INTERVIEWEE: Mrs. Mary Lowry Jacobs
INTERVIEWER: Adolph Dial
July 26, 1969

D: This is July the 26th, 1969. I am here at the home of Mrs. Mary Lowry Jacobs. Mrs. Mary Lowry Jacobs is the widow of the late Mr. Knowlee Jacobs and also the, let's see now, what, what relation were you to Henry Barry Lowry?

J: That was my uncle.

D: What was your father's name?

J: Patrick.

D: And Mr. Patrick was the brother of Henry Barry Lowry?

J: Yes.

D: Mr. Patrick was a minister, wasn't he?

J: Yes, sir.

D: Now you want to tell me something about your father's work? What did he do?

J: Well, he was a farmer and a carpenter.

D: He was considered one of the Indian leaders back in his day, wasn't he?

J: Yes, sir.

D: How old are you, Mrs., Mrs. Jacobs?

J: Eighty-four.

D: Eighty-four. You seem to be in very sound mind. Your mind's good.

J: Yes, sir, pretty good.

D: We're sitting here at Mrs. Jacob's home which is within, oh, fifty or seventy-five yards of what used to be the old normal school, the
