County to discuss cooperation for BP funds

By CECILIA SPEARS

BONIFAY — Holmes County Board of County Commissioners agreed to listen to a request from Bill Williams, a consultant with SCG Governmental Affairs LLC, during their meeting Tuesday for a special session to discuss the Restore Act.

Williams is representing area counties in their collaborative effort to seek BP funding due to the oil spill that occurred in April of 2010.

“There’s a pool of money from that oil spill and now they are trying to figure out how to dispense that money,” said County Attorney Jeff Goodman. “The Restore Act is an effort to get the different counties on the same page to gain better leverage to push towards obtaining that money. I’ll continue to go to these meetings and I hope that Holmes County will be willing to work with the other counties.”

Williams said that it would basically be a commitment made by the counties to include the Restore Act in their future plans and requested that the county appoint a mediator on behalf of the county, which after discussion they agreed on County Engineer Cliff Knauer.

After some discussion the board agreed to discuss the matter in a workshop later.

After the final reading and public hearing for the One-Cent Surtax Ordinance, the board approved the ordinance.

Resident Tamphus Messer was present to request the name of Besma Road be renamed after his father, Tom Messer.

Various travel magazines were invited to visit tourist attractions within the Apalachicola and Choctawhatchee river areas, which includes Washington and Holmes County and was organized by RiverWay South Apalachicola Choctawhatchee. Taking the position of host and guide Holmes County Chamber Coordinator Julia Bullington took visiting travel writers to this year’s Northwest Florida Championship Rodeo as one of their many destinations.

Holmes County Chamber is about networking

BONIFAY — Located at 106 E Byrd Ave. in Bonifay, the log cabin is said to house more than just the Holmes County Chamber of Commerce — it houses the possibility of a brighter future for Holmes County.

“The Holmes County Chamber of Commerce is a representative of the businesses as a whole,” said Chamber Coordinator Julia Bullington. “Really we’re the eyes and ears on what relates to our county, if we need to take a stand, if it’s going to affect us and how we operate. My number one job is being a cog in the wheel that keeps businesses and people connected.”

Bullington said that is one of the greatest advantages to becoming a chamber member — not only does it connect small businesses to each other but it promotes their businesses at business conventions such as RiverWay South Summit, which is a gathering of the area’s economic development leaders to discuss ways to better promote and increase the areas’ tourism through promotion.

“We’ve got quite a bit of tourist attractions for a small county,” Bullington said. “When all of the local economic development leaders gather for this type of convention then it attracts some attention from some of the bigger media, and as a

BONIFAY — More students are entering the Holmes County school systems, which was indicated by the approval of Out of County/ State Students by the Holmes County District School Board during their meeting on Oct. 1.

“We are still getting more coming into the county than leaving,” said Superintendent Eddie Dixon. “This time we’ve got 12 coming in and only one going out.”

School board member Shirley Owens thanked the district’s financial department for “putting together such a comprehensive financial report.”

“It is really easy to read and navigate through,” said Owens. “They’ve done such an outstanding job.”

chamber member, then those businesses will be promoted in those travel magazines and brochures. Being a chamber member just shows that you are a business that wants to be involved in the community and are wanted to promote your areas success."

She said that the summit was an easy way to promote areas.

"We're planning our fall summit, and we've invited travel magazines, politicians, travel experts and guest speakers who excel in the latest economic and tourist development strategies," Bullington said. "It will be an incredible day with a show board from each county. The greatest advantage is that as a group we afford promotional avenues that we couldn't otherwise afford on our own."

Chambers are increasing as promotional stops for many areas.

"If someone isn't familiar with an area and are thinking about visiting or moving to an area the place they're going to look at first is the local Chamber of Commerce," Bullington said. "Our website is a one stop for all visitors to check out everything from tourism to commercial information within Holmes County. It is those businesses, such as hotels, restaurants and entertainment destinations that are promoted through our website, and it's a shame to miss out on it because you're not a member."

She said her aim is to get Holmes County known throughout the tourism industry.

"We're strong, educated, willing and dedicated businesses that help one another," said Bullington. "That's another reason why you should become a member because there's so much we can do for you and that's what I live for. I'm not doing it for just one business, I'm doing it for all."

Bullington said the Holmes County community is very supportive of one another.

"There has never been a community as tight as this one," said Bullington. "It's a network of businesses that help one another and as a chamber we can be as helpful or as generic as you want us to be."

She said the community and the chamber are also there to help small businesses get started or even advance through grants or low interest loans.

"We'll help those potential businesses evaluate their chances of becoming a successful business, the steps necessary and the possibility of assistance," said Bullington. "Not many people know what's required to start a small business. There's a lot of hard work, time, money, dedication and determination needed but it all starts with a dream."

She used a potential cupcake business as an example.

"Let's say you've got two different guys who are great at making cupcakes and want to start a business," Bullington said. "You got one fellow with no money, no first and last month's rent, no location and plan and then you've got a fellow who's diligently put money away and has a well-written plan to get investors outlining his plans and his experience. It's the second guy that we can really get started pointing in the right direction."

Bullington said the chamber has a small business advisor who comes in for one-on-one interviews to help those who are wanting to start a small business get started with step-by-step instruction. Call the chamber to set an appointment with the small business advisor.

Travel magazines were invited to visit tourist attractions within the Apalachicola and Choctawhatchee river areas, which includes Washington and Holmes counties and was organized by RiverWay South Apalachicola Choctawhatchee during a promotional called Four-Day Nature's "Bucket List" Tour of Northwest Florida on Oct. 1-4. Taking the position of host and guide Holmes County Chamber Coordinator Julia Bullington took visiting travel writers to locations of interest, which included visiting the Choctawhatchee River Designated Canoe Trail and this year's Northwest Florida Championship Rodeo.

