DMH: Get a breast exam now

Special to the Times-Advertiser

Although the month of October is almost behind us and much has been said about breast cancer awareness, don't delay your yearly mammogram and monthly breast self-exams. Believe it or not, the best time to check for breast cancer is when your breasts feel fine. If you find cancer early, there are more treatment options and a much better chance for survival. Doctors Memorial Hospital offers digital mammography screening, an X-ray picture of the breast, the best screening method used today to find breast cancer early. Although it is not perfect, when mammography is combined with a clinical breast exam and a breast self-exam, your chance of finding cancer are even greater.

Breast cancer is the most common cancer diagnosed among women in Florida. Although breast cancer is more prevalent in women, men can get it, too. It is recommended that women ages 20-39 have a clinical breast exam at least every three years. Women at higher risk may need to get screened earlier and more frequently than recommended. A breast self-exam is a tool that may help you learn what is normal for you. BSE includes looking at and feeling your breasts. Many women have a pattern of lumpiness in their breast, which is normal. But if you feel any change or a new lump in your breast or underarms, ask your doctor to examine the area.

Longtime SHIP Project coming to a close

By CECILIA SPEARS

cspears@chipleypaper.com

BONIFAY — After more than two years in the making, the longtime State Housing Initiatives Partnership program project is coming to a close after the Holmes County Board of County Commissioners approved to grant the project a Certification of Occupancy during their regularly scheduled meeting on Oct. 9.

"This is a long-time SHIP Project," County Attorney Jeff Goodman said. "We're trying to get one resident in her new home, and because of certain circumstances, it must be paid by the county."

Goodman said because of a variety of mishaps due to failings on the part of the contractor, the homeowner and the county two years ago, the county had to pay for the prolonged SHIP project.

"We could try to pursue the contractor that is primarily at fault in this issue," Goodman said. "However it would cost the county and their citizens far more to try to pursue the matter legally then to rectify the problem ourselves."

Richard Harrison to run for State Senate

From Staff Reports

MARIANNA — Richard Harrison has announced that he is a candidate for Florida State Senate District 1, which includes Jackson, Washington, Holmes, Walton, Bay and the south part of Okaloosa counties. He is running with no party affiliation.

Harrison was born in Marianna, Jackson County, in 1952 at the old Jackson Hospital. He graduated from Altha School in 1970 and from Chipola Junior College in 1971 with an Associate of Arts degree. He is an active farmer and has lived most of his life in Jackson County.

For about 10 years, Harrison was a small business owner, running a nursery business in Marianna and an at-home nursery as well.

Harrison attends both a Baptist church and a Methodist church. He has a daughter, who is currently in college. Harrison is semi-retired, and he grows about 30 acres of pecans and an acre of sugarcane.

He is a founding member and board member of the Southern Syrup Makers Association in Blountstown, which has more than 100 members around the Southeast. He was also a founding member of and meeting planner for the Southern Fruit Fellowship in Meridian, Miss., which has grown to about 250 members from around the Southeast. He is also a member of two Patriot groups and is an avid conservative.

Harrison said he is running for State Senate because he wants to see "we the people" better represented in Tallahassee.

"It is my desire to represent the will of the people of this area, not just the will of special interests," he said.

"I am a 'citizen candidate' having no previous experience as an elected official or politician. I believe that makes me better qualified to represent the people because I won't owe political favors to special interests."

If you are age 40 and older, a yearly clinical breast exam and mammogram is recommended. Again, a monthly breast self-exam is a tool that can be used to learn what is normal for your body.

Talk to your health care provider about your risk of breast cancer. Ask which screening methods are right for you. Here are some questions you might want to ask:

1. What is my personal risk for getting breast cancer?
2. Do I need a mammogram? If not, why not?
3. Where can I go to get a mammogram?
4. What if I cannot afford a mammogram?
5. How often should I get

- a mammogram?
6. How often do I need a clinical breast exam?
 7. What is the best way to do a breast self-exam?
 8. Should I consider additional tests related to my risk?

There are trouble signs that should not be ignored. Be aware of possible problems in your breast or underarm area. If you notice any of the following signs, make an appointment with your health care provider right away.

- Lumps, hard knots or thickening in any part of the breast
- Swelling, warmth, redness or darkening that does not go away
- Change in the size or shape of your breast
- Dimpling or puckering

of the skin of your breast

- Itchy, scaly sore or rash on the nipple
- Pulling in of your nipple or other parts of the breast
- Nipple discharge that starts suddenly
- New pain in one spot that does not go away

Remember, even if you feel healthy now, just being a woman and getting older puts you at risk for breast cancer. Getting checked regularly can put your mind at ease and finding cancer early may save your life.

Don't forget to vote for Doctors Memorial Hospital's video in the Pink Gloves Dance Off

Doctors Memorial Hospital has joined countless others to get "down" and enter in this year's Pink Glove Dance video contest hosted by Medline. Two years ago, Medline produced the original Pink Glove Dance video to raise breast cancer awareness. The video has generated more 13 million views on YouTube, inspiring countless pink glove dance videos and events around the world.

According to the official website, www.pinkglove-dance.com, the top three winners will receive donations in their name to a breast cancer charity of their choice, such as the National Breast Cancer Foundation. The donations are $10,000 for first place, $5,000 for second place and $2,000 for third place.

Doctors Memorial Hospital has been working steadily for months to create and submit their video. Their song of choice is "Down" by Jay Sean, which was the song used in the original Pink Glove Dance video.

All videos were posted on pinkglove-dance.com on Oct. 12 and viewers can vote for their favorite video. Voting is through Facebook and is based on the number of "likes" the video has. Voting officially ends on Oct. 26 and winners will be announced on Nov. 2.

"You can vote once a day," said Brenda Blitch of Doctors Memorial Hospital. "We appreciate all the support that the community given. We couldn't have asked for better support."

Hospitals, nursing homes and schools aren't the only ones who are able to submit videos for the contest.

Anyone in the United States who wants to organize a group of people can create and submit their own Pink Glove Dance video.

For more information visit the official website at www.pinkglove-dance.com.

Photos, videos, updates and links will be available at the Washington County News/Holmes County Advertiser Facebook page, so keep checking.

Go to www.pinkglove-dance.com to vote or via a link from Facebook.com/medlinebreastcancer-awareness. Voting will end on Oct. 26. Voting will be done through Facebook and you must have a Facebook account to vote. You can only vote for your favorite one time as it will be done by "likes."

The board approved to grant the project a Certification of Occupancy, which shows that the house is now to standards to be occupied.

Holmes County Building Inspector Roger Williams assured the board that the house was "safe and clean" and cleared to be lived in. The only things unfinished about the home were cosmetic applications, such as painting the front and back doors, and she was in need of a refrigerator and stove.

Williams also informed the board that the trailer would also have to be demolished.

In other news, the board voted to accept the resignation of Mike Alvis from the Holmes County Development Commission.

"We've been looking at several projects to expand business in Holmes County," Alvis said. "It seems that my clients may be a conflict of interest."

An example given was the Dollar General Store that came to Esto.

"My company deals with putting Dollar General Stores in many locations, and Esto was just one of the locations we wanted it to go," Alvis said. "When it came to my company and voting on the Development Commission I would always abstain from voting. However, we've got interested investment groups coming to Holmes County. I would like to respectfully request to accept my resignation and to appoint someone else in my place."

The board approved of appointing Benny Little to replace Alvis on the Development Commission.

Mike Mathis, senior forester with the Florida Division of Forestry reported that training for cogongrass spraying is going well, and there were more than 31 homeowners that have joined the cost-share program to treat for the ne-science plant.

The board agreed with looking into Commissioner Kenneth Williams' idea to get a man from each district certified to treat cogongrass.

The board approved of Interstate Commercial as their new contracted janitorial services for $36,000 per year.

