By Joyce Marie Taylor

Jennings resident Robin Squires spoke to the Hamilton County Board of County Commissioners at their May 6 meeting about the state of the roads; specifically dirt roads. There are currently about 434 miles of dirt roads in Hamilton County and the road Squires lives on, NW 44th St., is the longest one in the county. It begins at SR 6 and doesn't stop until it gets to the Withlacoochee River, according to Commission Chair Josh Smith.

"I've been calling the road department to try to get our roads

Meth lab busted in Jennings

By Joyce Marie Taylor
joycemarie.taylor@gafnews.com

Three Jennings residents were busted for manufacturing methamphetamines after an anonymous tip led authorities to a residence in the West Lake Farms subdivision, according to the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office (HCSO).

Charlotte Marie Green, 46, Rebekah

Marie Church, 22, and Matthew Blake Vickers, 26, all residing at 4730 NW 60 Dr. in Jennings, were arrested by the Hamilton County Drug Task Force on Thursday, May 8, and booked into the Hamilton County Jail on charges of possession of methamphetamine, manufacturing methamphetamine, possession of narcotic equipment and drug

2 injured in wreck, including deputy

A two-vehicle crash involving a Hamilton County Sheriff's Office deputy occurred Wednesday afternoon on US 41 in Jasper, about a mile north of the center of town. According to HCSO Sheriff Harrell Reid, one of his deputies was en route to a call in Jennings and traveling north on US 41 when witnesses said a dog darted out in front of him. The deputy, Matthew Cribbs, tried swerving to miss the dog and lost control of the vehicle, which began to rotate and then overturn numerous times. As the vehicle was overturning it landed on top of a southbound vehicle driven by an unknown elderly female. Both injured victims were transported to Shands UF Trauma Center in Gainesville via helicopter, according to Reid. No more information was available at press time. - Photo: Joyce Marie Taylor

Adams Country Store featured on American Pickers

By Joyce Marie Taylor
joycemarie.taylor@gafnews.com

The Adams Country Store in historic White Springs was featured on TV's "American Pickers" on Wednesday, May 7, at 9 p.m. on the History Channel.

According to the History

Channel's website, American Pickers Mike Wolfe and Frank Fritz are on a mission to recycle America and they "dive into countless piles of grimy junk and sometimes get chased off by gun-wielding homeowners."

They've been hitting the back roads from coast to coast for quite a few years and finally found their way into White Springs where they discovered the Adams Country Store, which was built in 1892 and is currently owned by Raymond Cheshire.

Cheshire said the folks from American Pickers found a photo of the Adams Country Store on the Internet about six months ago and decided to check it out. They arrived in White Springs about two months ago and began filming. Everything was hush-hush and Cheshire was asked not to reveal anything to anyone, which is why he was reluctant to announce the exciting news until he knew for sure it was a done deal.

The Brothers United group was granted permission by the town of White Springs at a special called meeting, to hold their annual May Day event on Saturday, May 17, at the old Carver School site.

Being a non-profit organization, Brothers United asked for assistance in co-sponsoring the event, as they don't have the means or the funds to provide liability insurance as was discussed at a previous town council meeting.

Secretary for Brothers United, Coretta Ford, said, "In 2000 a group of guys got together and decided they wanted to have a big time picnic representing the Juneteenth celebration. As the years have come along, more

Life in WHITE SPRINGS

By Walter McKenzie

lifeinwhitesprings@gmail.com

“Dear readers, ‘Life in White Springs’ has been missing for the last two weeks and it’s your fault! You can’t hold me responsible; I’m just the guy that’s supposed to write the column.” Now wouldn’t that be a ridiculous stand to take? And yet, that is what most of us do. We refuse to take responsibility for the voids in our community life, voids that are caused by our own inaction, and then, even worse, we try to shift the blame to someone.... anyone, else. Let’s quit doing that. We need to understand that on certain days, we each need to put on our community hat. Because of people who set aside some time to serve or support their community, White Springs has schools, and afterschool and Summer programs for our kids, softball fields and tennis courts, libraries and playgrounds, welcome centers and museums, Folk Festivals and Wild Azalea and May Day festivals and the list goes on and on. Some folks do more, some less. Some plan events, some support them by attending. Some do a little for their community and some do a lot, it doesn’t matter as long as each of us tries to do what we should and what we can. Most of us can do better. I’m writing, what are you doing?

The Telford Hotel hosted the return of the White Springs Folk Club last Saturday and an enthusiastic crowd of over fifty people came for dinner and music. The hotel and the food drew many positive comments and the music, featuring award winning Florida singer-songwriters Larry Mangum, Elaine Mahon and Brian Smalley was outstanding. People came from surrounding communities as far away as Jacksonville, Tallahassee and Gainesville and all of them said it was well worth the trip. Two folks won weekend tickets to the upcoming Florida Folk festival. These out of town folks don’t have treasures like this in their own back yard. We do. There were a small number of White Springs folks in attendance but many more would be most welcome in the future to support this community event. Let’s don’t let the “out of towners” do all the heavy lifting.

Speaking of treasures in our own back yard, two events are coming up. The first one is the annual “May Day” event which takes place this Saturday, May 17th, 11A.M., at the old Carver school site. An amazing variety of entertainment and food is provided and it is all free. Everyone is welcome! White Springs can be proud of this event and we should all be proud to support it. I hope to see you there.

The second event is the 62nd annual Florida Folk Festival, Friday, May 23 through Sunday, May 25th. Since its humble beginning in 1953, the Florida Folk Festival has not only grown to become Florida’s most prestigious affair, but also has been named “Florida’s Best Cultural Event.” Here are some amazing statistics for you. Eight main performance stages, more than thirty food vendors, forty or more world class crafts displays and demonstrations, workshops, dance, storytelling, Florida Folklife area, Seminole camp, Children’s area, a banjo contest and the Florida State fiddle contest and the list goes on and on. Tickets are a bargain with children under age 6 for free, ages 6-16 are five dollars for all three days, and 25 or 50 dollars per adult for day or weekend tickets. Advance tickets are available online now, just search for “Florida Folk Festival”. Day and weekend tickets at the gate for adults are only 5 and 10 dollars more. The lineup of entertainment is amazing and features many national, regional, state and local acts, including may talented performers from the White Springs area. If you’ve never been, you’ll be amazed when you attend, and if you have attended, I’d be amazed if you didn’t come back! I’ll see you there, having the time of your life in White Springs!

A little belated but very good news! On Friday, May 2, 2014, Hamilton County High School was well represented at the final State Level Track And Field Competitions. Athletes that qualified to compete at State finals are: Madihah Tomoney, Girls high jump; Monique Bryant, Girls long jump; LaMarcus Webb, 100m, 200m, and 4x100 relay; Malik Robinson, DeMarus Webb and Trey Norris for 4x100 relay. Alex Banner qualified as alternate for 4x100 relay. Coach Hall and Coach Larue are very proud of all of the athletes that competed in Track and Field this season, with many of the entire team succeeding by improving their "personal bests" at each meet. Monique Bryant, a freshman from White Springs, and a first season Track and Field athlete, placed 5th in the entire State in the girls’ long jump. Malik Robinson is also a White Springs resident. White Springs is very proud of these two exceptional students and athletes! The Boys 4x100 finished fourth in the State. An outstanding accomplishment! Hamilton County was well represented by these outstanding student athletes.

Let’s give a shout out to the following birthdays for the month of May. Gery Jefferson 5/14, Phillip Kannady 5/19, Rosa Roundtree 5/26, Magdalene Harden and Marylene Leban 5/27, Arthur and Alex Bryant 5/28 and Charlie Stone 5/30, and please keep Sister Beatrice Byrd in your prayers.

So, there is a lot going on and, since I’m constantly on the lookout for more good news, I check my email for this column often and look forward to hearing from you. I hope to see you out and about, enjoying life in White Springs!

A lesson on racial discrimination

Donald Sterling, Los Angeles Clippers owner, was recorded by his mistress making some crude racist remarks. Since then, Sterling's racist comments have dominated the news, from talk radio to late-night shows. A few politicians have weighed in, with President Barack Obama congratulating the NBA for its sanctions against Sterling. There's little defense for Sterling, save his constitutional right to make racist remarks. But in a sea of self-righteous indignation, I think we're missing the most valuable lesson that we can learn from this affair -- a lesson that's particularly important for black Americans.

Though Sterling might be a racist, there's an important "so what?" Does he act in ways commonly attributed to racists? Let's look at his employment policy. This season, Sterling paid his top three players salaries totaling over $46 million. His 20-person roster payroll totaled over $73 million. Here are a couple of questions for you: What race are the players whom racist Sterling paid the highest salaries? What race dominated the 20-man roster? The fact of business is that Sterling's highest-paid players are black, and 85 percent of Clippers players are black. Down through the years, hundreds of U.S. corporations have faced charges of racism, and many have been subjects of Equal Employment Opportunity Commission investigations, but none of them had such a favorable employment and wage policy as Sterling. How does one explain this? People with limited thinking ability might conclude that Sterling is a racist in his private life but a nice card-carrying liberal in his public life, manifested by his hiring so many blacks, not to mention paying Doc Rivers, the Clippers' black head coach, a healthy $7 million a year. The likelier explanation is given no attention at all.

Let's use a bit of simple economics to analyze the contrast in Sterling's private and public behavior. First, professional basketball is featured by considerable market competition. There's an open opportunity in the acquisition of basketball playing skills. Youngsters just buy a basketball and shoot hoops. There's open competition in joining both high-school and college teams. You just sign up for tryouts in high school and get noticed by college scouts. Then there's considerable competition among the NBA teams in the acquisition of the best college players. Minorities and less preferred people always do better when there are open markets instead of regulated markets.

Recently deceased Nobel Prize-winning economist Gary Becker pointed this phenomenon out some years ago in his path-breaking study "The Economics of Discrimination." Many people think that it takes government to eliminate racial discrimination, but economic theory predicts the opposite. Market competition imposes inescapable profit penalties on for-profit enterprises when they make employment decisions on any basis other than worker productivity. Professor Becker's study of racial discrimination upended the view that discriminatory bias benefits those who discriminate. He demonstrated that racial discrimination is less likely in the most competitive industries, which need to hire the best workers.

According to Forbes magazine, the Los Angeles Clippers would sell for $575 million. Ask yourself what the Clippers would sell for if Sterling were a racist in his public life and hired only white players. All the evidence suggests that would be a grossly losing proposition on at least two counts. Percentage-wise, blacks more so than whites excel in basketball. That's not to say that it is impossible to recruit a team of first-rate, excellent white players. However, because there is a smaller number of top-tier white players relative to black players, the recruitment costs would be prohibitive. In other words, a team of excellent white players would be far costlier to field than a team of excellent black players. It's simply a matter of supply and demand.

The takeaway from the Sterling affair is that we should mount not a moral crusade but an economic liberty crusade. In other words, eliminate union restrictions, wage controls, occupational and business licensure, and other anti-free market restrictions. Make opportunity depend on one's productivity.

Emails: Never ending entertainment

Dwain Walden
The Moultrie Observer

tainment in emails especially those that are trying to sell me something or asking me for my vote.

That said, let me tell you that I don't know much about wines. I know that some are dark, some are white, some come with corks and some have screw-on caps. I also know that some are really old and cost a lot of money. You can even buy wine in cardboard containers, kind of like Yoohoos.

