Will Police Officers Punish Constables?

A Bill, which is to decide whether Police Officers will be given the authority to try officers of the police force, was presented in the House of Assembly on Tuesday.

Mr. Alleyne, the Attorney General, moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Police Ordinance, 1938, and to make it applicable to the British Guiana Police Force.

Mr. Alleyne said that the Bill was the result of a discussion that took place in the House on the motion that the Police Ordinance be amended so as to enable the police officer to try officers of the police force.

He said that the Government had been advised that it was desirable to have a Bill on this subject, and that the Bill was now ready for introduction.

Mr. Alleyne moved for leave to introduce the Bill.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.

MR. REECE said that he was not in a position to say whether the Bill was necessary or not, but that it was desirable that it should be introduced.

MR. REECE said that he had heard that the police force was not satisfactory, and that the Bill was necessary to put matters right.