"It all goes back to the fact that we are the networking source for Holmes County," Bullington said. "You can be recognized with the name of your business on our website, but remember you only get out as much as you put in. You're business front is the doorway that reflects who you are, and sometimes you need to take a step back and ask if you were coming there for the first time would you be considered open, inviting and refreshing."

Federal Program Director Carmen Bush recommended that the Holmes County District School Board approve of the 2012-2013 School Public Accountability Reports during the school board's Oct. 1 meeting.

School board member Debbie Kolmetz informed the board that she was disappointed recently by the poor advertisement of an awards ceremony held at Ponce de Leon High School.

"There was no announcement of it on the school's front or on their website," said Kolmetz. "There were about only nine people in attendance. It should've been done at the end of the year and not three months into the school year."

"Some time ago a woman came down here with a petition to name that road Besma Road, after herself and said she was the only one living on that road," said Messer. "The petition was signed by people who don't even live on that road, but I let it go. Last year Commissioner Philip Music said that if I could get a petition together that I could have it changed."

He said he requested it because she didn't live on the road any more and that it was his father who helped build the road.

Goodman said that there is a lengthy process in order to rename a road and requested that he present the information at the next board meeting.

Knauer gave an update on the progress made with his meeting with the City of Bonifay to investigate an issue they were having with items being flushed down the toilets at the prison and clogging their waste water treatment pumps.

"We met and there made a report and recommendations," said Knauer. "They were saying that there were various debris being flushed down the toilet like tennis shoes, grocery bags and bed sheets and I must say what we saw wasn't very pretty. You see the prison has no garbage cans so anything you or I would've thrown in the garbage was what they were flushing down the toilet."

Knauer's recommendation was to install a rod mess box filter to catch all the excess debris, which would be cleaned daily by the inmates.

"The bad news is that it's expensive and we don't know the exact depth," he said. "Based on the info we have now it is estimated to cost anywhere between $25,000 to $50,000. I recommend that the city help with probing for the depth."

He also said there would be some expense in having to bypass the system to install it and for an override system to bypass it when an inmate was working on cleaning it each day.

"It's a big and costly situation but so is stopping pumps with bed sheets and tennis shoes and when it stops we have overflow issues; we can't have that," said Commissioner Bill Parish. "I wish there was a simple and cheap way to fix this but that's just not the case here."

Knauer said he was going to move forward with asking the city for help probing for the depth and then bring a more accurate estimation to the board at the next meeting.

The board approved of Emergency Management Director Greg Barton's request to hire Dakota Ward as the newest full time Emergency Management Technician.

Parish said that he was receiving complaints about a couple of waste management companies taking their trash home and storing it there and requested that at least those they hold contracts with stay within the land development code.

Goodman confirmed that they can require that compliance and agreed to send the waste management company a letter of compliance.

"I just recommend that if you hold one to certain standards that you remain consistent and require it of them all," said Goodman.

The board also approved of re-advertising for an additional secretarial position at their office.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Holmes County Board of County Commissioners is set for 6 p.m. on Oct. 29.

Remembering Dexter Douglass: 'A lawyer's lawyer'

First, I want to thank my friend Hazel Tison for asking me to be a guest columnist for her this week. When I told her about the death of my cousin, Dexter Douglass, a Tallahassee lawyer who died Sept. 17 at the age of 83 and his connection to the Williams family that owned the Holmes County Advertiser from 1892-1981, she graciously asked me to write an article about Dexter.

Dexter Douglass, who died Sept. 17 at his home in Tallahassee, was related to me through our great-grandfather, W. D. Williams, who founded the Advertiser in 1892. Two of W.D.'s children were Dexter's grandmother, Annie Lee Williams Douglass, and my grandfather, Edward A. Williams. Dexter's father was Annie's son, Willie D. Douglass. Edward and later his son DeVane succeeded W.D. as editors and publishers of the Advertiser, Edward from 1909-1949 and DeVane from 1949-1974. In 1974, my husband, Orren R. Smith, succeeded my father as editor and publisher. Therefore, I think it is fitting that the passing of such an illustrious member of the Advertiser and Williams family be noted in this newspaper.

Dexter was born Dec. 6, 1929, in Pensacola to Willie D. Douglass and his wife, Celia Marie Folmar. Not only was Dexter connected to Holmes County through the Williams family but also through his mother's brother, Eric Folmar, the long-time president of the Bank of Bonifay. Willie D., known as "Cooter" Douglass, was a newspaper publisher and a popular radio newscaster whose strong Democratic views were broadcast throughout the Florida Panhandle. Dexter's parents worked hard during the Depression and instilled in their son the value of hard work and the importance of being sensitive to the needs of others. Willie D.'s dream was for his son to become a lawyer, mainly because he saw the law as a profession where you could do some good for others. So Dexter said all he ever wanted to be was a lawyer.

Educated in Okaloosa County public schools and Georgia Military Academy, Dexter graduated from the University of Florida. Following his graduation, he served in the Korean War, flying 87 missions over enemy lines as an aerial observer. After the war, he returned to the University of Florida to study law, graduating in 1955. It was at the University of Florida that he became friends with some of the men who would become the "movers and shakers" in Florida politics. In particular, he and Lawton Chiles formed a close personal friendship that lasted until Chiles' death. Dexter served as general counsel to Gov. Chiles, and in this capacity he led the legal team that won the landmark legal settlement against Big Tobacco.

He was a member of two Florida Constitution Revision Commissions, serving as chairman of the second Constitutional Revision Commission in 1997-98. It is notable that Florida voters approved 12 of the 13 amendments proposed by that commission. He knew the Florida Constitution "backwards and forwards" because, as someone noted, he wrote so much of it.

Dexter was known for his brilliant mind and scholarly knowledge of the law. He was frequently called "a lawyer's lawyer" for this reason. His interpretation of the U.S. Constitution was that it guaranteed freedoms to everyone, and he dedicated his career to ensuring that his clients, rich or poor, black or white, had access to those freedoms and to the best legal representation he could provide. Dexter believed that his desire to help people stemmed from his heritage, going all the way back to his great-grandfather.