Today I got an offer where I can buy premium wines for less than $10 a bottle, and it will be delivered to my house. From what little I know about this, I'm guessing that 2013 was a very good year.

I've seen wine experts on television who can taste a wine and tell you the year, the vineyard and what food it goes with best. I've also seen commentators who can listen to a politician and tell if he's a Democrat, a Republican, a liberal, a conservative and whether or not he has a mistress. And much like wines, the older ones apparently cost more.

From what I can tell, expensive wines go with expensive meals. I have no idea what kind of wine is appropriate with salmon croquettes, but since fish are involved, I would guess white. But not an expensive white. I think this is where the screw-on cap or the cardboard container comes in.

Now I'm not going to order any of this $9.95 a bottle wine even though it sounds like a good deal. A friend of mine has given me some very good homemade wine. It comes in pint jars. So far it has gone well with any meal. It's made from blackberries.

Now expensive, very-aged wines are not made from blackberries. They are made from grapes. One night I watched a TV special on wines and this one fellow's wine cellar stock was valued at several million dollars. Of course he was a collector. He invested in wines like some people might invest in gold coins, real estate or vintage comic books. He had one bottle that he said dated back to the Revolutionary War. Can you imagine popping that cork and partaking of an elixir that was around when Paul Revere made his famous ride? You hold the empty bottle to your ear and hear, "The British are coming! The British are coming!"

I wondered if this collector ever had nightmares about earthquakes or a home invasion by a horde of winos.

I tried making wine once. I did not do well. The recipe I used involved burying it in the ground to ferment. After I tasted it, I put it back in the ground, but not in its container. So I agree that wine making is a fine art and mine turned out to be more of a velvet Elvis. I was coloring by the numbers.

So much for wines.

Then there was this pop-up on my internet screen. It screamed, "Let's take our country back!" It was in bold letters. Red, white and blue.

So I clicked on it fully expecting to see some very angry Cherokee, Seminole, Comanche and Sioux. But no! It was a campaign flyer from two politicians from somewhere in New Mexico (home of the Apache.)

Funny how perspectives are formed on such subjects.

"Let's take our country back!"

So how many times have you heard that battle cry? It's a favorite piece of political rhetoric. It plays well for anyone who has little use for followup questions such as, "Who are we taking it back from?"

I recall a few years back when a big national farm leader was using a similar slogan. If my memory serves me well, he wound up selling his farm land to the Arabs, who — as Forrest Gump said — had more money than Davy Crockett. They probably had some very old pomegranate wine as well.

Dear editor,

Thanks to Reese Brown, and despite nay-sayers, the Telford in White Springs is resurrected. Its excellent cuisine notwithstanding the Telford, on May 11, hosted not only a wedding reception in the gardens and banquet room, but a full blown folk music concert worthy of recording. Do not miss any opportunity to enjoy this local and born again treasure.

HEART MATTERS

Accommodation indicates “something supplied for convenience or to satisfy a need.” If this meaning is not clear, talk to the parent of a two-year old. Accommodation is very convenient when you are trying to grocery shop and your toddler “needs” a cookie. When my kids were this age, I planned ahead to accommodate during a shopping trip if I ever wanted to leave the store with my sanity, or anything to cook for dinner. A box of animal crackers was an easy and perfect solution!

In continuing our study of conflict resolution strategies, accommodation is the strategy more focused on preserving relationships, at least in the short term. With minor issues (such as a cookie) this can be a productive strategy. However, this strategy may create a problem when the choice to give in to the demands of the other is related to more important issues, but is still chosen simply to avoid conflict or stress. One disastrous Biblical example of accommodation is found in the book of Genesis 16. Abram and Sarai had no children, despite God’s promise that He would give them a son. Sarai made the following suggestion to solve this dilemma: “So she said to Abram, “The Lord has kept me from having children. Go, sleep with my maid-servant; perhaps I can build a family through her.” Abram agreed to what Sarai said.” Genesis 16:2 (NIV) Abram accommodated Sarai, no doubt to soothe her pain of being barren and to avoid further stress and conflict. Needless to say, further stress and conflict arrived rather quickly!

Those who always prefer the accommodating strategy are often described as being “nice” and find satisfaction in helping others. They believe the old adage that “you catch more flies with honey than you do with vinegar” and feel that this strategy serves them well most of the time. Accommodating can be appropriate and productive when preserving the relationship is more important than winning the argument. However, we must think long-term to see the benefit of another strategy. Like in Abram and Sarai’s story, accommodation can actually damage a relationship over time (read the rest of Genesis 16). In fact, during disagreements those who usually accommodate the needs of others may find that they are not able to come to a resolution that seems fair to them (or what is best for the other person). Their natural reaction to avoid the stress of conflict and appease others may put them in a weak position where they can be taken advantage of. This usually leads to feelings of resentment and loss of respect from self and others. This is especially true when dealing with an addiction is to help them destroy their life. This should never be an option.

Knowing when and how to utilize a different strategy is vital to successful conflict resolution and healthy relationships. People who are normally accommodating should work to develop the wisdom to know what choices to make in a given situation, and not be afraid of standing up for a solution that is more beneficial to all concerned. Because every heart matters. Blessings, Angie

Mothers have always held a high position in the Scripture. In no way could one search the Bible and justify the low position in which women are placed in many Eastern countries. A false impression has been created by her present position in the East, especially under Muhammadan rule. Her place as depicted in the Bible is a totally different one. Women in the Bible move on the same social plane with men. They often hold leading public positions; Judges 4:4: “Now Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lopidoth, was judging Israel at that time.”

The love of children was deep in the heart of Hebrew women, and motherhood was highly respected. Among the patriarchs women, and especially mothers, occupy a prominent place. In Rebekah’s marriage, her mother seems to have had equal voice with her father and her brother (Genesis 24:28, 50, 53). In the entire Book of Proverbs the

In looking forward to Mother’s Day, I could not help but think about the mess our country is in right now. Not that messes remind me of mothers in particular, but honesty compels me to admit they are good at cleaning up messes. And, the messes they cleanup are not their doing. That is what makes it so great.

Somebody needs to clean up the mess we are in.

Anybody who steps outside their house knows that the country is in a terrific mess these days. It would be impossible to blame one political party over another. In this area, everybody is equal. The truth is, politicians make messes. Furthermore, they leave these messes for other people to clean up. Many politicians have dirty mouths and minds, but none has dirty hands from cleaning up messes.

There are two kinds of politicians in our country. Those who make messes and those who allow those messes to be made. Wouldn’t it be nice to find a politician who actually would clean up a mess?

Our country is in the soup, and not the kind of soup your mother used to make. Politicians make soup out of circumstances that nobody can stomach while mothers have a marvelous way of making soup out of almost anything, and it tastes heavenly, plus it is good for you.

Recently, some politicians have been in an uproar and quite nervous over the swine flu situation. And there is good reason. With all the pork in Washington these days, they should be afraid they might catch whatever is going around. Maybe, and I know I’m a little sadistic here, it might be good for a couple of them (okay, all of them) to come down with some kind of flu to send them to their beds for at least a month. Possibly a high fever might clear up their thinking. Plus, our country could use a vacation from politicians. We duty of reverence, love, and obedience of sons to their mothers is continually taught.

A look at some of the mothers in the Bible will prove most interesting. Mothers in the Bible played key roles in the coming of Jesus. None of them was perfect, they all sinned, yet each showed strong faith in God. God in turn rewarded them for their faith in Him. First there was Eve, the first woman and the first mother. Eve had no role model or mentor because she was first. Mistakes she made, but she still fulfilled her part in God’s plan to populate the earth. Then there was Sarah, one of the most important women in the Bible. As the wife of Abraham, Sarah became the mother of the nation of Israel. Her faith serves as an example for every person who has to wait on God to act. There was Rebekah, wife of Isaac. At times she was quite assertive and took matters in her own hands. Jochebed, mother of Moses who wrote the first five books of the Bible. There was Hannah, mother of Samuel. She, like several other women, suffered long years of barrenness. Hannah never gave up on God. After Samuel was born God gave her five more children. There was Bathsheba, the wife of David. Even though much sin was committed God gave her Solomon as a son and from David’s lineage would come our Savior.

What is true of the Old Testament is equally true of the New Testament. The same high type of womanhood, the same reverence for one’s mother is evident in both Testaments. Elizabeth, another one of the Bible’s miracle mothers, gave birth to John the Baptist. John was the forerunner of our Savior.

The birth of Christ lifted motherhood to the highest possible plane and idealized it for all time. The last thing Jesus did on the cross was to bestow His mother on John, the beloved, as his special inheritance. Like all the rest, Mary was just a woman ready to do God’s will. She was the youngest of all and she was impregnated by the Holy Spirit to give birth to Jesus. Just like all the others, she was not perfect as some teach; but she was conceived in sin just like you and I. She was highly favored among women, not above women.

What woman is today, what she is in particular in her motherhood, she owes wholly to the position which the Scriptures have placed her. Every mother today should search the Scriptures for examples of motherhood. My prayer is that each of you will remember your Mother with love and compassion. GOD BLESS MOTHERS!

Why mothers would make good politicians could put them all in quarantine until the danger is over. (I’ll let them know when it is over. Honest. Cross my fingers and hope to vote.)

But getting back to my subject, I believe mothers would make wonderful politicians for several reasons. Mothers, generally speaking, know how to ask questions.

"Have you washed behind your ears?"

"What time are you getting back?"

"Do you have clean underwear?"

"If all your friends jumped off a bridge would you?"

It is one thing to ask a question, but it is another thing altogether to ask the right question. I firmly believe asking questions is a highly refined art. Politicians, for example, ask questions they think people are asking. Before they query any audience, they take 197 polls to make sure they have the right question so they are not embarrassed.

Mothers, on the other hand, ask questions to embarrass you and put you back on the straight and narrow.

Politicians rarely expect answers to their questions. They are all rhetorical. They ask questions in such a way that nobody in their right mind could ever answer it. Quite frankly, if they ever got an answer to a question they would be so shocked they would not know what to do about it.

Mothers expect an answer to their questions immediately...without delay.

Question a politician, you get the runaround. Question your mother and she will chase you around. It would be more beneficial to be chased around by your mother than to have some politician give you the runaround.

Another reason mothers would make good politicians is that they never stop until the work is finished. Everybody has heard the old saying, "A man works from sun up to sun down, but a woman’s work is never done." At the end of the day, every mother has something to show for her work.

It would be beneficial for our country if every politician were apprenticed to a mother with four or five kids. Let him follow her around for a week, if he can last a week, and he will get some idea of what working is all about.

Let some politician clean up after four or five kids for a week and experience what real work is all about. Perhaps, if he has to clean up messes of other people’s making he might think twice before he makes a mess himself. The only work a politician really does, is working his mouth, which rarely accomplishes anything useful.

By her very nature, a mother is always thinking about others. Rarely does she take any time for her own personal pursuits. Other people come before her interest and comfort. Wouldn’t that be a wonderful trait in some politician?

Instead of always thinking about reelection and what can get him re-elected, he begins to think about other people and their needs.

Instead of putting his political career ahead of everything else, he would sacrifice himself to benefit other people, to help clean up the messes around him.