"We went to bid about a month ago and got three bids back," said Goodman. "We should make it mandatory to go out to bid for these services every three years."

Music said that he would miss the previous services.

"I hope they do as good a job as Donna Hendrix," said Music. "She'd done a fine good job."

The board approved of Holmes County Development Commission Chairman Bud Riviere's request for Goodman to be the development commission's legal consultant on conducting meetings and member requirements, etc.

County Engineer Cliff Knauer told the board that the application for the Florida Boating Improvement Program through the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission to build a boat ramp on the west end portion of the Choctawhatchee River off of Highway 90 in Holmes County was unsuccessful.

"Most of the money went to central Florida," said Knauer.

Knauer suggested that they get things approved with the Florida Department of Transportation first and then move forward to reapply on Feb. 5.

Holmes County Chamber of Commerce Coordinator Julia Bullington said she was excited to see that the Holmes County BOCC was now using the new logo on all their letterheads.

The board approved of reappointing Jack Locke to the Tri-County Airport Authority Board after receiving a letter of recommendation from the authority board requesting that Locke be reinstated.

The commissioners also approved of the addition of the bonus policy to the employee manual stating that the terms and conditions of employees to receive bonuses, which included stipulations such as the employee must be full-time or part-time employees past their 90-day evaluation and non-seasonal.

"You also wanted me to clarify at the last meeting that in order to be considered a full-time employee you must have 35 hours or more," said Goodman.

"Somehow it had been amended that the hours be reduced to 32 hours. I'm here to tell you that we do have a couple of employees that will be affected by changing the hours to 35."

The next regularly scheduled BOCC meeting is set for 6 p.m. Oct. 30 at the BOCC chamber behind the Holmes County Court House.

Harrison has spent many hours in Tallahassee in Senate and House committee meetings observing how laws are created and speaking on the behalf of the average consumer and citizen at a number of these meetings.

Harrison has assumed the role of leadership in the grassroots movements regarding the septic tank law, the energy bill and the ethanol mandate.

He feels that experience with legislative committee meetings qualifies him to better represent the citizens of District 1.

He believes the legislative system in Tallahassee and Washington needs to be changed in order to represent the will of the people.

Taking a look back at Panama City

The Panama City News-Herald's year-long 75th Anniversary Celebration, commemorating its faithful service in disseminating the news since 1937, has really caught my interest. In late April 1944, upon my graduation from Vernon High School, I went to Panama City to work. The then-new newspaper was only in its eighth year of business!

PERRY'S PRATTLE
Perry Wells

The young town of Panama City came alive during the years of World War II. In addition to the International Paper Mill's established payroll, Wainwright Shipyard and Tyndall AFB began dumping major weekly contributions into the economy of the fledgling town, resulting in many changes in the lifestyle of its residents. Nowhere were those changes more evident than on Harrison Avenue between Beach Drive and 6th Street, and especially between 4th and 6th Streets.

This all happened close to 70 years ago, but I remember it well. As a fresh-off-the-farm teenage boy, working at Christo's 5 & 10 cent store (219 Harrison Ave., where I met 15 year old Hester Lucas, who was my wife to be), I was an eyewitness to all the flurry of downtown activity. The Panama Billiard Parlor, with draft beer and excellent hot dogs, The Panama Theater, Coleman and Still Clothing, Cogburn's Men's Wear, The Commercial Bank and Les Gilbert's Bar were some of the businesses on lower Harrison.

A larger Christo's store, along with McCrory's, J. C. Penney, and the former Walgreen Drug Store location was then Childs Cut Rate Drugs. The Ritz Theater (later the Martin) and numerous other retail outlets were in the upper section of the business district. Downtown merchants remained open until 8 p.m. on Friday and until 6 p.m. on Saturday. City buses ran, bringing shoppers in on 6th Street from the east, all the way from Springfield, Millville and Bay Harbor, and from the west from the shipyard, via St. Andrews and Beach Drive, also coming in on 6th Street. I also remember that the Dixie-Sherman was only about 16 years old, and the Marie Hotel and several boarding facilities housed those living in the hub of the shopping district.

The throng of shoppers in the city on any given day is indescribable. Street vendors, shoe shine stands, a few panhandlers, and at least one female street preacher could be found utilizing the walking traffic for their purposes.

The one outstanding vendor, whose name I never knew, is still unknown to me. (If this writing reaches anyone who knew him, I would appreciate your letting me know.) The Panama City Herald came off the press at noon and would hit the streets with news as fresh as that very morning. This particular unnamed vendor was the only person I can recall as peddling the papers. He walked the sidewalks at a fast pace, yelling "Pan-e-maw City Herald," then dropped his volume and added "now just look what they've done." I heard the man announce the death of the city's popular Mayor, Harry G. Fannin, and the nation's wartime president, Franklin Roosevelt.

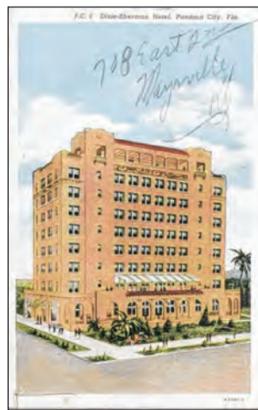

One particular recollection is the day the newspaper hawk stepped up into a city bus, parked in front of the Splendid Restaurant, yelled out his sales cry, immediately stepped out with no sale, walked into the eatery, made his rounds, walked out, stepped back into the waiting bus with a new yell — "have you changed your mind?"

Another notable man, name unknown to the writer, kept his personal sales items closed in a cigar box, and clutched close to his chest. His method was to sidle up to a male pedestrian and almost whisper in the ear, inquiring "how ya fixed for" razor blades and other items which were strictly taboo to speak of in those days, but which are now displayed and sold openly all over the country.

The street preacher, calling herself Sister Susie Carol McDaniels, was known to make loud and sudden outbursts in her preaching. Upon hearing those once too often, a man who took the brunt of her voice turned to her and said: "I wish somebody would shoot you!"

My brother Jim Wells, who still resides in the city, confirms my memory that the candy man, who sold from a cardboard box hanging from his neck with a strap, was named Jim Neal Williams. Mr. Williams gave a strong sales pitch for each item, seeming to caress each one, appearing to not really want to part with the treasured goods. He is remembered for his friendly disposition and laughter.

Jim also recalls the shoeshine man who had his elaborate stand set up near the Ritz. His street cry, appealing for another customer, was "Shine 'em up and get a gloss!"

There was another shoeshine person at the Pure Station (operated by Bruce and Byron Collins at the corner of 5th and Harrison). Jim relates an incident when he called for more polish on one shoe after the vendor had considered it finished. Obviously the complaint irritated the shine man's ego to the point that he looked up and said, "ain't it to suit ya?"

Bordering on panhandling was an older woman, obviously confined to a wheelchair, who had pencils to hand to those who dropped coins in the box attached to the chair. She constantly expressed her dismay and disgust at the crowded conditions on the sidewalks and was heard complaining on one occasion: "People in this town don't stay home long enough to eat breakfast!"

The "prattler" treasures all of the above experiences in the World War II era, and may be inclined to write additional articles on Bay County and Panama City, his home in early life. See you all next week.

District 2 Florida Garden Clubs meet in Graceville Oct. 10

On the heels of Bonifay's Northwest Florida Championship Rodeo, the District 2 Florida Garden Clubs met in Graceville this week with a Western theme. We felt right at home among hay bails, beautiful fall foliage and flowers and ladies dressed in western attire. Graceville Garden Club, fifty one members strong, rolled out the straw to almost 150 club members from Bonifay, Chipley, Gulf Beach, Lynn Haven, Marianna, Friendship Marianna, Panama City, Port St. Joe, Sneads, Vernon and Wausau.

