Special awareness brought to genetic skin condition

Tiny kids, big hearts

Epidermolysis Bullosa (EB). If you think pronouncing it is a lot to handle, try living with it.

Babies born with this genetic condition have skin that is so delicate and fragile that any type of friction can cause severe blistering, outside and inside the body.

It is extremely painful and there is no cure.

The only treatment is daily wound care and bandaging.

It also carries a severe stigma. Children with the condition suffer stares and shunning by other kids and even adults who do not understand it.

Two area children, Corbyn and Novie Kohutek, and their family live with the daily stress of EB. At just 12 and 11, respectively, Corbyn and Novie have a message for the bigger world: We may look a little different but we're just like you.

The kids live in LaBelle, but their mom, Myra Johnson, grew up in Immokalee, Her dad, Pedro Gonzales, and grandmother, Aurelia, still live here.

When the two were small, their arms and legs had to be bandaged nightly. Their outside activities have to be curtailed.

Both children are small for their age and delicate looking, but their smiles are just as engaging as anyone's.

Corbyn and Novie have been in public school but this year have begun virtual school five hours a day- and they're very happy with it.

Of course, Corbyn likes being able to get up when he wants to - don't we all - but he gets very serious when he says that kids stare and that makes him uncomfortable, but it's even worse when adults stare.

And continue to stare.

"I'd like to tell them I was born with a rare skin disorder. I'm just like you," he said.

Both can still go to LMS school dances, games and participate in clubs. Corbyn would like to be in FBLA. He doesn't like to read but he loves math and video games. Novie is the exact opposite. She's an avid reader and is currently working her way through the Harry Potter series.

Corbyn's the shy one; Novie is more outgoing

Both kids love drama and have been on stage with the Firehouse Players in LaBelle numerous times, including the theater's summer production of Big Bad Musical. Corbyn was in the LMS production of Dog Brain last year.

Tiny Novie has an amazing singing voice and won the LeHigh Spring Festival competition last year - $200 and a trophy. Next year she won't compete but will be part of the entertainment.

Both enjoy karaoke at American Legion Post 130 where mom is the new Commander and dad is the Sons of the Legion Sgt. at Arms. Corbyn is the youngest member of the SAL and Novie is in the Junior Auxiliary.

At the post they talk to older people and also help with the Friday night fish fry.

Novie explained that they're "fragile like butterfly wings" and it hurts when someone grabs them. And that's not all that hurts. She wants people to know that, "We're disabled, not stupid." Sometimes people's reaction to them leaves the kids with that impression.

Like all kids, they have dreams. Novie wants to be a singer or a chef and Corbyn has his heart set on becoming a video game tester.

Novie said the coolest part of her is her heart; Corbyn said it's his stomach.

He said that, when people stare, he sometimes touches them and says "Now you've got it! They freak out!" It's not true, and maybe not nice, but then, staring isn't nice either.

Novie says that Angela Drapal, who works at the Legion Post is the nicest to them. She's their "second mom" and "she doesn't look at me like other people do."

Corbyn said their older brother Bryce is nicest to him because he makes him food. (Well, he did say his coolest part was his stomach.)

They also have an older sister, Allyssa, who just left for college.

Corbyn and Novie's dad, Richard, says philosophically, "We have good and bad days" but it's not as difficult as it was when they were younger.

He said families like theirs have a great asset in the Dystrophic Epidermolysis Bullosa Research Association of America (DEBRA), a national nonprofit organization that funds research for treatment and eventually a cure. It also provides direct services and support for EB patients and their families.

Through DEBRA they met other parents with these special children. Myra said it's "the best place to learn about the condition and how to deal with it." You can find information at www.Debra.org or 212-868-1573.

During EB Awareness Week October 25-31, Corbyn and Novie have a message. Don't treat them different because they're not - not in any important way.

Free session on financial aid and college funding for Collier seniors

Collier County high school juniors and seniors and parents are invited to attend an Education Foundation—Champions For Learning™ Real World University event, College Funding & Staying On Track, on Saturday, Oct. 27 (1:15 – 4 pm) at the Waldorf Astoria Naples. This important informational event is open to Collier County juniors and seniors and one (1) parent. This is a free event, but space is limited and pre-registration is required. Visit www.ChampionsForLearning.org to register or call 239-643-4755. Registration is at 12:45-1:15 and the program is at 1:15-4 pm.