Although it may seem like a good idea, we cannot afford to send mothers to Washington and neglect the important work she has at home. Nehemiah said it so well, "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease, whilst I leave it, and come down to you?" (Nehemiah 6:3).

God knew exactly what he was doing when he put together a marvelous creature we now know as Mother.

Florida Municipal Insurance Trust sponsors Disaster Preparedness Symposium

The Florida Municipal Insurance Trust (FMIT) held its Disaster Preparedness Symposium on Thursday, May 8, at the City of Sunrise’s Civic Center Auditorium. FMIT, administered by the Florida League of Cities, Inc. (FLC), and governed by elected officials, is a non-assessable, not-for-profit, tax exempt local government risk-sharing pool. The symposium was free to FLC members. Attending the symposium from White Springs was Mayor Helen Miller, who also serves on the board of the Suwannee River League of Cities.

The disaster preparedness symposium came at an opportune time due to recent heavy rainfall in White Springs and throughout the southeastern U.S.

“Recent rain events have affected many residents who found their property under water,” said Miller. “In addition, our eco-tourism businesses have been affected. The water management district closed the boat ramp due to the dangerous levels of the Suwannee River and local businesses have suffered lost revenue,” she added.

FMIT is highly respected for its superior financial stability, presently highlighted by more than $410 million in assets and $225 million in surplus, and has produced unparalleled claims-paying ability and equity returns for its membership. The program is more than 30 years old, and is the oldest and largest insurance pool serving the public sector in Florida.

The Disaster Preparedness Symposium focused on the basic tenets of planning, preparedness and recovery. The informative meeting introduced FLC members to new tools and methodologies, which included:

- How to quality for up-front recovery costs on insurance claims through FMIT’s TurnKey Recovery Program.
- Free programs to maximize FEMA PA Funding and minimize PW de-obligations.
- Activating municipal online simplicity accounts to review property schedules, critical assets and claims.

- FMIT 24/7 Loss Reporting Hotline at 855-FLC-LOSS.
- Sign up for FLC-PACT (Public Assistance Close-Out Team) for addressing FEMA closeout issues.
- How to qualify for free FMIT safety grants.
- Receive live FMIT-alerts and critical Ride-Out Team information.
- Access mobile applications to support Rapid Damage Assessment.
- New solutions for reporting losses quickly and effectively.
- Participate in lessons learned with industry experts.

James Lee Witt, former director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), keynoted the symposium. Mr. Witt was appointed by President Clinton and unanimously confirmed by the U.S. Senate as Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency in April 1993. In February 1996, President Clinton elevated Mr. Witt to cabinet status, a first for a FEMA Director.

As FEMA director, Mr. Witt coordinated federal disaster relief on behalf of Pres. Clinton. In just a short time, he transformed FEMA from a failing agency to what was widely recognized as the most successful agency in the government. He accomplished the turnaround by putting performance and people ahead of politics. Mr. Witt is the author of the book entitled, “Stronger in the Broken Places”.

FMIT sponsors the annual disaster preparedness symposium to address the need for cities to be better prepared and understand the financial responsibility that results from large-scale disasters. In addition to Mr. Witt, the speakers included representatives from the Florida Division of Emergency Management (FDEM), Florida Municipal Insurance Trust, Synergy Recovery of Florida, and other subject matter experts.

Mr. Witt’s advice to Miller was to remain resolute when working with FEMA and FDEM after a disaster. If infrastructure that was destroyed needs to be upgraded, community leaders must insist on the upgrades and remediation, otherwise there are no lessons learned and the community remains vulnerable.

In addition to recent flooding, Miller recounted the massive rainfall that White Springs endured as a result of Tropical Storm Debby in 2012, the third highest flooding seen by the historic town. Water raged through White Springs, destroying three bridges. Efforts to upgrade and remediate the Jewett Street bridge took 18 months.

“We simply would not accept the same solution that had failed the town at least twice before,” Miller said. “We insisted on upgrades, we insisted on remediation for Jewett. We are hopeful that the negotiated solution will withstand the next water challenge.”

Commissioner Randy Ogburn admires the cypress-backed signs donated to White Springs Library in memory of his grandson Tony Ogburn.

White Springs Library was the beneficiary of a memorial gift recently. D&S Signs of Jasper donated collection signs in loving memory of Tony “LT” Ogburn. Tony was the grandson of Commissioner Randy Ogburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Ogburn were on hand to receive the gift, along with several other family members.

D&S Signs owner Denise Hughes and her associate Joy Howell related that Tony was passionate about having a new library in White Springs, and although he did not live to see the finished project, his presence would always be felt. Each sign has a memory plaque, so generations of library patrons will remember him.

Both Commissioner Ogburn and Regional Library Director Betty Lawrence spoke in appreciation for the generous bequest and the group set about installing the signs. White Springs Library was a project sponsored by Hamilton County, PotashCorp, and the Camp Family and serves the southern part of Hamilton County. The new building has been open for a year.

Senator Montford supports Floridians with votes in the Senate

Senator Bill Montford

TALLAHASSEE The 2014 Legislative Session was productive and meaningful for the State of Florida. Senator Bill Montford (D-Tallahassee) was an active part in passing many bills that will help the hard-working communities of North Florida. Montford maintained strong advocacy for the needs of his eleven counties; Calhoun, Franklin, Gadsden, Gulf, Hamilton, Jefferson, Leon, Liberty, Madison, Taylor and Wakulla.

When asked about the 2014 Session Montford said, “The country can easily look to Florida as an example of how common-sense and principled answers can be found on both sides of the aisle, and quite frankly, in the middle of the aisle. We have and will continue to work together, Senate and House, Democrat and Republican to do what is best for Florida.”

In the 2014 Session, Montford helped to shape the following legislative decisions:

Springs Protection: Montford co-sponsored legislation with four other Senators in a bipartisan effort that became known as the “Springs Bill”. It addressed the many water issues that the state of Florida is facing. While the bill passed the Senate, it did not make it out of the House. “We started very important and dire conversations about the state of our invaluable and irreplaceable springs in Florida and we have every intention of continuing them next year,” said Montford.

Maintaining the Florida Retirement System

and State Employee Health Insurance:

Montford is well known in the Senate as an advocate and voice for state workers, and as such, he helped to maintain the current, sturdy Florida Retirement System that faced many challenges throughout the 2014 Session. He was also instrumental in defending the well-managed health insurance policies for state workers.

Preservation of the Instructional Materials Process: Montford was pivotal in the preservation of the statewide instructional materials process, which will not only maintain cost savings for local school districts, but also give parents more opportunity for input in their child’s learning materials.

Effective Timeline for School Accountability: As a long time educator, Montford advocated for a realistic timeline to ensure the proper implementation of the many facets in the Public School Accountability program including technology and testing.

Local Pharmacy Choice: Communities will now be able to choose their local pharmacies or mail-order when ordering prescriptions on the State Group Insurance PPO (Preferred Provider Organization).

Tax Cuts: The Florida Legislature came together this year to offer many hard working Floridians much needed tax cuts totaling $500 million. It included reduced annual motor vehicle license renewal registration fee. This alone will save drivers between $20 and $25 each.

Rural Areas of Critical Economic Concern (RACEC): The Legislature passed legislation to help cities in RACEC communities avert the cost of removing or relocating utility lines on the State Highway System in certain circumstances, by allowing FDOT to pay for such costs. In addition, the legislation will allow municipalities within a RACEC or a RACEC community to compete for project funding using Small County Outreach Program (SCOP) criteria.

Flood Insurance Legislation: Legislation was also passed to establish a private flood insurance market in Florida, which will hopefully lower flood insurance rates for Florida Citizens. The proposal is aimed at addressing the federal flood insurance crisis caused by the rising rates being imposed by the National Flood Insurance Program.

Budget Items: In recognition of the importance of acting this year on Florida’s springs, the legislature funded $25 million for spring’s restoration plus another $1.7 million for springs monitoring.

The legislature recognized the importance of improved learning environments for children and funded $14 million dollars for public school construction in Montford’s district.

The Senate and the House agreed on $6,937.23 per student, public school funding which is $176 more dollars per student than last year, and totals $18.9 billion toward public schools.

Local Items: Montford also worked tirelessly to ensure that Hamilton County was awarded the following allocations:

FDOT Road Projects Total:

Lighting Agreements Hamilton County: $27,145

cayne Park, Fla., was speeding northbound on I-75 near mile marker 462 in Jennings, clocked at over 80 mph, and was pulled over by FHP. The vehicle was a rental car with a Kentucky license plate.

Upon approaching the vehicle, the trooper detected an overwhelming odor of raw cannabis. Aime denied having any marijuana in his possession, but later told the trooper he had smoked some earlier but had no more. The trooper called for backup and officers from FHP, Jennings Police Department and Hamilton County Sheriff’s Office arrived on scene, reports show.

A subsequent search of the vehicle revealed 13.5 grams of marijuana that included a joint (blunt) in a cigar box inside the car and a baggie full of marijuana buds inside the gas compartment of the vehicle, FHP said.

Reports further state that during a search of the vehicle’s trunk, officers found two laptop computers, three phones, 34 counterfeit credit cards, and reams of paperwork, including documents from Lab-Corp with names, dates of birth and Social Security numbers. All totaled, there were 296 names with corresponding dates of birth and Social Security numbers.

Aime was transported to the Hamilton County Jail and is being held with no bond on charges of drug and drug paraphernalia possession, and 330 felony charges of identity fraud. The investigation is ongoing and will be extensive, according to FHP.

Flooding causes dirt road issues throughout county worked on and it’s been about three weeks since the grader has come down our roads,” said Squires. “When they do grade the roads, they’ll cut a ditch on one side and the road is pitched away from that ditch, so when the water collects on one side, it will obviously wash across the road into the little ditch that they put down on the side of the road. Common sense says you can’t do that.”

Squires said when a ditch is cut, the dirt needs to be rolled up onto the road. He also said if a crown isn’t put on the road, all the ditch cutting is worthless.

“That water will sit in puddles on the roads, people drive down it, it softens up and splashes it out, and you get ruts,” Squires continued.

Squires said he has run heavy equipment all his life, including road graders, and he explained the proper way to grade a dirt road. Again, he said he has called the road department at least five times over the last few weeks and nobody called him back and no graders showed up. After speaking to one of the graders a while back, Squires said he learned that after they roll the dirt up onto the road and cut the top off, they roll it back off the road. When asked why they do it that way, the grader said because there is usually trash on the roads, so they scoop it up, along with any debris or tree limbs and push it off to the side of the road so that people don’t have to drive over it.

Squires said whenever he comes upon any trash or debris along the roads he stops and throws it off to the side or puts it in the back of his pickup.

“Since we moved here, my wife used to drive the mini van,” Squires said. “She loved it. Well, she got stuck three times on the road, so we ended up selling that and buying her a four-wheel drive pickup truck.”

Whenever it rains, Squires said he can’t use his two-wheel drive vehicle because he’ll get stuck.

“I only live a mile from the main road,” he said. “What do these people do who live four and five miles down these dirt roads?”

Squires said he was told by someone at the road department that one of the graders was broken down and another one was put out of commission. The commissioners said that wasn’t true.

Smith said the reason there has been a delay in road grading is because of recent flooding. About 20 roads in the county, he said, are flooded and people don’t have access to their homes.

