Log truck overturns in Bonifay

By Cecilia Spears
Staff Writer
cspears@yahoo.com

BONIFAY — A log truck overturned on State Road 2 approaching County Road 179A on Monday, Aug. 29.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, the log truck was traveling east on State Road 2 approaching County Road 179A when another vehicle entered into the intersection.

When the vehicle slowed to turn onto County Road 179A, the log truck was unable to stop in time. The truck steered into the ditch to avoid the vehicle, causing the logs on the truck bed to shift.

The trailer overturned, bringing the truck to a stop on its right side in the ditch on the southeast corner of the intersection.

The driver, Robert Holmes Watson, 57, of Bonifay, was unharmed. No charges have been filed.

The estimated damage to the truck is $15,000.

Utility crews worked through Holmes County last weekend to keep power for local residents. Even so, more than 20,000 Panhandle residents lost power during Tropical Storm Lee. See more storm coverage on A3 and B6.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES-ADVERTISER

JROTC color guard leads start of school rally.

Assembly opens Holmes County school year

Special to the Times-Advertiser

A new school year began at Holmes County High School (HCHS) on Monday, Aug. 22. A back to school assembly was held in the newly painted HCHS gym. A special thanks to the Holmes Correctional Institution for providing labor to paint our gym. Fresh coats of blue and gold paint were added this summer.

The JROTC presented colors and led the school in the Pledge of Allegiance. JROTC is led by ISG Randy Burrell and LTC Sean Leeman. Members of the Color Guard unit are Bree Owens, Mason Carnley, Amber Hayden and Benjamin Evers.

Students were welcomed by Eddie Dixon, who is beginning his fourth year as principal of HCHS. The Senior Class of 2012 received special recognition as they walked in to the gym for the first time as seniors. All faculty, staff and students stood as a sign of respect for these young adults as they begin their last year at HCHS. Student Government Sponsor Mrs. Lynn Marshall introduced President Chelsey Cullifer. Chelsea welcomed all students and addressed each grade level with advice on how to have a successful school year. She also introduced the SGA officers for 2011-2012: Vice President Will Thompson, Secretary Saylor Lake and Treasurer Marena Upton. These SGA officers will be instrumental in organizing Homecoming, school events and providing leadership during the school year.

A special moment of silence was observed for Ana Marinaccio. Ana passed away this summer after being involved in a car accident. She was a HCHS volleyball player and also participated in the culinary program. She will be greatly missed.

Mr. Dixon also introduced new staff members. Two of the staff members are provided by the Holmes County Health Department: Shelia Paul is the Teen Outreach Program Facilitator and Terre Arnold (1988 graduate) is the Health Support Aide. Holly Hodge (2004 graduate) will be assisting in the computer lab and Emily Rone (2007 graduate) is the new ESE teacher. We welcome these HCHS alumni as they return to their alma mater.

Please check our school website, hchs.hdsb.org, for more information on upcoming events at HCHS.

FDOT has fresh plan for State Road 79

By Felicia Kitzmiller
Florida Freedom Newspapers

PANAMA CITY — The Florida Department of Transportation is investigating an innovative way to finish the widening of State 79 from Interstate 10 to U.S. 98.

All of State 79 in Bay County has been completed, but an economic crunch and a desire to create jobs and spur economic activity has FDOT seeking a public-private partnership to finish the remaining 20 miles of the project in Washington and Holmes counties.

The estimated cost of the remaining five sections of the project is about $107 million, said Tommie Speights, public information officer for FDOT District 3.

The plan is to find a contractor who would be willing to front the cost for portions of the project and begin work immediately. The money would then be reimbursed when each section of the project comes up in the department's five-year plan, Speights said.

But a contractor has not been found yet, and Speights said it is unknown what, if any, company would have the capital to invest in the project on the front end.

"That's the question we're trying to answer," he said.

State 79 is an important road for many communities, including Bay County where it is one of two avenues to the Beaches International Airport, but the four-lane project is expected to turn it into a major artery.

Highway U.S. 231 now serves as a primary means by which visitors arrive in Bay County, but county traffic engineer Keith Bryant said he expects that to change when the four-laning of State 79 is complete. It will provide travelers with a direct route from the interstate to Panama City Beach, and will provide economic development opportunities for small towns along the route, he said.

Crews are currently working on three sections of the road — from the Bay County line to Environmental Road, from Environmental Road to Mill Creek and in the area of Holmes Creek in Vernon.

Bonifay woman charged with drug possession

Special to the Times-Advertiser

Tanya Bievenour, 38, of Bonifay, was arrested in Chipley this week on drug charges following the use of a K-9 unit from Washington County Sheriff's Department.

Chipley Police Officer C. French conducted a traffic stop of Bievenour's vehicle after observing a traffic violation. French, after observing suspicious behavior, requested the assistance of Deputy Duran Harrison and his K-9 partner, Pitsi, of the Washington County Sheriff's Office K-9 Unit. Following Pitsi's alert for the odor of narcotics, a search of the vehicle was conducted. According to official reports, during the course of the search French located an amount of methamphetamine, scales and other paraphernalia items. Bievenour was placed under arrest and taken to the Washington County Jail.

She was charged with possession of a controlled substance without a prescription (methamphetamine) and possession of drug paraphernalia.

"We have no tolerance for those individuals that continue to bring such a dangerous drug, methamphetamine, into our community or those who come to our community to purchase or obtain chemicals for the manufacture of the methamphetamine," said Chipley Police Chief Kevin Crews. "The Chipley Police Department will continue to enforce the violation of narcotics laws and attack these problems. I encourage everyone to call with any information on any criminal activity."

Power restored in most areas after Tropical Storm Lee

Florida Freedom Newspapers

PANAMA CITY — Most Florida Panhandle customers who lost power Monday have been restored, according to a Gulf Power news release.

