Spruce Creek North plans Veterans Day luncheon

Luncheon planned for Veterans Day.

November will be a good month for residents in Spruce Creek North community to show support for veterans and show compassion through the Human Touch Program.

On Sunday, Nov. 11, beginning at noon, SCN will honor our veterans.

If you have served in the U.S. Military at any time, please come so we can honor you.

If you have not served in the U.S. Military, please come to help us honor those who served.

The scouts will present the colors, missing man table will be explained, and there will be an invocation and benediction.

Whether you are a veteran or just want to honor veterans you must sign up at the clubhouse.

A light lunch will be served so we need a count to provide enough food for everyone.

Our Human Touch program is in desperate need of volunteers.

If you want to help

Some vets too proud to ask for help

Marion County is home to a whopping 45,000 United States military veterans; each with their own unique stories of trials and triumphs.

So why are their benefits identical? Well, they're not!

According to Steve Jacobs, a veterans services officer with the county, lack of communication is one of the reasons veterans don't receive all the benefits they earned.

"They compare themselves to each other," said Jacobs. "And the fact is, benefits can vary based on every aspect of your service."

Jacobs explained deployments, occupations and even duty stations can tilt the scale that determines veterans' benefits.

Spouses and widowed spouses make up another large chunk of people who tend to miss out on service-related entitlements.

Marion County Veterans Services department bridges the gap between these residents and the organizations that aid them. Their team is comprised of several fulltime staff members and dozens of volunteers who serve an average of 50 people a day.

"We provide a wide variety of services," said Jeffrey Askew, veterans services director.

"Sometimes we can help with disability compensation and income based pensions. There are also widow's pensions and other benefits that people don't necessarily know are available."

Askew's team regularly assists residents with Veterans Affairs health care registration. Once registered, local vets have access to Marion's three VA clinics. Alternatively, they may seek health care at the VA hospital in Gainesville.

If you're friends with a veteran and made it this far into the article, here's one for you!

Vets, their families and even their friends may benefit from VA eyeglass clinics, which provide eyeglass prescriptions at significantly

Is it a fragrance or a stench?

Out to Pastor
Rev. James Snyder

This past week I had to go to the mall. I know, I should know better, but I thought I could sneak in, get what I needed and sneak out again. So much for my thoughts.

I wanted to purchase several tie chains for my neckties and searched every jewelry store and nobody had them. Finally, I ordered three online, which would be shipped free, (which always gets my attention) to the nearest store, which happened to be in the mall.

I do not like the mall and choose not to go there if I can help it. When in the mall, I am usually very nervous and get confused and do not know which way I am going. Once I get in, I am not quite sure how to get out again. Everything seems to be contrived to confuse a person like myself.

Looking down at the ground while walking I became rather confused and I happen to turn into an open door.

My mall savvy is not sophisticated in the least. The door I turned into happened to be for the store Victoria's Secret. I do not know who Victoria is, I did not know what the store was all about, but when I got in the store, I discovered Victoria's Secret much to my great embarrassment.

That is exactly the reason I do not like going into the malls. They have places like this that a gentleman, such as Yours Truly, should never enter.

I am not sure how I got out of that store, all I can remember was a great deal of hilarious laughter thrown in my direction from inside. I just hope they did not recognize me. They probably did not, because I had all my clothes on.

It has been a long time since that incident and now I had to go and pick up my order. I put together a plan to sneak in very quietly, pick up my order and tiptoe out as quietly as I came in.

You know what they say about well-laid plans! Whether mine was well laid or not, it blew up in my face.

I did slip into the mall and found the store where my order was. I picked them up and quietly turned around and started for the door. How I got turned around is any man's guess. Actually, I think I turned around too many times. For the next 15 minutes, I tried to find the way I came in so I could go out.

The trouble started when I hesitated. I stopped to try to get my bearings and in stopping a young woman approached me.

"How do you do today, sir," she said most cheerfully.

I nodded and tried to get away as graciously as possible.

She would have none of it. "And how do you smell today, sir?"

Had I been in my right sense of mind, I would have told her I smelled with my nose. Being in a confused state of affairs, I had no quick come back for her. It was then that she introduced me to her product.

I must confess I am not up-to-date with all of the body lotions and perfumes that are available today. I shave in the morning, splash some aftershave on my face, rub some deodorant under my armpits and that is as far as I go.

This young woman took me for a potential customer of her body lotions and ointments and perfumes. I suppose many people are concerned with how they smell. I am not one of them.

My basic philosophy along this line is simply, if I cannot stand my own smell, I take a shower. I know when it is time to take a shower when I can smell myself.

She wanted to introduce me to some body lotions and ointments and perfumes that would make me smell alluring to anybody I met during the day.

Personally, I do not have a "Bucket List" but if I did, this would not be one of the items on it.

Trying to be polite, I informed the young woman I was late for an appointment and needed to get on right away.

"Oh," she said very cheerfully, "this will not take long at all."

With that said, and before I could process what she said, she began rubbing my face with body ointment or lotion of some sort. I froze and for a few moments, I could not even move. Even the little grey cells upstairs were shocked into a rare state of stillness.

"Now, you smell wonderful."

It was at that time I retired with honor my gentlemanly manners and started running as fast as I could run without drawing too much attention to myself.

I smelled that "fragrance" for three days in spite of the fact that I took 17 showers in the meantime.

Sometimes our focus is always on the outside. I like what Jesus said, "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess" (Matthew 23:25).

It does not matter how good I smell on the outside if there is stench on the inside. I want to focus on my inside and make it as fresh as possible. That is the fragrance God smells.

Pun Alley
Dick Frank

It's Halloween on Pun Alley

Years ago Halloween was strictly for children's activities of dressing up in costumes and going from door to door for candy treats. Now, even adults get into the act wearing a costume and pretending to be other than what they really are.

Halloween, next Thursday, is our day for this. But our politicians do this every day, especially leading up to Election Day Nov. 6.

Our travel down Pun Alley take us to some haunts and ghostly stories for Halloween; but beware of the politicians who will continue their ghoulish activities for more than another week when you get to vote for the political joke of your choice.

Every Witchway

Halloween is the time for witchful thinking. Witches are flying sorcerers who operate a fly-by-night operation. On Halloween, they swoop through the air like scare-planes. To make themselves attractive, witches go to the booty parlor to purchase some scare spray and mass-scare-a.

Then they hop on their brooms and sweep through the skies. They avoid riding their brooms when they're angry because they tend to fly off the handle. If their broom happens to break, they witch-hike or they call Uber or broom service. A little-known fact is that witches themselves actually go trick-or-treating and collecting goodies in their Wicca baskets.

Vampire Empire

Long ago, vampires sailed to the United States in blood vessels and set up their own terror-tories. They bred like crazy; it seems that there was a sucker born every minute. Some of them perfected their skills at blood-sucking by attending law school.

Three vampires went into a bar. A comely barmaid came over to take their orders. They flirted with her by telling her how much they liked her blood type. But she rebuffed them with the reply "O negative" and asked, "And what would you, er, gentlemen like tonight?" The first vampire said, "I'll have a mug of blood." The second vampire said, "I'll have a mug of blood." The third vampire shook his head at his companions and said, "I'll have a glass of plasma." The barmaid called out to the bartender, "Two bloods and a blood light!" Then they all toasted each other by shouting, "This blood's for you!"

Vampires gather each fall deep in the forests of Transylvania. They sit around the vampire and reverently stand at attention and swear allegiance to the Draculation of Vein Dependence and the Bill of Frights.

Little Haunts

You don't have to be concerned about daylight saving time at Halloween. The holiday is always on Green Witch Mean Time.

Ghosts have a lot of trouble dating because women can see right through them.

You always find ghouls and demons together because demons are a ghouls' best friend.

Last Halloween Joan put on a pointy black hat and a long black dress covered with 100 watt bulbs and went as The Lights Witch.

Speaking ill of the dead is a grave mistake. On Halloween girls get to dress up in Mommy's old clothes. Boys can't wear Daddy's old clothes because Daddy's still wearing them.

At bedtime all little witches love to hear the story of "Ghoul Deluxe and the Three Scares."

Years ago, kids used chalk on Halloween. They'd mark up a man's pants if he didn't pay-off. One kid liked it so much he became a tailor when he grew up.

Spell Time

After a lifetime of hunching over her bubbling cauldron muttering incantations and concocting various enchanted brews, the witch finally came to the realization that she was no longer in her prime. In addition to the pronounced dowager's hump she had developed, her arthritic feet were an almost constant source of pain and torment for her.