The whole program centered around the theme, Western Fall Family Roundup. Presiding District Director, Jane Brewer from the Panama City Beach club emphasized the characteristics of family among garden club members. State officers were in attendance. Three members of the Bonifay Garden Club were in attendance, DiAnn Shores, Jane Segrest, and myself. Carrying home honors for the largest percentage of membership growth in the past year was the Vernon club with a 26% increase. Their application for a grant to beautify their city's part of Hwy 79 when the 4-lane construction is complete has been approved and hopefully they will receive monies for that project. Chipley and Wausau clubs won 2nd and 3rd honors, respectively for their membership increase.

The Bonifay Garden Club was chartered in 1951 with eight members, all now deceased: Mrs. T.O. Adams (Alta), Mrs. James Davis (Louise), Mrs. Vella Newton, Mrs.

Brooks Padgett (Marie), Mrs. Bartow Saunders (Syble), Mrs. R.H. Segrest (Sarah), and Mrs. Clifford Williams (Annie Lee). They joined the Federation of Florida Garden Clubs in 1953 and in 2003, the club voted to withdraw from the federation. However, Bonifay club rejoined the Florida Federation in 2010 placing our strength with the 14,000 other FFGC members and the 188,000 National Federation of Garden Club members. Florida was a founding club for the national organization and is second only to California today in number of members. The national headquarters for NFGC is in St Louis, Mo.

In its early days, flower arranging was the major emphasis for Garden Clubs. In 1953, Bonifay G.C. held its first flower show at the Bonifay Woman's Club House on Waukeskha Street. We were living in the Terulis and Stella Creel home on the same block. Their daughter, the late Marian Creel Kelly was very involved with the show. They had a miniature division, and our toddler son, Hiram, and I made an arrangement for that. The show was open to the public and I was so impressed with the artistic arrangements, the niches, and the shadow boxes. Bonifay ladies who became Certified Flower Show judges were Ann Howell, Wilhemina Parish Belcer, and the late Syble Saunders and Sarah Segrest.

Although flower shows are still a part of Garden Clubs, there is much more emphasis on environmental issues such as water conservation, preservation of historical places and natural resources, recycling, and educational programs for youth. FFGC holds camps for children and youth ages at Wekiva Youth Camp.

The Blue Star Marker program which started in 1945 to honor those who served in WWII is still very much a part of garden clubs. Bonifay Garden Club maintains the Blue Star Marker on HWY 90 east in Bonifay.

Bonifay Garden Club has 19 active members and 3 honorary life members, Edna Laney, Helen Mahs, and Eloise LaBarre. Some of our projects in addition to the Blue Star Marker are maintaining the planter at the entrance to memorial Field, landscaping and keeping the flowering planters in the courtyard at Drs Memorial Hospital, sponsoring an intermediate garden club of 6th graders from Mrs. Dawn Barone's Science classes, observing Arbor Day with the planting of trees at Bonifay Elementary School, assisting every first grader in making a take-home live Christmas arrangement, and other activities. At our monthly programs held on the second Friday of each month we have demonstrations on growing & maintaining plants, shrubs and trees, flower arranging, and other beautification and conservation ideas.

Although our membership now contains only ladies, we welcome interested men and women to join Bonifay Garden Club. Couples would be especially welcome. October and November meetings will be held at Florida Springs Club House on Son-in-Law Road in Bonifay. The December meeting will be at he Wells Old Home on Brackin Road south of the Washington County Line. The president is Sandra Devine 535-2294. Or you may call me at 547-4696, Joan Stevenson at 547-2725 or any garden club member.

Chipley Garden Club is celebrating its 80th Anniversary with a reception on November 2, 2012 from 3-5 P.M. at the Blue Lake Community Center south of I-10 in Chipley. They will also honor Jane Brewer; 2011-2013 District II Director of FFGC. The public is invited to attend.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

is the consensus, then that will be end of it. If YES, is the consensus by the public, the Holmes County Commissioners will then set the perimeters and the hours on Sunday sales. Please know, that if this is passed, it will only affect a few businesses in the county such as Sam's Place and us the Dogwood Lakes Golf Club as well as one or two other grocery type stores. Esto and Westville already have their own ordinances in place to be able to sell beer on Sunday. The town of Bonifay will not be included, if passed, because they have their own ordinance for NO Alcohol sales on Sunday. At this time, we are dealing with folks who bring their own beer here on Sunday that they have purchased outside the county, we clean up their beer cans/bottles, and we (the county and the business) are losing the revenue. Holmes County wants to bring in tourism, but yet, we cannot offer the same beverage services to them as Bay or Walton County golf courses can. Why should the surrounding counties reap the rewards? Please think about this before you vote.

Dear Editor,
Being a native of Northwest Florida — I love living in Ebro and Washington County.

But I spent 35 years in Atlanta, Ga., During that time I served in the Georgia Legislature for 10 years and had the opportunity to meet and know governors, senators and even two presidents.

Charles Brock, our County Commissioner is one of the most responsive and hard working elected officials I have ever known. He certainly deserves to be re-elected.

Respectfully,
Dr. Johnny Savage

Mystery 'dollar store' may come to Bonifay

By CECILIA SPEARS
547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chipleypaper.com

BONIFAY — City Engineer Amir Zafar of Hatch Mott MacDonald reported that he received a call from a development company wishing to build a store near the Tom Thumb on State Road 79 during their regularly scheduled meeting held on Oct. 8.

Zafar explained that the land use was already properly designated urban/mixed use and they needed to extend the water and sewer lines to the area to properly support the new business. All they needed from the city was the cost.

The council approved of an impact fee of $10,000 and a tap fee of $1,200.

When the council inquired about what store would be built there, Zafar told them that the company requested that the information on the company be limited and be described as being "similar to a dollar store."

Bonifay City Council approved of Halloween in Bonifay to be held from 5-7 p.m. on Oct. 31.

"That's when we usually have our Treat Street with the church," council member Richard Woodham said.

Treat Street is 5-7 p.m. on Oct. 31 on North Etheridge Street in Bonifay as a safe alternative for trick-or-treating.

Bonifay residents Alice Pippin and Melissa Hall came in with concerns about speeders on North Caryville Road.

"It's a 30 mph residential area, and still people drive that road like there's no tomorrow," Pippin said. "Traffic is like 'zoom, zoom, zoom,' and we've got children on that road. We need a three-way stop sign put up."

Public Works Director Jack Marell said that he knew of that area very well and agreed that it was in need of a three-way stop sign.

City Attorney Lucas Taylor advised that the only requirement for the city is to put an advertisement in the paper letting residents know that a three-way stop sign is being put up in that location.

The council also approved of Amendment 205 to Ordinance 384 relating to rabies and animal control, providing definitions, relating to declared rabies outbreaks, reporting animal bites and quarantine, providing for restraint provisions, establishment of enforcement and penalties, providing for severability in the event that any part is found invalid, unlawful or unconstitutional and providing for an effective date.

Council member Roger Brooks informed the council that there had been multiple calls from disgruntled Mediacom customers about losing their local channels, especially the Dothan channel.

"We could send them a letter, but I don't know how much good that will do," Taylor said.

Brooks said he would use the number provided by the Mediacom representative to see what can be done.

Mayor Lawrence Cloud said that he had been receiving complaints about having trouble getting into the Bonifay City Cemetery on the weekends.

"We're doing what we can to rectify the problem," Cloud said.

"If any one experiences any more trouble they can call me."

Brooks complimented on the large crowd that gathered in Bonifay for rodeo weekend.

"We had a good crowd every night this weekend," Brooks said. "Police Chief Chris Wells said there were very few arrests and would've probably happened regardless of the rodeo."

Brooks said that State Rep. Steve Southerland said he couldn't believe there was that many people packed into a small city like Bonifay.

