Esto to pursue all available CDBG grants

ESTO — Esto Town Council held their first public hearing and approved moving forward with the steps necessary to pursue any available Community Development Block Grants that might be available to the town.

The council members decided to pursue the grants during their Sept. 3 meeting, as recommended by Town Grant Writer Dennis Dingman. "These grants are for communities who want to attract businesses but there's no infrastructure," said Dingman. "If the community doesn't provide the infrastructure, such as water and sewer connections, then the business would have to. In this case we got lucky because Dollar General was willing to do just that to be able to bring their business here." Dingman said that they would pursue housing, commercial and economic development grants.

CHIPLEY — A chiropractor who was arrested for burning down his Chipley office in 1995 was the subject of a 20/20 investigation which aired Friday on the ABC network.

DR. MICHAEL A. WOHLSCHLAEGER

Michael Allan Wohlschlaeger is being accused of killing his fifth wife, Shirley Seitz, by the woman's relatives. There were no charges against Wohlschlaeger in Seitz's death, nor was he ever arrested in connection with the death. Wohlschlaeger was, however, arrested in October 1995 by the Chipley Police Department in connection with the arson of his chiropractic office. He was convicted of arson in June 1997 and sentenced to 15 years' probation, which ended in June 2012. Seitz's relatives aired their

Bonifay City Council, Kiwanis come to terms

By CECILIA SPEARS
547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chipleypaper.com

BONIFAY — The Bonifay City Council agreed to the contract terms between the city and the Bonifay Kiwanis Club for the use of Memorial Field on Monday.

"We've negotiated a contract setting the amount given to the city per year at $6,000," said City Attorney Lucas Taylor. "This is a five-year contract and at the end of the five-year contract it will be renegotiated at that time." The terms and conditions of the contract were discussed and set during a workshop held on Aug. 29 after Assistant State Attorney Brandon Young came before the Bonifay City Council on behalf of the Kiwanis Club to renegotiate a 50-year contract between the city and the club during the city's Aug. 12 meeting.

"There is a 50-year agreement between the Bonifay Kiwanis Club and the City of Bonifay for the use of Memorial Field that was renewed in 1995," said Young. "Before the Kiwanis Club would receive numerous bills to pay various people for jobs and this contract was arranged between the club and the city so that the club would pay one lump sum to the city to cover all the expenses associated with using Memorial Field for two events."

The original contract was for $5,000, but Young attested that this was for the cost of two events, now that someone else was managing the All Night Sing, the Kiwanis Club only had one yearly event. Young said he had factored in cost of living increases and costs for increased law enforcement and negotiations lead to the amount of $6,000 per year.

The council also approved of the Capital Improvement Plan presented by Grant Writer Bob Jones.

"We needed it for the new park project as well as just the required periodical update," said Jones. "Right now it contains six future projects, which are the water and sewer expansion and replacement, the recreation Banifill Memorial Site for 2014-15, Middlebrooks Park improvements, water system upgrade, waste water treatment improvements and water system renovations phase three."

Real Estate Agent Andy Gonsalves came before the Bonifay City Council to announce his intention of marketing his property to large companies and businesses.

"We've had Wal-Mart interested in building here and there seemed to be something between the city and the project that it never went through," said Gonsalves. "I'm here because I think the best thing to do is come before the council and talk about it, that way if there's any questions or concerns we can all be on the same page."

Mayor Lawrence Cloud said that he was interested in seeing growth come to Bonifay.

"We're all about growth and that would be considered a great asset," said Cloud.

Gonsalves said that he was interested in looking into marketing to Cracker Barrel and a large RV Dealership.

He also said that the company building the subdivision on Griffith Circle was approved but because of the economy was unable to finish, so their companies are now collaborating to continue but that it would become a gated community.

"We'll have all of the access codes given to city and county workers, since it is still a county maintained road," said Gonsalves.

He said that he would be back as soon as he had an interested buyer. "Beach Boy Realty has been serving the panhandle for over 31 years," said Gonsalves. "Bonifay has over 18,000 vehicles traveling through a day and growing, it's about time we grew to accommodate."

Resident Jerry Cooley came before the council with an issue that he was having with his neighbor, Council Member Richard Woodham. "Five years ago I talked with my neighbor, Mr. Woodham, about splitting surplus land," said Cooley. "I thought that you had to notify adjoining landowners and give them a chance to have the land split. Woodham decided to keep the whole thing to himself."

Taylor explained to him that it was presented to the council on Jan. 25, 2010, however the land was considered city property.

"Counties are bound by different policies on how they deal with land, however, as this is city property they have different rules and they don't have to advertise and they don't have to notify the public when dealing with their land," said Taylor.

Cooley said that he understood but he felt betrayed.

"I wouldn't have taken this so serious if I hadn't talked with Woodham before hand about dividing that land," said Cooley. "I believe in justice and I believe this was underhanded and dishonest."

Woodham spoke up and said that he had given Cooley two years to make his decision and that Cooley

"This will cover all possible grants," he said. "You just have to do it once so that you won't have to revise it every time a new grant comes out."

Council tabled the proposal from Palmer Electric Construction Co. to install radios, cables, an antenna and surge protectors at the wells for the amount of $3,575 to be in compliance with the Department of Environmental Protection.

"My only problem is that we'll not only have to put this in but we'll have to maintain it and we still need a phone line to these wells for communication and control purposes," said Town Council President Danny Powell. "I want to see if we can get the phone company to put us a line in and maybe it'll be cheaper."

The council agreed with Council Member James Daniels request to get quotes on repairing and replacing any fire hydrants that are damaged or leaking.

They also agreed with Daniels' request to monitor the Town's sidewalks.

"We've been getting numerous complaints about people blocking the sidewalks with their junk lately," said Daniels. "I've seen it myself where someone had their large freezer right there on the sidewalk. That's state property and if the Department of Transportation catches them they'll either give them so long to move it or they'll fine them."

