Gulf red snapper season opens Oct. 1

The recreational harvest of red snapper will open Oct. 1 in state and federal waters of the Gulf of Mexico. In state waters, which are from shore to 9 nautical miles in the Gulf, the season will remain open through Oct. 21, closing on Oct. 22. In federal waters, which are from 9 nautical miles out to 200 nautical miles, the season will remain open through Oct. 14, closing on Oct. 15.

Anglers are required to use circle hooks and dehooking devices when fishing for any reef species, including red snapper, in Gulf of Mexico state and federal waters. The requirement to use venting tools in federal waters was removed on Sept. 3.

Incumbents, challengers face off for city council seats

By Jessica Creagan
jcreagan@hometownnewsol.com

VERO BEACH — On Nov. 5, six candidates will vie for two Vero Beach City Council seats during the general election.

Both incumbents, Vice Mayor Tracy Carroll and Councilman Dick Winger, are trying to retain their seats for another term. They are joined in the race by Warren Winchester, former Vero Beach councilman and mayor, Brian Heady, former city councilman, and political newcomers Amelia Graves and Joseph Guffanti.

There will be no early voting opportunities this election cycle. Precinct locations will be listed on the Indian River County Supervisor of Elections website.

Each candidate was contacted and asked to participate in a questionnaire and their responses are included below in no particular order. Attempts to reach Mrs. Carroll went unanswered.

Hometown News does not endorse candidates for political office, but instead, provides information about each candidate for voters to make an educated decision.

Q: What were some of the deciding factors in choosing to run for a seat on the city council this election cycle?

A: I want to ensure that the sale of the power system is in the long-range best interest of the city. I'd like to see a proforma on a budget without the electric contribution in order to understand better the financial impact on the taxpayer.

Q: What are two top issues you feel the city council should address with urgency? How would you handle them?

A: The two top issues are the power system sale and the fiscal year 2014 budget. I'd want several briefings on the Florida Power & Light deal in order to decide if it is good for the city taxpayers.

Q: How would you describe Vero Beach's interaction with local business owners? Is there anything you would improve?

A: We have very good relations with most businessmen. The city

Crime prevention highlighted in outdoor event

By Jessica Creagan

INDIAN RIVER COUNTY — For the 15th year, local law enforcement agencies are bringing attention to crime and drug prevention with National Night Out.

The outdoor event, held in two locations in Indian River County on Oct. 1 from 5:30-7:30 p.m., is designed to strengthen neighborhood spirit through community, business and local law enforcement partnership by generating support for and participation in local anti-crime and personal safety efforts.

Although this is the 15th year Indian River County has participated in National Night Out, it is the 30th annual, said Deputy Roberta Barker with the Indian River County Sheriff's Office crime prevention unit.

The Indian River County Sheriff's Office and the Vero Beach Police Department will be at Riverside Park in Vero Beach, providing information for the public along with other agencies and vendors, Deputy Barker said.

"We want to send a message to all the criminals out there to let them know we're watching," she said.

Helicopters and other law enforcement vehicles will be on display, and K9 officers will also participate in the event.

Food vendors and other businesses with crime prevention activities or tools will also be at the park, said Deputy Barker.

The Sebastian Police Department, along with the Indian River County Sheriff's Office, will have a simultaneous event in Sebastian's Riverview Park, said Officer Steve Marcinik with the Sebastian Police Department.

"We are asking our residents to spend the evening outside with their neighbors, local businesses, law enforcement and the General Federation of Women's Clubs Sebastian Woman's Club," Officer Marcinik said in a press release.

K9 demonstrations, child fingerprinting, blood drive, non-perishable food drive, fire trucks and more will be at the event, Officer Marcinik said.

When neighborhoods are organized and watching out for each other, it sends a message to potential criminals, he said.

Holmes Regional's Firstflight helicopter and the three-time world champion "Second Amendment" racing speedboat will also on be display at Riverview Park.

For more information about National Night Out at Riverside Park in Vero Beach, call Deputy Barker at (772) 770-5028.

Businesses recognized for positive impact

By Jessica Creagan

INDIAN RIVER COUNTY — Big businesses and small businesses alike were recognized for their contributions for the community and economic stimulus last week during the Indian River County Chamber of Commerce's industry appreciation awards.

Vero Marine Center, Rock City Gardens and Kimley-Horn and Associates were each honored as the chamber's 2013 small, medium and large Company of the Year, respectively, based on employment levels.

"The awards event is an important part of the chamber's business retention program and job creation," said Bill Penney, president of Marine Bank and Trust and chamber of commerce chairman, in a press release.

New fundraisers planned for recreation favorites

By Jessica Creagan

VERO BEACH — The new city budget may have dropped some activities and scaled down on some services, but with the community's help, none of Vero Beach's recreation favorites will disappear.

A new committee, Fundraising for Fun, constituted of several recreation commissioners and interested members of the public, has formed and is undertaking the task of creating fundraisers and recruiting donors to help keep the recreation department operating as it has been in years past.

The Vero Beach city recreation department's budget has been stretched to the breaking, and funds for activities such as a youth circus, summer camps, outdoor fountains and other traditional Vero Beach recreation activities are just not there, said Beverly Paris, a member of the committee.

As the community is learning about the needs of the recreation department however, it's looking more and more like beloved activities will be saved this year, she said.

On Oct. 17 from 5- 9 p.m., Spring Hill Suites in Vero Beach is hosting an art show and proceeds from the sale will benefit children's summer camps.

There will be original and prints for sale, so there will be something for everyone's budget, said Sue Dinenno, chairwoman of the committee and a recreation commission member.

The next big event is scheduled for Dec. 6 from 5:30- 9 p.m. and it will be

HEALTHCARE SPOTLIGHT

Doctor focuses on total family care

Melvyn Lobo, M.D., MPH, has wished to be a doctor as far back as he can remember. He particularly enjoys being a Family Practice provider at Indian River Medical Associates, Pointe West, as it allows him to interact and care for members of the family at any age. Dr. Lobo relocated to the area in September, 2012 and began work with Indian River Medical Center in October, 2012. Dr. Lobo graduated from medical school in Karachi, Pakistan in 1984. He worked for the Aga Khan University Hospital in the Department of Community Health Sciences from 1987 through 1994.

