Cemetery deeded to Bonifay

BONIFAY — Grant Writer Bob Jones informed the Bonifay City Council during their city council meeting Monday that land owner Roger Williams was deeding Banfill

Cemetery to the City of Bonifay. “Banfill Cemetery, which has been neglected for years, can be cleaned up, revitalized and maintained by the city from then on,” said Jones. According to the City of Bonifay website, G. W. Banfill surveyed one square mile, platted the town on a map in 1886 and named the streets after the states, though he named main street after his hometown, Waukesha, Wisconsin.

“He was responsible for building the Hotel Eureka and was said to be buried next to his mule and cat,” Jones said. The council approved holding Trick-or-Treat for the City of Bonifay from 5 to 7 p.m. on Oct. 31.

The council also approved of the request from Bonifay First United Methodist Church to close Virginia Avenue from Oklahoma Street to Varner Street so they can hold their annual Light the Night Celebration from 4:30 to 8 p.m. on Oct. 31.

BONIFAY — The Holmes County Board of County Commissioners called a special session on Friday, Oct. 11, to address a couple of employment issues within the county.

Commissioner David Whitaker found himself in need of filling two open positions on his crew in District 3 after two were approved for termination during the board's Oct. 8 meeting.

The board approved Whitaker's recommendation to advertise for a heavy equipment operator, with a deadline of Oct. 23 deadline for applications. The board also approved moving one of his employees up with a new 90-day probation period and to place another employee from the Holmes County Recycling Center in the position of the employee he promoted temporarily for 30 to 60 days.

BONIFAY — Bonifay Kiwanis Club President Carlton Treadwell stepped down and passed his torch on to Sandy Spear during their Oct. 9 meeting.

Visiting was Kiwanis Lieutenant Governor Kay Cherry, who conducted the inauguration of Spear and new Directors Lucas Taylor, Christopher Lauren and Roger Brooks, Secretary Gene Miller, Co-Treasurers Sharon Curry and Celena Medley and Co-President Brandon Young.

“I'm am entering the exciting and most coveted position of immediate past president and I look forward to serving on the board for another year to be of help to not only my successor, but to use my past experience to help the club,” said Treadwell. “I would like to complement everyone on this year's rodeo. I found out we had those who if you gave them their job and just let them be they'll do their job and do it well.”

He said he was also impressed with this year's parade and described it as a parade that “just kept coming.”

“I would like to congratulate you all on your new positions,” said Cherry. “You are all one person that helps make up one club, that helps make up one division, that makes one nation — and though you are only one person, the actions you take as a member of a club ripples throughout the nation as we are one.”

“Even if you are only able to reach one child per event the light of hope shines through that one child's smile to touch countless others and you are making a large difference as one person and as one club,” Cherry said.

Spear thanked the Bonifay Kiwanis Club Board for her newly appointed position.

“I want to thank the board for placing your trust in me,” said

Kiwanis Lieutenant Governor Kay Cherry and now past president Carlton Treadwell welcomed the newest officers of the Bonifay Kiwanis Club Directors Lucas Taylor, Christopher Lauren and Roger Brooks, Secretary Gene Miller, Co-Treasurers Sharon Curry and Celena Medley, Co-President Brandon Young and President Sandy Spear.

Spear. “It is an honor not only to be president but to have been blessed to serve with the Kiwanis Club for so many years. Not only through my years of service but through my father, who many of you knew, who instilled in me many ethics to continue in his legacy.”

Spear thanked Treadwell for his leadership.

“I want to stress teamwork, which binds us together for one cause and that one cause is to give to our children so they may have a more of a bright and bountiful future,” said Spear.

"Light the Night will be using the parking lot for truck or treat and games," wrote Children's Ministry Director Verna Roberts. "Hot dogs and lemonade will be served on Virginia Avenue necessitating closure of the street. Thank you for your assistance in this matter."

The council held the final reading and approved of Ordinance 387 to renew Gulf Power's franchise agreement with the City of Bonifay with a vote of 3 to 1 due to the absence of Council Member Micah McCormick with Council Member Roger Brooks voting "no."

"I voted no because 30 years ago this agreement was discussed, we had workshops and we were able to voice issues and ask questions," said Brooks. "Now it's like they just dropped it off and they won't even give us the time of day. There's still things we could be potentially penalized for, such as not having a service truck available in the case of an emergency, plus they're renewing five years early and a lot can happen in five years."

Mayor Lawrence Cloud explained that he did request that a representative be present for any potential questions but said he was rejected, saying that they told him the matter could only be discussed between the city's lawyer and Gulf Power's lawyer.

Resident and business owner of Doc's Market Chuck Dockery said he was thinking of repaving his parking lot but he had issue with large amounts of long standing water on the corner of his property, which is the corner of Sand Path Road and McKinnon.

