CAY CLUBS COLLAPSE

Attorney facing more legal action
Phoenix formerly was lawyer for failed company

By KEVIN WADLOW
Senior Staff Writer
kwadlow@keysweekly.com

A former attorney for Cay Clubs Resorts and Marine has been sued by a Fort Myers business as part of a trend of civil fraud suits against former attorneys.

Charles PT Fohnes, based in Sanford, received immunity from criminal prosecutions in Cay Clubs matters in exchange for a March statement to the Florida Bar, which implied that the failed resort developer’s business practices were fraudulent. A federal judge has denied his request for dismissal of a class action lawsuit under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act.

By JESSICA MACHETTA
Keynoter Contributor

In 2006, a group of Cuban refugees landed on a Seven Mile Bridge piling instead of the expected piers. Bill Fohns was one of the many who welcomed the refugees. He and his wife, Anne, moved to Key West in 1971 to work for Key West Music Company.

At the time of the influx, the population of Key West was about 15,000 people. Fohns said he did not withdraw as attorney “because it would be not a gargantuan controversy and it’s not going to blow up his job.” He said the Florida Bar’s Bar Inquiry Committee of 2007 aimed to work with the Florida Attorney Disciplinary Board in 2007 to clear the air.

Phoenix said that Cay Clubs “spied through the window” of a federal court filing. He was supposed to be paid $250,000 per month during certain phases of the business in 2008, he said in an affidavit.

Go to www.keysinfonet.com

Key West couple sued for right to get married

In the appeal process, Bondi has been “rushing around here right now. I don’t have marketing strategies in place yet but will be looking at marketing in the near future,” she said.

“I don’t think anyone is rushing around here right now ordering baby’s breath for a keyhole,” Ross said.

“I don’t think anyone is rushing around here right now ordering baby’s breath for a keyhole,” Ross said. “This has to go through the appellate process — my guess is that we’re looking at at least a year.”

When asked if Monroe County is leading the state’s conversation when it comes to same-sex marriage, Ross said: “We’re currently in the process of filing documentation with the U.S. Supreme Court.”

Several gay rights organizations in Key West have said they don’t have marketing strategies in place yet but will be looking at marketing in the near future, according to KEW.

“I don’t think anyone is rushing around here right now ordering baby’s breath for a keyhole,” Ross said.

“It’s a very sad day for Florida. This is an entirely illogical process,” the judge said with no legal authority in the decision.

The gay-marriage battle is being waged across the nation. A federal judge last week ruled Kentucky’s same-sex-marriage ban unconstitutional. According to the group Freedom to Marry, 10 other same-sex marriage bans have been overturned by federal courts.

As expected, Bondi files appeal

No rush for marketing

Like everyone, businesses are appeal

By JESSICA MACHETTA
Keynoter Contributor

Key West businesses aren’t quite ready to start marketing the islands as a destination for same-sex couples, but they are closely watching the results of a law suit filed by two Key West businesses against a marriage license in April.

Then, Monroe County Circuit Court Judge Luis Garcia ruled that Aaron Hammitt and William Lee Jones, who had married on March 28, had a marriage license because the high court decision on same-sex marriage in June 2015 was a constitutional ruling.

Those two cases were among the people who began filing suit in 2008. Garcia has time to get her office ready for what could be many same-sex couples seeking marriage licenses.

“ eer that we’re looking at at least a year,” Ross said.

Several gay rights organizations in Key West have said they don’t have marketing strategies in place yet but will be looking at marketing in the near future, according to KEW.

“I don’t think anyone is rushing around here right now ordering baby’s breath for a keyhole,” Ross said.

“I don’t think anyone is rushing around here right now ordering baby’s breath for a keyhole,” Ross said. “This has to go through the appellate process — my guess is that we’re looking at at least a year.”

When asked if Monroe County is leading the state’s conversation when it comes to same-sex marriage, Ross said: “We’re currently in the process of filing documentation with the U.S. Supreme Court.”

Several gay rights organizations in Key West have said they don’t have marketing strategies in place yet but will be looking at marketing in the near future, according to KEW.

“I don’t think anyone is rushing around here right now ordering baby’s breath for a keyhole,” Ross said. “This has to go through the appellate process — my guess is that we’re looking at at least a year.”

When asked if Monroe County is leading the state’s conversation when it comes to same-sex marriage, Ross said: “We’re currently in the process of filing documentation with the U.S. Supreme Court.”
Advocates keep winning

Since Marriage, 1A

Bill Ebben of the Keys Christian Fellowship, a former resident of Marathon and Key West, has been at the center of two lawsuits since June 2014. Ebben was named in a couple of cases brought by Jack Bridges, an Upper Keys attorney, who resigned from The Florida Bar’s 16th Circuit (Monroe County) Bar Association last year after a series of disciplinary actions, including a suspension for several months after he was convicted of perjury.

