Diversity fair a hit

By MC2 Ashley Hedrick
Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay Public Affairs

Diversity plays an important role in the U.S. Navy.

Chief of Naval Operations, Adm. Jonathan Greenert's, vision of diversity and inclusion is to recruit and develop a diverse force and to institutionalize diversity. The Navy's goal for diversity is that everyone, both Sailor and civilian, adheres to a professional culture of fairness and respect, and values the contributions each one makes to the Navy's warfighting capability, forward operations, and readiness.

"Diversity in the Navy is very important, and we should all accept each other equally,"

The Construction Battalion Maintenance Unit 202 Detachment was disestablished during a ceremony on Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay on Sept. 5.

The Seabees have been an integral part of the Kings Bay mission to support the warfighter.

"They provide improvements on base that we enjoy every day and get outside the gate and interact with the community," Lt. Cmdr. Samuel Werschky, Commanding Officer of CBMU 202 said during the ceremony. "They have been a big part of local school career days and status equipment displays and parades. They built a motorcycle training course and have done numerous improvements to the golf course."

The Seabees came to Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay in March 1995 when Construction Battalion Unit 412 was established.

In February 2005, CBU 412 was re-designated as CBMU 202 Detachment Kings Bay.

Do you like to be squared away and up-to-date?

Is your vehicle registered on board Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay?

If it is, is that registration up-to-date?

Whether you like to be squared away or not, your vehicle really needs to be registered and registered properly.

There are no more windshield decals to go on personal vehicles showing they are registered on Kings Bay. But you still need to register the vehicle with Pass and ID when you report on board.

The current instruction reads:

"While it is no longer a requirement to receive the DD Form 2220 decal for vehicles entering Department of the Navy installations, all privately owned vehicles must continue to be licensed, registered, inspected and insured in accordance with federal, state and local laws. Additionally, all POVs of personnel permanently assigned (active duty, civilian, contractor) to Kings Bay will be registered in Consolidated

Marines who serve as combat instructor will soon be receiving a new ribbon.

The Marine Corps Combat Instructor Ribbon has been established for Marines who serve in a Marine Combat Instructor Billet or billets at the School of Infantry.

"They haven't confirmed what the ribbon will actually look like," said Gunnery Sgt. Ysac Perez, a combat instructor at Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay. "I think they finalized the design of it, but they haven't pushed out the ribbon itself."

Currently, ribbons are awarded to Marines in three of five B-billets, a duty outside of Marine's normal military occupational specialty, which include drill instructor, recruiter, and security guard.

"There are five special duty assignments, and three of them have ribbons already," Perez said. "Security Forces, which is here at Kings Bay and the School of Infantry, have always been fighting for some form of recognition. The fact that the Combat Instructor ribbon got approved is a very good accomplishment."

Combat Instructor School trains and educates instructors in leadership, character, knowledge and skills required to formally train entry-level Marines.

Each Marine who undergoes combat instructor training is evaluated on tactics and techniques associated with offensive, defensive, patrolling and urban operations. Land navigation, combat conditioning, communications, CPR, combat marksmanship, among others are also

September Suicide Prevention month

By Twilla Smith,
Navy Region Southeast Public Affairs

Navy Region Southeast

Rear Adm. Mary M. Jackson, Commander, Navy Region Southeast, signed a suicide prevention awareness proclamation on board Naval Air Station Jacksonville Sept. 2.

The proclamation recognizes September as National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month and is intended to raise suicide awareness prevention throughout the Southeast Region.

According to the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, in the United States, one person dies by suicide every 13.3 minutes. Annually, more than 30,000 lives are lost in our country, making death by suicide one of the most disruptive and tragic events a family and a community can experience. It is estimated that for every suicide, there are from eight to 25 attempted suicides.

"The Navy's choice of 'Every Sailor, Every Day' as the theme for Suicide Prevention Month emphasizes that the loss of one Sailor to suicide is one loss too many," Jackson said. "The Navy has a great tradition of looking out for shipmates, but we can always do more. We should always be looking for ways to help Sailors help themselves and come to their aide any time when they show signs of distress, not just during Suicide Prevention Month."

The proclamation's theme highlights the importance of taking action as individuals and to recognize the impact of stressors in our day-to-day lives, as well how to develop protective measures against stress and suicide.

