Assistant pastor discusses trip

BONIFAY — Associate Pastor of Northside Assembly of God Chuck Glass visited with the Bonifay Kiwanis Club on Nov. 20 to share with them photographs and stories from the church's latest trip to Haiti.

"First I want to talk about the organization that we work with, called Convoy of Hope," said Glass. "If any of you have watched Fox News you'd see a lot of Convoy of Hope during any type of natural disaster. Convoy of Hope is usually the first one on the scene. They position themselves to be in certain locations around the United States, like with the recent disaster in Illinois with the tornado, as I was watching it on television someone with a Convoy of Hope T-shirt walked by to hand out a bag of food."

He said thanks to the Convoy of Hope they were able to establish a warehouse full of food and have helped many areas grow crops to help feed families near and far.

"They say give a man a fish, feed him for a day, teach a man to fish and feed him for life," said Glass. "They've gone beyond just giving them food to helping them be self-reliant. So now, instead of them relying on us for food, the majority of food is coming from their own country."

Special to the Times-Advertiser

BONIFAY — Farmers and their family gathered together as the UF/IFAS Extension Holmes County hosted the 2013 Holmes County Farm-City Week Banquet on Thursday at the Holmes County Agricultural Center.

National Farm-City Week, held the third week of November, recognizes the hard work and contributions of farmers, ranchers, and producers to provide our communities with a safe, abundant, and affordable food supply.

Outstanding agricultural leaders in the community, including the Farm Family of the Year were recognized at the Banquet.

This year the Rolling Family was presented with Farm Family of the Year.

"Jeremy's love for farming began when he was four years old riding in the cab of his grandfather's tractor," said Shep Eubanks, Holmes County IFAS Extension Director. "His grandfather farmed in the Noma community, located in Holmes County, and distilled in him a work ethic at a young age. Jeremy moved away from Holmes County and attended school at Laurel Hill where he took Ag and was active in the FFA."

Empty Stocking Fund campaign underway

From Staff Reports

CHIPLEY — For thousands of local residents, the success of the annual Empty Stocking Fund campaign determines if their stockings will be full, if fresh food will be on the table for Christmas Day and if toys will be under the tree for their children.

The success of the Empty Stocking Fund, according to those who organize it, is determined by the people who make that decision to donate, who for four decades have dug deep through good times and bad to make sure those less fortunate have something else to be grateful for each Christmas.

The Empty Stocking Fund, sponsored by The Washington County News, The Holmes County Times-Advertiser, The Panama City News Herald, and Bill Cramer Chevrolet (formerly Tommy Thomas Chevrolet), is an annual fundraising event that raises awareness of the need for support of The Salvation Army's programs and services.

The Panama City chapter of the Salvation Army serves Washington, Holmes, Bay, Gulf, Franklin, Jackson, Calhoun and Liberty Counties.

The Empty Stocking Fund began more than 30 years ago, when Salvation Army board member Tommy Thomas and The News Herald joined forces to bring holiday cheer to the area's needy families. The first goal was $20,000. The fund's target has grown since and the campaign has raised almost $3 million.

Each year, when the goal is reached, Bill Cramer Chevrolet Cadillac Buick GMC donates an additional $5,000.

Envelopes are included in today's edition of the Washington County News and the Holmes County Times-Advertiser so our readers can contribute to the Empty Stocking Fund.

Donations can be mailed to either of these addresses: The Empty Stocking Fund, c/o The Salvation Army, P.O. Box 540, Panama City, FL 32402; or The News Herald, P.O. Box 1940, Panama City, FL 32402.

You also may drop off donations at the Washington County News office, 1364 N. Railroad Ave., Chipley, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

You can make donations anonymously, in the giver's name or in someone's memory. Salvation Army staff process the contributions, then give an update to the Panama City News Herald on those who have contributed. The News Herald regularly publishes those names. (Donors can choose to remain anonymous.)

He said that his group went in to rebuild a school that had been destroyed by the latest earthquake.

"These schools are important, not just for the education but to feed the children," said Glass. "As an incentive to get children to go to school they offer free food and for some of these children, these are the only meals they'll see all week. They feed over 50,000 children a day and over 70,000 children are on a waiting list to be enrolled; there might be a warehouse of food but with that many children it goes fast."

the school from the ground, up, starting with metal pillars and hand mixing the cement foundation.