More than 21,500 customers throughout the Panhandle were left without power Monday after the remnants of Tropical Storm Lee brought severe thunderstorms and strong winds. By 6 a.m. Tuesday, 1,137 customers still were without power, mostly in northern Escambia County, the release said.

"Our crews worked hard last night, and we've got the majority of our customers back on line," Jeff Rogers, spokesman with Gulf Power, said in the release. "These 1,100 customers represent 339 different locations. Our crews are working diligently to track down the sources of the outages and get power restored."

Crews from Mississippi Power and contractors from Chipley were called in to help with restoring service.

"We really appreciate our customers' patience as we worked to get these numerous scattered outages restored," Rogers said.

Customers still without power are encouraged to call the restoration hotline at 800-487-6937.

'Local girl makes good' in Sebastian

Should the headline read "Las Vegas" and report of an honoree with the name of Theresa Tolle, business owner in Sebastian, Fla., receiving a coveted award having to do with the pharmacy profession, then the story might slip right by the reader.

PERRY'S PRATTLE
Perry Wells

If my dad, Hugh Wells, were still here to read that message, and knowing the person receiving the honors was his granddaughter, then his outcry would probably have been "Local girl makes good!" That was his usual comment when some success came to a family member. Let us proceed with the real story on the honors recently bestowed on a Chipley girl.

On July 24, 2011, at its annual Retail Business Conference in Las Vegas, Cardinal Health named Theresa Wells Tolle, owner of Bay Street Pharmacy of Sebastian, as the recipient of its annual Ken Wurster Community Leadership Award. The award, which each year honors a retail independent pharmacist who promotes the ideals of community pharmacy, was created in honor of Tampa independent pharmacist Ken Wurster, who passed away in 2008. Wurster was highly regarded for his commitment to serving his customers, epitomizing the role of a pharmacist who took responsibility for the wellness of his community.

Theresa Lynn Wells Tolle is the daughter of Max Wells and Joyce Oakley Wells, Washington County residents well known in the business community. She was born Oct. 7, 1965, in Dade City, where Max had met and married Joyce Oakley on Sept. 12, 1964.

Max and Joyce, along with their daughter, Theresa, and son, Steven Perry Wells, came to Chipley in 1973 and purchased the FRM Feed and Seed Store, which they owned and managed for 29 years. On Aug. 16, 1982, Carla Ann joined the Wells family as their third child.

All the children grew up in the feed store and learned early in life the importance of putting customers first and supplying their needs to the best of their ability.

Theresa completed Chipley High School in June 1983 as valedictorian of the class. After her associate degree at Chipola Junior College, she entered the University of Florida, where she earned her bachelor's degree in pharmacy in 1988 at the College of Pharmacy.

She was employed as a pharmacist in several retail markets before becoming a partner in the Sebastian Bay Street Pharmacy. She and her husband, Joe "Tiger" Tolle, are now the sole owners.

Theresa and Joe have three children, Taryn, T. J. and Taelyn.

Her brother, Steven, chose electrical engineering as his course of study at the University of Florida after graduating from Chipley High School and Chipola. He is employed with an engineering firm based at Tyndall Air Force Base. He and his wife, Laura, live in nearby Callaway.

Their sister, Carla, followed in the footsteps of her older sibling in high school and Chipola and elected pharmacy as her profession. She graduated from the University of Florida College of Pharmacy and is employed as a pharmacist at the veterans hospital facility in Marianna, where needed medicines are distributed to deserving military veterans in this area.

She and her husband, William Blanford "Dink" Barber Jr., have Madelyne Grace "Maddie" and William Blanford "Will" Barber III. They reside in the Alford area.

Theresa Tolle emerged as the winner of the Ken Wurster Award from a field of five finalists representing entries from a range of states. A total of 50 had been nominated for the coveted and prestigious honor.

A variety of criteria were used by the judges in making this final selection. Community leadership and involvement, ability to inspire others and a willingness to go above and beyond the day-to-day operations of a retail independent pharmacy to make sure that patients come first were among the factors considered. Entering into the choice probably included the fact that this lady employs higher-than-average pharmacy staffing ratios in her store to enable her to spend more time with patients. She also employs a registered nurse to work with diabetic patients and often makes house calls to extend her personal care and attention to those who are unable to visit the pharmacy.

Along with her workplace leadership, Tolle is dedicated to community service. She is an active member of the American Cancer Society and was voted her chapter's 2006 Volunteer of the Year. She served in multiple positions for her local Relay for Life, a fundraiser for the ACS.

Tolle is a member of the Florida Pharmacy Association, served as president one term and speaker of the House of Delegates one term, and has held other offices and served on committees. She is also a member of the National Pharmacy Association, where she served on boards and committees.

In her home area, she is a member of the Local Pharmacy Association, Chamber of Commerce and the Hospital Board of Trustees for Sebastian Medical Center.

The honoree is committed to serving children, volunteering as a second- and third-grade Sunday school teacher at her church and teaching children on a mission trip to Tipitapa, Nicaragua, in 2010. She was also named her hometown's Woman of the Year in 2010.

The crowning honor in being selected for this high honor by her contemporaries came when Cardinal Health Company donated $10,000 to the University of Florida College of Pharmacy in honor of Tolle's outstanding commitment to community involvement.

The "prattler" is proud to claim this family offspring as his niece!
See you all next week.

Red, white and true blue spells 'patriot'

This Patriot Day, I had to stop and think what a real patriot is. Since 9/11, we have so commercialized patriotism that it is hard to pick out what is true patriotic feeling. In fact, in the past week, I have seen TV advertisements that wrap Honda, Toyota and Hyundai in red, white and blue. And as we get to the 10th anniversary of the attacks on our country, it will be worse.

I am blessed to live in one of the best, most patriotic areas of the country, but what does that mean exactly?

My first example in our response this spring to the tornadoes in Alabama and Georgia. You sent us with a warehouse-full of everything from food to diapers to toys. It took several 18-wheeler trucks to transport your generosity.

STEVE LINER
Managing Editor

The first rule of patriotism is compassionate service.