The two lawsuits were brought by Jack Bridges, an Upper Keys attorney, who resigned from The Florida Bar’s 16th Circuit (Monroe County) Bar Association last year after a series of disciplinary actions, including a suspension for several months after he was convicted of perjury.

The first lawsuit, filed in the federal court in 2014, was brought by Bridges against Ebben. The suit alleged that Ebben made false statements to the court and then failed to correct those statements.

The second lawsuit, also filed in federal court, was brought by Bridges against Ebben and another attorney, Michael W. Becker. The suit alleged that Ebben and Becker conspired to violate Bridges’ constitutional rights by interfering with his right to practice law.

Ebben and Becker both denied the allegations and the cases were dismissed in 2015.

Suits allege fraud

From Phoenix, AZ

Mutual of Omaha has filed a lawsuit in federal court in Arizona alleging that two agents for the insurance company, one in Arizona and one in Colorado, had engaged in fraudulent activities.

The lawsuit, filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona, alleges that the agents had solicited the policyholder to make a claim for an automobile that was involved in an accident.

The agents then proceeded to submit a fraudulent claim to Mutual of Omaha, and the company paid out around $100,000 in settlements.

Mutual of Omaha is seeking to recover the funds it paid out, as well as punitive damages and attorneys’ fees.

In addition, the insurance company is seeking to bar the two agents from further involvement in the insurance industry.

From Florida, IA

The 21st Century Insurance Company has filed a lawsuit in federal court in Florida alleging that a group of agents had engaged in fraudulent activities.

The lawsuit, filed in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida, alleges that the agents had solicited the policyholder to make a claim for an automobile that was involved in an accident.

The agents then proceeded to submit a fraudulent claim to 21st Century Insurance Company, and the company paid out around $100,000 in settlements.

The insurance company is seeking to recover the funds it paid out, as well as punitive damages and attorneys’ fees.

In addition, 21st Century Insurance Company is seeking to bar the agents from further involvement in the insurance industry.
COUNTY COMMISSION
County to revise housing effort

By KEVIN WADLOW
kwadlow@keynoter.com

The western Monroe County trail where a Key Largo man was killed last week when riding an all-terrain vehicle near his home has been named by ATV riders and without incident.

The trail has not returned numerous phone calls and e-mails to discuss the incident. The story. His deputy chief of police, Calixte Phillips, was called to the phone after less than an hour.

By KEVIN WADLOW
kwadlow@keynoter.com

City and county workers “want to stay but don’t know who owns the property, no one — not even police — seems to know who owns the land,” Neugent said.

County to increase budget.
Leon County judge ruled gill-net ban an ‘absurdity,’ appeals court overturns it.

An appeals court on Friday gave commercial fishermen a much-needed victory in a years-long legal battle.

Governor Rick Scott, in a statement, said the court ruled correctly. “I applaud the court for this important ruling and support the Florida Sportsman’s Federation’s efforts to make our state’s waterways more productive and provide a better future for all Floridians.”

Gill-netting is a method of fishing that uses a large network of fishing nets to catch fish, typically in the ocean or estuaries. It is commonly used by commercial fishermen to catch species such as mullet and snook, which are valued for their Sport.

The Florida Sportsman’s Federation (FSF) has been fighting for the right to use gill nets since 1994, when the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) banned their use in state waters. The FSF argued that the ban was unfair and overreaching and that it was a violation of their constitutional right to use fishing equipment.

The case was heard in Leon County Circuit Court Judge Jackie Fulford’s courtroom in Tallahassee last week, where Judge Fulford ruled in favor of the FSF. She found that Fulford ignored legal precedents and biological evidence.

The appeals court agreed with Judge Fulford’s ruling and overturned the lower court’s decision. The court ruled that the ban on gill nets in state waters was unconstitutional and that the FWC had not provided sufficient evidence to support the ban.

This is a significant victory for the commercial fishing industry, which has been struggling to make a profit in recent years. The ban on gill nets had put many fishermen out of business and forced them to rely on other, less efficient methods of fishing.

In 1994, 72 percent of Florida voters endorsed a proclamation that the ban on gill nets was a “manifest injustice.” The ban has been challenged in court on several occasions, but judges consistently upheld it.

With the ban overturned, fishermen can once again use gill nets to catch fish in state waters. This will undoubtedly boost the industry and provide a much-needed source of income for many fishermen.

But the battle is not over yet. The FWC has not announced whether it will appeal the court’s decision. If it does, the case could drag on for years more.

This is a major setback for the FSF and its supporters, but they remain optimistic. They believe that the ban is not sustainable and that it is time for the industry to adapt to new technologies and practices.

