SEBRING — On Monday, officials identified a second murder victim whose body was found in a grove Saturday afternoon.

After a Monday autopsy was performed, the Highlands County Sheriff’s Office publicly identified the second victim as 18-year-old Jacquill Terrell Williams, 30, of Lake Placid, in an orange grove near Rivendale Road in the Stover Pines area. Morgan and Williams were found about nine miles apart from each other the same day. Morgan was found in an orange grove near Sheffler Tower Road in Sebring. The Sebring Police Department issued a missing persons report on June 20 for Morgan. Authorities say he was last seen in the vicinity of Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard and Lemon Avenue on June 18 between 9 and 10 p.m.

Highlands County sheriff’s detectives are seeking help from the public for information regarding the two related murders. Officials also said they are not ready to explain how the murders are related just yet, but do say they are convinced there is a connection.

SEBRING — Gov. Ron DeSantis signed a nearly $91 billion state budget that includes $1 billion for K-12 schools, which is an increase of spending by $842 per student to a total of $7,672.

Education Commissioner Richard Corcoran, a former state House speaker, said the “unified commitment” resulted in “one of the best legislative sessions in Florida’s history.”

The School Board of Highlands County Assistant Superintendent of Business Operations Mike Averyt said when the district receives additional money from the state some of it is earmarked for various components of the school. Averyt said he would be looking to file a motion to change his plea within the 30-day window provided for in the plea agreement.

“Kids are not going to school, but if they are going to school, they need the money to continue,” Averyt said.

he said. “We know they are legal here, but ultimately the professional shows are monitored and they are licensed shows and we just encourage people to go there instead of buying their own.”

In his career, Bashoor said, he has seen a lot of injuries caused by people mishandling fireworks.

In the statewide press release, DeSantis said, “Especially as we near the Fourth of July holiday and families plan summer festivities, it is appropriate that all Floridians practice fire safety tips and make a plan to protect their families and homes. Every family must also be prepared for the threat of wildfires. Hurricanes in recent years have left serious amounts of debris across our state and we must all remain vigilant to protect our communities.”

Putnam said, “Fire hazards in Florida are real, and we must work together to protect our communities from fire-related tragedies. Always remember to practice caution when handling or celebrating summer holidays like the Fourth of July.”

Fried said, “With parts of our state having faced a wildfire threat 10 times greater than normal from Hurricane Michael’s fallen timber, I encourage all Floridians to maintain vigilance and follow directions from state agencies, like the Florida Forest Service.”

Moskowitz said, “With the Fourth of July right around the corner, I urge everyone statewide to use caution when handling flammable materials, follow fire safety tips throughout this summer and year-round, and please pay attention to any burn bans that may be in effect in your region.”

All Floridians are encouraged to practice fire safety and to have a plan for their homes and businesses to prevent potentially hazardous wildfires. Here are some tips for creating a disaster plan in case of a fire emergency:

• During the Fourth of July and other holidays, practice fire safety when using fireworks, and gas or charcoal grills.

• Make sure any use of the fireworks is supervised by an adult.

• Always have fireworks directed in the air and not pointed at the ground, trees or other people.

• When using fireworks, make sure to have a water source or extinguisher on hand.

• Avoid setting off large groups of fireworks simultaneously as this can start a fire.

Sudan’s military sidesteps AMALNAC

Today's military coup in Sudan was rejected by the International Crisis Group as "a major test of the commitment of the international community to support a peaceful transition in Sudan."

"The spree of repression is unacceptable," according to the group’s report, which called for a "halt of violence and a resumption of dialogue." The group urged the international community to "hold Sudan to account for its actions and to support a process that leads to free and fair elections."
President has signed an executive order imposing sanctions on Iran supreme leader

WASHINGTON – President Donald Trump signed an executive order Monday that calls for tough new sanctions against Iran, with the primary intention of shutting down its nuclear program. The move comes after the United Nations Security Council last week unanimously voted to extend a arms embargo on Iran for another 10 years.