My second example is found in just about every family in this area. Each family occasion and holiday is missed by at least one family member who is off serving our country. That is true patriotism.

One of my pet peeves is cheapening that sacrifice to sell something — whether it is as product or a political ideal.

My final example of real patriotism is seen by me all the time in our schools. I love watching our young people embracing the good that is America.

This Patriot Day, I hope you will join me in recognizing the goodness that is truly American: compassion, generosity and a passion for service. And I hope you will join me in insisting these qualities are not dimmed by secondary politics and mere salesmanship.

Happy Patriot Day to all of you who are sacrificing yourselves for the larger good.

Officials launch new anti-crime campaign

Special to The Times-Advertiser

On Monday, Gov. Rick Scott joined Florida Department of Law Enforcement Commissioner Gerald Bailey, Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Assistant Secretary of Intergovernmental Affairs Betsy Markey, and the leadership of Florida's Domestic Security Oversight Council to launch "If You See Something, Say Something" in Florida. The initiative features a toll-free, statewide hotline and online reporting form for citizens to report suspicious activity.

"As we draw closer to the 10-year anniversary of 9/11, there is no better time to remember the many lives lost that day a decade ago, and to remind citizens of the need to remain vigilant," said Governor Scott. "This is another tool that citizens and tourists can use to contact authorities when they witness something they know is out of place."

Tips received through the hotline and online reporting form will go to the Florida Fusion Center, a 24-hour watch desk at FDLE, where intelligence analysts will assess the information and take action in conjunction with the state's Regional Domestic Security Task Forces.

"Florida has sophisticated domestic security and information sharing systems in place and we are safer than ever before," said Commissioner Bailey, chair of the Domestic Security Oversight Council. "Prevention is our first priority, and people who report suspicious activity help us identify and address potential threats early on."

"Our nation's security is a shared responsibility and every citizen plays a critical role in identifying and reporting suspicious activities and threats," said U.S. Department of Homeland Security Secretary Janet Napolitano. "The new partnership between Florida and DHS on the 'If You See Something, Say Something' campaign will help to create a more safe and secure homeland."

DHS recently unveiled television and radio public service announcements that will be broadcast in Florida and across the nation. The state campaign also will include displays on mall posters, bus stops, and other transportation hubs. To help encourage public awareness, the Florida Outdoor Advertising Association, through its member network of companies, has donated space on digital billboards statewide until mid-September.

Hooked on Outdoors

The weekly reports from our new cement piers are as follows ...

The City Pier: A few king mackerel late in the evening, Spanish mackerel and bluefish through out much of the day. There is all the live bait you could possibly use around the pier so take along a sibiki rig or a gold hook rig and a livewell.

On the M.B. Miller pier: Large schools of redfish along with a few cobia. Some schools of cobia as large as 10-15 fish have been spotted, but most people fishing now are tourists and they are not equipped to catch fish of this size.

The June grass still is too thick to fish from the beach although more and more pompano are being seen from boats. At the jetties some divers have reported whiting as large as 3 pounds. Here again I don't know how you would ever be able to fish for them on the bottom due to the grass.

In the pass in St. Andrew Bay the bull reds rule the day. Try to catch it on an outgoing tide and look for the crabs swimming on top in the floating ell grass. Most of the redfish are too big to keep, so do not stick a gaff into them to get them onboard. If they are so big they require gaffing they are too big to keep. Remember they must be returned to the water unharmed if they are more than 27 inches long. Don't forget to pinch their tails when you measure them to get the legal length.

It is the end of August and that means the bigger king mackerel will start showing up from the far west. These smoker kings will start making their run back to the east which around here will last until the middle of November or when the water cools to the point they are uncomfortable and they leave.

In St. Joe Bay the scallops are getting bigger and bigger. Since school is open you should have it to yourself until the weekend comes. Most people I've talked to are getting the bigger ones in deep water. I feel uncomfortable in deep water catching scallops, but that is just one of the demons I wrestle with when I'm around an area known to have big bull sharks. That is why I stay in knee-to-waist-deep water.

It looks as though the hurricane is going to leave us alone so go out this weekend and have a good time.

Scallop season runs late this year

By Frank Sargeant
franksargeant@bellsouth.net

For those who love to chase the tasty shellfish, it always seems to take forever for the opening of the scallop season to arrive — then it's over before you know it.

This year, forever will last a little longer than usual. The season opened July 1 and will continue to Sept. 25, 15 days longer than in past seasons, in an effort to stimulate the economy of small coastal ports affected by last year's oil spill.

Open waters extend from the Pasco/Hernando county line to the Mexico Beach Canal and so far this season the harvest has been good. Some of the largest scallops of the year will be captured in the last few weeks. The shellfish are fast-growers and those harvested in early July are significantly smaller than those taken in September.

The prime scalloping area in the Panhandle is St. Joe Bay, where clear water and lots of eel grass provide ideal habitat for the swimming shellfish. They're also abundant on the flats off Steinhatchee and Suwannee as well as at Homosassa and Crystal River.

Scallops are an annual "crop." They hatch live spawn and die in a single year, like most types of shrimp, and so the annual take by recreational divers is thought to have minimal impact. The tiny larvae develop into shellfish up to three inches across by July and August of each year and thousands of Florida families turn out to pursue these strange little animals, the only shellfish that can "swim."

Unlike most shellfish that affix themselves to the bottom, bay scallops can swim by clapping their shells together. Admittedly, it's a slow, crazy dance, but they do manage to move from place to place and with the help of the tides can sometimes travel for miles.

Bay scallops only survive where there is clear water and abundant grass. Fortunately, waters of the eastern Panhandle and Big Bend area have plenty of both, and thus plenty of scallops. The shellfish are typically found in water from 4-to-10 feet deep over turtle grass, the long-leaved greenery that sprouts abundantly from the bottom in the open areas.

Because they're lethargic swimmers, scallops are easy for a snorkeler to capture by hand and they're a favorite target for young swimmers. Many families plan their annual summer vacation with the kids for the opening of the scallop season.