We are excited to see what happens next in this case. It is clear that the commercial fishing industry is determined to fight for its rights and to continue to provide a valuable source of food and income for many people in Florida.
 Cookbook goes cheap

By MICHELLE LOCKE
Associated Press

Lauren Brown didn't set out to write a budget-friendly cookbook for people who have five-dollar-date budgets on a food stamp budget. Because "Good and Cheap," a beautifully photo- graphed book packed with low-cost, word-class recipes, actually began as a project to help people eat well on a tight budget.

"Good and Cheap," her second cookbook, is an outgrowth of the "Hungry Campaign," and the kitchen-sink suites of recipes that go into cookbooks aimed to help people eat well on a tight budget. The goal is simple — make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Recipes in "Good and Cheap" are healthy and nutritious, but also affordable. ""Hungry Campaign" recipes are called simply "Things to Make." Brown wrote the book partly because she wanted a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Associated Press photo by SETH WENIG Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.

"If you can cook from things you do have, you won't feel pretty trapped," Brown said. "If you don't know how to cook, you'll feel pretty trapped."

Following the success of the PDF version of the book, Brown launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for a print run with the goal of raising enough money to donate hard copies through organizations serving the low-income community. The campaign raised $10,000 a goal of $10,000 and ended with more than $14,000. Other programs aiming to make it attractive to cook from scratch, almost always the best and cheapest way to eat, without spending a lot. Brown wants a theory that could have a life outside academia. She also wanted evidence: whether she could eat on the food she likes to cook on a food-stamp budget — a "cheap" budget — of $45 a day.
ROYAL FURNITURE’S
$3 MILLION CLEARANCE

WE’RE OVERSTOCKED!!

SAVE up to 60% OFF RETAIL!

✓ ONE-OF-A-KINDS
✓ DISCONTINUED ITEMS
✓ SCRATCH-N-DENTS

GOING ON NOW!

SHOP EARLY FOR BEST SELECTION

AT ALL THREE KEYS LOCATIONS

KEY LARGO
305-451-5700
MM 99 in the Median

MARATHON
305-743-4397
MM 47.5 Ocean

KEY WEST
305-295-6400
Next to Publix, Searstown

www.KeysFurniture.com

www.KeysFurniture.com
Key Largo

Does it float? Enter this race

Make your own vessel out of various trash

Trophy items like PVC pipe, buckets, pool noodles, plastic strap, lawn furniture or cardboard can be found together as hulls for Key Largo’s Anything That Floats, registration set for next month.

On the third Saturday of August each year, organizers of the wacky race recommanded tours of two or more people to race, unless you’re a professional or a veteran and can find around the house to construct your boat.

Boat builders need to bind together their vessels with all-purpose duct tape, plastic strap or any other sticky substances long enough to hold team members inside throughout the half-mile dash through a buoyed course set in the Blackwater Sound in front of Key Largo’s Caribbean Club and wind back. Teams can employ canoes, paddles or even over-sized T-shirts as sails to propel their vessel forward. Entries can be disqualified for incorporating “off-colors” including bright lights, flares, riots of pool toys.

Sailboats, scheduled for 5 p.m. Aug. 16, in the Sunset Bar & Grill marker 109-hourly, Aug. 16 race day, with bands check-in beginning at 3 p.m. at Sunset Bar & Grill. Race events begin at 5 p.m., and boats depart from the water-front dock at the adjacent Sundowners Restaurant. The offbeat challenge is open to all and to enter. Prizes are awarded in categories such as “busiest–dressed,” cruiser, most creative vessel, fastest vessel, busiest vessel, most hard-luck story and vessel containing the most participants that still float. Participants must be 13 or older.

In my travels, I’ve come to accept that products and services work to enhance our lives, but they are also a challenge.

Keep them charged.

Dad, you’ll need to keep your gadgets charged up in order to play the game into the power strip, too, if you’re sharing the game’s juice with other devices. Otherwise, you’ll be fighting for the few outlets that won’t be hidden behind furniture or dangerously near sinks. If you’re going abroad, it’s best to bring your own adapters without the hassle of trying to figure out what your charger will work with.

Also, keep your garages charged during the day. If you don’t play for an hour or so with your car’s cigarette lighter, there are other portable chargers you can plug your phone into. Some phone cases also serve as power banks.

One product that stands out is NuPower’s Space Pack for the iPhone 5 and 5S. It is not only double-duty, but life-saving. NuPower comes in handy, but it also gives you additional storage for photos and videos. A 16-gigabyte version is $30, while a 32-gigabyte one costs $100. A 64 gigabyte version starts selling next week for $290. With it, I get about two full days of general phone use. It’s easy to charge NuPower’s space pack. You then plug it into your computer and fill it up. It’s like having an extra hard drive and easy to manage your photos into one. I’m able to view them through the iPhone and Photos app.

Because of those concerns, and the fact that the case is bulky and heavy, I look better with a regular, improved case when I’m near chargers. The Space Pack is great for trips, but other times I’d know I’d be draining the battery or filling up the phone’s storage faster than usual.

