Correspondence Solicited.

We have handled only the best of the well-known make of McKesson & Robbins for years, and have found them invariably reliable and up to weight and quality. We still sell them because we believe in a company that can be bought elsewhere in the city. We come to the store because we know the reason for which we purchase them is in large quantities. In fact, there are other companies in the city also. We have several stores in the city.
