Maier describes vision, role as superintendent

BY PATRICIA A. WOODBURY
Special to the Messenger

The American Association of University Women (AAUW), Ocala branch, were honored to have Dr. Heidi Maier, EdD, Superintendent of the Marion Public Schools come and speak to them on March 17 at the Marion County Public Library, Conference Room.

Dr. Maier was elected superintendent in August 2016 and is the first woman to have this position for many years. She received her Doctorate of Education in Child and Youth Studies from Nova Southeastern University, Fort Lauderdale. She previously served as an Assistant Professor at Barry University, Miami, and was a program specialist in the Office of Learning with the Florida Department of Education. Prior to becoming superintendent, Maier was the program manager of Teacher Education, associate professor of Early Childhood Education, and the University Center director at the College of Central Florida in Ocala.

In her capacity as superintendent, she directly oversees the daily operations of a school district with more than 43,000 students, over 7,000 employees, and 52 schools including 4 charter schools and two online programs. Dr. Maier's mission is very student focused. She believes that there needs to be less district resources and more resources in the schools. In Middle School she would like more female teachers to encourage girls to pursue STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) courses. In addition, she not only sees the importance of STEM but also STEAM, which includes the Arts. That is to say involvement in the arts is directly linked to cognitive ability, critical thinking, and verbal skills which lead to the development of self-confidence and self-esteem in the student. Her comment was "You can't be what you can't see!"

As most have heard, Dr. Maier eliminated the traditional homework. She

Gas prices climb, but then level off

Spring has sprung, and with that comes higher gas prices. Florida gas prices increased nearly 10 cents during the past week, but leveled off over the weekend. On average, pump prices climbed 15 cents in the last three weeks.

"Strong demand, tightening supplies, and record-high gasoline exports gave gas prices a boost this week," said Mark Jenkins, spokesman, AAA - The Auto Club Group. "Pump prices seemed to have stalled over the weekend, but there is still potential for higher prices this spring."

Motorists are spending 34 cents per gallon more than a year ago. Sunday's state average of $2.64 is just 3 cents below the highest price of 2018. Gas prices had the most expensive March in four years, averaging $2.54 for the entire month - an increase of 25 cents from March 2017.

• The most expensive gas price averages in Florida are in West Palm Beach-Boca Raton ($2.77), Crestview-Fort Walton Beach ($2.73), and Port St. Lucie ($2.72)

Eric Kearns show was a huge hit

An evening of food, fun, and fantastic entertainment was what the price of a ticket bought for those who were present for the first appearance in our community of a widely acclaimed entertainer. Eric Kearns put on a show that will long be remembered by those in the Fairfield Village Clubhouse on Saturday night, March 24.

The evening began with a delicious meal prepared by the Scarlet Ladies who sponsored both the dinner and the entertainment. A smiling group of ladies served pulled pork, chicken tenders, baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, hot rolls, and a variety of delicious cookies to over 100 people who came to have a good meal and a fun time together.

Certainly no one was disappointed because the meal was a big hit. As soon as the dishes were cleared away, Cathy Leady introduced the "man of the hour," Eric Kearns who immediately captivated everyone with his dynamic personality and amazing talent.

The audience spontaneously stood, clasped hands, and joined in as Eric Kearns ended his amazing performance with Lee Greenwood's "Proud to be an American."

Many performers imitate celebrities. Eric Kearns seems almost to become the character he is presenting. He does not use costumes or tricks; he uses his outstanding voice and physical movements to recreate for a moment someone the audience would immediately recognize. It was truly spellbinding!

What was so amazing about this one man show was that Kearns was able to present each different character in such a way that for a moment each audience member was able to call up a memory of having seen that performer and have the performance revisited for about 45 seconds within that person's

Spring has sprung a leak this year

It was in the middle of February during a very shivering cold time that the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage said most dramatically, "I can't wait for Spring. When in the world is Spring going to get here?"

As a veteran husband, I knew this was not a question for me to ponder or even to answer. Rather, it was something I needed to ignore completely. I learned these things down the years, which is why I have survived so many years. If silence is golden then I have reached those golden years of life.

I wouldn't say this to her, but I was thinking the same thing myself. When is Spring ever going to get here?

I was counting the days when it would be Spring and we could enjoy some graciously warm weather for a change. This weather has been stinking chilly for a long time and I was getting tired of it. I could tell my wife was getting tired of it too, but I didn't want to go in that direction with any kind of conversation. Sometimes the best thing to do is not do or say anything.

It was unusually cold here in Florida and I was tired of it. Personally, I was looking forward to Spring when things would automatically change and I could put away my sweater.