One evening as she began the tedious task of mincing up a fresh batch of bat tongues and newt eyes, an idea suddenly dawned upon her. If she had a smaller, more portable cutting board, she might just as easily process these ingredients in her lap as she was comfortably seated beside her boiling cauldron. "Ah, yes," She muttered to herself. "It would be nice to be able to sit for a spell."

Halloween Night

There are many tales about Halloween night in Oak Run. Mountain lions wander in from the Green Way, coyotes prowl and owls keep track of every moving thing by repeatedly asking "who, who." It will certainly be a time for staying indoors.

Nose news

Winter will soon be upon us and that means another season of cold, runny noses. But, fear not, says the Association of Mature American Citizens. AMAC reports that a British company has come out with a new way to keep Jack Frost from nipping at your nose this year. Aply enough, it is called the NoseWarmer. The Nose Warmer Company offers a fashionable array of proboscis protectors and they ship worldwide for about $10 a pop.

Honesty is best policy

Nebraska has a new campaign to attract tourists. It boasts print ads with headlines such as "Lucky for you there's nothing to do here." Yet another advertisement brags that the state is "Famous for our flat, boring landscape," according to AMAC.

Noting that Nebraska is "the least likely state" when it comes to attracting tourists, State Tourism Director John Ricks says "the new brand platform is defined by honesty. The overarching concept of honesty is rooted in a mindset that values transparency, purity and simplicity."

She's a big girl

It was Fat Bear Week at Alaska's Katmai National Park and Beadnose was the people's choice for this year's fattest bear competition, reports AMAC. The park posted pictures of 12 bears to choose from on its Web site and, Beadnose, whose estimated weight was figured to be 409 pounds, took the honors. The park put it this way when describing why Beadnose was selected: "Her radiant rolls were deemed by the voting public to be this year's most fabulous flab. Our chubby champ has a few more weeks to chow down on lingering salmon carcasses before she heads up the mountains to dig herself a den and savor her victory."

Doggy beer

Next time you're looking for a treat for the family pooch, you might want to consider opening up a can of Good Boy Dog Beer. Don't be alarmed, it's non-alcoholic and, in fact, might be good for him, to boot. It is the creation of Houston bar owners, Megan and Steve Long, who came up with the idea for the brew when their pet Rottweiler, Rocky, was having digestive problems. Rex got better, and the Longs got themselves a successful sideline. Their dog beer is now available at 18 locations throughout Houston, two in Galveston and Katy, Texas.

Stay local event focuses on employers

The College of Central Florida's Business and Technology Department will host a special event about the high-wage, high-demand career opportunities in our community Wednesday, Nov. 7, from 5:30-7:30 p.m., at the Webber Center, 3001 S.W. College Road., Ocala. Doors open at 5 p.m.

Participants will have an opportunity to network with some of Ocala's top employers such as Custom Window Systems, E-One, Lockheed Martin and R&L Global Logistics, as well as interact with representatives from career and technical programs in the Marion County schools, Marion Technical College and College of Central Florida. Information will be presented from industry leaders about the state of Ocala's economy and anticipated job opportunities.

There is no charge to attend. Refreshments and door prizes will be provided. For more information, contact Bonnie Hays at 352-854-2322, ext. 1855, or haysb@cf.edu.

'Halloween'

The soulless white mask of Michael Myers might be the scariest thing I've ever seen in my life. It was in 1997 that I read an article on slasher movies accompanied by a picture of Myers holding a huge knife. This happened to be right before I spent a week at my grandparents' eerily quiet farmhouse, and I spent four sleepless nights expecting The Shape to show up at any moment. It was only later that I came to respect John Carpenter and his 1978 horror classic "Halloween" for managing to scare me so effectively. Of course, Carpenter's original was followed by several less-terrifying sequels and the forgettable Rob Zombie reboot, so Michael and his mask have since lost their edge, but my hope was that resurrecting Myers for a new "Halloween" film in 2018 would make me scared all over again. For better or worse, I am now less scared of Michael Myers than ever. The new film is a follow-up to the first "Halloween", but erases all franchise lore that came after, including the twist of protagonist Laurie Strode (Jamie Lee Curtis) turning out to be Michael's sister. She was just some teenager who survived Michael's killing spree and was subsequently traumatized. Laurie's life has completely fallen apart since that fateful night, as she's lost two husbands, custody of her daughter (played here as an adult by Judy Greer), and her mind in general. Michael, for his part, has been locked away in an asylum where was studied at first by the iconic Dr. Loomis, and now by the oddly-obsessed Dr. Sartin (Haluk Bilginer). A pair of journalists (Jefferson Hall and Rhian Rees) visit Michael right before he's scheduled to be transferred to a new facility and basically taunt him with his old mask. Michael breaks free during the transfer (shocking, I know) and sets out on another killing spree, though he has to get his mask back first... He eventually makes his way back to his hometown of Haddonfield, IL, where he picks off some lonely homeowners, incompetent police officers, and his personal favorite, hedonistic teens. He eventually comes to target Allyson (Andi Matichak), Laurie's granddaughter. This gives Laurie all the more reason to lure Michael to her home in the woods, where the two can have a final showdown to attain closure after 40 years. The film is at its best when it plays as a comedy. It has fun referencing the original film and there are some laughs from minor characters who make stupid horror movie mistakes. There's also an extended bit from Allyson's babysitter friend (Virginia Gardner) and her young charge (Jibrail Nantambu). I can see where some viewers could be annoyed that the film just lets these two seemingly riff for several minutes, but it's a really funny riff that justifies its existence.

At the Movies

Bob Garver

Of course the bulk of the film is straight horror, and I'm sorry to say that it doesn't pull it off too well. Michael is completely expected every time he shows up, and his victims are rarely likeable enough to curry interest in their survival. Even the mask is less scary this time around, its disturbing pure whiteness replaced with a sort of flawed silver. The climax in Laurie's house is especially frustrating because it has been established that Laurie has been preparing for this moment for 40 years and you'd think she'd have a more polished defense in store for the stalker. One tactic is a particularly underwhelming slow burn, you can email me at rrg251@nyu.edu if you want to know what realistic alternative I would have used instead. Although I enjoyed some early parts of the new "Halloween", I can't bring myself to recommend the film because in the end, it just isn't that scary. Grade: C "Halloween" is rated R for horror violence and bloody images, language, brief drug use and nudity. Its running time is 105 minutes.

'Where the Crawdads Sing'

Title: Where the Crawdads Sing

Author: Delia Owens

Wildlife scientist Delia Owens' first novel is at once a murder mystery, a coming-of-age narrative and a celebration of nature.

When she is only six Kya is abandoned by her troubled, abused mother. Her older brothers and sisters drift away to start their own lives so Kya is left in the care of her drunken father who disappears for days on end. She can neither read nor count beyond 29. To survive on her own in the hostile coastal marshes of North Carolina, she fishes and sells her catch. One day she watches a young boy, Tate, fishing and when she gains the courage to approach him, he offers her friendship, teaches her to read, and brings her books.

Her only other help comes from Jumpin' and Mabel from the black community who sometimes bring her clothing and canned goods.

Ridiculed by the community as the marsh girl or swamp trash Kya seldom ventures into town. She combats her loneliness by collecting shells and feathers and by identifying various birds and insects.

When Tate leaves for college, she begins a relationship with the town's golden boy, rascally, attractive Chase Andrews.

In her early twenties Kya is arrested for Chase's death after he dies falling from a fire tower. Was it an accident or murder?

The story alternates between Kya's life growing up in the marsh and the death investigation until the two story lines merge.

Owens deftly alternates plotlines, which creates the anticipation of what is to come. Both Kya and the marsh are the main characters of this immersive and moving story of love and longing mixed with mystery and suspense.

Because the characters are painted in broad strokes, this is not so much a naturalistic novel as a mythic one, rising from Kya's deep connection to the place she calls home.

Stay flu-free; get your flu vaccine before Halloween

The Florida Department of Health in Marion County is reminding all Floridians to get their flu shot as soon as possible, before the height of the upcoming flu season. Specifically, the department recommends getting the flu shot before Halloween, so the vaccine will have enough time to develop full effectiveness before the active holiday season kicks into gear in November. It can take up to two weeks after vaccination for your body to develop protection against the flu.

"Getting your flu shot is quick and easy and will provide peace of mind as flu season arrives," said Florida Department of Health in Marion County medical director Dr. Olu Ogunsanwo. "It's one of the best ways to protect yourself and loved ones this season."

The flu vaccine is recommended for everyone ages six months and older, including pregnant women. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends a yearly flu vaccine because flu viruses evolve quickly, and last year's vaccine may not protect against the current year's flu strain. Even if the flu vaccine does not fully

THE BOB FRANKEN COLUMN

Winning at gutterball

It's Major League Baseball playoff season, as well as the run-up to the elections. Oh, the games people play.