This two-part session will focus on the financial aid process, including FAFSA, Bright Futures Scholarships, and Grants. In addition, both state and local resources will be shared to help seniors ensure that they are on the right track for post-graduation success. Featured speakers include Pedro Hernandez and Lori Auxier of the Florida Department of Education Office of Student Financial Assistance, along with Chris Smith, Secondary School Counseling for the Collier County Public Schools, and other local speakers.

To learn more, call Champions For Learning at 239.643.4755 or visit www.ChampionsForLearning.org.

Unnecessary Allegiance

Arresting and deporting undocumented criminals under the 287G Program is what Collier County Sheriff Kevin Rambosk considers a success. The question now is how many of the 4,500 unauthorized held for deportation, have been deported as criminals?

We need to know this number in order to determine if the sheriff and I.C.E. are justified in cooperating for the overall benefit of our area. In other words, is breaking up families, putting their children into foster homes, paying for detention of thousands of immigrants and removing workers from our communities already high unemployment numbers worth it?

Why not just deport the criminals and let I.C.E. do what I.C.E. does without the help of 287G on the rest of the undocumented?

Local groups that support children, local businesses and county officials should not stand by and allow one man, Sheriff Rambosk, to cause such a negative effect on our community and create a trail of tears in our backyard.

Relay For Life

Dear Friends,

The Fight against Cancer goes on. There is no one I know who can say they DO NOT have a friend or relative that has battled this terrible disease. I have found a way to fight against cancer, through the American Cancer Society's Relay For Life.

Relay For Life is a team event that celebrates cancer survivors, and raises funds to support the mission of the American Cancer Society which is to eliminate cancer through research, education, advocacy and patient services. It is a fun, outdoor and overnight fundraising event where teams take turns walking or running around the Immokalee High School track. Millions of people take part in Relay For Life events around the country and it is the largest fundraising movement in the world. Since the movement was founded in 1985, it has raised over $4.5 billion.

How can you help?

You can support me the Fundraising Committee chair of Immokalee by making a tax-deductible contribution to the American Cancer Society. I would like to make it a fun-filled event. I am inviting you to put together a co-ed softball team and join us in a friendly double elimination softball tournament. It will consist of six local teams; each team will have a minimum of twelve players. The entrance fee is a $425 donation to the American Cancer Society - will include trophy to the winning team(s) and will include team shirts. The tentative tournament date is Saturday, January 19, 2013 at 8am at the Immokalee Softball Field. To ensure a spot in the tournament, please send your donation as soon as possible. All proceeds will be given to the Relay for Life event that will take place at Immokalee High School on March 22, 2013 the event starts at 1:30 p.m. Visit our website for more information: relayforlife.org/Immokaleefl. You can send your donation(s) payable to the American Cancer Society, 701 Immokalee Drive Immokalee, FL 34142.

Additionally, you may purchase a lumina-ria to honor someone fighting cancer or in remembrance of someone who has lost their battle with cancer. Please complete the form at the end of this letter and send it back to me, along with a $5 donation. Feel free to purchase as many as you would like. The votes burn throughout the night, serving as a reminder of the purpose of Relay For Life. Relay For Life represents the hope that those lost to cancer will never be forgotten, that those who face cancer will be supported and that one day cancer will be eliminated.

Thanks in advance for your thoughtfulness and generosity!

Sincerely,
Tabitha Campbell

Learning English is a 'Snap' with 'Passport to America'

cial show focused on the various summer educational activities that'll keep learning alive for you and your child.

There are nine new TV shows being produced this school year. We've tried to make watching Passport to America as easy as possible, putting it on TV at 5:30 p.m. seven days each week, on

If you have a student in your family who is an English Language Learner, you'll be happy to know that you have an opportunity each afternoon to learn what the Collier County Public Schools' English Language Learners program is all about. There is actually a TV show you can watch that's chock full of the information you need to help your child. It's called Passport to America and the good news is that the information that's shared on the show can be viewed and listened to in three languages: English, Spanish, and Creole.