Once things get rolling, finding the scallops is simply a matter of looking for the fleet. Where the shellfish are abundant there will be dozens of boats drifting over them.

On days when other boats are scarce, you can usually find the shellfish by motoring slowly and looking for them on the bottom. The shells are white to gray-white and easily seen against the grass.

Scalloping is a relatively safe activity, but one danger is that divers may get too far from an anchored boat and then not be able to swim back against the tide. To avoid the issue, many put divers out behind a drifting boat. The boat and the divers progress across the flat at about the same rate, and one adult remains in the boat ready to pick up any divers who need a lift.

The favorite scalloping ports include Steinhatchee, Crystal River, Homosassa and Bayport. Guides who specialize in scallop trips are available at all these locations, for those just getting started.

A saltwater license is required to harvest scallops and the limit is two gallons whole or a half-pint, shucked, per harvester, up to 10 gallons whole and a half-gallon shucked per boat.

The only part of a scallop considered edible is the adductor muscle, the white piece of flesh that opens and closes the shell. Cleaning the catch is a bit of an issue.

All the workings of the creature must be scooped away, leaving only the muscle, which is then severed from the shell halves with a teaspoon or an oyster knife. Some have made use of shop vacuums to clean out the entrails, which is fast, but which leaves a very smelly mess in the vacuum.

Once the meat is processed, it can be used in all sorts of delicious recipes, but the best is simply to drop the bits briefly into a pan of sizzling butter, scoop them out and drain. It's one of the real delicacies of the sea.

Bama finds Jones versatile in opener

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's Barrett Jones is an All-Southeastern Conference right guard, but he could be found just about everywhere else on the line in the Crimson Tide's opener.

The second-ranked Tide isn't seeking a home for Jones but the right combination on the offensive line, which likely means waiting until freshman Cyrus Kouandjio is deemed ready to protect the quarterback's blind side fulltime.

Coach Nick Saban doesn't consider the line shuffling a valid excuse for missed blocks or what he described as a lack of consistency in the opener with Kent State.

"When you play on your toes and put your head down and whiff the linebacker, what does that have to do with who plays where?" Saban said Monday. "It doesn't matter if you're playing Kent State. But the competition figures to get considerably tougher and more physical with Saturday's visit to Penn State.

The line seemed pretty set except for left tackle, where James Carpenter started the past two seasons after replacing Andre Smith. Both were NFL first-round draft picks.

Jones started working at tackle late in spring practice. Anthony Steen started in his stead at right guard, like he did late last season when Jones was hurt. Returning starters William Vlachos (center), Chance Warmack (left guard) and D.J. Fluker (right tackle) are still holding down their normal spots.

The coaches wanted to get Jones some experience at center since he is Vlachos' backup. He and Kouandjio were listed as co-No. 1 left tackles in the depth chart released last week.

Vernon falls 27-16 to Chipley

From Staff Reports

VERNON — Chipley's Kobe McCrary and Ryan McIntyre each scored a pair of touchdowns to lead the Tigers to a 27-16 victory over host Vernon in both teams' openers.

McCrary scored twice in the first quarter to give Chipley a quick 14-0 lead. He ran 65 yards for one score and then added a 15-yard touchdown run.

Chipley quarterback Josh Myers connected with McIntyre on a 60-yard touchdown strike for a 20-0 lead before halftime. McIntyre put the game out of reach with a 46-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

Vernon's Hunter Dobbs scored on a 2-yard run to draw the Yellow Jackets within 20-8 after two quarters, and Dobbs located Shaquille Powell on a 16-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to close the gap to 20-16.

Chipley slowed Powell down in the running game, but he still had seven receptions for 85 yards.

LSU takes Oregon Ducks

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — In a rare opening matchup of top-five teams, both missing key players, Jarrett Lee admirably directed LSU's offense in place of suspended quarterback Jordan Jefferson.

Being without standout cornerback-punt returner Cliff Harris was more than mistake-prone and third-ranked Oregon could overcome.

The Ducks' fill-in punt returner had a fumble that led directly to an LSU touchdown and Lee's touchdown pass came against the defensive back playing in Harris' spot in the fourth-ranked Tigers' 40-27 victory Saturday night.

"I asked them to put to the perimeter all the things that could be considered distractions," LSU coach Les Miles said. "I enjoyed Jarrett Lee's gutsy effort. I liked how the offense did the things they needed to do."

Already without the suspended Harris, the Ducks made things even harder on themselves with four turnovers — three that LSU converted into

Ponce de Leon pair takes dressage title

At the Young Dressage National Championships in Wayne, Ill., 5-year-old reserve champ was a local horse owned by Linda Crabtree out of Ponce de Leon. This horse missed winning overall champ by less than one point. Not only did he take second place nationally, he also won the preliminary test on Aug. 25 and was awarded the highest score ever given at the national championships. Although he was the reserve champ overall, one should note that dressage is not this horse's primary sport; he is a three-day eventing stallion, ridden by Katie Wooten-Bryant of Ponce de Leon.

Hart tapped by Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee introduced Dave Hart as its new vice chancellor and athletic director on Monday night.

Hart has worked since August 2008 at his alma mater Alabama, one of the Volunteers' top rival programs, where he served as executive director of athletics assisting Alabama athletic director

"I want this to be perfectly clear: I am absolutely and totally committed to the University of Tennessee," Hart said at a news conference Monday night. "I wanted to say that early because I don't want you to trip over each other to ask the Alabama question."

Under a memorandum of understanding, Tennessee will pay Hart a base salary of $575,000 in his first year of a six-year contract and may qualify for a 3 percent increase of his base salary with each passing year. He will also receive $150,000 annually for media appearances and a $50,000 retention bonus each year.

Tennessee had been looking for a new athletic director since Mike Hamilton resigned in June in the wake of a lengthy NCAA investigation into the Volunteers basketball and football programs that resulted in a self-imposed two-year probation for the athletics department.