Way back when, in the early 20th century, New York Giants manager John "Mugsy" McGraw was the first to utter an important life lesson for those who play either form of "Hardball" (thank you, Chris Matthews). "Nice guys," he growled, "finish last."

It's wisdom the Democrats are only now allowing to penetrate their cluelessness. "Really?" they whimper in amazement. "It's not enough to be righteous?" Not when it's self-righteous, which is what so many Americans perceive them to be, along with sanctimonious. Nor is it enough when the other team is governed by a mindset of "whatever it takes to win," fair or foul.

Back in John McGraw's day, the cross-town Yankees with Babe Ruth dominated "America's Pastime." These days, in our other pastime, the Republicans succeed by being ruthless. They don't really stand for the interests of the great bulk of Americans, opting instead to represent the wealthy few, who long ago realized, as Will Rogers declared, that we have "The best Congress that money can buy." Actually, Mr. Rogers was only in the neighborhood. It's really the best government money can buy. And even that's not true, because, in many cases, it's really a pretty useless one, which suits the GOP just fine. It keeps their rich patrons happy because they don't want to be effectively regulated as they pursue their money-grubbing ways.

The Democrats like to think they're above all that sleaziness, which is totally wrong for two reasons: First of all, the D's scrounge for dollars as much as the R's do. Besides, even if they were squeaky-clean, they actually need to be willing to roll around in the mud. Michelle Obama's "When they go low, we go high" just won't cut it, particularly when it comes across as being high and mighty.

A few Democrats are even saying so publicly, like former Attorney General Eric Holder, who got a rousing cheer with his "When they go low, we kick them." He didn't say where you kick

My hometown made national news, but not why I had hoped

TIME ran a story about my hometown! Woohoo! Achille, a small farm town tucked away off the beaten path in Southeastern Oklahoma, made national news!

The news wasn't the type I hoped it would be. It was about a small school trying to accommodate a 12-year-old transgender student in the seventh grade.

My sister couldn't date until she was 16 and even then, I had to chaperone when she dated an airman from Perrin Air Force Base in Sherman, Texas, so in my mind, allowing a child to identify as the opposite sex at an age before reaching adulthood is just plain wrong. It's OK for a girl to be a "tomboy" to partake in "boyish" activities and it's OK for a boy to be a "sissy" and engage in "girlish" activities at home. It is not OK to send them to school. Wait until he or she is an adult and let hormones and genetics work it out.

According to the story, a school district in southern Oklahoma was forced to shut down for two days after parents used a Facebook group to threaten violence against a transgender seventh-grade student.

Superintendent Rick Beene closed Achille Public Schools after parents posted claims on a Facebook group "Achille ISD Parents Group" that the student, who identifies as a girl, was looking over the stalls in the girls' bathroom.

"Heads up parents of 5th through 7th grade," parent Jamie Crenshaw said in a now-deleted post. "The transgender is already using the girl's bathroom. We have been told how the school has gone above and beyond to make sure he has his own restroom, yet he is still using the girls. REALLY... Looks like it's going to be a long year."

Beene would not confirm whether the

Mountains from Molehills

By David Davis

alleged bathroom incident occurred.

The post set off reactions from other adults who referred to the 7th grade student as "this thing" and "half-baked maggot." One parent repeatedly referred to the student as "he" and suggested a "good sharp knife" stop the student. Another parent said that their child should "whip his a — until he quits coming to school," according to the TIME story.

Beene told TIME he made the decision to close both the elementary schools, which houses kindergarten through eighth grade, and the high school on the advice of local law enforcement.

It's not easy being different in a small town. Some of the boys teased me mercilessly because they thought my parents were wealthy. They were, but they weren't then. I finally had a couple of fights and that was the end of that. I always knew we were poor when daddy moved us back to Achille, his hometown.

Then, there was the girl who moved to town when she was in the eighth grade. She — (gasp!) — smoked cigarettes! She wore oversized sunshades that were way too big for her face and wore flashy blue leotards, pantyhose or something on her legs. Peers teased her mercilessly and her family left town before the school year ended. And sure enough, another quick internet search showed that this family was also moving.

THE RICH LOWRY COLUMN

Civility is for suckers

It's doubtful that a former American presidential candidate has ever formally endorsed incivility before, but Hillary Clinton is ever full of surprises. In an interview on CNN, the erstwhile advocate of "if they go low, we go high" switched around to unapologetically call for going low.

"You cannot be civil with a political party," she explained, "that wants to destroy what you stand for, what you care about." She added that if Democrats retake a house of Congress, well, then, "that's when civility can start again."

Clinton's statement is yet more confirmation of the radical mood of the current Democratic Party, not just in blessing tactics that once would have been anathema to the mainstream, but questioning the legitimacy of core elements of our system. The party's base is just a few steps from beginning to give up on our common national life.

Civility is a rather fundamental thing to throw under the bus. It is the basis of our political life, assuring that disagreements are settled within certain bounds and don't escalate into blood feuds.

This doesn't mean that there can't be intense arguments, harsh condemnations, passionate controversies and partisan donnybrooks. These are all endemic to a free society and very healthy things. It does mean that there are certain widely accepted guardrails.

In the Brett Kavanaugh debate, the normal pressure points of the democratic process (rallies and demonstrations, phone calls to congressional offices, online, print and TV advocacy) were deemed insufficient — senators had to be berated in the hallways, chased out of restaurants and harassed at their homes.

Asked on CNN if the actions against her fellow senators went too far, Mazie Hirono stood by the harassment: "I think it just means that there are a lot of people who are very, very much motivated about what's going on."

But when you angrily confront someone, especially as part of a group, it carries an inescapable whiff of physical intimidation. When you shout Ted and Heidi Cruz out of a Washington restaurant, you aren't trying to convince them of anything, you are merely abusing them. When you yell at Senate hearings and floor votes, you aren't influencing the process, but disrupting it.

Our system of government is increasingly held in low regard on the left. The 2016 election was somehow stolen, and the mechanism that gave Trump his victory, the Electoral College, is illegitimate. The Senate,

Tax cuts

For years, the Democrats constantly told us that the Bush tax cuts were “tax breaks for the wealthy.” This is despite the fact that the bottom rate decreased from 15 percent to 10 percent and the number paying no federal income tax increased from 25 percent to almost 50 percent, and many of those paying no federal income tax got refunds of money not paid in due to refundable tax credits!

When those cuts were scheduled to expire, we found out what they already knew. They said we couldn’t allow them all to expire since that would harm those with lower income.

If the cuts benefited primarily “the wealthy” why not let them all expire.” Those whose are not benefiting from the tax cuts wouldn’t be harmed if they expired.

Now they are at it again. The tax cuts are being characterized as the “tax breaks for the wealthy” and tax breaks for “wealthy corporations.” They focus on the tax rate decreasing from 39.6 percent to 37 percent and totally ignore the other tax cuts.

Only estimates are available since numbers for 2017 are not yet available and 2018 numbers won’t be available for another year.

It is estimated that in 2018 the top 1 percent will pay 43 percent of Federal income tax, up from 38 percent in 2017. The share of the top 20 percent will increase from 83.6 percent to 86.9

percent. The top 1 percent will have 15.9 percent of the total income and will pay 43.3 percent of federal income taxes. (How is that fair?) Any tax cut that is fair will always give a significant cut in taxes to those who pay a significant portion of the taxes!

The benefits from the corporate tax cuts are already becoming evident but there is not enough space here to address that aspect. Just look at the economy and job market.

Why would the left perpetuate this story of “tax breaks” for the wealthy? Because it sounds good to the other 99 percent. That translates to votes from those who don’t take the time to do some research. The real answer resides in a quote from George Bernard Shaw.

“A government which robs Peter to pay Paul can always depend on the support of Paul.” How long will it before the 99 percent decide that the 1 percent should pay all of the income taxes?!

Elected versus appointed superintendents

“A board doesn’t run a company; it runs the CEO.” (Holman W. Jenkins, The Wall Street Journal 10-3-18).

Florida and Alabama are the last holdouts that elect a school superintendent. The Marion County School System has a budget of nearly 500 million and 6,000 employees. Would anyone in their right mind elect a CEO to manage a public company of this size?

The school board is responsible for the education of the citizens’ children and answers to the voters. According to the organizational chart of the school system, the superintendent is the CEO but does not report to the board. There is no means to resolve differences between the board and the elected superintendent. The result is a dysfunctional organization with poor outcomes.

