Before School

Time for grooming, gossip, studying, socializing.

Whether in 1980 or 1989, before school is a time for catching up on gossip, jokes, or whatever else was missed the day before. Students can be found socializing in the girls' locker room, sitting around the famous victory bell, while still others prefer the library to unite with friends. Wherever students may find themselves, the morning is a time to relax for a few minutes before running to class.

At the bus stop in Margarita, Angel Keith tries to explain an analysis problem to Greg Gehringer and Tricia Hanan.

"Guys knock it off, It's too early!" snaps Kindra Rankin.

From the beginning of the 80's to the end of the 80's, Cristobal High School is the center for many activities and achievements.

After School

Cycling, Swimming, Practicing, Playing; All part of After School Hours.

Students enjoy a variety of sports and activities during the after school hours. Participating in school sports requires students to attend daily practices during the season. Other students enjoy cycling, skateboarding, swimming, and running in their off hours. While still others take advantage of the after school hours to go to the movies, perfect piano playing, or to obtain the perfect tan. No matter what the year, 1980 or 1989, students enjoy a variety of fun activities in the hours after the school day is complete.

Homecoming "88"

Spirit Week, Parade, Dance, Queen; All Part of "Coming Home"

Homecoming, whether in 1980 or 1988, is a time for all Tigers past and present to celebrate their alma mater. Homecoming at CHS is kicked off with spirit week and a hall decorating contest. The sophomore class, with their upbeat 50's theme, was the 1988 winner.

The homecoming game, played this year against the Bulldogs, is preceded by a parade of colorful floats decorated in the class themes. The freshman class won top honors with "Cleopatra, Tigress of Cristobal."

Homecoming week is culminated by a dance, which was held at the beautifully decorated Elks Club in Margarita. Students jammed to the vibrating beat of the music. The highlight of the dance was the procession of the queen, her court, and their escorts. As the night rolled to an end, the fun lingered in the air, and the memories became etched in every proud Tiger.

Anabella Pederson, Jennifer Eckel, Jennifer Rankin, and Lutcia Pederson wait in anticipation for the opening kickoff.

Christmas Formal

white fantasia; delightful dancing;
stockings; santa; senior fame

This year's Christmas Formal, with the theme "White Fantasia", was a complete surprise to all the students. Mrs. Hoffman, the senior class sponsor, got parents, friends, and faculty members to help put together a fantasy filled evening. Santa Claus was on hand to pass out presents to all of the seniors and each senior received a hand embroidered stocking with a personal letter from their parents. The senior hall of fame was announced by juniors Lili Borsellino and Allison Hoffman, satisfying everyone's curiosity. As the band played Christmas music and the white lights twinkled, everyone who attended the dance came away with Christmas spirit and agreed that it had definitely been an enchanted evening.

Powder Puff

Girls play flag football; Boys cheer onto victory

Powder puff is one of the many events that CHS students look forward to in the fall. Powder puff is when the girls get a chance to prove that they are just as good as the boys on the football field, and the boys show off their cheerleading skills. This event attracts many spectators who enjoy watching the boys cheer the tigerettes onto victory.

This year the winners of each 15 minute flag football game, were the 8th graders who played the 7th graders, freshmen who played the sophomores, and the junior class who held off the senior class. The final game of the evening was a hard fought, scoreless battle between SA and the faculty. The junior and 7th grade cheerleaders proved to have the most spirit and style. All of the winners were treated to a pizza party sponsored by the student association.

community life

It is a known fact that the atlantic community is a close one. Whether it's after-school activities, plays, or cantadas, everyone from teachers and students to the military and their families can be found being involved. For example the Color Guard was found beginning many festivities, the play JUVIE was performed mainly by CHS students, and the Christmas Cantada provided the entire community to come together and created a Christmas spirit shared by all.

Busy CHS students show school isn't the only thing by performing in the Christmas Cantada.