The council also agreed with Pauline Wells, a representative of the National Caucus and Center on Black Aged, Inc., as she explained about bringing in a state and federally funded program to train the local elderly population in current occupational skills.

"The workforce is at the mercy of the young because they are trained with the skills required for the current technology in today's workforce," said Wells. "We take those 55 years and older and we improve their learning skills so that we can get them employed with local non-profit and government entities, such as libraries and government offices."

The council also discussed giving Water Operator Bill Austin a $50 raise to his monthly salary and at first it died due to lack of motion. The council approved of a one-time $50 raise with Council member Darlene Madden voting "no."

"I think there's people out there looking for work all the time and if we give it to him then we'd have to give it to everyone," said Madden. "We're not happy."

The council agreed to Powell's suggestion that Austin be required to attend the council's monthly meeting and that if he can not attend then he should send a detailed report of the month's activities for the Council to review.

Madden reported that they are going to purchase a shotgun from King's Drug Store as a raffle to raise money for the Two-Toe Tom Festival. "We're also going to put a 10-foot by 10-foot brick patio beside the building," said Madden. "The bricks will be engraved and the patio will be called for things remembered. We'll charge $100 for anyone who wants a message engraved on each brick and it will be in honor or memory of someone or it can be an announcement of someone's birth or anniversary."

Madden said that she's still looking into signs to be put on the park's fence for businesses to advertise for $100 a year.

"The only thing I see that could be a possible drawback is that we'll have to maintain those signs," said Powell. "If something happens to those signs under our care it will be our responsibility to replace them."

Madden also added that she was looking to put a possible newsletter on the Town of Esto's website.

"Just be careful of the content," said Town Attorney Jeff Goodman. "You don't want to put up anything that could come back to bite you later."

The next Esto Town Council meeting is set for 7 p.m. on Oct. 1 at the Esto Town Hall.

had not made any attempt to get in contact with him in regards to those decisions.

In other business, the council agreed to have a demonstration be made of an excavator that the city may be interested in purchasing.

"We'll be getting some Federal Emergency Management Agency money in and we're going to want to be cleaning out some ditches, but we don't have a machine to do that," said Cloud. "I've been doing some research and Flint Equipment Company is willing to allow us to have a demonstration of their product before we decide to purchase it so that we know if it's going to do the job."

The council approved the parade permit for the upcoming Rodeo Parade to be held Oct. 4-5.

suspicions about Wohlschlaeger's involvement in her death on the 20/20 episode "Sneaking Suspicions," which aired nationally Friday, Sept. 6.

The Washington County News contributed file stories and photos to the 20/20 investigation.

Wohlschlaeger's fifth wife, Seitz, died in their Loxley, Ala., bedroom following days of unexplained pain. Her relatives say he is responsible, but Wohlschlaeger was never charged with any crimes in connection to her death and maintains that he is innocent.

On the 20/20 episode, Seitz's relatives said the four-year marriage that ended with Seitz unconscious, face down on their bedroom floor.

Her relatives told 20/20 that since Seitz's death in 2010, her relatives have discovered that Wohlschlaeger "soaked her dry" both before and after she died, even cashing in on a $100,000 life insurance policy and having her use her $500,000 in liquid assets that she had going into the marriage to buy their home and bankroll their life together.

Seitz's daughter Sharon Yeomans said that they were wary of Wohlschlaeger's financial footing even before her mother decided to marry him.

"He came into the marriage with the clothes on his back. And he's a doctor?" Yeomans told ABC.

Her relatives were hesitant when Seitz rushed into her marriage with Wohlschlaeger in 2006 after just a three-month courtship.

Adding to that, Seitz had her own share of relationship issues in the past, as this was also her fifth marriage, relatives said.

Her fourth husband Gene Seitz had left her $1 million following his death, and while she never told her relatives that she felt used during her four-year marriage to Wohlschlaeger; the claim to have found out after her death that she had felt used, according to Seitz's personal journals.

"How much longer am I going to have to financially support this man? He said he wasn't going to do this to me. He said he was going to get a job. He's constantly spending my money. Lord when is he going to get a job?" Seitz wrote in one entry, according to her daughter.

Two of Wohlschlaeger's other ex-wives were also on 20/20 saying that he also showed violent behavior during their marriages — facts that they did not disclose during the investigation into Seitz's death.

His third wife, Gloria Potts, was married to him from 1981 to 1995. When contacted by Seitz's daughter, she said that he once hit her with a mallet in the back of her head and then tried to smother her in their bed.

Potts said that she was hospitalized after the incident and told doctors that she fell in the shower.

When she later asked what he was doing, Potts said that Wohlschlaeger told her his actions were the result of a jellyfish sting.

"He told me he had gotten stung by jellyfish when he was in China and that it was a reaction to the toxins," Potts said.

Potts did not leave Wohlschlaeger until a decade later — a move that she cannot rationally explain now, but when she did finally divorce him, she told police about the mallet incident and now has a restraining order against him.

Wohlschlaeger's fourth wife, Diana Yohn, was the woman he divorced just months before marrying Seitz.

She told police that while she did not have firm proof, she felt that her regular migraines got significantly worse during her marriage to Wohlschlaeger and she felt he played a role in her pain.

"I think that the man's dangerous, personally," she told police.

During the investigation into Seitz's death, Wohlschlaeger reportedly told police that in the days leading up to her death, Seitz had been feeling ill and having one of her bi-annual bouts of migraines.

Seitz's mother and brother told ABC that they made a surprise visit to the home that Seitz and Wohlschlaeger shared in Loxley to check in on her. They said that Seitz felt so ill that she could not even get out of bed to greet them.

When they arrived, Wohlschlaeger said that he had been out of town but when he got back he saw that a potted plant had been broken and he believed Seitz had possibly fallen down the stairs. She denied falling down the stairs.

Seitz's symptoms had improved by the time she said good night to her relatives on Sunday Feb. 28, 2010, according to the family. The next morning, they awoke to Wohlschlaeger screaming that his wife was unconscious.

