Salinas Joins Newspaper Team

Anakaren Salinas has been named advertising account representative for the Caloosa Belle and Immokalee Bulletin, divisions of Independent Newsmedia, Inc.

"We're very excited to have Ana join our team," said INI Florida group advertising manager Jaime Limoges. "Her excitement for the communities we serve is a source of inspiration to all of us."

Salinas is a resident and native of LaBelle, formerly of Immokalee. "My favorite thing about our communities is the way that everyone has each other's back. I am happy to work for a company that tells that story in both print and online."

In addition to print advertising sales, Salinas will be working to launch new digital initiatives in the south Florida region.

Independent Newsmedia Inc. USA is dedicated to community journalism. Its newspapers and websites are published for, of and by the people. Independent's news publications are dedicated to community journalism, with a unique blend of issue-oriented stories, reader submissions and "refrigerator" news and photos. The Florida group includes operations in LaBelle, Immokalee, Clewiston, Belle Glade, Okeechobee and Glades County.

Anakaren Salinas can be reached at (863) 675-2541 or by e-mail at asalinas@newszap.com.

IHS BETA Club brings home 18 awards

By Jennifer L. Kupiec

Specialist, Communications & Community Engagement Collier County Public Schools

The Immokalee High School BETA Club continues to make the community of Immokalee proud. BETA's focus is on achievement, character, leadership, and service. Their motto, Let Us Lead by Serving Others, stands true. The Immokalee BETAs continue to volunteer their services to local non-profit organizations and events.

The Club is also renowned in the BETA circuit. In addition to multiple national awards, the Immokalee BETAs have held winning state titles for 29 years in a row! Their leader, Linda Ayer, has been a Club Sponsor for 35 years and has continued to give her all to the students, which shows in their results.

Most recently, the Immokalee BETAs brought home 18 awards from the Florida State BETA Convention, both group and individual. They received first place wins in the following categories: Banner, Campaign Skit (perfect score), Character Skit, Group Talent (perfect score), Living Literature, and Scrapbook (perfect score).

FWC returns panther family back to the wild

A female panther and her two kittens are back in the wild today, after spending months in captivity. On April 10, the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) panther team released the panther family on the Picayune Strand State Forest in Collier County. This is the first time the FWC has rescued, rehabilitated and released a family group of panthers.

FWC biologists rescued the adult female panther, known as FP224, in December 2017 after she was struck by a vehicle on Collier Boulevard in Naples. They took her to the Animal Specialty Hospital of Florida in Naples where veterinarians determined she had a broken hind leg. Following a successful surgery to repair the fracture, the FWC panther veterinarian took the panther to White Oak Conservation Foundation for rehabilitation.

In June, FP224 produced a litter of one female and two male kittens, and biologists suspected these kittens were near where their mother was injured. They set up cameras to locate the young panthers, and two

Our Purpose...

The Immokalee Bulletin is published by Independent Newspapers of Florida. Independent is owned by a unique trust that enables this newspaper to pursue a mission of journalistic service to the citizens of the community. Since no dividends are paid, the company is able to thrive on profit margins below industry standards. All after-tax surpluses are reinvested in Independent's mission of journalistic service, commitment to the ideals of the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, and support of the community's deliberation of public issues.

We Pledge...

- To operate this newspaper as a public trust
- To help our community become a better place to live and work, through our dedication to conscientious journalism.
- To provide the information citizens need to make their own intelligent decisions about public issues.
- To report the news with honesty, accuracy, purposeful neutrality, fairness, objectivity, fearlessness and compassion.
- To use our opinion pages to facilitate community debate, not to dominate it with our own opinions.
- To disclose our own conflicts of interest or potential conflicts to our readers.
- To correct our errors and to give each correction the prominence it deserves.
- To provide a right to reply to those we write about.
- To treat people with courtesy, respect and compassion.

of the kittens were photographed and captured immediately thereafter. Unfortunately, biologists were not able to capture the third kitten.