According to Dianne Parker, Navy Region Southeast assistant suicide prevention outreach coordinator, continuously providing program information to all personnel that explain prevention tips and how to recognize indicators is a sure way to have a successful program.

"Unfortunately, suicide is one of the top issues military members and their families deal with," she said. "Our goal is to be proactive in reducing the number of suicides within the Navy through education and awareness initiatives, and this proclamation serves as the kickoff of suicide prevention month."

The Navy's 21st Century Sailor and Marine Program initiative encourages Sailors, commands, families, and civilian employees to empower themselves by taking personal responsibility for their health, wellness and growth — the important step in building resilience. "I Pledge to Act," a Web-based effort encouraging all Sailors, families and members of the Navy community to take steps to build personal resilience, support their shipmates and intervene if they notice signs of distress, is one way to help with suicide prevention and awareness.

"The program recognizes that in the military community, suicide has been the second or third leading cause of death for the last decade," Parker said. "The goal is to try to recognize warning signs and help our fellow Sailors, their family member and civilians."

Despite great strides in our country to understand mental illness and encourage improvements in conversation surrounding it, too many people still suffer in silence. Cmdr. William Stallard, director of Navy Region Southeast's Chaplains Religious Enrichment Development Operations explains, "Suicide has been one of the most challenging problems throughout the ages. Professionally, I have studied this phenomenon for 25 years; also I have had countless interactions with persons who were suicidal. Last year as duty chaplain, I responded to 5 suicides and 1 homicide, so I know firsthand how difficult it is on the families of those who kill themselves, the impact on the command's morale and the unplanned loss; plus the toll it takes on the first responders and caregivers."

The Navy's 2014 suicide prevention message "Every Sailor, Every Day" stresses the necessity of the Navy community to strengthen their connections with those around them and to make sure open communication, individual responsibility, peer support and bystander intervention are a part of everyday activities. "Completed suicide has second and third order effects such

CREDO

The Chaplain's Religious Enrichment Development Operation, or CREDO, for some unknown reason, continues to be the best kept secret in the Navy, and as result only a small portion of military personnel and their family members have taken advantage of its beneficial programs.

CREDO Detachment Kings Bay is working hard to get more military personnel involved in the CREDO experience.

It began as a program to help veterans returning from the Vietnam War in 1971. As then and now, military service presents unique challenges and opportunities. CREDO offers transformational retreat-based programs designed to assist authorized users in developing the spiritual resources and resiliency necessary to excel in the military environment.

Over the years, CREDO has offered spiritual, personal, and relational growth opportunities to tens of thousands of sea service personnel and their family members, profoundly enhancing their lives. CREDO provides commanders with a key resource by which to care for and strengthen the abilities of those they lead.

The following retreats at St. Simons Island are available:

- Family Enrichment Retreat — An all-inclusive weekend family retreat designed to promote healthy relationships, using practical skills based on proven principles that strengthen and empower every member of the family. Registration is open for the next retreat, Sept. 19 to 21.

- Couples Connection — Fleet and Family Support Center Kings Bay, in coordination with CREDO, is hosting a Couples' connection One-Day Marriage Enrichment Workshop. This workshop will enhance communication skills and strengthen emotional, physical, and spiritual aspects of your marriage. Couples are encouraged to register one month prior to the event. The dates are Sept. 12 and Dec. 12.

For more information, visit the website www.cnrc.navy.mil/regions/cnrse.html or call the chapel office at 573-4501.

Chaplain Catherine Pace and the CREDO facilitator Aaron Jefferson are looking forward to seeing you on the next retreat.

September is Suicide Prevention Month. There will be a number of various opportunities presented by on-base, caring organizations to get involved and become a part of the solution in preventing suicide.

CREDO presents two programs which can inform you about the nature of suicide and prepare you to help someone should the need arise. These two programs are safeTALK and ASIST.

The safe of safeTALK stands for suicide alertness for everyone. The letters of TALK stand for the steps one does to help a person with thoughts of suicide: Tell, Ask, Listen, and KeepSafe. safeTALK will be held at the base chapel on from 8 to 11 a.m., Sept. 30.

In this three-hour session,

Have a fire escape plan just in case

From Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay Fire Department

Kings Bay Fire Dept.

When the building fire alarm sounds what do you do?

