

mistake when we desire God to hear those prayers, a great part whereof we do not hear ourselves."

TWELFTH DAY.

Another long letter from dear Mamma, and she tells me a great deal that is delightful about herself, and about Papa, and about Amy. She laughed very much, though, at me for expecting to be Amy's Mamma. She says, I am still in leading-strings myself, and how can I be wise enough to lead about another.

But I will prove to Mamma that little things can be of a great deal of use sometimes. Even