"They did a very good job cleaning up the street after the rodeo," Taylor said. "We've got to commend Jack and his people on the outstanding job they've done."

The next regularly scheduled meeting for Bonifay City Council is scheduled for 6 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 29.

Girls Night Out: Fight like a girl

By CECILIA SPEARS
547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chipleypaper.com

CHIPLEY — In observance of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, hundreds rallied together for food, shopping and support at Northwest Florida Community Hospital's annual event Girls Night Out on Oct. 11 at the Washington County Agricultural Center in Chipley.

Vendors came to sell their wares and donate portions for cancer causes such as the American Cancer Society and Susan G. Komen for a Cure.

Two guest speakers, Dianne Myrick and Jo Ann Truette, were invited to give their testimonies of how they experienced, coped and fought to overcome breast cancer. "You've got to have the spiritual; you have to talk to Him," Myrick said. "Cause He knows what's going on. No one else knows because they're not going through it, but He knows. My chemo family, I love them. We have a ball. When one leaves, it makes us sad, but we are so grateful. I'm grateful that I have breast cancer and not my children, not my grandchildren.

"I've seen children with cancer," Myrick said. "I can handle it for my children, I can handle it for all of you. If you don't have a support group, call me. I'll support you. I've seen women who have nobody. I have a list; we're going through it together. Do it together. That's your family now. They know what you're going through. Don't give up. Don't get depressed. You're going to. I've been there.

"I've shed my tears. I've got depressed. I had to make myself get up. Just because you've got cancer doesn't mean you should stop living. In fact, I live more now than I did without cancer. I'm more spiritual now than I was without. You gain much more than you lose, but you've got to have a positive attitude," Myrick said.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES-ADVERTISER

Themed in pink from corner to corner, Girls Night Out promised a night of shopping, chocolate, goodies and education on Breast Cancer Awareness.

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him and He will direct your path," Truette said.

"It's amazing. God's given me a bigger testimony than I've ever had. He has opened the door.

"I am so blessed, and I am so grateful that God has put me in a place where I can share that with you. Cancer is nothing but a problem. I figure that any problem that we can have on this earth can be handled with Him, and He grants us the Grace even in spite of ourselves, because He's good at that, too."

An open door policy isn't based on WHO is knocking, WHEN they're knocking or WHAT they need.

Rodeo earns Kiwanis more than $86,980

By CECILIA SPEARS

BONIFAY — The Bonifay Kiwanis Club earned $86,980 through this year's rodeo, according to preliminary totals.

"We give much needed sponsorships to our local children," said Sandy Spear, regional sales manager and vice president of the Bonifay Kiwanis Club. "We've given out $10,000 in scholarships to five recipients this year, and I think with some fine tuning we can increase that to $20,000 and 10 recipients."

The Bonifay Kiwanis Club spent their Oct. 3 meeting reviewing how to improve services and increase sales at the next year's rodeo.

"It's nothing major we need to do to improve on the services we've got to offer," said Bill Bullington, president of Bonifay Kiwanis Club. "We just need better organization and better communication. It takes a lot of help and a lot of good volunteers to make it a success."

Several suggestions included parade marshals to insure the pace of the parade and protect children, combining coke and concession stands for increased convenience for customers and possibly people to take concessions out to the crowd, selling items like peanuts, drinks, etc.

Wounded vets honored at camp dedication

Special to Times-Advertiser

TALLAHASSEE — Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam and Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Florida Forest Service honored the sacrifices of Florida's wounded veterans at the dedication of the first Operation Outdoor Freedom recreation camp, Camp Prairie, on Lake Wales Ridge State Forest in Frostproof.

"The dedication of Camp Prairie not only honors the sacrifices of our soldiers, but also illustrates the impact our Armed Forces have on our communities," Putnam said. "From inception to construction, Camp Prairie and Operation Outdoor Freedom has been a passion for the residents and businesses in Frostproof, a unique way to give back to our heroic veterans. The generous support from Polk County businesses made Camp Prairie possible for our wounded veterans."

Operation Outdoor Freedom, including Camp Prairie, is a statewide program of the department and Florida Forest Service, which allows areas on Florida's state forests to be set aside for special-use recreation by wounded veterans of the United States Armed Forces. All funding for the program, including the construction of Camp Prairie, is generated through private donations.

Almost 150 guests attended the dedication ceremony, including Representative Greg Steube who sponsored legislation in 2011 that established Operation Outdoor Freedom. The ceremony showcased the new facilities at Camp Prairie which include a summer kitchen, a pavilion and two bunk houses that will house wounded veterans for weekend recreational activities.

"The Florida Forest Service is grateful to have the opportunity to participate in such a worthwhile program," said Jim Karels, director of the Florida Forest Service. "Thanks to the vision of Commissioner Putnam and Representative Steube, we are able to give back to those who gave so greatly for each of us."

Since 2010, the Florida Forest Service has hosted more than 100 wounded veterans on 10 state forests; each time providing a unique recreation experience that for some is their first opportunity to get outdoors since returning home.

For program information or to get involved in Operation Outdoor Freedom, visit www.floridastateforests.org/operationoutdoorfreedom.

Scarecrows invade 'Fall Into History' Fest

People's Choice Award went to the Washington County Council on Aging — Adult Activities Center.

First Place Business/Candidate/Club was won by Ken Naker's "Ken Naker for Tax Collector" — his arm waved back and forth.

CHIPLEY — Chipley Garden Club's second annual Scarecrow Contest on Saturday, was a site to behold. Before daylight, scarecrows began appearing on the lawn at Washington County Historical Society's "Fall Into History" Fest. By opening time, there were 28 scarecrows of various sizes, shapes and themes on the East lawn.

There were 21 scarecrow scenarios set up, and just to mention a few there was: A little boy scarecrow lounging on a blanket watching the visitors go by through his binoculars, the "Headless Horseman of Orange Hill," Miss "Crow-ella Da Ville" all dressed in black and white, Gulf Power's lineman scarecrow was up the pole "Keeping the Lights On" for "Drew's Batman" and "AM-VET Oscar," the "Redneck Recliners" roasted marshmallows as the Covenant Hospice "Express!" train headed out, politicians and garden 'crows, and there was even "The Scarecrow Parts Department."

After much deliberation by the judges, contest winners were announced at 12:30 p.m. by Club President Karen Roland through a megaphone borrowed from "Remember When?" CHS Class of 1962" cheerleader scarecrow. In the Youth Category, Avery Sapp's "A Beautiful View" won First Place and $75. First Place and $75 in the Adult Category was awarded to "Mother Nature" by Ashley Pettis; Second Place and $50 went to Chipley Garden Club member Lyndal Pleas' "The Farmer's Wife" and Third Place and $25 was awarded to "It's 5 o'clock Somewhere" by Kelsey Pettis.

In the Business/Organization/Club/Candidate Category, Ken Naker's "Ken Naker for Tax Collector" waved at everyone and was awarded First Place and the 2012 Scarecrow Trophy. Community South Credit Union's "Fishing for a Loan" received the Second Place Ribbon and Taylor Chiropractic's "Boney

Motorcycle crash leaves 1 dead, 1 injured

From Staff Reports

CHIPLEY — A three-vehicle accident resulted in the death of an Alabama motorcyclist and his passenger being critically injured Sunday on Highway 79 in Washington County.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Robert E. Iddings, 29, of Newton, Ala., was killed when he swerved on his 2003 Harley-Davidson to avoid a 1997 Chevrolet Blazer that was stopped on the highway for a left turn. The Blazer was driven by Brianna C. Mazzullo, 19, of Ponce de Leon and she was stopped, waiting on traffic to clear so she could turn onto Holmes Valley Road, according to the report.