A fire can quickly fill the halls of your building with smoke and poisonous gases, making them dark and dangerous, especially if you do not know what to do.

Having a home fire escape plan is an important part of your safety when a fire starts.

"This keeps everybody safe, you and your loved ones," Kings Bay Department Fire Inspector Jose Masauding said.

The following checklist will help you make and carry out a home fire escape plan.

- Have working smoke detectors that will wake you when sleeping.
- Be sure everyone knows two ways out of every bedroom.
- Sleep with bedroom doors closed. This will protect you from smoke traveling through your home.
- Be sure windows open easily from the inside, allowing for a speedy escape.

- Never use the elevator in the event of a fire emergency. If you are unable to use the stairs to evacuate, wait in your apartment and call 911.

- Designate a meeting place where everyone in your family can meet once outside.

- Call 911 from a safe phone once outside.

- Make certain everyone understands that once out of the building no one is to re-enter without the permission of the fire department.

For more information, contact the Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay Fire Prevention Team in Bldg. 1041 or dial (912) 573-9998.

Keep an eye on kids around water

By PO1 Tabitha Butierries
5th Coast Guard District,
Command Center

I am Petty Officer Tabitha Butierries, a Coast Guard search and rescue coordinator, but today I'm writing to you as a mother of a toddler and a grade-schooler.

I have been involved with Coast Guard search and rescue for more than 12 years, and every time I'm involved in a case that involves the death of a child, it breaks my heart. I wanted to take a moment to remind parents out there how to keep your children safe.

Even a small wave can topple a child and pull them out to sea in a very short time. Among those 1 thru 14 years of age, fatal drowning remains the second-leading cause of unintentional injury-related death, just behind motor vehicle crashes.

Drowning happens fast, and is not loud or splashy as portrayed in media. If a person is drowning they won't be splashing and yelling, instead it'll be hard to notice they're in distress. Learn more about drowning and what it actually looks like.

Lif jackets save lives. If the lifejacket is too big, it can ride up on a child's body and come off. If the lifejacket is too small, it won't keep them afloat. Arm floaties are not a good alternative to the buoyancy of a lifejacket.

It might look like a sunny day but weather can change quickly without notice while out on the beach or in a boat. Storms can blow in and lightning strikes can be dangerous. If you hear thunder, get out of the water and find safety fast.

A rip current is a powerful channel of water that flows away from the shore and takes even the strongest swimmer off shore without their awareness. Learn more about rip currents and what to do if you're caught in one.

Most people instinctively call 911 when a disaster happens, but the Coast Guard is not linked to the 911 dispatch. Doing a little research and obtaining the number for the nearest Coast Guard station can greatly reduce the time it takes for a Coast Guard unit to arrive on scene.

You wouldn't let your kid run around unattended in a mall parking lot and the waters at the beach can be just as dangerous.

Perez said Combat Instructor School is not just instructor knowledge, but that future instructors need to be physically fit and up to par with junior Marines.

"As a combat instructor, you have to be willing to work 24/7," Perez said. "You can be teaching as early as 0500 and getting out late that very same day. In the end, it's all worth it."

After completing the combat instructor course, the Marine is awarded the military occupational specialty 0913 and is capable of performing the duties of a combat instructor at the School of Infantry. From there, the Marine will carry that knowledge wherever he or she goes.

"When I got deployed out to Iraq, one of our missions was to instruct Iraqi police," Perez said. "It was some of the same skills we had to teach our junior Marines, such as how to use their rifles and how to advance toward the enemy. A lot of the same instructors who get back into their regular jobs, they still get put somewhat in a form of instructor platform."

The MCCIR way be awarded retroactively to all Marines with qualifying service beginning on or after Oct. 9, 2002.

The Marine Corps will publish detailed coordinating instructions for substantiating entitlement for current and retroactive cases as soon as the ribbons have been produced.

participants will learn how suicide can be prevented and what other resources which are available in dealing with the effects of suicide.

The second program, ASIST, gives the participants a more in depth training over a two-day session. ASIST stands for Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training. It is a full two-day workshop which focuses on giving the participants the confidence and needed skills in dealing with persons who may be at risk.