Weekends

movies, parties,
surfing, relaxing

Weekends for the majority of students means a time to relax and get away from the daily pressures of school and enjoy a couple of days with friends and family. Going to the movies is a popular way to spend a Friday or Saturday night. Weekend parties are also very popular among CHS students. If the movies, or parties, are not what a student has on his or her mind then the beach, the Gatun Yacht Club, or simply a backyard are great spots to catch some rays and relax. Still other prefer to use weekends for surfing, or practicing for the annual cayuco race. While other students use weekends for the sole purpose of sleeping or utilizing this time to study or catch up on homework. Weekends vary from student to student, but one thing is certain, Everybody Loves WEEKENDS!!

Look at the "Angel" fly!

Lane Perkins spends his weekends skateboarding.

Kevin Akers find boogie-boarding a perfect way to relax from the pressures of school.

Todd and Joce are headed out for a night on the town.

Derek Akers catches the wave of a lifetime.

Honorine Millar spends all her free time with her horse.

Anya McNeal and Johnny Redmond spend weekends just palling around.

Maria Estella is lost in thought as she escapes into the beautiful Panamanian setting of the Gatun Yacht Club.

The Panama Canal

"honoring the past by building the future"

This wonderful year of 1989 we are celebrating the Panama Canal's 75th anniversary. Without the Panama Canal there would be no Cristobal High School. This celebration is very important and is being celebrated on both sides of the isthmus. "Even the cayucos participating in the ocean-to-ocean race will be provided stick-on logos commemorating the Diamond Jubilee." says the Spillway newspaper which is a great source of information on the canal. In the end of the eighties we still "honor the past by building the future."

Miraflores Locks open into the next phase of the ocean-to-ocean transit.

CANAL

first transit

The "Alexandre La Valley," an old French crane boat, awaits clearance at the Pedro Miguel Locks as it makes the first ocean-to-ocean transit of the Panama Canal on January 7, 1914.

Ships like these brighten every aspect of the canal.

Can you believe these little tug boats pull huge ships through the canal?

Berly and Jesus carefully unload their cayuco into the lake.

Jimmy Brown rutters his boat, an efficient way of turning.

"Who said anything about a rest break guys?"

Cayuco paddling to the finish

The annual Ocean to Ocean Cayuco Race has been tradition since 1953. The season begins in late November and continues until race day starting March 17th and goes through the 19th.

There are four cayuco categories: all-male, all-female, coed, and patch boat. Crew members vary from four to ten people depending on the size of the boat. Ages ranges from 14 up.

During the season crews trained vigorously to build up strength and endurance in hopes of winning the first place trophy.

Atlantic side crews consisted of three all-male crews: Command Performance, Odyssey, and Gone Palante; two all-female crews: Bejuco, and Daddy Most; two coed crews: Southern Comfort and Charisma.

The race starts at Cristobal Yacht Club and continues approximately eight miles to the north end of the Gatun Locks. The second day starts a 22 mile stretch from the south end of the Gatun Locks and ends at Gamboa Boat Landing. The third and final day of the race begins at Gamboa and goes 12 miles through Gailard Cut, then proceeds through Miraflores Locks ending 3 miles later at Diablo Public Boat Ramp.

After the race there is an awards assembly where trophies and patches are given out.

Though the race is grueling, it is the experience of a lifetime that has kept the Ocean to Ocean Race a tradition for 36 years.

Derek Akers rests after a strenuous sprint to the Yacht Club.

Junior/Senior Prom

last dance for seniors;
king, queen, court, crowned

The junior/senior prom is a special night, especially for seniors, because it is the last high school dance which they will attend as students. The junior class raises money through class ring sales, bake sales, etc. to put together an enchanted evening for everyone. One of the highlights of the evening is the crowning of the King, Queen, and court which is voted on by the junior class. Fond memories linger as students dance the night away with special friends.

'90's..

Seniors The Beginning of Life . . .

The senior year was a year of classes, dances, parties, games, friends, and fun. The goal for the Class of '89 officers was to create a sense of unity among the thirty-nine graduates. With the help of Mrs. Hoffman, the senior class sponsor, this goal was achieved.

The class of '89 was busy this year. Bake sales, key chain sales, Turkey grams, and many other fundraisers were utilized to put on "White Fantasia", the Christmas Formal. Memorable events for the Class of '89 included Homecoming with a "Rambo" theme, powder puff, senior dinner at the Corrigan's, and the extracurricular activities which kept the seniors busy throughout the year.

