Dear Editor,

For well over 300 years, election sermons were commonly communicated from the pulpits of American churches. Churches taught people of faith to raise their voices at election time to the Lord God, reminding citizens of their freedoms in our government. Today, the federal government has decided that citizens no longer need to endorse a political candidate, but the good news is this decision affirms the belief that citizens who endorse their freedom to address their community, and how they can elect leaders who work in the best interest of our nation’s government. And, of course, it will be up to us whether we choose to take part in the most important responsibility we have as citizens: to vote in every election.

In the wording of the God ordained the institution of civil government and it’s the ballot that provides us with clear guidance about voting. God-fearing leaders of moral character and wise public policy, and even in advancing throughout the community. But, there are still several key issues at stake and the leaders we select in this election will affect the future. This means that we should vote for candidates who are not only your right as an American citizen, but it’s your duty as a Christian to choose leaders who will lead by example. Please vote! It is your right as an American and your responsibility as a Christian.

Thank You and God Bless,

The Chicken or the Egg

Dear Editor,

If you are a devoted animal lover who wishes to volunteer, there are two essential roles: rescuer or spay/neuter. This choice may seem obvious; often, but the commitment is different. Rescuers fill an immediate emotional need. There are so many feel good stories. Once an animal is passed on to a rescue, we forget about the back story that the animal was abandoned for a long time; require expensive vet services; and already have or develop serious health problems. Spay/neuter approaches the problem from a different direction by striving to prevent the statistical population problems, and education. For those who believe in maintaining a rescue facility is never ending, and the animals just keep coming. The ad was comical, the problem is not.

When people of faith elected God when the righteous rule, the people rejoice; but when the wicked rule, the people groan.” Or to use the “circle of life,” or kittens are “so cute, and we always find homes for them” is not valid reasoning; many of the kittens and puppies that went to “good homes” end up abandoned by the side of the road or used as bait in cruel fights. I personally would like to meet the person who abandoned that Dachshund, born deaf and without eyes. I would like to point out, the Putnam Animal shelter is not a “soft” or overly lenient. The ad was comical, the problem is not.

It’s important that as many people as possible get immunized. It’s crucial to protect your non-immunized child. By forgetting or opting to skip booster vaccinations, you are undercutting the effectiveness of herd immunity. It’s very risky to the health of other children to rely on herd immunity. Meet and Greets, CPR, and Fundraisers

August Republican Club Meeting

Guests at the recent Putnam Republican Club meeting were County Commission District 2 candidates Leon Eldenfield and Doug Rawls, and District 4 candidate Larry Harvey. Each candidate was given time to tell about themselves and then answered questions from the membership. A special guest was Congressman Ted Yoho who gave a brief talk encouraging all to vote in the upcoming primary election.

Meet and Greet

One hundred and twenty people attended the Meet and Greet at the Crescent City Woman’s Club. Twenty-eight candidates were given time to speak to the public at the clubhouse in Crescent City.

Tons of Food

Over 480 pounds of food was collected from the Pomona Park Baptist Church’s adult and kids bible school. The church collected the food for the South Putnam Christian Service Center in Crescent City.

Picnic Song Fest

The wrap up event of the Putnam@Heart was a Picnic Song Fest at the Crescent City Library on Friday, August 10. Local musicians Lori Baxter and Sam Brown performed songs they and others have written about life in Putnam County. Woven in and throughout the concert were presentations of stories that were written.

Putnam@Heart Deadline Extended

Whether you were born in Putnam County or you moved here and decided to put down roots, we are all Putnam at Heart. This writing competition is open to anyone who lives or funny story to tell. You can enter 1) your original fiction or non-fiction stories or your personal essays of between 500-2500 words, 2) your original song lyrics or poems, up to three, of any style, or 3) a short one-act play by Friday, August 31 to be included in the literary magazine, which will be published sometime mid-September, both in print and online. What makes Putnam so special? What do you want people to know about the place you live? Please email submissions to put@putnam-fl.com or bring them to your local library.

Rotary Fundraiser

There will be a BBQ hosted by the Rota- ry Club of Crescent City at Winn-Dixie in Crescent City on Friday, August 31 and Saturday, September 1 from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Proceeds go to the Crescent City High School gym Floor Back to School Drive.

Our Town
Way Back When...

People often wonder, “what used to be on that corner?” or “what business was in that building?” And sometimes the Courier Journal has an answer. A recent question revolved around the corner of Vernon Avenue and Oakwood Street. The original building was a school, which later became a private residence, before fire damaged the building, leading to the picture below.

Coming down

Hi everyone! This is Jose from Troop 957. Last week I told you that I was really excited because we are going camping with Elder Mullins. It is always fun to see what Elder Mullins and Brother Corbett do when we are all camping together. I was talking to our Cub master about how fun it is to go camping with them and we started talking about some of the adventures that happen on our trips.

This picture is one of the most favorite trips we had with Elder Mullins when he was in Florida with us. Of course there are lots of memories but I just chose this one to tell you about.

We all went on a canoe trip to Deep Creek and while we were there, we discovered an old railroad bed that was running by the creek. I don’t know if you remember the Incas temple article, but Elder Mullins said the following about this picture:

“I’m not sure if this is the same trip where we discovered the lost Incas temple, but that was my most memorable scouting experience.”

About two miles down the creek two hikers led us to a mysterious structure. We were so curious to see it, we hunkered the canoes and kayaks and got out to explore. Boy, am I glad we did it! Our leaders told us we had found the long lost Incas Sacred Temple. We climbed to the top of it and could see it stretched hundreds of feet long but only about 30 feet wide. We looked for secret underground entrances to the sacred rooms, but couldn’t find any. That trip will live in my memory forever!

Only Elder Mullins could create such an imaginative and exciting time for us when we discovered the old railroad bed. And the cool thing was that Brother Corbett went right along with him and made it fun.

With those two around, you never knew what we might find! I have heard that Brother Corbett found a hidden treasure at the sand dunes for his birthday one year and had to dig in the sand to find it, so you never know what we will find on this next adventure. It’s interesting because we went back to Deep Creek to take different scouts to see the “Incas temple” and it looked like they were working in that area. We are going to go back to see if it’s still there.

The hurricanes of the last two years have really affected that area of the creek so I am sure glad I have great memories of being there before the storms came. We love to go camping and are excited to go to a new place that we have never been. Just think, water, mud, scouts, Elder Mullins, Brother Corbett and lots of food are the perfect recipe for a great adventure. I will be sure to get some great pictures and stories to tell you about!

Pack and Troop 957 are sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. We would love to have you come and join us! If you would like more information about the Scout programs, please go to www.beas-courier.org and click on Crescent City, Florida. You will find us and information to contact our leaders. We want to thank the Courier Journal for helping us tell our scouting experiences and have this opportunity to report on our great scout adventures.

Don’t Be Scared to Try Sweet Dragon Fruit

Dr. Mercola
Northwest Research Institute

The pitaya is one of nature’s most unique fruits. It is often called a dragon fruit or pitahaya, and it is related to the cactus. Pitaya’s are found in tropical climates where it typically grows.

Dr. Mercola looks like a soft pineapple with spikes that can be either pink, red or white and purple. The fruit also has some large white or red flesh. The fruit also has some large white or red flesh. The pitaya grows on a single plant. It is a small plant that grows on a single stem. The stem is covered with spines that are similar to a cactus. The fruit is about two to three inches long and is a type of cactus.