Wohlschlaeger had been sleeping on the couch, and on that Monday morning he said he went into the bedroom and found his wife lying on the floor, unconscious, and her lips were already blue when he saw her.

This was not Wohlschlaeger's first wife who died. Throughout his marriage to Seitz, he had told her and her relatives that his first wife, Lynn, died of leukemia.

Following her mother's death, Yeoman found an old newspaper clipping that reported that Lynn Mary Wohlschlaeger died after choking on a cough drop at the age of 25.

The cause of death for Seitz was not as clear, however, as an autopsy listed the cause of death was inconclusive but that she had a series of blunt force head injuries.

"Man, I hate to say this, but I think someone murdered my sister," Seitz's brother Chester told 20/20. The Alabama Attorney General has now reopened the investigation into Seitz's death, though the former chiropractor no longer lives in the state.

Wohlschlaeger now lives in Pensacola with his sixth wife, Maggie.

STATE OF FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION NOTICE OF CONSENT ORDER

The Department of Environmental Protection ("Department") gives notice of agency action of entering into a Consent Order with CITY OF BONIFAY pursuant to Section 120.57(4), Florida Statutes.

The consent Order addresses Bonifay Wastewater Treatment Facility's (WWTF) effluent quality violations at 911 East Bay Avenue, Bonifay, in Holmes County, Florida. The Consent Order is available for public inspection during normal business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except legal holidays, at the Department of Environmental Protection, Northwest District, 160 West Government Street, Suite 308, Pensacola, Florida 32502-5740.

Persons who are not parties to this Consent Order, but whose substantial interests are affected by it, have a right to petition for an administrative hearing under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition concerning this Consent Order means that the Department's final action may be different from the position it has taken in the Consent Order:

The petition for administrative hearing must contain all of the following information:

- The OGC Number assigned to this Consent Order;
- The name, address, and telephone number of each petitioner; the name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding;
- An explanation of how the petitioner's substantial interests will be affected by the Consent Order;
- A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the Consent Order;
- Either a statement of all material facts disputed by the petitioner or a statement that the petitioner does not dispute any material facts;
- A statement of the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the Consent Order; and
- A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action petitioner wishes the Department to take with respect to the Consent Order.

The petition must be filed (received) at the Department's Office of General Counsel, 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, MS# 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000 within 21 days of receipt of this notice. A copy of the petition must also be mailed at the time of filing to the District Office at Department of Environmental Protection, Northwest District, 160 West Government Street, Suite 308, Pensacola, Florida, 32502-5740. Failure to file a petition within the 21-day period constitutes a person's waiver of the right to request an administrative hearing and to participate as a party to this proceeding under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. Before the deadline for filing a petition, a person whose substantial interests are affected by this Consent Order may choose to pursue mediation as an alternative remedy under Section 120.573, Florida Statutes. Choosing mediation will not adversely affect such person's right to request an administrative hearing. If mediation does not result in a settlement. Additional information about mediation is provided in Section 120.573, Florida Statutes and Rule 62-110.106(12), Florida Administrative Code.

28. Rules referenced in this Order are available at <http://www.dep.state.fl.us/legal/Rules/rulelistnum.htm>.

Letter to the EDITOR

Setting it straight

Dear Editor,
There was a mistake in the Aug 28th issue that needs correction.

The school board article stated Debbie Kolmetz was against cokes and candies and they shouldn't be sold at school.

However, the time period I mentioned was not in the article.

I stated cokes and candies should not be sold at school before one hour after the last lunch has been served as per our Holmes County school policy.

Thank you very much.

Chipley Police helpful

Dear Editor,
On Aug. 18, 2013, I lost a valuable ring at Wal-Mart.

Since I was not allowed to announce over the intercom that I was waiting with the reward, I went to the Chipley Police Department and to the local pawn shops to show my receipts and a drawing of the ring.

Wal-Mart would not have been hurt by a simple announcement and I may have found my ring.

I was also asked by Wal-Mart to leave when I tried to put out fliers announcing a thousand dollar reward.

Quite distraught, I went home.

There was no more I could do.

Later that day, I received a call from the Chipley Police asking what times and where I went in the store so they could pull the tapes and see if they could help me.

Coming from Seattle, I was shocked that they would take the time to bother with something that was not stolen.

I wrote about the on Facebook and my friends were impressed also.

I will probably never find my ring but at least I know that the police department tried to help me and I was so impressed with that thought.

Too many times we are quick to criticize the police when they are really here to help us.

They put their lives on the line every day to protect us.

They and their families are the real heroes of the world.

Not the Hollywood stars that many look up to today.

Three cheers to the members of society that try to help others rather than try to take all they can and give nothing in return.

God bless the police, firefighters and EMTs of the world.

Thank you Chipley Police.

You have restored my faith in my fellow heroes.

Respectfully Yours,
Barbara Dugas

Memorializing the death of a dear cousin

Since learning of the death of my cousin, Lenora Wells, I am having trouble getting into another topic for the "Corner" this week, so maybe I'll just reminisce. So much of my childhood and through high school was intertwined with cousins, I feel a deep sense of loss even though age, health issues, and distance have kept us from keeping in touch in our adult years. In addition to Lenora, two other close cousins have died recently and even though distance or family commitments have claimed the years, I am saddened by the death, last year, of my cousin Mary Wells Perdue and the passing of her sister, Willma Wells Stubbs, a few weeks ago. Mary was two years ahead of me at Vernon High School and Wilma was one year behind me. Their dad, my Uncle Alex drove a school bus most of the years I was in school and one "fun" year we rode his bus.

HAPPY CORNER
Hazel Wells Tison

It really was a fun year. He and my Aunt Arlevia reared 12 children, so he never minded noise. Thus, we had a shouting, singing, good time as he maneuvered that old school bus with the vertical seats up, down, and around those dirt roads. Another cousin on my Mama's side, Lorie Cook Kosier, classmate of mine also rode that bus and there is very little that Lorie can't laugh at.