Iddings' motorcycle swerved right in an attempt to avoid the Blazer, but struck the right rear corner of the SUV with its front end, ejecting Iddings and his passenger, 31-year-old Trannie S. Iddings, also of Newton. Both rider and passenger came to rest on the west shoulder of the highway, according to the report.

Steven E. Campbell, 30, of Vernon was following Iddings in his 2001 Dodge Ram pickup, and he also steered right trying to avoid the collision, but his truck struck the motorcycle after the passengers had been ejected, according to the report.

Robert Iddings was pronounced dead at the scene by paramedics, and Trannie Iddings was taken to Bay Medical Center with critical injuries.

Scientists: 'Mystery eyeball' appears to be from swordfish

Special to Times-Advertiser

TALLAHASSEE — After examining an eye found on a South Florida beach this week, researchers from the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission believe the specimen came from a swordfish. Genetic testing will be done to confirm the identification.

"Experts on site and remotely have viewed and analyzed the eye, and based on its color, size and structure, along with the presence of bone around it, we believe the eye came from a swordfish," said Joan Herrera, curator of collections at the FWC's Fish and Wildlife Research Institute in St. Petersburg. "Based on straight-line cuts visible around the eye, we believe it was removed by a fisherman and discarded." The softball-sized eye was recovered by a citizen in Pompano Beach on Wednesday.

FWC staff received the eye later that day. Swordfish are commonly fished in the Florida Straits offshore of south Florida at this time of year.

A highly migratory fish, swordfish can be found from the surface to as deep as 2,000 feet. Swordfish in the Atlantic can reach a maximum size of more than 1,100 pounds, according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. Swordfish feed on a wide variety of fish and invertebrates.

Seacrest Wolf Preserve prepares for 11th annual 'Howl-O-Ween' in Chipley

Special to Times-Advertiser

CHIPLEY — In the heart of this sleepy rural community in Northwest Florida, a group of residents has been known to howl at the moon. Their hair is long and unkempt, they typically have long noses and large teeth, but they usually will greet you with a wide grin and might even lick your hand.

Seacrest Wolf Preserve is one of the only places in North America where wild wolves live and breed in captivity, and visitors get to meet with them, face-to-face, up close and personal.

Co-owner Cynthia Watkins says visitors may leave the event with a better understanding of the plight of this endangered species.

"Wolves get a bad rap, most of which is unfounded and unfair," Watkins explains. "These animals are gentle, social creatures and don't fit the mold of the myths, legends and horror stories of which they have been a part for centuries."

Watkins has announced that Seacrest Wolf Preserve is prepared for the 11th annual 'Howl-O-Ween' event, held each year at the facility, and is one of the main fundraisers which allow the efforts of Cynthia, husband Wayne and a very large number of volunteers to continue.

This year's event is Saturday, Oct. 20 and Sunday, Oct. 21, with hours on Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Sunday 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free, and attendees can then purchase tickets for the exciting events on the preserve grounds.

Features of the event include rare hands-on Wolf Encounter Tours, starting at 10 a.m. on Saturday. Hug the skunks, feed the raccoons, and play with the fox at the "Small Animal Adventure" while enjoying fun hayrides, great food, raffle baskets, a bonfire on Saturday evening, storytelling and a 'Dog-o-Ween' Costume Contest.

PHOTOS SPECIAL TO TIMES-ADVERTISER

Seacrest Wolf Preserve will present "Howl-O-Ween" this weekend at the Washington County facility.

Children enjoy visiting the Seacrest Wolf Preserve and learning about the endangered species.

Camping is available near the wolves, by reservation with advance deposit, starting at 1 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 19, with unlimited primitive camping and a limited number of electrical hook-ups available.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to have this kind of close interaction with wild wolves," said Watkins, "and we have visitors from literally all over the world spend time here with us to study these beautiful animals."

Seacrest Wolf Preserve is a 501c3 non-profit corporation and the event is partially underwritten by the Washington County Tourist Development Council and supported by a large number of volunteers.

"Without these passionate volunteers we could literally not afford to maintain this facility and this work," says Wayne Watkins. "It's amazing to see these folks come from quite long distances to spend hours at our preserve, communing with these marvelous creatures."

Facts about Breast Cancer

From American Cancer Society

What is breast cancer?

Cancer is a group of diseases that cause cells in the body to change and grow out of control. Most types of cancer cells eventually form a lump or mass called a tumor, and are named after the part of the body where the tumor originates.

Breast cancer begins in breast tissue, which is made up of glands for milk production, called lobules, and the ducts that connect the lobules to the nipple. The remainder of the breast is made up of fatty, connective, and lymphatic tissue.

- Most masses are benign; that is, they are not cancerous, do not grow uncontrollably or spread, and are not life-threatening.

- Some breast cancers are called in situ because they are confined within the ducts (ductal carcinoma in situ or DCIS) or lobules (lobular carcinoma in situ or LCIS) where they originated. Many oncologists believe that LCIS (also known as lobular neoplasia) is not a true cancer, but an indicator of increased risk for developing invasive cancer in either breast.

The majority of in situ breast cancers are DCIS, which accounted for about 83 percent of in situ cases diagnosed during 2004-2008.

LCIS is much less common than DCIS, accounting for about 11 percent of female in situ breast cancers diagnosed during 2004-2008. Other in situ breast cancers have characteristics of both ductal and lobular carcinomas or have unspecified origins.

- Most breast cancers are invasive, or infiltrating. These cancers started in the lobules or ducts of the breast but have broken through the duct or glandular walls to invade the surrounding tissue of the breast. While clinical assessment clues (such as findings on breast exam or breast imaging results) may be strongly suggestive of a cancer diagnosis, microscopic analysis of breast tissue is necessary for a definitive diagnosis of breast cancer and to determine whether the cancer is in situ or invasive and lobular or ductal.

What are the signs and symptoms of breast cancer?

Breast cancer typically produces no symptoms when the tumor is small and most treatable. Therefore, it is very important for women to follow recommended screening guidelines for detecting breast cancer at an early stage, before symptoms develop. When breast cancer has grown to a size that can be felt, the most common physical sign is a painless lump. Sometimes breast cancer can spread to underarm lymph nodes and cause a lump or swelling, even before the original breast tumor is large enough to be felt. Less common signs and symptoms include breast pain or heaviness; persistent changes to the breast, such as swelling, thickening, or redness of the breast's skin; and nipple abnormalities such as spontaneous discharge (especially if bloody), erosion, inversion, or tenderness. It is important to note that pain (or lack thereof) does not indicate the presence or the absence of breast cancer. Any persistent abnormality in the breast should be evaluated by a physician as soon as possible.

How many cases and deaths are estimated to occur in 2011?

- In 2011, an estimated 230,480 new cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed among women, as well as an estimated 57,650 additional cases of in situ breast cancer.

How many women alive today have ever had breast cancer?
The National Cancer Institute estimates that approximately 2.6 million US women with a history of breast cancer were alive in January 2008, more than half of whom were diagnosed less than 10 years earlier. Most of these individuals were cancer-free, while others still had evidence of cancer and may have been undergoing treatment.

Holmes County quarterback Jacky Miles Jr. prepares to pass during the Blue Devils' 36-7 win over the Yellow Jackets at Vernon on Friday.

Holmes County spoils Vernon Homecoming

By RANDAL SEYLER

VERNON — The Vernon Yellow Jackets didn't get score until the fourth quarter, but the lopsided 36-7 loss to the Holmes County Blue Devils didn't seem to dampen the Vernon crowd's Homecoming spirit.

Vernon's Brandon Malloy scampered up the middle from the five-yard line to give the Yellow Jackets their only score early in the fourth quarter, capping a 66-yard, 11-play drive. Aaron Bowers' kick was good, and the Yellow Jackets were on the board with seven points. The rest of the evening, however, belonged to the Blue Devils.