Public Works Supervisor Jack Marell said plans were already underway to put in culverts under McKinnon, which tied in with Council approving to authorize a change order to allow Rural America, Inc. to repave Mathushek Road and McKinnon Road for between $40,000 and $50,000, which excludes the mobilization fees since they are already in the area.

Brooks wanted to commend the City of Bonifay's new Facebook page.

"They've got quite a few hits today," said Brooks. "It's a very good project and looks good for the city to be branching out this way."

The county will advertise for the position after the employee shuffling is completed.

The board also approved of Commissioner Kenneth Williams advertising for a heavy equipment operator for his bridge crew.

Commissioner Bill Parish said there was an issue with allowing the Holmes County Correctional Institute use the Holmes County Fair Grounds for their training on Nov. 11.

"I think we've just got our wires crossed in communicating with them," said Parish. "They think we wouldn't be willing to pay the $27 to turn on the power temporarily or to pay for usage, which I know we are as long as it's only for those two days. I think this is a gesture of good faith for all they've done for the county."

Board approved of paying $27 to temporarily to turn on the power to the Holmes County Fair grounds as well as two days of usage by the DOC.

"They've got a training course set up and shooting range ready," said Parish. "There's no way the Holmes County Agricultural Center can support their training needs."

Caryville swears in returning council members

By CECILIA SPEARS
547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chippelypaper.com

CARYVILLE — Returning Town Council Members Nora Curry and Jim Taylor were sworn in after running unopposed during the regular meeting of the Caryville Town Council on Oct. 8.

Election of the council's chairman and co-chairman was postponed until the next meeting due to the absence of Chairman Henry Chambers.

"I want to give a hats off to Caryville Flea Market's Paron Beeco," said Council Member Millard French. "He has brought in the biggest crowd Caryville has ever seen with the flea market."

Beeco confirmed that the crowd had reached record highs for this year's Flea Across Florida, which was a flea market event on Sept. 13 and 14 stretching 272 miles from Live Oak to Pensacola held along State Road 90. The event had a counted attendance of 6,839 visitors.

"I'd like to take this chance to thank the Florida Department of Corrections for allowing us to use inmates for the majority of the labor," said Beeco. "The band was requested to return and we had over 45 vendors that most of them has assured they will return for the next Flea Across Florida, which is in 180 days and will only be a two-day event. We'll also be holding a Christmas Holiday Sale on Dec. 13 and 14."

He also reported that they might have a food vendor to attend every Saturday offering lunch specials between $5 and $7. Beeco also requested that the council consider connecting water to be available at the flea market and suggested that it be locked up and regulated like the electricity.

Caryville Volunteer Fire Department will be holding a Fall Festival at the fire department on Oct. 26.

The council approved of Caryville's Halloween observance to be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on Oct. 31.

French recommended that the Caryville Fire Department look into the possibility of establishing a Women's Auxiliary Club.

"Those women can do just about anything and I believe that you're missing out on a lot of additional funds by not utilizing their talent and hard work," said French.

Caryville Town Attorney Lyndia Spears informed the council that she received a letter for the Holmes County Supervisor of Elections requesting that Spears write a letter to verify she has addressed an issue involving French's residency.

"I got a post card in the mail to verify my address so I called the Supervisor of Elections to find out what was going on," said French. "She tells me that there's this girl, Jennifer, that keeps hounding her and raising hell about verifying my home address. It was getting to the point where she was telling her to go and take her to the very place where I lay my head."

Spears apologized about the inconvenience but as a formality they must take the steps required to dispel any doubt of his residency.

"Caryville has a very specific ordinance about being a resident of Caryville and we must address these issues when they arrive," said Spears. "You've done all you were supposed to do and all that you could do. We've had issues like this arise before and all I advised you to do is to just respond."

French explained that his property was inherited and was split between him and his brother. He said he took the property with the house and his brother took the property with the café, French's Restaurant.

The council approved of allowing Taylor to look into the possibility of holding a gospel sing at the Caryville Worm Fiddling Building.

"Bonifay's done away with their all-night gospel sing so I think this is an excellent opportunity to give it a shot," said Taylor.

In Our VIEW

Florida is suing Georgia over consuming too much of the fresh water that should be flowing through the Peach State to the estuaries and oyster beds of the Panhandle. It is a lawsuit that has been a long time coming, as the two states have argued over the flow of water to the Apalachicola Bay for years.

The legal action asks the U.S. Supreme Court to take some pretty significant steps, such as capping Georgia's water use at 1992 levels.

If only Florida was as serious about its own water use and conservation as it is about the water use of its neighbor to the north.