“Right now, we are focusing a lot on getting people to where they can drive to their homes,” said Smith.

He also explained that at the last board meeting the commissioners expressed their concern to the road department about the lack of crowns in the roads.

“The direction from this board was to install a crown in the road, and to get the trash out of the roads,” said Smith.

Since that meeting, Smith said the county, according to where one lives, received from 8-14 inches of rain.

“We’ve taken a lot of water,” Smith said. “When the rivers come out of the banks, a lot of roads wash out. There’s people right now, they’ll paddle for thirty yards, then they’ll get on a four-wheeler and they’ll drive half a mile, and then they’ll paddle some more and get in their truck and go home. There’s no way to control it because the river is out of its bank. We’re working heavily in those areas right now.”

Smith said he understood how difficult it must be for a man, his wife and kids, to have to tote bags of groceries in a jon boat to their home.

Commissioner Beth Burnam interjected there are a lot of “priority” roads that need grading right now, but the “emergencies” have been overwhelming with all the flooding issues.

Squires also mentioned that some of the graders aren’t being used to full capacity because he sees them going down dirt roads to a specific destination and not grading the road as they go, and then parking the grader at the end of the work day and sitting for 30 minutes to months,” said Jones. “July 5th is my last day. We may learn to eat sardines and saltines, which thank goodness I like them, and red beans and rice, but it’s just time,” she added. “My mom’s 87 and I need to move on to another phase.”

Jones said she has also been dealing with asthma issues from being around so many books for so many years.

Jones said she thought it would be a good idea to give her boss, Betty Lawrence, early notification of her retirement, so that she would have more time to find a replacement for her. She then explained the complicated process of paperwork and signatures needed that her resignation letter would have to go through before everything can be finalized.

Once she retires, Jones said, “I’ll be able to do things that I haven’t been able to do in a long time like clean my house, and I have a craft room that I never get to anymore.”

Jones and her husband Mike have two children and five grandchildren. Jones said her husband told her he wants her to take the first month of her retirement and do absolutely nothing.

In case you weren’t aware, Mike Jones can be heard on local radio doing commercials for Bruce Glueck Chevrolet on the corner of US 129 and Hatley St. in Jasper.

“He’ll be 66 on Feb. 6, and we both graduated June 6, 1966,” Jones said. “Then I’ll be 66 in March. All these sixes,” she added, laughing.

people have gotten involved and we’ve always had it at the old Carver site. So we posed a letter (now) asking permission to use the facility.”

Vice Mayor Walter McKenzie asked for clarification from Town Manager Bob Farley about the liability insurance. Farley said because the event is being held on town property, it would be covered under the town’s insurance policy.

“I’m glad we’re doing this,” said McKenzie. “This is an important event, a community event that’s gone on ever since I came here. My wife Merri took me out the first time and I’ve been back many times since and I’ve always enjoyed it.”

McKenzie said maybe the event got a little too popular in the last couple of years.

“I don’t think that has anything to do with the May Day event,” said McKenzie. “I think that has to do with young folks wanting to get out and have a good time and just going a little bit overboard, and we’re taking steps to deal with that.”

NFCC students honored for outstanding leadership

MADISON, FL – North Florida Community College recognized students from various clubs and organizations for outstanding student achievement and leadership outside of the classroom during the college’s 2014 Student Leadership Awards Ceremony held in April. Students were honored based on their participation and leadership within NFCC clubs and organizations for the 2013-2014 academic year. Awards for Member of the Year, Unsung Hero, Outstanding Community Service by an Organization, Organization Advisor of the Year and All-Florida Academic Team were given.

NFCC Save Our Animal Resources (S.O.A.R.) ecology club was recognized as the Outstanding Community Service Organization. Mary Anne Wheeler, Dean of Enrollment Services at NFCC, applauded S.O.A.R. for a long-standing tradition of outstanding service to the NFCC campus and local community. More specifically the club was recognized for its annual “capture, tag and release” of Monarch butterflies at the St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge to help track migration patterns of these amazing insects. NFCC student Samantha Crumly was named S.O.A.R.’s Member of the Year, receiving praise from S.O.A.R. advisor Bonnie Littlefield for her creativity and dedication, and was honored with the college’s Unsung Hero Award for her tireless work behind the scenes.

Denise Bell, NFCC Student Services Coordinator and Student Government Association Advisor, was honored as the Organization Advisor of the Year. SGA officers Julia Morgan, Jonathan Bolick and Jonathan Cooks presented Bell with her award and described Bell as “a caring individual who has gone above and beyond her duties as an advisor.” The students thanked Bell for the tremendous amount of work and dedication she has given to help students succeed and for her outstanding generosity. NFCC student Rene Perez was named Member of the Year for both the NFCC Astronomy Club and the new NFCC Gaming and Technology Club. Perez was instrumental in forming the Gaming and Technology Club and was applauded for his leadership in both student organizations.

NFCC student Thuy Tran received the Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) Member of the Year Award and was also honored for being a member of the All-Florida Academic Team. She was applauded for outstanding academic achievement, leadership and community service.

NFCC student Bethany Dawkins received the Sentinel Service Corp Member of the Year Award. As a high school dual enrollment student, Dawkins was recognized for having perfect attendance at the Sentinel Service Corp meetings and for contributing over 50 volunteer hours this past semester. According the Kim Halfhill, NFCC Director of Recruitment and Student Development, NFCC Sentinel Service Corp members collectively has completed over 225 hours of service to the NFCC campus and community this semester alone.

NFCC student Johnathan Cooks received the Student Government Association (SGA) Member of the Year Award. Cooks was voted as the Member of the Year by his fellow SGA members for going above and beyond and bringing members together for a variety of worthy causes.

NFCC student Mandy Holley received the Sentinel Upstage Players Member of the Year Award. Holley was recognized for portraying a variety of roles in NFCC community theatre productions – Alice in “Alice @ Wonderland”, Dorothy in “The Wizard of Oz”, Annabelle in “The Little Mermaid” and Hayden in “Good People” – and for making her characters “truly memorable.”

Students were also recognized for their participation in NFCC clubs and organizations for the 2013-2014 academic year.

Golf tourney raised over $5K to help those with disabilities

Golfers are a diehard breed and The Arc North Florida is grateful for this passion. The 4th Annual Benefit Golf Tournament May 2 was looking wet and cold, the Arc staff worried that the attendance would be lacking. To their surprise and excitement 80 golfers showed up with their umbrellas and rain gear at The Country Club at Lake City.

“We couldn’t afford to let a storm put a damper on the tournament since it’s an important event that helps us raise awareness of the needs of people with developmental and intellectual disabilities in the North Florida area,” said Bobbie Lake, the agency’s executive director.

Attracting some of the area’s best golfers, this year’s tournament also got the attention of some of The Arc’s clients and staff members who came to the course just to have fun on the putting green.

“For our clients, hitting the ball for the first time was the highlight of their day because every time they took a swing, they were greeted by rousing applause.” Lake said.

The Arc is a local agency that has provided services to adults with disabilities living in the North Florida area since 1981. This year’s title sponsor, Poole Realty, was joined by corporate sponsors, Potash Corporation, Mac-clenny’s Wal-Mart Distribution and Lake City’s Timco, along with 65 other area businesses, to help The Arc raise over $5,000.

This year’s prizes went to the top three gross and net teams. The players with the longest drive, closest to the hole and closest to the line also received golf gifts. One lucky winner rode home with a new recliner from the Gibson McDonald store in Macclenny. Regretfully, no one made the hole-in-one needed to win a new Silverado truck offered by Wes Haney Chevrolet but each player was awarded a gift card for $100 shopping spree for their efforts.

The Arc’s event coordinator, Janet Sampson, wrapped up the day by saying “Our sponsors and the players are the real heroes today. We know they had a great time because they’re already asking me when we’re doing our next event.”

For more information about The Arc North Florida tournament, see photos of the event, golfers and sponsors, you can go to the website at www.arcnfl.com, follow them on Facebook or contact Janet Sampson at 386-362-7143 Extension 5.

This past weekend, my brother, our life long friend Kerry Waldron and I took a trip down to Plant City, best known for being the home of the famous Strawberry Festival; the Strawberry Capital of Florida. There, as guests of the East Hillsborough Historical Society, which is housed in the 100-year-old former Plant City High School, we sang in a program created by the Historical Society called the Cracker Opry. We had a great time!

The hosts for the event were very friendly and the building was fantastic. I've always loved old buildings and was delighted this piece of Florida history had been lovingly preserved by local citizens. So much of the musical talent was simply fantastic. A great surprise for the evening.

We were joined by Jim Stafford, who was a famous performer and recording star a number of years ago, and had a hit record with, "I Don't Like Spiders and Snakes", and a record called "Hattie's Shack". He is a friend of Frank Thomas, the Dean of Florida Folk Music, who, along with his wife Lisa, performed that evening.

Jim Stafford now lives in Winter Haven. Frank and Lisa live in Lake Wales. Jim Stafford will be part of the outstanding musical talent performing this year, May 23-25, at the 62nd Annual Florida Folk Festival.

As I thought about the Florida Folk Festival, I thought about how outstanding and phenomenal that Florida has the "oldest" anything. We are, in comparison with most of the states in the Deep South, a fairly "young chick". The state of Georgia, just to the north of us, was one of the 13 original colonies. Florida did not even become a state until 1845, and yet, we have the oldest state sponsored Folk Festival in the entire United States. Fantastic!

As I thought about the Folk Festival, I thought of some of my own musings - not necessarily all historically accurate, regarding the Florida Folk Festival - and most of my musings regard individuals and personalities, who for many years were involved in the formation of the Florida Folk Festival.

Cousin Thelma Boltin (Born 1904-died 1992), was for many years the central personality of the Florida Folk Festival. For over 30 years, she served as the Mistress of Ceremonies for the event. She gave the "yay" or "nay" for talent brought on the stage and she made the decisions as to how long or who would be a part of the Florida Folk Festival.

A graduate of Emerson College, Boston, Mass., and Florida's first certified speech teacher, Miss Boltin first came to the Florida Folk Festival as a performer. Her talents were recognized, not only as a performer, but also as an organizer, as she had organized much of Gainesville's recreational programs during the Second World War and helped to establish the Gainesville Little Theater. She was the perfect fit for the position she held at the Folk Festival. Not only did she emcee the program, she went out to the local schools and told stories and promoted the Festival in any way she could. She was a treasure. Nobody since has ever replaced her "larger than life" persona. Even though the Folk Festival is still a wonderful event, when she gave up the job as the central figure of the Folk Festival, it lost something, and that something has never been replaced. It never will. As stated, there was only one Cousin Thelma Boltin.

In 1994, the Florida Legislature named the Craft and Gift Shop at the park in memory of the late Cousin Thelma Boltin. It is named "Cousin Thelma Boltin's Craft and Gift Shop."

Barbara Beauchamp, the late Barbara Waldron Beauchamp, who was, she would always say, "A White Springs girl" who got a job at the then Stephen Foster Memorial and became the secretary and "right hand" to Cousin Thelma Boltin.

Cousin Thelma was out front directing the show, but everyone involved with the Florida Folk Festival knew who the organizational mind behind the Festival truly was. It was the late Barbara Beauchamp. She kept the "show on the road", and everything running smoothly. She made it all seem effortless. It wasn't.