The sanctions follow Iran’s downing of a U.S. military drone last week and its recent test of a ballistic missile. They are the strongest new sanctions imposed by the U.S. since the nuclear deal with Iran in 2015.

The sanctions target Iran’s supreme leader, Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, and his close associates, including the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC). The sanctions are intended to pressure Iran to abandon its ballistic missile program and comply with international arms control agreements.

The sanctions include blocking Iran’s access to the U.S. financial system, freezing its assets, and blocking its ability to conduct transactions in the U.S. The sanctions also target Iran’s banking sector, its telecommunications industry, and its nuclear program.

The sanctions are expected to have a significant impact on Iran’s economy and its ability to conduct business with other countries. They are intended to put pressure on Iran to comply with international obligations and to reduce its support for terrorist groups.

The sanctions were imposed under the authority of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty and the Iran Nuclear Agreement, signed in 2015.

The move also comes as the U.S. is negotiating a new deal with Iran over its ballistic missile program. The U.S. has threatened to abandon the deal unless Iran complies with its obligations.

The sanctions were announced by the Treasury Department and the State Department. The Treasury Department said the sanctions were “a significant blow to Iran’s economy.”

The move was welcomed by many supporters of tough sanctions against Iran, including some members of Congress who have called for a return to the nuclear deal.

But the move was criticized by some who认为 the sanctions would further strain relations between the U.S. and Iran, and could lead to a new round of nuclear talks.

Doctor: Stabbing by Navy SEAL could have killed prisoner

Navy Special Operations Chief Edward Gallagher, right, walks with his wife, Andrea Gallagher as they arrive to military court on Naval Base San Diego, Monday, June 24, 2019, in San Diego. Trial continues in the court-martial of the former SEAL who is accused of killing an Iraqi captive because he lied about his tough leadership.

The defense also said Gallagher was treated unfairly by investigators and prosecutors — a point they tried to make to the jury Monday during a hearing on a Naval Criminal Investigative Service officer's practice.

Two of Gallagher's sons — ages 8 and 18 — were home during the slaughter, according to Donald Trump's testimony.

The day Gallagher moved from the brig to better confinement conditions at a Navy hospital and is reportedly under observation, as the military said Thursday that he was breathing normally, though he had significant hemorrhaging, though his breathing was tautened, said Sheridan.

Gallagher later texted a photo of the corpse with friends with the following message: "Good story behind this, got him with my footing knife." His lawyer said the message was an attempt at dark humor. Sheridan has labeled his testimony as "zero evidence and an apparent wound of the war prisoner before the alleged killing.

After the boy was wounded by an air strike — more than an hour before he was brought to the U.S. forces for treatment — he was interviewed by an Iraqi TV news crew. He appeared unhurt and did not have significant hemorrhaging, though his breathing was tautened, said Sheridan.

NEW ORLEANS — A new federal study of oil seeping from a platform toppled off Louisiana’s coast 14½ years ago is below other recent estimates. But the report contradicts the well owner’s assertions about the amount and source of oil.

The figure is a conservative estimate after addition of a correction that systemic underreporting of deepwater oil has been a problem. But Meyer said the groups sided with federal Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement, which oversees the site, in favor of a working platform crosses over an oil sheen drifting from the site is from oil-soaked Taylor Energy Co. production platform. The site has been a federal order to stop the platform, and source of oil.

The primary objective of the Longleaf Private Landowner Incentive Program is to conserve and enhance healthy longleaf pine forests in Florida by assisting eligible, non-industrial private landowners with the long-term investment necessary to establish and maintain the valuable longleaf pine ecosystem.

‘competition’ in a restructured energy marketplace while at the same time diminishing ROUs from competing in that market,” said a brief filed Friday by the Florida Chamber of Commerce and the Florida Economic Development Council.

But Citizens for Energy Choices, in a brief filed last month, disputed that the proposal invalidates local regulations while going on the ballot. It also said allowing the four major private utilities “to wield their enormous, entrenched power as competitors with an unchanged market is antithetical” to competitive electricity markets. It pointed to Texas, where it said utilities “embrace” corporate structures to separate generating electricity from transmitting it.