The dispute with Georgia relates to withdrawals from Lake Lanier, a reservoir northeast of metro Atlanta on the Chattahoochee River that provides water to the South's largest population center. The river is part of a system that ultimately forms the Apalachicola River, which flows to the Gulf of Mexico through the Florida Panhandle.

Low water flows caused by Atlanta's excessive consumption have increased salinity in Apalachicola Bay, killing oysters and devastating the seafood industry there. Florida is seeking an equitable distribution of the water in the system, and understandably so.

"Georgia has refused to fairly share the waters that flow between our two states, so to stop Georgia's unmitigated consumption of water we have brought the matter before the U.S. Supreme Court," Gov. Rick Scott said in a statement.

Scott deserves credit for pursuing the lawsuit.

Hopefully he'll treat Florida's water use with a similar level of seriousness and urgency when lawmakers next pursue legislation protecting springs.

Scott's statement focused on the economic impact of reduced freshwater flows on the oyster industry and that region's economy. The reduction of spring flows from groundwater withdrawals has a similar potential to harm tourism and the natural resources in our region, not to mention add to the state's growing sinkhole problem and dwindling supply of fresh groundwater. The Central Florida Water Initiative recently declared that Orlando is just about drawing the maximum amount from the aquifer that it can before causing major environmental harm — that is, more harm than is already being inflicted.

Atlanta's unsustainable use of surface water threatens our state's environment and economy. That is indisputable. Florida's use of groundwater poses similar threats to our environment and economy, and we don't need the Supreme Court to step in to address the issue. What we do need is for Scott and the Legislature to get serious about overhauling our state's antiquated water policy that focuses on conservation too little and allows for the massive giveaway of our dwindling water supply too freely.

We urge our legislative delegation to make saving our steadily declining water supply a priority in the next legislative session.

I have had a lot of feedback from the articles on the old homes. One in particular that excited me was to hear from Mr. Sidney Waits, the 90 year old grandson of Mr. G.O. Mr. Sidney Waits has been instrumental in historic preservation in Andalusia, Al where the Communicating with him has been very encouraging to me and increases my hope that the Waits Mansion here can somehow be preserved.

I have learned that mail will be delivered in Bonifay despite the address being indefinite. That is the advantage of living in a small town. Mr. Waits' letter came to me in care of the Bonifay Paper as did another one I received last week from Harold Paulk who lives in Columbia, S.C. He was remembering some days at Bethlehem School in the 1955-56 era and encouraged me to keep up the writing. He also sent an article from the N.Y. Times describing a newspaper in the Amish area that operates on local news written by the subscribers.

A phone call from Earl Drake, a lifelong Westville resident, introduced me to the Love Entangled Vine or the Love Vine which is native to the area, but which I've never heard of. It is a leafless parasitic plant that is relatively rare, but is found in Holmes County entwining itself around other plants such as clover or flax. It has no known use nor is it particularly harmful; however, it can remain dormant in the soil for as long as 60 years. The Native Americans are said to have had some use for them, but it must have been medicinal because the vine is tender and breaks easily even when it turns brown.

I asked my husband, the Agriculturalist, if he knew about the Love Vine and he said he did. He said that when they were children, they played a game with it, throwing it toward each other and the one around whose neck it entwined would be the first to fall in love. My search gave the scientific name as Cuscuta or Clematis Virginiana, a non-ornamental vine with no leaves and small yellow blooms. A common name is Devil's gut and it comes from the laurel family.

I was more interested in Mr. Drake's family's farmstead as he described it. It is located west of Westville with the log home and detached kitchen intact. Brick chimneys on either side of the main house and the one for the kitchen building are standing in good condition. Bought by his grandparents, the T.W. Miller family, the cabin was built in 1848, the same year that Holmes County was formed as Florida's 27th County.

The logs and heart pine siding are in excellent condition. I assume the glass windows were a recent addition. Outbuildings include the barn, the corn crib, two chicken houses, a smoke house, a black smith shop, and a shed housing two syrup-making vats enclosed in brick furnaces with chimneys. Directly across from the house, the buggy or wagon shed stands. Inside can be seen the framework for a horse drawn buggy and a mule drawn wagon.

The smoke house is reminiscent of the days when farms were entirely self-sufficient and meat was raised and cured on the farm. The clothesline harks back to the day when the weekly laundry was boiled in a wash pot, scrubbed on a wash board, rinsed in zinc tubs from water drawn from an open well and hung outdoors to dry.

The two syrup making vats make me think they were heavily into sugar cane production and syrup making or else one of the vats may have been used entirely for hog killing.

They may have been scalded in one of the vats and then it would have been cleaned and dried to render the lard that the family would have used for preparing the family meals.