Topics cover just about every aspect of school and home life for students who are English Language Learners – everything from info about the services offered to you by the school district's English Language Learners program, to help with writing, reading, math, and science for you and your child. You will also learn how to improve your child's vocabulary, plus we'll share some tips that should help you when navigating the school district's website and especially the very useful Parents K-12 information found there. We'll tell you more about Parents K-12 here in our Students First column next week. Then toward the end of the school year, there will be a spe-

The Education Channel, Comcast cable 99, and online on the World Wide Web at www.collierschools.com.

Even if you aren't able to watch when the show is actually on TV or is being streamed online, we have what we call "Webisodes" of Passport to America stored for you to watch at your convenience on our Web site – again at www.collierschools.com. Just click on The Education Channel icon on our home page, go to The Videos on Demand menu item near the top of the page to get to the Webisodes. Then click on the Passport to America icon to pick a topic of interest.

Now if there is no one in your home who is able to read to your child in the evening, or on those evenings when you just don't have the time, the Storytime TV read aloud show (with its guest readers) will read to your child for you. Storytime is on TV at 7 p.m. each evening Monday thru Sunday, at it is on at 7 a.m. and again at 12 p.m. each day, Monday thru Friday, and a two and a half hour Storytime marathon is on the air beginning at 8 a.m. on Saturdays. This show too is on The Education Channel, which we like to call "Your Window to Education."

Daughter of migrants takes key job

RCMA welcomes Isabel Garcia

By Bill Coats
Special to the Immokalee Bulletin

Isabel Garcia

who announced the appointment at an RCMA management meeting in Tampa. "She is a perfect example of what we believe in, growing leadership from within the communities we serve. I have total confidence in her capabilities!"

Within RCMA, Garcia is an important symbol.

Isabel Garcia grew up traveling from harvest to harvest with her family. There were oranges in Florida, peaches in Maryland and tobacco in North Carolina. Garcia began working in produce packing houses in her early teens.

Then, school changed her life. During Garcia's senior year at Hardee Senior High School, she joined Redlands Christian Migrant Association as an after-school teacher. She never left.

On Tuesday, the daughter of migrant farmworkers ascended to the second highest job among RCMA's 1,800 employees, responsible for the nonprofit organization's 71 child care centers and most of its ancillary programs.

Garcia, 42, was named RCMA's new Associate Executive Director, replacing Leslie Moguil, who is leaving RCMA for a similar position in Oregon.

Garcia lives in her home town of Bowling Green with her husband and three children. She previously was RCMA's Director of Program Quality. She has been a leader at RCMA since she was placed in charge of a child-care center at age 21.

"I have known Isabel for most of her life," said Executive Director Barbara Mainster,

In its earliest years – in the Redlands labor camp in south Miami-Dade County – RCMA struggled to win the trust of farmworkers, who were shunning the new child care centers and taking their toddlers into the fields as they worked. That changed dramatically when RCMA hired young mothers to leave the fields and work in the child care centers.

Ever since, RCMA has recruited staff with backgrounds similar to the low-income families RCMA serves. They receive extensive training, and are encouraged to undertake college. They are supported in each center by an early childhood development expert hired without regard to family background.

RCMA, meanwhile, has expanded into farming communities in 21 Florida counties. It is an acclaimed provider for the federal Migrant and Seasonal Head Start program.

"This is a huge honor, and a challenge, for me," Garcia said. "RCMA is always changing, but one thing stays the same: We do everything we can to help families. We provide excellent education to children in the early years when it counts the most. That's my inspiration."

The dangers of drunk driving were taught in a whole new and exciting but controlled way at an activity using of all things - go carts! Students put on their impairment or "drunk" goggles that simulated impaired driving. Students even had to submit to a field sobriety test, walking the line and counting to nine in reverse.

SIDNE - first time in five years

Dr. Jane Ruprecht, counselor
Special to the Immokalee Bulletin

ences!!
*SIDNE stands for Simulated Impaired Driving Experience.

Red ribbon week is coming and as a preview Collier County's YRD program sponsored two exciting activities with students in the New Beginnings Immokalee program. Students had the opportunity last week to participate in a program that teaches about drunk driving in a controlled way. First Deputy Arnold had students don special goggles that simulate being impaired. They are asked to walk a line, count to nine, and pivot and walk back on the line. Few are able to do these small tasks. This is a role play of the actual "Field Sobriety Test" drivers are required to do when stopped for being under the influence.