Uncle Alex's family lived down the hill from us for many years and walked to Brackin School alongside us, but then they moved near Aunt Arlevia's mother, so we didn't see them as much. But my cousin Lenora, the daughter of my Dad's Uncle John Wells, lived between our house and Brackin School and we made memories there. The last year that the school was in operation, I was in sixth grade and she was in seventh. (My late sister Minnie had got on the bus and gone to Vernon that year.) A school lunch program was begun that year. Here's how it worked. Lenora's brother-in-law Burton Ferrell was the teacher. (He was married to her older sister Otis.) He built a table from an old chalk board in one corner of the room. I think the total enrollment that year was nine children. Each child brought from home a plate, a fork and spoon, and a drinking glass or cup. I don't recall but two menus: Pork and beans or soy soup served with soda crackers, now known as saltines. The one-room school had a pot-bellied stove in the middle of the room. Lenora and I were the cooks. We'd get out of "lessons" a few minutes early, set out the plates and open the beans and serve them on the plates. A bucket of water was brought from the spring that was on the school ground. Each student would pick up his utensil and cup, dip himself a cup of water and come to the table at the proper time. I can't remember that we had chairs for the table. Mr. Burton may have also built benches. (I remember that he built a flying ginny by nailing a heavy board to a large stump.)

On other days we would heat soup in a pot which the teacher, I suppose, provided. I think we poured the ground soy meal into the pot of hot water and stirred till well mixed. I can still recall the taste but not with longing. A real big treat was hot chocolate which we made from a powdered mix and heated on the school's heater. Then we heated water from the spring to wash the dishes. I know we used "government commodities" which I suppose Mr. Burton picked up in Chipley. I guess you could say that Lenora and I were the first, and only, home economics students at Brackin School.

When our youngest granddaughter turned 16 in June, she asked me if I remembered my 16th birthday. I immediately remembered the birthday party Lenora gave for me and her Uncle Connie Bush. I could picture the pink-print feed sack off the shoulder dress which Lenora helped me make for the occasion. I remember going to 4-H Club Camp with Minnie Lee and Lenora. I remember double dating Chipley boys with Lenora. I remember riding horseback with Vernon boys, Bill Brock and Bill Squires not realizing that since we had never ridden before, we'd be so sore the next day that we could scarcely climb the steps at school. I remember wearing a dress belonging to Lenora for the Jr-Sr Banquet. I remember being envious of her cute petite stature and her long baby doll eyelashes. I remember being envious of Lenora because she got to feed the Dolphins at Marineland when she and Minnie went there on their Sr. trip. I just knew it was the bright red pedal pushers that won her that honor and I determined to have me some red pedal pushers when my senior class went there the next year.

I have many cousins including Kathleen, my Uncle Josh's daughter who was more like an older sister as she lived with our Grandma much of her growing up years. But we spent more time with Lenora and I grieve for the years of our adult lives when we have missed the fellowship of the intervening years. I look forward to an eternity where we can renew old acquaintances and just pick up where we left off all those years ago.

September brings many birthdays

September is birthday time for many friends and loved ones in the circle of acquaintances of the writer.

Lets go back to August to recognize Jean Weiss Taylor, the wife of Dr. Jack Taylor, Chipley Dentist, who celebrated her birthday on Aug. 24th, the same day as the Prattler.

A second set of twins who had an Aug. 24 birthday are Kristan Stone and Katherine Stone, the twin daughters of Henry Stone and the granddaughters of Annie Stone, known at Stone's Chipley Packing Company as "Ms. Annie." In a recent conversation with the father, it was learned these two young ladies are college graduates already and presently in the work force with both having jobs in Panama City.

Space ran out last week before Hester's other niece and nephew were honored with their August birthdays. Byron White, son of Hester's sister, Martiel Lucas White and husband, Harold White, had an Aug. 15 birthday. His sister, Tammie White Beasley, claimed August 21 as her special day.

I felt honored to have had picture accompanying last week's column, sent to me showing Perry, all dressed out in his finest, standing with his father, Hugh Wells. This photograph was sent in my birthday greetings by Cousin Janie Harrell, who lives in Brandon, Florida. Those regular attendees of the annual Brock Family Reunion know that Janie deserves title of "queen" of that event.

The first person to mention in September birthdays is my father, Hugh Thomas Wells, who was born Sept. 9, 1905. Brother, Max Wells, came along on dad's 31st birthday as he was born Sept. 9, 1936.

Max will be glad to share the story that when our mother announced to daddy that the long awaited moment had arrived, he took time to load a bale of cotton from the accumulation on the front porch of the family home, before making the six-mile drive into Bonifay.

Mama was dropped off at Dr. L. H. Paul's Hospital, with daddy driving the few blocks to the Jack Childs cotton gin and placing the truck in the long line awaiting his time for unloading.

He walked the short distance to the hospital to await the arrival of his fourth son in the sequence of four boys. The four girls born to our parents made the total of eight to reach adulthood.

Further significance for September in our family is that our parents, Hugh Wells and Marie Harris Wells, married on Sept. 12, 1925. When our oldest sister, Minnie Lee Wells, was making wedding plans to marry James F. Russ, Jr., she chose Sept. 12, 1948. The service was held at an improvised altar erected before the fireplace in the only space in our old farm house that could be called a living room. Our uncle, Edward Harris, an ordained Elder in the Primitive Baptist Church, did the simple, but impressive, ceremony.

And the list goes on. Patricia Gail Wells DeMontmollin, the youngest daughter of our parents, arrived on Sept. 18, 1945.

Tim Wells and Debbie Wells' daughter, Julie Wells, joins Gail for the Sept. 18 special day. Kelly Beth Wells, daughter of brother Clyde Wells, and wife, Esteena, has an Sept. 10 birthday.

