"Cousin Kate has a higher object in view than merely to amuse and please—the motto of her book is, "Be ye kind one to another;" and she seeks to lead the young to acquire the habit of acting under the influence of this precept. Her instructions are admirably fitted for this purpose."—Scottish Guardian.

"An interesting and instructive tale. The work contains many family groupings of rare excellence."—Christian Times.

The Memoirs of Walter Pringle, of Greenknow; or, Some of the Free Mercies of God to him, and his Will to his Children, left to them under his own Hand. Edited by the Rev. WALTER WOOD, A.M. Foolscap 8vo, cloth, 2s.

"This is a fine old autobiography. It is addressed by the Author to his children, and bequeathed to them as a legacy of Christian love. The spiritual experience which it records is deep, but beautifully simple; and the character which it indicates is that of a true-hearted Christian gentleman."—Scottish Guardian.

Stones of the Living Temple; or A Brief Account of Two Poor Widows. By CHARLOTTE D. GREVILLE, Author of "Elizabeth Lindsay." 18mo, stitched, 6d.; cloth, 9d.

"Affecting memorials of piety in the humblest of city life. It is a testimony which will be amply borne out by every one, male or female, who has ever visited the poor for the purpose of ministering either to their religious or educational wants, or for any other benevolent object."—Scottish Guardian.

Early Grace. Illustrated in the Memoir of David Tod. With an Introductory Note, &c. By the Rev. S. C. BAKER, B.A. 18mo, cloth, 1s.

"The Memoir of 'a noble-minded Christian boy,' written in a pious and judicious spirit."—Scottish Guardian.

Flowers of Zion: A Selection of Hymns and Sacred Poetry. Royal 32mo, cloth, gilt edges, 1s. 6d.

"This is an elegant little volume. The reader will find not a few 'precious pearls,' which would do honour to any poet, and none which do not breathe a spirit of 'true and undefiled religion' "—Witness.

"The poetry in this pleasant little volume is wholly of a devotional and Scriptural cast. Many of the pieces are delightfully quaint and touching."—Scottish Guardian.