As a second lesson, Deputy Arnold brought SIDNE - a Go-kart, which students drove on a controlled course. This Go-kart has a remote control switch that simulates drunk or impaired driving. Under this mode, students have a hard time controlling the vehicle, thus simulating the effects of impaired driving. (Deputy Arnold also has a stop switch for safety purposes). Students were amazed at how quickly they lost control and were not able to steer the vehicle properly, causing them to "crash" into cones or curbs. A great discussion was held about the many distractions drivers face, especially texting, talking on the phone, playing with the radio, putting on make-up or playing with iPods.

This was a great simulation of real life issues related to drunk or impaired driving but in a controlled environment. Our many thanks to Deputy Arnold and the Collier County Sheriff's Department for providing these potentially "Life Saving" reality experi-

4-Hers visit state capitol

By Richard Rice
Special to the Immokalee Bulletin

Immokalee 4-Hers already know what Tallahassee and Florida government look like.

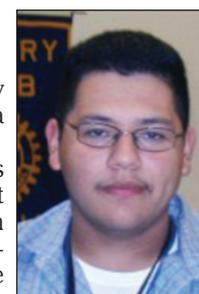

Jose Cano spoke to Rotarians on October 17th, at i-Tech about his experience. Jose, along with two other Collier County's 4-H delegation, had the opportunity to be a part of 4H Legislative Experience in our State capitol.

Last year, Jose and Hadley Rhau of Immokalee, and Emily Glazier from the Estero club spent a week in Tallahassee learning about how the state government runs.

They stayed in the dorms at Florida State University, giving them a taste of college life, for four nights. During the day they were at the Capitol working at their various positions. In the evening they had the opportunity to interact with youth from all over the state.

"I had the pleasure of serving as a Senator", Jose said, and really enjoyed the chance to develop debating skills, to analyze legislation, and to speak publicly; all the while making new friends and having a lot of fun.

"At this annual civic education event, we acted just like elected officials, and were able to sponsor a bill, amend, or lobby it", Jose said. "Then we were able to debate the issues on both the House and Senate floors", he added. In response to a question from a Rotarian as to how many of his bills passed, Jose responded proudly, ... "all."

4-H is the nation's largest youth development organization. Over 230,000 members in the State of Florida help to make up the community of more than 6.5 million young people across America. 4H is a non-formal, practical educational program for youth. Florida 4-H is the youth development program of Florida Cooperative Extension, a part of the University of Florida IFAS. Robert Halman, a member of the Immokalee Rotary club, is on the staff at the County Extension office. Tish Roland is the 4-H county leader and was responsible for bringing Jose to speak. For more information about 4-H or to arrange for presentations, contact Tish at troland@ufl.edu.

The Rotary Club of Immokalee meets at i-Tech each Wednesday at Noon. Rotary International 2012-13 Theme is "Peace through Service." The 4-H Pledge lists service as one of its main principles.

NOTICE

Independent Newspapers will never accept any advertisement that is illegal or considered fraudulent. In all cases of questionable value, such as promises of guaranteed income from work-at-home programs - if it sounds too good to be true, chances are that it is. If you have questions or doubts about any ad on these pages, we advise that before responding or sending money ahead of time, you check with the Better Business Bureau at 772-878-2010 for previous complaints.

Some 800 and 900 telephone numbers may require an extra charge, as well as long distance toll costs. We will do our best to alert our reader of these charges in the ads, but occasionally we may not be aware of the charges. Therefore, if you call a number out of your area, use caution.

The CAPER is comprised of statistical and financial statements, narratives and maps describing activities carried out during the 2011-2012 program year. Approximately $2,114,463 in CDBG funds, $662,126 in HOME funds and $94,611 in ESG funds were available to carry out activities in 2011-2012. All CDBG, HOME and ESG funded activities were located within Collier County.

Public Comment Period
Copies of the CAPER will be available at all of the Collier County public libraries as well as the Collier County Housing, Human & Veteran Services Department, 3339 E. Tamiami Trail, Suite 211, Naples FL 34112 during the public comment period. The public is invited to review the CAPER and submit written comments to the Collier County Housing, Human & Veteran Services Department no later than November 13, 2012. The CAPER, including a summary of public comments received, will be sent to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development prior to December 28, 2012. If any hearing/visually impaired, disabled or non-English speaking persons require assistance to review the CAPER, please contact the Collier County Housing, Human & Veteran Services Department at (239) 252-4663.

