RED ADVANCE SLOWS UP AS ALLIES FIGHT BACK

UN Drive Off Red Attack

TOKYO, April 27.

Japanese forces were Monday within 12 miles of Seoul, South Korean capital, but were fighting fanatically along the road from Pyongyang, the capital, and fighting back effectively against an American drive with 3rd U.S. Army headquarters at Incheon, 30 miles north of Seoul. The advance had already slowed down and was being reported "hit and run" by the Japanese, who fought hard for every inch they captured.

MacArthur Calls For Policy To Save American Lives

CHICAGO, April 27.

General Douglas MacArthur called for a realistic policy to save American lives in Korea and criticized "malice and exaggerated political pressures from abroad" in a speech here late last night.

The former United Nations Commander-in-Chief told a crowd of 50,000 at Soldier Field Stadium that American losses in Korea were "progressively mounting by thousands...individuals...troops..." and that the situation was "unendurable." He said that the United Nations forces were fighting a "moral war" and that the Korean war was an "un-American war." He urged the United Nations to continue to fight against the communist invasion of South Korea.