Keep organized.

I’ve been a loyal user of TripIt since I reviewed it in 2007. Back then, it was a website for organizing your travel plan. Now, there are apps for various mobile devices. The apps remind you where to go and next to order. My eyes’ focus on your phone’s mapping apps for directions. TripIt automatically creates a daily day-by-day itinerary and other travel information so you forget it. TripIt automatically pulls out flight numbers and sending information from the email, while sending useful information to your calendar.

With the iPhone, you can easily access the apps and services worth looking up. With it, I get about two full days of general phone use. It’s easy to charge NuPower’s space pack. You then plug it into your computer and fill it up. It’s like having an extra hard drive and easy to manage your photos into one. I’m able to view them through the iPhone and Photos app.

Because of those concerns, and the fact that the case is bulky and heavy, I look better with a regular, improved case when I’m near chargers. The Space Pack is great for trips, but other times I’d know I’d be draining the battery or filling up the phone’s storage faster than usual.

Keep organized.

I’ve been a loyal user of TripIt since I reviewed it in 2007. Back then, it was a website for organizing your travel plan. Now, there are apps for various mobile devices. The apps remind you where to go and next to order. My eyes’ focus on your phone’s mapping apps for directions. TripIt automatically creates a daily day-by-day itinerary and other travel information so you forget it. TripIt automatically pulls out flight numbers and sending information from the email, while sending useful information to your calendar.

With the iPhone, you can easily access the apps and services worth looking up. With it, I get about two full days of general phone use. It’s easy to charge NuPower’s space pack. You then plug it into your computer and fill it up. It’s like having an extra hard drive and easy to manage your photos into one. I’m able to view them through the iPhone and Photos app.

Because of those concerns, and the fact that the case is bulky and heavy, I look better with a regular, improved case when I’m near chargers. The Space Pack is great for trips, but other times I’d know I’d be draining the battery or filling up the phone’s storage faster than usual.

Keep organized.

I’ve been a loyal user of TripIt since I reviewed it in 2007. Back then, it was a website for organizing your travel plan. Now, there are apps for various mobile devices. The apps remind you where to go and next to order. My eyes’ focus on your phone’s mapping apps for directions. TripIt automatically creates a daily day-by-day itinerary and other travel information so you forget it. TripIt automatically pulls out flight numbers and sending information from the email, while sending useful information to your calendar.
Experts say sugar info is lacking healthy or not. As Michael Jacobson of the Center for Science in the Public Interest puts it: “It’s a bunch of technical terms; it’s sanitized fat and cholesterol and sugar. What are those terms? Are these numbers high or low, good or bad, what do you do with it?”

From Food, 18

• Make ingredients from cleaner.

Shoppers may turn over a package of food and look for “safe” on its equivalence.

What that consumer may not know is that “sugar” could be listed as maltose, dextrose, sucrose, corn syrup, brown rice syrup, maple syrup, high fructose corn syrup, sorbitol, and a variety of that price concerning the answers, along with other ways.

That is why we created a list of sugar names, and combining forum.

To make sugar from

Some of the FDA’s efforts to promote these “added sugars” line that would have to be met in label formats, Kessler proposed front-of-package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

Kessler promises front-of-package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

• Put labels on the front, too.

The FDA said in 2009 that it was developing proposals of additional ingredients in package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

Kessler proposes front-of-package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

The FDA has said it did not plan to use an accepted recommendation for how much sugar people should eat daily.

The agency needs to distinguish from naturally occurring sugars, Kessler says the agency needs to line suggesting how much sugar people should eat daily.

The FDA has said it had to a claim into an acceptable recommendation for how much sugar people should be consumed too.

• Put labels on the front, too.

• The FDA said in 2009 that it was developing proposals of additional ingredients in package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

Kessler proposes front-of-package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

The FDA said in 2009 that it was developing proposals of additional ingredients in package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

Kessler promises front-of-package labels that would list the top three ingredients of the calorie count and the number of additional ingredients.

Ready to Buy or Sell in the Lower Keys?

For all your real estate needs, give me a call today!

Castillo Del Sol in Key Colony Beach! Looking to

Congratulations to the new owners of Unit 22 at 94% of the listing price in UNDER 100 DAYS!

info.net

www.BestKeysAgent.com

743-2020

Patti & Wendy JUST SOLD another home on Cudjoe Key!

Solution to the July 16 puzzle.

Patti & Wendy JUST SOLD another home on Cudjoe Key!

Solution to the July 16 puzzle.

For all your real estate needs, give me a call today!

Castillo Del Sol in Key Colony Beach! Looking to Download reading materials, videos

from Technology, 1B

Troll proved helpful this spring when I went with two friends to Yeosue National Park in California. I forward- ed everyone’s flight confirmations to keep track of who was arriving when I asked details on lakes we were planning and the drive time for a fancy dinner. I then shared a link with everyone. Troll also kept track of buses, subways and things I needed in Chicago, Denver and Las Vegas.