Quarterback Jacky Miles Jr. connected with Dustin Janas from the Vernon 35-yard line to open the night's scoring with 5:55 to play in the first quarter to finish a 70-yard, 6-play drive. With less than two minutes to play in the quarter, Ty Russ nabbed a Miles pass and sprinted 60 yards for a touchdown. None of the evening's kicks or two-point attempts would work for the Blue Devils, so the first quarter wrapped up with Holmes County leading by 12.

Just seven seconds into the second period, the Blue Devils' Zack Cooley blocked a Yellow Jackets' punt and carried it back into the end zone to put the Devils up 18-0.

Holmes County's Ty Russ was back in the end zone at the 8:36 mark, running in from behind the Vernon 10-yard line to score and faking one Yellow Jacket defender off his feet in the process. That drive had been good for 60 yards in four plays and a 24-0 lead — but the Blue Devils had more mischief planned for the first half.

Franklin Russ got into the end zone with 3:08 left to play in the half, scrambling 50 yards and slipping three tackles to complete a 90-yard drive in seven plays, and giving the Devils a 30-0 lead going into half time.

The Blue Devils' final strike was delivered just over a minute into the second half, when Chad Leavins scored on a 34-yard run to capitalize on a drive that began inside the Yellow Jackets' 45. Franklin Russ was able to run for 10 yards, then Leavins did the rest adding five yards on a first down then finding paydirt on the second try.

Holmes County heads to South Walton next week while Vernon travels to Graceville. Kickoff is at 7 p.m.

Marianna tops Blountstown in slugfest

By JASON SHOOT
747-5069 | PCNHJasonShoot
jshoot@pcnh.com

MARIANNA — Two of the area's most decorated football coaches watched their respective teams slug it out Friday night.

In the end, it was Marianna's Tim Cokely who got the upper hand over Blountstown's Greg Jordan at least for one night in a 14-6 win for the host Bulldogs.

Marianna squelched Blountstown's four-game winning streak and improved to 6-1. The Tigers, meanwhile, fell to 4-2.

Cokely is in his first season leading Marianna's football program, but he previously enjoyed rampant success at North Florida Christian with six state championships. Jordan has guided Blountstown to the state playoffs in each of the past eight seasons.

Freshman quarterback Herman Williams accounted for 166 yards of offense and passed for two touchdowns to power the Bulldogs. Aside from a few mental hiccups, Williams looked like he's getting comfortable running Cokely's spread offense.

Marianna's defense made its most important stand of the night in the game's waning minutes. Blountstown faced first-and-goal from the Marianna 9 but eventually turned the ball over on downs with 1 minute, 40 seconds remaining in the game. The Bulldogs proceeded to run out the clock to secure the victory.

That was the sixth drive for Blountstown's offense that ended with disappointment in Marianna's half of the field.

Williams passed for 95 yards and ran for another 71. Teammate Teon Long added 61 rushing yards on 15 carries, and receiver Jamel Johnson added four receptions for 58 yards.

Marianna carried a 14-6 lead into the locker room at halftime thanks to a pair of touchdown passes from Williams, who completed 7 of 10 passes for 77 yards through two quarters.

Williams located Johnson on a 27-yard touchdown pass for a 7-0 lead just 85 seconds into the game. Marianna kicked off to open the game but recovered the football at Blountstown's 29. Williams threw his first touchdown pass three plays later.

Blountstown used some deception to pull within 7-6 with four minutes left in the opening quarter. Hunter Jordan threw a lateral pass behind the line of scrimmage to Corin Peterson, who then heaved a ball downfield to wide open Ryan Hathcox in the end zone for a 17-yard touchdown pass. The Tigers missed the extra point, though, and still trailed by a point.

Williams' second touchdown pass gave the Bulldogs some breathing room just before halftime. He quickly slinged the ball outside to receiver Roderrick Copeland, who navigated his way through a wave of Tiger pursuers for a 13-yard touchdown and a 14-6 lead.

Blountstown was fortunate to trail by just one possession at halftime. The Tigers stopped Marianna on four plays inside the Blountstown 6 late in the first quarter. A penalty for illegal motion negated Jock Wooden's 1-yard touchdown run for Marianna.

Hunter Jordan completed 12 of 22 passes for 126 yards, and he also ran for 62 yards on nine attempts. Hathcox reeled in five receptions for 57 yards.

Liberty County holds off Bozeman

By BRAD MILNER
747-5065 | @PCNHBradMilner
bmilner@pcnh.com

BRISTOL — Bozeman and Liberty County, two teams with postseason aspirations, provided a potential playoff preview on Friday.

The Bulldogs showed their depth with their starting quarterback and running back out with ankle injuries as they held back the Bucks 27-18. Harold Armstrong and Ben Beckwith rushed for 108 and 96 yards, respectively, and combined for three touchdowns for Liberty County in replacing Alex Marlowe's production.

The teams are in opposite districts and could meet in the first or second round of the playoffs if both advance that far. Friday provided tuneups for both, as they play crucial district games next week.

Liberty County rushed for 268 yards, with the bulk coming in the first half. Bozeman was sluggish and plagued by penalties, including four unsportsmanlike conduct flags in the second half.

"It was tremendous the way our young kids stepped up," Liberty County coach Grant Grantham said. "We practiced like it didn't affect us, and that was surprising, but they did a good job."

Liberty County (5-2) took control with three different running backs scoring in the first half for a 20-6 lead. Armstrong, the senior leader, opened the scoring with a 6-yard run on the game's first drive.

Ryan Reisoglu scored from 5 yards for a 13-0 advantage after Bozeman went three-and-out on its first possession. Beckwith broke free for a 41-yard run in the second quarter to cap the first-half scoring.

Bozeman (4-2) punted twice and ended a third possession with James Jernigan's fumble that preceded Beckwith's jaunt. The Bucks cut into the lead with a drive nearly derailed by three penalties.

Two holding flags negated Jacob Martinez scoring runs. However, he connected with David Elmore late in the first quarter for 15 yards and a touchdown one play after his 8-yard scramble was nullified.

Liberty County's Ryan Reisoglu squeezed through the pile on one of his four rushes on Friday. The junior scored a touchdown in the first quarter in the Bulldogs' 27-18 win over Bozeman.

"We showed we could move the ball," Bozeman coach Loren Tillman said. "But it's tough to have to score three times for one touchdown."

Freshman Micah McCaskill started at quarterback in place of Dustin Watson. McCaskill handed off most of the game, but finished 1 of 4 for 30 yards.

Martinez was 7 of 10 for 106 yards and two touchdowns in leading Bozeman to late scores to make the score respectable. He also rushed for 80 yards and led a Bozeman running attack that was held in check until Jovani Bell's 82-yard score to pull Bozeman within 27-12 with 3:06 to play.

Bozeman's playoff hopes rest on next week's home game with Chipley in District 3-1A.

"We know we're capable of playing better, but to be honest we're mentally and physically tired," Tillman said. "Next week is next week, and we'll be ready and playing at home will help."

Liberty County faces over-the-bridge rival Blountstown in a battle of last season's champion and runner-up in District 4-1A.

"We had six kids out," Grantham said. "We won't get two back for sure, and we don't know about the rest."

A NOTE FROM TERRY:

As I have researched and studied our School District I continue to find underachievement and wastefulness. I have decided to continue to share with you the things I have discovered so that you too will understand the severity of our situation. These facts found at the Florida Department of Education website are proof that my opponent's "Business As Usual" approach to our School District WILL NOT WORK! We do not need "Business As Usual", we need leadership, fiscal responsibility and focus on our children. While visiting many of you door to door I find myself spending a lot of time discussing the issues and it is limiting my ability to reach more voters. THAT IS OK!! I hear your concerns and I WILL make a difference when elected to the office of Superintendent of Education. I know that we all have the same ultimate goal and TOGETHER we will succeed for the Children of Holmes County. Please join me in the many cook outs that I am having across the county and if you are still unable to talk with me CALL ME, 850-326-0603. My door is always open and my phone is always on.