Attitudes about suicide will be discussed and center on intervention in the lives of those who are at risk by meeting the needs of that person. The ASIST workshop will be 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Sept. 24 and 25 at the base chapel. Participants who successfully complete the either one of the programs will receive a certificate.

Interested persons may call the chapel at 573-4501 for more information or to registrar for safeTALK and/or ASIST.

of love as there are hearts! I feel that it represents diversity and the acceptance of others."

As a way to recognize the Navy's diversity, NSB Kings Bay kicked off its fourth annual Cultural and Diversity Fair Sept. 4 at the Kings Bay Fitness Center basketball courts.

The event began with the presentation of colors, the national anthem, and invocation of prayer. Capt. Lawrence Hill, Commanding Officer of Trident Refit Facility, and Mayor Kenneth Smith of King-land, Ga., were both guest speakers at the event.

"Diversity is all of the different characteristics and attributes of individual Sailors," Hill said. "To be an effective fighting force, the Navy must reflect diversity on all levels. All of the diverse backgrounds, experiences and skills are necessary to complete the mission."

Hill also said Kings Bay was a reflection of diversity and that at the end of the day, everybody was committed to serving the nation.

Those who attended the event were able to sample food from the different cultures that were represented at the fair. Different groups such as the Hoku-Loa Polynesian Dancers, Fiesta Fitness, Devine Warrior of Praise, Baila Fitness, Racie de Columbia, and Deep Forest Native America were all a part of the entertainment for the guests.

"Attending the diversity fair was an amazing experience," Howard said. "I was able to witness several cultures showcasing their talents as well as groups representing base and outside-the-gate entities all were present, including Veterans Affairs, the departments of defense and labor, Fleet and Family Support Center, Navy Marine Corps Relief Society, Navy Campus, Tri-care among more.

The Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender community, an Equal Employment Opportunity Committee-recognized group within the DoD, was added this year to the annual fair.

USS Missouri (BB 63) anchored in Tokyo Bay, Japan, Sept. 2, 1945, the day that Japanese surrender ceremonies were held on her deck.

WWII end remembered

Hawaii-based service members, veterans, government leaders and civilians attended a ceremony of the 69th anniversary of the end of World War II aboard the Battleship Missouri Memorial Sept. 2.

Now moored on Ford Island, where Sailors first witnessed the attack that brought America to war, USS Missouri, serves as a monument and a reminder for the beginning and the end of the WWII for the United States.

On Sept. 2, 1945, Japan officially surrendered as the Japanese Instrument of Surrender was signed on the wooden decks of the 'Mighty Mo.' Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu and other world leaders oversaw that historic moment that is remembered today.

At the ceremony, Rear Adm. Robert P. Girrier, deputy commander, U.S. Pacific Fleet, served as guest speaker.

"On September 2nd, 1945, right here on these decks, World War II was officially ended," said Girrier. "When you consider the lives lost, the emotional and physical suffering and the damage and destruction left behind — the cost of the war was incalculable. But as the war ended and the world rejoiced, it didn't stay focused on the past, instead it looked to the future with hope and expectation of great things to come."

Girrier also expressed his sincere gratitude to the veterans for their sacrifices, their strength and for the future they secured for the new generations.

and wrote an award-winning essay for the Battleship Missouri Memorial September 2nd Essay contest was on hand and read her essay.

Art Albert, a World War II veteran who served aboard USS Missouri between 1944 and 1947, spoke of his experience of the ceremony and the feeling of standing on the deck plates of his first ship. "When you come home, how do you feel? Good, right? This is how I feel, I am home," said Albert. "I went through the Korean and Vietnam Wars after I left [USS] Missouri but this is it — I do not care about other [duty stations] — this is my home."

Albert recalled the men that gathered on decks and guns of the battleship as Gen. MacArthur arrived and the joy of his fellow Sailors as WWII was officially over. He also spoke of the pleasure he feels of seeing his "home" being taken care of.

"I am very grateful to the people here who take care of the ship," said Albert. "They work hard and it is the greatest thing that they did since the ship has been here — bringing it back like I used to know it when it was put in commission in 1944."

Michael Carr, the president of the Battleship Missouri Memorial, spoke about the importance of remembering the past, learning from the mistakes and striving to a better future. He thanked veterans as well as current and future service members for their dedication to the nation and its safekeeping.