Our son Grant Wells, and wife, Lynn, presented us with one granddaughter, who arrived on Sept. 26, 1998. Jack E. Tison, married to our sister, Hazel Wells Tison (well known newspaper writer of The Happy Corner) has a Sept. 23, 1925 arrival date.

During the compiling of the Heritage of Washington County book, the Prattler learned that his longtime friend and 1944 Vernon High School classmate, Frederick Kolmetz, had parents whose marriage came on Sept. 12, 1925, the same day as our parents.

Freddie N. Kolmetz and Maud Hightower Kolmetz, who met while he was working in the Ebro area for the J. R. Moody turpentine operation, and she was a young school teacher, who was teaching in Red Head at the time. Frederick Kolmetz was born on Sept. 24, 1926. Their second son, Jobie M. Kolmetz, was born on Aug. 28, 1928 and the Prattler carelessly left his name out of last week's August arrivals.

My Army buddy from my military service in 1946-47, Julian B. Singleton from Sumter, S. C., has a Sept. 12, 1927 birthday, getting him close to my exact age. He is one of three members of my unit that I recall ever having any further contact with since departing Ft. Lewis, Washington in July 1947. Julian and wife, Esther, made a visit with us twenty years ago, and Hester and I reciprocated by making a trip to South Carolina for a visit with them.

William E. (Billy) Ward, a native of Niceville, was in my Field Artillery Battalion and we maintained contact with he and wife, Susie, for a number of years. In recent years, the visits have been limited to telephone calls.

A Douglas, Georgia native, Wilbur Russell Hanna, was also in the Ft. Lewis unit. He and his wife, Sadie, moved to Lecanto, Florida after our separation from the Army.

The two of them found themselves in Chipley for a family reunion many years ago and made contact with us. Later, Sadie called me to report that Russell had died.

September was the month my dad was determined to wind up the cotton picking. He would tell the children that they would not be allowed to start school until the cotton was all picked. Of course this never happened.

We will get away from the topic of birthdays before next week arrives. See you then.

Hooked on Outdoors

As I was driving one day last week I saw the bait boat headed east at about 7:30 a.m.

I knew it must have been Jackie, and I knew he had been at it all night catching bait to sell at Deepwater Point.

There is more than one way to have available bait in order to fish.

One is to catch the bait yourself and another is to buy your bait off the various bait boats anchored at Deepwater Point.

They offer a mixture of live bait from cigar minnows to choppers to pilchards.

Outdoor Life

Scott Lindsey
captain@lindsey.net

Working on the water this year has been tough, be it guiding, charter boats, dive boats and of course selling bait.

The 100-year rains that have been coming every week instead of every 100 years have made making a living fishing a living hell.

The bays are flush with freshwater runoff that drives most bait back to the saltwater and offshore, making it almost impossible to catch enough to sell.

Usually everyone can catch enough cigar minnows and herring in 20 drops with a sibiki rig at any channel marker in the pass and Gulf.

Not so this year.

I have caught a staggering 10 cigar minnows.

If you have a tough job on the beach don't grumble about it, just thank goodness you don't have to get up at zero dark 30 every night and make a living chasing something that just about doesn't exist.

Don't think these bait salesmen catch choppers and pilchards 15 minutes before you get there to buy a scoop.

These guys are up all night chumming and cast netting in or about the Green Reef.

Jackie was headed back from around Phillips Inlet, a trip of 25 miles from St. Andrew Bay and that's just one way.

He had to have left in the afternoon and arrived at the inlet about dark.

On his boat it must have taken him 2 hours to just get there.

I would imagine he threw his 14-foot cast net several hundred times before he headed back to Deepwater Point to off-load his catch the next morning.

These boys work hard for what they get, so please patronize the bait boat if you can on your way out to the Gulf.

Redfish like this one are too big to keep, but provide great fall action both off the beaches and inside the larger bays.

TUNE UP FOR FALL REDFISH

Now through October is prime time for Panhandle "channel bass"

By FRANK SARGEANT
franksargeant@charter.net

Whether you call them reds, redfish, red drum, spot-tails or channel bass, the arrival of Sciaenops ocellatus in Panhandle waters pretty much coincides with the opening of football season—which would be now.

A moment of appreciative silence, please.

Of course, there are fair numbers of reds here pretty much all summer, but the "running of the bulls", the arrival of the adult fish inshore, is a fall event. (By the way, though we speak of all big redfish as "bulls", they are as likely to be cows or females.)

Part of the reason reds become much more evident in fall as that they head inshore to spawn. Large schools of adult fish gather in the larger bays and passes, as well as in nearshore areas, to drop their eggs. The spawning activity is strongest around the full and new moons in September and October, extending into November in warm years according to biologists with the Florida Wildlife Research Institute in St. Petersburg.

The researchers report that male reds reach maturity at age 1 to 3, females at age 3 to 6. A 1-year-old west coast redfish is typically around 13 to 14 inches, a 3-year-old around 28 to 29 inches.

The states harvest slot, 18 to 27 inches, is set up to allow spawners over the slot size to be released, and that strategy appears to be working in Panhandle waters. Redfish numbers are estimated to be good enough that the FFWCC added a second fish to the daily bag limit last year in the Panhandle and the northeast zone. The limit remains one daily in the south zone, with no closed season.

The evident fall run of fish is made up of much larger individuals, however; most are a yard long or more and exceed 20 pounds in weight. Reds can get huge; over a lifespan extending up to 30 years, they're known to reach weights up to 94 pounds, 2 ounces, the current IGFA record caught off a North Carolina beach in 1984.

Redfish in the slot of 18 to 27 inches make great eating, and Panhandle anglers are allowed to harvest two daily.

Most IGFA line-class records have also come from North Carolina and Virginia, but a few fish approaching 50 pounds are caught in Florida waters each year, most for the Indian River Lagoon. In Panhandle waters, any fish over 30 pounds is a tremendous trophy — though one you'll have to record with photos or a fiberglass replica rather than a skin mount — all the big ones have to be released.