Public Hearing
The CAPER will be presented to the Board of County Commissioners at its regularly scheduled meeting on December 11, 2012. The BCC meeting will be held at 9:00 a.m. on the 3rd floor of the Harmon Turner Building at 3299 East Tamiami Trail.

If you require special aid or services as addressed in the Americans with Disabilities Act or require someone to translate or sign, please contact the Collier County Housing, Human & Veteran Services Department at (239) 252-4663, no later than two (2) business days prior to the Board meeting date.

NOTICIA DE LA DISPONIBILIDAD PARA LA REVISIÓN DEL REPORTE CONSOLIDADO DE DESEMPEÑO Y EVALUACIÓN PARA EL AÑO FISCAL 2011-2012 DEL PROGRAMA DE SUBSIDIOS GLOBALES PARA EL DESARROLLO COMUNITARIO (CDBG), DEL PROGRAMA DE ASOCIACIÓN PARA INVERSIONES EN VIVIENDA (HOME), Y DEL PROGRAMA DE SUBSIDIOS PARA ASISTENCIA Y REFUGIOS DE EMERGENCIA (ESG)

El reporte Consolidado de Desempeño y Evaluación Anual (CAPER) para el Año 2011-2012 del programa de Subsidios Globales para el Desarrollo Comunitario (CDBG), del Programa de Asociación para Inversiones en Vivienda (HOME), y del Programa de Subsidios para Asistencia y Refugios de Emergencia (ESG), está disponible para revisión y comentario público durante el periodo 29 de Octubre hasta el 13 de Noviembre 2012.

El reporte CAPER consta con estados financieros y estadísticos, narrativos y mapas que describen las actividades que fueron llevadas a cabo durante el Programa del Año 2011-2012. Aproximadamente $2,114,463 en fondos del programa CDBG, $662,126 en fondos del programa de HOME y $94,611 en fondos del programa de ESG fueron disponibles para llevar a cabo actividades en el año 2011-2012. Todas las actividades que fueron suministradas con fondos de los programas CDBG, HOME, y ESG estaban localizadas dentro del Condado Urbano Collier.

Periodo de Comentario Público
Copias del reporte CAPER están disponibles en las bibliotecas del Condado de Collier y también en el Departamento de Vivienda, Servicios Humanos y Veteranos del Condado de Collier (Housing, Human & Veteran Services Department), 3339 E. Tamiami Trail, Suite 211, Naples, FL 34112. Invitamos al público a revisar el reporte CAPER y a someter comentarios por escrito al Departamento de Vivienda, Servicios Humanos y Veteranos del Condado de Collier durante el periodo de revisión que terminará el 13 de Noviembre del 2012. Se incluirá un resumen de los comentarios públicos recibidos con el reporte CAPER y será enviado al Departamento de Vivienda y Desarrollo Urbano de EE.UU. antes de Diciembre 28, 2012. Si alguna persona incapacitada, con problemas audio/visual, o que no habla inglés requiere asistencia para revisar el reporte CAPER, por favor llámame al Departamento de Vivienda, y Servicios Humanos y Veteranos del Condado de Collier al número (239) 252-4663.

Audiencia Pública
El reporte CAPER será presentado a los Comisionados del Condado (Board of County Commissioners) en su horario regular de junta el 11 de Diciembre 2012. Most haunting disguise of the year goes to candy-flavored tobacco

-Tantalizing flavors, bright packaging and scheming marketing campaigns target young people while masking the harmful effects of tobacco use-

Don't be fooled by the most dangerous disguise of them all. The emergence of new candy-flavored tobacco products has parents, teachers, health advocates, physicians and communities rightly concerned. Cigarillos, cigars and a host of smokeless tobacco products - chew, snuff, snus, and dissolvable tobacco - now come in such tantalizing flavors as pineapple, orange, sour apple and chocolate. They are presented in bright and playful packaging and readily available at convenience stores throughout the state, much like Halloween candy.