Biologists brought the two male kittens to White Oak Conservation Foundation. They were not immediately returned to their mother so that her leg had time to heal. Last month, the family was reunited in a 1-acre pen to maintain the family bond.

On Monday, veterinarians determined that all three felines were healthy and ready for release.

"Typically, orphaned kittens still dependent on their mothers need to be kept in captivity until they can survive on their own," said Darrell Land, FWC panther team leader. "However in this case, the mother can continue to raise her kittens, teaching them the required survival and social skills they would not receive in captivity."

FP224 is not new to the rescue and rehabilitation efforts of the FWC and partners. In 2013, she was struck by a vehicle and had to be rescued. In the years between the two accidents she has produced three litters of kittens, successfully contributing to the Florida panther population.

Florida residents can support conservation efforts like the rescue and rehabilitation of injured or orphaned panthers by purchasing a "Protect the Panther" license plate. Fees from license plate sales are the primary funding source for the FWC's research and management of Florida panthers.

People can also help with panther research by reporting panther sightings and uploading photos and videos to the FWC at MyFWC.com/PantherSightings.

To report dead or injured panthers, call the FWC's Wildlife Alert Hotline at 888-404-FWCC (3922) or #FWC or *FWC on a cell-phone.

For more information on Florida panthers, go to MyFWC.com/Panther.

With their accolades, they qualified to compete in 17 events at the National BETA Convention in June. In fact, they are the defending National Campaign Skit Champions! They also had three students chosen to perform in the National BETA Convention opening number, and Immokalee BETA Club member Frankie Villa will be running for National Vice President.

Now, the Immokalee BETAs are on a quest to raise the necessary funding to send 75 students to Savannah, Georgia, to compete June 17-20. The cost per student is $300. If you would like to help, donations may be sent to Immokalee High School (701 Immokalee Drive, Immokalee, Florida 34142) or you may contact Linda Ayer at ayerli@collierschools.com. The Immokalee BETAs give wholeheartedly to our community. Now is our chance to support them.

Rotary Club shares the story of Josh the Baby Otter

Rotarians Marie Lamy, Tina Delarosa and Vicki Gauze gave a water safety presentation to an energetic group of 36 kindergarten students at RCMA Charter School, Immokalee on April 6th. Lead by President-Elect, Tina Delarosa, the children were instructed in safe water, swimming practices and the importance of having an adult buddy when near water. Each child received a copy of the book with a CD, a coloring book, safety stickers and made a water safety pledge.

Eli Trejo an instructional assistant with RCMA Immokalee Community School, in costume as Josh the Otter made a special visit and danced with the children to the song, "Learn to Float."

A special thank you to the entire staff of RCMA Community School, Rotarians Patricia Bell and Amy Turner for your coordination and support of our efforts. We appreciate it.

Department of Health issues smoke advisory

Smoky conditions are ongoing in Collier County from a current mulch fire. The Florida Department of Health in Collier County cautions citizens that smoke is a respiratory irritant that can cause scratchy throat, coughing, headaches or irritated eyes and nose. Smoke can worsen asthma, and other chronic lung or heart conditions.

Protect your family from smoke:

- Pay attention to news coverage or health warnings related to the wildfires and the associated smoke.
- Avoid prolonged outdoor activities.

This is especially important for children and persons with pre-existing medical conditions. Pay attention to visibility and how you feel.

- Stay indoors and run your air conditioner if you have one. Keep the fresh air intake closed and the filter clean to prevent bringing additional smoke inside. For best results, run the air conditioning with recirculated air. If you do not have an air conditioner, staying inside with the windows closed may be dangerous in extremely hot weather. In these cases, seek alternative shelter with family or friends.
- Help keep particle levels lower inside. When smoke levels are high, try to avoid using anything that burns, such as wood fireplaces, gas logs, gas stoves and candles. Do not vacuum, which stirs up particles already inside your home. Do not smoke.