I know from my personal relationship with Dexter, which was most often in very long telephone conversations and emails and occasional visits, he was very proud of his humble roots in the Florida Panhandle. He and I shared a love of family genealogy, and we both were particularly interested in learning more about "Old W.D.," our great-grandfather, who was such a colorful character well-known for his newspaper editorials that championed the rights of the poor and downtrodden. Dexter even had his secretary, Janis Piotrowski, who was a genealogist, help us with some of our research. In 2005, Dexter was the guest speaker, and I could also say entertainer, at a reunion here in Bonifay of the descendants of Edward A. and Nellie DeVane Williams. He helped make it a memorable occasion for everyone.

Although he had long been a well-known and highly respected lawyer in Florida, it was the 2000 presidential election that brought him national fame and recognition. A lifelong Democrat, Dexter served as the Florida member of the team of lawyers who represented Al Gore, the U.S. vice president, in the controversial legal battle to win the presidency of the United States against George W. Bush. I remember Orren and I stayed glued to the TV as this political drama played out on the national stage. I also remember thinking, and soon after told Dexter, that Old W.D., Willie D., my granddaddy, and my daddy, all staunch Democrats, would have been so proud of him and his legal efforts on behalf of the Democratic party.

Dexter had a personality as renowned as his legal ability. He could be outspoken, opinionated and brash, while at the same time having an "aw shucks" attitude that frequently fooled his courtroom opponents. He loved to tell stories, usually laced with a lot of humor and irreverence. Yet, he was also a courtly, well-dressed and handsome man, frequently referred to as a true Southern gentleman. He had a "folksy" charm about him and often called himself a "Florida Cracker." He loved getting away from the pressures of the courtroom by raising prized Polled Herefords on his large farm outside Tallahassee, where he lived with his wife, Terese, in a beautiful two-story home.

Gerald Ensley, senior writer for the Tallahassee Democrat, wrote the following in the paper the day after Dexter's death: "Dexter Douglass was a storyteller, a humorist, a historian, a mentor and a savvy political operative. But most of all, Dexter Douglass was a consummate attorney, a man not only versed in the law but in love with the law and firmly convinced it should benefit all citizens."

The last time I saw Dexter was a few years ago when he came to see me after Christmas and brought along a son-in-law and a couple of his grandchildren. After a visit at my home, where he brought me some copies of family pictures, we went to the Westville Cemetery to visit the graves of our great-grandparents. I remember the love, pride and emotion he expressed (and I also felt) when he gave his grandchildren a family history lesson that bleak and cold day in that little cemetery. Afterward, he took them to visit some Douglass graves in the Crestview area. Those children probably heard more family stories that day than they could possibly remember!

It is impossible for me to tell in this column about all of the accomplishments and honors bestowed on this cousin of mine. In reading the accolades in the state and national newspapers at the time of Dexter's death, I think the one by Diane Roberts, a close friend of Dexter's, touched me the most. So I would like to close by quoting from her column in the Tallahassee Democrat on Sept. 20:

"When Sir Christopher Wren, architect of St. Paul's, died, they put up a stone in the cathedral carved with the words, 'Lector, si monumentum requiris, circumspice' (Reader, if you seek his monument, look around you.). If you seek Dexter Douglass' monument, look at the Florida Constitution, its commitment to education, its strong separation of church and state, its guarantees of equal treatment under the law. If Dexter had to die, it's fitting that he died on Sept. 17. That's Constitution Day, when we commemorate the date in 1787 America truly became a nation of laws. That's what Dexter Douglass stood for."

I wish Dexter and I could have had just one more visit, just one more long phone conversation filled with humorous stories about our family and its history. I will miss him.

Ruth Brock Bush honored at 90th birthday

Ruth Brock Bush was honored with a 90th birthday celebration from 2-4 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 15, at Chipley's First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall.

A host of longtime friends and coworkers joined the family in honoring this uncommon lady. It was this writer's privilege to attend the event both as a family member, as well as fellow worker and friend.

Ruth Brock Bush was born Sept. 17, 1923, to Dan L. Brock and Beatrice Strickland Brock. She had an older sister, Jahaza Brock Blue, who passed away in October 2007.

Ruth was living in Mayo, Fla., as a baby with the parents and older sister when the mother, Beatrice, died on April 9, 1924. The father was in that area working for the Standard Lumber Company. Upon the death of the mother, 7-months-old Ruth and two-year-old sister, Jahaza, were placed with the paternal grandparents, James Willie (Will) Brock and Amalee Henderson Brock, who were living in Holmes County. Also residing in the home were Dan's two younger brothers, Thomas Henderson Brock and Henry Brock. Sister, Annie Lee, had already married.

The grandfather, Will Brock, and son, Dan, continued working in Taylor County with Will working with the State of Florida Tick Eradication program and Dan with the lumber company.

On March 19, 1927, tragedy again invaded this family when the grandfather, Will Brock, was shot and killed by Harry Allen in Mayo, Fla. This man had barricaded himself inside his home after learning the sheriff of the county was en route to his home with a court order to serve for Mr. Allen's refusal to send his son to school.

Will Brock volunteered to accompany the sheriff as he considered himself a friend of Allen and felt "he could talk to him." Instead the man greeted them with gunfire resulting in the death of Will Brock and serious gunshot wounds to Frank Murray, a Mayo Constable, and the nine-year-old son of the shooter.

PERRY'S PRATTLE
Perry Wells

Reportedly, the gunman was taken from the lawmen attempting to transfer him to a Lake City jail by a group of men who dumped him into the Suwanee River, where his body was never recovered.

