General Information

Paying for college is not always easy. Each year college costs rise, and many students and families need some form of financial assistance to help pay these costs. This handbook provides information about types and sources of aid, the financial aid application process, and financial aid programs available to help University of Florida students pay college expenses.

The Office for Student Financial Affairs (SFA), the financial aid office at the University of Florida (UF), offers students financial aid counseling and assistance to help them pursue their educational goals.

SFA awards aid to students as a part of the means by which they can attend college. Our basic philosophy is that students and parents have the primary responsibility for paying the student's expenses. Our role is to try to fill the financial gap that may exist between the cost of your education and money available from your family, job income, savings, and other sources.

If you apply for assistance, SFA will evaluate your need and if you are eligible for assistance will offer you a financial aid package. The package may consist of scholarships, grants, loans, and/or part-time employment (solely or in combination). The amount of your financial need is determined based on your overall financial status. See "How Your Need is Determined" in this chapter.

Because of limited funds, SFA cannot always offer enough assistance to meet each student's financial need. This handbook, therefore, includes alternative sources of financial aid.

Financial Aid Advisers. SFA provides financial aid advising to students throughout the year. If you have questions about financial aid after reading this handbook, we invite you to call, visit, or make an appointment. SFA is located at S-107 Criser Hall. Our customer service lobby is open Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m. Customer service advisers are not available until 9:30 a.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays, but general information is provided.

Satellite Offices and Special Programs. SFA currently has satellite offices at the College of Law, the College of Dentistry, the College of Medicine, and the Colleges of Health Professions, Nursing, Pharmacy, & Veterinary Medicine. An MBA adviser and an Adviser to Athletes are housed in our main offices in Criser and Peabody Halls.

TYPES OF AID

Scholarships

Scholarships are awards based on academic achievement, but financial need may also be considered. Scholarships do not have to be repaid and do not require recipients to perform services to receive them. They are considered gift aid. Scholarships are awarded by various sources such as the university, the state, individual colleges and departments, and private companies and individuals.

Grants

Grants are gift aid awarded to students who show financial need. Like scholarships, grants do not have to be repaid. At UF, amounts range from $100 to $5,000 an academic year.

Loans

Long-term educational loans are low-interest (2.82 to 9%) loans, some of which allow you to defer repayment until you graduate, withdraw, or drop to less-than-half-time status. Short-term loans for emergency educational expenses are offered through SFA and individual colleges. Generally, they must be repaid within the semester they were borrowed.

Part-Time Student Employment

Part-time Federal Work-Study employment may be awarded by SFA to students with demonstrated financial need as part of their financial aid award packages. Other student employment programs, such as Other Personnel Services (OPS), do not require that students show financial need and are open to any student with the desire to work and who meets basic criteria of at least half time enrollment and a 2.0 GPA. Wages, hours and duties for student jobs vary depending upon the employer and upon the work program. SFA's Student Employment Office in Criser Hall maintains up-to-date lists of on- and off-campus student jobs at various campus locations and on the SFA Web site at <http://www.sfa.ufl.edu/job.html>. Also, see Chapter 3.

AID "PACKAGES"

Students who complete a paper or electronic Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or a Renewal FAFSA (see "How to Apply" below) and who list UF as a "college of choice" on one of those forms are considered for all aid programs administered by SFA. One or more of the various types of aid (scholarships, grants, loans, and part-time employment) are usually offered to eligible students to make up their "financial aid package."

SOURCES OF AID

SFA coordinates your total financial aid package. Financial aid packages may include aid from programs in any of the following categories:

1. Office for Student Financial Affairs Administered Aid. See Chapter 3.
2. Admissions Office and Other Academic Scholarships. See Chapter 4.
3. State of Florida Student Aid Programs. See Chapter 5.
4. College-Awarded Aid. See Chapters 7 and 8.
5. Other Scholarships, Loans, & Sources of Aid. See Chapter 9 for a partial list of outside aid.

ELIGIBILITY

Eligibility requirements vary by program. However, to be eligible for most financial aid programs you must:

1. be enrolled at least half time;
2. be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States;
3. demonstrate financial need;
4. not be in default on a student loan or owe a refund on student financial aid;
5. maintain satisfactory academic progress (see "Financial Aid Academic Progress Requirements" in this chapter).

HOW TO APPLY

To be considered for financial aid at UF, you must apply through SFA by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) either in the paper version or on the Web, meeting all deadlines, and complying with any requests from our office for additional documentation.

Applying early and following up on your application is the best way to make sure you receive assistance you qualify for in time to begin school. Respond right away to requests from SFA and other processing agencies.

Although you must be accepted for enrollment at UF before you receive financial aid, you should apply for aid before being admitted. For admission applications, write to the University of Florida, Director of Admissions, S-201 Criser Hall, P. O. Box 114000, Gainesville, FL 32611-4000. Or, go to: <http://www.reg.ufl.edu/regadmi.htm>.

Undergraduate Catalogs are available in the counseling offices of high schools and community colleges or for purchase from: UF Bookstore & Welcome Center 1 (800) 226-3015, Museum Rd. & Reitz Union Drive, P.O. Box #118450 Gainesville, FL 32611. To read the Undergraduate Catalog or order it online, go to: <http://www.reg.ufl.edu/catalog.html>. UF's Graduate Catalog is available online at: <http://gradschool.rgp.ufl.edu/gradcat/>.

- Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

To apply for financial aid as an undergraduate or graduate at UF, you must complete either an electronic or paper FAFSA OR a Renewal FAFSA and send it to the federal processor as soon as possible after (not before) January 1 each year. You may pick up a FAFSA at SFA or at most Florida high school guidance offices and community college financial aid offices in early January. FAFSAs may also be obtained by mail from the federal government by calling the following toll-free number: 1-800-433-3243.

Undergraduate students who applied for federal aid using a paper FAFSA in the previous year should receive a Renewal FAFSA by mail from the U.S.

Department of Education in December or January. Students who applied electronically will receive a federal PIN by mail instead of a Renewal Application, so they can apply using FAFSA on the Web.

We encourage all students to apply "online" using FAFSA on the WEB. This online application not only saves time, but also offers instant editing of your application to help prevent errors. See "Applying Online!" on the next page.

Apply by early February to meet UF's "on-time" application deadline.

We must receive your FAFSA/Renewal FAFSA need analysis report from the processor by the March 15, 2004 deadline, or your application will be processed as "late," and you may not be considered for all aid programs. Financial aid cannot be awarded to you until we receive your FAFSA need analysis results from the federal processor. You should apply several weeks before this date to meet the deadline.

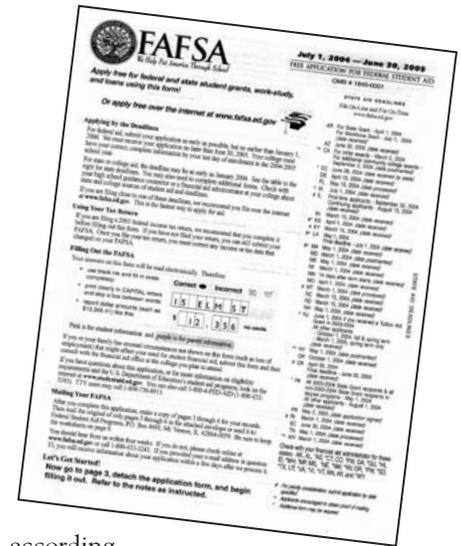

CORNERSTONE. Take special care when you complete your FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA. These documents are the cornerstone of the application process. They provide the federal need analysis processor with all your important financial data. The time you and/or your family spend working on this form may prove invaluable in the long run. Completing this form carelessly or filing it late may make you ineligible for aid you need to attend the university.

Federal Pell Grants

The U.S. Department of Education determines eligibility for Federal Pell Grants from information students provide on the FAFSA/Renewal FAFSA. Undergraduates who complete the FAFSA/Renewal FAFSA will be automatically considered for a Federal Pell Grant (and all other federal grant programs for which they may be eligible). See Chapter 3 for a description of this program.

Florida Student Assistance Grants

Eligibility for Florida Student Assistance Grants (FSAG) is determined by SFA

according to guidelines established by the Office of Student Financial Assistance in Tallahassee. Priority consideration is given to Florida residents who meet the UF March 15 "on-time" financial aid application deadline.

State and Federal PINs

If you apply for student scholarships from the State of Florida, the state will issue you a state Personal Identification Number (PIN). Also, see Federal PIN information on the next page. These two PINs are separate and different. You will need to use your state PIN for state scholarship transactions and your federal PIN for federal financial aid transactions. Don't get them mixed up!

State of Florida PINs

If you receive a Florida Bright Futures (FBFS) award from the state of Florida, with it will be a System ID and PIN with instructions on how to access your Bright Futures record on the Web. Use it to:

- (1) view your State of Florida award status,
- (2) update your demographic information,
- (3) update your college choice,
- (4) view the amount disbursed each semester,
- (5) monitor your hours remaining for the year and scholarship, and
- (6) view a list of correspondence sent to you by the FBFS Program.

For questions, call toll-free:

1 (888) 827-2004; or visit

<https://www.floridastudentfinancialaid.org/SSFAD/home/uamain.asp>.

When you fill out the FAFSA/Renewal FAFSA:

1. READ—Read the instructions in the FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA booklet.
2. BLACK INK—Use black ink.
3. Florida Student Assistance Grant (FSAG)—To apply, be sure to list the University of Florida and UF's correct Federal School Code (001535) in one of items 86-96.
4. SOCIAL SECURITY NO.—Be sure you have entered your Social Security number correctly. An incorrect Social Security number will delay your aid.
5. SIGNATURES—Be sure all required signatures are completed.

Applying Online!

FAFSA on the WEB

Use FAFSA on the Web or Renewal FAFSA on the Web—to apply online for student financial aid. These U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) web applications save you time and provide instant editing of your aid application to help prevent errors. You can also make online corrections to your FAFSA after you submit it. The 2004-05 versions of FAFSA/Renewal on the Web are Macintosh, IBM, and UNIX compatible using Netscape Navigator 6.2 or above, Internet Explorer 5.0 or above (6.0 for Windows XP). Go to the FAFSA on the Web site at:

www.fafsa.ed.gov

Federal PINs

Your federal PIN is your electronic signature to let you access your personal information from various USDOE systems, as well as to apply online for federal student aid. You will use the same PIN year after year, so if you received a PIN last year, that PIN will still be valid. You can request a PIN, request a replacement PIN, or update your PIN mailing address at USDOE's PIN site at:

www.pin.ed.gov

Use your PIN to: (1) access FAFSA on the Web; (2) sign the FAFSA electronically or obtain a copy of your FAFSA information; (3) complete your federal student loan electronic Master Promissory Note; (4) make online corrections to your FAFSA; (5) review your grant and loan history on the National Student Loan Data System; and more!

• Federal Direct PLUS Loans

If your parents wish to apply for a PLUS Loan (see Chapter 3) pick up a UF FDPLUS Loan Data/Confirmation Form from one of the customer service advisers in S-107 Criser Hall; or complete and print one from the "Forms and Publications" section of our Web site at:

www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/

• Financial Aid History

Confirmation of prior financial aid history information through the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) is required for all students who attend or have attended another post-secondary school, regardless of whether or not they received financial aid. If we are unable to obtain the necessary information, we will notify you that you will need to pursue this matter directly with us and the identified institutions.

Dual enrollment students, those who have jointly attended a high school and a community college as part of their high school programs, must also have any prior financial aid history confirmed through NSLDS before their funds are released.

AFTER YOU APPLY. . . What to Expect

You will receive responses from SFA and other agencies.