Action on the beaches
Panhandle reds in fall frequently prowl the same waters human beachgoers enjoy, and it's not uncommon for knowledgeable anglers to do battle with reds over 36 inches long while casting from the surfline.

Bull reds will attack just about any large lure, but wobbling plugs 6 to 10 inches long, including the largest sizes of the Bomber Long A, do particularly well. They also readily grab Tsunami swim-baits and all sorts of plastic-tailed jigs. Topwater poppers can also draw strikes, particularly at dawn and dusk.

Even more likely to put you into a wrestling match with a big red is a live bait 4 to 6 inches long; pinfish, grunts, large threadfins and finger mullet are all prime redfish fodder.

They also readily take small crabs and large shrimp, though the latter might be hard to keep on the hook due to smaller fish nipping them off before the red can find them. These baits can all be fished on a "fish-finder" rig, with enough lead to hold bottom despite current and waves, and a size 3/0 or larger hook, depending on bait size.

Former NFL Player visits local team

SPECIAL TO HALIFAX MEDIA GROUP

Special to Halifax Media Group

BONIFAY — Last week the members of the 11-13 year old Bonifay Blue Devils arrived at practice and found themselves face to face with former New York Jets player Brad Baxter.

During his visit he talked with the players about working hard, setting goals, and then doing what it takes to achieve the goals. He emphasized the importance of working as a team and let them know that it isn't always about winning but how you play the game and to show good sportsmanship.

Baxter brought with him several items for the players to see including his old New York Jets football helmet and some official helmets from a few other NFL teams. Before he left he signed autographs and posed for photos with the players.

Herman Bradley Baxter is from Slocomb, Ala. He played football for Alabama State and was drafted in the 1989 NFL draft. He played all of his NFL games for the New York Jets. During his career he rushed for 3000 yards, had 80 receptions for almost 600 yards and scored 35 touchdowns.

This year's 11-13 Blue Devil team is being led by Head Coach Nick Bailey and his assistants

Roger Gay, Ryan George, Ryan Hammock, and Mike Swartz. The team roster has 15 players and is as follows: Chance Bailey, Michael Chapman, Logan Creel, Xavier Davis, Daevon Foreman, Jonathan Gay, Jacob Haddock, Marcus Hammack, Waylon King, Ethan Marsh, Alex Shack, A.J. Swartz, Blake Ward, Tyler Ward, and Nathan Wilkerson.

Their first game will be at the Holmes County Pee Wee Football Association Jamboree at Memorial Field on Sept. 14 at 5:30 p.m. Their regular season starts on Sept. 21 at 5:30 p.m. with a game against Panama City Glenwood also at Memorial Field.

SAND HILLS — Bozeman couldn't escape a Bratt Northview connection for the second straight week and the winless Bucks fared the same Friday.

Graceville jumped on early miscues and took advantage of the Bucks' poor pass defense in cruising to a 55-20 victory. The Tigers — coached by Ty Wise, who led Bratt Northview to the Class 1A state title last season — evened their record at 1-1. The Bucks fell to 0-2 after dropping their opener at Northview.

Graceville rebounded from an opening loss to Baker behind 226 yards passing from Preston Nichols.

"Our kids were heartbroken last week," Wise said. "Anytime you can get a win, it's big for the kids. It was a good bounce back for us."

The opening kickoff teased to the Bucks' woes when the ball dribbled only 4 yards to set up Graceville at the Bozeman 44. Jarrett Brogdon grabbed a 7-yard pass from Nichols six plays later to open the scoring.

It was one of five touchdown passes for Nichols, all coming in the first half.

Bay stifles Port St. Joe

By TIM CROFT
Halifax Media Group

PORT ST. JOE — Port St. Joe coach Chuck Gannon praised his team for playing three-and-a-half tough quarters.

Those final minutes, however, were game-changers.

The host Tiger Sharks (1-1) played the bigger, faster, deeper Bay Tornadoes (2-0) to a near-draw during the first three periods but seemed to run out of steam in the final quarter in losing 19-0 at Shark Field.

Neither team managed much offense but the Tornadoes converted the few opportunities provided to escape with a win in a contest far closer than the score.

"This is about what I expected," Bay coach Jimmy Longbeam said. "We saw on film that they are a well-coached team that plays hard. They played very hard. Take your hat off to them."

One week after the Tiger Sharks rolled up more than 400 yards of total offense, the teams could not combine for that amount.

Bay totaled 293 yards, 88 of that coming on 27 tough carries by Raekwon Webb.

Quarterback Xavier Longbeam passed for 183 yards, 96 on a single play in the fourth quarter.

"We played hard, lights out," Gannon said. "We made them earn everything they got. We played hard,

Bozeman surrendered the same amount against Northview in a runaway second half. Graceville led 41-7 at halftime.

Bozeman seemingly had defenders in place on several of the passes, but the ball found its way into the hands of Graceville's receivers more often. Brogdon bookended the first half with a short second-quarter plunge and capped the game's scoring with a 6-yard run. Jared Padgett was the recipient of two first-half scores, including a 79-yarder to put Graceville ahead 34-0.

Eddie Myrick led the Tigers with 85 yards rushing. Padgett added 150 total yards.

Bozeman had minus-1 yard of total offense before its initial first down with nine minutes left in the second quarter. The Bucks heated up late, as Bubba Thompson hit David Elmore for two long scores in the second half.

Elmore finished with 143 yards on six catches. Thompson was 10 of 22 for 177 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions.

"We need to put together 48 minutes, not bits and pieces," Bozeman coach Loren Tillman said. "We have to get better."

Bozeman will need rapid improvement to contend in its next game at Port St. Joe. Graceville also has a test against visiting Blountstown.

physical football. I am happy for the kids."

Port St. Joe never found any offensive rhythm, particularly the two times they had the ball in Bay territory with a chance to strike.

The Tiger Sharks rushed for 44 yards and added just 14 in the air.

"We played great defense," Longerbeam said. "We were in the red zone a couple of times and they made the plays, so credit to them. We came out healthy and came out with a win. We just need to keep rolling ahead."