In 1990, he was the recipient of the Faculty Development Scholarship and earned a Master of Public Health degree at Johns Hopkins School of Public Health in 1991. Subsequently, he returned to the AKUH and assumed the position of program director of the Urban Primary care program in five squatter settlements of Karachi. In 1994, Dr. Lobo immigrated with his family to the U.S. He worked with the Kaiser Permanente Division of Research and later did his residency in Family Medicine at St. Clare's Hospital in Schenectady, N.Y. He worked in the area in upstate New York until 2012, when he moved to Florida and joined Indian River Medical Center.

Dr. Asha Shah, the other physician in the Primary Care office, was a fellow resident at St. Clare's Hospital. She joined IRMC two years ago and was very enthusiastic about the care and vision of the organization. This prompted Dr. Lobo to apply to IRMC. "Thus far, I believe all my patients are from the Indian River County," Dr. Lobo said. "People who are permanent residents of the area, and many who spend part of the year here and part time in some of the northern states, are patients. However in the Walk-in Care office, though, most are from Indian River County."

The common cases treated in Primary Care are the chronic health problems of arthritis, Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease, asthma, diabetes, hypertension, hyperlipidemia, and dementia, among others. They also see a fair share of acute respiratory, gastrointestinal, urinary infections and skin problems. The Primary care clinic offers care (preventative and management of acute and chronic illness) to children and adults, including women's health and geriatric care. Minor emergencies are handled in the office. Other emergencies are referred to the hospital. The office does what is needed to stabilize the patient while waiting for the emergency responders to arrive to transport the patient to the hospital. The office uses the Electronic Medical Record for purposes of documentation in patient charts. The EMR allows the doctors to order laboratory test and imaging studies and review reports, communicate electronically with pharmacies for ordering and refilling medication, and facilitate referrals to medical specialists. Preventive care is very important and there is much the patient can do to keep healthy such as eating a healthy diet and exercising regularly. In Florida, due to sun exposure, Dr. Lobo overemphasizes the importance of using sunscreen. Attention to regular cancer screening tests like colonoscopy, mammogram, and pap smears are also important. Acute illness will require medical attention. Overuse of antibiotics and drug resistance is becoming a tremendous problem, and residents should educate themselves that not all infectious processes need antibiotics to achieve a cure.

Indian River Medical Associates

Along with Dr. Lobo and Dr. Shah, the clinic has three support staff. Dr. Lobo also works in the Walk-in Care clinic on a rotation basis with three other physicians. The Walk-in Care clinic has an office manager, five support staff and a pharmacist who runs the Coumadin clinic. Dr. Lobo's office is located at 1960 Pointe West Dr., Suite No. 101, Vero Beach. Hours of operation are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Pointe West Walk-in Care located next door at 1960 Pointe West Dr., Suite No.102, Vero Beach, has hours of operation 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. on Saturday.

loads of fun while benefitting the Royal Palm Pointe Park fountain, said Ms. Paris.

Instead of the traditional Christmas tree lighting ceremony and holiday celebration, the community will be invited to participate in "The Holiday Rec Run-3296-GO" followed by a large party at the fountain with live music, crafts, vendors, contests and more, she said.

The funds raised at the event will be allocated to open the popular fountain on Sundays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The fountain is currently closed on Sundays.

The "3296-GO" run will be a 2 mile timed sprint beginning and ending at the entrance to Royal Palm Pointe and Indian River Boulevard, said committee member John Sammartano, a fitness instructor and trainer of JAS Fitness.

Runners will be given glow sticks to help light their way along the route and bring a festive atmosphere to the proceedings. The entry fee has not yet been established.

The holiday party will include the annual tree lighting, an ornament craft for children, a holiday boat parade, a Santa Claus meet and mingle, entertainment, food, a beer garden, silent auction and more all in the name of helping the fountain.

Sponsors are already lining up to be a part of this new event, Ms. Paris said.

"When people hear it's for the fountain, they really want to help out," she said.

Other events are in the works to benefit Leisure Square and the beach parks, Ms. Dinenno said.

Mr. Sammartano said he was very happy to see all the support from businesses and individuals in the area for such positive elements in the community in times that could be looked upon as negative and he hopes more cities will follow Vero Beach's example and pull together to make great things happen.

Donations and sponsorships are welcome to help underwrite the costs of implementing the events. For more information, contact Mr. Slezak at (772) 567-2144 or Ms. Paris at (772) 234-4412.

Q: Vero Beach is part of the Treasure Coast region. What are some "treasures" in Vero Beach that make it unique and special to you?

A: Our ability to keep and enhance the old such as the Heritage Center, Waldo's heritage and to the fact that we don't have overbuilt sky scrapers. Low density/low rise is a characteristic we should stick to.

Q: What makes you the best candidate for the job?

A: My experience as a council member and mayor, and my involvement in the many boards and commissions of the city.

Name: Amelia Graves

Previous public office held: None

Q: What were some of the deciding factors in choosing to run for a seat on the city council this election cycle?

A: I want to conserve Vero's unique heritage and stand up for our community values.

Lately, certain members of city council have not been good stewards of the legacy that they have been entrusted to protect. This is a wonderful city and there is no reason is shouldn't remain that way.

It is incumbent upon the city council to serve in the best interest of the city of Vero Beach.

Q: What are two top issues you feel the city council should address with urgency? How would you handle them?

A: There are a lot of issues the city council needs to be addressing, none of which will wait for the others to be solved.

The Police Department is one. We must work to retain the wonderful men and women who risk their lives to serving the residents of Vero Beach. As a community we must decide together what we value and work to maintain that institution.

Furthermore, we must look at the unintended consequences of using tax dollars for private contractors. City tax dollars should not be leaving to be spent in other towns and counties. Our tax dollars should stay local, and be spent local.

Also, one of the biggest issues that must be addressed from multiple angles is the Indian River Lagoon. It is a huge economic driver of Vero Beach. The city should not hesitate in moving over to the county's fertilizer ordinance. It provides continuity for landscape businesses and is one immediate step we can take as a community to lessen our impact on the lagoon. There is no "one magic bullet" solution to the lagoon, but this is the first of many steps the city can take towards stopping further degradation of our river.

Q: How would you describe Vero Beach's interaction with local business owners? Is there anything you would improve?

A: I think the city of Vero Beach takes great pride in the quality of our locally owned businesses.

With the creation of business improvement districts the city can help support growth and development of areas of commerce around the city. Just look at the wonderful businesses established throughout Vero, from Ocean Drive to Historic Downtown.

Promoting local buying initiatives can keep our businesses thriving.

Q: Vero Beach is part of the Treasure Coast region. What are some "treasures" in Vero Beach that make it unique and special to you?