1. The Federal Student Aid Report (SAR). The federal processor will send you an SAR, paper or electronic, after receiving your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or Renewal FAFSA. The SAR indicates your expected family contribution, which is used to determine your eligibility for financial aid. If you apply online and provide your email address, you will receive an online SAR as soon as 24 hours after your FAFSA is processed. When you receive the SAR, review it for accuracy. If you need to make corrections, follow the instructions on the paper SAR, or make corrections electronically at www.fafsa.ed.gov.
2. Verification. Your application may be selected for "verification," the federally required process of checking accuracy of information students supply on aid applications. See "Federal Verification" in this chapter.
3. Notification of Aid Award. When UF has received your application information from the federal processor and you have been admitted to UF, if

Your UFID

Your UFID (University of Florida Identification Number) is assigned to you by UF. The UFID is your primary identifier for all your UF records and transactions. It will be printed on your Gator 1 ID card.

You will use your UFID to conduct UF business. For instance, you will use it in conjunction with your GatorLink ID and password to access ISIS. If you do not have a GatorLink account, go to:

www.gatorlink.ufl.edu/

You can obtain your UFID online by going to www.ufid.ufl.edu/

Your UFID vs. Your Social Security Number (SSN). Please note that when you apply for financial aid you will also be asked for your Social Security Number. Your SSN does not function as an ID at UF; however, it is required by the federal government to process your financial aid application.

Social Security No.

Your Social Security no. is the primary identifier on all your federal records, including the FAFSA. Be sure it is correct on all forms.

Apply Early to Meet the March 15 "On-Time" Deadline

- SIMPLY send your paper or electronic FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA to the federal processor as soon as possible AFTER January 1.
- Apply for financial aid at the same time, or even before, you apply for admission.
- We must receive the results of your paper or electronic FAFSA /Renewal FAFSA with a valid Estimated Family Contribution from the federal need analysis processor by March 15 for your application to be considered "on time." Apply several weeks before this date to be sure the federal processor has time to get your results to us before the deadline. Late applicants are considered for aid that remains when their aid application file is complete.

you are eligible for aid, SFA will award you an aid package based on your demonstrated need. You will receive an award notice stating the terms and conditions of aid programs awarded to you. Carefully read the brochure with your award letter. If you accept the award as offered, keep the award letter for your records. Otherwise, follow the instructions on the letter.

4. Federal Direct Loan Promissory Notes and Loan Confirmation.

If you are awarded a Stafford loan as part of your aid package and do not already have a Master Promissory Note (MPN) on file, when your financial aid file is complete, you will need to complete an online MPN. Promissory notes are also required for certain other loans. Federal Direct Stafford Loan borrowers must also confirm online that they want each term's loan award. See "Student Loans" in Chapter 3 for information on completing MPNs and loan confirmation.

RENEWAL OF AID

UF financial aid awards are not renewed automatically from year to year. BECAUSE YOUR FINANCIAL AID SITUATION MAY CHANGE, YOU MUST RESUBMIT A FAFSA/RENEWAL FAFSA EACH YEAR to show continued need for aid for the upcoming academic year.

FEDERAL VERIFICATION

Each year about 30% of students' financial aid applications nationwide are chosen for "verification," a process of confirming data supplied by the applicant and/or parents. If selected, you will be required to provide verification documents, such as photocopies of your income tax forms with W-2s. You will receive a letter from SFA explaining what documents you must provide. Do not submit documents unless we request that you do so. Many forms needed for verification are available on our Web site at: <http://www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/pub/forms/index.html>. Once again, don't use these unless asked to by SFA. If your application is selected for verification, aid funds cannot be disbursed to you until you submit all requested documents and the accuracy of your information has been checked. This can take six weeks or longer.

UF participates in the Quality Assurance Program, a federal program which allows the university to establish its own verification criteria and determine which student files must be verified.

NOTE: students who receive financial aid based on incorrect information may be required to pay it back. Anyone who intentionally gives false or misleading information on aid applications may be subject to a fine of $10,000, receive a prison sentence, or both.

Your Responsibilities If Your File is Being Verified

1. Quickly submit all requested verification documents to SFA.
2. Keep in touch with your parents throughout the verification process, if you are a dependent student.
3. Keep your mailing address and phone number current through ISIS.

HOW TO TRANSFER FINANCIAL AID

Generally, financial aid cannot be transferred from one postsecondary institution to another during the academic year. If you plan to transfer to UF:

1. Contact both SFA and the financial aid office at your current school for transfer policies.
2. SFA will access financial aid history information for you via a national data source. You will be notified if additional information is needed.
3. Be sure the University of Florida (Federal Code 001535) is listed on your Federal Student Aid Report (SAR) in one of items 86-96 when you receive it from the processor.
4. If you are receiving a Florida Bright Futures Scholarship or other aid program from the State of Florida, contact the Florida Department of Education in Tallahassee at: 1-888-827-2004.
5. If you are receiving a Federal Direct Loan/Federal Family Education Loan, you must cancel the loan with the school you are attending, reapply at UF, and contact all your previous lenders to update your enrollment status and new address.

REPORTING OUTSIDE AID

You are legally required to keep us informed of all resources you receive. Therefore, notify us immediately of all assistance you receive from other sources (including scholarships, fellowships, tuition fee waivers, Florida Prepaid, private or state scholarships, veterans' benefits, or any other assistance through an agency or UF office other than aid awarded to you by SFA) so we can factor these funds in early. Additional Aid Forms can be used for this and are available on

Start a Financial Aid File

What to keep in your file:

1. Gator Aid Application Guide
2. FAFSA instruction booklet
3. Federal Student Aid Report
4. Photocopies or printouts of all of financial aid correspondence and forms, your federal income tax returns and W-2s, and your completed FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA
5. Borrower copies of promissory notes
6. Your Federal PIN
7. Your State of Florida PIN and paperwork our Web site at:

<http://www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/pub/forms/index.html>.

If you receive any such outside aid your award letter should list that aid. If it does not, SFA may have to adjust your aid. Certain programs require repayment of aid you receive that is in excess of your demonstrated eligibility for aid. So, report outside resources early. Don't find yourself in a situation of having to repay funds when you can't afford it.

SUMMER AID

The academic year at UF consists of three semesters beginning with fall and ending with summer. Freshmen and sophomores entering the State University System must complete at least nine credit hours during a summer session to graduate. SFA supports this requirement, and summer money may be offered if:

1. federal or institutional funds remain for summer awards after fall and spring semester needs are met; or
2. you choose to attend summer session instead of one of the other two semesters (for instance, attend fall and summer semesters and work spring semester) and you are awarded for fall/spring initially and notify us of your decision to attend summer instead of fall or spring. Students should contact a financial aid adviser before March 1 if they wish to receive summer aid. See Chapter 2, for enrollment requirements for receiving aid.

STUDENT'S STATUS— Dependent or Independent?

The federal government has established criteria for classifying financial aid recipients as dependent or independent. If you are dependent (not self-supporting according to federal criteria), your parents' assets and income as well as your own are considered when determining your financial need. If you are independent, your need is evaluated solely on your own and your spouse's income and assets.

If you check "YES" to any of the items in "Step Three" on the 2004-05 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or Renewal FAFSA, you are considered "independent" for financial aid purposes:

- born before January 1, 1981;
- enrolled in a masters or doctorate program (beyond a bachelor's degree) in 2004-05;
- legally married at the time the student signs the application;
- has children for whom they provide more than 50% support;
- has legal dependents other than a spouse or children who receive more than half their support from the student;
- is an orphan or a ward of the court (or has been a ward of the court until reaching the age of 18); or
- is a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces (Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard).

If you cannot answer "YES" to any item, you are considered dependent on your parent(s) and must include parental financial information on your financial forms. If you think you have extenuating circumstances that would exempt you from including parental information, contact a financial aid adviser at SFA.

HOW YOUR NEED IS DETERMINED

For financial aid purposes, need is determined by the following formula:

$$\begin{aligned} &\text{Costs of Attendance} \\ &\text{– Family Contribution} \\ &= \text{Need} \end{aligned}$$

The following explanations of college costs and family contribution may clarify these terms.

Costs of Attendance

Financial aid must be used only for expenses directly related to your education. College costs include the following: tuition/fees, books and supplies, computer costs, housing, meals, transportation, clothing maintenance, personal, health insurance.

SFA calculates budgets (see "2004-05 Estimated Costs of Attendance") for undergraduate and graduate students, on-campus and off-campus.

Student budgets can only include costs of attendance for the individual student. Additional living allowances for married students or students with children are not included. A standard child care allowance may be included, however, depending on the ages of the student's children.

Following is a brief description of how these budgets are derived. Budgets are based on a two-semester academic year and vary according to academic classification and residency status.

1. Tuition/Fees. Fees for undergraduate students are based on an average of 30 credit hours of 0-4999 level courses. Graduate tuition fees are based on 24 class hours from 5000-9999. Graduate students in dentistry, medicine, and veterinary medicine pay block fees. For Tuition Fees, see page 12.
2. Books and Supplies. Costs are determined by averaging the total cost of books and supplies for a four-year accounting curriculum at the UF Bookstore (with 25% of books purchased used at 75% of new book price, and assuming resale of 50% of texts at 50% of cost).
3. Computer Costs. Computer costs built into student budgets are "annualized." This means the figure is derived from one year's monthly costs for purchase or lease of equipment (including printer, modem/ethernet, CD-ROM drive) and annual software purchases/upgrades. The costs are figured over a two-year period.

4. Housing and Meals. Housing costs for undergraduate students living on campus are based on costs of living in an air-conditioned double room with a phone line (utilities, phone line, and refrigerator rental allowance included). On-campus graduates costs are based on an average of rents for available graduate housing. Off-campus costs are based on an average of rates quoted by local apartments by phone survey (allowances are included for phone service and utilities). Food costs are based on costs of meals established by the U.S. Department of Labor.
5. Transportation. On- and off-campus transportation costs allow for three round-trips to Miami per two semesters.
6. Personal/Health Insurance. The personal budget is based on the U.S. Department of Labor's established personal costs, including laundry, toiletries. Health insurance costs are based on literature from UF's Insurance Director and Committee Chairperson.
7. Clothing Maintenance. The budget for clothing maintenance is based on the U.S. Department of Labor's established clothing maintenance costs.

Family Contribution

Briefly, parents' contribution + student's contribution = expected family contribution. Family contribution is the amount you and your family are expected to contribute toward your college costs. Your family's total income and financial situation are taken into account in determining financial need.

Parental Contribution. In determining parental contribution, deductions are made for parents' employment costs; living expenses, such as food, clothing, and housing; and the amount of taxes paid. Also considered are family size, number of family members attending college or other postsecondary schools, number of parents working, and the elder parent's age. In general, parents and students are expected to pay as much of the educational costs as they reasonably can afford.

* Fee and tuition figures are projected estimates for 2004-05. See page 12 for Tuition Fees. Undergraduate tuition fees listed are based on an average of 30 credits hours of 0-4999 level courses. Graduate tuition fees are based on 24 credit hours of 5000-9999 level courses. Rates per credit hour include the student health fee.

Budgets for upper-division students in certain colleges will be adjusted upwards to accommodate higher computer costs.

Student Contribution. Students are expected to help pay their educational costs from resources they have, such as savings, income, benefits, or employment. After analyzing all student income and assets available, a determination of the student contribution is made. There may be instances when no student contribution is required.

Married couples are considered for aid individually; if both spouses are students, each should apply for financial aid separately. Both spouses are expected to contribute toward joint expenses, regardless of student or employment status.

FINANCIAL AID ACADEMIC PROGRESS REQUIREMENTS

University of Florida students receiving financial aid are required to be in good standing and maintain satisfactory academic progress. To be eligible to receive financial aid, students must comply with the following conditions.