Hart said the NCAA's final ruling on Tennessee's case, which was announced Aug. 31, had no bearing on his decision to accept the job.

UT Chancellor Jimmy Cheek said he and the search committee responsible for hiring Hart sought someone who had experience as an athletic director at a major university.

"We're on the right path upwards," Cheek said. "What we've got to do is look at our future, and I think our future on the academics side and the athletics side is very positive, and I think having this last piece, the new vice chancellor and director of athletics is a very critical part."

The 62-year-old Hart also has advised the Atlantic Coast Conference and played basketball for the Crimson Tide's C.M. Newton.

Hart eventually will be the first director to oversee a combined department of men's and women's sports at Tennessee.

Since Hamilton resigned as the men's director, former women's AD Joan Cronan has been serving as the interim director over both the men's and women's departments.

Dealing with the May death of junior college transfer Aaron Douglas went far beyond football for the Tide, but on the field he was also a candidate to replace Carpenter.

Kouandjio is being groomed for that role. He was a consensus top-five prospect nationally and caused a stir when he committed to Auburn on national signing day, then switched to Alabama.

Now the Tide is preparing to play in front of 108,000 mostly hostile fans, a tough environment for any player much less a freshman.

"From my standpoint, I couldn't imagine having to go up there as a true freshman," Vlachos said. "But I think he's a special player. I think if that's what the coaches want to do, that's what we'll be ready to do. We'll help him out the whole way. This (Kent State) game was big for him as far as finally getting some game experience."

The Tide did have success running the ball, but got 72 yards on long runs by Jalston Fowler (49) and Eddie Lacy (23).

The other 33 carries netted 111 yards. Starter Trent Richardson managed a modest 37 yards on 13 carries but scored three touchdowns.

None of that's really a major cause for concern in a 48-7 blowout, but Vlachos said the line shoulders much of the blame for any shortcomings on the ground.

"I think if the offensive line does a great job, the running game will be good," he said. "We're probably the most important part of the running game. We've got two great backs, so if they're not getting a bunch of yards, it's probably not their fault. There are a bunch of things that play into it, but if the offensive line does a good job you should have a good day."

Defensive end Damion Square said practicing against the Tide's offensive line regularly has given him confidence in both the unit and the new kid on the blocks.

"That group can be great," Square said. "Cyrus is a great, great offensive tackle. To come in and be as polished as he is as a true freshman, he's going to be a guy that can contribute now or later. Whenever he gets his shot, he's going to be a great player at the University of Alabama."

"The offensive front, those guys are big, powerful group of guys. They've just got to come together ... and polish up and communicate. They're going to be just as good as anybody's offensive line."

20 points while building a 30-13 lead.

Highly touted freshman De'Anthony Thomas fumbled on consecutive touches late in the third quarter, one on a rushing attempt and then on the ensuing kickoff, and the Tigers took control with touchdown runs from Michael Ford and Spencer Ware in a span of less than 3½ minutes.

"Those are self-inflicted wounds," coach Chip Kelly said. "The drops, the turnovers and the penalties are the things that really killed us. Against a team like that, you're not going to win the game."

Harris, who can be found on most preseason All-America teams, was suspended in June after police caught him driving 118 mph, and also having a suspended license at the time.

The Tigers were also without receiver Russell Shepard, who was suspended for at least this game because he discussed another NCAA inquiry with a teammate. He was third in receiving and fourth in rushing for LSU last season.

Besides the legitimate national title hopes both teams had, they had a tie in ongoing NCAA investigations into their dealings with Willie Lyles, who ran a Houston-based service that provided scouting reports of high school players.

And this was the first season-opening game of top-five teams on a neutral field since 1984, when Jimmy Johnson won his debut as coach of Miami against an Auburn squad featuring Bo Jackson a year before he won the Heisman Trophy. There was a crowd of 87,711 at Cowboys Stadium, where LSU played its second consecutive game.

The Tigers ended their 2010 season on the Dallas Cowboys' home field in January with a 41-24 victory over Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl when Jefferson passed for three touchdowns and ran for another score.

But Jefferson is now suspended indefinitely, as is reserve linebacker Josh Johns, because they are facing felony charges of second degree battery stemming from a bar fight near campus last month.

Plenty of subplots in this one.

"We've had a lot on our minds as team coming into this game," Lee said. "It's not something that we wanted to happen. But you have to put that to the side and move forward."

Lee's 10th career start, his first since a win over Louisiana Tech in 2009, was far from spectacular. The senior completed only 10 of 22 passes for 98 yards, but didn't have an interception and appeared steady throughout the game.

The lone LSU turnover came when Lee stepped up toward the line to point out a pending blitz, at the same time the ball was snapped behind him. That set up Rob Beard's second field goal to give Oregon a 6-3 lead.

Oregon, which lost to Auburn in the BCS national championship game last season, has consecutive losses for the first time since they losing its last three regular-season games in 2007.

"This is going to show the character of this team, how hard we're going to come back and play after this loss," Ducks quarterback Darron Thomas said. "The offense had self-inflicted wounds all game."

LSU has won 34 consecutive non-conference games, the longest such streak in the nation, including all 23 in the regular season under seventh-year coach Miles.

"Our football team is united. They play together," Miles said. "You put a ball on the line and they'll scrap you for it."

SPOTLIGHT: THIRD DAY

'Excited about our faith, excited about our music'

By Cecilia Spears
Staff Writer
cspears@chipleypaper.com

Vocalist Mac Powell and acoustic guitarist Mark Lee spoke with us recently on the influences of such bands as Lynyrd Skynyrd, U2 and Rich Mullins on them as they formed the Christian rock band Third Day, who recently performed in Panama City Beach.

"Me and Mac started a Christian rock band in '91 before we even knew what a Christian rock band was," Lee said. "All we knew is that we were excited about our faith, and we were excited about our music."

