P: This is Catherine Puckett interviewing Ray and Nancy Morgan and their grandson Cary at their home in White Springs, Florida. Date: July 16, 1982.

R: ...you go ahead and start it.

C: I don't know it. You do the thing. You start it off and _____

R: Lord Barney was a brave hunting man

And a hunting he did ride

With a gun all on his hunting arm

And broadsword by his side

He rode till he till came to Aunt Janes's house

And ding-dong he did ring

Who was there but his own true love

Rise up and bid him come in

Come in, come in Lord Barney, oh said she

And stay awhile with me

I will give unto you a bright, shining light

And a seat beside of me

I can not _____ love come in

For I have but a moment to stay

For the girl that I love much better than you

I must see before the breaking of day

She took Lord Barney all in her arms

And her kisses were so sweet

She drew from her side a pin-pointed knife

And wounded Lord Barney so deep

It was three long hours till the breaking of day

It's three long hours so cheap

Lord Barney has died all in my arms

And it's time you've taken him away.