I. Undergraduates

A. Qualitative Measure of Progress

1. Students must have a cumulative 2.0 grade point average by the end of 60 carried academic credit hours and must maintain at least a cumulative 2.0 grade point average throughout their undergraduate enrollment. Students failing to meet this requirement will be suspended from receiving financial aid until they meet the requirement.
2. Until the completion of 60 academic credit hours, students' progress for financial aid purposes will be evaluated under the same standards approved by the University Senate for determining eligibility for continued enrollment:
 - a. Students who have from .5 to 14.5 grade points less than a 2.0 cumulative grade point average will be placed on financial aid probation.
 - b. Students who have 15 or more grade points less than a 2.0 cumulative grade point average will be suspended from financial aid for one term.
 - c. Students who do not reduce their grade point deficit to less than 15 deficit grade points the following term of enrollment will be terminated from financial aid.

- d. Students who reduce their grade point deficit to less than 15 grade points below a 2.0 cumulative grade point average will return to the status outlined in 2a. of this section.
3. Any action taken by the University Senate Committee on Student Petitions regarding students' appeals of suspended enrollment because of grade point deficit (for students who have not yet earned 60 credit hours) will also apply to the financial aid component of the academic progress policy.
- B. Time-Frame for Completing Degree Objectives
 1. Students will not be eligible for aid if they do not earn a baccalaureate degree after carrying 150 credit hours (whether or not they received aid for all terms), with the following exception:
 2. Students may carry up to 160 credit hours for programs that regularly require more than 120 earned hours to achieve a baccalaureate degree.
- C. Measurements of Progress within Time-Frame
 1. Students classified as freshmen must earn 75% of their hours carried and achieve sophomore status (30 earned hours) after carrying a maximum of 40 credit hours.
 2. Students classified as sophomores must earn 78% of their total credit hours carried and achieve junior status (60 earned hours) after carrying a maximum of 77 credit hours.
 3. Students classified as juniors (including 3UF) must earn 82% of their total credit hours carried and achieve senior status (90 earned hours) after carrying a maximum of 110 credit hours.
 4. Students classified as seniors must earn 87% of their total hours carried and must have earned a baccalaureate degree after carrying a maximum of 150 credit hours with the following exception:

—Students who have earned more than 120 credit hours for a baccalaureate degree and are enrolled in a program requiring more than 120 earned credit hours for a baccalaureate degree must earn 91% of their hours carried and must earn a baccalaureate degree after carrying a maximum of 160 credit hours.
 5. Students who do not earn the minimum percentage of credit hours specified will be placed on financial aid probation for one term. During the following term of enrollment, these students must raise their percentage of credit hours earned to the specified minimum. Students who do not will be suspended from aid until they meet this standard.

D. Maximum Terms for Receiving Financial Aid

1. Students may receive up to ten full-time terms of aid (or the equivalent), with the following exceptions:
 - a. Students admitted under the Board of Education ten percent admissions policy may receive up to 11 full-time terms (or the equivalent) of aid.
 - b. Students in programs requiring more than 120 credit hours to earn a baccalaureate degree may receive up to 11 full-time terms (or the equivalent) of aid.
 - c. Students admitted under the Board of Education ten percent admissions policy in a program requiring more than 120 credit hours may receive up to 12 full-time terms (or the equivalent) of aid.
2. The maximum number of terms students transferring to the University of Florida may receive aid will be prorated based on their entering enrollment status. For example, a student enrolling as a junior may receive a maximum of five terms of aid to earn a baccalaureate degree. Aid received at another institution will not count toward this limit.

II. Postbaccalaureate Students

Students enrolled in postbaccalaureate studies must petition the Academic Progress Appeals Committee to continue to receive financial aid. Postbaccalaureate students must meet the same academic requirements as undergraduates, as specified under I.A.1. above. The types of financial aid available to postbaccalaureate students will depend on the student's degree-seeking status.

III. Graduate Students

Since many courses require research projects which take more than a semester to complete, grades of "I" are routinely posted until the coursework has been finished. Therefore, the following satisfactory progress standards have been designed to take this grading practice into account.

- A. Qualitative Measure of Progress

Students must maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative grade point average or meet the academic standards required by their departments, whichever is higher.
- B. Time-Frame for Completing Degree Objectives

Students will be ineligible for aid if they do not attain their degree objectives after carrying the maximum number of credit hours listed below (whether or not they have received aid for all terms):

 1. 70 credit hours at the graduate level for a master's degree program.
 2. 164 credit hours at the graduate level for a doctor of pharmacy degree.

3. 100 credit hours at the graduate level for a specialist's degree program (including master's degree hours).
 4. 120 credit hours at the graduate level for a doctoral degree program (including master's degree hours).
- C. Measurements of Progress within Time-Frame
1. Students must earn 75% of credit hours carried at the graduate level.
 2. Students who do not earn 75% of credit hours carried will be on financial aid probation for one term. During the following term of enrollment these students must raise their percentage of credit hours earned to the minimum. If they do not, they will be suspended from aid until they meet the standard.

IV. Law Students

- A. Qualitative Measure of Progress
Students must maintain a 2.0 minimum cumulative grade point average, or meet academic standards required by the College of Law, whichever is higher.
- B. Time-Frame for Completing Degree Objectives
1. Students will be ineligible for aid if they do not attain their degree objective after carrying the maximum credit hours listed below (whether or not they received aid for those terms):
 - a. 45 credit hours at the graduate level for students enrolled in the Master of Laws in Taxation Program.
 - b. 100 credit hours at the graduate level for students enrolled in the Juris Doctor Program.
- C. Measurements of Progress within Time-Frame
—Students will be evaluated each term for eligibility to enroll the following term.

V. Professional Students in the Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Veterinary Medicine

- A. Qualitative Measure of Progress
Since professional schools use a nontraditional grading system (one not based upon grade point average) to assess satisfactory completion of course work, the same policy (a similar nontraditional approach) will be used to measure qualitative progress for continuing financial aid eligibility.
- B. Time-Frame for Completing Degree Objectives
Students must earn their degrees within four years.
- C. Measurements of Progress within Time-Frame
1. Students will be evaluated annually in September to determine advancement to the next class level.
 2. Students who do not advance to the next class level but are still eligible for enrollment will be on financial aid probation for the following year. Students who have not advanced to the next class level by the end of the probationary period will no longer be eligible for financial aid.

VI. Additional Policies Which Apply to All Students

- A. Withdrawal Policy
1. Students who withdraw from school once while receiving financial aid will be on financial aid warning.
 2. Students who withdraw from school two or more times while receiving financial aid will no longer be eligible for financial aid.
 3. Withdrawal from a Summer A or B term will constitute one-half of a withdrawal.
- B. Treatment of Course Withdrawals, Incompletes, Course Repetitions, and Remedial Courses
1. Treatment of course withdrawals, incompletes, and course repetitions will conform to the academic standards for the University of Florida for determining grade point average.
 2. Remedial courses are not offered at the University of Florida.
- C. Appeals
Students who think extenuating circumstances have contributed to their failure to maintain satisfactory academic progress may petition the Academic Progress Appeals Committee for reassessment of their status.

VII. Other Categories

Students enrolled in curricula not specifically addressed in this policy must petition the Academic Progress Appeals Committee to continue to receive financial aid.

CONFIDENTIALITY OF STUDENT RECORDS

UF ensures the confidentiality of student records in accordance with State University System rules, state statutes, and the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974—Buckley Amendment. Your family financial information and the type and amount of your aid are held in confidence. Information is released only with your written consent.

PETITION PROCEDURE

If you think some aspect of your financial situation was overlooked that would affect an evaluation of your need, you are entitled to an appeal. Petition forms are available at the SFA reception desk and on the SFA Web site at www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/pub/forms/index.html. The workload at SFA when you file your petition will determine the response time to the appeal. All actions resulting from the petition process are contingent upon fund availability and any processing deadlines which may be in effect at the time of petition approval.

CHANGES IN FAMILY CIRCUMSTANCES

If any of the following circumstances apply to you/your family, check with your financial aid adviser immediately to see if this might affect your financial aid application. March 1–June 1 is the time period to petition your financial aid award.

1. Divorce of parents, or you from your spouse.
2. Death or disability of a major wage earner.
3. Loss of employment of a major wage earner.
4. Loss of other income or benefits (such as Social Security or child support), by you, your parents, or spouse.

WITHDRAWAL & REFUND

Withdrawals

Students who wish to withdraw must follow UF's official withdrawal policy. The Dean of Students Office assists students who wish to withdraw from UF and coordinates the withdrawal process. To begin the withdrawal process, visit P-202 Peabody Hall and complete a withdrawal form. UF withdrawal information is included on SFA's Web site at: www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/receiving/withdrawalrefund.html.

If you officially withdraw or stop attending all courses you may be required to repay all or part of the financial aid disbursed to you in the term you withdraw.

Students receiving federal funds may be required to repay aid determined to be "unearned." The earned/unearned calculation is based on the percentage of days you attended during the term in which you withdrew. The amount of aid you have earned is determined on a pro-rata basis. That is, if you completed 30% of the term in which you withdrew, you earn 30% of the federal aid you received. Once you have completed 60% of the term, you are considered to have earned all of your aid.

The difference between your earned federal aid and 100% equals the percentage of unearned federal funds that are subject to repayment. Federal regulations require Title IV aid to be refunded in the following order:

1. Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans
2. Federal Direct Stafford Loans
3. Federal Perkins Loans
4. Federal Direct PLUS Loans (Loans for Parents)
5. Federal Pell Grants
6. Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants

Any loan funds that you must return, you (or your parent for a PLUS Loan) may repay in accordance with the terms of your promissory note. That is, you make scheduled payments to the holder of the loan over a period of time. For grants, the law provides that you return 50% of any grant you receive that is your responsibility to repay. Any amount you do have to return is a grant overpayment, and you must make arrangements with UF or the U.S. Department of Education to return the funds.

Please Note:

(1) You may also be required to repay other federal, state, institutional, or private student financial aid programs based on the terms and conditions associated with those programs.

(2) UF is required to return to the applicable federal program account the unearned percentage of institutional charges (tuition, fees, on-campus housing). You may be billed by UF for any funds returned on your behalf. This can include loan funds.

(3) UF's tuition refund policy is separate from the federal requirement to return unearned aid. Whether or not you receive a tuition/fee refund has no bearing on the amount you must repay under this formula.

Refunds

If, as a result of withdrawal, cancellation, or termination of attendance, you are entitled to a refund of tuition/fees (determined by University Financial Services) or campus housing charges (determined by the Division of Housing) and you received aid for the same payment period, part of your refund will be returned to the appropriate federal Title IV or institutional account. Any amount remaining after accounts from which you received aid have been reimbursed will be returned to you.

TAXATION OF AID PROGRAMS

Any funds you receive from scholarships, benefits, fellowships, and grants from UF or any other source that, combined, exceed the cost of tuition, fees, books, and required equipment and supplies, are considered taxable income. This includes Federal Pell Grants, but not UF or federal loans. You are responsible for record-keeping, so that you can complete your tax forms properly. You may want to keep a receipt file of educational purchases. For more detailed information, consult the IRS, your income tax form instruction booklet, or your personal tax adviser.

ANTI-DRUG ABUSE ACT

A summary of UF's policies concerning the use of alcohol and other drugs is provided to you in response to the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 through the Division of Student Affairs and may be viewed on the Student Affairs Web site:

www.ufsa.ufl.edu/ovp/drugfree.htm

Money Matters

The key to successfully managing your money is planning. It is essential that you plan how you will spend your money. If you don't, you may find yourself in a very difficult position as the year passes. Controlling your expenses through budgeting requires planning, discipline, and a basic understanding of simple budgeting techniques.