She spent hours and hours and hours, and days and days and days, calling, writing, cajoling, petting, humoring, and once in a while, shaking some sense into individuals who, because of super egos or other "lapses", had lost some of their good sense. Barbara did all this behind the scenes and truly never wanted any credit for it. Just as there was only one Cousin Thelma Boltin, there was only one Barbara Beauchamp. It was more than a job to her. She saw the Festival as her own and its success was her success. The joy of those performing was her joy.

Barbara Beauchamp was a good friend and I still miss her, far more than I can ever say. She was the great foundation, in my opinion, of what held the Festival together for years.

The late Lillian Shipp Saunders; a southern lady to the core, who wore big beautiful hats, white gloves, lovely tailored dresses and suits. Always beautifully groomed and coiffed to the "nth" degree.

One of the most beautiful, mellifluous Southern accents ever. There were no "r's" when she spoke; "Mothuh", "Fathuh", "Rivuh", "Togethuh". When she spoke, you could smell the fragrance of magnolias and hear the strains of "Old Folks at Home".

There was power behind that voice, though, and she was, in a day when women did not go into politics or take an active role in the day to day life of an organization, an enigma.

Mrs. Saunders was elected to the Hamilton County School Board during the mid 1930's, and she held the position for over 20 years. She was a member of the Stephen Foster Memorial Commission from its inception until it was disbanded over 30 years later. She was a powerful member of the Florida Federation of Music Clubs which was the organization that established the Florida Folk Festival. She went everywhere, knocked on every political door, and did all she could to promote the Florida Folk Festival, the Stephen Foster Memorial, now Stephen Foster Folk Culture Center State Park. She was a mover and shaker. I was instrumental in having the legislature name the main drive going into the park in her memory in 1994. She deserved it. She blazed trails long before it was popular for women in this part of the world to do so, and she did it with grace and dignity, but she did it with strength, focus and dedication.

The late Aunt Nancy Fouraker Morgan was one of the first recipients of the prestigious Florida Folk Heritage Award. Born in the "pocket" near Tom's Creek, just above the Georgia line. Aunt Nancy moved to the farm near White Springs during the late 1930's where she and her husband, the late Ray Morgan, raised their children, the late Hilward Morgan, Mildred Morgan Miller, White Springs, and Linda Beth Waldron.

Aunt Nancy knew how to make the most of what the land provided. She was a great cook, an expert quilter, and made famous, corn cob jelly at the very first Florida Folk Festival in 1953. She wrote a great cookbook that is still available in Cousin Thelma Boltin's Gift Shop at the Stephen Foster. In addition, she wrote an autobiography entitled, "Out of the Pocket". One of Aunt Nancy's grandsons, Kerry Waldron, sings with my brother Jerry Lawrence and me each year on the stage of the Florida Folk Festival in our group, Bullard Brothers and Friends. Kerry is presently the city manager for Live Oak.

Merri McKenzie came to White Springs as an "Artist in Residence" during the early 1970's. The grant came about as a result of efforts by the late Mrs. W.A. Saunders Sr. (Lillian). The grant funds brought Merri to White Springs where she lived and had a studio in the old Delegal Filling Station, which most recently served as the White Springs Public Library.

Merri taught weaving and textile arts to many citizens in the area, but much more than that, she immersed herself in the life of the citizens of the Upper Suwannee and embraced the folkways and the traditions of the community which is "her" community. Merri reached out with love, compassion and friendliness, and her studio soon became a hub of exchanging ideas, knowledge and artistic knowledge. Later, she went to work for the Florida Folklife Program, which was housed in White Springs, and did an outstanding job as a folklorist and folk artist. Later still, she worked for the Suwannee County School System and taught culinary arts, as she is an outstanding culinary artist.

Merri has been and still is very much a part of the fabric of the Florida Folk Festival and its perpetuation in White Springs.

Mae Frances Marshall. For as long as I can recall, Sister Mae Frances Marshall's outstanding voice has thrilled audience members at the annual Florida Folk Festival with her soulful and wonderful renditions of traditional African American spirituals and gospel. Born and raised in White Springs, Sister Mae Frances Marshall has one of those special voices truly anointed by God. If you hear her sing and it doesn't do something for you, you have a "thumping gizzard" instead of a heart. I can recall her going to great lengths getting children together to sing on the stage of the Florida Folk Festival, and she always did it with a smile and a sweet spirit. Sister Mae Frances Marshall is, indeed, the Gospel Singer of White Springs. She is part of the rich fabric of our community and adds that richness to the annual Florida Folk Festival.

Delores Marable Howell, outstanding and wonderful, longtime retired educator at South Hamilton Elementary School in White Springs. Mrs. Howell directed and organized students from South Hamilton Elementary for over two decades in bringing top quality performances to the stage of the Florida Folk Festival.

Singing, hand-clapping games, jump roping and jump rope rhymes, and dancing, Mrs. Howell's students from South Hamilton in their performances perpetuated part of the rich culture that "is" the Suwannee River Valley. She was the "master" at bringing these performances to fruition, and they went off without a "hitch".

Weeks and weeks and weeks of practice made these performances seem as if they were seamless. I know how hard she worked and I will never forget her efforts. Neither will her students. I appreciated and still appreciate the efforts of Delores Howell Marable.

Before I close, I must add two names to those who have perpetuated folk and traditional music here at the Folk Festival. My brother, Jerry Lawrence Bullard, and our life long friend, Kerry Waldron. They started singing at the Festival under the watchful and critical eye of the late Cousin Thelma Boltin in the late 1960's, and they've been singing since, separately and together, but always, always singing, as well as writing beautiful Florida songs and singing traditional gospel. Two White Springs natives who have been "treading the boards" so to speak at the Florida Folk Festival for over four decades. I sing with them, but THEY are the artists. It is a privilege for me just to be a part of the group.

In addition, they volunteer in many capacities through the Stephen Foster CSO and make contributions too numerous to mention to the ongoing programming at the park and its programs.

Well, my musings have come to a close. A great trip down memory lane. A great festival planned for Memorial Day Weekend, May 23-25, at Stephen Foster Folk Culture Center State Park in White Springs, the 62nd Annual Florida Folk Festival. Come join us. You will be glad you did.

From the Eight Mile Still on the Woodpecker Route north of White Springs, wishing you a day filled with joy, peace, and above all, lots of love and laughter.

From fishing clinics to license-free fishing days, FWC offers plenty of ways to get fishing

By Amanda Nalley

Summer is approaching and as the weather warms and school lets out, it’s the perfect time to take up a new hobby. Need an excuse to get your line wet? The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) offers plenty of opportunities, including License-Free Fishing Days, Kids’ and Women’s Fishing Clinics and Ladies, Let’s Go Fishing! events. Participating in one of these events is a great way to get involved in the lifetime sport of fishing.

Are you a do-it-yourselfer? Maybe you have friends or children who are always asking you to take them out and show them some things. The FWC offers eight license-free fishing days a year: four saltwater and four freshwater. License-free fishing days are a great way to try your hand at fishing without needing a recreational fishing license. Many also use these days as an opportunity to introduce a friend or a child to fishing (children under 16 are not required to have a license). June is a great month to participate because there are both saltwater (June 7-8) and freshwater (June 14-15) license-free fishing days. Miss those? Sept. 6 and Nov. 29 are also saltwater license-free fishing days.

Want to fish but feel like you need a little instruction? In May, June and July, the FWC is hosting several Kids’ and Women’s Saltwater Fishing Clinics and will be participating in a Ladies, Let’s Go Fishing! event. These events are held in various locations throughout the state and help introduce women and children to saltwater fishing. Learn how to be an ethical angler while gaining necessary angling and safety skills by attending one of these events that are sponsored in part by Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration funds.

Don’t forget to record all of your catches on the iAngler phone app or at snookfoundation.org. Share your photos, stories and comments with us at Saltwater@MyFWC.com or visit our Ethical Angler page by going to MyFWC.com/Fishing and selecting “Saltwater” then “Ethical Angler

“Gone Coastal” is one of many ways that the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) Division of Marine Fisheries Management is helping recreational anglers understand complex saltwater regulations and learn more about saltwater fishing opportunities and issues in Florida. We are also available to answer questions by phone or email anytime, and we would love the opportunity to share information through in-person presentations with recreational or commercial fishing organizations. To contact the FWC’s Regulatory Outreach subsection, call 850-487-0554 or email Saltwater@MyFWC.com.

Learn more about how you can participate in one of these upcoming events by visiting

MyFWC.com/Calendar. Events include:

May 10: Women’s Fishing Clinic – Fernandina Beach

May 16-18: Ladies, Let’s Go Fishing! – Treasure Coast

May 31: Kids’ Fishing Clinic – Fernandina Beach

June 7: Women’s Fishing Clinic – St. Petersburg (which is also a saltwater license-free fishing day)

June 28: Kids’ Fishing Clinic – Cape Canaveral

July 19: Kids’ Fishing Clinic – Palm Coast

Older Americans benefit from My Social Security

By Michael W. Grochowski
Social Security Regional Commissioner
in Atlanta

Each May, groups and organizations around the nation join in celebrating Older Americans Month. Established in 1963, Older Americans Month provides an opportunity for our nation to recognize seniors for their many contributions and share important information to help them stay healthy and active. This year's theme is "Safe Today, Healthy Tomorrow." Social Security has something to help keep you safe and healthy: a suite of online services. Rather than driving or taking public transportation to a local office, you can use our secure, free online services to handle much of your Social Security business. With the amount of time you save, you'll have more time to spend with the grandkids or have time for a brisk walk around the neighborhood or local park. Before going for that walk, though, visit www.socialsecurity.gov. Whether you already receive benefits or you're just starting to think about retirement, it's a great time to open a my Social Security account. What's my Social Security? It's a secure online account that allows you immediate access to your personal Social Security information. During your working years, you can use my Social Security to view your Social Security Statement to check your earnings record and see estimates of the future retirement, disability and survivor benefits you and your family may receive. Check it out at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount. After you check your online Social Security Statement, be sure to visit our Retirement Estimator. Like a my Social Security account, you can use it as many times as you'd like. The Estimator lets you change variables, such as retirement date options and future earnings. You may discover that you'd rather wait another year or two before you retire to earn a higher benefit. To get instant, personalized estimates of your future benefits just go to www.socialsecurity.gov/estimator. Deciding when to retire is a personal choice and depends on a number of factors. To help, we suggest you read our online fact sheet, When To Start Receiving Retirement Benefits, available at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs. If you're ready to retire, the online service you've been waiting for is our online application for retirement benefits, which allows you to complete and submit your application in as little as 15 minutes at www.socialsecurity.gov/retireonline. Once you complete and submit the electronic application, in most cases, that's it—no papers to sign or documents to provide. Are you already receiving benefits? You can use my Social Security to immediately get your proof of benefits letter, change your address or phone number on our records, start or change your direct deposit information and check your benefit and payment information. We encourage you to take advantage of our online services and resources, freeing up more time for activities you really enjoy. Learn more at www.socialsecurity.gov.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