In a first half dominated by punt teams, Port St. Joe had the first chance when a fumbled snap on a Bay punt put the Tiger Sharks in business at the Tornado 16.

Port St. Joe could go nowhere — a slant pass from Drew Lacour to Dwayne Griggs inside the 5 was broken up — and Bay stopped Port St. Joe on downs.

An 8-yard punt by Griggs — who would leave the game in the third quarter with a concussion after a violent collision while on defense — just past the midpoint in the second quarter gave Bay its first scoring opportunity.

The Tornadoes took over at the Tiger Shark 23 and Webb picked up the yardage in three carries, scoring from the 4. The extra point by Blake Whitmire made it 7-0.

At halftime, the teams had combined for just 104 yards. The theme continued through the first nine minutes of the second half before Bay took over at its 27.

The Tornadoes, with Port St. Joe appearing to tire slightly, marched 73 yards in 14 plays, consuming 7:12 of the clock.

Webb slipped outside and through two tacklers on a 15-yard jaunt to score; the extra point was off and it was 13-0.

Port St. Joe was three-and-out before a wild series of plays led to Bay's final touchdown.

The Tornadoes failed to move and faced a third-and-11 at their 23. A middle screen from the younger Longerbeam to Markeis Goodman appeared to break wide open for the touchdown, but the play was called back for an illegal block.

Bay also was hit with an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty for protesting the call. From the 4, Longerbeam found Michael Layfield in the deep middle of the field. Layfield turned outside past his defender and was gone for a 96-yard touchdown. The extra point kick was off the mark again.

"We had a couple of series where we probably needed to score because we weren't going to get many chances against them," Gannon said.

rebuilding.

"We've got three seniors and two juniors on the field," said Johnson. "We've got three juniors hurt from the last game. The majority is just young and just learning to play varsity football."

A factor against them, said Johnson, was the amount of injuries in the first few games.

"It's been this way for the last couple of weeks," he said. "We'll have injuries and have to rotate players in that haven't played. It's hard to gain momentum when it's like playing with a new team each time someone gets hurt."

Johnson explained the only thing the freshmen lack is experience.

"These kids have a lot of heart and are playing hard," he said. "They're trying their hardest and working hard towards that goal down the road. We've got a ways to go but they're making steady strides to improvement."

NATIONAL DAY OF REMEMBRANCE

PATRIOT DAY

SEPTEMBER 11, 2013

Honoring those impacted by September 11

September 11, 2001 is a day permanently etched in history. 9-11 carries profound meaning for many people and stands in infamy along with events like Pearl Harbor and the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King, Jr.

The attacks on 9-11 resulted in a total of 2,996 fatalities. Among those were the victims on the four planes, civilians working in the towers and on the ground, military personnel and civilians in the Pentagon, and first-responders to the scenes. It is believed that at least 200 people in the World Trade Center fell or jumped to their deaths from the burning towers because rescue was improbable at or above points of impact on the towers.

Thousands of first responders and civilians entered the affected buildings to search for or help people exit the carnage. As of 2010, it is believed that more than 800 of these responders have also died, some say from illnesses related to their heroic efforts.

LAND O'LAKES — Joined by Adjutant General of Florida National Guard Maj. Gen. Emmett R. Titshaw Jr. and Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs Deputy Executive Director Col. Al Carter, Gov. Rick Scott and First Lady Ann Scott recently awarded 136 Florida veterans with the Governor's Veterans Service Award for their service to Florida and the nation.

"Our veterans are fearless heroes that have made countless sacrifices for Florida families and it is important that we take the time to frequently honor and thank them for their courage and their service. We will forever be indebted to our veterans for their service, and this medal will serve as a testament of our thanks from Floridians everywhere," Scott said.

The ceremony was held at the Baldomero-Lopez State Veterans Nursing Home in Land O'Lakes, one of six veterans' nursing homes in the state. During the ceremony, Scott highlighted the service of Florida veteran, Sergeant First Class Angel Torres-Mendez.

Sgt. First Class Angel Torres-Mendez served in the U.S. Army from 1947-1974. During that time, he volunteered for Special Forces and completed his training at Fort Bragg. He was a Green Beret in Vietnam for three years and completed a total of 18 missions. During his time serving in the Army, he received numerous medals, including the Combat Infantryman's Badge, National Defense Service Medal, Parachute Badge, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal and four Good Conduct Medals. Today, Torres-Mendez often volunteers at local schools and community veteran's events.

About the Florida Veterans Medal

Volunteers sought for cancer research study

Special to Extra

What would you do if you could prevent even one family from hearing the words "you have cancer"?

What if you could help save lives from cancer and give people more of their most precious resource: Time? More time with family and friends, to help create a world with more memories, more celebrations ... and more birthdays.

This year, you can join the movement to help create a world with less cancer and more birthdays by enrolling in the American Cancer Society's research study Cancer Prevention Study-3 or CPS-3.

To be eligible to join the study, you must live in the United States or Puerto Rico and be willing to commit to the study long term. If you participate you will have to commit to doing periodic follow up surveys at home for the next 20 to 30 years. You must be between the ages of 30 and 65 and have never been diagnosed with cancer (not including basal or squamous cell skin cancer).

If you are eligible to participate the enrollment process involves two steps. The first step takes place at either Bay Medical Center-Sacred Heart Health System, Medical Office Building in Rooms one and two from 3-7 p.m. on Oct. 17 or at the Gulf Coast Medical Center Learning Center from 7-11 a.m. on Oct. 18. During this time you will be asked to read and sign an informed consent form, complete a brief written survey, provide a waist circumference measurement and a small blood sample. The next step takes place at home, where you will complete a more detailed survey.