"We are here today to honor the anniversary of the peace," said Carr. "Our eternal thanks go out to the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Airmen, Coast Guardsmen and merchant marines who serve America with distinction and honor, and made this day possible."

He also welcomed guests to the unveiling of the newly renovated wardroom, which was restored to its 1991 inspection-ready condition — the last year the battleship was in service.

The ceremony concluded with a Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam rifle detail, providing a gun salute and the Marine Forces Pacific Band playing echo Taps.

What about diversity is important to you?

The annual Diversity Fair was last week on board Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay, and it's always one of my favorite events every year. America's greatness is in its diversity. We are and always have been the "Great Melting Pot." It hasn't always been pretty. As Bill Murray put it in Stripes, "We're mutts!" I myself am Euro-mutt, with a little French, German, Danish and Polish, plus a dash of Italian seasoning. Ben Franklin, before he signed some paper in 1776, told an exclusive bunch of white guys, "We must indeed, all hang together, or most assuredly we shall all hang separately." That's as true here today for all of us as it was then.

Navy ball caps back

From Chief of Naval Personnel Public Affairs

The Navy and command ball caps may be worn in place of the eight-point cover with the Navy Working Uniform Type I, II or III beginning Sept. 1, as outlined in NAVADMIN 200/14, released Aug. 27.

As announced in July, Secretary of the Navy Ray Mabus and Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Jonathan Greenert made the decision to expand the ball cap wear policy based on fleet feedback.

According to the NAVADMIN, command ball caps are organizational clothing that may be purchased with appropriated funds.

Sailors may purchase command ball caps with personal funds, just as they purchase command badges, patches, belt buckles and other permissible uniform items. Additionally, wardrooms, chief petty officer messes, first class petty officer associations, junior enlisted associations, and other organizations may purchase command ball caps with their funds. Department of Defense guidance prohibits the use of moral, wellness and recreation's non-appropriated funds to purchase command ball caps. The eight-point cover remains the basic uniform component cover for the NWUs and will be the only appropriate cover for personnel uniform inspections and special occasions to ensure a uniform appearance within the command. The Navy and command ball cap will remain authorized, optional head gear worn with Navy flight suits, Navy blue coveralls, flame resistant coveralls, and the Navy physical training uniform.

Air strikes 'tremendously effective' DOD spokesman says

By Claudette Roulo
DoD News, Defense Media Activity

Airstrikes in Iraq have been extremely successful against terrorists from the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant, Pentagon spokesman Army Col. Steve Warren told reporters today.

"The airstrikes in support of Mount Sinjar — the airstrikes and humanitarian drops were effective," he said. "The airstrikes that we conducted in support of Mosul Dam operations led to Iraqi forces retaking Mosul Dam. The airstrikes that we took in and around Amirli broke the back of the ISIL forces that were attempting to take Amirli. And now, over the weekend, these airstrikes conducted in support of Haditha Dam ... were tremendously effective."

"Certainly, ISIL forces realize that when American airpower is deployed, their chance of survival goes to nil," Warren said.

The decision to conduct airstrikes near Haditha Dam came after enemy forces were observed building up and moving heavier weapons into the area, he said.

"It became clear that they were potentially planning to increase the pressure on the Haditha Dam area," the colonel said. At the same time, Iraqi and Kurdish security forces had been reinforced and fortified their positions in the area, Warren added. "The time was right for a counterattack," he noted.

In response to a question about the reported deaths of ISIL leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi and some of his advisors in an air strike, Warren said the U.S. has not conducted any targeted airstrikes against specific ISIL personnel.

"I hope he's dead. We certainly hope he's dead, but we haven't conducted any strikes against him," he said.

"With every terrorist that we kill from the air, that is one less terrorist on the ground," the colonel added.

The airstrikes have hurt ISIL's effectiveness, but the organization is still a threat, Warren said.

"The presence of American air power restricts their freedom of maneuver," he said. "... ISIL is beginning to realize that American air power is lethal and that, if they move, they'll be seen and destroyed."

A total of 10 nations have joined the fight against ISIL, Warren said. "I won't speak for any of those other nations and what their participation will be, but what I will say is that we welcome the participation of any nation in this critical fight against a legitimate terrorist organization."