The basic service is free. I haven’t found a need to pay $49 a year for Troll Pro, which offers information on alternate seats or flights and ways to track frequent flier programs. Troll Pro also offers alerts when gates and departure times change, but still those few extra apps are Troll’s tried to show the bene- fits of upgrading.

Beyond Troll, you might want to download apps for your airline. In many cases, you can check in and get a boarding pass on the phone, no printing needed.

Stay entertained

You might want to download some books, magazines and video ahead of time for when you don’t have a good Internet connection. If you’ll be driving, con- sider an FM radio transmitter. These gadgets transmit what- ever’s playing on your digital music player over an open frequency on the FM dial. I bought Griffin’s Trip from Best Buy in Minneapolis in 2009 for about $60. It has become essential for all my road trips. I simply plug the Trip cord into my iPod’s headphone jack. I then tune the car radio to an open FM frequency that Trip feeds for me. Podcasts, audiobooks and regular music come over the car speakers.

There are separate models for Apple devices depending on the type of charging port it has. For other devices, use the Trip Auto Universal Plus, which uses the standard headphone jack. If you’re getting Space Pack, you’ll want this universal trans- mitter, as the case covers up the iPhone’s, regular port. This model also has a USB port to charge gadgets while driving.

The Keynoter and The Reporter fared well Friday when the Florida Press Association announced the winners of its Better Weekly Newspaper clips contest for calendar year 2013. The association was meeting for its annual conference at the Biltmore Hotel in Miami. The winners from the two sister newspapers:

- Keynoter and Reporter staff, second place for breaking news for a story about a Sheriff’s Office shootout in Islamorada.
- Keynoter, second place for its editorial page.
- Reporter David Goodhue, second place for in-depth reporting about the increase in the illegal drug known as Molly.
- Goodhue, second place for investigative reporting for coverage of missing drugs from Monroe County Fire Rescue’s hangar at Florida Keys Marathon Airport.

- Reporter Kevin Wadlow, second place in outdoors reporting for his coverage of retiring the debt accrued for scuttling the former military ship Spiegel Grove.

- Keynoter Editor Larry Kahn, second place for an editorial about problems with the reconstruction of Horace O’Bryant Middle School in Key West.

- Goodhue, third place for local government reporting for coverage of village sewers.

- Wadlow, third place for environmental reporting for coverage of the problem of invading lionfish.

- Dick Wagner, third place for sports reporting for a profile of the first Key West High School baseball team to win a state title.

Overall, there were 1,700 entries judged by members of the press associations from New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

‘Keynoter’ and ‘Reporter’ win 10 journalism awards

LIVING BRIEFS

Cops, prosecutors tossing a party

Nothing says summer like a community party. The Key West Police Department’s Police Athletic League is teaming up with the Monroe County Fire Rescue’s hangar at Florida Keys Marathon Airport.

Meeting Notice

Monroe County Land Authority

The Monroe County Land Authority Advisory Committee will meet in the Monroe Regional Service Center located at 2796 Overseas Highway, Suite 104, Marathon, Florida on July 30, 2014 beginning at 9:00 AM. The agenda is available online at www.monroecounty-fl.gov or by contacting the Land Authority office at 305-5180.

AGENDA

- Tentative to review the county’s lease agreement with the Florida Keys Marathon Airport.
- Tentative to acknowledge receipt of an agreement with the Monroe County Fire Rescue for cleaning of the Monroe County Fire Rescue’s hangar at Florida Keys Marathon Airport.

For more information, contact the Monroe County Land Authority office at 305-5180.

There are separate models for Apple devices depending on the type of charging port it has. For other devices, use the Trip Auto Universal Plus, which uses the standard headphone jack. If you’re getting Space Pack, you’ll want this universal trans- mitter, as the case covers up the iPhone’s, regular port. This model also has a USB port to charge gadgets while driving.
Cameron Diaz and Jason Segel in a scene from “Sex Tape.”

But the laughs are far and few in this failure.

“Sex Tape,” rated PG-13, was senate, placing in Key West and Tavernier.

By JAKE COYLE

The high-concept comedy

-sponsored by The 40-

Year-Old Tape” need to get going before 4 p.m.

and Saturday. Call 852-3216 to sign up.

As a screwball that takes

To its credit, there’s a

For an X-rated story. The movie is so disparate for tales that it wants to give

and there is something

through only very little.

matters in “Sex Tape,” its

middle age (“This Is 40”)

singledom (“Bridesmaids”),

and there might be some

middle age (“This Is 40”),

first use of birth control.

already been debunked, but

Finding Steam Whistle”

and more surprising than

for an X-rated story. The shocked.”

But the laughs are far and few in this failure.

“Sex Tape,” rated PG-13, was senate, placing in Key West and Tavernier.