The property is now corporately owned and is used for game preservation and hunting, so it is not accessible to the public, but would be an ideal place to visit as a testimony to the way of life in frontier Holmes County when the Holmes County Court House was at Cero Gordo.

Potter's life journey: log cabins to Space Age

Soon after the printing of the "Heritage of Washington County" book in 2006, your writer, realized that many stories and histories on a host of families, were not submitted for publication. One such family story was that of Joel Potter, whose time in history became an integral part of the area's heritage.

Don Renfro, was a part-time News Staff Writer for the Washington County News. His regular employment was Bailiff in the court system, working under the direction of then Sheriff, Fred Peel. Don's article entitled "Log Cabins To Rockets — Potter has Seen It All" was featured in the above newspaper on March 18, 1983. Much of his writing will be used in today's "Prattle."

At the time Don was writing, the former log cabin home of the Potter family had just been acquired by the Wells Family and relocated to the Northwest Florida Music Park and Campground. It was part of the early days museum started by the Wellses.

Joel Potter and his son, Allen Potter, cooperated in this endeavor, which resulted in the longtime resident spending many hours in the park and in the old log cabin. He became somewhat of an unofficial guide in furnishing details of the cabin's history to those who made visits there. Some visitors added artifacts and antiques to the array of items in the building.

Don Renro listed Joel Potter's age at 83 when his article was written. He pointed out that he would of necessity have to write about the history of the log cabin and Mr. Potter simultaneously, as the story on one would be incomplete without the other.

Two old, badly rusted, porch chairs were included in the items that were brought into the music park along with the aged edifice. Joel Potter explained that he purchased these two popular chairs for his mother in 1948 three years after he had moved the old log house from its original location, Holmes Valley south of Vernon. His mother had requested that the structure be moved to the Old Bonifay Road to serve as her home after she had agreed to live in Chipley near her son.

Mr. Potter enjoyed sitting in these old chairs while relating history of the cabin and those who had occupied it in the past.

Potter's history goes back to his great grandfather, Levi Potter, who brought his bride to the fertile lands of Holmes Valley from North Carolina after their marriage in 1819.

Levi's son, Rufus, took a wife, and in 1848 he "raised" a fine house for his bride. They lived there together for only 12 years when, sadly, Rufus was killed on a Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19, 1863 at a place called Chicamauga during the Civil War.

Before Rufus Potter departed for the war, his wife bore a son, Alexander, or Alex Potter. He remained with the mother keeping the farm, raising crops and breaking oxen. In 1891 when Alex met the girl he decided to marry, she inquired as to where they would live. When Alex told her that they would live with his mother, Don Renfro quotes Joel Potter in saying that the prospective bride told Alex: "Oh no! You make me a home of my own. Then I'll come and make you a home for you."

According to the story, the cabin was "raised" within a week.

Within a year, the elder Mrs. Potter died and the old house became the home of Alex and his family. Reportedly, this log cabin was then moved adjacent to the home and became the separate kitchen for the family where a total of six children were reared.

This development allowed Joel Potter to explain in his conversation with guests at the log cabin museum that: "My mother used this cabin for a kitchen and dining room for as long as they lived on the old home place."

He would further state that: "Before my marriage, this very cabin is the only place that I ever ate a meal prepared by my mother."

In the interview with journalist Don Refro, Joel Potter explained, while looking around the old historic house "In those days life was different, and life was hard, but they were enjoyable years." He talked of oxen transportation and of hunting and trapping wild life, which were plentiful in the area. He related an instance of shooting a large fox where the pelt brought him $16 from which he paid $14 for a Gramophone ordered from Sears Roebuck and Company.

Joel Potter met and married Velma Sirmans Potter from Dupont, Georgia after she came to Florida to teach school. He was in the hotel business for 20 to 25 years before the onset of World War II caused that industry to hit rock bottom. While away from Washington County, he was elected to the Florida Legislature in 1941 from Marion County.

Upon returning home, he resumed his farming venture and was elected again to the Florida House of Representatives in 1945. While in this position, he is credited with securing legislation which brought the first Washington County Hospital to Washington County in 1947.

Mrs. Potter died in 1968 and Mr. Potter passed away several years after her death. They had one daughter, Patsy Potter Kickliter, of Tallahassee, who also has one daughter, Laura.

Their son, Allen Potter, married Jane Saunders Potter and they made their home here. Allen served as District Secretary for the Florida Department of Transportation, District Three (Chipley Office) from 1978-1987. He passed away in 2000. Allen and Jane had a son, Wesley (Wes) Allen, and daughters, Grace and Meg. Wesley passed away in 1991. Grace is employed with Adam Putnam, Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of Florida and resides in Tallahassee. Meg lives in Baton Rouge, Louisiana and is employed part time with an attorney. The mother, Jane, still resides in area on the property owned by the Potter Family.

