The Earl of Athlone

The Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mary, is in London to attend the Royal Maundy Service tomorrow. He was educated at Eton, Oxford and the University of London and has travelled widely in Europe and the United States. He was created a baron in 1918 and was a member of the British delegation to the Paris Peace Conference in 1919. He was Governor General of Canada from 1931 to 1935 and was Governor General of Australia from 1935 to 1945. The Earl is a member of the Order of the Garter and has received numerous honors and distinctions from various countries.

Traveller

The Earl is a great traveler and has visited many countries, including India, China, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and the United States. He has written several books, including "The Prince and the Pauper" and "The Life of Jesus," and has been a frequent contributor to various newspapers and periodicals.

Will Open Parliament

The Earl of Athlone will open Parliament on March 4. On the following day he will open the annual meeting of the National Association for the Preservation of Houses of Historic Interest and Beauty. He has been a strong advocate of the preservation of historic houses and has been involved in various conservation projects.

Cardinals

The Earl has been a close friend of several Roman Catholic Cardinals, including Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and Cardinal Spellman of New York. He has been involved in various charitable projects, including the establishment of a hospice for the elderly and the establishment of a school for the deaf.

Awards

The Earl has received numerous awards and honors, including the Order of the British Empire, the Order of the Bath, and the Order of the Garter. He has been a frequent recipient of honorary degrees from various universities, including Oxford, Cambridge, and Sydney University.

Family

The Earl is married to the former Miss Angela Vass, and they have three children. The eldest, Prince Michael, is currently serving in the British Army in the Middle East, and the youngest, Princess Margaret, is a student at Oxford University.

In Conclusion

The Earl of Athlone is a man of many talents and has made significant contributions to various fields, including politics, literature, and conservation. He continues to be a respected figure in British society and is widely admired for his wisdom and kindness.