Law Enforcement Operations Center (CLEOC) at Pass and ID during in-processing, (valid until the individuals identification (CAC) card expires) and will be de-registered during out-processing due to PCS, or otherwise leaving the command. No person may operate a personally owned vehicle (POV) on board Kings Bay who does not have, in their possession, a valid state operator's license, vehicle registration, proof of insurance and any other criteria for driving a vehicle on state highways. Enforcement of state licensing, registration, insurance and safety requirements will be enforced through the Selective Traffic Enforcement Program and Random Antiterrorism Measures.

Presently, the number of registered vehicles on board Kings Bay is lower than should be for compliance, Kings Bay Police Operations Officer Robert J. Tighe said.

"Since the decals have gone away and registration has not, the challenge for us is to insure the vehicles are properly registered," Tighe said. "There's really nothing more to it than you coming in and taking a few minutes."

Vehicles are registered at the Pass and ID offices at the Franklin or Stimson Gates, although you may save time by visiting the Stimson office, due to occasional high volumes of contractor traffic at the Franklin office.

How can this help you? This maintains the highest level of security and safety for you and the installation.

"That's not only the ultimate goal of our department, registering your vehicle is still a DOD requirement," said Cmdr. Greg Verlinde, Kings Bay Security Officer.

And, for example, let's say your vehicle is parked at the Exchange, and someone hits it. When base police reach the scene, if your vehicle is registered it's a simple matter for them to find out who owns the damaged vehicle. If it's not registered, police must take additional steps to find out whose vehicle it is.

"Our resources are limited," Tighe said. "We want to make sure we maximize our efficiency and make sure we're not hampered in contacting any individual in a timely manner."

Once registered, your vehicle should remain registered in its proper status with the police database. If, however, you change insurance companies, change your office phone number or in any way change the status of the vehicle registration, you need to reflect that change on your registration with Pass and ID.

If you are pulled and charged with speeding, you may receive a speeding citation. If your vehicle is not registered or not registered properly, you may also be issued a citation for operating an un-registered vehicle, Tighe said.

"We're trying to be supportive. We're here to help, provide guidance and insure compliance," he said. "The instruction is pretty clear. Your vehicle must be registered and the registration needs to be current. If in time we find vehicles that are not registered, we have to no choice but to issue a citation. But first, we want to create an awareness campaign."

that legacy over their past 19 years here.

The Seabees on board NSB have left a lasting impression on the base with their compassion and community involvement.

Every year, the Seabees assigned to the detachment contribute thousands of hours to local volunteer organizations supporting such worthwhile community events as The Southeast Regional Special Olympics, Relay for Life, Habitat for Humanity and The Humane Society. They also have contributed time in local schools.

The Seabees were also staples at parades and auto shows and had an annual Haunted House.

Serving the military community on NSB since March 1995, the Seabees have completed various projects to enhance the facilities, grounds and mission readiness of the base.

Some of these projects included the remodeling of the Navy Federal Credit Union, construction of rest room facilities near playgrounds, grounds enhancements at Lake D, plus building watch towers, ammunition magazines, laydown yards and parking lots, along with several more projects that increased mission capabilities and quality of life on the installation.

During the 19 years on-board NSB, the Seabees have saved the Navy more than $100 million in labor costs for base projects and have proven themselves as reliable when called upon for critical and time sensitive jobs. They have helped provide assistance during storm recovery efforts, disaster preparedness drills and have provided equipment to help secure the installation during the terrorist attacks on Sept. 11, 2001.

Fleet & Family Support Center workshops

Parenting classes offered on Mondays

Are you frustrated with your children? Would you like suggestions on how to stop temper tantrums or how to get your teen to complete chores without asking them 14 times? We believe parents are the experts on their children. But, children don't come with a manual! So, sometimes you need help to figure out what to do with them. Meet with the parenting class from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Sept. 15, 22 and 29. Enrollment in this six-week class is ongoing. Attendees must complete all six weeks in order to receive a certificate. A minimum of six participants is needed in order for a new class to start. Registration required at 573-4512.

Talking money with your honey Sept. 17

This workshop will provide couples money management skills, an understanding of budget conflicts and a foundation for productive financial communication. This workshop will require both spouses to attend. This training will be 2 to 4 p.m., Sept. 17. Registration is required, call 573-4513.