The duo eventually would add bassist Tai Anderson and David Carr and build a loyal fan base. Shortly after lead guitarist Brad Avery joined, the band signed on with Gray Dot Records.

Lee said the sounds for the band came from bands such as Lynyrd Skynyrd, but the lyrics were from their life experiences.

"A lot of things inspire our music," Lee said. "Mac is the primary songwriter for the group, but we all collaborate on what the songs are going to be about; they come from conversations we've had and the things we've experienced together."

Lee said they've experienced quite a bit together, and one of their biggest motivations is the family they leave behind.

"We spend so much time away from our family, and we want to make sure that the time spent away from them is maximized to the best of our abilities," he said. "It's also our livelihood; so all those factors come into play, but most of all we started with this great vision to do great music that glorified God, and that's still our vision."

They started their debut with the album "Conspiracy No. 5" in 1996, followed by "Offerings" in 1999, "Offerings II: All I have to Give" in 2003 and "Wire" and "Live Wire" in 2004. In 2005, they had a Top 10 hit with "Wherever You Are." They were nominated by the American Music Awards for Favorite Contemporary Inspirational Artist. After they released "Christmas Offerings" in 2006 and completed "Chronology" in 2007, they announced the departure of Avery in 2008.

Third Day then went on and released "Revelation," which was produced by Howard Benson and featured appearances by Chris Daughtry and Lacey Mosely. Third Day won the American Music Award in 2008.

Third Day recently finished its Revelation Tour and is now working on its Make Your Move Tour.

well," Lee said. "We're going on our 11th studio album, and we've got a tremendous response from people; we've really been living those songs."

Lee said one of the songs off the new album, "Move," is "Trust in Jesus."

"Trust in Jesus" has been a personal influence in my life; I'd say it's one of the best top two," Lee said. "It really speaks to me on a personal level."

Third Day started the Make Your Move Tour in February. Normally their tour season would have ended in September, but Lee said they've decided to continue on for another tour season.

Lee said recently, they've been helping promote a couple of upcoming artists during their tour such as Tenth Avenue North and Trevor Morgan.

"Trevor is a great up-and-coming performer," Lee said. "He's toured some with Natalie Grant, and he has such an amazing voice."

Another new development with Third Day is their recent partnership with Christian university Grand Canyon University.

"A year ago we wanted to partner with someone on an academic level, but it's been difficult with us being a Christian band. We have to be careful who we share our image with," Lee said. "It was just before we started with our Make Your Move Tour and we were still looking for someone when Grand Canyon came to us."

After learning more about what the university had to offer and stood for, Lee said they were the perfect partner.

"There's a lot of high school students looking for a place to go, but there's a lot of people our age, in their 30s and 40s, who feel like God's really calling them to continue on with their education because they feel they've got something more they've called to do," Lee said.

He said even some of the band members are continuing their education on the road.

"Tai's taking marketing courses, and I'm taking Christian studies like ministry and theology," Lee said. "When I started out, I really wanted to be in the academic field; growing up I envisioned myself being a teacher. Funny how things turn out differently then what you plan."

Lee said he recently had an interview with a reporter who just got done interviewing someone from the Ringling Circus.

"He said something that really made me think; he said 'It's like we make our plans and then God laughs at our plans and then shows us His plans,'" Lee said. "It's funny, I wanted to be this great academic and here I am."

He said if everything works out, he should have is Bachelor of Art degree in 2013.

"We're right in the thick of things right now, with the tour and our family and school," Lee said. "We're really excited about the road ahead."

Answering obedience training questions

It is a question many pet owners face: does my dog need some obedience training?

“Yes, I recommend obedience training for all dogs, because not only does it help provide basic obedience and command recognition, it also helps bolster basic interactions between people and their pets,” Dr. Stacy Eckman, lecturer at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences (CVMD), explains.

Eckman suggests that all dogs are good candidates for training school.

“Those who are generally more timid may become less fearful or shy around other animals and people after training,” Eckman says. “Those pets that are very boisterous may learn some.”

Obedience training now encompasses classes for dogs of all types, whether your dog is a puppy or needs training in a certain discipline. Classes today are not just for dogs that need correctional discipline due to an unruly attitude.

“Most of the classes focus on basic commands and communication between pets and humans, certainly not just for dogs that act out,” Eckman explains. “These classes are good socialization exercises also.”

Eckman adds, “There are ‘puppy’ classes that are offered that can be started when pets have a minimum number of vaccinations. These are great classes for learning interactions, potty training, etc. There are classes for all ages and stages, so they can start at any time.”

It is best to start at an early age, because it is much easier to establish consistent rules from the beginning than to go back and try to retrain an undesirable habit the dog has been allowed to develop. Once a behavior has developed, training takes longer.

Animal owners have recognized the importance of obedience training and have expressed a need to have opportunities to help train their animals. Therefore, there are a plethora of opportunities around the nation available for your dog to attend a class.

Before you choose your trainer you should follow a checklist. For instance, you should find out how long the person has been training, and how many animals that trainer has instructed. You should also ask them how they keep up with the current knowledge in the field. One last item, is to check their training method. Do they use toys and rewards, or do they verbally explain their disappointment to the effect that it can cause lasting damage to your dog. Then, research trainers in your area who follow the same philosophy you prefer. After this, word of mouth is the best resource when finalizing your pet trainer.

“Once the basics of training are learned, these techniques can be applied at home and expounded on,” Eckman says. “Books can also offer great advice. Online information is also available, but I am skeptical of these due to the large amount of misinformation that can be given over the Internet.”

Owners should remember that dogs are all very different. It is important to understand the needs of your dog so you can match them with the best trainer. It is also important to be patient with your dog, as they all learn at different rates. If understanding, patience, and knowledge are in play, obedience training can be very rewarding for all dogs and owners.