Follow your doctor's advice about taking medicines and following your asthma management plan if you have asthma or another lung disease. Call your doctor if your symptoms worsen.

Persons should contact their doctor if they feel they have difficulty breathing due to the smoke. Persons with underlying medical conditions such as allergies, sinus problems, asthma and chronic lung diseases should contact their medical provider if they have concerns about their condition.

Spring Luncheon raises nearly $150,000 for Hope Hospice

The Friends of Hope Women's Committee recently hosted its 15th annual Spring Luncheon at the Hyatt Regency Coconut Point Resort & Spa, raising nearly $150,000 to benefit Hope Hospice.

"The continued support of The Friends of Hope Women's Committee allows us to fulfill our mission to provide comforting care to all who need our help," said Samira K. Beckwith, president and CEO of Hope Healthcare. "We are so grateful for the committee's dedication, for our sponsors, and for all who made this year's Spring Luncheon a success."

Event chairs Barbara Caccese, Etta Smith and Signe Wynne, along with event committee members, coordinated the celebration for more than 275 guests.

The afternoon's events included boutique shopping, raffle prizes, silent auction packages to Costa Rica, San Francisco and Italy's Amalfi Coast, along with a fashion show featuring spring apparel from Kathryn's Collection.

Henderson, Franklin, Starnes & Holt, P.A. served as presenting sponsor. Event sponsors included Northern Trust, Suncoast Print & Promotions, Inc., Dena's Secretarial Services, Hyatt Regency Coconut Point Resort and Spa, Kathryn's Collection and the Spring Luncheon Committee.

Hope Healthcare is a not-for-profit health care organization dedicated to providing care and comfort to every individual and their loved ones as they fulfill life's journey. For more information, call 239-482-4673 or visit www.HopeHCS.org

Strive for a positive mind set

I do a lot of work on transforming my thoughts so that I can show up as the best version of myself - MOST of the time. Sure we all have our off days and we show up cranky, moody, or depressed by whatever life circumstance we are in the midst of but how much better could we handle those circumstances, show up for ourselves at our jobs or in our families (or for ourselves) if we have done the diligent work of mastering on our mindset.

Hunting Happiness With Val White

Mastering your mindset is an absolute game changer when it comes to how you show up in the world and it can make all the difference in creating the life you desire.

If you are showing up at your work, for example, with a negative mindset, it is likely that you're going to begrudgingly do your daily tasks without much care for the quality of work you're putting in. This can result in your coworkers or upper management viewing you as incompetent or lacking the skill-set to perform your job well.

If you show up with a positive mindset and do your tasks mindfully and from a place of joy and happiness, that will reflect to everyone around you as someone who is really good at what they are doing and you may likely get promoted or a raise!

When we take the time to create a positive mindset so that we can show up as the best versions of ourselves everyone wins!

Guadalupe Center volunteer Alice Arena receives

The Women's Foundation of Collier County has named Alice Arena, a longtime supporter of the Guadalupe Center, as one of its 2018 Women of Initiative award winners.

Arena, of Naples, has served as a volunteer, mentor and board member of Guadalupe Center for nearly a decade, and is a firm believer in its core mission "to break the cycle of poverty through education for the children of Immokalee."

"Alice is a shining example of what it means to truly dedicate yourself to a cause," said Dawn Montecalvo, president of the Guadalupe Center. "From the moment Alice learned about our mission, she has done everything in her power – and then some – to ensure that the next generation of Immokalee youth will have the resources, knowledge and guidance to succeed in the classroom, in their careers and in their lives."

The Women of Initiative program honors community leaders who are an inspiration to all women by seeking to make a difference through philanthropy and civic engagement. The 10 remarkable women being honored in 2018 have demonstrated significant leadership ability, innovation, energy and dedication of their time and talent to change the face of Southwest Florida.