Will Brock's body was brought by train to Bonifay, and ultimately to Bethel Primitive Baptist Church in Washington County the following day for the funeral. A crowd estimated at more than 800 to 1,000 people attended the funeral, a record number to attend a funeral in this area, thus requiring the service to be held outside.

Dan Brock married Auro Edith Hart on Dec. 28, 1927. She was the daughter of his landlord in Mayo. They soon moved to Chipley where Dan had accepted a job as Deputy Sheriff with Henry Farrior, the elected Sheriff of the county. Ruth Brock and sister, Jahaza Brock, came to live with the father and step-mother at that time.

Further sadness in this family came when the wife of Dan Brock died only three months after the marriage reportedly caused by a ruptured appendix. She was buried in Mayo. Dan then moved his mother and the two younger brothers to live with him and the two young daughters in Chipley. He had lost his father and two wives in a period of four years, all before his 26th birthday. The father's last marriage was to Catherine Griffin, who had two teenage daughters. To them was born, Tom Brock and Jane Brock Brown (twins) and William Brock.

Ruth Brock met Stokes Bush while a senior in Holmes County High School. Stokes had just returned home from a stint in the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), a work program for young men during the great depression. This meeting developed into a courtship and a marriage in November 1941. "We moved to Pensacola where Jahaza and husband, Bernard Blue, already lived. She continued, "Bernard was working at Sherrill Oil Station and Stokes went to work there making $75 per month. We had twins, Euyll Lamar and Karin Lolita, born Aug. 1, 1942."

Later the couple moved back to Bonifay, thinking Stokes was being drafted into military service. As World War II ended in 1945, this induction was cancelled and he went to work in the Survey Crew for the Florida State Road Department. The third child, Margaret Loanva, was born March 27, 1950. Stokes Bush died Oct. 29, 2004. Later Ruth married Carlton Davidson April 28, 2001. He only lived six months after the marriage.

The move to Bonifay came just after Ruth's father, Dan L. Brock, was elected sheriff of Washington County. She went to work for her dad in 1947, thus beginning her 40-year law enforcement related career. After her father's tenure ended, she continued to work for the new Sheriff, George W. Watts, Jr. In 1957, Ruth began a 12-year working relationship with Cletus Andrews upon his being elected Sheriff in Holmes County. After this, she returned to Washington County and added fourteen more years while working of County Judge A. K. Shuler, Sheriff Theron Cook and retired from the position while working for Sheriff Fred Peel.

At her retirement party on April 4, 1987, Sheriff Fred Peel described Ruth Brock Bush as "a real lady, well respected throughout the community, her church and other organizations." "She always works extra hours and its not uncommon to see her at the office on week-ends."

At Ruth's recent retirement reception, Washington County Sheriff Bobby Haddock and wife, Laura, greeted Ruth while reminiscing of their long working relationship together. Long time Jailer and Bailiff, Henry Day and wife, Dillie, talked of "days gone by" with the honoree. Sarah McQueen Franklin, who attended Ruth's retirement from the Sheriff's Department where Sarah also worked. Other employees from her long tenure in public service were also there.

Happy 90th birthday greetings to my cousin Ruth Brock Bush. It was my pleasure of working along with her for sixteen of those forty years faithful of service rendered in the law enforcement and judicial departments of government.

See you all next week.

'Where discipline breeds pride'

Gateway Christian Military Academy director speaks to Kiwanis Club

By CECILIA SPEARS
547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chipleypaper.com

BONIFAY — "Where discipline breeds pride" is one of the mottos used at Gateway Christian Military Academy.

Academy director Clay Hatcher explained the past, present and future of the academy to the Bonifay Kiwanis Club during their meeting on Sept. 18.

Hatcher started with David Wilkerson, who founded Teen Challenge in 1958 at Staten Island.

He told how Wilkerson was a young pastor living in eastern Pennsylvania and how one afternoon Wilkerson had read an article in "Life" magazine about seven teenagers charged with murdering a young man during a gang fight in Manhattan.

It was then that he told his wife he was moving to New York.

"He told his wife that's what God was leading him to do," said Hatcher. "He told his congregation and they raised money to send him to New York City. It didn't work out like he wanted, in fact the judge wouldn't even let him see those boys but he thought that while he was there he had to do something for the Lord, so he began to minister to people on the street."

He said Wilkerson's targeted audience was the drug dealers and drug users.

"The popular phrase back then was 'once a druggie, always a druggie, there's no help for them,' and so David Wilkerson believed that God sent him to do that kind of work so he'd do what he could," said Hatcher. "Out of that formed a ministry called Teen Challenge and began to have favor with people that no one had favor with. In 1960 Teen Challenge moves to Brooklyn and in 1964 the crusades start across America due to the success of "The Cross and the Switchblade."

Wilkerson wrote a book called "The Cross and the Switchblade" in 1962 with authors John and Elizabeth Sherrill, based on his first five years of working in New York to encourage youth to do away with drugs and gang violence. "The Cross and the Switchblade" quickly became a best-seller with over 16 million copies sold worldwide in over 30 languages.

The book was turned into a movie in 1970 and starred Pat Boone as Wilkerson and Erik Estrada as Nicky Cruz, a teen whose life was changed through Wilkerson's ministry.

"From there he got so many speaking engagements because of 'The Cross and the Switchblade' he began to do crusades across America and talking about his ministry and what God was leading him to do," said Hatcher. "The Teen Challenge we have now is a result of the work of David Wilkerson following God back in the 1950s. For local history, our Teen Challenge actually started as a vision out of Carmel Assembly of God through Harvest Ministry, Inc."

He explained that in 1989 Harvest Ministry, Inc. purchased the original 100 acres and a brick house from landowner Cliff Austin for $120,000.

"Mike Warren, Tommy Moore and Cecil Woodham were three of the original members of Harvest Ministry, Inc. who poured their lives into the start of this ministry," said Hatcher. "In 1991 they moved into the original building and called the ministry Circle H Boys Ranch. In 1992 they realized the ministry was more than they could handle and turned it over to Teen Challenge of Florida."