By JAKE COYLE

The high-concept comedy

-aged group that wants
tales that it wants to give

and there is something

through only very little.

matters in “Sex Tape,” its

middle age (“This Is 40”),

singledom (“Bridesmaids”),

and there might be some

middle age (“This Is 40”),

first use of birth control.

already been debunked, but

Finding Steam Whistle”

and more surprising than

for an X-rated story. The

shocked.”

But the laughs are far and few in this failure.

“Sex Tape,” rated PG-13, was senate, placing in Key West and Tavernier.

By JAKE COYLE

The high-concept comedy

-aged group that wants
ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.

ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE

The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) of Naval Air Station Key West invites local community members to their annual meeting to discuss the environmental status and cleanup activities at the Air Station. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 6:00 p.m., in the Community Room of the Florida Keys Eco-Discovery Center, 35 East Quay Road, Key West, FL 33040. The RAB is composed of community members and representatives of the Navy, State and Federal Regulatory Agencies. Technicians on the environmental program at the Air Station will be present at that time to address any concerns regarding specific cleanup activities. Community members are welcome to engage in an informative question and answer session following the business portion of the RAB meeting. Attendees will be offered free parking at the Eco-Discovery Center during the meeting.

Documents on the environmental program at Naval Air Station Key West are available for public review and copying at the Monroe County Library, 510 Fleming Key West. They are located in the local and state historical section. For more information, please contact the Public Affairs Officer for the Air Station, Ms. Trisy Denny, at 305-293-2271.
PUBLICATION NOTICE

Chapter 755, Florida Statutes, the following list of described property is being sold by Monroe County Sheriff’s Office. These items may be inspected July 12-13 and sold on August 2, 2014, the Monroe County Sheriff’s Office address is 386 Whitehead Street, Old Jail, Key West, Florida 33040. Please call to make arrangements to view. 305-292-7144 as some of these items are stored at several locations.

1. Seven color bouquets of glass like stems.
2. Three piece salt & pepper shaker set.
4. Picture frames.
5. Tricycle.
6. Mechanical toy.
7. Small fruit bowl with painted gold leaves.
8. Porcelain doll.
9. Black iron table with white table cloth.
10. Small print.
11. Small three piece children’s table and chairs.
12. Small wicker table and two chairs.
13. Three footed table.
15. Three piece wicker child’s table and chairs.
17. Wicker chair.
18. Wicker table and two chairs.
19. Metal bed frame.
20. Child’s bed.
22. Child’s bed.
23. Child’s bureau.
27. Child’s table.
32. Child’s chair.
33. Child’s table.
34. Child’s chair.
35. Child’s table.
37. Child’s table.
38. Child’s chair.
40. Child’s chair.
41. Child’s table.
42. Child’s chair.
43. Child’s table.
44. Child’s chair.
45. Child’s table.
46. Child’s chair.
47. Child’s table.
49. Child’s table.
50. Child’s chair.

Any person holding a valid claim as an owner or claim to have proper proof of ownership must make their claim in writing to the Sheriff of Monroe County to be used, sold or disposed of your claim is not made, the Sheriff may sell the property at public auction. Any property not claimed during this time period will revert to ownership to the Sheriff of Monroe County to be sold, sold or disposed of pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 755, Florida Statutes.

Richard A. Ramsey
Deputy Clerk of the Court
By: Diana O’Halloran
P.O. Box 164
Key West, Florida 33040
Tel: 305-292-7144

Florida Keys Keynoter
Published July 18, 2014
Florida Keys Reporter

For more information about this item, please contact
Deputy Clerk of the Court
P.O. Box 164
Key West, Florida 33040
Tel: 305-292-7144

FLS. 305-610-8002

UTILITY LOT. 2/3 ACRE. WATER, SEWER, CANAL, SHORELINE, CLUB HOUSE AND SWIMMING POOL. MARATHON #1509.

FOR SALE

2000sf 2/2 apt., dock, canal access, Adult Park. 305-743-6519

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE

NEW FABRIC

Simmons Beautyrest 100s of Beds

DIFFERENT TYPES OF TACKLE

1. Yellow color bracelet w/ glasslike stones, key chains, camera case, money, wallets, set of keys, coins and reel.
2. Jarvis Walker rod with tackle bag, pouches with tackle boxes, fishing reels, Calypso Sea Hawk reel, Tournament saltwater rod, Shimano reel, black star rod, Stellar Lite, greystar rod, Steller lite, pontoon boat reel, Saltwater reel, tournament reel, Mitchell on Sea N Surf black rod, Penn Senator, Shimanoreelonblack.
3. Fishing reel, Calypso Sea Hawk reel, Tournament saltwater guide, Jarvis Walker rod, Penn Senator, Shimano reel, black star rod, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel.
4. Fishing reel, Calypso Sea Hawk reel, Tournament saltwater guide, Jarvis Walker rod, Penn Senator, Shimano reel, black star rod, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel.
5. Fishing reel, Calypso Sea Hawk reel, Tournament saltwater guide, Jarvis Walker rod, Penn Senator, Shimano reel, black star rod, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel, Shimano reel.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Keynoter Classifieds 305-743-5551

WE NEED A NEW TUSCANY WOOD BURNING STOVE. CHAPMAN 7-10, 7-17, 7-24, 7-31.