Annual heartworm check-up keeps ‘spring’ in pets’ steps

Spring means many things to dogs and their owners. It's time for longer walks and the shared exhilaration of playing "fetch" on the lawn. Even muddy feet from spring rains can be a pleasure. For many pets and their owners, spring is also a time to visit the veterinarian for an annual heartworm check-up. Veterinarian and American Heartworm Society President Dr. Stephen Jones offers answers to common questions about this spring ritual. • My veterinarian is recommending a heartworm test, but my dog was just tested a year ago. Why does he need a test again so soon? Your dog should have an annual heartworm test to determine if he became infected during the previous season. It takes months before a dog with heartworm will test positive. So testing annually -- usually at the time the prescription for his heartworm medication is being renewed -- makes sense. As with many diseases, the earlier heartworm can be diagnosed, the better the chances he will recover. If heartworm disease in a dog goes undetected and untreated, the worms can cause progressive and potentially fatal damage to his arteries, heart and lungs. • If my dog is on continuous heartworm prevention, why does he need to be tested? Annual testing ensures his prevention program is working. Heartworm medications are highly effective, but dogs can still become infected. Why? A common reason is simple forgetfulness. Missing just one dose of a monthly medication, or administering it late, can leave a dog unprotected. Even if you do everything right and on time, it's no guarantee. Some dogs spit out their heartworm pills when their owners aren't looking. Dogs have also been known to vomit heartworm pills or rub off a topical medication. Whatever the cause of missing or delaying a dose, any of these mishaps can put your dog at risk of heartworm infection. • Do my cats need heartworm protection too? Like dogs, cats get heartworm disease. And while cats are not as easily infected as dogs, it only takes one or two heartworms to make a cat very sick. That's why the American Heartworm Society recommends year-round heartworm prevention for both dogs and cats. Because heartworm disease in cats may or may not involve infection with adult worms, the diagnosis can be challenging. Veterinarians typically run heartworm blood tests on cats before putting them on medication the first time, but later rely on such procedures as chest x-ray or ultrasound to confirm diagnoses. More information about heartworm disease and its prevention can be found at www.HeartwormSociety.org. Spring, summer, winter or fall -- your pets need year-round prevention to keep them healthy and free of deadly heartworms. Seeing your veterinarian for an annual heartworm check-up is one of the best moves you can make to keep the spring in your pet's step.

Tips for Managing Stress in Your Life

Stress is not only unpleasant; it can be overwhelming, ultimately preventing you from solving the problems that caused the stress in the first place.

But getting focused can help you feel happier and be more successful professionally, financially and in your relationships, say experts.

“Rather than living with fear or regret, you can turn your life’s most difficult challenges into the best thing that has ever happened to you,” says Master DDnard, self-help guru and author of the new book, “The Compass of Now,” a guide for taking control of one’s life, which is already a best-seller in Thailand.

The key to reducing harmful stress in your life is to incorporate meditation into your day, stresses DDnard. She offers these tips for getting started:

- Separate yourself from your feelings: Remember that your thoughts and feelings are impermanent, so try not to be consumed by your emotions. Freeing yourself from an internal negative loop can improve your mood and have a positive effect on your external circumstances.
- Give and share: Concentrate on giving and sharing your happiness. “When you do so, you’ll attract goodness, good people, and prosperity,” she says.
- Focus on possibilities: A good ratio is to spend five percent of your time thinking about a problem, and the other 95 percent of your time thinking about solutions. Avoid dwelling on limitations that hold you back.
- Appreciate: Each day, set aside time to put down your electronic devices and turn off the television. Meditation can help you appreciate the world around you -- the color of the sky, the smiles of your loved ones, the warmth of your family and friends.
- Be satisfied: You can “choose” to be happy regardless of your circumstances, says DDnard. So concentrate on what you have and it being “enough,” rather than on your desires that are unfulfilled. That way of thinking tends to be negative, and unhelpful toward setting and meeting goals.

More tips and advice for reducing stress can be found at www.CompassOfNow.com.

“In a society oversaturated with technology, we’ve lost our ability to focus,” says DDnard. “But being mindful and tapping into your intuitive center can help you reach your full potential.

Local host families needed for exchange students

Are you seeking a challenging, rewarding, unforgettable opportunity? ASSE is seeking local host families for boys and girls from Europe, Asia, the former Soviet Union and Canada. Students are 15 to 18 years of age and will be coming to the local area for the 2014-15 high school year. The students are sponsored by ASSE, a non-profit student exchange organization. These personable and academically selected exchange students are carefully interviewed and selected by their home countries and qualified by ASSE.

Students speak English and are anxious to learn about this country through living as part of a family. Attending high school, and sharing their own culture and language with their newly adopted host family. Host families may select the student of their choice from extensive student applications, family photos and biographical essays.

The students arrive from their home countries shortly before school begins and return at the end of the school year. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities.

Students are included in the normal family lifestyle and activities.

If you are interested in obtaining more information about becoming a host family, please contact: Joan Soderqvist at 352-382-4485. You can also visit us online at www.host.asse.com.

Putting an “I” into EYE CARE

FAMILY FEATURES

When going through your health checklists, you probably think about your blood pressure, weight and cholesterol levels. But what people often neglect is actually right in front of our eyes — our vision.

Properly caring for your eyes is important for preventing vision loss and blindness, as well as protecting your overall health. As with many other aspects of personal healthcare, routine exams and preventive measures go a long way to ensuring healthy vision and helping you see well for a lifetime.

The experts at the National Eye Institute recommend following these five steps to take care of your eyes and protect your vision.

Get a comprehensive dilated eye exam

You might think your vision is fine or that your eyes are healthy, but visiting your eye care professional for a comprehensive dilated eye exam is the only way to really be sure.

When it comes to common vision problems, some people don't realize they could see better with glasses or contact lenses. In addition, many common eye diseases, such as glaucoma, diabetic eye disease and age-related macular degeneration, often have no warning signs. A dilated eye exam is the only way to detect these diseases in their early stages.

During a comprehensive dilated eye exam, your eye care professional places drops in your eyes to dilate, or widen, the pupil to allow more light to enter the eye. This enables your eye care professional to get a good look at the back of the eyes and examine them for any signs of damage or disease.

Live a healthy lifestyle

Living an overall healthy life is good for your eyes. This includes:

- Maintaining a healthy weight
Being overweight or obese increases your risk of developing diabetes and other health problems that can lead to vision loss, such as diabetic eye disease or glaucoma.
- Eating healthy foods
You've heard carrots are good for your eyes, but eating a diet rich in other fruits and vegetables, particularly dark leafy greens, such as spinach, kale or collard greens, is important for keeping your eyes healthy, too. Research also has shown there are eye health benefits from eating fish high in omega-3 fatty acids, such as salmon, tuna and halibut.

- Not smoking
Smoking is as bad for your eyes as it is for the rest of your body. Research has linked smoking to an increased risk of developing age-related macular degeneration or cataract, both of which can lead to blindness.
- Managing chronic conditions
Many conditions, such as diabetes, hypertension, and multiple sclerosis, can greatly impact vision, resulting in inflammation of the optic nerve, diabetic retinopathy, glaucoma and even vision loss. Managing these conditions with the help of your health care provider can often prevent blindness.

Know your family history

Talk to your family members about their eye health history. It's important to know if anyone has been diagnosed with a disease or condition because many diseases tend to run in families. This will help to determine if you are at a higher risk for developing any of these problems yourself.

Use protective eyewear

Wear protective eyewear when playing sports or doing activities around the home. Protective eyewear includes safety glasses and goggles, safety shields and eye guards specially designed to provide the correct protection for a certain activity. Most protective eyewear lenses are made of polycarbonate, which is 10 times stronger than other plastics.

Wear sunglasses

Sunglasses are a great fashion accessory, but their most important function is to protect your eyes from the sun's ultraviolet rays. When purchasing sunglasses, look for options that block 99 to 100 percent of both UV-A and UV-B radiation.

You can find more information on these preventive measures and dozens of other vision-related topics at www.nei.nih.gov

Finding an Eye Care Professional

Finding a qualified eye care professional to help keep your eyes and vision in tip-top shape doesn't have to be overwhelming. Follow these tips from the National Eye Institute to find a doctor in your area:

- Ask family members and friends about the eye care professionals they use.
- Ask your family doctor for the name of a local eye care professional.
- Call the department of ophthalmology or optometry at a nearby hospital or university medical center.
- Contact a national, state or county association of ophthalmologists or optometrists. These groups, usually called academies or societies, may have lists of eye care professionals with specific information on their specialties and experience.
- Contact your insurance company or health plan to learn whether it has a list of eye care professionals who are covered under your plan.

An important part of good eye health is quality communication with your doctor. Remember to:

- Ask questions until you understand the information your doctor is giving you.
- Take notes, or get a friend or family member to take notes for you. Or, bring a tape recorder to assist in your recollection of the discussion.
- Ask your doctor to write down his or her instructions to you.
- Ask where you can go for more information.
- Other members of your health care team, such as nurses and pharmacists, can be good sources of information. Talk to them, too.

Meth lab busted in Jennings possession. All three were being held on $45,000 bond each, according to arrest reports.

HCSO had received an anonymous complaint about an active meth lab at the residence in the West Lake Farms subdivision. When deputies from the Drug Task Force arrived at the scene at 4:15 p.m., Green denied the allegation, but wouldn't allow a search of nearby burn piles without a warrant. Deputies left the scene, but later returned to the residence, along with the fire department, after dispatch received a call of a large brush fire at the same location, reports show.

Upon arrival at the scene, deputies observed a large amount of smoke behind the residence, close to the tree line. Visible in a large burn pile were large limbs and household garbage, along with a cooler. The Department of Forestry confirmed that no burn permit had been issued. Green's son, Matthew Vickers, told deputies he was the one who lit the fire without a permit, HCSO said.

Reports state that another pile containing suspected meth cooking equipment was burning near the back porch of the home. Deputies now had probable cause to detain all three residents, who were asked to have a seat on the back porch, along with a small child. A safety search of Vickers revealed a baggie in his pocket that contained a coffee filter and suspected meth that field tested positive.

Once the fire department doused the larger fire behind the home, items were identified in the pile as indicative of meth production. A search of the home revealed a strong chemical smell in the master bedroom, as well as various meth production items and meth residue.

EMS was summoned to the scene to begin decontamination of the home's occupants, after which they were transported to the Hamilton County Jail.

Hwy 247 Martin & Beach Band and Straight Shooters Band to play May 16 - 17 at The SOS Music Park

Nashville's Booie Beach, along with Artie Martin, have partnered to bring great music and will have the house rockin' Saturday night after Straight Shooters gets the weekend underway Friday night

Festival season is over and it's time for some good ole country music, dancing and having a great Friday and Saturday night out with your friends. The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park in Live Oak, Fla. will feature the Straight Shooters Band Friday, May 16 and Hwy 247 Martin & Beach Band Saturday, May 17, in the Music Hall for your dancing and listening enjoyment.