Joel Potter lived to see the exploration of space, men walking on the moon, and two world wars. Scores of other progress were observed by this pioneer. His place in history deserves more than this sketchy article is able to afford him. It was my pleasure to know Mr. Joel Potter. Time spent with him was always a learning experience.

See you all next week.

Client: Goodwill Job Club changes lives

By RANDAL SEYLER
638-0212 | @WCN_HCT
rseyler@chipleypaper.com

CHIPLEY — For most of us, our job is more than just work — it's a large part of how we define ourselves, who we are.

For Sunny Hills resident Virginia Lee Sword, having a job also means having a reason to get out among people and live her life once again.

"It was about much more than just getting a job. It was about getting my self back," Sword said during an interview on Thursday at the Goodwill Industries - Big Bend Inc. Career Training Center in Chipley.

Sword suffered a horse-riding injury that left her in a coma for two months in 1998, and a few years later, she was involved in an almost fatal car wreck that left her needing reconstructive facial surgery.

Her prolonged time spent on a respirator in the hospital left her with a whisper of a voice and chronic respiratory problems — and the traumatic ordeals left her unable to work for years.

"Lee was referred to the Job Club by her vocational rehabilitation," Employment Specialist CeCe Richards said. "When she got her, she had a bit of an attitude, but after a while, she was leading the club meetings."

"When I first came I just sat over in that corner," Sword admits. "I wasn't going to do anything. I just wanted to stay home on my couch with my dog."

The Job Club is a weekly group that teaches job seekers soft skills, such as self-presentation, dependability, motivation, team building and anger management, among other skills, Richards said.

"Clients who are in our placement program are required to come to Job Club each week so they can learn skills such as how to interview or how to handle criticism from an employer," Richards said.

Goodwill Industries began in 1902 as a program to collect discarded items then put disadvantaged people to work repairing the items so they could support themselves and their families, said Heather Gioia, director of public relations for Goodwill Industries - Big Bend.

"For years the emphasis was on working with the disabled, and that is still a large part of what we do," Gioia said. "But we also help anyone who needs help with finding a job."

Goodwill Industries also helps people overcome obstacles such as poverty, homelessness or educational challenges.

"We offer a systemic approach to the client's needs," Richards said. "If they come in with only an eighth grade education, we have programs to get them ready to take the GED, then we have programs for testing for GED. After that, we have classes in various computer skills and even certification."

Richards said Goodwill Industries - Big Bend works with employers in the area, including temp services such as Manpower in Dothan, to connect employees with jobs.

"We have employers who come to us first, because they know what kind of training we are giving our employees," Richards said.

Goodwill Industries - Big Bend also has contract services for janitorial and landscaping jobs that are manned by clients, 80 percent of whom are disabled.

The contract program works through RESPECT, a Florida-based, legislatively created program that allows governmental entities to purchase commodities and services they need while providing employment opportunities to Floridians with disabilities.

For Virginia Lee Sword, what Goodwill Industries - Big Bend was able to do was more than just find her a job.

"I came out of my shell," Sword said. "At first, I was just showing up, but after a while, Miss CeCe really got to me."

A little over a year ago, Sword was hired by Sam's Club in Panama City Beach, where she currently works as a greeter.

Richards says Sword is constantly being praised by her employers for her bubbly personality and work ethic.

"At first it was tough, I didn't think I could stand and work for eight hours," Sword said. "But over time, I built up to it, and now I can work no problem." Sword is still undergoing rehabilitation for her respiratory and vocal ailments, but she no longer sits at home all day watching TV.

"My mother encouraged me to continue to come to Job Club, and if it wasn't for Job Club and Miss CeCe, I don't think I would be where I am today," Sword said.

"Sam's Club has also been great. They've really helped me and have been very supportive of me," Sword said. "And besides, they pay me to talk to people."

DID YOU KNOW?

October is National Disability Employment Awareness Month, a national campaign that raises awareness about disability employment issues and celebrates the contributions of America's workers with disabilities. The theme for 2013 is "Because We Are EQUAL to the Task."

NDEAM's roots go back to 1945, when Congress enacted a law declaring the first week in October each year "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." In 1962, the word "physically" was removed to acknowledge the employment needs and contributions of individuals with all types of disabilities. In 1988, Congress expanded the week to a month and changed the name to "National Disability Employment Awareness Month." Source: www.dol.gov

Holmes County golf teams meet at Dogwood Lakes

By Carrie Hayford
Special to Halifax Media

BONIFAY — Recently, local schools met at Dogwood Lakes Country Club to tee off in a match up preparing for districts.