“the amendment presents what the proponents believe to be the only method of achieving a fully competitive wholesale and retail electricity market affording meaningful choices among a wide variety of competing electricity providers in Florida, and that includes dissuade of the ROUs generation and sales components of the monopoles the ROUs have long enjoyed,” the Citizens for Energy Choices said.

“The voters are free to accept or reject the amendment,” the Supreme Court plays a gatekeeper role in deciding whether citizens’ initiatives go before voters. It is not supposed to weigh the merits of proposed initiatives, but only to determine if the proposals involve single subjects and whether ballot titles and summaries accurately reflect what voters see — are misleading.

The court is expected to hear arguments on the Citizens for Energy Choices initiative Aug. 28. If justices sign off, Citizens for Energy Choices appears to have a decent chance of getting on the ballot.

As of Monday afternoon, it was unclear what petition signatures to the state and local governments are needed to be able to go before voters.

The team’s methods look reasonable, said Ed Overton, director of environmental studies at Louisiana State University who was not part of the study.

“There are no standard methods for this type of work,” because the amounts of oil involved are relatively small, he said.

NOAA reported two possible outcomes: one using sonar from a research vessel and an underwater robot, the other using their bubblemeter — a box with a video camera to get pictures of the bubblemeter — a box with a video camera to get pictures of the bubbles, trapped by a funnel to collect the oil and gas. The sound sensors released to 728 to 1,754 gallons (1,430 to 4,742 liters) a day, the bubblemeter data indicated 278 to 4,336 gallons (1,070 to 17,170 liters) daily.

The project has come under fire since an Associated Press revealed evidence about 20 times larger than the company’s at the time. But Mason said the new report can’t be used to extrapolate the total spilled from the Taylor Energy’s lawsuit put the low end of the bubblemeter number into a daily amount in the middle of the estimated 130 million gallons (39,700 to 111,300 liters) a day. That would have been enough to mean more oil may have leaked since 2004 than the estimated 130 million gallons (39,700 to 111,300 liters) from the BP gusher in 2010. The census produces federal funds for Florida and increased representation in Congress. That's why every Floridian has a stake in making sure Florida gets counted. The Census Bureau has a goal of counting 100% of Florida's population. Florida's share of federal funding is about $10 billion dollars. That means every Floridian should take strong action to ensure that all of them are counted in the 2020 census.

Florida's health care, education, transportation and environment could all be hurt if just one Floridian is missed. The data collected from the census is used to determine how much federal assistance Florida will receive. Florida would lose out on billions of dollars for programs like Medicaid, Pell grants, Head Start, and more. The Census Bureau will mail formal invitations to residents who have not responded to the census. Florida residents who have not responded should take action now to ensure that all of them are counted in the 2020 census.

Leaders should take strong action to ensure that all of those people are counted in the 2020 census. Leaders should encourage all of their constituents to participate in the 2020 census. Leaders should also work with their local communities to ensure that everyone is counted in the 2020 census. Leaders should make sure that all of their constituents are aware of the importance of the census and that they should participate in the 2020 census.

US stock indexes finish mixed ahead of trade talks

By ALEX VEIGA
AP Business Writer

The U.S. stock market continued a day of volatile trading with modest losses Monday as investors focused on upcoming trade talks between the U.S. and China.

The major stock indexes drifted between small gains and losses for much of the day, though smaller company stocks had their worst day since May. The losses erased some of the market's gains from last week, when the benchmark S&P 500 index closed at an all-time high.

The muted trading came as investors looked ahead to a highly anticipated meeting between the leadership of the U.S. and China later this week. The world's two largest economies are embroiled in a trade war that has taken the market on a volatile roller-coaster ride this year and Wall Street is hoping for a deal.

"The market right now seems to be pricing in some combination of at least a de-escalation between the U.S. and China from a trade standpoint to the point where it doesn't drive us into a recession," said Michael Crook, head of Americas investment strategy at UBS Global Wealth Management.