That magical day arrived. The day before my wife said, "Well, tomorrow is Spring and all this nasty, rainy, chilly weather will be over."

If only my wife was in charge of the weather. That would be a wonderful thing because the weather would be perfect every day. At least according to her calculation.

I remember when I tried to explain to her that we needed change in the weather and we needed rain in order for crops to grow, trees to grow and so forth. After my explanation she put both hands on her hips and stared at me one of those stares that I'm so familiar with. She didn't say anything, she didn't have to.

My wife has relatives up in the state of New York. Not New York City, thankfully. One of the things she enjoys doing during the winter time is to text them and tell them how wonderfully warm and sunny it is down here. This year, however, she wasn't able to do that.

When Spring did arrive, there was no magical change in the weather. In fact, it was the worst rainy weather we had all year. It was rainy and thundering and even in some places there were tornadoes. It didn't look or feel like Spring.

I didn't say anything all morning. I knew no matter what I would say it would get me in trouble. She wasn't in the mood for any joking or jesting on my part.

She didn't say much, but she sighed very deeply all morning long. Fortunately for me, I had work to do and so occupied myself with that work.

Isn't it strange that man, being who he thinks he is has no control of the weather? It rains when it rains and it snows when it snows and there's not a thing man can do about it.

The weatherman is a very strange individual. It doesn't matter if he gets the whether right or wrong, he still has a job. Nobody thinks badly of him because he miscalculated the weather.

Then my wife made a very interesting comment, "Why can't Mother Nature keep to the schedule at hand. Spring is supposed to be nice weather."

It was a good point. We have a date for Spring and Mother Nature should keep that date. We have all year long for rain and tornadoes and lightning and thundering why can't she organize her schedule a little better.

I might recommend that my wife take over the duties of Mother Nature. If anybody can organize anything, it's her. Well, she hasn't quite organized me, but that's a different story. But she can organize everything right down to the second.

If there was an opening for a new Mother Nature,

Out to Pastor
Rev. James Snyder

I think I would recommend my wife. I'm not sure she would have much competition there, and she would win hands down. Then we would have weather organized on a very strict schedule.

Under her supervision, we would have rain when it's scheduled and snow when it's scheduled. The sun would shine, without clouds, at least 90% of the time. I wanted to say 100%, but I'll give her a little leeway in this.

Thinking about this I have come to the conclusion that there are a lot of things in this world and also in my life that I cannot control. The frustration of life is when I try to control things that I can't control. Even though I know I can't control everything, at least I try. And I try to my own failure.

One of my favorite passages of Scripture is, "Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths" (Proverbs 3:5-6).

feels that worksheets, etc. do not have the academic outcomes that spending the time reading with the child do especially at the elementary level. She plans to have a new teacher mentoring program whereby the more experienced teachers work with them.

In regards to school safety, their motto is ALICE (Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Combat, and Evacuate). Dr. Maier believes that each teacher and class have to decide what is best for them to do in an emergency situation. Whatever they decide it is most important that they are not "sitting ducks" in a classroom. When there are threats on social media, the plan is to call every parent and alert them to that fact.

In regards to curriculum, Dr. Maier is pleased that the teachers can now recommend their choice of texts for the classroom beyond what the state recommends. She sees that the Reading curriculum is the weakest and needs to find more appropriated reading for young children. She also would like to see the History curriculum improved.

The Alternative Program for problem students plans to have a psychologist available before or after school to deal with self-esteem issues and see if they can contain the many expulsions of students. The Young Parent Program has improved the incidence of student graduation by providing a new building with better classroom arrangements and room for the babies.

Bunny Butt Cupcakes

Recipe courtesy of Amanda Rettke of "I am baker"

Prep time: 45 minutes

Cook time: 20 minutes

Servings: 24

- 1 2-layer size white cake mix
- 1 tablespoon, plus 2 teaspoons, McCormick Pure Lemon Extract, divided
- 1 tablespoon McCormick Pure Vanilla Extract
- 3/4 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 sticks butter, softened
- 16 ounces confectioners' sugar
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 10 drops McCormick Green Food Color
- 1-2 drops McCormick Red Food Color
- 12 large marshmallows, halved crosswise
- 3 tablespoons white nonpareil sprinkles

Prepare cake mix as directed on package, adding 1 tablespoon lemon extract and vanilla. Spoon 3 tablespoons batter into 24 paper-lined muffin cups. Bake as directed on package for cupcakes. Cool cupcakes on wire rack.