In 2016 the elected superintendent was chosen in the primary by less than 5.5 percent of the population of Marion County. The superintendent is chosen by and from a very limited population rather than searching the country for the best qualified person with a successful track record.

Until about a decade ago, I was very much in favor of an elected superintendent. But then something happened to change my mind.

I was the editor of a weekly newspaper in Chiefland, in Levy County. Chiefland is a football town. The team had a down season, but in the spring game had looked good, defeating a team that would go on to win a state title.

But shortly after that game, the coach was summoned to the superintendent’s office and fired.

Fans were outraged. They packed a School Board meeting, demanding that the decision be reversed. But the attorney informed them that the board had no control over personnel as the superintendent sat in stony silence during the long, loud fray.

The decision stood. The only explanation that was ever offered was that he “wanted to go in a

Cherrywood
Mary Busha

A linguist in our midst

When Cherrywood resident Mary Hamblen was a child, and grew up learning German, along with English, in her Nebraska home, she probably didn't have in mind then that one day she would be teaching her mother's native language to residents in North Central Florida. But that's exactly what she's doing weekly through Master the Possibilities.

In fact, Mary teaches three classes at the lifelong learning center, which is located at 8415 SW 80th Street in the community known as On Top of the World. The three classes include "German Made Easy,"

"Intermediate German," and "German: Advanced Level."

In German Made Easy, students learn just enough German to get by when traveling to Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. Basic words along with correct pronunciation, like "Hello, how are you," "My name is...," and "Excuse me," are just a few of the common expressions Mary teaches, along with helpful travel tips and cultural orientation.

Intermediate German is for those more serious in learning the language, allowing students to expand on their speaking, reading, and writing skills. A considerable amount of the class in conducted in German.

German: Advanced Level emphasizes pronunciation, conversation, reading, and some grammar. This class is more conversational and is conducted entirely in German.

Why do people sign up for one of Mary's classes? She says that sometimes learning a new language is on someone's bucket list. In addition, according to Mary, learning another language is good for brain stimulation and training. Her classes generally range from three students to twelve and are held over a six-week period.

While most students are retirees, and many of those are from On Top of the World, she has others attending as well. And most attend to prepare for European travel packages that focus on Germany and the immediate surrounding areas, where the language of High German is universal.

If you're interested in learning German or

Sugar and the risk of cancer

It is true that glucose, that form of sugar that circulates in your blood, is fuel for cancer cells; but, healthy cells need glucose too. The rapid growth of cancer cells means they need more fuel than normal cells. However, we do not have a way of keeping glucose from cancer cells and directing it only to healthy cells. If you limit your carbohydrate intake, your body can convert protein into the glucose it needs.

The research, so far, does not show that avoiding sugar can lower your risk of getting cancer. Overdoing high-sugar foods and drinks could increase the risk of cancer, but not for the reasons you probably hear about. Big surges in blood sugar from large amounts of carbohydrates raises blood sugar and prompts the pancreas to secrete and extra amount of insulin to handle it. Research now suggests that it is the elevated insulin levels, rather than high blood sugar alone that stimulate cancer cell growth.

Excess calories from any source can lead to unhealthy weight gain, and foods and drinks high in added sugars tend to be a primary vehicle for concentrated calories. Too much body fat raises the risk of at least 11 different cancers by increasing insulin resistance and insulin levels, promoting inflammation and boosting estrogen production. The American Institute for Cancer Research recommends limiting foods and drinks high in added sugars. That is not because of any direct effect of sugar on cancer risk but to support a healthy weight and to make room for a variety of cancer-protective food like vegetables, fruits, whole grains and beans. Karen Collins, MS, RD suggests the following strategies to limit sugars.

Avoid those added sugars form sugar-sweetened soda, fruit drinks, sports or energy drinks, super-sweet tea and coffee laden with sugary syrup. Refresh with plain water or try unsweetened flavored sparkling water or water infused with berries or cucumber for variety.

Swap sweets and baked goods for nutrient-rich nuts, fruit or veggies with hummus. Switch the ice cream habit to a bowl of fruit with just a dollop of ice-cream.

Choose unsweetened cooked cereal or ready-to-eat options, like shredded wheat, with 6 grams or less of added sugars. Sprinkle with some cinnamon if you need some sweetness.

Get plain unsweetened yogurt and add fresh or frozen fruit. Commercial fruit yogurt usually is the equivalent of putting jam in yogurt.

Watch your condiments. Bottled salad dressing, barbecue sauce, ketchup, and spaghetti sauce may have two to 3 teaspoons of added sugars per two-tablespoon serving. Find those that have less added sugars or make your own.

Remember trim added sugars as part of a healthful daily diet pattern.

Annual Arts & Craft Fair Nov. 3 at Palm Grove

Oak Run
Laura Smith

Dear readers, I had a first this week. On the second day of the opening of the new restaurant, starts with a pie, we had dinner. I know you are saying to yourself, well big deal. The reason I am even mentioning it is so many places open, friends talk about it and it closes. We never get there, so for me it is a big deal. We really liked Cortney, our waitress who did a nice job of recommending couple menu items. Don't worry I am not going to start getting into the restaurant critiquing business and not copying a journalist from another paper, "tell them Laura sent you."

We saw "Oklahoma!" Sunday. It was a full house and enjoyed the play. Kudos to all those PACOR members who put so much into presenting a play for our enjoyment. Pancake breakfast is tomorrow, Saturday.

This is such a busy week for me, not sure I will get to pancakes. Saturday night is the Fright Night Dance and I have had several folks say, "wait till you see what we are doing." Sounds like a fun night.

I hope you are planning on taking part in the Hospice Fund Raiser. Nov. 9 is the dance, with some great entertainment this year and then Saturday is the walk. All monies go right to Legacy House, which is down the street from Oak Run.

I don't think you can live here for any length of time and become familiar with Legacy House. It is not a place any of us look forward to but when it happens it is a place of caring and comfort. I have a couple tables, so I hope to see many of you there.

Singles Club was looking for officers and their meeting was Oct. 25. If they didn't get a full slate, why not step up and offer to serve.

If you are looking for some fun, why not the Showcase of Stars, Friday 26. They are not featuring comedy. They show is always free, you don't need tickets.

When I hear of something unpleasant in Oak Run, it makes me sad but then something great happens, and I give thanks for those folks who are make us proud to be part of this community.

Our Reach Out is a service club and they do so much for fellow residents. They accept donations for all their

Hoofin' It for Hospice

Our Dance is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 9, at Palm Grove from 6 to 10 p.m. We will have both entertainment and dancing for your evening pleasure. We will be entertained by Mark Raisch, a crooner who has been well received here in Oak Run before, and Cindy Moody who sings a variety of songs including Patsy Cline. Before, between and after Mark and Cindy, I will do some DJ'ing for your dancing pleasure. Bring money that evening because we will have both a 50/50 and raffle(s). All the monies raised will go directly to Legacy House of Hospice of Marion County. Tickets are a $20 donation and will go on sale Monday, Oct. 29, at the Orchid Club Lobby from 9 to 11 a.m. Please make checks out to "Hospice of Marion County."

Dress is casual; no shorts please.

Our Walk is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 10, also at Palm Grove. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and our walk will begin shortly afterward. Following your return from a stroll through our lovely countryside, you will be provided with bagels, pastries, fruit, coffee and such.

Please collect as much as you can and bring them with you that day. Please contact Damian at 854-4840 for any further information or details.

An architectural drawing of Marion County Fire Rescue Station 28 at 5907 Cherry Road.

County breaks ground on fire station

Marion County Board of County Commissioners and Fire Rescue proudly announce the ceremonial groundbreaking for the new Rolling Greens Fire Station 28 at 5907 Cherry Road, Ocala.

This 7,700-square-foot facility more appropriately accommodates the growing response needs of its surrounding areas, while serving as a backup to four nearby stations.

The 30 personnel housed will include dual-certified firefighter/paramedics, firefighter/emergency medical technicians as well as EMTs and paramedics totaling 10 personnel per 24-hour shift. The new station will also be assigned a fire engine and an emergency rescue transport unit.

Thanks to funding from Marion County's Penny sales tax, all $2.1 million necessary for this project has been allocated without requiring any portion of the county's general fund.

The new facility underscores the county's commitment to promoting public safety and to the strategic goal of fiscal responsibility.

For more information, contact Marion County Public Relations at 352-438-2300.

Airport Terminal groundbreaking is Oct. 29

The City of Ocala will host a groundbreaking ceremony for the construction of the General Aviation Terminal at the Ocala International Airport Monday, Oct. 29, at 10 a.m. at the current terminal site located at 1770 SW 60th Ave.

