Saturday October 14, 1916

So Constantine must surrender his fleet and forts and a useful railway to the Allies! It was time! This seems to prelude a more vigorous move from the South against the Bulgarians. It is needful to strike soon in the Balkans, as the winter sets in early there and is very rigorous. We are all longing for the speedy punishment of Bulgaria and rehabilitation of Serbia. But the crushing of Bulgaria would mean the isolation of Turkey, the opening of the Dardanelles and a concentration of the Entente forces for a series of shattering blows at the Central Empires. May it be soon!

We much regret to learn that two days ago Lady Allardyce received by cable the sad news of the death of her father, Mr. Molesworth Greene. Much sympathy will go out to Lady Allardyce and those bereaved with her. Mr. Molesworth Greene was over 90 years of age and to the last was remarkably full of physical vigour. He was one of the early Australian squatters, having proceeded to Australia in 1842 with his father, a retired Naval Officer who took up land there. Mr. Molesworth Greene was a well known person throughout the Australian Commonwealth. Every one knew him for a leading Pastoralist and an expert authority on Stock. These early Australians were a fine race of men. We have read of the wonderful doings of their descendents at Gallipoli. The vigour and capacity with which Bahamian Red Cross affairs have been managed have shown that the spirit and successes of the deceased gentleman can be carried out in other places and in other ways.

A cable was received this week containing the sad news of the death—from pulmonary disease—of No 56 Benjamin Smith of the 2nd Bahamas Contingent.

It grieves us very much to have to place on record the death of another one of our brave boys. "The Tribune" offers its sympathy to the sorrowing mother—Mrs. Julia Smith—who resides at Fox Hill.

At the request of His Excellency the Governor the Chamber of Commerce would invite the community, both business and residential, to make as great display of bunting and flags on Thursday October 19th in honour of "Our Day."

We had the pleasure of seeing a fine lot of miniature coloured photographs, exquisitely framed—the frames having 310 flags painted on them—to be presented by Miss Leonora S. Johnson, Artist, to the Chamber of Commerce to be put on sale, the proceeds to be for the "Our Day" Fund.

Miss Johnson is to be congratulated on such an original idea.

An arrangement has been made for the "Frances E" to bring over the mails that were expected by the freight steamer next week. The "Frances" is expected to arrive early in the week.

THE EDUCATION THAT WILL STAND THE TEST.

In his lecture last Sunday night at the Adventist chapel Prof. Howell emphasized the thought that true education and genuine religion have one and the same principle as a basis. He declared that every man who starts out with a sincere desire to know the truth will come soon or late to the Bible, the Book of truth. "What is," he inquired, "the basic principal of a true education? Can it be found in this Book? I answer decidedly, unequivocally, yes."

But says Mr. Infidel, Mr. Agnostic, and the undevout scientist, "I will believe nothing but what can be demonstrated by well defined law." Very well. Will you receive what can be thus proved? You must do so or renounce your law of science and cease to appeal to reason. You wish to be reasonable and scientific. Wait then, to hear the enunciation of the principal of a true education. Pause reverently at the threshold of investigation because it is that which is to test your sincerity and the quality of your conduct of life. Be silent in the presence of its announcement—"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." And the earthward stream of this current of a true education is, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Now no man of sound mind will attempt to deny that here is the fountain from which must flow, does flow, the springs which refresh the hearts and minds of men. What is the condition of the man from whose life all love for his neighbor, his wife, his children, and his God has fled? He is insane. Love, then, is the basis of a right education.

"Prove it?" cries the irreverent unbeliever! "no human being ever loved God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself." But hold, friend, not so fast. There is One who loved His neighbor better than Himself; and He came to this one lost sheep of humanity and with the sin of the world upon him, proved and demonstrated that God's law could be kept in this world of sin, and revealed the character such obedience will develop.

Not only this, but He has offered to help parents in bringing up their children; and says, "Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto me; for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Is it not clear from that last statement that children are nearer the kingdom than after they have been educated in the world? Where is the trouble then? With their wrong education.

The Bible holds out to parents some wonderful promises. Listen: "I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children." "All thy children shall be taught of the Lord." And at the last day God will make inquiry of parents, "Where is thy flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?" And "what wilt thou say when He shall punish thee?" Jer. 13:20, 21. Shall we not bequeathe to our sons and daughters an inheritance in the training and development of character which shall be to them a priceless treasure—far above that of
