different dialect. OK, I know some southerners manage to slaughter the king's English without ever picking up a rod (mea culpa) and somehow put a different spin (sorry) on verbal communication.

Case in point. Back in 1968

I was new to the state and fishing with my redneck relatives from Okeechobee (God bless you!). We were fishing at night off a low bridge in Fort Pierce and catching nice 16-inch silver fish as fast as we could drop a bait. My cousins called them snook (rhymes with fluke).

It would be years later before I realized the snook were actually snook. Until this day, people in parts of southern Florida call them by that name.

Some years back, I was fishing with my wife's late uncle, Ed, when I mentioned we were in skinny water. New Jersey Ed laughed and asked if there was fat water? "Of course not," I answered "but there is nervous water." (That happens when a school of small mullet are just under the surface.)

Some people south of the Mason-Dixon Line call those bait fish mellet or mullick. Locally you may hear swint in place of shrimp, but sea lice is the more common reference.

You have probably seen the

FISHING WITH DAN DAN SMITH

TV shows about country people catching fish with their bare hands. That Hillbilly Hand Fishing is usually called "logging" or "noodling for cats" where I come from.

One thing is certain, lots of good ole boys chose to ignore fishing limits. One fellow I met from Bartow told me if the fish has eyes, it is a keeper and will soon meet cornmeal. To some a limit is how many you can get to the truck without being caught by a game warden.

Once up in Palm Coast, I was fishing in a fresh water pond when an outdoors officer appeared. He asked me for my license and I showed it to him. When he asked my Cracker buddy, he just pointed to the plates on his truck. That didn't work.

Fishing tackle gets some special treatment. If an angler says you are fishing with a broom stick, he is telling you your fishing rod is too stiff. To a rebel, a fish that is very strong is a reel fryer. A sea hook is always an anchor.

In South Louisiana where I was raised, a heavy rain storm is called a "frog strangler." When your line breaks, a southerner could say you might'a could'a been bit off.

Southerners know barracuda are the dogs of the sea and if you pull up a half of a snapper, they will tell you it was dog bit. Sushi is always bait and when chum (fish parts) is left out on a hot day, it becomes ripe because of the smell.

A good fishing spot is a honey hole and your own boat is your best friend. Another boat (with lots of people on board) is a cattle hauler. Small bait fish are minners and mudfish are poor man's trout.

In the south you don't cast, you chunk, as in "chunk it over there." A poor performing outboard engine is an anchor and you will hear "no use yanking on the rope that anchor won't start." Biscuits come into play often. A pretty girl with a nice tan is "brown as a biscuit," while a big fish makes your line "tight as a hair in a biscuit."

Well, that should put some of our northern arrivals in better touch with the locals. By the way, if you are down from up north, Jacksonville and the like, you are a "fureigner." Oh yes, there is one other. If you are the type who pulls your boat into someone else's fishing spot you are a ----- No use, they won't print that!

Dan Smith has fished the waters of Volusia County for more than 40 years. Email questions and comments to fishwdan@att.net. His book, "I Swear the Snook Drowned," is available for purchase for $10.95 at (386) 441-7793.

Celebrate the big day with a Margarita smoothie

Since today is Margarita Day, let's celebrate with a Margarita smoothie. My wife had a fit when I mentioned the idea. She is among the millions of Americans that like to juice and make Smoothies for good health. I explained my version was healthy, because it is made with fresh lime juice, good to ward off rickets, ice which helps hydrate your system, heavy cream, because we need some fat in our diet, and Tequila from all natural blue Agave cactus, which, of course, is a natural alcohol spirit that promotes good blood circulation.

Her response was very clear. It's a margarita daiquiri! Finally she agreed it did sound good, except the healthy part.

I decided to do some research on the subject and was pleasantly surprised on how much I learned. Smoothies have been around for a long time. Mediterranean and Eastern cultures have been enjoying pureed fruit drinks for hundreds of years. It wasn't until the early 1900s that Americans began to enjoy the pureed drinks that were popular in other countries.

Safe refrigeration did not come along until around 1930s and, before that time, early refrigerators would leak gas, making them unsafe. With the development of safe refrigeration, it was the perfect time for a gentleman named Stephen Poplawski to invent the blender. Everyone now could enjoy frozen juice and milk blended. You could make a milkshake at home just like at the soda fountains.

In 1935, Fred Osius improved the original blender and invented the Waring Blender, which has influenced pureed drinks for more than 50 years.