There are moments which will not be forgotten as seniors reminisce of fun times during the year.

Without a doubt the Class of '89 looks forward to the future, says goodbye to the 80's, and hello to "the beginning of life."

One More

Step

"Class Favorites"

Darrell Canamas enjoys spending his time with his friends and talking, or sometimes he prefers to be outside in Panama's glorious sunshine playing tennis, baseball, or paddling for caguco. When asked how he felt about being chosen class favorite, he said, "Actually, I didn't expect it, but it's an honor to be in this position." Wendy Giese enjoys talking on the phone, listening to music, and spending time with Jorge. She also enjoys cheer-leading and cayuco. When asked how she felt about being chosen again, she said, "I didn't really think I would be chosen again, but I am glad that my peers thought enough of me to choose me again."

The '88-'89 Junior class officers were Lili Borsellino, President; Christine Will, Treasurer; Michelle Prather, Secretary; Allison Hoffman, Vice-President; and Wendy Giese, Business Manager.

Juniors

This year was filled with a lot of hard work for the Junior class, but it held tremendous amounts of fun also. Being responsible for the Jr.-Sr. Prom in May, the Junior class had their work cut out for them. So as soon as the school year began, Mrs. Rozett, the Junior class sponsor, set out to round up a group of students who were willing and who wanted to take upon themselves the responsibility of organizing and running the Junior class for the '88-'89' school year. Many volunteered, but unfortunately there were only five positions to be filled. Lili Borsellino, Allison Hoffman, Michelle Prather, Christine Will, and Wendy Giese were selected to hold the positions for that year.

Then the tricky part began to surface. What should they do to raise money? The obvious answer, BAKE, BAKE, BAKE. And that is just what they did. They made pies, cakes, cookies, and brownies all year long to help feed the hungry mouths of CHS. After having earned enough money from bake sales to get their feet off the ground, the Juniors got together and planned an activity the entire school would enjoy. A dance. While everyone danced the night away to the sounds of Oro Puro, the Junior class added their nightly earnings to their central fund, Money for Prom. Next, the Juniors went around and asked if anyone wanted to order any jewelry for themselves. All those who ordered received their merchandise while the Junior class received a percentage of the amount of the orders.

Throughout the remainder of the year, the Junior class worked to raise the final dollars needed to cover the expenses of Prom. Once they had all they needed, they began to work on the planning and organizing of Prom so that CHS would have the best Prom ever.

The '88-'89' school year turned out to be a great one for the Junior class. They realize though, that the year would not have been as successful had they not had the cooperation of students, faculty, and even the community. To all those who helped the Junior class in any way, they thank you wholeheartedly.

The 88-89 school year was filled with ups and downs. Winning first place in hall decorating contest and second place with the homecoming floats, would surely go on the achievement list. However, the 50's/60's sock hop?? Well, as they say, "We all learn from our mistakes."

Nothing appeared to have gone according to plan that night. First of all, the DJ arrived late with a shortage of equipment, generating a two hour delay. However, we were able to keep the audience entertained with Mrs. Mardis' marvelous singing and Shawn McCracken and Ruben Diaz' rhythmic rapping. Later that night, Mrs. Perkins showed up with the MP's to search the school because they thought someone had entered CHS illegally. The MP's ordered everyone to remain in the cafeteria while the search with the "killer dogs" was in progress. First no DJ, now the MP's, what else could possibly go wrong? About 20 minutes before midnight the stereo system blew up. Once again the dancers were left without music; the students departed and that was the end of the sock hop. Although some people may wish to forget the night ever existed. The organizers of the dance will always remember that night. One of these days, when we are old and in our rocking chairs, we will all look back at that dance and laugh.

Bev plans to go to college in the South after her high school graduation to pursue a career as either a college English professor or a lawyer. Ruben, however, plans to attend Texas A and M after high school graduation and major in business to pursue a career as a stockbroker. The freshmen class took advantage of their first year in high school by becoming involved in all of the activities CHS has to offer. During homecoming, the freshmen came away with the parade float top honors with their theme "Cleopatra, Tigress of Cristobal". The students dressed in costumes from the Egyptian era which were so authentic looking parents and friends did not even recognize their students. The girls powder puff team worked hard to beat the sophomores in a hard fought battle, and the Valentine dance that the Class of '92' sponsored was a huge success. Freshmen class sponsor Bridget Stauring said, "This was a great group with which to work. They were full of enthusiasm and lots of ideas."