"The Women's Foundation of Collier County has a proud tradition of honoring strong women in our community who have made a difference in the lives of our local women and girls, and this year is no exception," said Eileen Connolly-Keesler, president and CEO of the Community Foundation of Collier County, which manages the Women's Foundation fund. "The 2018 Women of Initiative honorees are an inspiration to us all and remind us of the importance of investing in programs that benefit our biggest asset – the future of our community."

Arena first learned of the Guadalupe Center while touring the Immokalee facility with her bridge club friends. Shortly thereafter, she joined the board of directors. Arena also has served on Guadalupe Center's advisory board and development committee, which pursues funding sources to help Guadalupe Center fulfill its mission. Arena has chaired three signature fundraising events, including the Taste of New York gala that raised more than $1 million. Arena has also been a dedicated mentor to Immokalee High School students in the Tutor Corps program, offering guidance, leadership and inspiration as teens work toward college admittance.

Arena also serves on the NCH Healthcare Foundation's board of directors and the Greater Naples Leadership's membership committee. Her previous philanthropic endeavors include the Junior League, Boys and Girls Club of Chicago, The Chicago Symphony, The Chicago City Ballet, Vatican Art Council, Baltimore Museum of Art, The Washington Ballet and the International Committee of the New York City Ballet.

Arena is a graduate of Pasadena City College and attended the University of California-Irvine to study business and marketing. She founded an interior design business and sold residential real estate, and together with her husband of 50 years, Angelo, the couple are involved in commercial real estate.

Clinic Receives League Club Grant

Neighborhood Health Clinic (Clinic) – a nonprofit, volunteer-driven organization providing Collier County's working, uninsured resident's affordable medical and dental care – is pleased to announce that the charity is one of 30 nonprofit organizations in Lee and Collier counties receiving a portion of $327,970 in grants from The League Club, Inc.

"The $9,800 grant is allocated to two areas, our on-site Medication Room and Lab," explains Chief Development Officer Keith Maples. "By funding a new refrigerator, we can store medication with a retail value of $3.5 million. Also, by covering the annual cost and maintenance of the Lab's Piccolo diagnostic equipment, we are able to provide more than 14,000 blood chemistry tests for our physicians, allowing us to better serve our patients."

Awarded during an April 5, 2018, breakfast, the items funded by the grant ensure the Clinic's nearly 400 volunteer medical professionals have the tools needed to provide the highest-quality, immediate medical care for more than 200 patients in-need each week.

The League Club is a 501(c)(3) organization of Southwest Florida strengthening communities through fellowship, education, volunteerism, and philanthropy. The League Club women have also contributed thousands of volunteer hours in various areas. Members have served on numerous agency boards, worked in childcare and adult centers, with the illiterate and homeless, in conservation and arts groups and in churches. For more information, visit www.leagueclub.org.

Liz Winebrenner, President of The League Club, stated, "We are pleased and grateful to be able to give so much to help our community partners raise the quality of life for residents in Collier and Lee counties. We thank our 600 members, Circle of Friends supporters, the community member who support our events, and our business sponsors. Their financial generosity and caring for the community are what enable us to make these grants."

The Neighborhood Health Clinic:

- Performed over 26,951 patient procedures in fiscal year 2016
 - Provided more than 9,900 patient visits with working, uninsured men and women in fiscal year 2016
 - Offers access to general medical practitioners; specialty clinics for complex and chronic conditions and dentists
 - Provides onsite laboratory basic tests for established patients
 - Offers patient education and research projects
 - A 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization that has received the coveted Four Star Charity Navigator rating 5 years in a row
- For more information the Neighborhood Health Clinic, please call 239.261.6600, or visit www.NeighborhoodHealthClinic.org.

Immokalee's 4th annual Earth Day Event

This year's 4th annual Earth Day sponsored by the One by One Leadership Foundation and Immokalee Pioneer Museum will be held Saturday April 21st at the Immokalee Pioneer Museum at Roberts Ranch (1215 Roberts Ave W, Immokalee, FL 34142) from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. This year's theme is "Immokalee My Home" and with the help of community partners, there will be activities and informative booths that will allow people to both learn how to take care of the environment and enjoy a day out with the family at Immokalee Pioneer Museum at Roberts Ranch.