A: This is a really hard question to answer in the allotted space - I could go on forever, seriously. However, there are some unique "treasures" at risk in our city.

Neither Memorial Island, one of the greatest tributes to veterans on the East Coast, or Crestlawn Cemetery, where so many of the city's founders and our loved ones are buried, are in the city charter.

One of my first acts as a council member would be to move for a charter amendment that these "treasures," along with our city dog park, be included in our city charter to protect and honor our heritage.

Q: What were some of the deciding factors in choosing to run for a seat on the city council this election cycle?

A: For more than 20 years, it's been a tradition for city councils to ignore the best interests of the public. Despite hopes for change, I've been constantly disappointed. I believe I have the ability to effect change.

Q: What are two top issues you feel the city council should address with urgency? How would you handle them?

A: The top issue is the poor financial condition of the city. All else is a derivative of that. A liberal application of thriftiness is the only way to end the flamboyant and extravagant expenditure of the taxpayers' dollars.

Q: How would you describe Vero Beach's interaction with local business owners? Is there anything you would improve?

A: The business and commercial property owners are those most capable of rating how the city has helped them. They pay taxes and must have a voice in how their contribution is spent. I most certainly will sincerely listen to their ideas and input.

Q: Vero Beach is part of the Treasure Coast region. What are some "treasures" in Vero Beach that make it unique and special to you?

A: The weather, the Atlantic Ocean, and the quiet nature of the community.

Q: What makes you the best candidate for the job?

A: I will bring honesty, integrity, openness, and common sense to the council. My effort to involve the public into the governmental process will be most formidable.

Q: What were some of the deciding factors in choosing to run for a seat on the city council this election cycle?

A: Wasteful spending of the current city council. Hostile attitude by some toward public.

Q: What are two top issues you feel the city council should address with urgency? How would you handle them?

A: Abuse of power by council members and the sale of the electric utility. I would censure council members who are abusive and finalize the electric issue.

Q: How would you describe Vero Beach's interaction with local business owners? Is there anything you would improve?

A: I am not a business owner so I have no firsthand knowledge but I am not hearing wonderful things. Is there anything I would change? Of course. Government should be friendly not hostile to citizens and businesses.

Q: Vero Beach is part of the Treasure Coast region. What are some "treasures" in Vero Beach that make it unique and special to you?

College expands bachelor degree programs

For Hometown News
NewsFP@hometownnewsol.com

FORT PIERCE — Indian River State College received unanimous approval from the State Board of Education on Sept. 17 to launch new Bachelor's Degree programs in accounting, elementary education and health care management, expanding IRSC's baccalaureate programs to 23.

Classes will begin Jan. 8, 2014, and applications for the new programs will be accepted beginning Sept. 30.

Over 70 area employers and community leaders wrote letters to the Florida Board of Education supporting IRSC's program proposals.

Major accounting firms throughout the region submitted letters of support stressing the need for local training in this field.

Administrators of area hospitals and health care facilities indicated they would be eager to hire IRSC graduates with a Bachelor's Degree in Health Care Management.

The superintendents of area school districts expressed support of the Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education.

"The School District of Indian River County is in full support of the development of the Baccalaureate Degree Program in elementary education so that access to affordable, baccalaureate-level, and post-secondary education in our region may continue to grow. This new addition will be very favorably received by our employees, students and the members of the community," said Dr. Frances J. Adams, superintendent, School District of Indian River County.

All IRSC Bachelor's degree programs are fully accredited, meet Florida statutory requirements for Baccalaureate education and provide a strong foundation for graduate study.

IRSC began offering four-year degree programs in 2008 and 1,271 students have graduated with Bachelor's Degrees since the program's inception.

For more information, call (866) 792-4772 or visit www.irsc.edu.

Q: What were some of the deciding factors in choosing to run for a seat on the city council this election cycle?

A: To "Keep Our Vero, Vero." Where the best of old Florida is nurtured, filled with community pride, but not boastful or arrogant, with well-kept private property and public land, where people work together on issues. A place that embraces a respect for the natural environment and its history, that does not succumb to trends, but establishes its own image and where you can fall in love on your first visit and ultimately make your home.

Q: What are two top issues you feel the city council should address with urgency? How would you handle them?

A: No. 1, to "Keep Our Vero, Vero," see above answer.

No. 2, to complete the sale of the electric utility sooner, rather than later.

The attorneys are costing ratepayer's nearly $100,000 per month and rate payers are paying about $2 million per month for power than they would if they receive competitive power costs.

I will continue to push both in public comment and behind the scenes for a resolution rather than accept inaction.

Q: How would you describe Vero Beach's interaction with local business owners? Is there anything you would improve?

A: I voted to maintain our contribution and interaction with Main Street Vero Beach. Our interaction with the beachside business community is excellent.

I do think we must not allow transient rentals in residential neighborhoods to drain business from our hotels and motels.

Q: Vero Beach is part of the Treasure Coast region. What are some "treasures" in Vero Beach that make it unique and special to you?

A: There are three things that are wonderful: our beaches, the Atlantic Ocean and the Indian River Lagoon on which I spend a lot of time. And the "jewel" of the Treasure Coast, which is the city of Vero Beach.

Q: What makes you the best candidate for the job?

A: Long experience in complex business situations; in-depth knowledge of the city of Vero Beach and its enterprises—including the electric utility and the effort to sell it; a commitment to conduct city business in a civil manner, and do what the people want.

An example of this doing what the people want was opting out of 7/50.

Homicide connected to large quantity of drugs

Additional suspects believed to be involved, one arrest made for possession of a firearm by convicted felon

INDIAN RIVER COUNTY — The fatal shooting on Sept. 20 of St. Lucie County resident, Dwight Snaith, resulted in a search warrant at the residence where the incident occurred.

Detectives were searching for evidence of the homicide and found a large quantity of drugs.

Upon service of the search warrant, investigators found the following items; 2 lb. 6oz of marijuana, Estimated street value is $7,600; Approximately 30 ounces of cocaine and crack cocaine. Estimated street value is $35,000; 10 grams of clonazepan pills, (90) pills. Estimated street value $1,000; $658 dollars in cash; a Keltec .380 pistol which was confirmed as stolen; a Highpoint 9 mm pistol; a Davis .380 pistol; and a Nefgardner .22 revolver.

The second subject, Tyrell Bennett, who was also shot Friday afternoon, was released from Lawnwood on Saturday. Detectives are continuing their investigation but they now believe that there were additional shooters and it is unclear at this time if Bennett was involved in the shooting or a victim of crossfire.