The S&P 500 index slipped 5.11 points, or 0.2%, to 28,642.83. The Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 51.01 points, or 0.2%, to 25,692.87. The Nasdaq composite fell 3.4%.

SEBRING — An early Monday morning crash sent one man to a trauma center after his car somehow collided with the marquee sign at the Fairmount Plaza. Sebring Police Department Public Information Officer Carole Curtis Hart said the driver, who was the sole occupant of the vehicle, was originally taken to AdventHealth Sebring but was airlifted to Lakeland Regional Health Medical Center.

Hart said no less than three witnesses reported Scott Simmons, 45, of Sebring, was driving southbound on U.S. 27. Witnesses then saw the truck cross all of the southbound lanes, drive over the frontage road in front of the plaza parking and then place between the supports for the plaza’s sign.

The truck came to rest facing a pedestrian. The second vehicle, a 2010 Mercury Sable, was driven by Mercedes Ortiz, 63, of Sebring. Ortiz was leaving Hammock Road to make a left turn onto northbound U.S. 27. The witness was also able to tell officers that Rivers was driving her van southbound on U.S. 27 and while the other southbound motorists were stopped for a red light, Rivers’ minivan did not stop. It crashed into the Sable in what is commonly called a T-bone pattern.

According to Hart, Rivers told officers on the scene that she did not remember what color the light was but she did remember colliding with the Sable. The children in the minivan were taken to the hospital with Rivers and were also checked out.

Rivers was cited in the accident with a warning.

LAKE PLACID – The sizzling summer heat did not slow down the Lake Placid Ponytails X-Plant team when they faced Okeechobee in the Dixie Youth Softball District Championship game Sunday at Lake June ball fields.

Lake Placid over-whipped Okeechobee by a score of 13-2 to clinch the title in the Tournament in Belhaven. “It was a close game at first and our girls could have gotten down on themselves,” said Lake Placid Coach Derek Davis. “They fought back, didn’t let the heat get to their brain. They believed in what they were doing and did what they had to do to get ahead.”

In the top of the first inning, Lake Placid claimed its lead as Laydi Davis walked. Natalie Velozo tripled, Jillian Garduno scored an RBI single and eventually scored on a wild pitch to make it 3-0. Okeechobee narrowed its deficit to the bottom of the frame as Alona Madrigal and Tiani Anderson scored on base hits to pull them within 3-2.

Lake Placid extended its lead in the fourth inning as Kayla Oliveros killed the ball for a triple, Garduno drove in Oliveros with a single, Garduno stole second and scored home on a double by Aurianna Tammin to make it 5-2.

Lake Placid put the game away in the top of the fifth inning. Hannah Holmes tripled, Aliyah Pollard drove in a run and scored on a wild pitch to make it 13-2. Okeechobee went down in the bottom of the inning and the game was called because of the 10-run rule.

Emily Tharp pitched all innings for Lake Placid. Tharp batted the team’s cleanup hitter and led her team to victory from the mound. She caught three batters looking, only walked two and allowed only two runs. “We fought back from a close game,” said Tharp. “We came in knowing we wanted to win.”

Beats Sebring to earn spot in state tournament

LAKE PLACID — The finish line was in sight for the Dixie Belles District Championship game Sunday at the Lake June ball fields. Despite battling each other on the ball fields, Sebring and Lake Placid battled each other in the Chevrolet, ages 13-15 championship game.

Lake Placid pushed ahead and held off Sebring for a score of 14-4 to seal their spot in the Dixie Belles State Tournament. The girls were unfazed and they really wanted to shut this down early,” said Lake Placid Coach Paul Canevari. “They never gave up and fought to the end. They did what they had to do. The bats were hot and the pitching was good. Kaylee Mitchell has been out for three weeks with an ankle injury so this was her first time back on the mound and she did excellent. I am extremely proud of these young ladies. They work hard, they don’t give me attitude and everything they do give me 110 percent.”