These products have been proven to entice young audiences. With 90% of adult smokers beginning before the age of 18, studies have shown that flavored tobacco products such as cherry, peach and watermelon are marketed and produced as a way to entice youth and young adults into becoming Big Tobacco's next customers. "It's absolutely disgusting the way tobacco companies market to our children," said Daniel Hall Students Working Against Tobacco (SWAT) Advisor at CypressPalmMiddle School. "We need for people to be aware of this style of marketing so we can prevent our kids from starting out on a lifetime of addiction to tobacco."

According to the 2012 Florida Youth Tobacco Survey, 8% of Collier youth ages 11-17 have smoked cigars on one or more of the past 30 days, while 2.6% have used smokeless tobacco. Youth have always been an essential target for the tobacco industry. Numerous internal tobacco industry documents reveal that the companies perceive kids as a key market, and develop products and advertising campaigns aimed at them. With traditional smoking rates on the decline in the U.S., the tobacco industry insures its livelihood by creating products and strategies that connect with a new generation of tobacco users.

Some youth believe the misconception that flavored products are safer than non-flavored products, but in reality, these products contain more nicotine than cigarettes,[i] and 28 cancer-causing agents (carcinogens),[ii] including nitrosamines, which are the most harmful.[iii] In addition, people who experiment with smokeless tobacco often develop a pattern of regular daily use.[iv] Fortunately, the onslaught of flavored tobacco products has not gone unnoticed. The controversial candy-flavored cigarette was banned under the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Action 2009. However, menthol cigarettes, flavored cigars, cigarillos and smokeless products were not included. [v],[vi] Today, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is examining options for regulating these remaining categories of flavored tobacco products. Many municipalities throughout the state of Florida have taken on candy-flavored tobacco head-on. Collier County Commissioners, as well as the City of Naples and EvergladesCity have passed resolutions urging local vendors to cease the sale and marketing of all candy-flavored tobacco products.

If you are looking to quit or would like to encourage someone to stop using candy-flavored tobacco, Tobacco Free Florida can help. Tobacco Free Florida offers a number of free and convenient resources to help all tobacco users quit.

National Red Ribbon Week celebrated across school district

"The Best Me is Drug Free" is this year's theme for National Red Ribbon Week - celebrated October 23 to Oct. 31 throughout the country. The war on drugs and alcohol is a battle that's waged every day, and one of the most recognizable warriors in the fight is the Red Ribbon. Now the oldest and largest drug prevention and education initiative - going on its 27th year - Red Ribbon Week encourages communities working together to keep children, families and communities safe, healthy and drug-free.

Many children in schools across the nation participate in Red Ribbon Week, and Collier County Public Schools is no exception. In addition to wearing red ribbons and participating in spirit days such as "Sock it to Drugs Day," "Turn Your Back on Drugs Day," and "Shade Out Drugs Day," schools will also take part in activities to promote a drug-free lifestyle. Lely Elementary School continues its Red Ribbon Week tradition with the 13th Annual Red Walk, where students will traverse the red pathway and learn about making safe and healthy choices; Cypress Palm Middle School will welcome the Florida National Guard and their Night Vision drug-prevention program during two assemblies on Monday, Oct. 29; and students at Naples Park Elementary School, Vineyards Elementary School, and Lely High School will conduct a canned food drive. A number of other events are planned at several schools from Monday, October 22, through Friday, Oct. 26.

To learn more, and to see a full list of activities, please visit the district Web site at www.collierschools.com and click on "Red Ribbon Week Activities" under "Highlights." If your child's school is not listed, please contact the school directly.

Local bank hosts mobile event

On Saturday, Oct. 13, the Empowerment Alliance of Southwest Florida - a certified HUD housing agency and nonprofit dedicated to improving the quality of life for rural residents - hosted Fifth Third Bank's Financial Empowerment Mobile, the "eBus," at the Collier County Health Department, located at 419 North 1st St.

Fifth Third Bank's eBus is a vehicle that has been electronically retro-fitted to serve as a mobile classroom with all the tools needed to help residents become financially successful. Visitors to the bus receive one-on-one credit counseling, money management and budget advice, and homeownership educational opportunities. During the event, organizations like the Collier County Health Department and the Lions Club will provide information and services in English, Spanish and Creole. Free health screenings for adults and children will also be offered.

Special to the Immokalee Bulletin/Fifth-Third Bank
Visitors to Fifth Third Bank's eBus receive one-on-one credit counseling, education about homeownership and money management and budget advice.