Further, initial reports noted that Mr. Bennett and Mr. Snaith were in an argument over a woman but detectives now feel that additional subjects may have been involved. The reported dispute may have been related to drugs or gambling and Bennett's specific involvement remains under investigation.

Witnesses reported that Deandre Lucas Love, 31, of Indian River County was at the scene of the shooting and was in possession of a firearm. Mr. Love was charged with possession of a firearm by a convicted felon and arrested Saturday. He posted $25,000 bond on Sunday and was released from the Indian River County Jail. His participation in the shooting incident remains under investigation.

Ways to reach 'the Internet'

COMPUTE THIS
SEAN MCCARTHY

Ubiquitous. Pronunciation: \yü-bi-kw_-t_s\ adjective: existing or being everywhere at the same time : constantly encountered : widespread.

If ever there was something worthy of being considered ubiquitous, I would have to say that Internet Explorer certainly fits that description. You'll find a copy of internet Explorer in one form or another on just about every personal computer out there and you may even find a copy on a Mac.

Ask many users what that "blue e" is on their desktop and more often than not you'll hear something like, "Oh, that's my Internet," or, "that's the Internet." While a slightly more seasoned computer user might reply with "that's Internet Explorer, my web browser."

Ok, so the guy who said it was his web browser is right but what does it matter? What's the benefit of knowing the difference, I mean is it worth the time to even sort out?

I think it's worth the time to understand the difference. You see, Internet Explorer really isn't the Internet any more than your living room window is "the outside." You could say you look through Internet Explorer and see out into the internet similarly to the way you look through the window to see the outside.

Or, you could think of Internet Explorer as kind of like "TV" for the internets – only in Internet Explorer you go to different web sites instead of different channels.

So, if Internet Explorer is just a tool that lets you see the internet then it would stand to reason that there are other programs that will let you do the same thing. And yes, there are other programs that do the same thing, lots of them.

There are actually a bunch of different web browsers out there with Internet Explorer holding the top spot and a program named Mozilla Firefox in the number two slot.

Ask someone what that Mozilla Firefox icon is and you may hear something like "Oh, that's my other Internet, it's not the same as the other one."

And in a way that's right, Firefox isn't the same as Internet Explorer like a Magnavox TV isn't the same as a Sanyo. But the internet that you look at with Firefox is the same internet that you look at with Internet Explorer.

But (I know some of you are thinking) why then, if Firefox and Internet Explorer both are looking out at the same Internet, do I see something totally different when I launch Firefox than I do when I launch Internet Explorer?

The answer to that is simply that the "start page" or "home page" for each program is probably set to different websites. That means you'll see different pages on start up. I know that can cause a ton of confusion so I always try to make sure both Firefox and Internet Explorer have their start pages set the same.

Changing the start page is similar in both programs and only requires a few steps. In Internet Explorer click the Tools pull down menu and then click Internet Options. A smaller page should open with the General Tab selected. The address you see in the Home Page… field is the web page that is automatically called up when you launch Internet Explorer. This page can be set to any page you want just by typing the web address in this field. Make a note of the address that is in there and (or highlight the address and hit CTRL+C if you want to get fancy) then open Mozilla Firefox.

Firefox has similar controls so look for the Tools Pull down menu and then click Options. Click the "Main" button and that should show you the start page that Firefox is set to use. Erase what's in the home page field and type in the address that you made a note of in Internet Explorer (or, press CTRL+V if you are trying the fancy method) and then click the OK Button.

There, now you set both Internet Explorer and Firefox to the same start page, now regardless of whether you click Explorer or Firefox, you will get "the same Internet."

Re: Help for animal victim

It seems very unlikely that, "There is a creep who walks around the neighborhood with a gun." Is it possible that, in spite of your best efforts to confine your animals to your property, they are escaping to defecate and urinate on other people's property?

Keep cats inside

There are too many perils outdoors for cats. There are too many ill meaning people, cat diseases and the like. Indoor cats live longer and healthier lives. With a little patience, an outdoor cat will adapt to living indoors and becoming an indoor cat. Who is going to help was the posed question. The answer is that the only one to help, or who cares is the actual owner of the cat. The owner can also keep the cat inside so it can be safe from predators, of the human and animal kind, and it can be well supervised.

Violence in Chicago

I watched the news and 20 people were shot on streets of Chicago, including a three year old boy. I've heard enough. It got me thinking… we need to find a constitutional attorney willing to take on the NRA and find a way to file sanctions that say if the NRA continue to support manufacturing of high capacity magazines and assault weapons in the U.S. we file these sanctions: You will no longer be allowed to make any political contributions to any political official currently in office or running for office in this country, and also you must pay cities and families retributions for cost of adding more law enforcement, families for their losses and whatever else. Also, the U.S. administration must hold NRA accountable for any deaths due to assault weapons. It's time. Are there any constitutional attorneys willing to take this on? Remember D.C., Columbine, Newtown, Aurora, Tuscon and now Chicago. Enough is too much

Stop having babies; visit the library

Well for those who are having kids just to be on welfare, you need to visit the public library and read on history. Abe Lincoln and Dwight Eisenhower were both republicans and came from dirt poor upbringing's, and look what they created for themselves. And yes, there are many more great people in this nation that rose from poverty. Welfare is not meant to be a way of life. Produce a few kids so you can pay your bills… that is just wrong. And what's even worse is the lack of parental guidance the new young lives get, thus creating crime from the poverty there born into. Yes, so why don't you try and invest into your education instead of finding a guy to get you pregnant and leaving his name off the birth certificate so you can ride the welfare band wagon. The country is hurting enough without adding insult to injury.

Put homework first

There should be no television until the homework is done. Is this the rule at your home?

More re teachers are reporting that more students are not doing all of their homework assignments. By not doing the homework, students are frequently unable to take part in the class lesson. Failing to do homework regularly results in poor or failing grades. What are parents to do about this growing problem?

As a parent, it is almost impossible to know what homework your child is expected to complete. If you ask your child, the most frequent responses will be, "I don't have any" or "I did it in school." So what is a parent to do?

As a parent, you need to stay informed. Staying in touch with the teachers will provide you with what is expected of your child and how he or she is meeting those expectations. So if the teachers have indicated that homework is a problem, what is a parent to do?

Tell your child that an hour has been established that will be used for study whether they have homework or not. Tell your child that they can review previous work or drills, straighten their notebook or re-read a chapter. In short, they will use that time to study.