909 E. Atlantic Avenue
Key West, Florida 33040
P.O. Box 6530

Miami Keys 2/2 unfurnished. 289-1887

PARK MODEL TRAILER

2000 sq ft., 2 bedrooms, workshop, $1650 a month 786-258-3127

LOT RENT

Lot rent $7750/yr; mobile home lot.  Deer Water Canal w/ 100’ dock.  2 BR / 1 BA on BIG PINE KEY.  KeyWest, FL. 33040 P.O.Box 6530

SHIRTS & PANTS

PGMS . 305-743-3433

Diane 305-743-3433. Florida KeysInfoNet.com

FREE DELIVERY

Call 305-743-7277.

FRIDAYS & SATURDAYS

POLIO TIME teaches people to recognize the signs of polio and the polio vaccines. Information will be available at all public events. May 17th.

SPRING CLEANING

The Guidance/Care Center, Inc.

Lawn Care, Dog Walking, Pet Sitter & Dog Walker. 305-797-5184

REAL ESTATE

For information about this item, please contact
Deputy Clerk of the Court
P.O. Box 164
Key West, Florida 33040
Tel: 305-292-7144

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE

1800 sf. Prime location, Downtown Marathon, FL 33050.

PARK MODEL TRAILER

Lot rent $7750/yr; mobile home lot.  Deer Water Canal w/ 100’ dock. 2 BR / 1 BA on BIG PINE KEY. KeyWest, FL. 33040 P.O.Box 6530

STRAY CATS

Marathon #187, Key West #499 305-743-7277

FOR SALE

On the market. 13333 Overseas Highway, Marathon. Call to call (305) 289-7667

FLS. 305-610-8002

Marathon Highway Bridge contractor seeking an experienced Bridge Inspector/Prototype Analyst.

WANTED

Rolex Dive watches

1.305-743-5551

DUE TO EXTREME WEATHER

Saturday, July 19, 2014

City of Marathon
Duke Park, Marathon • Tel: 305-743-5551

City of Marathon
Duke Park, Marathon • Tel: 305-743-5551

For ad placement through our offices, please call Monday - Friday • 8:30 am to 5:00 pm

KeysInfoNet.com

The best way to advertise in The Keys is the Keynoter: The Reporter and on KeysInfoNet.com. And the easiest, most affordable way to do it by going to KeysInfoNet.com/classified-ads.

Here you can:

• Build your ad
• Customize your ad
• Choose to run in print advertisement in the newspaper online
• Select the days(you) want it to run
• Pay securely with a credit card

It’s that simple — and simply gets results. Get started now!
Keys Insurance Services, Inc.  Established Since 1994  Keys Insurance is looking for experienced, self-motivated, scan players to fill full time positions in our Marathon Office.  • Multi Line Account Executive  • Commercial Lines Account Manager  Insurance License 220 or 440 and 3 years minimum experience required. Excellent compensation and benefits packages.  Send resume to gdub@sailflkeys.com  www.ci.marathon.fl.us info

RENTING? BUYING? SELLING? Use the Keynoter Classifieds for all your real estate needs. 743-5551

The Keynoter can accommodate all of your legal advertising for G7 of Monroe County, our distribution is between Key Largo to Key West. We are in full compliance of Florida Statue Chapter 50 - Legal Notices. Call Beverly - 743-5551 service directory we’re at call: 743-5551 ads@keynoter.com

DOCK RENTALS / SALES

2nd Nature, Inc. 1046 Kennedy Drive Key West or fax resume to: (305)451-3389.  2nd Nature, Inc. 1046 Kennedy Drive Key West or fax resume to: (305)451-3389.

Kost West Renting Agency Maintenance Mechanic Aide Full time with benefits (annual sick leave and paid health insurance & retirement) Position is located in Marathon. Monday through Thursday 8 am to 5 pm, Available for working all marine and extraordinary maintenance projects, include beverages, electrical, painting, will also assist in maintaining dive spaces and scuba gear. Successful candidate should have advanced experience with plumbing. Asbestos preferred & must be able to lift 50 lbs. Position will be in Marathon Office.

Salary: $10.50

Apply 240 Sombrero Rd. Marathon Or 1400 Kennedy Drive Key West or fax resume to: (305)451-6322. During Free Weekdays Only.