"We used pickaxes to stir the cement and move it using lines of people and buckets," said Glass. "Men from the area would work eight hours at a time, re-fusing breaks and water to show their dedication to the project. Dr. Ernest Hooper donated quite a few toothbrushes and toothpaste and we handed out candy and donated rodeo beads, which were, quite frankly, a lot; so on behalf of the children, thank you very much for those donations."

Quite a bit of help was given freely from the students, parents and teachers in rebuilding their school, said Glass.

"They took pride and dedication into what was theirs and that's what we're missing and what we need," he said. "They are seeing a new era where a new president has come in and fired everyone in office and now aide is really going to the people because before corrupt people were keeping it to themselves. There's a tent town slowly being torn down as the president replaces the tents with real homes for these people; it's simply amazing."

Over half the school was finished after their seven-day trip to Haiti and would be completed by the next team.

"If you get the chance to go on mission trip, do it because it will change your life," said Glass. "We're so blessed and we're so blessed to be able to give. I just want to tell the Bonifay Kiwanis Club that I appreciate how much they give and do for the community."

Bonifay Book Club meets in November

Special to the Times-Advertiser

BONIFAY — The Bonifay Book Club met at the home of Nancy Riley on Tuesday, Nov. 12.
 Present at the meeting were Cynthia Brooks, Medea Callahan, Barbara Howell, Wanda Howell, June Jones, Nancy Riley, Dianne Smith and Hazel Tison. The minutes were approved as read. With regret, the Club accepted the resignation of Edna McDonald. Officers were elected for 2014.

Cynthia Brooks was elected president; Brenda Alford was elected vice-president; and Nancy Riley was elected secretary. June Jones reviewed Therese Anne Fowler's historical novel, "Z: A Novel of Zelda Fitzgerald," published in 2013. The book is a partly fictional and partly biographical account of Zelda and Scott Fitzgerald's tumultuous love story set in the riveting backdrop of Jazz Age New York with supporting characters like Isadora Duncan and Ernest Hemingway.

Zelda was a free-spirited beautiful 17-year-old girl of a respected family from Montgomery, Ala., when she met Scott while he was still in the military. She married him after he published his first successful novel. The parties, alcohol, rumors, riches and glamour of the New York Jazz Age ultimately took their toll on the Fitzgerald's relationship. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Riley at the conclusion of the meeting.

It is nice to go to state and know this is the eighth time going to state in seven years in FFA at Poplar Springs. This is the highest award we have won at state contest so far. I am very proud of these students. A special thanks to Rex Lumber Co. for helping sponsor us to go to state contest again this year with a $500 donation.

Guest COLUMNIST Looking past Thanksgiving

By Glenn Mollette
Guest Columnist

The first Thanksgiving was surrounded by life's hardships. The early settlers were bombarded with extreme weather, hunger, sickness and death. Those who had survived believed the best they could do was to stop and give thanks.

Too many throughout America are looking past Thanksgiving. Either we don't want to think about it or we are looking to black Friday, Christmas or just trying to get through the year. The aggravations of the world often drive us to feeling beaten down and we become bitter and resentful instead of thankful.

When we live with gratitude our lives are more peaceful. Gratitude is a great stress reliever because we are looking to God and thanking Him. A thankful life is a healthy life emotionally and physically. In gratitude we focus on the positive instead of the negative. We focus on the giver of life and not everything that is wrong with life.

How well we know that life is filled with suffering. Tornadoes destroyed towns throughout the Midwest last week. Thousands of people were devastated. One evening news sound bite was a woman in tears saying that she and her husband lost everything but they clung to each other because they still had each other." In the middle of losing everything they were grateful for each other. The Philippines were almost wiped off the map because of the most horrific typhoon ever recorded. Those people are suffering.

We don't want pain and suffering. Yet, it's almost impossible to live very long without experiencing both. A man in the Bible by the name of Job lost everything. He lost his children, his entire wealth and his health. Job suffered and lost everything. His wife told him to curse God and die. Job looked to his creator in spite of circumstances. He never lost his sense of gratitude toward God even in the blackest hours of his life. He said, "Though he slay me, yet will I hope in him," Job 13:15. In his last years of life Job ended up with more than ever before. Gratitude was the beginning step to a new life for Job.