As a parent, you need to take charge. You need to establish a routine at home to help your child be successful in school. You need to provide the environment for homework, one that is free from distractions and with basic resource material at hand.

You need to be there, or nearby, to offer assistance, encouragement and monitoring as needed. Make it a rule in your home. No television until homework is finished.

Blaming overpopulation

I am 42 years old and have lived in this area all my life. I recently have become unemployed. I have been trying to find a job for six months. I have been all over the city looking and then some. My family and I are soon to be homeless. I have never been without a job. It's a shame that due to overpopulation I can't find employment. I can't find anyone to help. I blame the housing market for the decline in jobs.

Fear of Russia

I have a great deal of fear for this nation. In 1863, Russia had blockaded our west and east coast to prevent the British from aiding the south against Lincoln and the GAR. And for denying the Bankers loans at 30 percent, he minted his own greenbacks and for this he was assassinated. At 86, the legacy we leave for the young people does not look good or the future looks bloodier than it is. I support the Constitution and the Bill of rights, that is where my loyalty and patriotism lies and not on the corrupt men who control us. Today we may have to hope that Russia will again help the American people return to peace and the rule of constitutional law.

Don't trust the Russians

It amazes me that first, we allow Vladimir Putin to trash our president and his administration. I didn't realize freedom of speech meant presidents of other countries could bad mouth our president in our most popular new paper. And then, we trust that Putin knows best. Can we really trust him when it comes to a war against Syria? How come all of a sudden Syria is tucking its tail and letting the U.N. know everything about its chemicals of mass destruction? Does no one else think that it's a bit fishy? It smells like communism and traitors.

Disagree with bike riding laws

I'm 75 years young. I remember when I was a kid and we were always taught to ride bicycles on the side of the street facing traffic, the same way as walking. This way we could see vehicles coming toward us. If a car swerved, we had a chance to get out of the way.

On April 2, 1996, my son was riding his bicycle home from work in a bicycle path. It was night, but he had all his lights on and a mirror. A car came up behind him, and — that quick — swerved and ran over him and killed him. It was a hit and run but witnesses saw what happened. The driver was drunk and said he never knew he hit someone.

If my son would have been riding toward traffic, he would have had a chance to avoid being killed. We see so many people riding bicycles with mirrors on their helmet, on their glasses and on top or under their handlebars. These are all a distraction because they're more concerned with what's behind them. If you ride toward the traffic, that's all you need to be concerned about. Bicycles don't have motor power and shouldn't ride with traffic and moving with traffic. Running with traffic is not safe. Riding toward traffic is safe.

Other people's accidents raise my rates?

I am disabled, yet I can drive. I even have a safe drivers' record, and I took a defensive test to keep my insurance rate down. I got a letter from my company; and well, guess what, my rate went up another $37. So I called, and they told me that because Florida has had more car accidents is the reason why they increased my bill.

Now, that does not make sense to me, because I did not cause these accidents! I don't even drive that much, so why is my rate increased because of other people, who are either on their cell phone talking or texting while driving? What is going to be done about this? So far, I believe nothing!

If other people are causing accidents, then their insurance should be raised, not us safe drivers! We should send letters and emails to our governor and put a stop to this, right now! People, we need to stop the insanity of these companies robbing us.

PORT ST. LUCIE — Burlington, a leading national off-price retailer, is opening a brand new location in Port St. Lucie at the Shoppes at St. Lucie West located at 1363 NW St. Lucie West Blvd. on Oct. 11.

The retailer will host a ribbon cutting ceremony to celebrate jobs, community, and of course, shopping. Mayor JoAnn Faiella will join the store leadership and associates to officially open this new location.

Along with the ceremony, Burlington will host its premier philanthropic program, Burlington Gives Back. This program is dedicated to donating new merchandise to local charitable agencies in communities surrounding Burlington locations.

The retailer's national nonprofit partner, Fashion Delivers, will work with the new store to make a contribution to locally-based Homeless Family Center, a charitable organization dedicated to providing emergency and transitional shelter for homeless families from Indian River, St. Lucie, Martin and Okeechobee counties.

Burlington is a national retailer offering style for less with up to 65 percent off department store prices every day. Departments include ladies' dresses, suits, sportswear, juniors, accessories, menswear, family footwear and children's clothing. It also includes an assortment of furniture and accessories for baby at Baby Depot, home décor and gifts, along with the largest selection of coats in the nation for the entire family.

TREASURE COAST — The Solar and Energy Loan Fund has been recognized by the South Florida Chapter of the United States Green Business Council as the Most Outstanding Green Business in the eight counties in the South Florida region, including: Monroe, Miami-Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Okeechobee and Indian River.

The Most Outstanding Green Business award specifically recognizes one business that demonstrates a commitment to green-building initiatives and a culture of sustainability through the services and products it provides throughout its day-to-day operations.

SELF was evaluated on their demonstration to leadership, advocacy, and commitment to the advancement of the U.S. Green Building Council's mission in the marketplace and the community.

"The SELF organization is honored to receive this prestigious award," said Kyle Abney, president of SELF. "We are grateful to the United States Department of Energy, St. Lucie County, and all of our partners for making this program possible."

SELF is a community based lending organization that focuses on residential energy efficiency improvements and renewable energy alternatives. To date, SELF has performed 848 energy audits and helped 230 families finance more than $2 million of energy retrofit projects by providing low interest rate financing options to qualified applicants throughout the Treasure Coast and Space Coast regions.

Projects include weatherization, insulation, high efficiency air conditioners, solar hot water heaters and other proven energy-saving retrofits.

Through these projects, SELF clients have cumulatively reduced their energy consumption by more than a million kilowatt hours (i.e., an average of 23% per household), and are using the energy savings, rebates, and tax credits offered to repay the loans over time. SELF has financed more than 800 projects and generated 10,000 labor hours for local skilled craftsmen.

SELF clients are making much-needed home improvements; saving money, creating local jobs, and promoting clean energy alternatives and energy independence.

For more information about SELF, call (772) 468-1818.

tion to those businesses that have made a positive impact in our community during the past year, either through architectural enhancements or by way of community involvement and economic impact," Mr. Penney said.

Vero Marine Center was founded in the late 1950s and specializes in marine sales and service plus ship storage and marina operation.

For the past 30 years, the company has organized and promoted the annual Vero Beach Boat Show and contributed to many local organizations, including the Youth Sailing Foundation, The Samaritan Center and the Humane Society of Vero Beach and Indian River County, a press release said.