DOCK RENTALS / SALES

DAVE BUYS PERMITS

DAVE BUYS PERMITS

Charter Pest Control

Real Estate Professionals servicing Key Largo to Key West. Please see website for job postings: www.joinremax.com

Apply in person: BRUTUS SEAFOOD

BARTENDER, WAITER, WAITRESS

Bartender, Dancers

Call 743-5551 ext. 44, office hoursMon-Sat. West ending top walk to apartments is to right of the Marathon Water Tower. Please call for a confidential interview today - (305) 731-3389 or www.pinecrestreeapartments.com

ATTENTION: LOOKING for Tropical Paradise? DO NOT MISS骑士 Blvd, Marathon. 75' wide property, 120' frontage. $125,000. FOR SALE. 305-743-5951

Fishing Guide

Fishing Guide

WANTED

Fishing Guide

TikiBarGrillCook(PartTime)

Key West Fishing Guide looking for crew for small inshore and further. 6800 Overseas Hwy, Marathon. www.ci.marathon.fl.us

MISCELLANEOUS

743-5551

Kost West Renting Agency Maintenance Mechanic Aide Full time with benefits (annual sick leave and paid health insurance & retirement) Position is located in Marathon. Monday through Thursday 8 am to 5 pm, Available for working all marine and extraordinary maintenance projects, include beverages, electrical, painting, will also assist in maintaining dive spaces and scuba gear. Successful candidate should have advanced experience with plumbing. Asbestos preferred & must be able to lift 50 lbs. Position will be in Marathon Office.

Salary: $10.50

Apply 240 Sombrero Rd. Marathon Or 1400 Kennedy Drive Key West or fax resume to: (305)451-6322. During Free Weekdays Only.

DOCK RENTALS / SALES

For rent: 30x30 3/2 home in Marathon. 10700 5th Ave, Gulf, Marathon 743-7072

MAKING BIG \n
MAKE BIG $$$

---

Bar tender, Dancers

Apply 240 Sombrero Rd. Marathon Or 1400 Kennedy Drive Key West or fax resume to: (305)451-6322. During Free Weekdays Only.

DOCK RENTALS / SALES

World's bestPresident in 2010! Diving is our passion, ask-...
RedGhost anglers compete for earned points for landing redfish and the elusive ghost-like bonefish during the fishing tournament, which is hosted by the Islamorada Fishing and Conservation Trust, and is dedicated to promoting Keys conservation efforts and protecting recreational fishing in the Keys. Anglers can enter either the main division for ages 9-16 or the young adult division for ages 17-25.

The all-release tournament kicks off with mandatory rules meeting at 5 p.m. July 27 at the Islamorada Fishing Club, 822 bayview, Islamorada. Fishing is slated for July 28 with lines in at 6:30 a.m. and lines out at 3 p.m. A tournament banquet and awards presentation follows at 6 p.m. at the Islamorada Fishing Club. The tournament is limited to 40 anglers — typically one angler per boat, although up to two are permitted. Professional guides are not required. Entry fee is $125 per one or two anglers. Additional social tickets for non-anglers are $35 each. To find out more, go to www.redghosttalk.com.

Close call? No Team Clous Clous took first place and a $7,400 cash prize at theIslamorada. The Dolphin Tournament that closed out the week was the Florida Keys Dolphin Tournament that closed out the week, July 27, at the Islamorada Fishing Club.

Quick Fact:

The first part of the shark experience would be to catch fresh shark bait. It wasn’t long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2. Nothing was in his mind other than landing the shark. He was in his element, taking relief from worry and responsibility, living in the moment. The first lemon shark was landed and then another much-larger lemon shark was lost after a lengthy battle. Then there was the 10-foot hammerhead shark that wouldn’t eat. Those are the ones that will ensure that reputation every day at the young age of 15. Although the tasks are different, the determination is the same.

Jake’s two younger sisters are both disabled by a genetic disorder that requires constant care from him and his parents. Jake, just as his grandfather did, works hard and never backs down from whatever the girls need from him. The yearly birthday trip to the Keys is something his parents have arranged to help him find a bit of relief from the responsibilities he faces. This year, he wanted to go shark fishing.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Nothing was in his mind other than landing the shark. He was in his element, taking relief from worry and responsibility, living in the moment. The first lemon shark was landed and then another much-larger lemon shark was lost after a lengthy battle. Then there was the 10-foot hammerhead shark that wouldn’t eat. Those are the ones that will ensure that reputation every day at the young age of 15. Although the tasks are different, the determination is the same.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.

Capt. Seth Hopp told his cousin — Jake Barker — to take a seat on the boat and hold on. He then throttled the back end of the 25-foot skiff settled to a slow drift, Seth handed Jake a rod with a jig and directed him to set up working the channel edges with a series of puppy while reeling, then repeat the process until a bait was hooked. It won’t be long before a jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 1. A few minutes later another jack crevalle crashed the lure and became shark bait No. 2.