Fresh fruit, in season, was first used to create pureed drinks. With the advent of refrigeration and freezers, now even exotic fruits from around the world could be used to create wonderful tasting creations. The health benefits of juicing and smoothies was pioneered by TV fitness star Jack LaLanne. Because of his TV show, he reached millions of Americans when he publicized the benefits of healthy eating.

Many of his recipes are still used today. The name Smoothie was branded by a young teenager named Steve Kuhnau, who opened more than 600

Smoothie King health food stores, offering specially blended fruit as well as lactose-free blends.

Now we know about Smoothies, but what about my idea of a Margarita smoothie? A Margarita recipe uses Tequila, lime juice, a little agave syrup, shaken with ice and served with salt on the rim of a glass.

Now try my Margarita smoothie, and it's healthy too, remember?

My Margarita Smoothie

Ingredients
2 shots Tequila
1 cup half and half
2 cups ice
Juice from 2 limes
1 tablespoon agave syrup

Directions
Mix in blender until smooth. Be careful it will sneak up on you. That's another health benefit, it relaxes the muscles. My wife calls it something else, but I can't repeat it. Enjoy!

A bad year for tomatoes at Daytona Playhouse

For Hometown News newsdy@hometownnewsol.com
Daytona Playhouse will present "It's A Bad Year for Tomatoes" from Feb. 22 to March 3 at 100 Jessamine Blvd., Daytona Beach.

Glamorous Myra (Kellie Jenkins), fed up with fame after her long career in TV, retreats to a small town in Vermont. Myra is planning to live anonymously, write her juicy autobiography and grow her own tomatoes.

The complaints of her lover agent, Tom (Peter Gutierrez), that she is wasted in this backwater town, fall on deaf ears. That is until she gets to know her neighbors. Meet Reba (Tara Kissling) and Cora (Ruth Parsons), the Welcome Ladies, full of gossip and lots of questions; terrifying woodcutter

"It's A Bad Year for Tomatoes" at Daytona Playhouse Feb. 22 to March 3 at 100 Jessamine Blvd., Daytona Beach. Myra (seated) Kellie Jenkins deals with her nosy neighbors Reba (Tara Kissling) and Cora (Ruth Parsons).

Piney (Barry Kite), impressively bearded, smelling of the great outdoors, and Willa Mae Wilcox (Mitzi Sparks), the widow who put a voodoo curse on her husband.

With these colorful characters inviting themselves over at every hour of the day, Myra gets no time to write, so she invents a dangerous, mentally disturbed sister, to frighten away her neighbors. But Myra soon finds herself in a bigger pickle when she is accused of murder. John Patrick's ridiculously clever comedy, with brisk and uproarious dialogue is a show no one will want to miss. Directed by Larrie Tiffany.

Tickets are $20 for adults, $18 for seniors 55 and older and $8 for youth 18 and younger, and available at Daytona-Playhouse.org or (386) 255-2431.

Celebrate art in Volusia

For Hometown News
newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

The Volusia County Cultural Alliance will celebrate arts and culture in during "ArtsWeek Volusia" Feb. 22 to March 3.

Showcasing the many arts and cultural institutions in the county, ArtsWeek Volusia includes art openings, music events, theater and film.

"This is a unique opportunity to sample some of the varied and rich cultural activities found in our area," said VCCA President Stephanie Mason-Teague.

The scheduled activities begin with an Arts Advocacy Roundtable at 10 a.m. Monday, Feb. 25, at the Cici and Hyatt Brown Museum of Art in Daytona Beach.

Facilitators will be Malinda Horton, executive director of the Florida Association of Museums, and Nancy Maddox, Cultural Council of Volusia County.

Free to VCCA members, it includes a box lunch. Participants must register in advance by emailing ArtsWeek@volusiaculture.org.

VCCA's annual dinner Wednesday, Feb. 27 features a "State of The Arts" address as well as awards for leadership and support.

The Tippen Davidson Award for the Arts, named for the late newspaper owner, will be awarded to Judy Thompson. Retired from a long career in law and business, Ms. Thompson is an active community volunteer. She served on the boards of the Museum of Art-DeLand and the DeLand Fall Festival of the Arts, and received the Volusia County League of Cities 2012 Citizen of the Year for Cultural Enhancement.

The Brady-Coolidge Award for excellence in volunteerism, given in honor of longtime local nonprofit executives Ann Brady and Jennifer McInnes Coolidge, will be awarded to John Wilton, an artist and arts educator who serves on the Volusia County Cultural Council and on the board of the Museum of Art-DeLand.

Tickets to the dinner, which will be at the Sanborn Events Center in DeLand, are $50 for members, $60 for non-members, and $550 for a table of eight, and are available at volusiaculture.org/events/annual-dinner or by calling (386) 756-6326.