Rock City Gardens, a retail garden center and landscaping company established in 1980, sponsors and hosts annual benefits and supports local nonprofits including the Vero Beach Museum of Art, Health Start and H.A.L.O Rescue.

The business also conducts tours for members of state and national nursery organizations and are considered an organization to emulate in the nursery industry, a press release said.

The largest company of the year recognized, Kimley-Horn and Associates, is an engineering firm specializing in civil engineering, landscape architecture, planning, survey work, roadway design, and environmental and traffic engineering.

The business, a green design firm, has been recognized by national organizations as a "Best Company to Work For." The business has 59 employees with an average annual wage of more than $75,000 and an estimate economic impact of more than $5 million, including its involvement with the Environmental Learning Center and the American Cancer Society.

Other awards include Latin business of the year: Alexander Insurance, large manufacturer of the year: Piper Aircraft, small manufacturer of the year: Girard Equipment, and entrepreneur of the year: Kitty Wagner, owner of Blue Star Wine Bar.

The award recognizes companies less than five years old that show increased growth, overcome challenges, good citizenship and have a true entrepreneurial spirit.

Blue Star Wine Bar has doubled its gross revenue in the past three years while facing challenges including leveraging personal funds and licensing and permit conditions.

Ms. Wagner believes community involvement is paramount to her business' continued success. She anticipates revenues to nearly double over the next five years through special events and hosting numerous fundraisers for local charities, a press release said.

speed limit will remain at 60 mile per hour are as follows:

• The northbound I-95 lanes from approximately one mile north of Okeechobee Road (SR 70/Exit 129) to the northbound rest area approximately two miles north of Orange Avenue (SR 68/Exit 131).

• The southbound I-95 lanes southbound rest area approximately five miles south of Indrio Road (SR 614/Exit 138) to approximately one mile south of Orange Avenue (SR 68/Exit 131).

The speed limit will remain at 60 miles per hour in the two areas identified until the completion of bridge construction, summer 2014, for the safety on the traveling public as well as the construction workers in this area. Orange cautionary signs will be placed in advance of these particular areas within the construction zone to notify motorists of the reduction in speed. Motorists must obey the posted speed limits, and FHP is actively patrolling the interstate. As a reminder, speeding fines are doubled in active construction zones:

• I-95 in Fort Pierce from just south of Okeechobee Road (SR 70/Exit 129) to just south of Indrio Road (SR 614/Exit 138);

• I-95 in Vero Beach from the St. Lucie/Indian River County Line to just north of State Road 60 (Exit 147).

Work on this construction corridor includes adding lanes on I-95 in each direction; removing old asphalt and resurfacing the existing lanes; bridge widening; bridge replacement; interchange ramp reconstruction; sound wall installation along residential areas; and landscaping, traffic signals and highway lighting improvements.

INDIAN RIVER COUNTY — On Oct. 3, acclaimed British actor David Payne will present "An Evening with C.S. Lewis" in the Vero Beach High School Performing Arts Center, 1707 16th Street.

The dramatic portrayal of the author of The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe begins at 7p.m. and lasts approximately two hours including an intermission.

This one-man show is based on the life and writings of CS Lewis. It is a heart-warming, funny and inspiring evening that will bring you closer to the man whose intellect and interests spanned from writing the children's classics Chronicles of Narnia to the landmark text in the Christian apologist thinking Mere Christianity.

Apart from his undoubted gifts as a writer, Mr. Lewis

VERO BEACH — Watch the skies, Vero Beach, because the air show is coming back to town.

After an 18-year hiatus, the Vero Beach Air Show will take flight at the Vero Beach Municipal Airport once again, bringing high-flying aerobatic pilots, a squadron of vintage World War II aircraft, a truck with a jet engine, pyrotechnics and more, event coordinators said.

The show is scheduled for Oct. 5-6 with the gates opening at 9 a.m., said Justina "Justy" Anuszewski, air show director.

The show is brought back through the collaborated efforts of the Exchange Clubs of Vero Beach, Indian River and the Treasure Coast, as well as the Veterans Council of Indian River County. Funds raised at the two-day event will go to the four organizations to be distributed for the prevention of child abuse and to assist local veterans.

Tickets are $12 in advance or $15 at the gate. Advance ticket sales are recommended for a quick entry. On the day of the event, signs will be posted directing visitors to free parking, but $5 VIP parking passes are available

Week of 9-27-2013

ARIES - March 21/April 20
Aries, patience is a virtue you possess, and you must make the most of your patient nature this week. Keep this in mind when dealing with family and coworkers.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21
Taurus, keep things in perspective and you will have your cake and eat it, too. You can coolly handle tough situations, and that ability serves you well this week.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21
Your imagination is working overtime this week, Gemini. Channel that creative energy and get started on a project you have been considering.

CANCER - June 22/July 22
Cancer, you will be very content for the next few weeks. Enjoy these good times and invite those closest to you to enjoy them as well.

LEO - July 23/Aug. 23
Leo, your heightened sense of focus on a particular task has left you wondering how to proceed in another area of life. You may want to seek the advice of others.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, you may be tempted to throw caution to the wind. While that may make for a memorable experience, it may not prove wise over the long haul.

LIBRA - Sept. 23/Oct. 23
You could get caught up in a social whirlwind this week, Libra. Keep your feet on the ground or you may be swept away in all of the energy.

SCORPIO - Oct. 24/Nov. 22
Staying connected to your feelings is empowering, Scorpio. Even if others don't feel exactly the same way that you do, they may go along with plans to make you happy.

School to present choral performance

For Hometown News
NewsFP@hometownnewsol.com

VERO BEACH — The Vero Beach High School Chorus Department presents their fall choir concert "Choral Classics" on Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m., in the Performing Arts Center.

Groups scheduled to perform include the Ambassador, the Embassy Choir, and the women's and men's choirs.

Enjoy popular tunes such as New York State of Mind by Billy Joel, Sit Down You're Rockin' the Boat by Frank Loesser, Edelweiss by Rodgers and Hammerstein, and 16 Tons by Merle Travis with arrangement by Kirby Shaw.

In addition to these melodies, the choirs will present classical pieces such as Honor and Glory by J.S. Bach, Danny Boy with arrangement by Joseph Flummerfelt and The Song of the Lark by Felix Mendelssohn. The Choral department is led by Mr. Gregory Harris and accompanied by Ms. Karen Wiggins.