BASIC BUDGETING

Step 1—Calculate Your Projected Income. Begin by estimating the amount of money you will have to cover your expenses for the semester. Potential income sources may include:

- ✓ Your savings
- ✓ Earnings from a part-time job
- ✓ Financial aid awarded
- ✓ Parental contribution
- ✓ Benefits

Step 2—List Fixed Expenses. Fixed expenses are those which do not vary, such as tuition and fees. Ask yourself if you have any control over the cost of the item or service. List the item as a fixed expense only if the answer is no. The university develops standard budgets for categories of students within the school's population (see "How Your Need is Determined," Chapter 1). You can use these sample budgets as a guide to estimate your costs, here and in Step 3.

Step 3—List Variable Expenses. Variable expenses are subject to a certain amount of control. They can be obtained at varying costs, and in some cases you can do without them. Examples are:

- ✓ Housing and Meals
- ✓ Books and supplies
- ✓ Computer Costs
- ✓ Transportation
- ✓ Personal expenses
- ✓ Insurance
- ✓ Clothing maintenance

Step 4—Total Expenses. Add your fixed expenses to your variable expenses to obtain your "total expenses."

Step 5—Balancing Your Budget. Subtract your total expenses (Step 4) from your projected income (Step 1). If your estimated expenses are higher than your projected income, see "Cutting Costs" for ways to reduce your spending.

Cutting Costs

If your costs are out of line with your income, the solution lies in your variable expenses (Step 3). Try the following cost-cutting suggestions:

Housing & Meals

- Compare costs of living on campus with living off campus.
- Estimate the cost of utilities in each housing option.
- Consider living at home.
- Compare costs of cooking or restaurants with meal plan.

Books & Supplies

Consider buying used books, or checking out supplementary texts from the library.

Transportation

- Don't bring a car to school.
- Invest in a bicycle.
- Ride the local city bus. It's free with your Gator 1 Card!
- When traveling home, compare air fare with bus and train fare. Check the ride board at the Reitz Union.

Clothing/Personal/Insurance

- Limit clothing purchases to basics.
- Patronize second-hand clothing stores.
- Compare prices and buy sale items.
- Take advantage of campus insurance.

PLANNING FOR THE SEMESTER

When planning for the semester, you need to keep in mind: (1) the source of your money (savings, parents, financial aid, part-time work), and (2) when it will arrive, or be available (lump sum, installments, or beginning of semester).

If money comes from home, it may be best to receive it in monthly installments. Students who have a lump sum of available cash to last throughout the semester (for instance, from a student loan), must learn to budget it over four months. On the other hand, part-time jobs provide continual income. A savings or checking account may be useful. Money from some financial aid programs is not available at the beginning of the term, and students should be prepared to pay immediate expenses from other sources. See "Start-up Costs" below.

START-UP COSTS

Use the following "Start-Up Costs Worksheet" to estimate how much cash you will need when you arrive on campus. Step one is checking off items already paid. Step two is listing deferments—some items can be deferred for students who meet eligibility requirements. Students whose fees or housing costs have been deferred can check off these items. All other expenses go in the "Still Need" column. The total amount in the "Still Need" column is the amount you should have available to cover start-up costs.

Because of possible delays in arrival of funds from state and federal programs, students awarded financial aid should bring enough money with them in the fall to cover at least a full month's expenses. See "2004-05 Estimated Costs of Attendance" in Chapter 1 and the following descriptions for an explanation of how we determine estimated costs. Because of early printing, cost information is subject to change for 2004-05.

TUITION/FEES: Fees are due at the end of the second week of classes. You will not receive a bill. To figure fees, see "University Class Registration and Calculation of Fees" on the following pages. University Financial Services (UFS) accepts cash, personal checks, cashier's checks, money orders, debit/ATM cards, MasterCard, VISA, and American Express.

HOUSING: On-campus housing costs for the entire fall semester must be paid by August 1. The on-campus figure listed is an average for an air-conditioned, double room with one roommate and includes a telephone line, utilities, and refrigerator rental. Off-campus costs include a student's share of a local apartment; allowances are included for telephone service, long distance, and utility costs.

OFF-CAMPUS SECURITY

DEPOSITS, HOOK-UP: Following are general costs of security deposits for utilities. Gainesville Regional Utilities: electric, gas, and water—$200, gas only—$50, electric and gas or electric only—$150; plus a $15–$35 service charge ($20 same-day service); Bell South (off-campus)—$40 minimum for hook-up; deposits based on overall credit and previous phone history.

BOOKS: Books must be paid for at the time of purchase. (UF Bookstores accept checks with a local I.D., Mastercard, Visa, American Express, and Discover. Students can also "shop around" (Florida Bookstore, Goerings, T.I.S. College Bookstore, etc.)

MEALS: Meal costs for students are based on costs of meals as established by the U.S. Department of Labor. Declining Balance Accounts and several Meal Plans are available from Gator Dining Services at <http://www.gatordining.com/>, 352-392-2491. Meal plans for 2003-04 ranged from $1,098–$1,390 per semester. Gator Dining Services accepts cash, checks, Visa, Mastercard, and American Express.

MISCELLANEOUS: Students should bring enough money to cover personal expenses such as clothing, laundry, transportation and recreation for several months. See "Estimated Costs of Attendance" in Chapter 1 and "Optional Expenses" below for estimates of these types of expenses.

OPTIONAL EXPENSES

The following expenses will give you an idea of the types of costs you should consider when making up a budget. Due to early printing, figures are subject to change.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES ABOUT MONEY

"Holds"

The university places "holds" on student records for outstanding debts for tuition, parking tickets, housing, infirmary charges, library fines, returned checks, loan repayment problems, etc. A hold prevents further academic progress. With a hold on their records, students cannot receive grades or transcripts, register for another term, receive a diploma, or use many university services. If the Registrar's Office informs you that you have a financial hold on your records, use ISIS to find out about debts (amounts due and source and type of debt). You may also go to University Financial Services (UFS) at S-113 Criser Hall to learn the reason for the hold and clear your records. To prevent a hold on records, pay university bills promptly.

Fee Payment

UF does not bill students for tuition/fees. Students are responsible for calculating and paying their tuition/fees by the fee payment deadline (see "University Class Registration and Calculation of Fees" in this chapter). Students with fees deferred against financial aid must pay their fees upon receipt of the aid, or by the deferred fee payment deadline, whichever comes first.

Deferments

The university may permit deferment of tuition and fees for students receiving aid from federal or state programs if such aid is scheduled for disbursement after the fee payment deadline. Deferments are automatically granted to eligible financial aid recipients against financial aid they have been awarded. Deferments are posted about one week before the semester begins. To see if your fees have been deferred, use ISIS, the self-help terminals at UFS in S-113 Criser Hall, or check with your financial aid adviser. Students who do not receive a deferment and think they may be eligible should check with SFA. Fee deferments are also issued to veterans and to some dependents of veterans who receive educational benefits. Applying late for financial aid may jeopardize eligibility for a fee deferment.

Questions about deferments for University of Florida housing should be addressed to the UF Department of Housing and Residence Education, (352) 392-2161.

Students whose fees are deferred against financial aid must pay fees by the deferred fee payment deadline, whether or not their aid has arrived.

Direct Deposit of Financial Aid

UF offers the service of depositing your financial aid directly to your bank checking account. This process will not delay disbursement of your financial aid and saves trips to the bank. See "Sign Up for Direct Deposit." For more information, contact UFS in S-108 Criser Hall.

Late Fees*

The university charges a $100 late fee for registering late and another $100 late fee for paying fees after the deadline. Students may be charged one or both late fees. If you have a fee deferment, you will be charged a late payment fee if you do not pay by the deferred payment deadline date.

Returned Checks/ Late Loan Repayment

Students who have checks returned for any reason or are late repaying loans may: (1) lose eligibility for paying debts by check and for short-term loans and other UF loans (Perkins, institutional loans); and (2) have aid disbursements withheld until they clear the check(s) and/or repay their loan in person at UFS in S-113 Criser. A $25-$40 fee is assessed for returned checks.

Parking Fines*

UF Traffic and Parking publishes a parking policy brochure each year which you receive if you buy an on-campus parking decal. You MUST have a decal to park on campus. Tickets for parking violations range from $5-$250. If the University Police Department has your car towed or places a lock on your wheel, you must pay $30 plus outstanding tickets and tow charges to retrieve your car.

Library Fines*

Overdue library book charges are 25 cents per day. UF will bill you for overdue charges. You cannot pay these fines when you return the books, but must wait for the bill.

Late fees and fines are subject to change.

UF BOOKSTORES

Checks are accepted for amount of purchase with a photo I.D. UF Bookstores accept Mastercard, Visa, Discover, or American Express. Branch locations: Health Sciences Bookstore, Law School Bookstore, Veterinary Medicine Bookstore, and the Reitz Union Corner Store. A Deferred Payment program is available by application to financial aid recipients who meet eligibility requirements. See the Online Bookstore Web page at: www.bsd.ufl.edu/bookstore/

SIGN UP FOR DIRECT DEPOSIT

Get your money faster! Mailing address problems are eliminated. No more standing in line at the bank to deposit your check. Most students receive their financial aid from UFS by direct deposit of their aid funds into their bank accounts. To sign up for Direct Deposit use UF's ISIS system on the web at: www.isis.ufl.edu/. Go to "Financial Services," then choose "EFT Signup." Also use "EFT Signup" to change your bank mid-year if necessary. Hurry! It takes about 5-10 working days for your authorization to take effect!

LOCAL BANKING

Checking/Savings Accounts

For convenience, you may want to open a local checking or savings account or an account with a bank which participates in the Honor or Exchange Systems (computerized networks of banks, other financial institutions, and businesses which allow you to make deposits, withdrawals, and other financial transactions from automatic tellers at participating businesses).

Automatic Tellers

Automatic tellers are available on the ground floor of the Reitz Union for: Sun Trust, Wachovia, Bank of America, and Campus USA Credit Union. Bank of America and Wachovia also have automatic tellers located on campus, which can be found in front of the HUB and at Gator Dining Corner. Students who participate in the Honor or Exchange systems may also use these machines.

UNIVERSITY CLASS REGISTRATION AND CALCULATION OF FEES

Before the beginning of the semester, students should consult the Office of the University Registrar's Fee Calculation Information and Tuition and Fees Brochure at <http://fa.ufl.edu/ufs/studentlinks.html> to calculate their fees and obtain the UF registration schedule.

Fees are based on the total number of registered credits. The hourly rate is based on residency status and course level. The following tuition fee figures are for the 2003-04 academic year, since 2004-05 fees are not available at the time of printing. To calculate your fees, add the number of credit hours you will take at each level. Multiply the charge per hour by the number of hours at that level. Add the costs for each level. In addition to tuition fees, you will need to add material and supply fees for some classes. Check the online Tuition and Fees Brochure each semester for a list of these classes and amounts.

Student Health Fee

The student health fee is included in both the rate per credit hour and the block fees figures. It includes professional office visits with the Student Health Care Center medical and nursing staff, except those with specialty personnel and special tests. Counseling sessions at the Infirmary's Mental Health Service are covered. UF strongly encourages students to investigate their family insurance coverage. Students may purchase the Student Government Sponsored Insurance group plan designed to cover most fee-for-service charges.

UF PAYMENT METHODS

Electronic Funds Transfer—see “Sign Up for Direct Deposit.” VISA, MasterCard, and American Express may be used to make payments on tuition and other UF debts using ISIS. Bank debit/ATM card payments are accepted at the University Cashiers Office in S-113 Criser Hall. Cash payments are also accepted at the University Cashier's Office (U.S. currency only). Checks should be made out to the University of Florida and include the students name, UFID, and local address and phone number. Mail checks to: UFS, P. O. Box 114050, Gainesville, FL 32611-4050.