In the top of the first, Sebring’s Shyglah Peralsao grounded out to the right for a single, took second on a passed ball and stole third. Carmen Stone knocked a grounder up the middle plating Peralsao for an RBI giving the Blues a 1-0 lead. Lake Placid answered in the bottom of the first. Anicia Patterson drove a walk and stole second, Cadence Lingerfelt walked and Jenna Gutierrez knocked in Patterson to tie the game 1-1.

Lake Placid scored a run in the second inning as Lilly Caravelli walked, advanced to third on a pair of wild pitches and Trinity Dudley drove in a walk and scored second. When Sebring’s catcher three down in second attempt to pick off Dudley, Caravelli raced home to make it 2-1.

In the bottom of the third Lake Placid escalated it’s lead. Patterson drove a walk and Lingerfelt drifted the ball deep into left field for a triple plating Patterson. Gutierrez drove a walk and immediately took off for second while still one was looking, the catcher threw down to second but allowed the overbase发明专利 Germany and Gutierrez to score. Dallas Oliveros singled, went to second when first sea overthrown, stole third and scored on a ground out. Shalay restricted the ball to the left field fence for a double and was brought home on a bases-loaded walk giving Lake Placid 7-1 lead.

Top of the fourth Lake Placid scored in the bottom of the fourth. Madison Garduno and Patterson each drove walks. Sebring’s catcher threw down to second in attempt to pick up Garduno but overthrew the ball allowing Garduno to score to tie Patterson to land on third on the error. Gutierrez drifted the ball into the right-center field gap playing Patterson. Cannavari doubled driving home another run to make it 10-3.

Sebring scored a run in the top of the fifth as Chastity Green hit a timer to second off that bounce off the glove of Lake Placid’s second baseman, Mangaol. Mangaol knocked a fly into left field for a single and was brought home on a groundout by Green for an RBI bringing the score to 10-4. Lake Placid had runners in scoring position in the bottom of the fifth. Taylor Pollard drove in a run as Kaylee Mitchell scored on a sacrifice base hit for a 12-4 lead.

Lake Placid scored in the sixth inning as Kasey Davis tripled, Kasey Davis walked and Jenna Gutierrez knocked in Davis to increase the lead to 14-4.

US eases past Spain in Women's World Cup

By HOWARD FENDRICH

The United States women's national team, which had been struggling for much of the year, broke through for a 2-1 victory over Spain Sunday night in the round of 16 at the Women's World Cup in France.

The Americans took a 1-0 lead in the 55th minute on a penalty kick from Megan Rapinoe, who was fouled by Spanish goalkeeper Sara Pena. The equalizer came from Alex Morgan in the 69th minute, and the Americans hung on for the win.

The victory marked the United States' first win in a World Cup since 2012, when they defeated Japan 1-0 in the semifinals.

The United States will face Sweden in the quarterfinals, a team they defeated 1-0 in the group stage.

The United States' win over Spain was a significant moment in the team's history, as it marked the first time they had won a World Cup since 1999.

The victory was also considered a key moment in the team's quest to win a fourth World Cup title, as they were aiming for top 10 at the tournament.

Reichert wins Florida Amateur Championship

Ears prestigious title with victory in playoff

By JAMIE McCREARY

OAKLAND, Calif. — Golden State’s star guard and team MVP Stephen Curry has a new contact to meet with both Kevin Durant and Klay Thompson ahead of the start of this free agency this weekend.

“The next step for meeting the star when asked about sit-downs with the two key free agents, was that Durant has heard a peep from Draymond Green. And that was all on that Monday, when he formally introduced them through their third draft pick. From left to right, are: Warriors broadcaster Bib Fitzgerald, Stephen Curry, Alen Smailagic, Jordan Poole, Eric Paschall and general manager Bob Myers.

Though Myers did say he expects to meet with both Kevin Durant and Klay Thompson to have surgery this Monday when asked about sit-downs with both key free agents, the new team leaders on Monday. From left to right, are: Warriors broadcaster Bib Fitzgerald, Curry and Thompson to have surgery this week as the two-time NBA Finals MVP and Thompson to have been ruled out for the remainder of the 2019-20 season. The Warriors are expected to have Poole’s number. The new team leaders on Monday.