To make bunny feet: In medium, microwave-safe bowl, microwave white chocolate chips on high 30 seconds. Stir until completely melted and smooth. Spoon into pastry bag or re-sealable plastic bag. Snip small corner from bag. Pipe 24 pairs of bunny feet onto parchment or wax paper-lined cookie sheet. Use toothpick to smooth out bumps or rough edges, and gently tap cookie sheet on counter to help settle. Allow to harden 2 minutes in freezer or 15 minutes in refrigerator.

To make frosting: In large bowl, beat butter and remaining lemon extract until light and fluffy. Gradually add confectioners' sugar, beating well after each addition and scraping sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Add milk; beat until light and fluffy. Remove half the frosting and place in medium bowl. Add green food color; mix until evenly blended. Spoon into pastry bag fitted with grass decorating tip. Set aside. Remove half the remaining frosting into small bowl. Add red food color; mix until light pink. Spoon into another pastry bag.

Using pink frosting, pipe three toes and padding on each bunny foot. Once frosting has set (about 1 hour) gently press down on pink frosting to create smoother look.

To assemble cupcakes: Pipe green frosting onto each cupcake in series of short motions to create individual grass spots. Cover top of each cupcake completely.

To make bunny butts: Place cut sides of marshmallow halves onto each frosted cupcake, leaving room for bunny feet. Shape remaining white frosting into dime-sized balls then roll with white sprinkles to cover. Pipe small drop of remaining pink or white frosting onto top of each marshmallow. Press bunny tail on top.

Place both bunny feet against base of marshmallow with toes facing down.

The Red Hot Fillies of QM enjoyed lunch at Sammy's in Jasmine Square last week. It was a "farewell" lunch honoring Dottie Hefferon who is leaving our area. Dottie has been a driving force for our group and she will be missed. Dottie is returning to Georgia, but we know she will be back to visit. Good Luck, Dottie, in your new home.

A big "Thank you" to Sandy Ezell for all the work she has done over the past several years putting together the Quail Meadow Reporter. This is our monthly newspaper relating the news of the community. Sandy has found it necessary to give up this task. By the way, this is a voluntary job! Due to this loss of Sandy's volunteer work, we are in need of someone to take over this project. This is a monthly task. If you would like to help out in this, please contact one of the QMPOA Board members.

This is the first week of April, so you know what that means: First Friday gathering at the Clubhouse this Friday. Come join your neighbors and friends for an evening of fellowship and fun. Just bring your snacks and beverages. Remember there will be a fifty/fifty drawing.

It's time to clean out closets, garages, junk rooms, etc. - the Quail Meadow Spring Yard Sale is this Saturday, April 7. In case of rain, the sale will be on the 8th.

Sunday was April 1; also known as April Fool's Day. Do you remember pulling pranks on your family and friends on this day? In researching the history of this day, I found there is no definite history of the origin of this day. The earliest mention of this tradition is in France in 1582. Prior to this date the New Year was celebrated for 8 days, beginning on March 25. The celebration culminated on April 1. When Charles IX had the calendar changed, the Gregorian Calendar was introduced and New Year's Day was moved to January 1st.

St. Joseph's Table

The new Italian-American Club recently invited members to participate in a St. Joseph's table. San Giuseppe or St. Joseph has a very distinctive role in the spiritual lives of Catholics as he was the husband of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of Jesus. He is also the patron saint of carpenters and social justice. His feast day is March 19.

There was a severe drought and subsequent famine in Sicily during the Middle Ages. The people of Sicily prayed to St. Joseph. St. Joseph holds a special place in the hearts and souls of Italians and Italian Americans. During this time, they prayed to their patron saint to bring them rain, promising a feast of devotion if their prayers were answered. The rain came and the famine was averted. After that time, a large banquet was prepared in honor of St. Joseph. The crop that was saved during the famine was the fava bean. This fava bean is always a prominent part of the table along with intricately detailed breads and pastries. It has become a day of sharing food with the poor. At the end

However, news did not travel very fast during this time, so many people were not aware of the new calendar, or either they were so stubborn they just refused to accept it. These "backward" folk were labeled as "fools". They were subjected to ridicule and often sent on "fools errands", and were the butt of other practical jokes. Over time this tradition of prank-playing on the first of April spread to England and Scotland; later to the American colonies. April Fool's Day is a "for fun only" holiday - no businesses close, but a day you must be vigilant, or you may be the next April Fool! Remember the words of Mark Twain: "It's better to keep your mouth shut and be thought a fool than to open it and leave no doubt."

of the meal, every guest is given something to take home. It is often fava beans which to this day represents good luck to the people of Sicily.

The members supplied food for their first St. Joseph's table. There were Italian cookies, Anise cookies, Regina cookies Amaretto cookies, Italian Rainbow cookies. Other desserts were Tiramisu, Cannoli, Limoncello cake, Pizzelle & Ice Cream, assorted pastries like crême-filled Sfingi or Zeppole.