Holmes County saddles up to rope in more for the Lonny Lindsey Scholarship

cecilia.spears@halifaxmediagroup.com

BONIFAY — With almost 100 on horseback and more than a half a dozen in covered wagons, Holmes County horse enthusiasts gathered for this year's annual Lonny Lindsey Scholarship Trail Ride on Sept. 29, starting at Carmel Church and leading to Smith Park in Bonifay.

The Lonny Lindsey Scholarship Trail Ride is held every year to replenish funds back into the scholarship named in honor of Deputy Sheriff Lonny Lindsey, who died in line of duty on Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1996.

"Deputy Sheriff Lonny Lindsey was shot and killed after responding to a robbery call, despite being on sick leave," said speaker Sue Mitchell. "While at home Deputy Lindsey heard a call regarding a robbery at a location a half a mile from his home. To help his six-person department, Deputy Lindsey responded to the call."

She said he was checking the tag number of the truck he pulled over, he reported that shots were fired and that was his last radio transmission.

"Although mortally wounded by a shot from a .30 caliber rifle, he was able to shoot both suspects," said Mitchell. "Both were arrested a short time later, tried and convicted of murder."

Lindsey had served with the Holmes County Sheriff's Office for five years and was survived by his wife and two children.

"Eleven years later, Deputy Lindsey's uncle, Reserve Deputy Joe Bill Galloway of the Holmes County Sheriff's Office was killed while pursuing a speeding vehicle," said Mitchell.

Mitchell gave a tribute to three others who died in the line of duty, Sheriff Daniel Jackson Brownell, Reserve Deputy Joe Bill Galloway and Correctional Officer Colonel Gregory Guy Malloy.

Brownell was reported to have been shot and killed after responding to a report of a disturbance at the county jail on

'WE REMEMBER THE OFFICERS'

We remember the officers who changed our lives,
The men and women who protected us day and night,
People who respect for their dedication to the cause,
For when faced with danger, they never even pause.
We remember the officers who always stand true,
Whatever the color of uniform, brown, gray or blue,
With pride and integrity they say "To serve and protect,"
For the giving of their life, we offer our respect.
We remember the officers who we never really knew,
Persons strong enough to answer the challenge are few,
With heavy hearts we mourn the officers in eternal rest,
There's more to these people than the badge on their chest.

By Brad Miller

Tuesday, Nov. 26, 1872.

"Sheriff Brownell was at home with his family when he was informed that there was a disturbance at the jail," said Mitchell. "Brownell mounted his horse and rode a few miles into town. When he arrived, he encountered a man creating a disturbance in front of the jail."

She said the suspect shot the sheriff but before the sheriff died he was able to return fire and kill the suspect.

"Deputy Joe Galloway was killed when his patrol car struck a tree during a vehicle pursuit on Monday, Aug. 20, 2007," said Mitchell. "He was attempting to catch a speeding motorist and had just crossed the state line into Geneva County, Alabama, when he lost control of his patrol car. The vehicle struck a tree and flipped onto its roof, killing him." Deputy Galloway was a U.S.

Army Veteran of the Vietnam War and served with the Holmes County Sheriff's Office for one year. He is survived by his wife, son, daughter, four grandchildren and six great-grand children.

"Colonel Greg Malloy was shot and killed in Holmes County while assisting local law enforcement agencies track down a man wanted for murdering his parents," Mitchell said. "A hunter in the area had called 911 after encountering the suspect in a wooded area and exchanging shots with him."

Colonel Malloy, who was the canine handler at the Holmes County Correctional Facility, was requested to track down the suspect.

"Upon nearing the suspect's location, shots were exchanged and Colonel Malloy and the suspect were both killed. A second canine officer suffered a graze wound during the shootout."

Colonel Malloy had served with the Florida Department of Corrections for 22 years and is survived by his wife and daughter.

CHS Theater presents 'Flowers for Algernon'

Special to Extra

CHIPLEY — The Chipley High School Theater Department will present the play "Flowers for Algernon," the compelling story of Charlie Gordon, a mentally challenged man, and the strange interweaving of his life with a mouse named Algernon, Thursday and Saturday at 7 p.m.

An experimental surgery performed on Algernon increased his intelligence fourfold. The operation is then tried on Charlie, who increases in intelligence and surpasses his doctors and teacher, Alice Kinnian. As Charlie reaches the peak of his intelligence, Algernon shows frightening signs of regression. Charlie races against time to save himself and continue what he and Alice have found.

This is a different kind of play: poignant, romantic, funny and tragic but with hope for man's indomitable spirit. In addition, it's an educational experience for the viewers. Chipley High School Theater Department is very excited to perform for Roulhac Middle School and Marianna Middle School, as well as Chipley High School. The schools are reading a short story of "Flowers for Algernon" and will then be joining Chipley High for this superb performing experience.

General admission tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for students and will be available at the CHS Main Office and at the door.

Managing your cat's asthma

As the merciless Texas heat finally begins to subside and temperatures start to lower, many of those that suffer from asthma or other respiratory problems will begin their yearly ritual of carrying inhalers and scarfs with them to help their lungs compensate for the cold air. Some may not know that cats are also susceptible to these respiratory problems in many of the same ways as people.

is worth discovering as the cat's health can improve drastically by ensuring it isn't exposed to the respiratory irritant.

Signs of a cat suffering from asthma include noticeable exercise intolerance, changes in routine or behavior, open mouth breathing, intermittent coughing, or decreased appetite, Bolling said.

In extreme cases, wheezing and airway constriction can also occur. This constriction can ultimately be life threatening as the cat begins to pant heavily for air. If you experience your cat open-mouth breathing or coughing regularly, you should consult a veterinarian immediately. "Many times, owners tell me that their cat is just quiet and not himself. Cats are very secretive creatures, and they are very good at hiding their illnesses from us," Bolling said. "Unfortunately, this often means that owners don't know something is wrong until the cat is severely ill."

In most cases diagnostic tests are required to identify a cat with asthma, as many of asthma's symptoms can mimic other problems such as heartworms or pneumonia. Common tests used to diagnose asthma in cats are chest radiographs and trans-tracheal or bronchial wash, which takes samples of the cat's airways.

One of the most effective measures of keeping a cat from experiencing reoccurring asthma is through preventative measures to make sure it's respiratory tract does not become agitated. These measures include keeping cats away from all forms of smoke, freshly cut grass, moldy places such as basements or attics, and places that are exceptionally dusty. Also using humidifiers and air purifiers can help ensure that everyone in the home, including your cat, is breathing air free of allergens and irritants.

"Try using HEPA filters and changing the filters on the heaters/air conditioning vents often," Bolling said. "Cats with asthma should not live in homes where they are exposed to cigarette smoke."

While not curable, asthma in pets can easily be treated with a combination of medications approved by your veterinarian. These medications may be necessary to help lower the frequency and severity of a cat's asthma. In severe cases oxygen therapy, which provides supplemental oxygen to a feline's airway system by a mask worn on the cat's face, may be necessary.

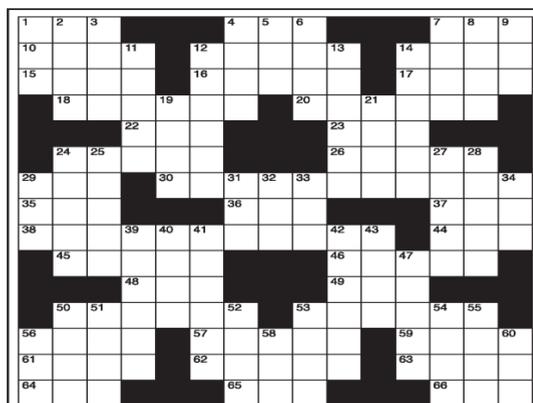

Pets with asthma can live a long and happy life with the proper medication and care.