RECEIVING YOUR FINANCIAL AID

Enrollment Requirements

UF students must enroll at least half time to receive most types of financial aid benefits. Students who enroll less than full time may have their aid adjusted after the drop/add period. To receive funds through some State-of-Florida programs, students must enroll for at least 12 credit hours. Federal Pell Grant awards are prorated according to enrollment status. Please refer to the following chart for minimum enrollment eligibility requirements.

Classification	Full Time		Half Time
	FALL	SPR	FALL	SPR
Undergraduate/Postbac	12	12	6	6
Graduate	9	8	5	4
Law	10	5	5	3
Professional	1	1	N/A	N/A

Disbursement

Students generally receive their financial aid by direct deposit or by mail from University Financial Services (UFS), S-108 Criser Hall. See “Direct Deposit of Financial Aid” on previous page.

UFS disburses aid only after verifying enrollment status and making sure students have no financial or academic holds on their records. Holds on records may prevent disbursement of financial aid. All unpaid tuition/fees, housing charges, and other university debts (such as but not limited to lab fees, infirmary charges, and library fines) are deducted from students' financial aid before disbursement. To decline automatic crediting of your university accounts receivable charges from your financial aid, contact UFS at (352) 392-0737; please note—this may delay disbursement of your aid. Financial aid can not be used to pay prior-term tuition fees.

Requirements To Receive Loans.

Students who are awarded a Federal Direct Stafford Loan, Federal Perkins Loan, or UF Long-Term Loan should see the Loans section of Chapter 3 for important information on requirements to receive these loans. In all cases, the requirements must be fulfilled before any loan may be disbursed. Requirements may include first-time borrower entrance counseling, completion of loan promissory notes, and/or confirmation that you wish to receive the loan.

Short-Term Loan (STL) Disbursement.

If you apply for an STL at Student Financial Affairs in S-107 Criser Hall and your application is approved, you will receive the loan check and a copy of the promissory note at your local address within 48 hours of the approval date; or by direct deposit into your checking account; or you will be given an appointment to pick up your check at University Financial Services in S-108 Criser Hall.

STUDENT LOANS & DEBT MANAGEMENT

In recent years, more students have begun to rely on educational loans to help pay for college. Educational loans can be an excellent resource for students trying to pay educational costs, but the amount of debt incurred should be considered carefully.

Borrowing money to pay for college has long-term financial implications. Like any other debt, a student loan is a serious financial obligation that must be repaid. In addition to the principal amount you borrow, you will be charged interest for use of the funds. The principal plus interest charged, divided by your repayment period in months, determines the amount of the monthly payments you will be required to make when you leave school. Failure to make on-time monthly payments may affect your credit rating and your ability to borrow for other purposes.

How Much Will You Be Able To Pay?

To determine how much indebtedness you will be able to manage when you graduate, consider your expected starting salary,

WANT YOUR MAIL? Keep Your Address Up-to-Date in the UF Directory

The University of Florida uses information in the UF Directory (Gatordex) as the official address source for all university business, including financial aid checks and correspondence. You are responsible for keeping your current and local addresses up-to-date in the UF Directory. To change your address use UF's ISIS system on the UF Web site at www.isis.ufl.edu. You may also access ISIS through my.ufl.edu.

earnings prospects, and lifestyle. Then estimate your anticipated level of debt and monthly payments and see if the two are in line. If you can't afford your projected payments, try to borrow less.

On the next pages are (1) a table of Entry Level Salaries, (2) a Loan Amounts Per Academic Year worksheet, (3) a Monthly Repayment Worksheet, and (4) a Budget Worksheet. Try to be realistic when projecting future earnings and how much you will need to live when you graduate. Remember that starting a new job and setting up living arrangements will require extra resources and create a heavy initial demand on your new income.

Key Points to Remember

- ✓ Develop a financial plan for the complete cost of your education.
- ✓ Consider your chosen field of employment and its expected annual income before you accept a student loan.
- ✓ Re-evaluate your future expenses each time you borrow.

Factors to Consider When Borrowing

Consider the following when planning how much to borrow:

Amount. Think about how much you need to borrow. You may not want to borrow the full amount for which you are eligible.

Number of Loans. Your total indebtedness will be affected by your plans for further study. For example, are you going to graduate school?

Loan Limits. Most loan programs specify minimum and maximum amounts you can borrow.

Length of Repayment Period. You will save interest costs if you choose a shorter repayment period. The Federal Direct Loan Program offers a variety of repayment options.

Minimum Monthly Payments. Monthly payments will depend on the amount you borrow and the repayment plan you select. Perkins Loans require a minimum payment of $40 per month.

Borrowers Rights and Responsibilities. Be sure you understand your rights and responsibilities under each loan program. Keep all paperwork for future reference.

Good Credit Records

For most students, a student loan is their first experience with a credit program. Student loans can be an excellent way to finance an education and establish a good credit rating at the same time. Pay your student loan promptly each month. Frequent late payments constitute delinquency and may harm your credit history. Here are some tips on establishing good credit:

- ✓ Stay in contact with your lender/the federal loan servicer at all times. Notify them before you fall behind on payments.
- ✓ Notify your lender of any address or name change.
- ✓ Send your payment each month, even if not billed.
- ✓ Never ignore correspondence or a payment request.

Your Student Loan Exit Counseling Session

Any student who receives a student loan while attending UF MUST complete an online Exit Counseling session when they graduate, drop below half-time enrollment, or withdraw from UF. Exit Counseling is available on <http://www.isis.ufl.edu/>. Select "Financial Information", then "Student Loan Exit Counseling" to go directly to the UF Exit Counseling site. You may also access this site via our website at <http://fa.ufl.edu/ufs/> and click on the Collegexit icon. Failure to complete the Exit Counseling may result in a hold being placed on your records, including your diploma, transcripts and registration.

Direct Loan Borrower Services

When your loan is due, the federal loan servicer will mail you a payment schedule listing your monthly payment on principal and interest and the unpaid balance for each month of the period it takes to repay your total debt. If they do not contact you, you are responsible for contacting them at: U.S. Department of Education, Borrower Services Dept., Direct Loan Servicing Center, P. O. Box 4609, Utica, NY 13504-4609, (800) 848-0979; (800) 848-0983 (TDD). You can also contact Borrower Services on the Web at: <http://www.dlsonline.com/>.

What If You Have Trouble Repaying Your Loan?

Communicating with your lender/the federal loan servicer is the best policy. When it is time for repayment to begin, if you have extenuating circumstances or know you will not be able to meet your payment schedule or amount, contact the lender/federal loan servicer at once. Under certain conditions you may be eligible for a "forbearance" period; or, if you meet certain conditions, deferment may be possible. See the Loan deferment, cancellation, and forbearance charts that follow. Conditions listed are subject to change; check with the federal loan servicer about eligibility conditions at the time you need the deferment.

Loan Consolidation

The Federal Direct Consolidation Loan Program allows you to combine one or more of certain federal student loans and to make one monthly payment to the federal government. There is no charge for consolidation, and four repayment plans are offered. This rate is fixed for the life of the loan and cannot exceed 8.25 percent. Following are just a few of the loans that can be consolidated: Federal Direct Stafford/Ford Loans, Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford/Ford Loans, Federal Family Education Loans, Federal Perkins Loans, and Public Health Service Loans. For more information, call Direct Loan Borrower Services Consolidation at: 1-800-

Capitalization of Interest

If you request, and the federal government grants you, deferment of interest payments on a federal direct loan after your grace period, be aware that the interest on your loan will continue to accumulate during deferment. Periodically, the accrued interest will be capitalized—added to the principal, so you will also pay interest on the accrued interest. The disadvantage to capitalizing interest is that you pay more interest over the life of the loan.

Example: If you owe $5,000 in principal at 8% interest, approximately $33.33 in interest will accrue on your loan each month. If the interest is capitalized quarterly (every three months), approximately $99.99 will be added to your principal. At the end of one quarter the principal will increase to $5,099.00, and interest will accrue on that amount for the next quarter. Depending upon how much you borrow, this could cost you a substantial amount.

Forborne interest payments are capitalized.

SFA Administered Aid

The UF Office for Student Financial Affairs administers federal, state and university aid programs and a limited number of privately funded scholarships. SFA draws on these programs when making up students' financial aid "packages."

The Office for Student Financial Affairs (SFA) is the financial aid office at UF. This chapter describes scholarship, grant, student loan, and student employment programs available through SFA.

The Federal Pell Grant program is the core federal student aid program. The financial aid office is the on-campus coordinator for this program, but students apply through the federal need analysis processor. The federal processor decides who receives this grant and determines the amounts of the awards. Other programs such as Federal Perkins Loans, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants and Federal Work-Study are called campus-based programs, because they are entirely administered by the school. Each year, the government supplies the university with a limited amount of money for these programs. When this money is gone, no further funds are available for the year.

SFA also coordinates the Federal Direct Loan Program (FDLP). This program includes the Federal Direct Stafford Loans, Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans, and Federal Direct PLUS Loans. SFA also administers Turner Grants and UF loan programs and acts as the on-campus coordinator for State of Florida programs, such as Florida Student Assistance Grants and the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Programs.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships do not have to be repaid, and do not require recipients to perform services to receive them. Scholarships are administered by several UF offices. For additional information on academic scholarships administered by other UF offices see Chapter 4. For information on scholarships available through individual university departments and colleges, see Chapters 7 and 8, and/or check with your department or college for information. Information on state of Florida scholarships is provided in Chapter 5, and on private outside scholarships in Chapter 9.

SFA's Web site (www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/) provides access to several free scholarship services. Please take advantage of these search engines that provide information on many private sector scholarships, fellowships, and loans.

*Scholarships in the following sections marked with an asterisk require completion of an additional application, available on the SFA Web site.

SFA Awarded Scholarships

SFA awards and/or administers the following scholarships, non-endowed and endowed. Students are automatically considered if they:

1. Apply for financial aid by the "on-time" deadline
2. Have financial need as indicated by the FAFSA
3. Enroll as a full-time student
4. Have a 3.0 GPA
5. Meet the donor-specified criteria

Non-Endowed Scholarships

Jessie Ball duPont/Alfred I. duPont Scholarship
Established by Mrs. Jessie Ball duPont in memory of her husband. A guideline excerpt states: "These scholarships are to be given, not loaned, but the recipients are requested, after their graduation, when they have earning capacity, to pass a like amount, as they have received, on to some deserving boy or girl who needs assistance in acquiring an education. In this way, it will be a permanent chain for the benefit of our youth."

GRANTS

Grants are gift aid (no repayment required) awarded to students who show financial need. Students apply for the Federal Pell Grant, the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, the Florida Student Assistance Grant, and the I. Douglas Turner Grant by completing a FAFSA.

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant program provides financial assistance to students who could not otherwise afford to pay for college as an undergraduate. The government awards grants according to each student's financial need as determined by federal methodology, a congressionally established need analysis formula. Need for other aid is based upon and determined around the student's eligibility for Federal Pell Grant. Awards range from $400 to $4,050 per academic year.

To be eligible, you must:

1. be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident;
2. show financial need according to the Federal Student Aid Report (SAR);
3. be an undergraduate enrolled in a degree-seeking program;
4. maintain satisfactory academic progress;
5. not have defaulted on or owe a refund to any previous aid program.

To apply:

See "How to Apply" in Chapter 1.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

This federally funded aid program is available to all undergraduates who show exceptional financial need. UF selects recipients and determines award amounts, based on greatest financial need. Awards at UF range from $100 to $2,000 a year.