Equal Pay Day to be April 10

BY PATRICIA A. WOODBURY
Special to the Messenger

Have you heard of Equal Pay Day? It occurs on April 10 this year. It is a symbolic day when women's pay finally catches up to the wages men took home the previous year. The date represents the fact that women working full time, year-round in the United States typically are paid just 80 percent of what men are paid, or a gap of 20 percent.

Typically, women who work full time take home about 80 cents for every dollar a full-time male worker earns. Over a career (47 years), women's total earnings loss compared with men are $700,000 for a high school graduate, $1.2 million for a college graduate, and $2 million for a professional school graduate.

The pay gap persists across all racial and ethnic groups and is found in every state. Incomes among women, especially those who are underserved, are considerably lower than their male counterpart. Hispanic women face the greatest gap, earning about 55 cents compared with a Caucasian male.

Missing 20 percent or more of a paycheck is a hard hit. Think about how that loss of wages adds up over a lifetime, and we are talking about losing a substantial amount of change—change that could have greatly aided women and their families. The pay gap is closing but at a glacial pace. At the current rate, women will not achieve equal pay until 2152. Women and families cannot afford to wait that long, nor can we risk rolling back the progress that has been made on equal pay.

In 1955 the American Association of University Women (AAUW) supported a bill introduced by Representatives Edith Green (D-OR) and Edith Rogers (R-MA) requiring "equal pay for work of comparable value requiring comparable skills." Congress finally enacted the Equal Pay Act, a version of the 1955 bill, in 1963. This year Representative Eleanor Holmes Norton (D-DC) sponsored the Fair Pay Act of 2017-2018 in the current legislative session to amend the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 to prohibit discrimination in the payment of wages on account of sex, race, or national origin, and for other purposes.

In addition, in Florida, a bill was filed last year entitled the "Senator Helen Gordon Davis Fair Pay Protection Act." This bill was meant to prohibit an employer from providing less favorable employment opportunities to employees based on their sex, regarding their wages and benefits or to require them to sign certain waivers and

Technology may be our worst enemy

The greatest threat to the well-being of Americans isn't an assault rifle. It isn't ISIS. It isn't even Donald Trump or Nancy Pelosi.

There isn't a day that goes by without a reference to hacking, whereby outsiders are trying to take over our elections, or our government, or our personal data.

Been a victim of identity theft yet? Just wait your turn. Eventually, you will be.

Last week, I received two phone calls. The caller ID said one was from Bitting's Pharmacy, the other from Lowe's. In each case, the caller ID was false.

One was from the woman from whom I've heard ad nauseam: "I'd like to talk to you about your credit card account." The other was the foreigner who said I had a problem with my computer.

I hung up each time.

They tell you not to answer if you don't recognize the number. But in each case the ID said it was from a local business.

It's called spoofing.

What I want to know is, if we want our government to protect us against foreign involvement in our elections or other calamitous cyber attacks, shouldn't our government be able to protect us against the unscrupulous phone scammers who prey upon us unmercifully?

And then there's Facebook.

Your biggest enemy on Facebook is ... Facebook.

Jim Clark
Editor

It's probably too late for many of you, even those who do only the basics, to save yourselves from the pitfalls of Facebook.

If you're on my friends list, you'll probably be shocked when Facebook tells you it's my birthday. But that's because when all this Facebook stuff broke, I changed my birthdate to something totally false. I realized early on that it was silly to have my real birthdate listed, so I changed it.

Of course, if everyone does that, I wouldn't remember anyone's birthday, but so be it.

I'm also changing a lot of my other personal information, too, so none of that will be accurate either.

There's also Twitter, but that really doesn't matter since all I do is read other people's stuff.

Oh, and I don't go on Snapchat or Instagram or others, so looking for me there is a waste of time.

So if you really want to find out anything about me, just pick up the phone and call me. I'm in the book, I think. Oh wait, my cell isn't listed.

Remember MLK 50 years later

BY DR. GARY S. SMITH
Special to the Messenger

Fifty years ago, on April 4, 1968, Martin Luther King, Jr. was killed when he stepped from his second-floor hotel room at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, to speak to Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) colleagues standing in the parking lot below. An assassin's bullet ended the life of the 39-year-old activist who had helped advance the cause of African-American rights more in 14 years than it had progressed in the previous 350 years.