State seeks to help Florida families

Special to Extra

Florida families are getting some extra help to protect and nurture some of the most vulnerable among us — our children. Yesterday, Secretary David Wilkins of the Department of Children and Families, and the Florida Children and Youth Cabinet announced the creation of four new Cabinet workgroups:

- The Human Trafficking Workgroup, chaired by Department of Juvenile Justice Secretary Wansley Walters;
- The Interagency Background Screening Workgroup, chaired by Department of Elder Affairs Secretary Chuck Corley;
- The Community Services Delivery Models Workgroup to improve service integration, chaired by Guardian ad Litem Executive Director Alan Abramowitz;
- Death Review Teams Workgroup, chaired by Agency for Health Care Administration Secretary Elizabeth Dudek.

These new workgroups will help the Cabinet achieve the goal of helping children by sharing information and ideas among all of the state’s agencies who focus on helping Florida’s families.

“The Cabinet’s goals are centered on a commitment to children and youth issues and supporting the healthy growth and development of Florida’s children,” said Secretary Wilkins. “As a Cabinet, we continue to work collaboratively to identify opportunities and implement the changes that need to be made in order to give all of Florida’s children the best possible opportunities to meet their full potential, now and for generations to come.”

The announcement came during the Cabinet meeting held yesterday and hosted by the University of Central Florida.

Florida’s First Lady and Chief Child Advocate Ann Scott, also met with Cabinet members to thank them for their commitment to Florida’s children. “I appreciate the passion, dedication, and hard work of the Florida Children and Youth Cabinet,” said Mrs. Scott. “I know that the Cabinet members do the difficult work to create real changes and deliver services to Florida’s children. I am also encouraged by the positive voice and perspective that the new youth member will bring. This is a wonderful leadership and educational opportunity for these young people.”

Since our last meeting in June, the Cabinet membership has expanded to include advisory members from the business community, faith-based community, higher education, law enforcement and military. Today, Chairman Wilkins announced the addition of an advisory position from the Youth Commission, with teen representatives presenting and having a seat at the table during each meeting. The teens will give a voice for the children and teens in Florida. This will provide the dual benefit of giving the Cabinet a youth voice at the table as well as providing a wonderful opportunity for the Youth Commission to be involved with state leaders.

“Our children are Florida’s most precious resource – and it is the mission of the Florida Children and Youth Cabinet to seek improved coordination and communication across our state agencies that serve children. We are looking forward to working with the new members of the Cabinet and the new workgroups to accomplish our mission,” said Cyndee Odom, Director of the Governor’s Office Adoption and Child Protection. “I thank Governor Scott, First Lady Ann Scott and the administration for their support of the Cabinet’s vision and mission.”

9/11: Praying for America – again!

On Sunday, Sept. 11, America will remember that 10 years ago we were attacked by evil forces who had plotted for years — even tried and failed a couple of times — to bring America (who they consider infidels) to their knees. Though part of their mission failed, because of the quick response of our leaders and courageous Americans who altered their intentions, they still managed to murder thousands of America citizens in one day. The following Sunday, America did fall on her knees, as churches found their buildings full across the land. But we were soon back to forgetting God.

A year later, as clean up at Ground Zero continued, a memorial service was planned with very strict guidelines. Though clergy would be invited to come and pray, they were all instructed that none could pray in the name of Jesus. Who would ever have thought that the memorial service would bring more tragedy to America than the original attack? The record shows, that until this day, the name of Jesus was not spoken, nor were there any Southern Baptist ministers present to lead in prayer that day, because there is no other name by which we can pray.

FROM THE HEART

Ten years have passed and many great tragedies have taken place throughout this land that we love, and many times our leaders have asked us to pray. But as the families gather to remember their loved ones whose lives were taken without any thought of their value, there will be an absence of a particular group of people from the platform to comfort and ensure them of a greater hope. This year, there will be no clergy at all. They have been told that politicians will give the people what they need to hear that day.

Do you realize that most of our leaders were students when the country decided to take the Bible and prayer out of our government schools and replace it with the religion of Atheism (Evolution). So today, like most Americans, they worship the god they love most, self. So, the only hope and comfort they can offer is that things will eventually correct themselves and work out, if we work hard enough at it.

On Sept. 11, 2001, many proclaimed that war had been declared on America, but in reality, it was not as much the beginning of a war; but a wake-up call to a war that we have been ignoring far too long, the war between good and evil. And though our soldiers are placed all around the world, engaged in battle to confront this evil attack on us, evil won a great battle on Sept. 11, 2002, when we were told we could pray in any name, except the name of Jesus Christ. But the war is not over!

Judy reminded me of something I've said many times, "No one can take prayer out of the school, the courthouse or from Ground Zero." Prayer has never even been taken from countries around the world that many of our political leaders admire, where it is illegal to pray. Because prayer comes from the heart of a man or woman who has a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, bought through His blood He shed on Calvary's cross, and by their obedience to Him as their Lord.

Though we may not stand on a stage, behind a microphone and pray to the only Holy God who judges His enemies with righteousness, I can still pray and actually be more effective than standing in a public square. For Jesus taught us in Luke 18:10-14 that God is not interested in our self-righteousness that we might proclaim on the stage or street corner, but in our humble and sincere repentance. The sad truth of the matter is the elimination of prayer in public places (such as school, court houses and Ground Zero) is our fault. They would not have tried, nor could they have ever taken it away, if we first and foremost prayed in our homes and churches. Before we fight and cry out about the injustice taking place in America against "Christian Prayer" we need to reestablish it in our homes and churches with open Bibles, so God can speak to us about the sin that is in our lives. Though no one may pray from the podium at Ground Zero on Sept. 11 for this America that I love, I will be praying for the U.S., and praise the Lord, no one can stop me.

Could You Give Everything Away

Jesus told his potential followers that whoever of you does not renounce all that he has cannot be my disciple (Luke 14:33). And Jesus advised the ruler who asked him what he must do to inherit eternal life that he should sell everything he had, distribute the money to the poor, and come follow Him (Luke 18:22).