Cashing in on a cashless society

I am the kind of person that likes to do business with cash on the barrelhead. I do not like credit because it has a way of biting you in the end. When you have a credit card, there are fees to beat the band. I do have a credit card but I have it hidden so well that I have not been able to find it for seven weeks. I just do not like using it.

The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage always warns me about the possibility that someone can steal my credit card. Ha ha, I say in defiance to her warning. I am never worried about that. If anybody can get money out of my account with my credit card, I would like to work with them and go 50-50 on it. Every time I need money, my credit card is empty. I think there is a conspiracy in this whole thing.

Nothing is more embarrassing than going to a checkout counter to pay for goods that I intend to purchase and my credit card is denied. The reason I was using the credit card at the time was I did not have any cash in my pocket. Now, I have no cash in my pocket and my credit card is just grinning at me refusing to cough up the money needed for purchasing these goods.

I hate my credit card. And it is reciprocal. My credit card hates me and tries its level best to embarrass me every chance it gets.

When I do business, I want to know that I have done business. Nothing is more satisfying than completing a financial transaction with cash.

I have noticed a dangerous trend in the area of business in our country. There is a tendency away from cash. I do not understand it. I think the simplest thing to do would be to pay cash for something. But no, some people think that is so old fashion that they have to come up with something new.

Now they have this newfangled thing that you can pay your bills online. What is that all about? I like to see the person I am paying and hear from them their gratuitous "Thank you," for the transaction. I was just getting used to writing checks and now I do not have to use my checkbook anymore. My creditors want me to pay online.

When will all this craziness stop? If cash was good enough for Benjamin Franklin, it certainly is good enough for me.

Then the inevitable happened. You know how it is. Well, it happened to me.

I went to do a little bit of shopping while I was out of town on a trip recently. I made sure I had cash in my wallet so I stopped at a restaurant in the shopping mall. Normally I do not like shopping malls. I get nervous every time I go into one of these malls wondering if I will ever exit alive. There are just too many people in these malls for my comfort.

But the necessity of my trip brought me to this mall and I decided I would treat myself to lunch. One of the great things about treating myself to lunch when my wife is not with me is I can order what I want for my lunch. After all, it is my lunch.

I had a great time selecting things from the menu that had nothing whatsoever to do with vegetables. Vegetables are all right in their place, but their place is not on my lunch plate, especially when my wife is not present.

I had a scrumptious lunch and then top it off with a nice slice of apple pie à la mode. Life does not get any better than this. I sat back in my chair, rubbed my stomach and felt good about the world around me. I was even beginning to think that there might not be so much wrong with malls after all.

Finally, it was time to take my ticket up to the cashier and pay for my lunch. I was in for a very rude awakening. I presented my ticket to the cashier and pulled out of my wallet enough cash to cover the ticket.

"I'm sorry, sir," the woman behind the cashier said. "We don't accept cash in this restaurant."

I was in a good mood and laughed as though I was the vice President of the United States. "That's a good one," I complimented her.

"Sir, we don't take cash here," she insisted. "We are not set up for cash; all we take are credit cards."

About this time, I realized she was not joking. I found myself in the proverbial pickle with only cash on my person and no credit card.

"But all I have is cash." Finally, the manager of the restaurant was called to the front, I was able to settle my ticket with him, giving him cash and he used his credit card to pay the ticket.

What is this world coming to when you cannot use cash anymore?

What is better than cash in my thinking is God's gift. "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23 KJV).

Unlike cash, God's gift to me will never go out of style.

On Growing UP

What does it mean to "grow up" and become an adult? This is certainly not an easy question to answer, although we usually know it when adulthood is lacking and someone is acting childish. There is a lot of growing up required of us nowadays and thus adulthood is being delayed by an extended period of adolescence. This leaves us with lots of twenty- and thirty-year-old individuals who are living at home and taking on very few if any of the responsibilities of adults. To act as an adult first and foremost means to be responsible for one's actions and one's life and to stop expecting other people to take care of you. It also entails taking responsibility for where one is in life and refusing to blame our parents, teachers, or others for our lack of success. At some point, we

"When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I put childish ways behind me." 1 Corinthians 13: 11 all have to grow up and realize that our life is OURS and no one else's, and however much others may have contributed to it, only we can shape our own lives. Whether this is always true is debatable; parents and teachers do have an impact on children and the adults they will become. But, it is best for each of us to take responsibility for our own lives and start acting and believing as if we are the masters of our own fates. Perhaps that is what it really means to be grown up: to strive to mold and fashion our own lives and to live by our own standards and ideals. And, to do it with the faith of one who takes complete responsibility for every aspect of his or her existence.

Job offer on hold? How to seal deal

By CAROLINE M.L. POTTER
Monster Contributing Writer

It takes a lot of steps to get a job offer. Your network has to yield a connection. Your resume has to earn an interview. And your performance in the interview has to be impressive enough to produce an offer. But what happens when you have cleared every one of these hurdles only to learn your impending offer now is on indefinite hold?

Read on to find out why offers get shelved — temporarily or permanently — and what, if any, due diligence you can do to activate an offer.

It's not you

Don't take it personally if your job offer is postponed. There are dozens of reasons for a delay. "The important thing is to not make assumptions as to why the communication has abruptly stopped short of the actual offer," says careers and resume expert Lauren Milligan of ResuMayDay. "It could have nothing to do with you. Perhaps a major company initiative went south, requiring everyone's attention to this specific project. Perhaps your internal contact won the lottery and now they're scrambling to replace her."

Consider, too, that an internal candidate might have thrown her hat in the ring at the last minute, temporarily derailing your offer. "In this case, a potential employer isn't going to give you much information beyond that they have to put it on hold," says Judi Perkins, the How-To Job Coach.

Remember that it's not a reflection of your qualifications, but, rather, that the company might give preference to current employees.

Try to determine what it is Rethink if you actually want to join this company. "Putting an offer on hold is usually a sign of a softening balance sheet," says staffing expert David Lewis of Express Employment Professionals and author of "The Emerging Leader."

Jeanne Knight, a former HR executive turned career and job search coach, concurs. "Offers typically go on hold because the company has decided their financial situation is not as positive as they thought it would be, dictating that most, if not all, of their open positions be put on hold until the picture looks brighter," she says.

Executive career coach Beth Ross tells clients to ask their contact at the company for plausible reasons for the delay.

Lewis recommends asking several specific questions about the hold on the offer. "First, ask if the person making the offer is the person responsible for deciding to put the offer on hold," she says.

"If not, ask who decided to put the offer on hold (and, therefore, could decide to unfreeze the offer). And, finally, ask when you can meet this person and show her that you are worth hiring regardless of a blanket hiring freeze."

Decide what to do next

Even if you know the reason an offer has been temporarily tabled, Lewis urges job seekers not to get complacent about their job search.

"More than 50 percent of the time, in my experience, the offer will not rematerialize in the next 30 days," he says.

Says Ross: "If it is indeed your dream job, you may elect to wait, but you should work with the company on a timetable that seems reasonable. Trying to nail this down might uncover what level of trust is there for both parties."

If you decide to continue to pursue a position that's on hold, Milligan says you have two tasks ahead of you: First, when leaving voice mails or emails, keep your tone breezy, cheery and upbeat. And second, forge ahead with your job search.

"In other words, hope for the best and prepare for more interviews elsewhere," she says.

Perkins adds, "The more time that goes by with nothing happening, the greater the likelihood that your offer isn't going to become an actual job."