According to city staff, the new, 17,500 square foot General Aviation Terminal will include office space for Sheltair Aviation, the airport's fixed-base operator, airport administration, a large restaurant with meeting rooms, three car rental service areas, and additional office space for future tenants. The new terminal is expected to open in December 2019.

Funding for construction of the new terminal was made possible through grants received from the Florida Department of Transportation and the Federal Aviation Administration, airport funds and the city of Ocala's partnership with Sheltair Aviation. The approximate cost for this project is $6.1 million.

"The General Aviation Terminal is the central hub of activity at the Ocala International Airport," said Matt Grow, Ocala International Airport Director. "The current General Aviation Terminal, constructed in 1962, has served its purpose well. However, the new terminal will make a great first impression for aviators and guests arriving at the Ocala International Airport for business or pleasure. Sheltair Aviation already provides outstanding customer service and this new state-of-the-art facility will only further enhance that experience by bringing together many of the aviation services currently spread throughout the airport property."

This event is free and open to the public. Members of the media are encouraged to attend. Light refreshments will be provided.

For more information, please contact Matt Grow, Ocala International Airport Director, at mgrow@ocalafl.org or visit www.ocalaairport.com.

Appleton Museum will host 'Honoring Your Service' salute to veterans

The Appleton Museum of Art, College of Central Florida, will host a special event, "Honoring Your Service: The Appleton Salutes Veterans," Sunday, Nov. 18, noon-5 p.m.

Join us in a celebration honoring those who bravely served, or are now serving, our country. This event is free for Appleton members, CF students, active-duty military and veterans (all with valid ID); included with admission fee for nonmembers.

In the Galleries, noon-5 p.m.: See an exhibition of vintage military prints from our permanent collection, as well as other special military-inspired displays, including a prisoner of war/missing in action table. A map, available at the Visitor Services desk, will guide guests to other military-themed works of art on display throughout the galleries.

In the Art Lab, noon-5 p.m.: Join us for a special art-making activity that is appropriate for all ages and abilities.

In the Auditorium, 2 p.m.: Brooke King, U.S. Army veteran, professor, poet, author

From the American Revolution to the current conflicts in Afghanistan and Iraq, veteran Brooke King will discuss the often unnoticed gallantry and courage of American women on the battlefield. She will discuss and read from her anthology titled, "It's My Country Too: Women's Military Stories from the American Revolution to Afghanistan." A video of oral histories from local veterans and a presentation on famous veterans will play before and after the 2 p.m. talk.

Owned and operated by the College of Central Florida, the Appleton Museum of Art is located at 4333 E. Silver Springs Blvd. Parking is free.

For more information, call 352-291-4455 or visit AppletonMuseum.org.

A Halloween Thriller 'Evelina's Scary Night'

Oct. 20, 2018, at Circle Square Commons, On Top of The World the third annual Presentation of "A Halloween Thriller" will be performed. It's an intergenerational theater and dance production performed by Stone Creek, On Top of The World, and Oak Run residents along with students from local dance schools.

There will be bats, vampires, girls from the grave, super heroes and last but not least, zombies dancing to

"Thriller."

The show is created and directed by Cheri Irwin. It is a fun filled, multi-community event that brings families, friends and neighbors together.

There is no admission fee, however, donations to benefit Ocala Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Center will be welcome. Last year over 800 people turned out and more are expected this year so get there early.

Entertainer GNARLY

CHARLIE starts the show at 6 p.m. followed by "A Halloween Thriller" at 7 p.m. in Circle Square Commons, 8405 SW 80 Street, Ocala.

For more information contact Cheri Irwin at (352) 291-2791 irwin-home33@aol.com

Countryside

Presbyterian

Join with Countryside Presbyterian, 7768 Southwest Highway 200, at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, us to learn about "The Mystery of Oak Island."

This World Archaeology Day event will be presented by Dr. Ed Tenhor who will present on the big screens, photos of the digs on Oak Island over the past 222 years. He will show how 17 treasure companies have dug into the island looking for that elusive fortune supposedly buried there many centuries ago.

Oak Island, 660 feet off the coast of Nova Scotia has been the site of treasure hunting since 1795 and it is still going on, witness the program, "The Mystery of Oak Island" on the History Channel.

On the large screens we will explore Oak Island itself, examine the history, the treasure search, the findings thus far, and then take a guess about the answer to the mystery. Dr. Tenhor will explore with the audience eight of the possible sources of that treasure and provide the latest timeline and list of possible historic figures who could have been involved in the underground tunnels for take home.

The public is invited to the monthly lecture. No tickets needed.

Dr. Tenor has done many lectures at Master the Possibilities and surrounding area.

Friday, Nov. 9 Mental Health Wellness

Coming to Marion Fundamentals Senior Social Club Friday, Nov. 9, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to do mental wellness screenings.

The National Alliance on Mental Illness is a national grassroots organization. NAMI Marion County is a local affiliate whose mission is to ensure a quality life for people affected by mental illness. There are NAMI affiliates in all states.

Mental Wellness Now: Help & Hope is a program funded by United Way of Marion County. The focus is to offer people with limited access to mental health services an opportunity to have a mental wellness screening. For those people who score high on the screening, indicating a possible mental health challenge, we will have an LCSW with Meridian Behavioral Health Services available for further discussion via telehealth equipment.

It can take up to seven years for a person to seek treatment for a mental illness. Senior citizens have been documented to have a higher percentage of mental health challenges due to aging, sickness, medications, family isolation and such. We want to help.

We look forward to seeing you Nov. 9. For questions, please feel free to contact Shawnee by calling 352-480-4090 or visit www.namiocala.org on the internet or in person at 2123 SW Highway 484, Ocala, FL 34473

Reach Out pays it forward

As a resident of Oak Run, have you utilized the services of Reach Out, Neighbors Helping Neighbors? Have you ever wondered what happens to the stipends that you donate for these services? When you are driven to a medical or dental appointment, you gave your transporter $10, if you were going west of I-75 and $20 east of I-75. If you called Reach Out because you had an issue with your computer or needed a minor home repair, you gave a donation to the person solving that problem. Those collected monies are then given to local nonprofit organizations.

This past week a check for $1,000 was presented to Interfaith Emergency Services CEO Carla Grimsley. When Reach Out helps Oak Run residents, this is then passed forward to benefit others. Reach Out needs your help to continue to do this.

Please consider volunteering your services. Call president David Unverfehrt at 618-204-9399 for more information.

Ambassadors

Tickets for the Fall Harvest Time Dance on Nov. 17 can be purchased at tomorrow's Pancake Breakfast and at the Nov. 10 Donut Drop in. The dance will be at the Palm Grove from 7-11 p.m.

Entertainer for this dance is Anthony Moneiro. In the spirit of the season, nonperishable food items are being collected to be donated to the Community Food Bank.

The Ambassador committee is still in the process of collecting items for our "Take a Chance" event. Chances are $1 each and will be sold at the Donut Drop-In and Pancake Breakfast in November. Chance items will be on display during these ticket sales, and the drawing will be held at the Randy Riggle Nostalgia show Dec. 1. You can also purchase tickets to the Randy Riggle Show at these events Nov. 10 and 17. Spend New Year's Eve with neighbors and friends at the Ambassador's annual New Year's Eve Party at the Palm Grove from 8:30 - 12:30 p.m. Dec. 31. A delicious array of appetizers will be served and there will be a Champagne Fountain to toast in the Year. Watch this space and the November and December newsletters for further information.

Well folks, enjoy this nice fall weather. Peace. Laura Smith csjtpq2@gmail.com.

The Villages VA Clinic to offer drive thru flu shot clinic Drive-thru flu shot clinics are scheduled Saturday, Oct. 27, and Nov. 17 from 1 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. at the Villages Veterans Affairs Outpatient Clinic at 8900 SE 165th Mulberry Lane, 32162).

The drive-thru flu clinic is available for enrolled veterans only. Please ensure you have your Veteran Identification Card.

In an effort to reduce the impact of the seasonal flu and connected illness, enrolled/eligible veterans may obtain a seasonal flu vaccination at all North Florida/South Georgia Veteran Health System facilities.

Many people suffer severe consequences from the flu. It is very important for every veteran to get his or her flu shot. The flu shot is the only measure of protection from the influenza virus. If you have not had your flu shot yet for the year, ensure you receive one as soon as possible.

If you received the flu shot outside of the VA or for more information on flu vaccine sites, please call the flu hotline at 1-800-324-8387, ext. 103358. Flu shots are also available at regularly scheduled primary care appointments.