To be eligible, you must:

1. be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident;
2. have financial need as determined from aid application;

5. not have defaulted on or owe a refund to any previous aid program; and
6. be receiving a Federal Pell Grant.

To apply:

See "How to Apply" in Chapter 1.

Florida Student Assistance Grant (FSAG)

The Florida Student Assistance Grant is a state-funded program awarded to qualified undergraduates who show financial need and academic promise and who have maintained Florida residency at least 12 months before the beginning of the term for which they are applying. Awards range from $200 to $1,500 per academic year.

To be eligible, you must:

1. be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident;

3. be a Florida resident for 12 consecutive months before the beginning of the academic year;
4. meet state academic progress standards for renewal of FSAG;
5. have a minimum 2.0 GPA;

10. meet College-Level Academic Skills Test (CLAST) requirements.

To apply:

1. See "How to Apply" in Chapter 1.

STUDENT LOANS

Educational loans are the largest financial resource available to students pursuing postsecondary education. Student loan programs, which allow students to borrow low interest money with no collateral and generally no co-signer, are considered financial aid. Most do not need to be repaid until the student graduates or drops to less than half-time status.

Borrowing money for college is a serious financial obligation. In addition to principal borrowed, interest is generally charged for use of funds. It's important to remember when you borrow money that it must eventually be repaid. When signing a loan promissory note, you make a legal and ethical agreement. Legally, you will be required to sign the note promising to repay the loan. Ethically, you are responsible to future borrowers, since collections from old loans are a major funding source for new loans. Consider this commitment carefully when taking out a loan, and consider how much you reasonably can repay. Read more about loans and debt management in Chapter 2, Money Matters.

Federal Direct Loan Program (FDLP)

FDLP consists of the Federal Direct Stafford Loan (FDSL), the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan (FDUSL), the Federal Direct PLUS Loan (FDPLUS), and the Federal Direct Consolidation Loan Program. The U.S. Department of Education is the lender and, except for consolidation loans, delivers loan proceeds through the school. UF disburses the loans after loans have been processed and approved and classes have begun. When it is time for repayment, you (or your parents) will send all loan payments to the federal loan servicer.

Federal Direct Stafford Loans (FDSL)

FDSLs are need-based, federally subsidized loans which have repayment deferred until after you graduate, withdraw, or enroll less than half time. Interest is paid by the federal government until the end of the six months grace period after you drop to less than half-time enrollment. FDSL has a variable interest rate capped at 8.25%. For information on deferment and repayment, see "Loan Repayment, Deferment, Cancellation, and Forbearance Info" in Chapter 2.

Students may borrow the following amounts through FDSL: first-year students may borrow up to $2,625 per year, second-year students up to $3,500, and third- to fifth-year students up to $5,500. The cumulative total undergraduate students may borrow is $23,000. Graduate students may borrow $8,500 a year up to a $65,500 cumulative total, minus what they borrowed as undergraduates.

Borrowers must pay a 3% origination fee, which is deducted from each disbursement. An up front interest rebate of 1.5% will be given to Stafford borrowers who make their first twelve required monthly payments on time.

To be eligible, you must:

1. be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident;
2. be enrolled at least half-time;
3. show financial need on your FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA need analysis report;
4. not have defaulted on or owe a refund to any previous aid program;

- maintain satisfactory academic progress; and
- postbaccalaureate students must petition for eligibility.

To apply:

- See “How to Apply” in Chapter 1.
- Complete a federal Master Promissory Note (MPN) at the federal MPN Web site at <http://dlenote.ed.gov>. Read “Requirements for Federal Direct Stafford Loans” on this page.
- Confirm acceptance of your loans for each semester you receive one through UF’s ISIS system on the Web at: www.isis.ufl.edu/. Read “Requirements for Federal Direct Stafford Loans” on this page.

Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans (FDUSL)

FDUSL is a non-need-based loan program for students who do not qualify, in whole or in part, for FDSL. “Unsubsidized” means that the interest is not deferred while you are in school. Because unsubsidized loans are not need-based, you may borrow funds over and above your eligibility for FDSL, either up to your cost of education minus other aid, or up to FDUSL program limits, whichever is less. Note: to be eligible for an FDUSL, you must have first applied for a Federal Pell Grant and an FDSL.

FDUSL program yearly loan limits for dependent students are the same as for FDSL, less amounts borrowed through that program. Independent undergraduate students may borrow the following yearly amounts, less amounts already received through FDSL: first-year students, $6,625; second-year students, $7,500; third-year students, $10,500; up to a $46,000 aggregate total. Graduate/Professional students may borrow $18,500 per year, up to $138,500 total, including undergraduate loans, less amounts already borrowed through FDSL. Health Professions loan limits (all aggregate amounts include amounts already received through FDSL): independent undergraduate pharmacy students, $23,000 per year up to aggregate total of $70,625; graduate pharmacy students, $31,000 per year up to an aggregate total of $189,125; professional medical, Doctor of Dentistry, or veterinary medicine students, $38,500 up to an aggregate total of $189,125.

For FDUSLs, since the federal government does not pay the interest while you are in school, you must pay all interest that accrues while you are in school, during the grace period, and during any periods of authorized deferment. You will have the following options: (1) making monthly or quarterly payments to the federal loan servicer, or (2) you and the federal loan servicer may agree to add the interest to the principal of your loan—capitalization.

Capitalizing interest has the disadvantage that you end up paying more interest over the life of the loan because you are also paying interest on the accrued interest.

Please see Chapter 2 for important information on capitalization of interest.

Interest rates, origination fees, and application, and disbursement are the same as for FDSL.

Federal Direct PLUS (FDPLUS)

Through the Federal Direct PLUS program, parents of dependent undergraduate students may borrow up to the cost of education per child enrolled in higher education, minus other financial aid. Borrowers must have no adverse credit histories.

These loans become payable at the date of disbursement, unless deferred (see “Loan Deferment,” Chapter 2). For new borrowers, the program has a variable interest rate capped at 9%. A 4% origination fee is charged at disbursement. An up front interest rebate of 1.5% will be given to PLUS borrowers who make their first twelve required monthly payments on time.

To be eligible:

- the borrower must be a parent or eligible step-parent of a dependent undergraduate student;
- for fall, spring, and/or summer funds, the student must be enrolled at least half-time; see “Enrollment Requirements,” Chapter 2;
- the student must maintain satisfactory academic progress;
- the borrower and the student must not have defaulted on or owe a refund to any previous aid program;
- parent borrowers and students must be U.S. citizens, nationals or permanent residents; and
- borrowers must have no adverse credit history.

To apply:

- Pick up a UF FDPLUS Loan Data/Confirmation form from a customer service adviser in S-107 Criser Hall; or complete and print one from our Web site at: www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/pub/forms/index.html.

Requirements for Federal Direct Stafford Loans

Federal Direct Stafford Loan borrowers MUST complete three steps before their loans can be disbursed. Complete these requirements as soon as you are awarded a loan. Waiting until the beginning of the semester can delay your loan. Note: Step 1 must be completed for each semester you receive a loan. Steps 2 and 3 must be completed only once.

1. Complete the UF Direct Loan Confirmation Process!

Each term, Federal Direct Stafford Loan (FDSL) borrowers must confirm that they will accept loans awarded to them before their funds can be disbursed.

Go to ISIS at www.isis.ufl.edu/ (use your UF GatorLink password); choose “Financial Services,” then “Financial Aid Direct Loan Confirmation” for the correct year.

2. Complete a Federal Electronic Master Promissory Note!

Go to the Federal Electronic Promissory Note Web Site at: <http://dlenote.ed.gov/> (you will need to use your Federal PIN*).

Before you can receive your FDSL or Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, you must complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN), the legal document all Direct Loan borrowers must sign agreeing to pay back their loans.

The U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) provides the online MPN at the Web site above for new borrowers and students who don’t have an MPN on file. If you don’t know if you have completed an MPN, use the Web site to verify that you have a valid MPN on file.

Your Federal PIN*. To complete the online promissory note, use your federal Personal Identification Number (PIN). When you first apply for federal financial aid, you are notified of your federal PIN. If you do not know your PIN, get your PIN data at the Federal PIN Web site as soon as possible at: www.pin.ed.gov/.

Note: Don’t confuse your Federal PIN with your UF GatorLink password or your Florida Bright Futures PIN. You will use different security accesses for different purposes.

3. Complete Federal Direct Loan Entrance Counseling!

All first-time FDSL borrowers must complete an online entrance orientation session before their loan funds can be disbursed.

Go to ISIS at: www.isis.ufl.edu/ (you will need to use your UF GatorLink password); choose “Financial Services,” then choose “Direct Loan Entrance Counseling.”

- When the loan is processed, your parent will receive a promissory note to complete and return to the school with parent and student signatures.

To receive funds:

- See "Receiving Your Financial Aid" in Chapter 2.
- Once classes have begun, the signed promissory note has been received, and UF has verified that the student is enrolled, UF issues these checks to parent borrowers.

Federal Direct Consolidation Loan Program

Students who borrow from more than one loan program may want to consider consolidation of their loans when it comes time for repayment. See Chapter 2 for more information.

Federal Perkins Loan

The Federal Perkins Loan is a federally funded long-term, low-interest loan with repayment deferred until after you graduate, withdraw, or drop to less than half-time enrollment. Student Financial Affairs selects recipients and determines loan amounts based on greatest financial need as determined from students' FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA. To be considered for this program, apply as soon as possible after January 1.

Undergraduate students may borrow up to $4,000 an academic year, up to a total of $20,000 toward an undergraduate degree through the Federal Perkins Loan program. Graduate students may borrow up to $6,000 a year up to a total of $40,000 including both undergraduate and graduate loans. Repayment is made in equal installments, beginning nine months after you withdraw, graduate, or drop to below half-time status. The minimum repayment amount is $40 a month, and 5% interest is charged on the unpaid balance. See "Loan Repayment, Deferment, Cancellation, and Forbearance Info" in Chapter 2.

The maximum time for repayment is ten years, not including deferred payment time. Provisions are made for deferment or cancellation of loan repayment under specific circumstances. See "Loan Repayment, Deferment, Cancellation, and Forbearance Info" in Chapter 2.

To be eligible, you must:

- be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident;
- show need on your FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA need analysis report;

- maintain satisfactory academic progress;
- not be in default on or owe a refund to any previous aid program; and
- be enrolled at least half-time.

To apply:

See "How to Apply" in Chapter 1.

To receive funds:

- See "Receiving Your Financial Aid" in Chapter 2.
- First-time Federal Perkins Loan borrowers must complete Entrance Counseling before their loans can be disbursed. Before the start of classes, University Financial Services (UFS) will mail them instructions on how to complete online Entrance Counseling. For more information, call UFS at (352) 392-0738. See "Disbursement" in Chapter 2.
- Federal Perkins Loan borrowers must complete the new online Federal Perkins Master Promissory Note (MPN) to receive their loans. UFS will mail them instructions on how to sign the new MPN. For more information, call UFS at (352) 392-0738. See "Disbursement" in Chapter 2.

UF Long-Term Loans

UF long-term loans are available to full-time students. Funds are donated by many private donors and administered by UF. The amount and type of loans a student receives will vary according to their financial need as determined from their FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA.

Interest on UF loans ranges from 4 to 9% a year, depending on the loan fund, and begins accruing on the date the loan is received. Repayment begins six months after graduation or dropping to less than half-time enrollment. Repayment schedules are handled individually with a recommended minimum of $20 a month. These loans require an endorser over 18 years old who is not a student or student spouse. Parents are preferred. You have ten years for repayment. If you enter active military service you may defer repayment for the period of your original enlistment or compulsory service in the armed forces.

