West Flagler To Have Gala Closing

The West Flagler Kennel Club will show the most sensational season in its history in a blaze of glory tomorrow night when the final is that $1,000 West Flagler Derby will be run.

Furnishing one of the most beautiful places in the entire country is the heart of Miami, the center of racing provided thousands to the track every night. Thrills were provided the fans by the beautifully laid out track and the exceptionally fine racing greyhounds that contested for the prizes.

John Shier, president, and the rest of the officials of the company and all the employees expressed their sincere thanks to the residents and visitors who helped make this season the outstanding one in dog track history.

SEABOARD DAIRY TO HAVE OUTSTANDING ONE IN DOG TRACK HISTORY.

The Weat Flagler Kennel Club furnishing one of the most brilliant entertainment nights in the history of the Kennel Club.

Friends of Governor Lehman are trying to sell him the idea of becoming an anti-New-Deal candidate for President, Mrs. Lehman, though, is more concerned with preparations for the June wedding of her son prior to Pesach Rosevear.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ORGANIZED.

Northern Beverages, Inc., organized in Miami recently began operation of its soft-drink bottling plant in its modern and new building at 2625 N. W. Seventh Avenue.

The building, land and equipment represents an investment of more than $40,000 and 40000 dollars. The latest in modern, auxiliary bottling and manufacturing equipment have been installed for the Double-Cola and other soft drinks the firm will produce for the local trade. More than twenty-five employees are now engaged by the company and the personnel will be increased shortly. Sam Blank, head of the Florida Sugar Refineries, and prominent communal workers, are much interested in the new plant.