Hospice turns 35

Save the date and join Hospice of Marion County Nov. 5 at 10 a.m. as we celebrate 35 years of serving our community with exceptional, compassionate end-of-life care.

During this "Good Morning, Marion County" styled program, you'll enjoy interactive discussions with David Elliott M.D., HMC's first medical director; Picky Pares, M.D. and Mery Lossada, M.D. as they share anecdotal stories of the past, along with present and future outlook. The event also features a mini fashion show of clothing available at the Hospice Thrift Stores, modeled by store volunteers, as well a small parade of pets that volunteer with our Pet Therapy program. Door prizes and light refreshments will be served. All the festivities will be held in The Elliott Center, 3231 SW 34th Ave., Ocala.

RSVP to Jessica McCune at: jmccune@hospiceofmarion.com or call 352-854-5231 to reserve your seat.

"November is National Hospice and Palliative Care month which makes this celebration even more special, sharing how we have grown and impacted the lives of our community over the years," said Hospice of Marion County CEO Mary Ellen Poe.

Initially licensed as Ocala Hospice in 1983, Dr. Elliott was the first volunteer medical director. Since then, Hospice of Marion County has added medical directors, four of whom are board certified in Hospice and Palliative Care Medicine. The organization's Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Lossada, recently earned Fellow status with the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Care Medicine.

HMC's team of dedicated professionals serve patients wherever they call home—a private home, assisted living facility, nursing home or in one of our three hospice houses.

Goodwill helps those affected by Michael

In response to Hurricane Michael and the overwhelming generosity of people who want to help, Florida Goodwills have established a response plan to bring much needed support and aide to the communities that have been directly and critically affected by Hurricane Michael.

In order to help streamline the anticipated donations of clothing, shoes and household goods, the Red Cross has partnered with Goodwill Industries to accept and manage donated goods. People who would like to donate items can visit any Goodwill store or donation center throughout Florida and designate their donation to Hurricane Michael relief efforts. The Goodwills will process the donations earmarked for Hurricane Michael and provide material goods and/or funding to those affected by Hurricane Michael in the affected areas. In some cases, storm victims will receive vouchers that they can redeem for selected items in Goodwill locations throughout Florida.

While Goodwill can accept almost anything, for this effort we are focusing on clothing, shoes, towels, linens and other household goods. For Goodwill donation locations, visit www.goodwill.org/donate-and-shop/donate-stuff. If people would like to make monetary donations to Hurricane Michael relief efforts, please visit www.redcross.org.

"We are grateful to our donors and shoppers who want to help people whose lives were devastated by this storm. This partnership between Goodwill and the Red Cross ensures that donations will do the most good for survivors of Hurricane Michael," said Goodwill Industries-Suncoast President and CEO Deborah A. Passerini.

Florida Senate District 12 candidates Gary McKechnie and Dennis Baxley debated at a meeting of the Rotary Club of Ocala Southwest Oct. 16. The Rotary Club meets every Tuesday at 7:45 a.m. in room 240 of the Medical Plaza (Quick-Care) building of West Marion Community Hospital. Residents, business owners and workers are invited to attend and learn how Rotarians are people of action.

Local Rotarians fight to end polio

Members of the Belleview High School Interact Club, a high school service club of Rotary Clubs in Marion County, will meet at the school with members of both the Ocala Rotary Club and the Belleview Rotary Club on the day designated as "World Polio Day" Oct. 24, and the 27th anniversary of Rotary International's effort to help eradicate polio from the world, to demonstrate how easy a polio immunization is. A few drops in the mouth of a child is all that is required, and then the child's index finger will be marked with a purple dye to signify they have been immunized.

In honor of World Polio Day, which is widely recognized Oct. 24, the two local Rotary Clubs, as well as the Belleview High School Interact Club are joining nearly 35,000 Rotary Clubs and 1.2 million members around the world as part of Rotary's 27-year mission to eradicate the crippling childhood disease polio.

The Ocala Rotary Club just raised nearly $3,000 in its most recent effort to address this plague. The money is used for vaccinations in Afghanistan, Pakistan and Nigeria.

"Our club has been made contributions for polio vaccinations worldwide for over 25 years," Ocala Rotary Club president Al Formella said. "We've just reached $3,000 this year as additional support."

World Polio Day follows a succession of significant developments that have made 2018 one of the most important years in the history of the polio eradication initiative. The message to world leaders is clear: support the final push to achieve eradication now while the goal has never been closer or face the potential consequences of a new polio pandemic that could disable millions of children within a decade. Polio is now non-existent in every country in the world, thanks to the immunization program, except Afghanistan, Pakistan and Nigeria, with a possible flareup in another country.

Since 1985, Rotary Clubs throughout the world have contributed nearly $1.2 billion and countless volunteer hours to the protection of more than 2 billion children in 122 countries. The disease remains endemic in three countries – Afghanistan, Nigeria and Pakistan – although other countries remain at risk for imported cases. In order for a country to be classified as "polio free" there must not be a reported new case in the country for at least three years.

A highly infectious disease, polio causes paralysis and is sometimes fatal. As there is no cure, the best protection is prevention. For as little as US 60 cents worth of vaccine, a child can be protected against this crippling disease for life. After an international investment of more than US $9 billion, and the successful engagement of over 200 countries and 20 million volunteers, polio could be the first human disease of the 21st century to be eradicated.

Rotary International is an international service organization whose stated purpose is to bring together business and professional leaders in order to provide humanitarian services, encourage high ethical standards in all vocations, and help build goodwill and peace in the world with over 34,000 clubs and 1.2 million members. The Ocala Rotary Club was founded May 1, 1919, is the sixth oldest Rotary Club in the State of Florida, and meets every Monday for lunch at the College of Central Florida.

Veteran's Club

As November 11 approaches, the day officially set aside as the United States public holiday to honor all who have served in all branches of America's armed forces, Cherrywood's Veteran's Club is gearing up for a busy month.

First, their regular monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, November 1, at 2 p.m. at the Clubhouse. Their guest speaker, Pat Gabriel from the 200 Coalition, will update those attending the meeting on current construction projects on the SW 200 corridor. All Cherrywood residents are invited.

Next, the club is planning a celebration on the 11th at the Clubhouse beginning at 3 p.m. to honor veterans and is free for all residents. Following, from 4-7 p.m., will be a Happy Hour where hors d'oeuvres and beverages, including lemonade, iced tea, and draft beer will be served. Tickets for the Happy Hour are $8 per person and are available through Jennifer.

In addition, they will offer a Lottery Basket with cash and lottery tickets, three Chinese raffle baskets, and a 50/50.

In addition, a food drive will be held on Thursday, November 15, at 11 a.m. when residents can leave donations of food by their mailboxes for pick up. Or if they prefer, from November 11-15 residents can bring donated food items to the Clubhouse to leave in a designated box in the main hall.

All donations will go to Ocala's Veterans Helping Veterans, a private, non-profit organization formed in 1997 for the purpose of assisting veterans with all kinds of needs. Vets Helping Vets evaluates and assesses the needs of veterans in order to assist them in referrals to the VA and other agencies. They provide financial assistance when funds are available, and the program maintains and runs a scheduled transportation service to the VA Hospital in Gainesville.

Partially funded by the Department of Veterans Affairs, primarily for administrative costs, all other expenses are funded by direct tax-deductible donations. Marion County Veterans Helping Veterans, Inc. is located at 1527 NE Eighth Ave., Ocala, Florida, 34480. The phone numbers are 352-433-2320 and 352-433-2339.

Garden Club

Garden club members meet once a month on each first Wednesday. Their next gathering is scheduled for November 7 at the Clubhouse at 10:15 a.m. Cherrywood residents with an interest in gardening of any kind are welcome to attend. Just show up with a beverage if you wish and join the others for an hour of "flower talk."

Sunday Singles

Dinners

All Cherrywood singles are invited to meet on Sundays at 3:45 p.m. in the Clubhouse parking lot to join others for dinner at a local restaurant. The group is still looking for someone to schedule dinner locations. If interested, call Jennifer at the Clubhouse at 352-237-1675.

Books and Baubles Sale

It's not too early to mark your calendars for Freedom Public Library's holiday books and baubles sale on Saturday, November 10, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. This event is hosted by Friends of the Library who will hold their next meeting on Monday, November 5 at 10 a.m. Those interested in joining are invited to attend.

Also meeting early in November is their book club, As the Page Turns. The book discussed on Tuesday, November 6, at 2:30 p.m. will be "Killers of the Flower Moon" by David Grann.

Everyone is welcome.

Early Voting

Continues

Freedom Library will hold 2018 general election early voting for registered voters through Saturday, November 3, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

You Ready?