Pepper Ranch Preserve (6315 Pepper Rd, Immokalee, FL 34142) will be offering free guided hikes to explore Pepper Ranch Preserve's tranquil nature trails while winding through the flatwoods, hammocks, and cypress of a working cattle ranch with a naturalist guide. Search the skies for visiting birds and the trails for signs of wildlife. Witness how fire shapes the landscape and learn to identify native plants. One hike will start at 11 a.m. and another one will start at 2 p.m. Pre-Registration is required for this free hike. Please visit: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/pepper-ranch-earth-day-free-guided-hikes-tickets-44812835397?aff=es2> to pre-register and contact staff at 239-252-2961 to identify which hike you have selected. Each hike will accommodate up to 20 persons.

Special performances will also take place, iCo dance team will perform a special dance routine dedicated to Earth Day and Oficina da Capoeira will also make a stunning performance. Both of which were a big hit among the attendees at last year's Earth Day.

Just like the previous years, many local community organizations came out to represent their programs and set up activity and informative booths that the attendees enjoyed. There was samples of the special comeback of Taste of Immokalee's seasonal orange cookies. As well as samples of their well-known, delicious salsa.

Come out for family fun! There will be a variety of childrens activities, live performances, an art gallery made up of Immokalee's very own students artwork and local food trucks will be selling some delicious food! You are welcomed to bring your lawn chairs and picnic blankets. Remember to mark your calendars and come join us for Earth Day!

Aspiring Youth visit New York

By Lewis Perkins

Special to the Immokalee Bulletin

Boarding a bus, at 2 A.M., last Saturday morning, Palmetto Ridge High School choir joined Gulf Coast High school choir and began their long journey to New York. Although the students were exhausted after their long trip, instead of going to their hotel and catching up on their sleep, the students got to tour New York city and see Central Park, Times Square, Rockefeller Center, and several other attractions. Some of the choir members saw a homeless man singing and went over and joined him.

However, the purpose of the trip was not just to see New York city, but to experience it as well. The choir members participated in Choral Organization & Developing Artist, CODA, an organization dedicated to "...to provide exceptional coaching and performance opportunities for aspiring singers and goal-oriented choirs." On Sunday, the choir members attended a rehearsal led by Heather Buchanan, choral director at Montclair State University. Buchanan taught these aspiring students how to better resonate and enunciate their voices. This prepared them for the highlight of their trip; to perform in Carnegie Hall, one of New York's most prestigious concert halls. Carnegie Hall has been a part of New York since 1891 and has hosted icons such as Tchaikovsky, Gershwin, Billie Holiday, Benny Goodman, Judy Garland, and The Beatles. After they performed an awe-inspiring concert, the students went to Little Italy for dinner before they saw "Phantom of the Opera" on Broadway.

Before they headed back to Naples, the students got to visit the Statue of Liberty, and pay tribute to the 911 memorial, and see the new One World Trade Center.

The students visited Times Square while in New York City.

Operation Chill rewards good behavior

If a Collier deputy catches your child in the act, they might just get a "ticket."

The CCSO is again participating in 7-Eleven's Operation Chill, a program that aims to reduce crime and build rapport between kids and law enforcement.

If a deputy spots a child wearing a helmet, picking up trash or observing crosswalk rules, he or she could get a "ticket" for a free, small Slurpee at 7-Eleven.

Hundreds of agencies around the country have participated in the program since it began in 1995.

Youth Relations Bureau Captain Beth Jones said Operation Chill is a great way to develop relationships with the youth in the community, while teaching the importance of making good decisions, being kind and doing the right thing.

So be on your best behavior - our deputies will be patrolling parks, community events and summer camps looking to hand out these free treats!