You may not feel life is going your way. Stop and give thanks. Giving thanks is often the first step to better days.

Thanksgiving: A most American holiday

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day in our nation and my longtime friend, Doyle Taylor, never let me forget that "Thanksgiving Day is an American Holiday!" He was rather incensed when he felt it was being trampled upon when other holiday merriment, especially what he regarded as the commercial type, attempted to usurp the meaning of the special day.

Thanksgiving Day stemmed from a time of celebration of our Pilgrim Founding Fathers. This event was set aside for offering thanks to God for the bountiful crops, especially corn, and other food items which the early settlers were blessed to grow and enjoy. At the event, several days of preparing and enjoying sumptuous spreads of various wildlife meat, deer, turkey and others, were added to the crops grown in the fields. History tells us that giving thanks to the Master of Life was first and foremost in their lives.

Expressing thanks for our daily food is taught in the Holy Bible Matthew 6, verse 11, the scripture that men have labeled as the Lord's Prayer: "Give us this day our daily bread," is an offering of thanks for the food we eat and enjoy, which gives us our daily sustenance.

Other material blessings in my everyday walk of life comes before me each passing day. Thanksgiving Day reminds, and allows me to reflect, on the fact more fully. At the age of 86, and after 21 years into official retirement,, reflections of day-by-day blessings come to me often.

Not minimizing the blessing of family, friends, ample food, a reasonable degree of good health, a comfortable place to live and enjoy life, a host of other tangible blessings have been in my thoughts as Thanksgiving Day approaches.

At the Nov.11 Veterans Day Celebration, my mind reflected on the many and varied ways that our nation stopped for a few hours of that day to pay tribute to the day set aside by our Congress to honor all veterans of all wars. I am thankful for this fact.

Your writer was invited to speak at the annual Veterans Day program at Poplar Springs High School. An awareness of Thanksgiving was brought to mind for the many schools in this area which made similar effort in honoring our heroes, past and present, on their special day.

Gordon Wells, our son, who is principal of Poplar Springs School, called upon Dad when the person he planned to invite had to decline because of a recent hip replacement, which put him into a non-travel status. The gentleman, Mike

PERRY'S PRATTLE
Perry Wells

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES-ADVERTISER

This photograph of PFC Jim Carlton Bates, re buried in his hometown on Feb. 17, 1949, was used in my Veterans Day presentation at Poplar Springs on Nov. 11. Cpl. Perry E. Wells, cap in hand, accompanies the presiding minister, Rev. Boyd McLeroy.

Warren, is a second cousin of my wife, Hester. He recently retired as Post Master in Colquitt, Georgia and lives in the area with his wife, Ronda, daughter, Abigail and son, John Paul. Mike is a Vietnam War Combat Veteran and would, no doubt, be an interesting speaker. His encouraging comments to Gordon were: "Gordon, take me off the list this time, but put me right back on for some future time as I definitely want to speak at your school."

When expressing some reservations about tackling the task, Gordon reassured me by saying: "Daddy, I want you to tell about how the news of the Pearl Harbor Attack and how it was brought to the Vernon High School students on Dec. 8, 1941." "Also, tell again about your experience as a Military Escort in 1948-49, escorting the World War II dead who were returned to their homes for reburial under the American Graves Registration Reburial Program." (This story is told in detail in the Heritage of Washington County Book, pages 52 and 53 where my service and that of my brother, Jim Wells, is detailed. "The Heritage of Washington County" book project was another added blessing in my life.)

After the Pearl Harbor attack and destruction of the U.S. Navy Ships by the Japanese war planes on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941, we were gathered in a school assembly on Monday, Dec. 8.

Mr. R. E. Upton, Sr., Principal of the school, was able to obtain a radio. It was tuned in to an address by President Franklin D. Roosevelt as he addressed the full Congress, requesting that war be declared upon the Japanese Empire for this aggression.