Rounding out ArtsWeek Volusia will be an "Arts EXPO" featuring VCCA member organizations and individual artists from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 2, at the Gemini Springs State Park in conjunction with the Gateway Center for the Arts Youth Celebration of the Arts.

Individual artists and cultural organizations are invited to set up under the VCCA tent. While the event is free for VCCA members who wish to participate, they must register in advance. Email requests to ArtsWeek@volusiaculture.org by Feb. 25.

Plants that can help cure everyday ailments

As you may or may not know, many of the plants we use and see in everyday life can also be used for medicinal purposes.

Bear in mind that the topics I am going to cover are mainly for entertainment purposes and should never be used in place of standard medical procedures.

Probably one of the most widely-used plants for medicinal purposes is the garlic clove. The bulbs can be used either raw or cooked and adds excellent flavor to many of our favorite dishes. Garlic is both a flavorful and nutritious addition to the diet.

There is not much of the garlic plant that is not used. In addition to the bulb itself, the plant stems are also used in flavoring a wide variety of dishes.

Besides being used as a spice, garlic has a long folk history of being used to treat a wide variety of ailments.

Garlic has been known to treat such skin ailments as ringworm and candida. Garlic has been said to have excellent germicidal, antiseptic and parasitical properties. So, the next time you cut your finger, bring out the garlic.

GARDEN NOOK

Not only does garlic have a positive effect on the outside of your body, but it also has some great internal uses, too. Folklore has said garlic has anti-cancer properties, but probably the most common use for this tasty spice is the effect it has on your heart and blood system. If you look at the statistics, incidents of heart problems are much lower in Italy than in the U.S. It is also a known fact Italians eat lots of garlic. That may be one of the reasons for this low incidence of heart disease.

Since no part of this plant is watered, the juice is used as an antiseptic to treat cuts and abrasions.

Watermelon has been an American favorite at almost every picnic and outing for years and years. The seeds for the plant can be sowed any time after the threat for cold weather has passed. For us, that is probably sometime in early to mid-March. The plants do best in light to medium sandy soil that is well drained.

Watermelon will not grow in total shade and they do not do well in acidic soil. In our area, it would be a good idea to add some lime to the soil if you are going to try raising your own. The lime will neutralize and sweeten the soil, which will give you a much better chance of success.

The watermelon fruit has a delicate sweetness and the fruit is high in pectin. Pectin has been said to protect the body from radiation. The watermelon seed can be used as a diuretic and has been used to treat conditions of the urinary tract. The fruit is also very high in lycopene. This substance has been said to help protect the heart against heat attacks. The seeds are very oily and can be used in the making of soaps.

Joe Zelenak has more than 30 years experience in gardening and landscape. Send e-mails to hometowngarden@gmail.com or visit his website hometowngarden.com.

Back to the '50s, back to the prom

For Hometown News
newsdy@hometownnewsol.com

The Little Theatre of New Smyrna Beach will present "The Marvelous Wonderettes" from Feb. 22 to March 10, at 726 E. Third Ave.

The play takes you back to the 1958 Springfield High School prom where Betty Jean Reynolds, Cindy Lou Huffington, Missy Miller and Suzy Simpson, four girls with hopes and dreams as big as their crinoline skirts and voices to match, are called on to perform.

As we learn about the Wonderettes' lives and loves, we are treated to their performances of such classic '50s and '60s songs as "Lollipop," "Dream Lover," "Stupid Cupid," "Lipstick on Your Collar," "Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me," "It's My Party" and "It's In His Kiss (The Shoop Shoop Song)."

Each girl has her own personality and issues, and in between music numbers they reveal their insecurities, love interests and jealousies. Betty Jean is the class clown and tomboy who loses her boyfriend to Cindy Lou, who knows she is the prettiest girl in school. Missy is a Type A personality and overachiever infatuated with her music teacher. She is best friends with Suzy, a stereotypical ditzy blonde.

The second act of the show, set 10 years later at the girls' high school reunion, brings the Wonderettes back together to divulge how the years have molded and changed their perspectives on love, for better or worse. In 1958, the girls were young, impressionable teenagers, full of love and optimism for what the future holds. Ten years later, they have grown more experienced in the ways of men, and are just beginning to realize that love, without respect, cannot last.

tion of "The Marvelous Wonderettes," directed by Larry Schnabel, is an upbeat trip down memory lane and a non-stop musical "blast from the past."

Tickets are $25 for adults, $24 for seniors and $15 for students, and available at nsb-players.org or by calling the box office at (386) 423-1246. The box office is open from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday to Friday and two hours prior to every performance.