Major UF Long-Term Loan funds include: Student Aid for Education (SAFE); Meril S. Beers; Hart R. Stringfellow; Cora B. Pilling; Arthur L. Wallace; John G., and Fannie F. Ruge Memorial funds.

To be eligible for UF Long-Term Loans, you must:

- be a U.S. citizen, national or permanent resident;

- show need on your FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA need analysis report;
- maintain satisfactory academic progress;
- not have defaulted on or owe a refund to any previous aid program; and
- be enrolled full-time.

To apply:

See "How to Apply" in Chapter 1.

To receive funds:

- See "Receiving Your Financial Aid" in Chapter 2.
- Borrowers with UF long-term loans will receive a promissory note by mail from University Financial Services in S-108 Criser Hall. These promissory notes must be signed and returned to S-108 Criser before the loans can be disbursed.

UF Emergency Short-Term Loans

Short-Term Loans (STL) are available to students enrolled at least half-time to help meet temporary, emergency financial needs related to educational expenses. Registered students with valid repayment sources may borrow up to $1,000, or if tuition is paid or deferred, the amount of their in-state tuition.

Major Short-Term Loan funds include: Claude S. Ginn Memorial Educational; Edward J. Triay, Jr., Memorial; B. A. Tolbert Memorial; Exxon Loans; Sara Lou Dervech; and T. W. Johnson Loan funds.

Interest is computed monthly at the rate of 1% on the unpaid balance from the date the loan is disbursed. A minimum of one month's interest will be charged if the loan is paid in full within 30 days. Short-Term Loans must be repaid, either when the repayment source is received, OR by the first day of the last month in the semester in which the loan is taken out, whichever comes first. Payment may be made at University Financial Services in S-108 Criser Hall at any time before the due date.

See Chapter 2 for disbursement information.

To be eligible, you must:

- be enrolled at least half-time as an undergraduate or graduate student;
- have a valid repayment source; and
- have no "flags" or credit holds.

To apply:

- See an adviser at Student Financial Affairs in S-107 Criser Hall to complete an application.
- Approved STL awards are normally disbursed within 48 hours after submitting the application.

Repayment of Loans

When you graduate or leave school, if you have taken out any student loans, you are required to have an Exit Counseling session with University Financial Services (UFS) at S-108 Criser.

Educational loans awarded by UF (Federal Perkins Loans and UF Institutional Loans, such as SAFE Loans) may be repaid in equal or graduated installments. The minimum monthly repayment for Federal Perkins Loans is $40. The university may require a minimum repayment for institutional loans of $30 a month.

Students who borrow through FDLP—Federal Direct Stafford Loans (subsidized and unsubsidized) and Federal Direct PLUS)—have a variety of repayment options: 1) standard; 2) extended plan—the borrower pays at least $50/month and at least the amount of interest that accrues; 3) graduated (payments increase every two years)—payments from 50 to 150% of what the student would have paid monthly; 4) income contingent (ICR)—varies annually based on income (up to 25 years; not available for Federal Direct PLUS); 5) alternative plan—determined by the federal government; and 6) after default, may be eligible for ICR.

For more on repayment, see “Loan Consolidation,” “Capitalization of Interest,” and “Loan Repayment, Deferment, Cancellation, and Forbearance Info” in Chapter 2.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

The Student Employment Office in S-107 Criser Hall helps enrolled students find part-time employment through various job programs. Employment enables students to cover part of their expenses while attending school, and studies show that work has positive effects on students’ overall academic achievements. Job opportunities exist for all students whether or not they are eligible for financial aid.

Employment should not interfere with students’ educational goals. A normal work week is 10 to 20 hours, and 20 hours per week is the maximum students may work on campus. Students and employers generally cooperate on the hours to be worked, and most jobs allow students to arrange their schedules around their classes. Students are not permitted to work during scheduled classes or exams.

Almost every department at UF employs students part-time. These jobs offer students work related to their skills,

Student Employment Job Boards

Student Employment maintains lists of FWS, OPS, and Off-Campus Jobs on job boards outside SFA and at other campus locations. The SFA job board is updated daily. All others are updated twice weekly. Job boards are located:

Outside the SFA Lobby in the Criser Complex Courtyard
J. Wayne Reitz Union (Rooms G-1 and 305)
Norman Hall (first floor, NW end)
Health Science Center (near the Credit Union)

academic or career fields, and experiences or interests. Job duties range from those demanding special research skills to those demanding only the willingness to work. UF offices and Gainesville area businesses list positions with the Student Employment Office.

Jobs are available through: the Federal Work-Study Program, Other Personnel Services, and Off-Campus Jobs.

Federal Work-Study (FWS) Program/Federal Community Service

The purpose of FWS is to provide students with part-time employment to help meet college costs and, if possible, provide work experience in a related field. FWS is federally funded and need-based. Your eligibility is determined from information you provide on your FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA. To be eligible, you must show need on your federal need analysis report. The number of hours you may work will depend upon your financial need.

Federal Community Service. The FWS program includes Federal Community Service (FCS) and also the “America Reads” program. FCS allows students to work off-campus with various community agencies dedicated to improving community living, especially for low-income individuals. All requirements for FWS apply to FCS. “America Reads” is a tutoring program promoted by the federal government to help elementary school students improve their reading skills. In addition to applying for financial aid through SFA (see “How to Apply” in Chapter I), students interested in “America Reads” should contact the College of Education Program Coordinator, 392-0701, ext. 244, 1345 Norman Hall.

Earnings through FWS vary with the nature of the job, your skills, and the hours you can work. Salaries start at minimum wage and range upward according to skills and experience. Most students work 10 to 20 hours a week. Employers usually prefer students to work three or more consecutive hours depending on their class schedules. To retain FICA exempt status, students must enroll for six credit hours and work no more than 20 hours a week.

To be eligible, you must:

1. be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident;
2. show need on your FAFSA or Renewal FAFSA need analysis report;
3. maintain satisfactory academic progress (2.0 GPA);
4. be enrolled at least half-time as an undergraduate or graduate student;
5. not have defaulted on or owe a refund to any aid program; and
6. postbaccalaureate students must petition for eligibility.

To apply:

1. See “How to Apply” in Chapter 1.
2. Get a UF work permit: 1) from the student employment window in S-107 Criser; or 2) by calling 392-0296.
3. Check the job boards outside S-107 Criser or on the Web.

Other Personnel Services (OPS)

OPS is state-funded and is not based on need. To be eligible, students employed by

How to Find a Job

- 1. Start Early. Jobs are available throughout the year, but the best time to find one is at the beginning of semesters. Students awarded FWS for fall are mailed a UF Work Permit (see item 5) and a list of jobs about two weeks before the term begins.
- 2. Check the Campus Job Boards on our Web site at: www.sfa.ufl.edu/job.html . When Student Employment receives a job listing, they add it to the job boards around campus and on the internet. The job lists include: job descriptions, experience required, contact people, and phone numbers.
- 3. Check at Specific Departments. Also check for open positions in your department or other areas that especially interest you (e.g., libraries, Harn Museum).
- 4. Call for an Interview. After checking the job list for positions that interest you, call the contact person for an interview.
- 5. Get a UF Work Permit. All UF students are required to have a UF Work Permit to work on campus, whether at an FWS or an OPS job. For FWS students, the work permit indicates the number of hours they are authorized to work that semester. If you don't get a work permit by mail, you must get one from Student Employment in S-107 Criser Hal (be sure to bring a picture ID). You can also call (352)392-0296 to request a work permit by phone. You must bring your UF Work Permit to all interviews.

UF must have at least a 2.0 GPA and be enrolled for at least six credit hours per semester. Average earnings are generally the same as for work-study jobs. The total hours students can work and the amount earned will depend upon the hiring department's budget and need. Students must report OPS income on their aid applications the following year. To apply, students should go to SFA's Student Employment window in S-107 Criser for a work permit and to check job listings.

Off-Campus Employment

Off-campus jobs do not require students to demonstrate financial need. After checking the job lists, simply make arrangements on your own for an interview. Wages will vary depending upon the job and the employer.

Veteran Affairs (VA) Work-Study

On- and off-campus jobs are available for enrolled veterans of the U.S. armed services. Openings are listed on the Student Job Boards around campus as well as on the On-line Student Job Boards at www.sfa.ufl.edu/job.html . For eligibility and application information check with the UF Veterans Affairs Office, 222 Criser Hall, PO Box 114000, Gainesville FL, 32611-4000, Phone: 352-392-1374, ext. 7413. Online program information is available at <http://www.reg.ufl.edu/va/va-work-study.htm> .

Career Resource Center

The following work programs are administered by the Career Resource Center at the Reitz Union. For more information, contact the Career Resource Center, First Floor Reitz Union, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611.

Cooperative Education

The Cooperative (Co-op) Education Program combines actual paid work experience with students' academic curriculums. This program is career oriented: its primary purpose is professional training rather than financial assistance. Co-op experience is available in areas such as business, industry, and government.

To qualify for Co-op, you must have completed your freshman year with at least a "C" average. Co-op salaries vary, but students earn enough to allow them to pay immediate living expenses and often to supplement college expenses. Two work formats are available:

1. The alternating plan allows you to work full-time every other semester. For example, you may work fall semester, attend the university spring semester, and work summer session. Most University of Florida Co-op students follow this plan.
2. Students work a minimum of 20 hours per week within commutable distance of the Gainesville area, while continuing to attend class. To complete the program, six semesters of parallel experience are required for undergraduate engineering students, and four are required for undergraduate students in non-engineering majors and graduate students. The parallel plan allows you to work and attend classes at the same time. With this plan, you have some flexibility in arranging your schedule. For example, you might take classes in the morning and work in the afternoon, or vice versa.

For more information, call the Co-op Office at (352) 392-1601; or go to: <http://www.crc.ufl.edu/Experiential/CoopIntern/experience.php>

Internships

Internships are professional, off-campus work experiences that assist students in acquiring the experience and skills that are necessary to be competitive in today's job market, allowing them to test the "career waters." This centralized campus program coordinates the internship needs of employers nationwide with the needs of UF students.

Internships are usually for one semester, which makes them ideal for students unable to meet Co-op work-semester requirements. Part-time positions are available locally. Internship experience is available to most majors, can be paid or unpaid, and may be available for academic credit based on departmental approval. For information, call the Internship Office at (352) 392-1601; or go to: <http://www.crc.ufl.edu/Experiential/CoopIntern/experience.php> .

Externships

An externship is an employer shadowing experience that typically lasts from a few hours to one week. Externships provide students with the opportunity to observe professionals and learn about possible careers in that field. This is a great option for students of any academic year who are unsure of their major or career goals, and want to "test" a career without a semester-long (or longer) commitment to a company, or who want to start networking with professionals in that industry.

Other Academic Scholarships

When reading this chapter, please keep in mind that if you apply for aid through SFA, SFA takes your academic achievement scholarship awards (including tuition fee waivers and reductions) into consideration, and counts them as part of your official aid package.

Admissions Office

The Admissions Office awards academic scholarships to incoming freshmen and transfer students, based on academic ability and achievement. To be considered, students must have a complete admission application (application, high school transcript, test scores, application fee, and two essays) on file with the Admissions Office by the deadline. Specific application forms are not required for UF National Merit Scholarships, National Achievement Scholarships, National Hispanic Scholarships, Lombardi Scholars Program, Wentworth Entrance Scholarships, Out-of-State Tuition Reductions, and UF Gator Club Scholarships.

The Admissions Office address is UF Admissions Office, S-201 Criser Hall, P.O. Box 114000, Gainesville, FL 32611-4000. The telephone number is (352) 392-1365.

