

Was not that a good proof of obedience Mamma? I think we might learn a great many very good lessons from dogs.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

A great event has happened to us to-day, Mamma. A carriage drove up to the door, but we did not take much trouble about it, thinking it was some one who did not know you were away from home, and who would never come to see us in the school-room.

However, we were mistaken, for the door opened and a lady walked in, or rather she ran