House call vets: angels on wheels

Special to Extra

Whether it is your beloved barrel racer, Seabiscuit, or your honorable hunting companion, Rover, a trip to the veterinary clinic is usually not an activity of choice. Saving anxiety and stress for you and your pet, many clinics provide both small and large animal mobile veterinary services that will see your animal in the comfort of your own home. Packing up their knowledge and expertise in that black veterinarian bag, they will be at Seabiscuit's or Rover's side in no time at all.

Over the years, most pet owners' leisure time has become less leisurely. When something unexpected arises at work, or you lack the ability to bring your pet to the nearest veterinary clinic, a house call vet is an excellent option.

"There are many rewarding aspects about ambulatory practice, such as getting to know your clients in their home or farm settings," said Dr. Leslie Easterwood, assistant clinical professor at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences. "It is nice to be able to know your clients on a more personal level, getting to meet all the pets, kids and other family members."

As opposed to stationary veterinary practitioners, house call veterinarians must be able to have the animals caught up in a small pen or barn and have the proper facilities available to work on the animals safely, said Easterwood. "Farm call veterinarians frequently have to operate in a 'McGyver' mode to get things done without all the conveniences of a clinic setting, but most things can be done." Mobile vets, just like a regular vet clinic, must have their facilities and equipment regularly inspected.

Just because the animal doesn't fit in your living room doesn't mean that it doesn't warrant the care of a house call veterinarian. There are traveling vets for large farm animals and house pets alike. "Farm (or house) calls are much more commonplace in large animal cases than in small animal,"

Easterwood said. "Farm calls are actually a daily part of large animal practice, just because it is easier to transport the veterinarian and their supplies than the large animal patient in some cases."

There are many varieties of mobile veterinarians, so it is important to do your research ahead of time and find one that offers the exact services your pet needs. "Most ambulatory large animal veterinarians have trucks or SUVs that are equipped with supplies and the necessary equipment to do procedures on the farm," Easterwood said. While the majority of them perform wellness check-ups and vaccinations, emergency services might not always be available through mobile vets.

As expected, rates for house call veterinarians tend to be higher than clinic visits because of the expense of travel. However, it is usually not difficult to find a reasonably priced mobile vet; you just have to do your research. Some mobile vets charge a flat rate "per trip" for needed services no matter the number of pets they're treating on the visit.

Traveling veterinarians, mobile vets, veterinarians on wheels or house call vets: though there are many different names for these miracle workers, their duties remain the same. They provide a stress-free solution for getting your pet — of any size — the care it needs.

These angels on wheels can be a busy pet owner's answer to a prayer.

Fifty Shades of Grey suits

I guess I am one of those old-fashioned guys still wearing a suit. I have been wearing a suit and tie for as long as I can remember, which really isn't saying a great deal. Not much I can remember these days, which is one of the advantages of growing older.

When the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage grills me about some incident that did or did not happen, I can always rely on the good old faithful, "I just can't remember!"

"Well," she stammers as she stares at me, "but don't let it happen again."

My problem is I cannot remember what I am supposed to remember so how can I remember not to let it happen again? (Sigh.)

So, my memory is not quite up to par in many areas. One area has to do with my suits.

There is only one thing I do not like about my suits. I feel most comfortable in the suit and so I have several suits that I wear on a rotating basis. Naturally, they all look alike so nobody knows I am rotating my suits. The secret to rotating suits is to have an assortment of ties, but make sure those ties do not look alike. I have enough ties that I do not have to wear one for up to three months.

I have a bright pink

Out to Pastor

tie I wear twice a year and every time I wear it, several people ask me if I got a new necktie. I always smile and nod in the affirmative. Why spoil a good moment?

The negative side of wearing suits is occasionally you have to replace them.

There are all sorts of reasons why a suit needs to be replaced. One is that you grow out of it or it grows out of you. Either way the suit has to be replaced.

Another reason is that something happened to the suit and there is some tear necessitating the whole suit being replaced. The key here is not to let my wife know that there is a small tear in my suit. The moment she discovers the slightest tear in one of my suits she begins her plan of having that suit replaced.

For me, a tear is simply a tear. If it is in the rear of my suit jacket, I do not see it so it is no concern to me. If other people are inconvenienced by a small tear in the back of my suit coat, let them replace the suit. I can deal with all kinds of tear oddities about my suit.

Not so in the case of my wife. Even a slightly worn spot on my suit coat, begins her thinking of replacing it. Believe me; I try to hide it as much as possible to keep it from the ever-piercing eyes of my wife who sees through everything, even things that are not there.

Just recently, despite my attempts to conceal the issue, my wife spotted a small tear on my suit coat. It happened to be my favorite suit coat. I can recall exactly when and how the split occurred. I kept that information away from my wife as long as I possibly could; now I had to pay the piper.

Early Monday morning we were off to the men's store to purchase another suit. The whole way there, I was thinking of all the other things I could be doing at this time. Being the gracious and humble husband I am, I yielded to the prompting of my wife and we were off to the men's store.

As soon as we walked in, we were greeted by a young man to which my wife said, "We're here to buy a suit."

I figured I better step in before the conversation got out of control. "We're looking for a grey suit."

"I understand," said the young man as he thoughtfully pulled at his chin looking down the long row of suits. "And what color grey are you looking for?"

"Say what," I said. "What color grey are you looking for?" He repeated.

As far as I was concerned, grey was grey and that was the color I was looking for. Nonetheless, I was in for a surprise.

"We have a variety of grey suits. There is a charcoal grey. Light grey. Dark grey." He went on and on about the variety of grey colors in his shop. If I heard correctly, according to him, there were at least 50 shades of grey.

Believe me, there was not anything romantic about that!

All I wanted was a grey suit. To me, grey is grey is grey. I do not want my suit to be a fashion statement. In fact, I want my suit to be silent and say nothing at all. We walked out of the men's store with a new suit and my wife had a wonderful smile on her face. I on the other hand, had a sick feeling in the pit of my stomach realizing just how much this grey suit cost me.

I have a new appreciation for what the apostle Paul said. "That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man" (Ephesians 3:16 KJV).

It is not the outside that really matters, but the inside of a man.