Playing in the event were Bethlehem High School, Holmes County High School, Ponce de Leon High School, and Marianna High School.

The Marianna Bulldogs came out on top. Leading the team in the number one spot, with a score of 38, was senior Kody Bryan.

The total score for the Bulldogs was 167, beating the Bethlehem Wildcats by 11 strokes.

Eli Hendrix, a BHS Junior, secured the number one position on the Wildcats team with a score of a 43.

Due to a short number of players, HCHS and PDL were not eligible to qualify in the match up, as each team needed four players to compete.

Playing for PDL was Nick Price, and holding the top spot for Holmes County High was senior, Seth Taylor.

Bethlehem and Holmes County High met for a match on Sept. 16, and the Wildcats came out victorious with a 198 for the win over the Devil's 203.

While HCHS Senior, Seth Taylor, with a score of 38, maintained the top spot for the Blue Devils the number four player from BHS, junior, Brett Mitchell, locked in the win for the Wildcats with a score of 55, giving the team a five-stroke advantage.

On Thursday, Oct. 10, Bethlehem will face off with Ponce de Leon at Dogwood Lakes, and the District match will follow shortly thereafter on Oct. 15.

Come out and support these student athletes, and maybe play a few rounds yourself.

Vernon punishes Holmes County 51-7

By RANDAL SEYLER

rseyler@chippelypaper.com

VERNON — The Vernon Yellow Jackets took control of the ball in the first quarter and never looked back, thrashing the Holmes County High School Blue Devils 51-7 Friday night in Vernon.

Holmes County drew first blood when the Blue Devils recovered a fumbled Vernon snap and Chad Leavins rushed for 53 yards on three plays to score the Blue Devils' only touchdown at the 9:07 mark in the opening quarter.

John Etheridge's kick was good for the extra point.

On their next possession, the Yellow Jackets drove 51 yards with Austin Brown rushing 26 yards on two carries for consecutive first downs, putting Vernon on the Holmes County 25-yard line.

Then Darrius Peterson ran it in on a sweep to score, only to have the touchdown called back on a holding call.

Three Vernon TDs were voided due to flags for the evening, including a 90-yard kick return by Julian Silas — Vernon's fouls kept the 51-7 drubbing even more lopsided.

Not to be deterred, Aaron

...the Yellow Jackets struck again when Brown picked off a Blue Devils pass, inside the Vernon 30 and returned it 75 yards for a touchdown.

Bowers scored on a 40-yard scamper from the reverse on the next play.

Bowers also kicked the extra point to tie the score up 7-7 with 7:12 to play in the first quarter.

From that point on, it was all Vernon.

Three seconds into the second quarter, Darrius Peterson went up the middle from the 4-yard line to score for the Yellow Jackets, capping a 88-yard, 12-play drive.

The extra point attempt was blocked but Vernon went up 13-7.

With 8:17 to play in the half, the Yellow Jackets found the end zone again, this time Alex Oneil scampered 31 yards for six points and quarterback Tristan Porter added the PAT, even though he dropped the ball en route to the goal line and had to scoop it back up before scoring.

Now with a 21-7 lead, the Yellow Jackets struck again when Brown picked off a Blue Devils pass inside the Vernon 30 and returned it 75 yards for a touchdown.

Silas added the two point conversion this time, and Vernon had a 29-7 edge with 3:41 left to play in the half.

Oneil found paydirt again with 12 seconds left in the half, capping a 5-play drive that started on the Holmes County 40.

Porter then connected with Oneil on a short screen pass for the PAT, giving the Yellow Jackets a 37-7 lead at the half.

Just 21 seconds into the third quarter, Vernon scored again when Silas ran 68 yards to paydirt.

Bowers' kick was good and the score was 44-7 — and the mercy rule set the clock to running for the rest of the half and Vernon started playing the rest of the bench.

In the final seconds of the third quarter, Peterson added the final touchdown of the evening on a sweep from inside the Holmes County 10.

Bowers' final kick of the night was good to seal the evening.

Vernon hosts Graceville next Friday, while Holmes County hosts South Walton for their Homecoming game. Kickoff is at 7 p.m.

Sometimes being in hot water is a good thing.

When we hear the words "you're in hot water now," it's usually not a good thing. But with the H2O Plus program from your local electric cooperative, those words take on a whole new meaning. When you sign up for H2O Plus, we'll equip your water heater (at no cost to you) with a special device that allows us to cycle the unit for short periods of time. The more water heaters we have in the H2O Plus program, the bigger the impact. Our members still have plenty of hot water and our co-ops are better equipped to handle energy demand & control wholesale power costs. It's a win-win situation.