From 1992 to 1996 the boys' home transitioned into a Men's Center, in 1996 Dave Rutledge took over the ministry and it transitioned back into an adolescent boys' center, in 2000 a military style drill academy was adopted to create more stringent discipline, from 2000 to 2012 there was a push for building program and Teen Challenge was merged with FMC.

In 2013 Dave and Barbara Rutledge retired after 16 years of service and Hatcher took over as director.

"Now we are wanting to go back to the original vision that David Wilkerson had, where he took those youth around the country on crusades to save others," said Hatcher. "Harvest Ministries Inc. envisioned a center to help local youth receive the help and skills, vocationally, they needed to be in order to be a productive member of society. We are starting a scholarship program to help off-set the cost for local families in need and we have begun a vocational program to teach boys skills that they can use beyond our program like auto body, mechanics, welding, woodshop, construction and farming."

He said they changed the uniforms to look more like school uniforms and not military garb, though it is still a military academy.

"I know I can't save all kids," said Hatcher. "Some of them are going to be rebellious and you can't help someone who doesn't want to be helped. What change looks like, I've found over the years, is when a young man does what he ought to do because he wants to."

Teen Challenge is involved in many activities, he said, they will start building an orphanage, 27 homes and a school in May in Guatemala and they participate regularly in school ministry through drug awareness programs across the country.

"My biggest push locally is for people to be aware of who we are, first of all by being a light in our community," said Hatcher. "If you want to fulfill the greatest mission on every level, Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria, we've got to start where we are first."

South Walton Seahawks shock Chipley Tigers

By TINA HARBUCK

Halifax Media Services

SANTA ROSA BEACH — The South Walton Seahawks rolled up almost 500 yards to post a 45-38 win over the Chipley Tigers in District 3-1A Friday night.

"We just played our hearts out," said South Walton Coach Phil Tisa. "We wanted it."

The Seahawks got the job done on the ground and through the air.

Junior quarterback Jonathan Ortnier completed 25 of 41 passes for 323 yards and five touchdowns.

Alex Smith had two touchdown catches, one for 19 yards and the other from 2 yards.

Zach Reese had a 20-yard touchdown reception and rushed for 76 yards and a 1-yard plunge for a TD.

Chandler Parrett had a 9-yard catch for a touchdown and Sage Roberts caught a pass for a 26-yard score.

Ortnier also carried the ball nine times for 62 yards.

Harrison Schaffer rushed seven times for 29 yards and a 1-yard score.

A big difference in the game was turnovers.

South Walton knocked the ball loose three times with Zack Armer, Wesley Miller and Nick Harris each making recoveries.

"The turnovers were huge," Tisa said. "We just played with intensity all night long."

The Seahawks scored first early in the second quarter.

South Walton capped a 70-yard drive with a 1-yard plunge by Schaffer.

Austin Garofalo kicked in the point-after.

With 8 minutes left in the first half, Chipley got the ball and scored in two plays. Kobe McCrary, who had 176 yards rushing, broke loose for a 57-yard scamper.

Darren Stewart ran a successful conversion and the Tigers led 8-7.

Chipley again struck quickly on a 71-yard dash by Stewart.

Stewart rushed 19 times in the game for 208 yards.

After another conversion the Tigers were up 16-7.

South Walton answered with a one-minute drive.

Ortnier completed a 16-yard pass to Smith, then a 24-yarder to Roberts.

Reese picked up 23 on the ground and then carried it in on the next play from 1 yard.

Again Chipley broke a big play with Zack Campbell scoring on a 61-yard run.

Tyrome Sharpe was good for the 2-point conversion.

Right before the half, the Seahawks put together an 11-play drive with Ortnier connecting with Reese on a 20-yard completion for the score.

The two-point try failed and it was 24-20 Chipley at the half.

At the start of the third, the Seahawks knocked the ball loose on the third play with Miller making the recovery at midfield.

The Seahawks took it down the field with Ortnier completing four passes on the drive with the last going to Smith from 19 yards.

The extra point was blocked by Chipley's JJ Holmes.

Chipley answered with a long drive of its own.

Campbell scored on a 8-yard run around the left end.

McCrary's conversion opened a 32-26 lead.

The Seahawks took the lead with a quick drive to start the fourth quarter.

Ortnier completed three passes with the final going to Parrett in the end zone for 9 yards.

Chipley lost control on a reverse with Harris picking it up for the Seahawks.

South Walton scored in three plays with Ortnier connecting with Roberts on a 26-yard strike for the score.

Garofalo was good on the kick to tie the game 38-38.

With 5:51 left, South Walton gained control once more and marched 12 plays to score.

Ortnier connected with Smith in the end zone for a 2-yard TD reception.

Yellow Jackets sting Hornets 15-8 in Homecoming thriller

By JASON SHOOT

VERNON — It didn't take long to figure out the football teams at Vernon and Cottondale didn't like each other much Friday night.

It was Vernon quarterback Tristan Porter who got the last word. In a sharp departure from the rest of the game, Porter did his talking with his legs.

Porter scored on an 10-yard touchdown run with just over four minutes remaining to lift Vernon to a 15-8 victory over Cottondale in a District 2-1A matchup.

The Yellow Jackets improved to 2-3 overall and 1-0 in the district. Cottondale fell to 4-2 and 2-1 in the district, missing out on a chance to all but clinch a postseason berth.

Trailing 8-7 in the fourth quarter, Porter faked a handoff, ran around the left end and dodged a tackler on his way to the end zone to give Vernon a 13-8 advantage. Porter crossed the goal line on a run up the middle on the ensuing conversion attempt to give his team a seven-point lead.

Julian Silas and Austin Brown each intercepted a pass on Cottondale's next two possessions to clinch the victory.