Saturday night, May 17, is a night not to miss when Hwy 247 Martin and Beach Band will be in the house shaking it up. Celebrated musicians Booie Beach and Artie Martin have joined together to create Hwy 247 Martin and Beach Band. Booie, a high school football legend from Branford, has played guitar and sung since he was 11. He's played everywhere from Ellie Ray's to the Grand Ole Opry, was part of a Grammy nominated group for the album Murder on Music Row, played with the Beachville Bluegrass (Florida and North Carolina champions), played the Grand Ole Opry more than 50 times, traveled to Europe twice, played in the Larry Stevenson Band and the group After Five. When Booie began having voice problems, he continued to play music, joining Larry Cordel's Lonesome Standard Time Band where he was featured on several albums on songs ranging from "Murder on Music Row," "Workbench" to "Lynyrd Skynyrd Time," played with the Marty Raybon Band and later back home the Mercy Mountain Boys and McKinley and Beggs. Now, you can enjoy his music right here at The SOSMP's Music Hall. Fellow band leader Artie Martin was born in upstate New York on an Indian Reservation, (Hogansburg) where he got his first taste for music during the British Invasion and developed a love of the Beatles. He moved to South Florida in 1978 where he started playing drums, which led to his playing at many clubs, biker events and with a rock/country band for many years. After semi-retirement and settling in Lake City, he decided to return to music and eventually found Booie. Don't miss this opportunity to hear this great band. Check them out at www.facebook.com/HYW247.

Opening the weekend and bursting on the Southern music scene Friday night, May 16, are the boys of Straight Shooters, Christon Birge and Troy Dampier from West Florida. With their natural camaraderie, versatile music talents and upbeat music, audiences get swept away by these boys from the South. These Florida natives are inspired by their Southern music roots, offering something for everyone, including an exciting blend of genres from country to rock and everything in between. Incorporating unique instruments is part of Straight Shooters' signature performance. Playing off the rich strum of the guitar and mandolin, audiences will hear the ring of a cowbell, the scrape of a washboard, the soulful echo of a harmonica and even kick drums which are hand crafted from vintage suitcases. The dynamic duo has performed on stages across the Southeast including the Slocomb Tomato Festival, Wausau Possum Festival and the World Famous Tootsie's Orchid Lounge stages in Nashville, Tenn., and Panama City Beach, Fla. to name just a few. The best part of performing for them is watching people escape from the everyday, kick off their shoes and dance like nobody's watching. Check them out at YouTube.com/850StraightShooters, Twitter @Str8Shooters850 or Facebook at www.facebook.com/pages/Straight-Shooters/559215344094865.

Doors to the Music Hall open at 6 p.m. for dinner with music starting at 8 p.m. each night. Free admission with delicious food and a full service bar available at regular price. Dancing is recommended so don't forget those dancing shoes.

If you would like make reservations for RV parking, cabins, primitive camping or camper parking for this weekend and need more information about The SOSMP, call 386-364-1683, email spirit@musicliveshere.com or go to www.musicliveshere.com. The Spirit of the Suwannee Music Park is located at 3076 95th Drive, Live Oak.

Pool Pointers

Pool Safety Tips For Parents

When shopping for a home, parents often marvel at properties that feature a pool in the backyard. Once they see a pool, parents envision their kids having fun in the sun with friends and family.

While days spent poolside with the family are fun, they can also be dangerous, especially for children. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, children ages 1 to 4 have the highest drowning rates, and fatal drowning is the second-leading cause of unintentional injury-related death for children ages 1 to 14 years. It's no wonder then why parents place such a strong emphasis on pool safety. The following are some preventative measures parents can take to reduce their child's risk of an accident in the pool.

- * Ensure children know how to swim. Teaching kids to swim might sound obvious, but many kids jump into pools before having any formal swimming training. But a child who has received formal swimming lessons has a significantly smaller risk of injury or drowning than one who has not received formal lessons. A 2009 study published in the Archives of Pediatrics and Medicine found that participation in formal swimming lessons can reduce the risk of drowning by 88 percent among children ages 1 to 14 years. Local community centers as well as the YMCA and even the Red Cross likely offer swimming lessons for children, so parents should take advantage of these highly effective programs.
- * Pay constant attention when kids are in the pool. Kids should never be left unattended when in a pool. But accidents happen even when parents are nearby. However, how quickly adults or others respond to a child in danger can have a significant impact on the outcome of an emergency situation. A study in the medical journal Pediatrics determined that the more quickly someone is able to intervene, such as administering CPR, the better the chance of improving the outcome. So parents should respond as quickly as possible whenever they suspect something has gone wrong in the pool.
- * Don't rely on air-filled or foam toys. Parents should not rely on air-filled flotation devices such as "water wings" as a safety measure. Such devices can deflate, putting kids at risk, especially if parents are under the assumption that the devices are enough to keep kids safe while they man the grill or mow the lawn. Even if kids wearing flotation devices have had swimming lessons, the likelihood kids will panic and forget those lessons if the devices deflate is significant enough that parents should pay constant attention.
- * Do not consume alcohol. Adults should never consume alcohol while children are swimming in the pool. Alcohol can negatively affect judgement, balance and coordination, making it more difficult to respond to a pool emergency should one occur. In addition, the effects of alcohol are heightened by exposure to the sun and heat, so consuming alcohol on hot summer days while kids are swimming in the pool could be an unnecessary risk.
- * Put all toys away after swimming. A pool and its surrounding deck should not have toys lying around, as this only entices children to go into the pool area when Mom and Dad might not be home or watching them. A study from the Consumer Product Safety Commission found that most young children who drowned in pools were last seen in the home and had been out of sight for less than five minutes. Kids can quickly disappear, and it might be too late before parents notice their youngster has jumped into the pool unsupervised. Put all toys away once a swimming session ends, so kids don't feel the urge to go play by the pool unsupervised.

A backyard pool is both fun and potentially dangerous. A few safety measures can drastically reduce the risk of drowning or injury, but parents should remain alert and attentive whenever kids are swimming or playing around the pool.

CAPTION: Parents should take safety measures to prevent kids from injury or drowning when swimming in a backyard pool.

Alaska Salmon Pesto Pasta Salad

- Prep time: 25 minutes
Servings: 8 to 10
- 8 ounces dry, small shell pasta
 - 2 to 3 teaspoons garlic, finely minced
 - 1/2 cup prepared basil pesto
 - 1/2 cup light Italian salad dressing
 - 1 zucchini, cut in 1/2-inch half-moon slices
 - 1 pint cherry tomatoes, halved
 - 1 small red onion, thinly sliced
 - 3/4 cup frozen peas, defrosted
 - 1 can (14.75 ounces) traditional pack Alaska salmon or 2 cans or pouches (6 to 7.1 ounces each) skinless, boneless salmon, drained and chunked
 - Salt and pepper, to taste

Cook pasta according to package directions; drain well. Let cool slightly then toss with garlic, pesto and dressing. Set aside.

Cook zucchini in covered microwavable container on high 2 minutes or until just tender and bright green.

Toss blanched zucchini, tomatoes, onion and peas into pasta and stir to combine. Gently fold in drained salmon; season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve immediately or chill before serving.

Nutrients per serving: 310 calories (46% from fat), 16 g total fat, 3 g saturated fat, 30 mg cholesterol, 17 g protein, 26 g carbohydrate, 3 g fiber, 485 mg sodium, 214 mg calcium and 1300 mg omega-3 fatty acids

Alaska Salmon and Chipotle Wrap

- Prep time: 15 minutes
Servings: 4
- 2 to 3 tablespoons fresh lime juice
 - 1 tablespoon chopped chipotle peppers in adobo sauce
 - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro
 - 2 tablespoons chopped red bell pepper
 - 1 to 2 tablespoons chopped red onion
 - 1 teaspoon chopped garlic
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 can (14.75 ounces) traditional pack Alaska salmon or 2 cans or pouches (6 to 7.1 ounces each) skinless, boneless salmon, drained and chunked
 - 3 tablespoons light cream cheese or light sour cream
 - 1 teaspoon adobo sauce
 - 4 whole wheat tortillas (8-inch)
 - 4 large lettuce or cabbage leaves, shredded

In bowl, mix lime juice, chiles, cilantro, bell pepper, red onion, garlic, salt and pepper. Gently stir in salmon until blended.

In small bowl, blend cream cheese and adobo sauce. Spread 1/4 mixture over each tortilla to within 1 inch of edge. Spread 2/3 cup salmon mixture over cream cheese. Top with 1/4 of lettuce and roll up burrito-style. Repeat for remaining tortillas.

- For appetizers, cut each wrap into thirds (makes 12 appetizer servings).
- As a meal, cut each wrap in half (makes 4 entree servings).

Serve immediately.

Nutrients per serving (4 entrees): 305 calories, 8.5 g total fat, 2 g saturated fat, 25% calories from fat, 88 mg cholesterol, 32.5 g protein, 26.5 g carbohydrate, 4 g fiber, 1228 mg sodium, 130.5 mg calcium and 1290 mg omega-3 fatty acids

Alaska Salmon Cakes with Yogurt Dill Sauce

- Prep time: 21 minutes
Servings: 4
- 1 egg
 - 1/4 cup small-curd nonfat cottage cheese
 - 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill or 1 teaspoon dried dill weed
 - 1 teaspoon lemon pepper seasoning
 - 1/4 cup sliced green onions
 - 1 can (14.75 ounces) traditional pack Alaska salmon or 2 cans or pouches (6 to 7.1 ounces each) skinless, boneless salmon, drained and chunked
 - 3 tablespoons garlic-and-herb bread crumbs
 - Vegetable oil
 - Yogurt Dill Sauce

In medium bowl, whisk egg lightly. Add cottage cheese, dill, lemon pepper and green onions; mix well. Mix in drained salmon, then sprinkle in bread crumbs and mix well. Shape mixture into 4 patties, 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick and 3 inches in diameter.

Heat nonstick skillet over medium-high heat and brush skillet with oil. Fry salmon cakes for about 2 1/2 to 3 minutes per side. Cakes should be crisp and golden on the outside and still moist on the inside.

Serve with Yogurt Dill Sauce.

Yogurt Dill Sauce

- 1/2 cup nonfat yogurt
- 1 1/2 teaspoons finely minced fresh garlic
- Salt and pepper
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill or 1 teaspoon dried dill weed
- 1/4 cup grated cucumber (squeeze dry)

Mix yogurt and garlic, and add salt and pepper to taste. Stir in dill and cucumber. Refrigerate, covered, until ready to serve.

Nutrients per serving: 217 calories (34% from fat), 8 g total fat, 2 g saturated fat, 112 mg cholesterol, 27 g protein, 8 g carbohydrate, 0.5 g fiber, 897 mg sodium, 320 mg calcium and 1800 mg omega-3 fatty acids

VERSATILE SALMON

FAMILY FEATURES

You’ve probably heard that eating seafood rich in heart-healthy omega-3 fatty acids can help protect against heart disease while delivering other important nutrients. In fact, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) recommends eating seafood twice a week for such benefits. Salmon is one fish long-heralded for its nutritional value, and Alaska canned salmon offers a convenient way to add more deliciously nourishing seafood to your diet.

Whether your tastes lean toward a traditional croquette drizzled with a light dill sauce, or a refreshing take on a pesto pasta salad, canned salmon is easy to prepare and surprisingly versatile.

Because canned and pouched salmon is shelf-stable, you can always have some on hand for a quick, tasty meal or flavorful snack. At the grocery store, simply look for “Alaska” on the lid or label to ensure a top-quality, wholly natural product with nothing added but a pinch of salt for flavor.

These recipes showcase how Alaska canned salmon can be adapted to a wide range of meals and lifestyles, from the indulgent to the über-healthy. For additional preparation tips and recipes, visit www.wildalaskaseafood.com.