I was honored, along with my brother, Jim, to be selected as a military escort in the reburial program which ended more than sixty-four years ago. The students, the honored veterans representing many branches of the Armed Forces, their families, school faculty and others listened quietly and intently as my address was delivered on the above two subjects.

The twenty-five travels orders for the twenty-five bodies escorted, still contained in the original large manila envelopes, were displayed in front of the podium from which I spoke. In the center of the table was the 8-by-10 photograph of the casket being removed from the home of PFC Jim Carlton Bates, who was escorted to his home of Hohenwald, Tennessee.

Visitors, faculty and students, were invited to come forward and view the display after the program was completed. Many did just that in the proper somber and respectful manner. Yes, I consider this a distinct honor and blessing to be able to deliver these two messages one more time.

Barbara Jean Harrell Teusink told me recently that her mother, Bess Yates Harrell, a resident on the third floor of our local hospital, delights in reading "Perry's Prattle" each week. This gave a feeling of Thanksgiving that I am permitted to provide this small token of enjoyment.

Nita Varnum, and more of this age group, can be added in expressing this blessing. Many others who make similar expression, almost weekly, give the same warm glow of personal satisfaction and an humble feeling of Thanksgiving.

At Poplar Springs, it was Ellis Christmas and wife, Brenda, and earlier, Mr. John Phillips, who gave approval of the column. The additional readers in Holmes County Times for the past year, including Bill Tom Gavin, are appreciated each time an encouraging word is spoken.

Happy Thanksgiving to one and all! See you all next week.

Student recalls President Kennedy

When I was teaching, Lucy Alford was one of my 8th grade students, and she was always prepared, always good natured. I remembered that she liked country music when she joined the faculty of Bonifay Middle School after graduating FSU to teach social studies.

The 8th grade held a Colonial Days in connection with our American History studies. Different ones exhibited Colonial skills such as butter churning, quilting, corn shelling, horse shoeing, soap making, black smithing, and etc. I asked Lucy to get us a square dancing group together which she gladly did. I am grateful for her cooperative attitude.

Recently she asked me if I would be interested in her recollection of her Aunt Betty. It is my pleasure to welcome Lucy Alford Etheridge as my guest columnist this Thanksgiving season as we remember the 50th anniversary of John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Thanksgiving, Aunt Betty & JFK
The holiday months always bring special memories. As a child, November meant a school holiday, Thanksgiving, a huge meal (with lots of desserts) and being together as a family.

Now, November is still the month that contains the Thanksgiving holiday, but there is so much more etched in my mind. November now reminds me of my dear Aunt Betty. Betty was one of my Daddy's 3 older sisters. She always made me feel special. It was probably because of several reasons: she was older when I was born, she had no children of her own and I was her only niece. It probably helped that she lived in Texas and the time I did get to spend with her was cherished and contained some of my favorite childhood memories.

I am thankful for these memories I have of Betty: buying me my first Nancy Drew book (instilling in me a love of the written word), watching and trying to identify birds (she was an avid bird watcher), challenging me to play Trivial Pursuit (as a team we were undefeated), solving crossword puzzles on Granny's front porch, helping me make peanut butter cookies (complete with criss-cross fork impressions) and creatively wrapping the best Christmas presents in the world. Perhaps it was fitting that she died during the Thanksgiving holiday four years ago. I have always been thankful for her and now I am thankful for the memories of her.

Betty was born in 1928 in Bonifay to Paisley and Teresa Alford. She grew up on Nebraska Avenue and played clarinet in the marching band. She graduated from HCHS in the Class of 1946. After graduation, she joined her sister (my Aunt Sue) at the Florida State College for Women.

She graduated with both Bachelor and Master degrees in Home Economics. She fell in love and married a Noma boy (Earl Williams) and followed him to several states as he sold lumber products. During the late 1950's, Jacksonville Texas became

"We want those individuals who would prey on our children to be afraid of what is waiting behind the door for them," Sheriff Mike Adkinson said. "I want them to understand that when it comes to protecting our children we are the boogeyman waiting to get them."

The operation ran from Nov. 13 until Monday, Nov. 18. During the course of the operation, numerous posts were placed on several social networking sites. The undercover profiles that were used online were mostly of juvenile females and males with the approximate age of 12- to 13-years-old.