As relief efforts continue in Florida's panhandle, we are still not out of the woods when it comes to the possibilities of hurricanes in our area. From now through the end of November, when the official hurricane season ends, the threat is ever present. While we do not need to live in fear, we do need to be prepared, as we have suggested for weeks. I recently stumbled upon a couple more tips to consider for disaster preparedness.

There is a distinct possibility that if a storm hits our area, we may be required to wait in line for various commodities. That could pose a problem for those of us who find it hard to stand for long periods of time. In that case, we need to be able to let a responder or relief worker know we cannot wait in long lines for items like water, food, or other assistance. We are encouraged to practice how to explain clearly and briefly why we need help. We may even want to write the explanation ahead of time and have it ready to share.

Do you have a disability and use power-dependent equipment? If so, you are eligible for "priority reconnection service" through our utility company. To get placed on their priority reconnection list, contact SECO for more information. Their number to call is 352-793-3801.

Parting Words

Quotes to ponder and perhaps apply by American financier and later an advisor to two presidents, Bernard Baruch (1870-1965):

"Age is only a number, a cipher for the records. A man can't retire his experience. He must use it. Experience achieves more with less energy and time."

"One of the secrets of a long and fruitful life is to forgive everybody everything every night before you go to bed."

"During my eighty-seven years I have witnessed a whole succession of technological revolutions. But none of them has done away with the need for character in the individual or the ability to think."

reduced prices.

Whatever your needs, this team of trained professionals is here to help.

"I really enjoy what I do, because we make a difference here," said Daisy Diaz, veterans services supervisor with the county. "When we find out what they qualify for and help change their quality of life; that's the biggest joy of mine."

Working with non-profits and volunteers from the community allows this department to connect veterans with resources outside of the government.

Veterans Services also has on-site chaplains who consult veterans seeking mental health resources.

"Many veterans are too proud to ask for help," said Askew, a retired sailor. "Or they are afraid it may hinder their careers. But the help is there and can be very effective. They just have to reach out, so we can connect them with mental health professionals."

The first step is the hardest; let your friends at Veterans Services do the rest. Give us a call at 352-671-8422 to explore your benefits.

"Highwaymen" artist, Curtis Arnett, to speak

The Ocala Art Group is hosting a lecture by acclaimed artist Curtis Arnett, one of the original Florida Highwaymen, Wednesday, Nov. 14, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the auditorium of the Appleton Museum of Art, 4333 E. Silver Springs Blvd, Ocala, FL 34470.

Arnett is one of the youngest of 26 African-American artists who traveled the highways of I-95 and A1A decades ago, who later became known as The Highwaymen.

They sold their Florida landscape paintings inexpensively which today are widely sought after for their historical value.

Many of these paintings can be found on public display in banks, office buildings and private homes throughout Florida and the United States.

You won't want to miss this program that will include a history of Arnett's life, his journey as one of the Florida Highwaymen and a demonstration of his art. This event will undoubtedly excite and inspire artists as well as art enthusiasts.

The program is free to members of the Ocala Art Group and the Appleton Museum of Art.

If you are not a member, you may join before the program. Please contact Richard Woy at 352-598-9069 or woyzus@cs.com for more information.

different direction.” And the program did. The following season the Indians went 1-9, and it has taken until this year for the team to become a state contender again.

The superintendent wisely didn't run again and the Chiefland principal won the job. However, a good coach and an honorable man had been run out of town.

After that, I vowed I would never again vote for a dictatorship. The superintendent must be controlled by someone, not just by the voters every four years.

Yes, it is disturbing that we have one board member that most of us do not want running the system. But it takes three board members to hire and fire a superintendent.

This is not intended to be a knock on Heidi Maier, who is a person I respect (I wouldn't want her job). But I see all sorts of pitfalls in having an elected school boss.

The city manager runs Ocala, and we don't elect him. The county administrator runs the county, and we don't elect him. Why should the School Board be different?

I urge a vote of "yes" for an appointed superintendent Nov. 6.

Jim Clark
Ocala

The movement to change from an elected school superintendent to one hired by our school board is not a criticism of the current school Superintendent Heidi Maier. It's about an organizational structure for the Marion County school system that will provide more accountability, more likely result in hiring the best qualified person for the job and remove political distractions and campaign politics from our schools.

Making a change is hard and some people want to vote for the superintendent. They think a change takes their vote away. But it doesn't. Voters are still electing the school board that hires the superintendent just as we elect a county commission that hires a county administrator based on a close examination of the applicants. The citizens of Marion County will hold the school board accountable for the superintendent it hires, the terms of that hire, and the performance of the superintendent.

Having the school board hire a superintendent allows for a search locally, around the state, and nationwide for the best qualified candidates. Depending on an elected superintendent being qualified for the job is taking a huge gamble with the future of our children. You are just hoping someone locally has the qualifications to do the job. You can have someone elected in a popularity contest who has never led and/or managed a half-billion dollar a year business.

Some voters see the higher salary as a reason to vote against an appointed superintendent. But the school system can lose more money than the salary difference if an elected superintendent fails to perform because Marion County is stuck with that superintendent until the next election and this can go on for several election cycles.

You can never manage your way out of a crisis without vision. Let's show we have some of that vision by voting "Yes" on "Referendum on Appointed Superintendent" at the bottom of our ballots.

Jane Moerlie
Ocala

Free

I can find a cardboard box, and living in Florida, I'm sure I can find some limestone rocks to put in it all for free, although it would have no value. I am 83 years old, and when I was young, I got a job that paid 35 cents an hour, but that was OK! I could buy a milkshake for 20 cents, an ice cream sundae with all the fixings for 25 cents. A high salary was $5,000 a year. A brand-new car was about $2,500 and a house could cost about $40,000. Then the politicians and union bosses said, "Vote for me and I will get you a pay raise" (of course with someone else's money). You got the raise, but everything went up more than what you received. This continued throughout the years until we got to where we are today. Now we have someone running for Governor of Florida that is going to GIVE us FREE health care. If you believe that, you are as dumb as that FREE box of rocks we started off with.

which confirmed Kavanaugh and gives small, red states the same representation as large, blue states, is also illegitimate. Finally, the Supreme Court, now home to two Trump-appointed justices, is illegitimate as well.

That's a lot of illegitimacy, all stemming from one lost presidential election. Imagine if Democrats lose another? The fact is that if you believe an institution is legitimate only if you control it or it works in your favor, you never truly believed in its legitimacy to begin with.

Perhaps the Democratic fever will pass if the party gains some power again, as Clinton suggested in her remarks. But it's notable enough that one of our major parties is showing signs of contemplating a divorce from our system as it currently exists.

them, but use your imagination. Even Hillary Clinton, who personified her party's inner sanctimony when she ran for president, caused a few gasps when she declared, "You cannot be civil with a political party that wants to destroy what you stand for."

Some liberals probably got the vapors when she said that, but she was taught a bitter lesson by Donald Trump, who now occupies the White House, riding a crest through the hateful gutters of his campaign and his dangerous presidency. Hillary's superior qualifications amounted to nothing. Time for Trump's enemies to learn some hard lessons from him.

Democrats have evolved from working-class champions to effete snobs. Too many don't understand that cheap shots work in campaigns, the kind the other side puts out constantly in their TV ads. Cheap shots are expensive. It costs a lot to conduct oppo research and then distort it in TV spots. The liberals need to accept that the only way for a candidate to set up shop inside the Beltway is to hit his or her opponent below the belt. Just like the conservatives do.

The updated TIME story stated that for the second time in less than two years, Brandy Rose is planning to move her family to a new town, saying she no longer feels safe in Achille because of violent threats against her 12-year-old transgender daughter, Maddie. The TIME article stated that two years ago, the same concerns drove the family from Sherman, Texas, where Maddie experienced "horrendous" school bullying after she transitioned. Some students had forced Maddie into the boys' bathroom and taunted her to commit suicide, Rose said.

Sherman, with a population of 41,000, is about 30 miles south of Achille.

According to TIME, the family moved to Achille in 2017 to give Maddie a "fresh start." Now the family is moving again — this time to Houston, seeking "a more open, diverse community for people like my daughter" — as Rose fears for Maddie's safety in the small town where she became the center of a firestorm.

I'm just going to end on this: A small town of fewer than 500 people is not the place to find a fresh start if you're different.

Thrower makes final pitch for school board

Dear Voters: The time is now to make your final decision about who will be your next School Board Member in District 4. Many of you vote by mail. Early Voting begins Oct. 25 and extends to Nov. 3. The run-off between me and the long-time incumbent of District 4 is Tuesday, Nov. 6.