“When my age was 10, I woke up from sleep and my brain was on fire,” Barty said, “and with my dad’s help, I came up with the idea of a formula for growth.”

Protecting your children from risk of identity theft

Dear Readers:

If your child has a Social Security number, they are at risk of being stolen. A bad guy can use a stolen Social Security number to rent an apartment, get utilities, apply for government assistance, open credit cards and get false taxes and medical procedures!

It’s identity theft, and kids are at risk. And because they are kids, it could be YEARS before you find out. Here are some hints:

* Check their mail carefully.
* If something is delivered to your child, contact the company to make sure, and he found out from a home genetics testing company that he has both the C282Y and H63D mutations, which put him at risk for developing iron overload.

After completing this procedure, I found out I do have both genes. I am heterozygous for both of the genes that together cause hemochromatosis. My doctor ordered a blood test for iron levels and ordered genetic testing for the HFE gene mutations. My doctor did an MRI scan to look for iron in the liver, and mine was normal. I am now referred to a geneticist who will explain what the results mean and what I need to do to monitor my condition.

In her column, Dr. Roach mentions that hemochromatosis is a genetic disorder that can cause excess iron to build up in the body, leading to organ damage. The most common genetic variation causing symptom- atic disease is called C282Y, which is a homozygous mutation. Another gene mutation, H63D, accounts for 2-5% of people in the U.S. with hemochromatosis. A second gene mutation, H63D, accounts for 2-5% of people in the U.S. with hemochromatosis.

Hemochromatosis is a condition where iron absorption is excessive, which can lead to organ damage. The most common genetic variation causing symptomatic disease is called C282Y, which is a homozygous mutation. Another gene mutation, H63D, accounts for 2-5% of people in the U.S. with hemochromatosis. A second gene mutation, H63D, accounts for 2-5% of people in the U.S. with hemochromatosis.

If you find out that you have a genetic disorder such as hemochromatosis, you should consider getting genetic testing to check for any other gene mutations that may be present. Genetic testing can help you understand your risk for developing the disease and can help you make informed decisions about your health.

If you suspect that you or someone you know has hemochromatosis, it is important to seek medical attention as soon as possible. Early diagnosis and treatment can help prevent complications and improve your quality of life.

DEAR ABBY:
My friends and family constantly ask me when I plan to get a new phone. I have a slide phone. I used to have a flip phone, which also drew the same questions. I am not a phone person. I have a land line at home with answering/messaging in place. I am sick of the questions about my phone. I don’t want a smartphone. I have my little phone for emergencies, not so everyone I know can reach me immediately. Why is it that people feel the need to shame me about my phone?
It is to the point now that I may turn it off and turn it on only when I want to use it. It is becoming difficult for me to remain civil about this subject. I envision myself throwing it in the trash can next time someone asks — Like The Old Days

DEAR LIKE THE OLD DAYS:
Some people view having the latest model of cellphone as a status symbol, which is why so many feel compelled to buy one as soon as a new one is released. However, while that dreaded question may be posed in terms of when you plan to buy a new phone, I suspect what the askers really mean is, “When are you going to make it easier for us to communicate with you?”
If you shut your phone off and use it only when you wish to use it, you won’t be alone in the practice. While it may frustrate those who want immediate gratification, it will allow you to manage your time without unwelcome interjections.

DEAR ABBY:
Last night my wife and I, both retired M.D.s, met our daughter “Jackie,” her wife, “Kelly,” and Jackie’s daughter for dinner at a restaurant to celebrate Jackie’s 50th birthday. Jackie texted us today, incensed that we did not pick up the check.

DEAR BAFFLED:
Your daughter’s manners are appalling. Her wife invited you and your wife to the dinner, which made you HER guests. It was sweet (and generous) of your wife to ask if the two of you could pay for your meals — in addition to the very generous gift you had given your daughter. If apologetics are in order, the people who should receive them are you and your wife.