Alaska Salmon Salad Sandwiches

- Prep time: 15 minutes
Servings: 4
- 1 can (14.75 ounces) traditional pack Alaska salmon or 2 cans or pouches (6 to 7.1 ounces each) skinless, boneless salmon, drained and chunked
 - 1/3 cup light mayonnaise
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
 - 1 tablespoon capers, drained, chopped if large (optional)
 - 1/3 cup finely diced celery
 - 1/3 cup finely diced onion
 - 1/4 cup dill or sweet pickle relish, drained
 - Dash Tabasco sauce or pinch of black pepper
 - 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill or 1/2 to 1 teaspoon dried dill weed
 - 8 slices whole-grain bread
 - 24 thin slices cucumber
 - 4 leaves green or red leaf lettuce

In medium bowl, combine salad ingredients. Add salmon and stir to combine well.

Divide salad among 4 slices of bread. Top each with 6 slices of cucumber and a leaf of lettuce. Top with remaining slices of bread and cut in half, crosswise.

Nutrients per serving: 381 calories (36% from fat), 15 g total fat, 3 g saturated fat, 65 mg cholesterol, 27 g protein, 34 g carbohydrate, 5 g fiber, 1236 mg sodium, 291 mg calcium and 1900 mg omega-3 fatty acids

The Many Benefits of Salmon

- Alaska canned pink salmon has four times the omega-3s EPA and DHA, and 12 times the vitamin D as many popular canned meats and fish. It also has 25 percent of adults’ Recommended Daily Allowance for calcium and nearly meets the daily reference amount for selenium.
- Traditional pack canned salmon contains skin and delicate, edible bones that are rich in calcium and magnesium. Pressure-cooked in the can, they are so soft they can be easily blended into the salmon, adding extra nutrients and flavor. Skinless, boneless Alaska salmon is also available in cans and pouches.
- Pink salmon — the variety commonly found in cans — has a light color and mild flavor, while red salmon (or sockeye) has a richer, more intense flavor and color.

Douglass Center restoration talks underway

By Andrew McGee
andrew.mcgee@gafnews.com

An agenda item at a recent county commission meeting that gained much public attention was discussion of improvements to the Douglass Center in Live Oak. Suwannee County Administrator Randy Harris gave commissioners a packet containing ideas and sketches of a possible restoration plan.

“As the memo says in the packet, we’ve had meetings, we’ve been over ideas for use of the Douglass Center going forward,” said Harris. “We talked about the expenses and the several needs.”

The Douglass Center is owned by the county.

Harris said some areas that need to be addressed are the building of public restrooms, parking areas and that there is currently no drainage plan on the property.

Harris asked commissioners to refer to the page of the proposed drainage area on the west side of the property. He said currently the area has classrooms that would need to be removed. A covered bus drop-off area on the north side should remain because of its historical significance as well as nearby classrooms that have been in use for years.

“There was already a lot of work done out there, but due to security problems, we had young people break in and destroy what had already been done,” said Harris. “One of the reasons for that is that it’s impossible to see through all the buildings out there.”

He concluded with his summary saying it was a long term plan and that they would be searching for both state and federal grants to cover the cost of the expenses. He said one of the initial expenses would be having to come up with a qualified estimate of the cost to be prepared to apply for the grants when the opportunity came.

“Mr. chairman, you do have some people who have asked to speak on this particular item,” said Harris.

Chairman Phil Oxendine asked Robert Ford to come forward.

“I have confidence and hope in my elected officials all the time that they’ll do the right thing for the common good of the community,” said Ford.

He said most of the people there knew who he was, that he had grown up in Suwannee County and had graduated from the Douglass Center when it was Douglass High School in 1967.

He said over the last 30 plus years due to the high expense of upkeep and restoration, Suwannee County Schools gave the center to the county.

“The work began and the demolition phase was completed and all of a sudden the work stopped,” said Ford. “I can only conclude that the resources allocated were somehow redirected to other priorities by the board of commissioners.”

He said the center held a highly, historical significance and has stood as a pinnacle of evolution of African American education in Suwannee County.

“From the one room rural school houses to a centralized facility for African American kids, the Douglass Center once rivaled all the white campuses here in the Suwannee County School District,” said Ford. “From the hallowed halls of Douglass Center, its alumni have gone on to become doctors, lawyers, pharmacists, educators, senior commissioned officers, law enforcement, firefighter professionals and other healthcare practitioners just to start the list.”

He said it would only be narrow minded to conclude that saving the center would only benefit a small demographic group. He said it was a great asset and has been far too long neglected to the detriment of its overall value.

“I urge the commissioners to do the right thing for the right reason, not be swayed by any opposition,” said Ford. “I urge you to vote or approve or give a consensus to approve a comprehensive plan to save and improve the Douglass Center.”

James Cooper approached the podium and thanked everyone for the opportunity to speak on behalf of the restoration efforts of the center. He said he had fond memories of going to school there as a child.

“Now, we’re asking you to make improvements and that it would be a viable alternative to educational development for parents and students alike,” said Cooper. “I’m not talking about a facility of black people. I’m talking about a facility for all people. There’s no such thing as a school of black and white anymore.”

Cooper said he began attending Douglass High School in the second semester of 1956 and that his graduating class (1957) was the first class to graduate from the school.

“You know where my heart is,” said Cooper. “My heart was broken when I walked down the breeze-way and saw trophies broken. My heart was breaking at the same time. I knew that was history gone astray.”

He said he read part of the alma mater which stated:

“We’ll strive to keep our colors high and never let ol’ Douglass die.”

“But, we are letting it die. It’s dying daily and we need to readdress that issue and move forward and establish a facility that the whole community can benefit from,” said Cooper.

Barry Hicks, originally from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, said his father was born and raised in Live Oak. Hicks said that as a child, he would come down in the summers and would go to Douglass High School. He said education was very important in his family and not going to school was not an option. He said he holds three degrees and children that he has mentored have gone on to be highly successful citizens. Hicks pointed to four teenagers in attendance of the meeting.

“They know how important it is,” said Hicks. “I’m saying we can’t afford not to put a plan together and come up with something because we already know it takes less money to raise a productive man or woman than it is to rehabilitate a young man or woman who has gone astray.”

Hicks said the prisons are full and that what needed to be done was to fill places like the Douglass Center. He wished there was a way to get the schools involved with the issue.

“Eventually, each and every one of you and myself will be gone and we need those young people in the back to be up here and we want that learning curve to be just a little bit shorter, so we can take care of business a lot quicker,” said Hicks.

Harris asked for a consensus by the board to proceed with the plans and Oxendine immediately said he was 100 percent for it.

“I would like you (Harris) to proceed with the comprehensive plan and also would like you to check into any grants that are available to complete it,” said Oxendine.

The rest of the commissioners likewise gave consent to Harris to proceed with the comprehensive plan for the Douglass Center improvements.

Historic grave sites restored

Peacock family plot rededicated

By Andrew McGee
andrew.mcgee@gafnews.com

A dedication of the restoration and marking of Peacock Cemetery was held in Luraville recently. Wes Skiles Peacock Springs State Park and Peacock Slough were named after Dr. John Calvin Peacock who is interred in the cemetery near the springs. Over time the cemetery was overrun by nature but thanks to the efforts of many including a couple of Peacock’s great, great grandsons, the grave sites of Peacock and other family members are now clearly marked.

Dr. Peacock came to the area in 1855. Great, great grandson Duane Peacock said the original Peacocks arrived from Scotland in 1789 and settled around Troy and Mt. Gilead, North Carolina. Duane Peacock is a descendant of several ministers from North Carolina and was recently invited to a small church’s 200th anniversary celebration where his forefathers ministered.

Besides Dr. Peacock, his wife Elizabeth Meredith is buried in the cemetery as well. Duane Peacock said based on evidence they have uncovered, they believe two of their sons are also buried there: Leroy and Avon.

Dr. Peacock died March 24, 1882.

According to the Florida State Parks Service, Wes Skiles Peacock Springs State Park has two major springs, a spring run and six sinkholes, all in near pristine condition. Nearly 33,000 feet of underwater passages at Peacock Springs have been explored and surveyed by cave divers.

The 733-acre state park was renamed Wes Skiles Peacock Springs State Park in 2010. Skiles was a world-class explorer, diver, cinematographer and photographer who contributed much of his time and expertise at the park.

The Ceremony

The welcome and opening prayer were performed by Duane Peacock and music was performed on violin by Lloyd Baldwin. Suwannee County Commissioner Ricky Gamble spoke briefly of the Peacock family’s long history in the area. He said when Duane Peacock asked him to attend to the dedication, he jumped at the opportunity. Gamble grew up about a mile and half from the plot and every summer as a young boy he would camp out at Peacock Slough.

“I was telling (Peacock’s great, great grandson Robert Dees) that I used to camp on his property and I don’t think he knew about it,” said Gamble.

He said he had a lot of fond memories of the area, but was unaware of its history.

“I was glad to be a part of this and come out and share,” said Gamble.

Kelly Jessop, president of the North Florida Springs Alliance (NFSA), spoke at the ceremony and shared information about Peacock Springs.

“There are people from all over the world who come to this park,” said Jessop.

He said NFSA was responsible for keeping the area functional and nice. The group constructed a walkway to the springs because the ground became too muddy and eroded. They also had a request to build some changing rooms for folks who desired more than a tree or bush for privacy. He said another project they were proud of was building an interpretive trail.

“Peacock Springs is one of the largest emerged cave systems in the United States,” said Jessop. “It’s very prolific and there are a lot of windows into the system.”

He said the Alliance built a one-mile trail over the cave system and as one travels the trail, there are several kiosks that have information regarding the park and the area.

“One thing we’re proud of is the trail was awarded the 2013 Best Long-term Project in the state of Florida,” said Jessop. “So, the State went as far as saying, ‘this is the best thing that they’ve had.’”

He said although there are areas currently which can’t be traveled in the park because of the recent flooding, he encouraged folks to come back at a later time to better enjoy it.

Duane Peacock introduced educational outreach coordinator Sandra Poucher with the National Speleological Society. He said Poucher and a diving team mapped some of the caves in Peacock Springs and published a book, “The Taming of the Slough: A Comprehensive History of Peacock Springs.” The book has been described as, “Sheck Exley’s exciting story of the discovery and mapping of the beloved Peacock Springs Cave System - at that time thought to be the world’s longest underwater cave. His manuscript was incomplete when he met his untimely death in 1994 on a dive in Mexico”.

Poucher said Exley was a world class diver during the 60s and 70s which was the “heyday” of cave diving.

She said Peacock Springs was in the top 10 largest underwater cave systems in the United States and in the top 20 in the world.

Different family members spoke about the area and the history they learned growing up.

The folks in attendance ended the ceremony by reciting a litany of dedication for the grave marker.

Dees, who was instrumental in the project, said the cemetery needed attention for years.

“We have been aware of it for many years. It had been something we’ve wanted to do for a number of years,” said Dees.

Dees said about 40 people were at the ceremony that were relatives from the Peacock side.

“Most of them I had never met,” said Dees. “It was like a family reunion of a family you never knew you had.”

Duane Peacock gives a brief history about his great, great grandfather Dr. John Calvin Peacock, who is pictured behind him. - Photos: Andrew McGee