A silent auction will begin prior to the concert and items are distributed at the conclusion of the concert. All Seating is reserved. Tickets cost $10 and $12.

The Performing Arts Center is located at 1707 16th Street, Vero Beach.

For tickets, call the box office at (772) 564-5537. Proceeds will benefit the arts education of Indian River County students.

upon request.

Chalet admission tickets are also available for $55 per day. Admission includes lunch and refreshments, as well as a chance to meet the performers.

"We have some of the best performers in the aviation industry in this air show," said Ms. Anuszewski.

Patty Wagstaff, known as the queen of the air show circuit, is sure to be a crowd-pleaser with her dynamic low-level aerobatic performances. She is based in St. Augustine and is an award-winning aerobatics pilot and a Hall of Fame inductee.

A bright yellow Piper Cub will also be featured in the show and flown by pilot Greg Koontz.

"He has a phenomenal car top landing that he does on a specially-built runway on top of a truck," Ms. Anuszewski said.

The FlashFire jet truck combines the excitement and visual impact of both motor vehicles and aircraft. The jet trucks are the world's fastest jet-powered trucks and can reach up to 375 miles per hour.

Chris Darnell will be driving the FlashFire, and in a triple-threat performance, Ms. Wagstaff, Mr. Darnell and another aerobatics pilot, Skip Stewart, will perform as TinStix of Dynamite.

"It is an exciting performance with a 1,200 foot wall of flame," Ms. Anuszewski said.

Other performers include the Geico Skytypers, Manfred Radius, a sailplane pilot, and Matt Younkin, who flies a large transport plane and puts it through seemingly impossible aerobatic paces, she said.

Static aircraft will also be on display, as will tanks, antique cars, an amphibious vehicle on. loan from the U.S. Navy SEAL museum in Fort Pierce.

"This is just a very well-rounded airshow, from sail planes to airplanes to a jet aircraft and more," Ms. Anuszewski said.

A kid's zone and vendor booths will also be available for visitors to browse, she said.

For tickets or more information about the air show, visit www.veroairshow.com.

was also a powerful orator, evidenced by the fact that his Oxford lectures were always over-subscribed.

"An Evening with C.S. Lewis" proves again and again to be an enthralling theatrical experience. Thousands have already discovered or rediscovered Lewis and the insights of a man whose collected works made him one of the literary giants of the 20th Century.

General admission seating is $25 per person.

For more information about this event, call the VBHS Performing Arts Center Box Office at (772) 564-5537 or visit the website www.an-evening-with-cs-lewis.com .

Scopes

SAGITTARIUS - Nov. 23/Dec. 21
Sagittarius, indulgent behavior won't pay off in the long run. Moderation works best, and you'll be glad you didn't overindulge after the fact.

CAPRICORN - Dec. 22/Jan. 20
Capricorn, work and family responsibilities have put you under a lot of pressure recently. You could be in need of a respite, even if it is brief.

AQUARIUS - Jan. 21/Feb. 18
Aquarius, it's quite possible you will not get much done this week, as you may be too busy encouraging others rather than focusing on your own needs.

PISCES - Feb. 19/March 20
Compassion is your specialty, Pisces. Others appreciate your warm nature, so accept their gratitude and affection.

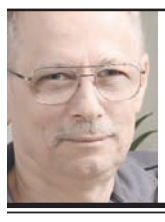
Getting ready for fall color



GARDEN NOOK
JOE ZELENAK

Once we get through any potential late season hurricanes, the cooler fall air will start to filter in. If you're trying to decide on what you might want to plant, why not try some roses?

Roses are beautiful, flowering plants that represent love and friendship. Roses are a perfect addition to your friendly tea garden. These lovely plants are surprisingly easy to grow with some basic TLC.

Roses can be successfully planted in either containers or in the ground. In either case, the plants should be in well-drained soil in a sunny location. If you plant your treasures in the ground, be

Annual marching band festival taking place Oct. 19

For Hometown News
NewsFP@hometownnewsol.com

TREASURE COAST — The Citrus Bowl Stadium at Vero Beach High School will come alive with high school musicians from Florida's top high school bands performing their halftime and competition shows in the 32nd annual Treasure Coast Crown Jewel Marching Band Festival taking place Oct.19 .

This annual gathering of some of the finest high school bands in Florida is presented in a preliminary and finals format. The Preliminary Competition begins at 10 a.m. and the finals competition begins at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $12 for both preliminaries and finals.

Tickets for the finals competition are only $10 per person There is a $6 youth ticket and 5 and under are free. It is a family friendly event on the beautiful campus on Vero Beach High School. Tickets are sold at the Stadium Gate, 1707 16th Street.

The Crown Jewel Band Festival is sponsored jointly by the Vero Beach High School Band and the Fighting Indians Band Boosters.

Formed more than 30 years ago by Jim Sammons, VBHS band director and Gordon Popple, former assistant principal and director of community education, the Crown Jewel Band Festival is one of the oldest and most successful of its kind in Florida.

The festival requires many dozens of volunteers from the booster organization, community, band alumni, and current band members. These volunteers manage and work every aspect of the logistics of the festival from bus parking, concessions, guiding bands around the campus and stadium, ushering, and ticketing to name just a few of the dozens of tasks that are staffed on festival day.

"The festival requires many hours of planning and lots of meetings" said Mr. Sammons, VBHS Band Director. "The festival brings together a large contingent of boosters, community volunteers, and of course our Fighting Indians Band members work all day and then perform at the very end of the finals."

"We are looking forward to another great festival and encourage the public to support the fine talents and efforts of these amazing young musicians" said Mr. Sammons.

Profits from the festival benefit the operations of the Vero Beach High School Band. For more information, please visit the Crown Jewel Festival website at www.crownjewelvb.com

Take the fishing tour you've dreamt about

FISHING TALES
JOE KUBIK

So, you want to fish your first bass tournament, but just can't bring yourself to just do it?

It's as simple as just picking up your phone and gathering your gear. Within a few moments, you can be on the line with Brandon McKay or Lynne Andrews, tournament directors, and you'll begin to understand why Budget Bass has so many folks fishing the tournament.

Budget Bass began in 2010 and we can thank Mr. McKay and Ms. Andrews for making it the fastest growing competition around. They keep it fair by disallowing any judges from entering, as well as keeping it safe, fair and competitive.

The name 'Budget' makes it clear what they had in mind when starting the tournament. They follow Coast Guard regulations for safety and to keep it within budget, the monies collected for each competition is awarded for that day(s) when all the bass are weighed.