8th Graders

This year the 8th graders have been moving right along with things. They began the year with several successful bake sales. They've also continued their success with other activities like making a tiger head, decorating the hall during Homecoming week, decorating their Homecoming float, and defeating the 7th graders in Powder Puff. The 8th grade officers meet every Wednesday along with the 7th graders. Sponsor Ms. Levy said "The 8th graders were a fun and spirited group to work with because they got so involved with CHS."

Class Favorites

Kathy Dawson's favorite pastimes are reading and watching cartoons, especially Porky Pig. Her favorite foods are shrimp, pizza, and chinese food. On being elected class favorite she says, "I was sort of nervous because I was running against two of my good friends, but I was honored that I got it." Kathy plans on going to college to become a psychiatrist or a singer.

Ruben Cimbron's favorite pastimes are playing soccer and collecting comics. His favorite food is pizza. On being chosen for class favorite, he says, "I was surprised and happy about it." He plans on becoming a pilot for the Air Force.

Taking the Next Step

7th Graders

Having left elementary school behind, the seventh graders took the next step into high school. Here they have had many successful activities like bakesales, decorating the hall with their theme "Tiger Locomotion," face painting, selling baked goods during Jamboree, and getting second place for their cheerleaders in Powder Puff. The seventh grade has done a good job of participating in CHS.

Teaching into

Faculty

Cristobal High School's faculty and staff ended the 70's under the Canal Zone Division of Schools and started the 80's with the Department of Defense Dependent School System. The faculty, staff, and student population has decreased, but as the 80's come to an end, one thing remains the same-the teachers are still teaching and the students are still learning.

The faculty and staff at CHS brings a variety of teaching styles and personalities to the students. Some teachers have grown up in Panama, others have taught in the Phillipines, Baharain, Belgium, and the United States, giving the students at CHS a wide knowledge of different cultures.

The faculty and staff work closely with the Atlantic Community participating in plays, fashion shows, and softball leagues, proving that teaching is not the only activity a teacher pursues. In addition, teachers are constantly participating in inservices to gain more teaching knowledge, they are coaches, sponsors, advisors, and even parents. The faculty at CHS are a busy group with a lot of individuality, but they all agree on one concept-THAT THE STUDENTS ARE THE NUMBER ONE PRIORITY.

Jamboree "88"

Football, Queen, Spirited fans,
All Part of Exciting Jamboree

Many Tiger fans were at the 39th Jamboree to cheer on C.H.S. This event was a great beginning for our dedicated and hard working Tiger football team. The jamboree, which consists of all the area football teams, gave a good preview of the competition the Tigers would be facing throughout the season. The competition would be tough, however the team looked on with confidence and spirit. Skydivers kicked off the Jamboree, while Queen Marcie Dodge rode proudly in the parade, representing the Tigers with pride.

Bruce Thompson wonders
... "Who has the ball?"

Gerald Corrigan waits anxiously for a chance to help out the Tiger offense.

Mascot Kenneth Gillespie "meows" for the mighty Tigers to keep up the spirit.

"Christie Brinkley-eat your heart out."

Football

Students, Faculty, Community Help Keep Spirit Through Season

Y-E-L-L, Everybody yell C-H-S! This might be a familiar cheer if you attended any of the CHS football games. The season was not the best, though students, players, and faculty managed to keep up that familiar spirit known as Tiger Pride.

The highlights of the season were three touchdowns scored by Ruben Diaz, Henry Josephs, and Joel Saenz. The returning tigers look forward to a better season in the 1989-1990 school year.

Joel Saenz is heading for a touchdown.

Girls Basketball

Brings Traveling Trophy Home to CHS.

"The Big, Bold, Blue, and Gold" came through the season as #1.