Aid For Students With Disabilities

This chapter describes programs available specifically for students with disabilities who need financial assistance to help pay college expenses. In addition to resources in this chapter, students may apply for general aid programs open to the entire student body through the University of Florida (UF) Admissions Office, the federal government, the state of Florida, university colleges and departments, and private organizations.

SFA in S-107 Criser Hall offers eligible students financial aid packages that consist of scholarships, grants, loans and/or part-time employment. SFA coordinates or administers most major student aid programs and a number of privately funded scholarships, and offers financial aid counseling to students. To apply for aid available through SFA, follow the instructions in "How To Apply," in Chapter 1.

Students who need special help applying for aid should contact SFA. SFAs' telephone line for students with speech or hearing impairments is (352) 392-1272 (V/TDD). Students with speech or hearing impairments who need to contact an agency on campus that does not list a TDD number may use the free Florida Relay Service by dialing 711; or 1 (800) 955-8771 (TDD). SFA's Web site is at: www.ufsa.ufl.edu/sfa/.

Graduate Aid

Most graduate students, regardless of disability, pay for their education with scholarships, employment, loans, savings, assistantships, and family contributions. Graduate students should apply for assistance through their major department and through SFA. See "Chapter 8, Graduate Aid."

COORDINATION WITH THE DEAN OF STUDENTS OFFICE

Disability Resources in the Dean of Students Office (DSO) in P-202 Peabody Hall and SFA in Criser Hall work together to assist students with disabilities. CRISER HALL AND PEABODY HALL ARE BOTH ACCESSIBLE BUILDINGS. Students may contact Disability Resources or SFA to discuss financial aid issues. The telephone numbers for DSO are (352) 392-1261 (V) and (352) 392-3008 (TDD). DSO's Web site is located at: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/>.

Disability-Related Expenses

Students with disabilities frequently have expenses not incurred by other students and, when applying for financial aid through SFA, may qualify for an increase in their educational budgets. Costs of special equipment, fees for special services such as readers, interpreters, note takers, or personal care attendants, and medical costs related to the disability are all considered disability-related expenses. Disability Resources will help determine disability-related expenses. When these expenses have been identified, students should submit a Revision Petition Form to SFA documenting any such expenses not paid for or provided by another agency.

FLORIDA RELAY SERVICE

Persons with hearing or speech impairments trying to contact a university agency that does not list a TDD number should call the Florida Relay Service by dialing 711; or 1 (800) 392-3008 (TDD).

Undergraduate Aid

Individual colleges, schools, and departments within the University of Florida offer scholarships and other assistance to undergraduate students. Although administered by the colleges, many of these scholarships are funded by private individuals and institutions. In most cases, these awards are given to juniors and seniors who have been accepted for admission into a particular program. Some, however, are designated for freshmen and/or sophomores.

Most scholarships and awards included here are based on academic performance, but some also depend upon financial need. For information and applications, check with the contact person listed for the college or department which administers the award.

We have taken care to ensure the accuracy and timeliness of information in this handbook. Contents are subject to change without notice, because of changing federal and state legislation and donor requests, as well as unintended error. All financial aid awards are contingent upon availability of funds and subject to revision.

Graduate Aid

GENERAL GRADUATE AID

We have taken care to ensure the accuracy and timeliness of information in this handbook. Contents are subject to change without notice, however, because of changing federal and state legislation and donor requests, as well as unintended error. All financial aid awards are contingent upon availability of funds and subject to revision.

Alumni Graduate Fellowships

Alumni Graduate Fellows represent the highest graduate student award available at UF. Funded at nationally competitive levels, these highly prestigious awards support students in all programs and departments of the University awarding a Ph.D. or MFA. The Fellowships focus on identifying and supporting students who seek the Ph.D. degree or selected terminal master's degrees (the MFA for example). To ensure that Alumni Fellows receive every opportunity to succeed, the Alumni Graduate Fellowships provide a full four years of support through a nationally competitive stipend and full tuition waiver for qualifying students. Most Fellows will receive a minimum of two years of fully-funded fellowship, and they will receive another two years of research or teaching assistantship. UF expects Alumni Fellows to demonstrate high standards of academic achievement and participation in university life.

Applicants for Alumni Fellowships apply through the departments or programs of their major field of study. Successful applicants will have outstanding undergraduate preparation, a strong commitment to their field of study, and demonstrated potential in research and creative activities. Information on the various Ph.D. and other UF graduate programs appear under Graduate Degrees and Programs at: www.aa.ufl.edu/fellows/degrees.html. For more information on the fellowships available, please contact the program coordinator for the degree in which you are interested.

Qualified graduate students in every department may apply for fellowships, assistantships, and other awards. In general, these awards are available to students pursuing either master's or doctoral degrees.

Graduate Assistantships

For fellowship or assistantship information and application deadlines, contact the chairperson of your department.

Information and applications are also available on the Web on the UF Graduate School admissions Web page at gradschool.rgp.ufl.edu/ and on UF's Graduate Fellowship Initiative page at www.aa.ufl.edu/fellows/.

The employing department or unit determines the starting salary and duties in teaching or research and associated responsibilities. In-state and out-of-state tuition payments are included in most instances when the assistantship is at least one-quarter time (ten hours per week). In certain areas, special research awards may be available. Contact your department chairperson or graduate coordinator.

The Graduate School Fellowships

Graduate School fellowships are named in honor of Dr. Linton E. Grinter, who was Dean of the Graduate School, 1952-1969. Each year $630,000 is awarded to students in the form of Grinter Fellowships. The intent of the Grinter Fellowship is to facilitate the recruitment of truly exceptional graduate students to the University of Florida. Currently enrolled UF graduate students are not eligible, except in the particular case in which they will be entering a Ph.D. (or other terminal degree) program for the first time. Ordinarily, the Grinter is limited to Ph.D. students. Exceptions are made for those areas in the University that have a terminal degree different from the Ph.D. Grinter Fellowships are not assistantships. No duties may be required of the student (except those duties associated with an assistantship held concurrently). Grinter Fellowship stipends are normally in the $2,000-$4,000 range. Continuation of the Grinter beyond the first year (up to a total of three years) is contingent upon satisfactory student progress. An annual report is made to the Graduate School in this regard for each student. For more information, go to: www.aa.ufl.edu/fellows/grinter.html.

Named Presidential Fellowships

The Graduate School awards fellowships named in honor of former UF presidents. The fellowship represents a four-year commitment to the student (assuming satisfactory progress toward the degree). First and fourth years are funded by the Graduate School (including tuition waiver); second and third years funded by the department/college (may be an assistantship, but at the same annual rate as the fellowship). Programs with a three-year anticipated time-to-degree provide a match over three years wherein the Graduate School funds the first year and the last six months of the third year. The department or college submitting the candidate for consideration specifies the stipend level, from $10,000 to $17,000 for twelve months. Applications are encouraged for students who are members of groups traditionally underrepresented in graduate education. Applications must include the application for graduate study, the candidate's statement of purpose and the standard financial aid application form (with three letters of recommendation). Awards are determined by the candidate's college. The application deadline is set by the college; deadline for acceptance is April 15. There are no minimum GRE or GPA requirements; the candidates are expected to be among the strongest prospective students in their respective colleges. For more information, go to: www.aa.ufl.edu/fellows/presidential.html.

Title VI—Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowships

UF's Center for African Studies anticipates awarding Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellowships for the up-coming academic year. These fellowships are funded by the US Department of Education (USDOE) under Title VI of the Higher Education Act. Fellowships are awarded to students combining graduate work in an academic discipline with African area and language studies.

Fellowships are offered for any one of the regularly taught languages (Akan, Amharic, Arabic, Swahili, Xhosa, and Yoruba) as well as for other African languages for which instruction can be arranged (Wolof and Lingala are current possibilities). The Center recommends that fellowship recipients also work toward fulfilling the requirements for a Certificate in African Area Studies and/or a Minor in African Studies in conjunction with their specific graduate degree requirements.

Applications will be accepted for pursuit of a graduate degree in any UF department, preferably those with a Center for African Studies faculty affiliate. These include agriculture, anthropology, art history, economics, education, engineering, forestry, wildlife ecology and conservation, geography, history, journalism, law, linguistics, literature, political science, recreation and tourism, and zoology.

Fellowships provide a stipend of $14,000 per academic year and cover the cost of tuition and fees (12 credits per semester). Applicants must be a citizen or permanent resident of the U.S. and be admitted to a UF graduate program. Successful applicants will show clear promise of completing a graduate degree with a concentration in African language and area studies; plan to pursue field research in Africa using the language of study; an excellent academic record as demonstrated by course grades, GRE scores, and strong recommendations. The deadline is February 16. For more information, go to: web.africa.ufl.edu/academic/fellowship.html

Summer Foreign Language Intensive Study Fellowships

Summer fellowships provide students with an opportunity to undertake intensive African language study in any USDOE-approved program. These awards may also be used for Group Study Abroad Programs. In summer 2004, UF will offer Akan on its campus. Summer fellowships cover tuition at the host institution and provide a stipend of $2,400. Travel awards may also be available. To apply, follow the same procedure as above. Students applying for an academic year fellowship and for a summer intensive fellowship should submit two separate applications. The statement of purpose accompanying the application for a summer fellowship should indicate why summer study is desired and how it will contribute to the candidate's program of study. Applicants must also provide specific information on the program they wish to attend, i.e. fees, contact hours, instructor. The application deadline is February 16. For more information, go to: web.africa.ufl.edu/academic/fellowship.html

Financial Aid Loans and Part-Time Employment

Graduate students may apply for loan programs (Federal Direct Loan Program loans, including Federal Direct Stafford Loans and Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans) and for part-time employment through Student Financial Affairs (SFA) in S-107 Criser Hall. Students who accept assistantships, fellowships, or traineeships must receive approval from the Graduate School before accepting other employment. Students applying for loans and work through SFA should understand that fellowships and fee waivers are included in aid packages. Receiving fellowships or fee waivers affects eligibility for SFA-awarded aid, and students applying for aid through SFA must notify SFA of all assistance they receive from such sources. See Chapter 1 for instructions on how to apply.

Assistantships

A limited number of assistantships are available to highly qualified students. Historically, assistantships have been awarded to students to work ten hours per week in one of the academic programs as a research or teaching assistant or in the Florida MBA Programs Office as a graduate assistant.

Fellowships

UF awards a number of Graduate Fellowships to students who would make a positive impact on their academic field of study. See the "General Graduate Aid" section at the beginning of this chapter. These scholarships provide tuition assistance and a significant annual stipend. Candidates must apply by the early application deadline so that a final admissions decision can be reached before the February 15 deadline for fellowship consideration. Outstanding students admitted after that date will be nominated to receive scholarship funds that remain undistributed. These fellowships are restricted to outstanding Ph.D. candidates.

Scholarships

MBA candidates who submit their application for admission by March 15 are automatically considered for the following merit-based awards.

Contact: Tracy Hicks, 267 Stuzin Hall; <http://www.cba.ufl.edu/fsoa/scholarship.html>

The Fisher School of Accounting administers a number of awards and fellowships each year and nominates students for a variety of externally administered awards. Fellowships are generally awarded to students who intend to enter or who have already entered the master's program. The amounts, number, and source of awards vary from year to year. Academic performance, particularly in upper-division accounting coursework, is emphasized in selecting recipients. Generally, twelve to twenty awards are made in amounts from $500 to $2,500. A complete list of awards is maintained in the School of Accounting office (STZ 267). To be considered for these awards and for nomination for externally administered awards, students should complete and submit an Application for Accounting Awards, available at the School of Accounting office in late fall and early spring. The submission deadline is generally January 15. Announcements of recipients and nominees generally are made in March.