The online advertisements had been posted to target suspects who engage in sexual activities with under-age minors within the State of Florida.

Ten individuals responded to online advertisements through the use of email and electronic communications.

According to police, during conversations between some of the suspects and the undercover officer, who was posing as a 12-year-old female's mother, the suspects solicited the "mother" to engage in sexual activity with the 12-year-old female.

Other conversations consisted of the suspect engaging in conversations with the undercover officer, posing as a 13-year-old male, and the suspect solicited the 13-year-old male to engage in sexual activity, according to police.

During the course of the conversations, the suspects obtained an address and upon arrival at the location the suspects were all taken into custody. The suspects' ages ranged from early 20s to early 50s and occupations run the gamut from active duty military, steel worker, retail sales, unemployed and a preacher.

All suspects were booked at the Walton County Department of Corrections. Each suspect was issued a $1 million bond with the release conditions of no contact with minors and that they be required to wear an electronic tracking device, according to police.

To combat the online sexual exploitation of children, many hours were devoted to the planning and execution of this operation, Adkinson said. In the coming weeks, additional arrests could be made in connection with Operation Turkey Hunt.

In addition to the Walton County Sheriff's Office, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, St Johns County Sheriff's Office, Gainesville Police Department, Escambia County Sheriff's Office, Pensacola Police Department, Bay County Sheriff's Office, Tallahassee Police Department and Crestview Police Department all participated in the task force investigation.

their home. They were married for 57 years. I thought she was near perfect and she was definitely the smartest lady I have ever known. I wanted to be just like her - I had to play clarinet in the marching band, go to Florida State, do my teaching internship at Florida High in Tallahassee and get a masters degree - just like Betty.

As Thanksgiving 2009 approached, I knew it was time to let her go. She had suffered for many years with rheumatoid arthritis and had developed several complications after a broken hip. We were in Texas during her final weeks and two days before Thanksgiving in 2009, she met the Lord. So, now Thanksgiving also reminds me of my Aunt Betty.

Betty was an excellent story teller. She was well travelled and had a variety of stories to keep us entertained. However, my favorite story took place in Dallas. During the 40 years we shared together, I asked her to repeat it over and over. It never got old. This November marks the 50th Anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

After recently watching several media outlets discuss the anniversary of that historical event, I am still amazed she was so close to history that fateful day in 1963. On November 22, 1963, she and some friends had driven to Dallas to go shopping. They had heard that JFK was in town and that the motorcade route would run by Neiman-Marcus. After eating lunch at the famous café located in the store, they walked over to the windows and watched the motorcade pass. She saw Texas Governor John Connally Jr., with his wife Nellie, in the front of the Presidential limousine. She also saw JFK and Mrs. Kennedy seated in the back. JFK was smiling and waving to the crowd. Mrs. Kennedy looked elegant in her pink Chanel suit with matching pillbox hat. After watching the Presidential convertible pass, she and her friends returned to shopping. A few minutes later, they heard people yelling in the store that Kennedy had been shot. Everyone was visibly upset and in disbelief. Many were crying. Others looked in shock. It all seemed unreal. She and her friends patiently waited a few hours before attempting to leave Dallas. They knew the traffic would be bad and feared that many roads were blocked or closed. She remembered that the emergency sirens lasted for a long time. Betty described the grief that enveloped the city and noted the eeriest thing happened after the sirens stopped: Dallas was virtually silent. It was a huge city with no sound. The crowd dispersed quickly leaving only silence. Within minutes, Camelot was over. It was the Friday before Thanksgiving. As Betty left Dallas, she bought a special extra afternoon edition of the Dallas Morning News that announced the death of America's 35th President. She knew it would be a day that would be remembered forever in American History.

Dallas had given JFK a warm reception and huge crowds. A full page ad in the Dallas paper read "Welcome Mr. Kennedy." Between 150,000-200,000 caught a glimpse of the couple that day - approximately one-third of the population of Dallas at that time. It has been reported minutes before the assassination, Governor Connally's wife turned to Mrs. Kennedy and said, "You can't say that Dallas doesn't love you." After her husband's death, Mrs. Kennedy refused to have her blood-stained pink suit cleaned. When asked why, her response was "I want them to see what they did to Jack." The National Archives now has that dress and it is stored in a climate controlled vault. Based on the wishes of the Kennedy family, it will not be publicly displayed until 2103 (140 years after the assassination). It still amazes me that a girl from Bonifay was in Dallas on that historic day. So, this Thanksgiving I am thankful for God, my family, my friends and the privilege to live in the greatest country in the world. I am also thankful for the memories I have of my Aunt Betty, the time she spent with me and the influence she had on me. I'll never forget her, the stories she told me and the lessons she taught me. I miss her.