The big turn around against the cougars put the Lady Tigers in the lead with the final being 39-29. The games held after that kept them in first place with the final score against the Devils being 53-27.

The hardworking and determined Lady Tigers, under the coaching of Gayle Rankin and Richard Atherly, brought the traveling trophy to a permanent place in the CHS trophy case.

Boys Basketball

determination and teamwork
bring victories to tigers

They're back, they're better, they are the 1989 Cristobal Boys Basketball Team. After a slow season in 1988, this tiger team was back in full force with the experience of returning seniors Vence Dodge, Juan Lu, Joel Saenz, Jody Todhunter, and returning junior Greg Gehringer. The boys showed determination and teamwork every time they took the court., and excited fans with their fast breaks, lay-ups, and inside shooting.

"Is it going in?"

"Do you think coach was serious when he told us to pick up our game?"

Leonard Russell executes a perfect lay-up.

Greg Gehringer battles his opponent for the rebound.

Joel Saenz goes up for a successful jump shot.

Juan Lu pushes the ball with all his might towards the basket.

Jody Todhunter prepares to raise the score two more.

Who said Tigers couldn't fly?

Leonard Russell wonders if the ball will ever return.

What goes down, must come up, right?

Todd Cranor shows confidence and poise as he returns the serve.

"No sweat, I've got this all under control."

Kent Grubbs smiles brightly as he returns the ball with the speed of light.

"See guys, this is how it's done!"

Tiger Tennis

love, set, match...

The 1989 boys and girls tennis teams had many returning pros from the 1988 season with the addition of several new faces helping out on the court. The boys team competed under the direction of Coach Grubbs and had a steady season thanks to the consistent playing of all team members in both singles and doubles.

The girls team played under the coaching of Mrs. Hoffman and started off their season with two wins, one of these by winning all of their singles matches.

Both teams practiced and played well to keep the honor of CHS.

Lutcia Pederson strokes the ball in fine form.

Karen Rankin returns the ball with extreme ease.

Baseball

take your bases please

This year's team continued to work hard and keep the tiger spirit. Though they lost many of the key players from last year, they were determined to play the best game possible with the many new players they had this year.

Shawn McCracken gets psyched to throw that strike-out pitch.

Rafael considers throwing it easy, but the other team is in for a surprise.

Volleyball

ready, set, spike!

Last year, the boys and girls Volleyball season was overall a good one. Volleyball has always been a popular sport and many Tiger fans went out to support their teams (boys and girls) through wins, losses, and barely-made-its. The girls ended the season in second place and the boys ended in third place. Even though they didn't come out in first place, in our hearts they did. They worked their best and played their hardest like true Tigers, and C.H.S. is proud of them.

Student Association working together . . .

The S.A. is composed of S.A. officers, Class officers, and class representatives working together to achieve various goals. Henry, Stacie, Bev, and I know that we were elected to our different offices to represent and voice the opinions of our fellow students, a difficult task due to the many conflicting ideas. However, if it weren't for these ideas, CHS would not improve. As we have learned in meetings, conflicts produce discussion; discussions produce compromise; compromises produce solutions; and solutions, not excuses, cause improvement.

Close-Up politics in action

Close-up is an opportunity for high school students to get a chance to experience government in action by traveling to Washington D.C. Students must apply and are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and willingness to raise $5,000 for the trip. Mrs. Rozett, the sponsor, helped students with their fund-raisers by coordinating the annual bingo game, lasagna dinner, and numerous bake sales. This is an exciting chance for these students to have fun and develop a richer understanding of the political process.

Yearbook,

when we didn't want the '80's to end . . .

Wow- it's over. This year has been such an experience. Through putting this book together we have learned so much about what it means to be organized, open to ideas, able to coordinate things and to compromise. In a sense we have broadened our knowledge, can understand ourselves better and have a clearer idea of what we want out of life.

When Maria and I took on the job of yearbook editors neither of us really knew what we were getting into. How hard could it be to put a story and some pictures together? Boy were we surprised. Ms. Lancaster, how would we ever have remained sane without you? You have taught us so much. You are the only person we know who can take bad news and hard times with a smile. Thanks for being so optimistic when we all were so doubtful- especially around deadline time. We know that everytime we open this book and see a trapped caption or a type-o we'll just smile, shrug our shoulders and say "wow, we did that."