Sponsorship training for command reps

The Fleet and Family Support Center is offering Sponsorship training to all command representatives. The goal of the workshop is to ensure that designated command personnel have the necessary education and training to successfully fulfill the role of command sponsor. It presents an overview of the benefits of sponsorship, a list of sponsor duties and responsibilities, and a timeline to assist in streamlining the sponsorship process. The workshop is scheduled on 1 to 2:30 p.m., Sept. 18. Registration is required as class is limited to 20 seats. For more information call 573-4513.

Transition GPS Capstone event upcoming

The purpose of the Capstone event is to evaluate your preparedness to successfully transition from a military to a civilian career and to validate that you have met the Career Readiness Standards. If you need additional assistance you will receive a referral to the appropriate partner agency. The next Capstone event is 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 19. Registration by Command Career Counselor required. For more information call 573-4513.

New Moms and Dads Support Group to meet

New Moms' and Dads' group meets 10 a.m. to noon every Tuesday at the Fleet and Family Support Center throughout the month. This is an opportunity for parents of young children to meet and share experiences and for children to make friends in a play-group setting. The group will meet 10 a.m. to noon, Sept. 16, 23 and 30. No pre-registration required.

Ten Steps to a Federal job examined

Gain information on the federal employment process, salaries and benefits. Learn how to interpret job announcements and determine whether you are eligible to apply. Attendees will be provided guidelines, information, samples and tips on completing the electronic Federal resume. Class is 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Sept. 24. Registration required by calling 573-4513.

Couples Connection workshop coming

The Fleet and Family Support Center Kings Bay in coordination with Chaplains Religious Enrichment Development Operations is hosting Couples Connection: One-Day Marriage Enrichment Workshop. It is designed to enhance and support the ability of a couple to get away from the distractions of everyday life and deployment cycles in order to improve their marital relationship. Activities are designed to increase a couple's ability to better understand one another and communicate on a more intimate level. This workshop will be 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sept. 12. Registration is required. Call 573-4513 to register.

Transition GPS class upcoming

Transition GPS is a seminar for those separating, retiring or contemplating leaving the military. The five day seminar provides information on benefits, job search skills, employment resources, resume writing, interviewing and other skills. Spouses are encouraged to attend. Separation Transition GPS is 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sept. 8 to 12. Retirement Transition GPS is 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sept. 29 to Oct. 3. You must be registered by Command Career Counselor. For more information, call 573-4513.

Smooth Move Workshops coming

Smooth Move Workshops are designed to help personnel with military relocations and transfers. Areas covered include the new DPS website, transportation, travel pay, allowances, and important forms and documents, housing referral office and relocation services. All service members and their spouses are encouraged to attend six months before their transfer date. Due to limited seating, please do not bring children. The CONUS workshop will be 2 to 4 p.m., Sept. 9 and the OCONUS workshop is 2 to 4 p.m., Sept. 23. For more information, call 573-4513.

Stress management covered at workshop

Events, schedules, daily pressure and many other items can cause undo stress in your life. Stress may or may not be good for your health depending on how you manage that stress. This workshop is slated for 1 to 4 p.m., Sept. 18. Pre-registration is required. Call 573-4512 for details.

Savings and Investing workshop upcoming

This two-hour workshop provides in-depth training on how to start an investment portfolio for as little as $25 a month. Learn how to begin investing in stocks, bonds, mutual funds and more. This training is scheduled 9 to 11 a.m. Sept. 24. Registration is recommended. For more information call 573-4513.

Navy Ready 101 preps for disasters

Learn how to familiarize yourself with the Navy Family Accountability Assessment System. This training covers all that is needed to be prepared before and during a disaster. To register call (912) 573-4513. Session will be 6 to 7 p.m., Sept. 30.

Anger management seminar Sept. 24

Anger is not an effective method for getting what you want and is often a smoke screen for other emotions. This workshop is slated for 8:30 a.m. to noon, Sept. 24. It can help you focus on identifying the feelings anger hides and explore behaviors helpful in resolving primary issues. Pre-registration is required. Call 573-4512 for details.

FFSC workshops will come to you

Fleet and Family Support Center will take most of its regular workshops on the road if a unit or command can furnish a conference room or classroom and guarantee a minimum of five participants. All classes listed are at the Fleet and Family Support Center unless otherwise noted. Fleet and Family hours of operation are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday and 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Thursday.