A multitude of unsportsmanlike and personal foul penalties tarnished what otherwise was a hard-hitting, hotly contested matchup of District 2-1A schools. Fourteen penalties — most of them for overly aggressive play — were called in the first half alone, eight on the visiting Hornets. The teams combined for 19 penalties through four quarters.

The undisciplined play, which included several late hits and chop blocks, did not represent either team well.

Cottondale carried an 8-7 lead into the locker room at halftime when the Hornets stunned Vernon with a 36-yard touchdown pass from Justin Klotz to Shaundre McAroy with three seconds left in the second quarter.

Brandon Malloy gave Vernon a 7-0 lead with 42 seconds left in the first quarter when he capped a six-play drive with a 4-yard run.

It was Malloy's fourth carry in a row on the drive, and he squeezed between the guard and the tackle on the right side to cross the goal line.

Darrius Peterson led the Yellow Jackets with 96 yards on 15 carries. Vernon ended the game with 228 rushing yards on 43 carries.

Cottondale's Norris Calhoun entered the game leading the Hornets with 651 rushing yards, but the dynamic tailback was bottled up by Vernon's defense and finished with 14 yards on 11 carries. Calhoun was visibly frustrated throughout the game.

The Hornets netted only 83 total yards of offense, including 38 rushing yards on 19 attempts. Cottondale entered the game averaging more than 300 yards of offense.

Cottondale missed out an opportunity to solidify its playoff position and now faces a crucial matchup against rival Graceville on Nov. 1. After meeting Holmes County next week Vernon decides its district fate in three consecutive weeks against Graceville, Wewahitchka and Sneads.

DAYTONA BEACH — Halifax Media Group closed a deal to purchase three Florida newspapers and other print publications from HarborPoint Media on Sept. 30. The deal includes the Daily Commercial of Leesburg, the News-Sun of Sebring and the South Lake Press of Clermont.

"We are happy to welcome Leesburg, Sebring and Clermont into the Halifax Media Group family," said Michael Redding, CEO of Halifax Media Group. "Like our other properties, these newspapers represent the best source for local news and advertising in their communities, a relationship we hope to build on and strengthen as we've done with our other publications. These Central Florida markets are a perfect fit for our group."

About Halifax Media Group: Founded in 2010, Halifax Media is headquartered in Daytona Beach, Florida. The company's investment group includes Stephens Capital Partners, JAARSSS Media, and Redding Investments. STATE OF FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE PERMIT

The Department of Environmental Protection gives notice of its intent to issue a permit to R&E Farms — Westville Applications Fields, DEP File No. FLA828262-001-DWB/NP, William A. Rivenbark, 625 Burnt Street, Black, Alabama 36314-4915 to land apply biosolids to a total of 226.20 acres. The sites that will be permitted are labeled as zones AF-1 to AF-9 with a total acreage of 226.20 acres. The proposed project is located approximately 9 miles north of Westville, Florida along Highway 179A, at latitude 30° 52' 20" N, and longitude 85° 54' 20" W, in Holmes County, Florida.

The intent to issue and application file are available for public inspection during normal business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except legal holidays, at the Department's Northwest District Office, 160 W. Government Street, Suite 308, Pensacola, Florida 32502-5740, at phone number (850)595-8300.

The Department will issue the permit with the attached conditions unless a timely petition for an administrative hearing is filed under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes, within fourteen days of receipt of notice. The procedures for petitioning for a hearing are set forth below.

A person whose substantial interests are affected by the Department's proposed permitting decision may petition for an administrative proceeding (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed (received by the Clerk) in the Office of General Counsel of the Department at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000.

Under Rule 62-110.106(4), Florida Administrative Code, a person may request an extension of the time for filing a petition for an administrative hearing. The request must be filed (received by the Clerk) in the Office of General Counsel before the end of the time period for filing a petition for an administrative hearing.

Petitions filed by any persons other than those entitled to written notice under Section 120.60(3), Florida Statutes, must be filed within fourteen days of publication of the notice or within fourteen days of receipt of the written notice, whichever occurs first. Section 120.60(3), Florida Statutes, however, also allows that any person who has asked the Department for notice of agency action may file a petition within fourteen days of receipt of such notice, regardless of the date of publication.

The petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition or request for an extension of time within fourteen days of receipt of notice shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be only at the discretion of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, Florida Administrative Code.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Department's action is based must contain the following information, as indicated in Rule 28-106.201, Florida Administrative Code:

- The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known;
- The name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner; the name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial interests will be affected by the determination;
- A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the Department's decision;
- A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate;
- A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the Department's proposed action;
- A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the Department's proposed action; and
- A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action petitioner wishes the Department to take with respect to the Department's proposed action.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Department's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Department have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

Mediation under Section 120.573, Florida Statutes, is not available for this proceeding.

NWFL CHAMPIONSHIP RODEO

Floats stuck to a rodeo theme while utilizing various aspects of their business or organization, like the Bonifay Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. Below, Bonifay Garden Club displayed a western themed garden.

Almost a dozen cowgirls and their horses were dressed in pink sporting the pink ribbon for breast cancer awareness at this year's rodeo's Tough Enough to Wear Pink opening ceremony.

Saturday night was Tough Enough to Wear Pink, which is a campaign to raise money and awareness for the fight against breast cancer. Visitors wore pink and all proceeds earned at that night's rodeo went to the Holmes County Breast Cancer Organization P.I.N.K. (Protection Is iN Knowledge).

The Holmes County Chamber of Commerce was present to provide information and rodeo t-shirts during the rodeo all three nights.

Hundreds gave a dollar donation to PINK for a pink airplane in the chance of winning a cash prize if they could send their plane soaring into the barrel on the back of a Dodge truck.

Northwest Florida Championship Rodeo Pageant queens and volunteers gathered in the back of a Dodge truck during intermission to toss out free breast cancer awareness bracelets.