Bonifay native selected to study in Japan

Special to the Times Advertiser

PENSACOLA — Heisirys Ramirez, a native of Bonifay and student at the University of West Florida, was one of 15 students recently selected to participate in an interdisciplinary study abroad opportunity in Japan in May 2014.

The Japan Study Abroad Program is hosted in collaboration with the Jikei Group of Colleges and led by Paula Rappe, assistant professor of social work, and Dr. Kimberly Tatum, associate dean of the College of Professional Studies and associate professor of legal studies. It emphasizes the development of 21st Century skills related to career development, such as global awareness, initiative and self-direction, flexibility and adaptability, social and cross-cultural skills, critical thinking and problem solving.

The unique program counts as a three-credit-hour elective course that spans the 2014 Spring and Summer semesters, consisting of pre-departure learning activities, the study abroad experience and post-trip reflections. During the trip, students will participate in cultural and educational excursions, interact with Japanese students and take part in a community service project. Once they return, they will collaborate to compile a multimedia presentation that can be presented to various audiences, including the annual U.S.-Japan Social Welfare Symposium that is held each fall.

The program is offered to undergraduate and graduate students majoring or minoring in any program within the College of Professional Studies. Students were chosen following a competitive application process led by Rappe, Tatum and Chelsea Boling, the Emerge Program Coordinator. For the inaugural trip, 32 students were selected for interviews from an applicant pool of more than 50, and 15 finalists were selected.

The program is part of the Emerge Initiative, which was developed earlier this year by Dr. Stacie Whinnery, interim dean of the UWF College of Professional Studies, to help faculty within the College of Professional Studies design and utilize high impact practices that deepen student learning and engagement. By using a combination of techniques, HIPs raise levels of performance, retention and success for all students.

The Japan Study Abroad Program emphasizes the high impact practice of service learning, giving students direct experience with issues they study in a curriculum and allowing them to apply what they learn in real-world settings before reflecting on their experience in a classroom setting. It also allows students to explore different cultures, life experiences and worldviews through diversity and global learning. The Japan Study Abroad Program is funded by a Pace Academic Development Grant from the Office of the Provost, Dr. Martha Saunders.

For additional information about the Japan Study Abroad Program and Emerge, visit uwf.edu/emerge.

Young Boyz to Men visit Bonifay Nursing and Rehabilitation Center

By CECILIA SPEARS

BONIFAY — Young Boyz to Men, a group of fifth-, sixth-, seventh- and eighth-grade volunteers from Vernon Middle School, visited Bonifay Nursing and Rehabilitation Center residents on Nov. 21.

"They've given themselves over for leadership, character and community service," said Dr. Charles Peterson, vice principal and program director. "There are also guest speakers who talk to the boys about building character and mature these boys into outstanding men of character. We follow the saying of Frederick Douglass when he said

"It is better to build strong children than to repair broken men."

This is the first program of its kind in the Tri-County area, he said, there are 60 boys in the program and 34 of those volunteers were with him visiting the nursing home.

The boys came with personal products and goody bags and devoted time to speak with and visit residents that day.

"We're trying community service from middle school to high school," said Peterson. "We're here today to show that the elderly are still important and that they need dignity and respect and for us to show them that we still care. This will be the first of many visits and projects throughout the community."

Young Boyz to Men, a group of volunteers from Vernon Middle School, made a visit to Bonifay Nursing and Rehabilitation Center on Nov. 21.

TDC considers flexibility in grant awards

Sweeney resigns from council

By RANDAL SEYLER
638-0212 | @WCN_HCT
rseyler@chipleypaper.com

CHIPLEY — A Wausau-based Pit Bull Terrier dog show brings hundreds of visitors from out of state, and the Washington County Tourist Development Council wants to help keep that tradition going strong.