BONIFAY — Hundreds gathered for entertainment and events as the Washington-Holmes Domestic Violence Task Force partnered with Doctors Memorial Hospital for the first ever Domestic Violence Awareness Walk on Oct. 11 at Doctors Memorial Hospital in honor and memory of victims and survivors of domestic violence.

"This walk is a fundraiser event in an effort to raise funds to support victims of abuse in Holmes, Washington and surrounding areas," said Missy Sword Lee, family intervention program supervisor for Habilitative Services of Northwest Florida. "The mission of the task force is to open a shelter for victims to escape an abusive situation without having to leave their own community."

She said this is an effort that has to be made strong through community efforts.

"This is not just an awareness walk," Lee said. "This is a community event for the entire family."

Lee said one in four women would experience domestic violence in their lifetime. "Domestic violence does not discriminate against race, religion, financial stature or age. Domestic violence will never stop if we do not get involved," she said. "It takes a community to stop this abuse. Thank you in advance for your support; if you make a step to get involved, you never know who might follow in your steps."

Entertainment included local young artists as well as demonstrations by Trinity Martial Arts and drama skits by the Carmel youth drama team, Take 2.

Featured entertainment was free concerts by gospel group The Drummonds and country singer Julie Roberts.

Vernon's Class of 1983 celebrates 30-year reunion

By SUSAN LAND STEVERSON
Special to Extra

VERNON — Members of Vernon's Class of 1983 came together Oct. 4-5 to celebrate their 30-year reunion. They rode in the Homecoming parade and then enjoyed Vernon's victory over Cottontale on Friday night. Two of the members had daughters who were finalists for the coveted title of Homecoming Queen: Jackie Coatney's daughter Jaclyn and Annette Lewis Weeks' daughter Michaela, who was crowned queen. Congratulations from the Class of '83 to both girls.

On Saturday night, 24 classmates and their spouses met at Mike's Cafe and Oyster Bar in Panama City Beach. Class President Ava Smith presided over the occasion. Sarah Andrews Harris led in prayer, and two candles were lit in memory of classmates Angela Rigetta and Darry Alterio. Members watched a slideshow of photos from their school years and previous reunions as they ate.

A special treat was provided by Sarah Andrews Harris, who sang "The Way We Were," which she performed at their graduation 30 years ago. Other highlights of the evening included a "Remember When" segment, led by Nancy Maher Griffin. Each class member was asked to provide a favorite memory from their school years. Some remembered particular classes like home economics, while others remembered fights, and several shared memories of Mrs. Whitehurst's class. Next, Tonya Reynolds Boston asked everyone "Where Are They Now?" about former class members that they

Last, the class conducted a prize drawing. Every class member received a prize. Special prizes were provided by Dee's Restaurant in Vernon, Radio Shack in Chipley, King's Discount Drugs and King's Outdoors in Chipley, Castaway Restaurant in Bonifay and Colonial Restaurant in Chipley. The class was very grateful to these local businesses whose contributions were in excess of $300.

The 30-year reunion proved to be a great success, but the class missed quite a few classmates who had to work or could not attend for other reasons. Before leaving, the class vowed to get together more often, and Ava mentioned the desire to have a 50's blast in two years when we reach the age of 50. Any member who did not attend Saturday night's reunion can get a copy of the DVD from Susan Land Steverson at 547-5786.

Is it a fragrance or a stench?

This past week I had to go to the mall. I know, I should know better but I thought I could sneak in, get what I needed and sneak out again. So much for my thoughts.

I wanted to purchase several tie chains for my neckties and searched every jewelry store and nobody had them. Finally, I ordered three online, which would be shipped free, (which always gets my attention) to the nearest store, which happened to be in the mall.

I do not like the mall and choose not to go there if I can help it. When in the mall I am usually very nervous and get confused and do not know which way I am going. Once I get in, I am not quite sure how to get out again. Everything seems to be contrived to confuse a person like myself.

Looking down at the ground while walking I became rather confused and I happen to turn into an open door.

My mall savvy is not sophisticated in the lease. The door I turned into happened to be for the store Victoria's Secret. I do not know who Victoria is, I did not know what the store was all about but when I got in the store I discovered Victoria's Secret much to my great embarrassment.

That is exactly the reason I do not like going into the malls. They have places like this that a gentleman, such as Yours Truly, should never enter.

I am not sure how I got out of that store, all I can remember was a great deal of hilarious laughter thrown in my direction from inside. I just hope they did not recognize me. They probably did not, because I had all my clothes on.

It has been a long time since that incident and now I had to go and pick up my order. I put together a plan to sneak in very quietly, pick up my order and tiptoe out as quietly as I came in.

You know what they say about well-laid plans! Whether mine was well laid or not, it blew up in my face.