King's life and legacy are remarkable. His shrewd strategy of non-violent protest, charismatic personality, electrifying speaking ability, and soaring words mobilized the black community, challenged centuries of oppression, and changed America. Inspired by his faith, the Baptist minister helped direct the Montgomery Bus boycott initiated by Rosa Parks in 1955, helped found and led the SCLC, organized numerous marches and sit-ins, and penned five books. His 1963 "Letter from the Birmingham Jail" and "I Have a Dream" speech delivered to 250,000 people at the National Mall in Washington, D.C. in August 1963 detailed the plight of America's blacks and helped reduced racial discrimination. His sermon "I've Been to the Mountaintop," preached at the Mason Temple in Memphis, the headquarters of the Church of God in Christ, the night before his death ranks with John Winthrop's "A Model of Christian Charity" and Jonathan Edwards' "Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God" as among America's most famous.

King had initially planned to speak at Williston Senior High School in Wilmington, North Carolina, on April 4 to support Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and civil rights advocate, who was the first African-American gubernatorial candidate in the state's history. King then planned to stump in other North Carolina cities on Hawkins' behalf. Instead King decided to stay in Memphis to support the strike of predominantly black sanitation workers who were protesting their low wages and deplorable working conditions. There he declared in his April 3 sermon, perhaps having a premonition of his death, and paraphrasing Moses, "[God has] allowed me to go up to the mountain. And I've looked over. And I've seen the promised land. I may not get there with you."

On April 5, about 200 black Williston students peacefully marched to the downtown New Hanover County Courthouse to hold a prayer service in memory of King. Another group of students went to nearby New Hanover High School to demand that the white school's American flag be lowered to half-mast.

Enraged by King's murder, blacks throughout the nation rioted. Violence erupted in more than 100 cities, killing 40 people and causing extensive property damage. One hundred thousand soldiers and national guardsmen joined local police to battle arsonists, looters, and snipers; thousands of people were arrested.

GO FIGURE! by Linda Thistle

The variety of the characters and the range of personalities and performances were almost unbelievable. Kearns recreated Louis Armstrong (Satchmo), Tom Jones, Kenny Rogers, Glen Campbell, Johnny Mathis, Jimmy Durante, Frankie Avalon, Sammie Davis Jr., Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, Barry Manilow and many, many others. And then, mixed in, he amazed the audience by presenting his portrayal of female singers like Etta James and Cher. The drastic change was remarkable.

The "unusual" performer who drew much attention was Kermit the Frog. Had I not known better, I would have sworn that the little green fella was right there in the FFV Clubhouse. It was hysterical.

All during the performance, the audience was participating with clapping to the beat of the music, singing along, responding to songs, and just having a joyful time joining in. There has not been so much rollicking sound coming from the Clubhouse in my memory.

The finale had the audience on their feet with hands in the air in genuine emotion. Kearns chose to conclude with Lee Greenwood's "Proud to be an American." With patriotic enthusiasm, the audience spontaneously joined in, clasped hands, and sang with Kearns.

There were those with smiles, but there were also those with tears of joy. It was a terrific conclusion to a night of outstanding entertainment with something to please everyone.

After the show, many from the audience wanted to speak with Kearns and tell him personally how much they enjoyed his unique performance. Standing off to the side, I heard comments like, "Fantastic!" "So entertaining." "You took me back years to the times I saw these performers in person." "Loved everything you did." "You made my week!" "It was great! I went back in time." "Thanks so much for including us in your tour. Please come back again."

I was fortunate to be able to interview Kearns as he put his musical equipment. Like I said, earlier, he is really a "one man show" even to set up and break down of his equipment.

Kearns told me that he is from Allentown, Pennsylvania, and takes his show on the road up and down the east coast usually for only a few days at a time. He has a working wife and a young son in school back in Allentown so he "commutes" as much as possible often playing in some of the most popular casinos along the Eastern coast

Special note!!

The collection of items for sale will be exceptional and will include everything from housewares and furniture to personal items and clothing.

There will be baked goods for sale each day along with hot dogs from the grill, potato chips, and drinks on Saturday.

documents. Unfortunately this bill has remained in Committee.

The Ocala branch of the AAUW in honor of Equal Pay Day, April 10, are encouraging our two federal senators and three representatives to support the Fair Pay Act of 2017-2018 by getting this critical law passed. They are also asking the Florida two senators and three representatives to assist in getting the Helen Gordon Davis Act for Fair Pay out of Committee and on to the floor for a vote. To provide a further incentive as well as a visual reminder each of these legislators were sent a letter of encouragement and a "Pay Day" candy bar to enjoy.

Job creation and economic opportunity are critical issues for women, many of whom continue to struggle with economic insecurity and wage discrimination. AAUW will continue to advocate for strong pay equity legislation, regulation, and enforcement to protect employees and assist employers.