The format for placing is the two largest bass (within limit) take Large Fish Prizes and then the first, second and third heaviest strings of fish that don't exceed the numerical limit. Due to the nominal cost of entry, you can make a real winning if you do well enough.

Most of the tournaments are fished out of Lake Okeechobee and typically consist of at least 20 boats on the second and fourth Sundays of the month. Boat launching order is determined when you pay your entry fee in order of first come, first serve.

It keeps the launchings easy, safe and quick.

All in all, Budget Bass Tournaments consist of good group of guys and gals. A great group of 'fisher people'- some good, some better and some lucky! Whichever category you fit in, there is always room to learn and improve, which can be done at the two larger tournaments: Spring and Fall Classic.

Different lakes are chosen for these two tournaments and after prizes and awards are distributed there is a great dinner served. There is a criterion to be met of fishing at least six of the 11 regular events during the season in order to enter.

For more information: Budgetbasstour.com.

Now, go catch a Big 'un!

Garden

sure the soil drains well. Dig a hole about 15 – 18 inches wide and 18- inches deep. Put a layer of gravel on the bottom of the hole. This is to allow drainage so water drains away from the root system. The same would apply if you plant your roses in a container.

The next step is to prepare the soil you are going to use to plant your roses. You should use a mix of a good quality potting soil with around half the mixture composed of organic matter such as mulch or peat. You can also use some bone meal with your soil mixture.

Now, it's finally time to plant your prize. Carefully remove the plant from its original container. Place the plant in your prepared hole so the top of soil layer on the plant is the same level as the surrounding soil. Fill the gap underneath the plant with your prepared soil mixture.

Now, fill the gaps around the remaining parts of the plant and pack down lightly. You are now ready to water in your newly planted rose.

Once you have your roses planted and bursting with color, you will need to do some basic maintenance steps in order to keep them lush and colorful.

Since we live in such a humid climate, certain diseases such as black powdery mildew and black spot can both be a common problem. Both diseases are much easier to control if you prevent them happening in the first place. Once established, both are very difficult to get rid of. Although there are many products on the market that are used for disease control on roses, Orthenex reigns as the king. The product controls not only diseases but also controls insect infestation.

If you are interested in an all-natural cure for fungus, how about baking soda. That's right, baking soda. Plain ordinary baking soda added at the rate of three teaspoons per gallon of water. You then can add a small amount of mild dish detergent to the mix to act as a spreader sticker. This will work as a preventive measure but will not work well if an infection is present. Be sure not to make your mix too strong as damage to your roses could result.

Roses are heavy feeders and like a good supply of food. You should feed your roses once a month with a good quality commercial rose food. Always follow label directions carefully.

Also, please do not put your plants in the line of fire of your sprinkler systems as this keeps your leaves wet which can cause some of the fungus diseases described above.

For a quick nine that's not too far away, visit Island Dunes in Jensen Beach

GOLF
JAMES STAMMER

With the busy schedule that so many of us have these days, it's not always easy to get in a full round of golf.

Sometimes, nine holes is just right. Throw in beautiful views and a breeze off the ocean, and you have a perfect quick round of golf.

Where does one go to find just such a treat? My quest took me to Island Dunes Country Club on South Ocean Drive in Jensen Beach. Located about 3.5 miles north of the round-a-bout at Jensen Beach Boulevard and State Road A1A, this track offers a nice get-away from the normal.

Island Dunes plays to a par of 31 from four sets of tees and measures from 1,738 yards to 2,126 yards long. There are four par-4s and five par-3s. While there is no driving range at the course, there are a few sets of tees and nets for those wanting to get in a few full swings before heading to the first tee.

The first hole may be the most difficult par-3s on the course. Playing anywhere from 113- to 170- yards and playing due east, you can find yourself hitting anything from a wedge to a middle iron or hybrid depending on how the wind is blowing.

One of my buddies reports that when he plays a second nine the wind sometimes picks up so much in just a couple hours that he has to hit two to three clubs more just to get to the green.

The second hole is your first par-4. In addition to being the shortest of the par-4s, this hole also has the widest fairway. If you struggle to get the ball on the fairway here, you need to watch out for the mangroves and wetlands the rest of your round.

The third hole is a beautiful par-3. Measuring just 106 yards from the back, there is no excuse for missing the green here. If you do, you will find a challenging pitch or chip or bunker shot to a severely sloped green.

After a couple more par-3s and a short par-4, you come to the most challenging par-4 on the course, the 360-yard seventh. You tee shot here must hug the left side of the fairway or you will be blocked out and forced to hit a blind approach to a small green. Also, the longer your drive is, the narrower the fairway becomes and you become more likely to find a bunker or waste area. If you miss this green, you are better off if your ball lands left or short of the green.

The par-3 eighth is Island Dunes signature hole, and it is beautiful. In fact, the ride along the raised wooden bridge through the mangroves to the tee is soothing by itself.

Playing to 145- yards from the back tees, your tee shot must carry the mangroves and wetlands and land on a green that is only about 45- feet deep with the Indian River sitting behind. It's an intimidating shot, as you have to take in the wind, the carry over the hazard, and yet try not to hit the ball onto the beach beyond.

The finishing hole is a beautiful, but frightfully narrow, 353-yard par-4 that runs along the river. The more you hug the river side of the fairway, the better your angle will be for your approach. A quirky feature of this hole is a short "Green Monster" wall that runs along the mangroves down the right side as you near the green. If you hit your tee shot far enough, you can play the carom and find your ball back in the fairway with a short wedge to a well-protected green.

Island Dunes may not have monster yardage to intimidate the best players, but it does have very undulating greens and some narrow areas that will penalize wayward shots. Best of all, it's an easy course to walk, and with the breeze off the ocean or the river, it's a pleasurable way to enjoy a round. There is also public beach access just a few hundred yards away, so you can drop off the non-golfers for some beach time while you get in a quick nine.

For more information, contact Island Dunes Country Club at (772) 229-2739.

James Stammer has been an avid golfer and golf enthusiast for nearly 40 years. He hosts the Thursday Night Golf Show on WSTU 1450-AM. Contact him at stammergolf@yahoo.com.

The Sebastian River Area Chamber of Commerce held their 20th annual Lifestyle & Media Auction Friday at the SpringHill Suites by Marriott in Vero Beach. Area businesses donated dozens of items for the event. Funds raised at the event go to help keep Chamber dues to a minimun. A special thanks went to honorary chairwoman Maureen Nicolace, who helped create the event in 1993.