WINNING FLOATS

Winning floats in the Rodeo Parade were: FFA, Garden Club, Heart of the USA, Carmel Assembly of God and Bonifay Nursing Rehab.

Chipley Garden Club 'buzzed' by bees

Special to the News

CHIPLEY — Phillip Carter, Urban Regional Extension Agent with the Alabama Cooperative Extension System in Dothan, was the guest speaker at Chipley Garden Club's monthly meeting on Oct. 2. Carter began by telling the club the 93rd Florida State Beekeepers Association Convention is in Chipley on Oct. 31 to Nov. 2. The convention will feature master beekeeping training and exams, a field day and trade show. Beekeepers from all over Florida will be in attendance.

Carter shared his passion for bees, stating his fascination began twelve years ago with a federal grant to study bees, and the honeybee still continues to amaze him today. He said bees are an important pollinator for agriculture, trees and wildflowers, but they are disappearing at an alarming rate. Hive management and bee keeping present challenges with colony collapses, mites, use of pesticides, bee viruses and diseases. Carter suggested providing as many nectar and pollen sources in our gardens as possible. He also recommended limiting the use of pesticides especially during bloom time and then only in the late afternoon.

Chipley Garden Club members traveled to Gordon, Ala., for its October monthly meeting, which was hosted by club members Elaine and Joe Melton in the Fellowship Hall of Greater Antioch Baptist Church. After making announcements, Club President Karen Roland explained a proposed bylaw change and reported on the Florida Panhandle Wildflower Alliance. She also discussed continuing to support Chipley High Band's 2014 Memorial Day Trip, participating in the Christmas parade, and next week's District II Fall Meeting in Marianna. Linda Pigott reported 290 plants were given to first and third graders at Kate Smith Elementary, and the garden club will make terrariums with second graders later this month. Gweneth Collins provided an update on the third annual Scarecrow Contest scheduled on Oct. 19, and Edwina Showers commented on the downtown pots and lamp post decorations. Louise Michaels distributed an information packet, discussed pre-planning for the 2014 FFGC District II Fall meeting to be held in Chipley, Christmas party plans and collecting comfort

The parsonage kitchen shutdown threat

A certain situation has been building in the parsonage for the last several months. At first, I did not think it too serious, but alas, we have reached a terrible impasse.

It started a few months ago when I came home, walked into the house and was hit in the face so hard I almost passed out. At the time, I was hoping I would pass out, but no such luck.

Even though I have been married 42 years, most of it happily, I did not see this one coming. Just when you think you have your spouse figured out, they do something off the radar. Every husband knows exactly what I am talking about.

Walking into the house, I was hit with the horrific smell of broccoli cooking on the stove. I do not know if you ever smelt such a smell as that but if you are not prepared for it, and even if you are prepared for it, it can smack you in the face like you have never been smacked in the face before.

When I came to myself and gathered what little composure I could find, I queried the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage, who was in the kitchen.

"What is that awful smell?"

"I don't know, have you taken a shower yet?"

After being married for 42 years, I know when to respond to a question and when not to. I knew if I responded to this question the way I wanted to respond to this question, the smell of broccoli would be the least of my worries at the time.

"No," I said gathering a little bit of manliness about me. "Something in this house smells dreadful. I smelled it as soon as I walked in the door."

Then she chuckled. I hate it when she chuckles.

"Oh, that must be the wonderful aroma of broccoli cooking on the stove. Isn't it marvelous?"

Adhering to my rules about questions, I tossed that one aside and opted for another one.

"You're not cooking broccoli for supper tonight, are you?"

I was hoping she would catch my attitude of disdain and disgust in this question. Obviously, for whatever reason, she did not catch the drift.

"Yes," she said as chipper as I have ever heard her chip, "I thought I would surprise you with a wonderful dish of broccoli for supper tonight, to go along with our pork chops."

Can you live with a person for so long and not know what they like or do not like? Nobody has to be around me for five minutes before they will understand that broccoli and I have had a feud that has been going on since before the Hatfields and McCoys.

"But I thought you knew I do not like broccoli?"

"Oh, that," she said with another chuckle, "I just thought you were joking."

Nobody jokes about broccoli, especially me.

Then a brilliant idea reverberated between my ears. I thought I could take advantage of this situation and sneak in something forbidden in our kitchen and house for that matter, a rare delicacy.

"I will then run to the store and get some fresh apple fritters for our dessert."

I figured if she wants to put in front of me broccoli the least she can do is allow me an apple fritter or two.

In a moment, all the chipper drained and she looked at me and said, "Apple fritters are not allowed in this house."

"Let's negotiate," I said as calmly as I have ever been in my life. "I will allow you to eat broccoli tonight if you allow me an apple fritter for my dessert."

I wonder if there is a husband living today that has ever successfully negotiated with his wife.

"This is how we will negotiate: We will have broccoli tonight without any apple fritter. I am only thinking of your health."

The way she glared at me, I knew negotiations were off the table and in its place was some steaming broccoli.

What I am going to do is sneak behind her back and eat two — not one but two — apple fritters, and I will savor every bite.

If only we could act like grownups, come together, voice our differences and strike a compromise. After all, our government works that way.

I thought about this and came to a certain conclusion. The Christian life is not really negotiating your preference but rather honoring Christ. Jesus said, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them" (Matthew 18:20 KJV).

When self is at the center of my negotiations, Christ is never honored.

Growing up, my childhood friend and I spent every moment of every day together. We were so close people often mistook us for sisters. We never thought a day might come when we would be separated. I remember watching her from the back window of my parent's car as we drove away from my childhood home. I cried the whole trip. I'm older now and have made new friends, but my childhood friend and I are still close. It has been more difficult to remain close with thousands of miles between us, but I make sure to take the extra effort because she is so dear to me. I thought of this as I sat in church and listened to the words of the song "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Indeed He is a friend who is so dear. Make the extra effort.