I did slip into the mall and found the store where my order was. I picked them up and quietly turned around and started for the door. How I got turned around is any man's guess. Actually, I think it turned around too many times. For the next 15 minutes, I tried to find the way I came in so I could go out.

The trouble started when I hesitated. I stopped to try to get my bearings and in stopping a young woman approached me.

"How do you do today, sir," she said most cheerfully.

I nodded and tried to get away as graciously as possible.

She would have none of it. "And how do you smell today, sir?"

Had I been in my right sense of mind I would have told her I smelled with my nose. Being in a confused state of affairs, I had no quick come back for her. It was then that she introduced me to her product.

I must confess I am not up-to-date with all of the body lotions and perfumes that are available today. I shave in the morning, splash some aftershave on my face, rub some deodorant under my armpits and that is as far as I go.

This young woman took me for a potential customer of her body lotions and ointments and perfumes. I suppose many people are concerned with how they smell. I am not one of them.

My basic philosophy along this line is simply, if I cannot stand my own smell, I take a shower. I know when it is time to take a shower when I can smell myself.

She wanted to introduce me to some body lotions and ointments and perfumes that would make me smell alluring to anybody I met during the day.

Personally, I do not have a "Bucket List" but if I did this would not be one of the items on it.

Trying to be polite, I informed the young woman I was late for an appointment and needed to get on right away.

"Oh," she said very cheerfully, "this will not take long at all."

With that said, and before I could process what she said, she began rubbing my face with body ointment or lotion of some sort. I froze and for a few moments, I could not even move. Even the little grey cells upstairs were shocked into a rare state of stillness.

"Now, you smell wonderful."

It was at that time I retired with honor my gentlemanly manners and started running as fast as I could run without drawing too much attention to myself.

I smelled that "fragrance" for three days in spite of the fact that I took 17 showers in the meantime.

Sometimes our focus is always on the outside. I like what Jesus said, "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess" (Matthew 23:25).

It does not matter how good I smell on the outside if there is stench on the inside. I want to focus on my inside and make it as fresh as possible. That is the fragrance God smells.

Florida state parks system wins 3rd gold medal

Special to Extra

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Rick Scott announced at Florida Cabinet meeting on Oct. 10 that Florida state parks are now the nation's only three-time winner of the National Gold Medal Award for Excellence in the management of state park systems.

"I am thrilled that the Florida Park Service continues to celebrate Florida," Scott said. "Winning this award for the third time continues to show that the Sunshine State is working hard to ensure Florida families and tourists are able to enjoy our natural treasures, and I want to thank all of our employees and volunteers who helped make this possible."

The award was presented during the National Recreation and Park Association's annual Congress and Exposition in Houston. The association, in partnership with the American Academy for Park and Recreation Administration, presents the award to communities that demonstrate excellence in long-range planning, resource management and administering a complex system of state parks. Scott and the Florida Cabinet recognized the Florida Park Service on Thursday.

This achievement makes Florida the only system in the nation to win a third gold medal. In fact, no other system has ever won two gold medals, and systems are not allowed to apply for the award within five years of receiving it. Considerations for this award were based on the agency's ability to address needs of those it serves through collective energies of citizens, staff and elected officials.

"The fact that the Florida Park Service has won this prestigious national award three times, while no other state has ever won twice, shows the dedication of our employees and volunteers to manage the resources that provide vast opportunities for Floridians and visitors to enjoy our natural resources."

prestigious national award three times, while no other state has ever won twice, shows the dedication of our employees and volunteers to manage the resources that provide vast opportunities for Floridians and visitors to enjoy our natural resources," said DEP Secretary Herschel T. Vinyard Jr. "More than 25 million people visit these award-winning state parks each year, and we are proud to continue to show how special Florida is to all those who visit."

Since 1935, Florida's Park Service have been working to provide recreational activities for the community, while preserving, protecting, interpreting and restoring natural resources in the area.

During the 2012-2013 fiscal year, parks experienced a record-breaking number of visitors. During this time period, 25,575,794 people visited parks. This resulted in an increase of 592,615 from the previous year. Increasing access to these state parks has been one of Vinyard's top priorities.

"I am honored that Florida State Parks is the winner of our third national gold medal," said Florida Park Service Director Donald Forgione. "Our staff members, citizen support organizations, volunteers and concessionaires work hard every day to welcome visitors to enjoy our natural and cultural resources."

Her growing rapport with the youngsters, coupled with her generosity of spirit, gradually captures the heart of the stern captain, and they marry.

Upon returning from their honeymoon, they discover that Austria has been invaded by the Nazis, who demand the captain's immediate service in their navy. The family's narrow escape over the mountains to Switzerland on the eve of World War II provides what many consider one of the most thrilling and inspirational finales ever presented in the theater.