Sheree Folmar had withdrawn her application for a grant from the TDC after attending the council's recent Event Planner Workshop due to the council's new policy of providing local radio advertising instead of advertising funding.

"She brings in people from all over the country, and her best advertising is the national trade magazine," said Heather Lopez, executive director of the TDC, during the Nov. 18 meeting at the Washington County Chamber of Commerce building in Chipley. "If she advertises locally, there may be some local people who come by to see the dogs, but her main audience comes from out of state."

Folmar said the local radio would not be very useful for her event so she withdrew her application.

Lopez said last year the American Dog Breeders Association dog show Folmar hosts is called the Sunshine State American Pit Bull Terrier Club (APBTC) and the event drew enough people to fill up motels in Chipley. "The only reason all the motels were not full was that some of them have a 'no pets' policy, so people were sent to Bonifay," Lopez said.

"Now wait a minute," said TDC board member Ted Everett. "This is a multi-day event that is bringing heads in beds, which is exactly the kind of thing the TDC is here to support." Everett suggested the TDC help Folmar with advertising in the national magazine as well as offer some local radio advertising.

"We have to be flexible with our thinking, we don't want to have our policies written in stone," Everett said.

The board approved the motion to grant $400 to the ADBA dog show to go toward national advertising.

The board also tabled accepting the resignation of Scott Sweeney from the TDC. Sweeney submitted a letter informing the board of his intention to move to Holmes County to reside, although he will continue to work at Falling Waters State Park in Chipley.

Lopez said she would research whether or not members of the TDC were required to live in the county that the council serves.

Another member, Mark Hess,

now also resides outside the county, so Lopez will find out if they can continue to serve on the TDC.

The board also put off advertising the open seat on the TDC until the matter can be researched. Linda Cain, mayor of Chipley, is being replaced on the TDC board by Lee Dell Kennedy, a city councilman who serves as Chipley's mayor pro tem. The board voted to renew Cain, Hess and Dana Phillips' terms during the meeting.

The board members also voted to cancel their December meeting due to the holidays.

He said that Rolling then moved back to Holmes County after high school and met his wife Teresa and they then settled in the Prosperity Community and began a family.

"The Rolling started out truck farming and small plot farming and in 2008, Jeremy started row crop farming and has expanded to 400 acres in Holmes and Walton Counties," said Eubanks. "Their operation includes peanuts, cotton, oats, watermelons, and hay. Jeremy's wife, Teresa, assists in the operation by pulling peanut wagons and operating the module builder for cotton."

Their daughter, Jordan, is active in the Holmes County 4-H and assisted in growing and marketing her first crop of watermelons in 2012, he said.

"Jeremy is a member of the Florida Peanut Producer's Association and the family is a member of the Ponce De Leon FFA Alumni Association," said Eubanks. "Jeremy and Teresa both work fulltime jobs off the farm and Jeremy is employed as an Investigator for the State of Florida and Teresa is a 3rd grade teacher at Ponce de Leon Elementary. Jordan is a sixth grader at Ponce de Leon High School."

Eubanks said that the family may be young, but "it will be the young that carries on the future crops of tomorrow."

Late score lifts Cottondale past Northview 34-28

COTTONDALE — Some games have to be seen to be believed. This was one of them.

For a second consecutive week, Norris Calhoun and the Cottondale Hornets turned what appeared to be near certain defeat into a thrilling, heart-pounding 34-28 victory Friday night in the Region 1-1A championship game.

Cottondale's win propelled the Hornets into a state semifinal showdown at home Friday against undefeated and No. 1-ranked Blountstown.

Northview, the defending Class 1A state champion, fell short in its bid for a third straight trip to the state semis.

Calhoun, with a big push from his offensive linemen, punched the ball into the end zone on a 3-yard touchdown run to give the Hornets (8-4) a 34-28 lead with 50 seconds left in the game. Calhoun was stood up shy of the line of scrimmage before two of his teammates joined the pile and pushed it forward across the goal line.