Just as this was very hard for the rich ruler to hear, so it is hard for us to imagine giving everything we have to the poor and following in Jesus' footsteps. Despite the fact that there are millions of Christians, very few have been able to do this. Those few who have chosen to follow the monastic life may take vows of poverty, but even so, they often have access to all the modern comforts of hearth and home. For most of us, we simply enjoy our possessions too much to imagine giving them all away. And, we can justify our non-adherence to this particular precept by saying as long as we are not too attached to our possessions, we are abiding by the spirit of the gospels. Or, as long as we tithe and give to the poor and needy, we are trying to be good Christians. These may be convenient rationalizations, and it may even be true that we can do more good by continuing to work and amass wealth which we can then give to charity; however, we have to be honest enough to admit that most of us do not live up to this gospel precept.

Sell your possessions, and give alms...For where your treasure, there will your heart be also.
R.S.V. Luke 12:33-34

Mary Frank Ward Huntley, 78, of Orange Park, passed away Sept. 1, 2011, at her home, Fairway Oaks, surrounded by her family.

MARY WARD HUNTLEY

Mary Huntley was born Feb. 18, 1933, in Slocomb, Ala., to Wyatt C. and Ruby Elizabeth Ward. Mary grew up in Bonifay, with her parents and her recently departed older brother, Harold Gene Ward where she completed high school. "Mary Frank" as she was known to her hometown friends, was an outstanding student, skipping a grade level and graduating a year early. She was also an outstanding athlete, cheerleader and drum major. She attended Sacred Heart School of Nursing in Pensacola. Mary was also Miss Holmes County and Miss Fort Rucker. Mary met the love of her life, Louis L. Huntley, who was an officer in the U.S. Army, while working at Fort Rucker, Ala. They were married on July 27, 1952, and celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 2002. Mary and Louis built a beautiful life together and were married almost 54 years before he died July 12, 2006. Mary was an active member of the Orange Park United Methodist Church where she chaired numerous committees including the Altar Guild, which she founded, and Worship Committee. She served as Youth Director and was President of the Women's Group. Mary was also very involved in the community. She served on the Board of Visitors at the Thrasher-Horne Center for the Arts where she established the Florida Artist's Fund to give students an opportunity and subsidy for workshops, field trips and hands-on experiences. She was a member of the board of the Clay County Salvation Army, the Clay County Council on Aging and was presented their arts award for her financial support of the cultural arts in Clay County in 2008. Mary was a past president of the American Cancer Society in Clay County, participated in the non-profit organization now known as Clay & Baker Kids Net and served on the board of the Penney Retirement Community. Mary was well known for her gift of hospitality and gardening. She served as a past president of the Orange Park Garden Club and was in the Cardinal's Garden Circle. She was also noted for her flower arrangements for which she won numerous awards. She was a member of PEO and the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America. The love that Louis Huntley had for his treasured wife Mary will now embrace visitors of the Lee Adams Florida Artists Gallery. Envisioned as a bridge for Florida artists of the past, present and future and located at the Thrasher-Horne Center for the Arts in the Mary Ward Huntley Wing. The gallery was formally dedicated to the residents of the State of Florida in November 2004. Mary Huntley passionately believed that "great artists are everywhere... some of the best live here in our state, in our community, in our backyard." It was her commitment to nurturing these artists, and Louis' love for her that created this gallery. Her legacy to the visual arts and to the inspired artists she so adored will forever live for visitors of her gallery and for artists whose works will be on display for the community to view. Mary was a loving, gracious, Christian lady. A true lifter, Mary never shied from speaking kindness to others. She was loved and adored by her children and grandchildren and will be missed. The beauty and light she brought into the lives of everyone she knew and touched will be with us always. Mary and Louis are survived by their three children, Frank, Edith (Kemp Stickney) and Ward (Betsy) Huntley; grandchildren include Eason Huntley, Anne Michael Smith (Rick), Macy Huntley, Ashley Huntley, Taylor Huntley, Farrell Huntley, Bogan Huntley, Crocker Stickney and Eliza Stickney. Storm clouds rolled through the area Monday. There were numerous reports of power outages in the area, including one in downtown Panama City south of Sixth Street.

Storms, wind sweep area in Lee's wake

By Chris Olwell
Florida Freedom Newspapers

PANAMA CITY — Storms and severe winds moved through the area Monday on the heels of Tropical Storm Lee, knocking down trees and causing power outages.

Wet weather put a damper on the holiday weekend. Much of the Panhandle was under a severe thunderstorm warning, and Bay County was under a tornado watch Monday afternoon.

"It's all associated with Lee moving northeast across Alabama," said meteorologist Jeff Evens with the National Weather Service in Tallahassee.

As of 7 p.m. Monday, Gulf Power was working to restore power for 20,000 customers in the Panhandle, spokesman Jeff Rogers said. A little less than 10,000 people were without power in Bay, Holmes, Jackson and Washington counties, he added. The outages were caused by downed trees or branches that had fallen on power lines or transformers.

"For the last 24 hours, there has been a lot of that because of the winds blowing through," Rogers said. He added that power was expected to be restored to all customers by the end of the day Tuesday.

Wind gusts between 60 and 65 mph were reported at the airport Monday afternoon, Evens said. They knocked out trees in Bay County, and in Jackson County, a tornado touched down, removing a tree and moving a farmer's tractor, according to the weather service.

"It's been blowing like a son of a gun," Panama City Beach Police Chief Robert Harding said. The department's headquarters sustained some minor wind damage Monday when an aluminum awning blew off, Harding said.

Most of the damage caused Monday afternoon was similarly minor, Harding said. A burned-out townhouse lost part of its remaining roof, but the structure was already weakened by the fire, Harding said. Some power lines were downed, but there had been no reported waterspouts on the tail end of Lee, Harding said.

But the good news is the storm will be followed by cooler and drier than normal conditions the rest of the week, Evens said. Those conditions were expected to begin Tuesday, with high temperatures in the 80s and overnight lows in the low 60s this week, Evens said.