Charles A. Taylor

After noting the orange toboggan Andy Taylor wore, a visitor asked what football team Andy cheered for, which team could claim him as a fan. Having lived 84 years, Andy had plenty of time to settle on a team that would have his loyalty regardless of the record, the coach, the strength of the schedule, the depth of the team, or the fan base that joined him. Without hesitation, the answer came, "Vernon High School. He's a Vernon Yellow Jackets fan." Andy Taylor demonstrated loyalty and unfailing support for all those he cheered for and loved. His commitment and devotion were seen in his service to his country, his pride in his family, and his appreciation for his friends and community. Charles Andrew "Andy" Taylor was born July 15, 1929, in Marion, Ohio. Seventeen years later he joined the United States Army and had a career that took him to three continents, service in World War II, the Korean Conflict, and the Viet Nam War. He retired from the U.S. Army after 24 years and four months active duty, retiring as a Sergeant Major with the 82nd Airborne Division. A decorated military leader and veteran, SGM Taylor was awarded two Bronze Stars and two Purple Hearts. His legacy as a soldier was carried on by three of his sons who served in the U.S. Army. He also had a son serve in the U.S. Navy, the U.S. Air Force, and the United States Marine Corps. Three grandsons have also followed in his boot steps with their military service. After retiring from the United States Army, Andy worked for the Florida State Veterans' Employment System and retired from there. Like so many others growing up in the depression, he had to quit school as a boy in order to provide financial support for his family. He earned his GED while in the U.S. Army, and set an example as an adult learner for his children. He also established a clear standard of valuing education and those who provided it. Taking advantage of opportunities offered by the Washington County School System, he attended Washington-Holmes Area Vocational Technical School carpentry and horticulture classes. Andy was a volunteer with the Gideons, VFW Post 10085, and Live Oak Baptist Church. He was very active in the Military Order of the Cooties, an arm of the VFW committed to reaching out to hospitalized troops and veterans during their confinement and rehabilitation at Veterans Administration facilities throughout the country. In addition to being an example for continuing education himself, his support of his Rose while she was in nursing school demonstrated that making someone's dreams come true is a collaborative effort. The idea of a husband and father taking charge of the kitchen and child rearing while also working outside the home might have been an anomaly for much of society in the '70s, but it was standard operating procedure at the Taylor house. The Rose M. Taylor Nursing Scholarship at Troy University was established to honor his beloved wife. As a resident of Homestead Village in Pensacola, Andy made nativity scene barns to assist in seasonal decorating, provided humor and wisdom to staff and other residents, and had a dozen roses put on the dining table each week in honor of his Rose before and after her death. Throughout his life Andy remained actively involved in the lives of his children and grandchildren rooting for them as they continued their educations, joined the workforce, and played every sport from softball to rugby. Every year for the last 49 years, with the exception of two years, there has been a descendant of Andy Taylor enrolled in school in Vernon. He was a fan of every one. On two occasions, as his Army units faced the possibility of not returning from their assignments because of the brutal war they were fighting, Andy wrote his Rose farewell letters. He recognized what was ahead and was prepared for it, for the love of her, his family, and his country. He was not aware every day of all that lay before him as he lived his life, but he faced each day fearlessly, resolved to make the most out of every moment for those he was with and for those who would follow. When Andy Taylor faced death, he knew what lay ahead and leaves generations recognizing his whole life was a love letter written and lived by an imperfect gem made perfect Sept. 28, 2013.

He was predeceased by his wife of 63 years, Rose Taylor.

His surviving children are, James (Bev), Martin, Will (Terrie), Nicey (Jay), Joe (Olinda), Ray (Kathy), Thom (Tanya), and Beth. He was loved and will be missed by his six granddaughters, 12 grandsons, and 10 great-grandchildren as well as nieces, nephews, and Helen Brown, a very special friend.

Visitation with the family was held Wednesday, Oct. 2, from 5 to 8 p.m., at Brown Funeral Home, Brickyard Road Chapel, Chipley. The funeral service and celebration of his life was held Thursday, Oct. 3, at 11 a.m., at Live Oak Baptist Church in Millers Ferry. Interment followed the service.

All arrangements are being directed by Brown Funeral Home, Chipley.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to the Gideons, P.O. Box 308, Chipley, FL.

Margaret J. Eckerle

Margaret J. Eckerle, 90, passed away Sept. 29, 2013, at her home in Bay City, Mich. Born in England, Jan. 7, 1923, Margaret served in the Royal Navy during World War II, and during that time met and married Kenneth L. Eckerle (USN). They settled in Kenneth's home state of Michigan and there raised three children, Karl, Keith, and Lynn Susan. Margaret and Kenneth moved to Sunny Hills in the late 1970s where they were active in many of the community organizations, including the Sunny Hills Volunteer Fire Department which Margaret served as dispatcher as well as secretary. Following Kenneth's death in 1984, Margaret remained in Sunny Hills until 2011, when she moved back to Michigan to be near family. For many years Margaret delivered Meals-on-Wheels for the Washington County Council on Aging. An avid gardener, she was a member of the Wausau Garden Club and the Sunny Hills Garden Club. She was an advocate for libraries and literacy programs and belonged to the Friends of the Library. Although she remained a member of the Church of England, Margaret was an active participant in the life and work of the Sunny Hills Community Church as well as St. Matthews Episcopal Church in Chipley. Those who knew Margaret are aware of the many, many ways in which she extended her hand to help others. She never sought recognition for her good works, although she was fiercely proud of having served in the Royal Navy. From her we learned much about conditions in England during the war years. Her service to the Allied cause is much appreciated, just as is her service to the people of Washington County.

In addition to her three children, Margaret is survived by six grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Following a private service, she was interred with her husband, Kenneth, in Cheboygan County, Mich.