Northview's Neino Robinson returned the ensuing kickoff to his team's 42-yard line, and Robinson raced 28 yards with a reception on the next play to move the ball to Cottondale's 30. The Hornets forced an incompleting on the next play, however, and they held Ladarius Thomas to 12 yards on the game's final play to send Cottondale players, coaches and fans alike racing onto the field to celebrate.

Cottondale now will welcome Blountstown — a 34-0 winner over Port St. Joe last week — to its home field Friday for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff with a berth in the state championship game on the line.

Cottondale took a 26-22 advantage on an 11-yard touchdown romp by Calhoun with 6 minutes left, but the Chiefs (4-7) regained the lead when Keondrae Lett scored from 1 yard with 4:22 remaining. Lett's touchdown was set up by Thomas' 54-yard run on the previous play.

On the next possession, the Hornets drove down the field and thought they had taken the lead on Shaundre Macroy's 29-yard run only to see the ball moved back 15 yards on a penalty. Cottondale kept fighting, and Justin Klotz's 20-yard pass to Macroy gave Cottondale a first down at the Northview 5. Calhoun muscled his way into the end zone two plays later to give his team the lead for good.

Calhoun finished with 35 carries for 184 yards, compiling 85 yards in the fourth quarter alone.

Cottondale led 12-6 briefly in the second quarter, but Northview responded with a pair of touchdowns before halftime to carry a 22-12 advantage into the locker room.

The Hornets turned the ball over on downs at the Northview 6 with 5 seconds remaining in the first half and missed a chance to carve into Northview's two-possession lead before halftime.

Cottondale scored on the opening drive of the second half to pull within 22-20 just 3½ minutes into the third quarter. Marcus Johnson took a pitch on an end-around and then squared up to throw, and Emmanuel Lockhart tracked down Johnson's pass in the back of the end zone for a 22-yard touchdown. Calhoun punched in the two-point conversion.

After falling behind 6-0 early in the game, the Hornets answered with Calhoun's 1-yard plunge into the end zone on fourth down to even the score at 6-6 with 4½ minutes left in the opening quarter.

Cottondale scored again on fourth-and-goal in the second quarter when Klotz squeezed a pass between three defenders to Macroy for a 12-6 lead with 8:38 remaining in the half.

The Chiefs scored touchdowns on their next two possessions to regain the lead. Brannon Freeman scored on respective runs of 3 and 4 yards, and Northview added two-point conversions on each of those scores to seize control at 22-12.

The Hornets reached the Northview 1-yard line on their final possession of the half, but a neutral zone infraction on fourth down pushed them back, and Klotz overthrew a receiver in the end zone on the next snap.

BONIFAY — Both varsity and junior varsity Holmes County High School Lady Blue Devils defeated the Lady Gators of Baker High School in high school basketball on Nov. 18.

Junior varsity Lady Blue Devils defeated the Lady Gators with a score of 58-14.

The Varsity Lady Blue Devils defeated the Lady Gators with a score of 69-29.

According to Head Coach Devon Miles, the Lady Devils opened the season with three victories.

Varsity defeated Malone 76-50, Walton 70-54 and Cottondale 67-15 and junior varsity defeated Malone 63-4, Walton 65-32 and Cottondale 59-14.

"The Lady Devils have played a solid defense so far and shot the three pretty well," said Miles. "We are very small so we have to use our speed and quickness on defense to create scoring opportunities. Our five seniors have played really well thus far and have shown quality leadership skills."

He said that leadership is the key.

"Leadership from experienced players tends to make everything run smoother and it reveals to our younger players what is expected," said Miles. "As long as we play hard, smart and together we will be competitive on most nights and we will always hope for a little luck to assist us along the way."

Weekly Bible Trivia
*What was Samuel's mother's name?
(answer found in this week's scripture reading)*

Children are full of wonder and questions. My son is intrigued by everything he sees. He asks about the moon, the stars, etc. Sometimes we don't have the answers he seeks, but he is not discouraged. Now is the time that he is open to information concerning God. The questions are tiring at times, but he is shaping into a young adult before our very eyes. He will soon look not only to his parents for the answers. Take time to answer the questions.

Dorothy D. Temples

Ms. Dorothy Denise "Dee" Temples, 53, went home to be with her Lord and Savior on Nov. 17, 2013, at her home in Chipley following a short battle with cancer.