What would we have done without our photography staff? Yes Mr. Wright-you knew you were in trouble the first time you gave us a camera and we asked "Now, what button makes it go click?" Maria and I especially want to thank you, Charity and Barbara for not quitting on us or blowing up when we turned in 8 rolls of film and told you we needed it developed tomorrow. As you know, everyone of you were a vital part in putting this book together. We hope that you will stick around for next year. Yes, it was new to all of us, but through trial and error we found what works and what doesn't. For example: the camera must be loaded for good shots to be developed, if you can't see you can't take a very clear pic, and the cap must be off to receive an image. Once again we learned something new- photography isn't for us, leave it to the people who know what they're doing.

Mrs. Grubbs and Mrs. Will, thank you for your help with the ads. That was one last thing we didn't have to worry about. What a relief.

Mrs. Hoffman, your advice and assistance will not go unmentioned. Your previous experience with yearbook helped us out more than you know. This is one reason we decided you were the perfect person to dedicate this year's yearbook to.

Last but not least, we want to express our sincerest thank you to our yearbook staff. They are the ones who truly made the book possible. Because this was so new to us as editors and Ms. Lancaster as the advisor, we were unsure of what to expect. Now the newness has worn off, and we know what to expect. We can only hope that everyone on this year's staff remains interested and will work on it again next year. Our instincts say that next year's book will be great. As for this year we will always remember staying after to meet deadlines. Those were definitely the times when we didn't want the '80's to end. It all came so fast. No matter how hard we worked those deadlines seemed to make the days fly by. So we were never at home, hardly ate (ha ha). Thank goodness for the Shoppette — you know it's bad when you go there so often that they don't check ID's anymore. It's even worse when you feel like the place is beginning to cater to you, because they never ran out of Tostitos, picante dip, popcorn, Mountain Dew's, Dr. Pepper, and Diet Coke.

Not only as editors, but also as seniors we were very aware that the year was coming to an end. It was something that was excitingly frightening. For most it just means a new year. To Seniors it's the beginning of life and in reality it's the beginning of a new decade. We hope that as the years go on you can look back on the eighties with pride and fond memories. Now it is the end of the eighties, but we optimistically look forward to a new generation and for us "The Beginning of Life."

Co-Editors Maria Estella and Lisa smile brightly because they know that the deadlines are coming to an end.

Sherry, Amy, and Tamara work frantically to finish the sports deadline.

Barbara and Charity examine one of their photographic masterpieces.

Jennifer and Adrienne decide what pictures stay and what pictures go.

Ms. Lancaster is all smiles since deadlines are done.

Jody is mesmerized by her ingenious layout.

Shelly Peck is perplexed as she searches for ideas to complete her story.

Band

plays at homecoming, pep rallies, concerts to bring spirit

The CHS band, under the direction of Art Boche, performed at many functions throughout the school year. The band played during each football game promoting spirit in the stands and on the field. The band also performed at the annual Christmas concert helping everyone at CHS and, the Atlantic Community, get into the jolly festive mood. This years band had many students who have achieved honors on their individual instruments. The band ends the 80's with a quote, "Clap your hands and stomp your feet Here comes music with a real hot beat At football games and assemblies too CHS music is never blue."

Lisa and Kristina help promote spirit as they play their clarinets at the pep assembly.

the world we make

We make the world in which we live,
By what we gather and what we give,
By our daily deeds and things we say,
By what we keep or cast away.

We make our world by the beauty we see
In a skylark's song or lilac tree,
In a butterfly's wing, in the pale moon's rise,
And the wonder that lingers in midnight skies.

We make our world by the life we lead,
By the friends we have, by the books we read,
By the pity we show in the hour of care,
By the loads we lift and the love we share.

We make our worlds by goals we pursue,
By the heights we seek and the higher view,
By the hopes and dreams that reach the sun
And the will to fight till the heights are won.

What is the place in which we dwell,
A hut or palace, heaven or hell
We gather or scatter, we take and we give,
We make our world . . . and there we live.

Alfred Grant Walton