We just missed getting the 50 percent, plus-one vote needed in the Primary election to avoid this run off. I earned more than 49 percent of your votes. Thank you to all who voted for me. I need you one more time!

What schools are in District 4?

District 4 includes Evergreen Elementary, Oakcrest Elementary, Vanguard High School, Ft. King Middle School, Hillcrest School, where I've worked for 14 years, Ward-Highlands Elementary, Maplewood Elementary. District 4 also includes the departments of School Social Workers, School Psychologists and Exceptional Student Education (ESE)

Think of the positive impact a school board member can have on the success of this very challenging District!

I am ready. I worked my way up, starting as a teacher's aide at North Marion High School. Then, I became a teacher of students with Special Needs (ESE) at North Marion.

This is my 21st year working as a special needs educator in Marion County Public Schools and my 14th year working in District 4 at Hillcrest School as its Behavior Specialist. I'm in classrooms every day. I ride school busses. I meet as a team with school staff, parents, community agencies and other school departments to problem solve very difficult situations before things get out of hand so teachers can teach.

I've seen and experienced firsthand what works and what doesn't work. It's all about building relationships with schools, families and our community. It comes down to visibility, accountability and communication. District 4 wants all the help it can get. They need leadership from their school board member. Our community deserves a school board member that makes budget and policy decisions based on direct experience with the issues. And to me, the only way to provide that leadership is to show up, roll up my sleeves and get to work. But first, I need you to vote for Nancy Thrower for Marion County School Board- District 4.

Nancy Thrower is a candidate for Marion County School Board District 4.

Broadband policy leaves rural areas out

By JOHNATHAN HLADIK
Center for Rural Affairs

Connectivity is the defining aspect of our 21st century economy. Access to broadband internet offers the best in education, health care and economic development. Unfortunately for many, the best isn't available.

More than 24 million Americans lack broadband access. This includes 31 percent of households in rural areas, but only 2 percent in urban. Over, 19 million of 25 million households without broadband are in rural areas.

Old fashioned data collection guarantees this will continue.

The Federal Communications Commission collects data on broadband service at the census block level, of which there are 11,078,297. In rural areas, these blocks can stretch for hundreds of square miles. Nationwide, 3,200 census blocks are larger than the District of Columbia.

In a census block, if one household has access, the entire block is reported as "served." Providers may report an area as "served" if they could provide access without "an extraordinary commitment of resources."

This means the number of "served" areas is frequently overstated. States are unable to accurately invest resources in broadband development because they are relying on erroneous data. Improving this process is the most important step we can take to improve availability in rural areas.

We are in the midst of a digital revolution, and millions of rural Americans are being left behind. A closer look shows the problem isn't always money - it comes back to policy. Now is the time for lawmakers to think innovatively and act swiftly to ensure rural America isn't left out.

Boynton makes final pitch for school board

My name is Angie Boynton, Marion County School Board vice chairwoman and candidate for School Board District 4. I believe that my past and current experiences have prepared me to be your school board representative.

The most important responsibility of school boards is developing and adopting policies, curriculum and the budget, overseeing facilities issues, adopting collective bargaining agreements and working with our community to improve student achievement. My experiences are certified school board member, Mad Dad's finance director, chairwoman of the Board for PACE Center for Girls, tutor and my church. My other experiences include Marion County Citizen Academy, Ocala Police Citizens Academy and the Leadership Institute Campaign Training Course.

In my capacity as former Republican Executive Committee vice chairwoman, Florida Federation Republican Women - Board, member-at-large, National Federation of Republican Women Outreach Diversity Committee chair, Marion County School Board Race Relations Task Force Alternate and American Red Cross Advisory Board.

I represent Marion County on the Florida School Board Association, Board of Directors, Finance, Advocacy, Legislative and vice-chair Multicultural Diversity Committees.

I am a member, and hold credentials, from the National Associations of Tax Professionals, Florida Chapter of NATP, National Directory of Registered Tax Return Preparers & Professionals Ltd., National/Florida Associations of Notary Publics, Marion County Republican Party Precinct 004, Republican Federated Women's Ocala/Marion Club, and Florida First Student Task.

No student or adult should feel unsafe or unable to focus in school. I introduced several programs to reduce expulsions and alternative placement schools, with positive behavior modification: School Board Students Programs (drugs and alcohol and dating and sexual harassment).

I introduced and assured several School Board policies, School Board committees (parent involvement and balanced scorecard) and audited: finance budget, IEP schools and employee disciplinary guidelines.

Florida State Assessments has four schools in our county on the list as Turnaround Schools. If my child has a school scheduled to close or charter, the voice says our children are "slow to learn-poverty-non-discipline."

What about creating an innovative new elementary school for turnaround schools elementary as a single-sex school (all girls or all boys)?

It is important to provide children significant opportunities to receive a fair, equitable and protect against the flu, it may reduce the severity of symptoms and the risk of complications. According to the CDC, last year's record-breaking flu season resulted in 80,000 deaths in the United States, which is the highest number of deaths from the flu in over three decades.

People at higher risk for flu-related complications include children less than 5, adults over the age of 65, people with compromised immune systems, pregnant women and people who have existing medical conditions, such as asthma and obesity. Getting vaccinated if you are healthy helps to protect our most vulnerable populations.

Visit FluFreeFlorida.com for a flu shot locator, and visit www.floridahealth.gov/floridaflu for more information on influenza and influenza-like illness in Florida.

Appleton features Puerto Rican artists

The Appleton Museum of Art, College of Central Florida, will host a special event, "P.R.A.D.O. on the Patio," Friday, Nov. 9, 6-9 p.m.

This event is held in combination with the exhibition "La Diaspora: Keepers of Heritage," on view through Jan. 20, featuring work by members of Puerto Rican Arts Diaspora Orlando. This event is sponsored in part by Marion Cultural high-quality education, and to close educational achievement gap. There is differences how girls and boys learn.

Our students deserve to grow up in a society that takes their education seriously and build their character and developing self-confidence.

I will continue to use a commonsense approach for our community with all issues presented to the Board.

Thank you for supporting me.

My name is Angie Boynton, please vote for me on Nov. 6 for the Marion County School Board District 4.

Alliance.

Celebrate Puerto Rico and the arts at the Appleton with live music by Ritmo Latino and salsa dancing under the stars, led by the College of Central Florida's Salsa Club. The evening will be complemented by authentic Puerto Rican cuisine and traditional Puerto Rican beverages. Mix, mingle, or challenge your friends to a round of dominoes, corn hole or cards. Love dressing up? Don't be afraid to wear something festive!

Tickets are $20 for Appleton members and $25 for nonmembers and are limited.

Purchasing tickets in advance is strongly recommended. Tickets can be purchased online at www.AppletonMuseum.org or by phone; contact Griselle Gonzalez-Vazquez at 352-291-4455, ext. 1836.

Owned and operated by the College of Central Florida, the Appleton Museum of Art is located at 4333 E. Silver Springs Blvd., Ocala, east of downtown on SR 40 (exit 352 east off I-75 or exit 268 west off I-95). Parking is free.

For more information, call 352-291-4455 or visit AppletonMuseum.org.

Smith recognized by Florida Baptist Convention

Janet Smith, ESL director for College Road Baptist Church was recently recognized by the Florida Baptist Convention in Jacksonville where she was presented the 2018 Lillian Isaacs Ladle Award. The award has been given annually since 2006 and is named in memory of Dr. Lillian Isaacs who pioneered literacy missions for Southern Baptists. Smith founded the College Road Baptist Church ESL program in 2004. At the time, Florida had suffered a series of hurricanes in the region and College Road Baptist Church was responding to the workforce needs of the horse industry and local businesses. Approximately 950 students from 39 countries have come through the doors of CRBC. The ESL program is now in its 15th year.

Evaluating Medicare Benefits

Free, local service helps in reviewing your Medicare plan options for 2019

Did you know that those with Medicare health and drug plans can make changes each year—things like cost, coverage, drug formularies and which providers and pharmacies are in their networks? If you have been waiting to make changes to your Medicare Prescription Drug or Medicare Advantage plan, wait no more! The Open Enrollment Period (OEP) is the time to make any necessary adjustments to your plan to ensure that you have the best coverage complement your health needs for 2019.

SHINE is a program of the Florida Department of Elder Affairs and is operated locally through Elder Options.

Specially-trained SHINE counselors help educate and empower Medicare beneficiaries, their families, and caregivers to understand their health care options so they can make the best decisions for their individual needs. Reviewing benefits and evaluating health care options each year is vitally important for beneficiaries. For more information, please call 1-800-262-2243. For a listing of SHINE counseling sites and enrollment events, visit www.floridashine.org.
